FIGHT FOR MAYOR GROWS STILL HOTTER

Mails Will be Crowded Monday Morning With Circulars From Repbulicans and Democrats.

MANY WILL BE SENT OUT.

IMPORTANT TYLER LETTER SENT OUT FROM INDEPENDENTS.

Both Parties Are Very Active In Their Efforts For Tuesday's Election—Little Change in the General Situation in the City.

It is the men rather than the issues that will play the prominent factor in the coming charter election next Tuesday. With the election now only three days away, that fact becomes more and more evident. Chief of all will be the fight for the mayoralty. The great ability, sterling character and general popularity of Col. Mason W. Tyler are expected by the Democrats to start a tidal wave which will swamp the Republican nominee. The fact that Dr. Olin L. Jenkins bears just as irreproachable and excellent a character as does his opponent, while a vote for him will mean an indorsement of the present Republican municipal administration, leads the Repubublican leaders to believe that the deflections from their ranks will not be as great as was first anticipated.

Since this city campaign started there has been but comparatively little reference to any gross faults in the official acts of the city government during the past year. Of course, the Democrats have something to say on the subject, but, as the Republican party's chief opposition seems to have sprung from its own ranks and is only on the choice for Mayor, the fight has, to a great extent, narrowed down to the two men themselves, Col. Mason W. Tyler and Dr. Olin L. Jenkins.

There has not been any material changes in the situation since the campaign started with the nomination of the two tickets. It is simply a question as to how far Col. Tyler's popularity and any discontent with the Republican administration can reach. There is a normal plurality of 800 to be reversed in order to elect the Democratic nominee. That there will be a decided reduction of those figures, nobody denies. The question is, how much?

Judging from the present signs, the election will be one of the hardest fought in Plainfield for many years. Since the days of the "Big Six," there has not been such universal activity on all sides. The Democrats are making the hardest fight that they have fought in almost a decade. The fact that they are working in co-operation with the independent movement for Col. Tyler, has made it possible for them to go into the campaign, particularly in the Second and Third wards, with stronger and better organization than ever before.

These last days of the campaign have been decidedly busy ones for both sides. Today the employes at the Post Office are beginning to feel their share in the busy times. Tomorrow they will be busy, indeed, and Monday, the letter carriers will go forth loaded down with campaign ammunition of both parties. Considerably over ten thousand letters of this nature will be distributed through out the city by mail and still more by other means of delivery.

Four thousand two hundred envelopes went out from Democratic headquarters this noon and will reach the home of every registered voter Monday morning. Each envelope will contain a Democratic ticket, a full set of pasters and a circular breathing Democratic ideas of the situation. Independent of this batch the erstwhile Republicans, who are supporting Col. Tyler, will mail today as many more. Within each of the latter there will be a circular and a Republican ticket, equipped with a Col. Tyler paster. These, too, will be delivered by the carriers Monday morning.

As far as the Republican party is concerned, the situation differs so decidedly in the various wards that the Republican city executive committee decided to leave the question of the distribution of circulars to the various ward organizations. Under normal conditions the Third ward is the Republican stronghold of the city. It is there that Col. Tyler will undoubtedly make the best run. Such of the Republicans as are left to support the Republican ticket will make a desperate effort to buck the movement for the Democratic nominee. Democrats and Tyler Republicans are confident that they will carry the ward for the head of the ticket by a fair majority. To prevent any such result, circulars and personal work will both be utilized by the "regular" Republicans.

In the Second ward the situation is somewhat similar to that in the Third only that the movement for Col. Tyler is not so strong. Republicans claim a fair majority there, but their opponents hope to carry the ward. A plea that, as the two candidates are both excellent men, and there is little to choose between them, it is the duty of all Republicans to support the regular ticket, will be pleced in the hands of the voters of the Second before Election Day.

Over in the First and Fourth wards the Republican leaders expect to see Dr. Jenkins run considerably ahead of his ticket. The fact that Col. Tyler is a commuter and a man of wealth rather than a self-made man like Dr. Jenkins is there expected to win votes for the Republican ticket. The Democrats will fight the present administration and trust to make enough impression in the Republican ranks so as to allow a good majority from the Second and Third to carry the election for them. Circulars and personal work will be used to aid the Republican cause.

Minor battles are going on in the four contests for Councilmen, but, unless the silent vote is almost solidly for the Democrats, as they claim, the Republicans will elect all four members of the Common Council. The Democrats are quite confident regarding Col Tyler's chances and hope to see their entire ticket carried with him. The independent movement, composed of Col. Tyler's Republican friends, has positively been stated by its leaders as favoring the rest of the Republican ticket, aside from the top, despite the rumors to the contrary.

While a few names have already been mentioned in connection with the independent Republican movement, favoring the election of Col. Mason W. Tyler, there has been more or less uncertainty as to who the other supporters of the movement are. The circulars, which were sent out today from the Tyler headquarters, contains the names of twenty-six prominent citizens which were attached to the paper sent to Col. Tyler and promising their support in the mayoralty race. The names are as follows: Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, Harry G. Runkle, Former Councilman Elliot T. Barrows, Former Councilman John W. Murray, Sr., William B. Wadsworth, John H. Harman, Edward H. Booth, Lucius H. Bigelow, Jr., William R. Cock, Sherman Evarts, J. P. Benson, C. W. Beebe, O. T. Waring, Evarts Tracy, William T. Kaufman, Henry P. Talmadge, Isaac W. Rushmore, Issac L. Miller, Charles E. Brooks, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Former Councilman George H. Frost, George A. Strong, George J. Coe, John M. Whiton, Townsend Bushmore and Former Judge William M. Stillman.

A Pleasant Dinner.

A pleasant little dinner gathering was held last Wednesday evening at the Hotel Imperial, formerly Hotel McVey. It was complimentary to a few Plainfield gentlemen and was attended by about twenty people, including six from New Brunswick. The evening was pleasantly spent, and the excellent menu provided by Messrs. Hibbard & Jones was enjoyed. The affair did not break up until the morning. The enjoyment of the evening was enhanced by musical selections and speeches, which added to the pleasure of the occasion. Flowers in profusion graced the event. The menu provided was as follows:

Blue Points.
POTAGES.
Mock Turtle.
Sherry.
POISSONS.
Boiled Columbia River Salmon.
Lobster Sauce.
RELEVES.
Capons a la Chipolata.
Imperial Punch.
ENTREES.
Beignets Souffles a la Vanille.
Compote of Pigeons with Mushrooms.
Claret.
ROASTS.
Vermont Turkey, stuffed with Hickory Nuts.
DESSERT.
Neapolitan Ice Cream. Assorted Cakes.
Cafe Noir.

Mr. Sminck Apologizes.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Dear Sir—I have had the pleasure of meeting Former Councilman John T. Baker and I wish to publicly apologize for mentioning the gentleman's name in connection with the others who are reported as abandoning the Republican candidate for Mayor. The gentleman is too loyal a Republican to be placed in that attitude. Mr. Baker is solid for Dr. Jenkins.

Yours truly,
Charles S. Sminck.

Tom Marley Sent to Jail.

Thomas Marley, of this city, was drunk and disorderly in Elizabeth last night and this morning Judge Mahon sentenced him to the county jail for fifteen days.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

DENNIS KANE ACCUSED OF ROBBING BY MISS IRBY.

He Explains That He Was Simply Doing His Duty as a Special Officer.

The trial of Special Officer Dennis Kane, accused by Mary Irby, of snatching her pocketbook, took place in Justice Mosher's court yesterday afternoon. It resulted in Kane's being held for the Grand Jury in $100 bail. When placed on the stand yesterday Miss Irby told a straightforward story. The theft, she said, took place late Monday night near the Watchung avenue railroad bridge. She had just left a friend and was on her way home when Kane approached and indulged in several remarks about her being out at that hour. Not wishing to reply she continued walking on. Kane following and in a secluded spot he seized the purse which she carried in her hand. She says that he then followed her all the way home. The purse was afterward found on the front porch of her home on Putnam avenue, minus a ten dollar bill which had been in it.

She appeared before Captain Kiely the next day and the latter advised her to enter a complaint before Justice Mosher.

Kane's story was that the girl was with a white man, both in an intoxicated condition, and that, as a pecial officer, he ordered her home. He denied taking the purse and declared that when she thought he was following her he was simply on his way home. No amount of questioning could make the complainant contradict her original story and the Justice decided as above.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Defeated.

Two five men teams from the Y. M. C. A. journed to Hope chapel last evening where they met and were defeated by a team from the Y. M. A. of that place In the first game the Y. M. C. A. bowlers were Smyth, Giles, George, Voorhees and Whitall. Their opponents were Martin, Roseberry, Smith, Chamberlain and Meyers. The total scores were 718 and 494 in favor of the chapel team. In the second game the chapel team remained the same while the Y. M. C. A. men were Sutphen, Heyward, Smith, Sampson and Smyth. Again were the visitors defeated by a score of 648 to 546. It should be mentioned, however, that several of the Y. M. C. A. men were strictly amateurs. A return match will be played on the Y. M. C. A. alleys December 21st.

An Enjoyable Sociable.

An enjoyable sociable was held in the East Third Street chapel last evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. The programme included violin solos by Robert Barnes, vocal solos by Miss Florence Perrine, vocal duets by Miss Florence Perrine and Miss Dora Wilson. A phonograph exhibition was given under the direction of John Cater. Part of the evening was devoted to practicing the songs in the new Sunday-school hymnal. L. W. Randolph had a surprise for the guests in the shape of fruit which was served to all. The committee in charge consisted of Miss Florence Dodge, chairman; L. W. Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. John Cater, Miss Mary Terry and Robert Barnes.

Admitted to Probate.
(Special to the Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 1.—The will of the late Mary McLoughlin was admitted to probate in the Orphan's Court here yesterday, Counsellor McClure withdrawing his objections thereto. An order has been procured in the Court of Chancery restraining the executors from selling or encumbering the real estate. W. F. S. McLoughlin, who is contesting the will, claims that he and the late Mrs. McLoughlin made wills leaving each other their property, and that Mrs. McLouglin broke the agreement by making a later will leaving her property to her nephews and nieces.

A Thanksgiving Service.

A beautiful Thanksgiving service was held last evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church. It was led by Mrs. W. S. Lowry. The hymn, "Keep on the Sunny Side of Life," which made such a hit at the Pennsylvania State convention, was sung. The members brought many donations of groceries, fruit and canned goods to fill a Thanksgiving box for Plainfield's needy ones.

Republicans Busy.

Meetings of the First Ward Republican Association and the Second Ward Republican Association were held last evening at which arrangements for the coming election were made. A meeting of the Republican city executive committee will be held this evening.

LOTS OF EXPERIENCE UP IN THE KLONDIKE

Peter Anderson Returns After Three Years Absence Prospecting for Riches.

HE SECURED A FAIR STAKE.

HE HAS LOST TRACK OF THE TWO PARTNERS HE HAD.

He Had Much Hard Luck in Hunting for Gold, but Now Has Enough Laid by to Go to Denmark to See His Wife.

Three years ago the first day of next February, Peter Anderson, well-known to many Plainfielders and for a long time employed as a painter by Woolston & Buckle, left the city for the Klondike. He had read of the gold that was being discovered in that country, and he thought his chances of becoming rich were as good as those of anyone else.

Last evening Mr. Anderson walked into Woolston & Buckle's paint store on North avenue, and for a few minutes his companions looked at him in wonderment and surprise. Several men did not recognize him at first as he had passed out of their minds and they did not dream of seeing him. He received a cordial greeting, however, and in a few minutes he was busily engaged telling something of his experience since he left Plainfield.

He left the city on the first day of February in 1898 and went direct to the Klondike region. He found it difficult enough in getting through the region, but far worse after reaching his destination. He remained in Dawson City for a time, but soon decided to prospect. He went through the pass and reached a point where the thermometer descends to 70 degrees below zero. Mr. Anderson says that not many people go about in that temperature, for they are liable to freeze. Yet with this low temperature mosquitoes are not hard to find. Mr. Anderson says these pesky things are in greater numbers than in the swampy regions of Florida, and they are the bane of one's life for the most part of the year.

When asked as to the possibility of prospectors becoming rich, he replied that about 99 per cent. go broke in their attempts. Many are unable to get enough money to secure a good suit of clothes with which to return home. The work of digging for gold, Mr. Anderson says, is the very hardest kind of labor, and only the rugged and healthy persons are able to stand it. Persons who have been used to coal mining or roughing it stand the best show. They are able to bunk in log cabins and live on little or nothing for long periods.

Mr. Anderson had three partners while away, and two of them left him. He does not known whether they are alive or not. He secured his third partner before he left and the two have a part interest in three claims which were purchased at nominal prices from a prospector who left for home. He does not know how they will pan out. Regarding the class of people in the Klondike, Mr. Anderson says that they are the biggest fabricators he ever met. One can scarcely believe anything they tell, and they will rob a man of everything he has if they can and leave him to starve. Fifty Canadian soldiers and a mounted guard of police are on duty in that country and if they catch these rascals it goes hard with them. They are put to work in the wood yards and they are obliged to work or freeze. Their hours are from 5 o'clock in the morning to 6 in the evening.

For many days at different periods Mr. Anderson was obliged to go without anything to eat, except a few cranberries, and it was about even up as to whether he would pull through. By persistent effort he struck things favorably and was able to get enough to leave the Klondike with a fair stake.

When he left for home last September, potatoes were selling for 14 cents a pound. This is low, as the general price is $1. Everything else is high in proportion. When a man gets $15 a day for working he has to board himself, and if he works for $4 his employer boards him. In the latter case he gets poor board. Mr. Anderson met Robert Wyckoff, another Plainfielder, in 1898, and the latter said he was doing very well. He hoped to get out with many thousand dollars. He had purchased some valuable property and hoped to sell it at a greatly advanced price.

Mr. Anderson was disappointed in his trip and could not be very well induced to return. On his return he stopped for six weeks in St. Paul, Minn., and saw some relatives. He will leave next Tuesday for Denmark, where his wife is now. He expects to return to Plainfield next spring.

COURT SCORED BARNABY.

TOOK A FAT RAKE-OFF ON A BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Represented the Price of $250,000 Property He Bought for a Customer as $350,000.

According to the New York Sun of today, Supreme Court Justice Maddox handed down a decision in Brooklyn yesterday morning in which he severely scored Frank A. Barnaby, of Plainfield avenue, who is a real estate dealer on Montague street, Brooklyn. Mr. Barnaby was one of four men against whom action was brought by James B. Healey, a wealthy tailor, of Brooklyn. The plaintiff gets judgment against the defendants with costs and an extra allowance of $1,000.

In January of last year Mr. Barnaby was employed by the plaintiff to negotiate with Wm. G. Reed for the purchase of a valuable property on Fifth avenue and Nineteenth street, in Manhattan. He reported to Mr. Healey that Reed demanded $350,000 for the property. Healey demurred at the price and finally a different deal was arranged, which was satisfactory. In the meantime Healey went to see Reed and learned that the property had been sold to C. Grayson and W. Clarence Martin, two of the defendants in the action, for $250,000, through his broker, receiving $10,000 cash and the balance a month or so later.

It came out in the trial that Mrs. Barnaby became the holder of the mortgage given by Healey. Her husband collected the rents from the Brooklyn property and withheld it from Healey until the latter had him restrained by an order of the court. Healey's suit was to recover his Brooklyn property and the cancelling of the mortgage.

HILLSIDE OUT OF IT.

Glenney and Baker Defeated in Play for East Jersey Individual Golf Championship.

Play for the first annual individual championship of the East Jersey Golf Association began over the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday morning. Representatives were present from the Madison Golf Club, the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of Plainfield, the Town and Country Club, of Elizabeth, the Forest Hill Club, the East Orange Golf Club and the Glen Ridge Golf Club.

W. L. Glenney, J. Whitney Baker and Howard de R. Wright were entered from the Hillside Club. Wright defaulted his match to Waterbury. In the first round Glenney met Clarence Place, of Glen Ridge, and defeated him 3 up and 2 to go. J. C. Cory, of Forest Hill, defeated Baker 4 up and 3 to go.

In the second round the only remaining Hillside player, Glenney went down before Philip C. Poiner, of Elizabeth, who played a brilliant but erratic game. Poinier won two up. The semi-finals and finals will be played today, but the Hillside Club is out of it.

Miss Luckey's Recital.

Miss Mary Adelaide Luckey, reader, assisted by Miss Magdalena D. Perry, contralto, and Miss Helen Patterson, violinist, will give a recital in the Y. M. C. A. Hall next Tuesday evening, December 4th, and the following well-known persons will serve as patronesses: Mrs. Marion Ackerman, Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Mrs. Martin L. Cooley, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick Mead, Mrs. Orville T. Waring, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Jacob Kirkner, Mrs. William E. Lowe, Mrs. Lewis Fitz Randolph.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

A pleasant birthday party was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Windham, of Fairview avenue, in honor of their daughter, Miss Lou Windham, who celebrated the anniversary of her birthday. There was dancing, singing and the playing of games. At a late hour supper was served. The celebrant received a great many handsome presents. There were guests present from this city, the borough and many nearby places.

Entertained 100 Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carl, of Manson place, entertained about 100 friends Wednesday evening in honor of the latter's birthday. The early part of the evening was spent in listening to song and recitations after which dancing was taken up. It was long after midnight before the merry makers left for home.

MAY CUT A JERSEY TAX.

SENATOR STOKES' PLAN FOR A STATE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION.

Law Providing for Relief Has Been Passed, Big Surplus Now the Opportunity.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, December 1.—Senator Stokes will bend his energies this winter in the direction of getting an appropriation for the benefit of the payers of the school tax.

Two years ago he had a law placed on the statute books providing for an appropriation of not less than $100,000 annually to be used toward the payment of the State school tax. The large demands made on the public treasury by the various State institutions has prevented the Legislature from making the appropriation, but the Senator thinks that the time has come when the State can afford to comply with the law and he will work for that end when the Legislature convenes.

It is generally understood that there is no State tax in New Jersey, but as a matter of fact the school tax is a State tax, and it is levied on every holder of real estate. The amount of the tax is obtained by rating the number of school children at $5 a head, and that amount is apportioned by the State Comptroller according to the relation of the county rateables to the rateables of the State.

The purpose of the Stokes law is to reduce the school tax and give every person who pays it the direct benefit of that reduction. It is believed that this plan will be more satisfactory than to pay the money appropriated over the Boards of Education to be used in the making of school improvements or to be otherwise used so that the taxpayer would receive no relief from the burden of his taxation.

The benefits of this plan will be felt more keenly, perhaps, in the agricultural districts of the State than in the thickly settled sections, because in many of the agricultural counties one-third of the tax rate is the school tax. It is understood that the State leaders have fallen in with Senator Stokes' plan, and that there is little doubt that it will be put in operation.

Miss Etta Tobin a Bride.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Etta A. Tobin, formerly of Plainfield, but late of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, to Eugene McPerttand, of the latter place. The event took place Thanksgiving eve at Cornwall. Miss Jennie Tobin, of Westfield, was bridemaid, and John O'Brien, of Cornwall, was the best man. Father Kelly, curate of St. Thomas' R. C. church, performed the marraiage. The couple is now enjoying their honeymoon in New York and New Jersey. They will reside at Cornwall.

Many New Members.

Court Plainfield, 1144, I. O. F., at its meeting last night initiated one candidate, accepted ten and received eighteen applications. A committee was appointed to arrange for a public installation of officers and an entertainment for the members and their families and friends. Other important business of interest to members was transacted. There was a very large attendance.

First Formal Dance.

The first formal dance of the season at the Park Club was held in the ballroom of that clubhouse last evening. It was a very successful affair, a hundred of the young people of the club being present. The patronesses were Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. J. C. Peck, Mrs. George T. Rogers and Mrs. J. H. Howell. The affair was arranged by the house committee.

Death of Old Veteran.

Ezra Hill, of Raritan, a member of Winfield Scott Post, of this city, died at his home Thursday. The funeral services will be held tomorrow and will be in charge of the post. T. S. BURR REPLIES TO ISAAC L. MILLER.

He Lives in the Borough, But Has Some Kind Things to Say of Dr. Jenkins.

THE RIGHT MAN FOR MAYOR

HE SAYS THAT "THERE ARE NO FRILLS ON THE DOCTOR."

"Will Give to the City a Season of the Purest and Strongest Government It Has Ever Known," is the way He Sums It Up.

To the Editor of The Daily Press—As a resident of the placid and peaceful borough, where every prospect pleases and not even man is vile, I am not directly interested in the hot fight over the Mayoralty election which they are having in Plainfield.

I have been entertained, however, by inspecting "the first brick" thrown by Isaac L. Miller in that fight. Mr. Miller is a man of "excellent parts" and of such a keen and incisive mind that I have no desire to cross intellectual swords with him. He is a lawyer, I believe, and as a mere layman it does not become me, perhaps, to question his logic in the letter advocating the election of Col. Tyler, but it seems to me to be somewhat weak in one or two respects.

He says: "Three years ago Dr. Low——— was summarily rejected by the politicians, the result being that the memory of the late William Tweed is almost glorified when contrasted with the character of the men now administering the affairs of the metropolis."

Therefore, he argues or infers, "Vote for Col. Tyler, or expect Plainfield to suffer, as New York suffers, from iniquitous government." It is to smile, if not to laugh!

He also says: "There are many indications on the surface of a growing tendency on the part of intelligent men to ignore party names and standards in municipal elections." Which is undoubtedly true, but it does not follow that a man is intelligent because he ignores party names and standards; nor is any intelligent Plainfield voter likely to be misled by Mr. Miller's fallacious reasoning in his Low argument. Col. Tyler may well pray to be saved from at least one of his friends.

Mr. Miller himself recognizes the unpleasant side of his argument, and hastens to ask that he be "not considered as saying one word in disparagement of Dr. Jenkins." He "has not the honor of the gentlemen's acquaintance." He "does not know that he has ever met him," and he is "merely discussing a principle."

Well, we all know the genial Mr. Miller. We all have met him, mounted on that pre-archaic wheel; and I suggest that he mount it once more and ride around to Dr. Jenkins' office and make his acquaintance. My own experience is that office prescriptions are cash, but I am sure that the doctor will waive his charges in the present case, and that Mr. Miller will depart feeling satisfied that the city government will be safe in the hands of Dr. Jenkins.

No, Mr. Miller is not "merely discussing a principle." He is not discussing a principle, at all. He is pleading for his friend, Col. Tyler, on purely personal grounds and his reference to the Low episode in New York, has nothing to do with the case. He doubtless thinks, however, that it will be "a good enough Morgan until after election."

I have nothing to [illegible] Tyler. My philippic [illegible] Miller's false presen[illegible] points at issue and [illegible] "pull the wool ove[illegible] young voters. [illegible] be affected [illegible]

EXCELLENT LIST OF ATTRACTIONS FOR MUSIC HALL.

"When We Were Twenty-one" to Be Seen Tonight—"The Christian" and "The Three Musketeers."

Manager Maze Edwards has had good business the past week and has occasion to be well satisfied with his endeavors for the presentation of good entertainments at Music Hall. Washburn's Great Southern Minstrels Monday night gave fair satisfaction. It really was a good show of its kind, but the specialties and work of the white face performers, which were features in previous Washburn companies, were missing, the organization being entirely composed of colored talent. "Uncle Josh Spruceby" on Thanksgiving Day filled the house at both afternoon and night performances, and proved a veritable surprise in a dramatic sense. It was a good show throughout, well acted, splendidly mounted and pleased in unexpected manner the large audiences who witnessed the performances. A notable feature was the band and orchestra, which in the parade, outdoor concerts and during the show, discoursed beautiful and artistic selections of music. An event of more than passing mention will be the performance of E. V. Desmond's beautiful romantic love romance, "When We Were Twenty-one," which will occur tonight, and in which George Clarke and a superior company will appear. The play is one that was first produced by Nat Goodwin at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, last season, scoring great success, and is presented here under management of Ed. E Rice, who secured rights from Mr. Goodwin to play in such cities and towns not visited by him. To ensure proficiency and perfect detail Mr. Rice effected an arrangement with George Clarke, long and favorably known as the leading man of the late Augustin Daly's theatre, to play the character so admirably portrayed by Mr. Goodwin—the part of Dick Carew.

It is generally conceded that Mr. Esmond has given to the stage a very remarkable and wholesome play. "When We Were Twenty-one," comes at the right time. It comes as a whole some check to decadance and degeneracy. It is sweet as mountain air that has been kissed by the heather and all the men are brave, sympathetic, honest, loyal fellows. They are not ashamed to wear their hearts on their sleeves, they do not care how many daws peck at them, so wrote the critic of the New York Herald about the play. The play requires the most delicate shading and artistic atmosphere. An ordinary company would fail to appreciate the subtilities of Esmond's delicious writing. Mr. Rice has carefully guarded against this, and has surrounded Mr. Clarke with a company far above the average in point of dramatic ability,

Three good performances are booked for the coming week, the first on Tuesday night, a musical melodramma, entitled "Lost in Egypt." In speak- of this attraction the Hartford Times says: "The presentation was most acceptable and the roles were all well essayed. Messrs. Haines and Parkinson are deserving of praise for the carefully selected company and the specialities are all very clever. The plot is strong and pleasing to all. There is an abundance of comedy and the specal scenery is good. Taken as a whole it will be well received on its early return date. The various members need no special mention as they are all very clever.

Thursday night we are to have an opportunity of witnessing the much talked of and much written about Stair and Nicolai production of "The Three Musketeers." Dumas' famous novel in its dramatized form is now the fad of the hour on both sides of the Atlantic. The Cyrano DeBergerac craze of two years ago which affected the entire American public died with its first season. "The Three Musketeers" craze which next took hold of the public, spread with equal rapidity, but unlike Cyrano, still retains its place of pre-eminence in the theatrical world. And it is likely so to do for many seasons to come. Various dramatizations of Les Trois Mousquetaires have been seen in this country since the time of Fechter, who was the first to appear in it in America, but the play did not seize the universal fancy until last season when it swept all before it. The older theatre-goers have seen Fechter and Frank Mayo as D'Artagnan, the younger generation have witnessed the portrayals of Salvini, E. H. Sothern, James O'Neill and Harry Glazier. Many eminent critics and the great body of theatrical people maintain that Glazier, who is a discovery of E D. Stair and Geo. H. Nicolai more fully realizes Dumas' ideal of the fun-loving, fire eating young Gascon, than any of his contemporaries or of those who have gone before. He was thrust forth the beginning of the last season and unknown. He is now hailed as a parmanent star of unbounded possibilities.

"Who is Who," a musical farce comedy, with lots of new scenery, novelties etc., will be the attraction Saturday matinee and night. The management has collected an excellent company of comedians and pretty young ladies who infuse a great amount of life into the production, the specialties all being of high class, clean and laugh provoking. The comedians are led by Charles A. Loder, one of the best German character actors before the public and Harry N. Welsh, an all around song and dance artist and acrobat. Miss Kittie Wolfe, who is coupled with Welsh in several specialties and does several individual song and dance acts, shares the applause with Loder and Welsh and justly deserves it. She is a refined soubrette. John McMahon, who gets into a combination of tangles is a man of great resource and is a close second to Loder in provoking laughter. In fact the entire company is composed of accomplished actors and actresses and they should be greeted by crowded houses.

The following week will be what Manager Edwards considers the "star week" of the season, two great plays being the magnet. "The Village Postmaster," with its wealth of home like truths and incidents, will be seen on Wednesday, 12th inst., and "The Christian" is to be presented for the first time here, on Saturday, 15th, inst. The sale of reserved seats for these two great attractions will begin at the box office on Friday of coming week.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

Rev. Francis E. Clark, D.D., founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, is receiving from every side hearty commendation of his plans for the coming year. The suggestion that February 2, 1901, the society's twentieth anniversary, be observed as Decision Day, is meeting with general favor. The Sunday nearest to the anniversary date will probably be the day upon which most of the societies will have the meetings recommended. A special effort in behalf of the associate members and others who are not Christians will be made. A number of State and district unions have resolved to adopt Dr. Clark's suggestion.

The missionary committee of the Elizabeth Christian Endeavor Union is planning for active work during the winter. Meetings will be held regularly each month, when devotional exercises, a half-hour business session, a half-hour of missionary study and a social half-hour will be the program. The missionary chairman in each society of the local union is expected to meet with the committee, and it is believed that missionary spirit and larger contributions will be the outcome of the plan.

A meeting which is well attended by the Christian Endeavor workers of Boston is the Y. M. C. A. class for leaders of young people's meetings. A live, energetic company of workers in all denominations meets each Monday evening at Association Hall. The plan has proven so successful that Cambridge has followed suit and the vigorous Y. M. C A. there has secured Prof. A. L. Lowell, of Harvard University, as teacher of the class.

Christian Endeavor work in the northern part of New Jersey is grow- apace. Two new societies have recently been organized, one at Saddle River, in place of a Luther League, and one at Allendale in the place of a former Epworth League.

The Essex County Endeavors, who are always in the forefront in giving and working, have contributed liberally to the relief of the famine sufferers in India. Their monthly meetings, which usually take the form of a conference, are largely responsible for this concerted and aggressive action.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For Sale by L. W. MUCH GOLD ON HAND.

United States Treasury Contains Nearly $475,000,000.

A GAIN OF SEVENTY-SIX MILLIONS.

Present Accumulation the Largest Ever Held In the Nation's Vaults. Banks Throughout the Country Hold Millions In Addition.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The largest stock of gold coin and bullion ever held in the United States is now accumulated in the treasury and its branches. The total has been rising steadily during the whole of the present year and is now $474,108,366, or about $76,000,000 greater than at the close of 1899.

This gold is not all the direct property of the United States, but is held against outstanding gold certificates. The amount of these, less the amount in the treasury and its branches, was $230,755,809 Wednesday. All the remaining gold, amounting to about $243,000,000, belongs to the treasury as a part of the reserve fund of $150,000,000. The influx of gold into the treasury comes partly from the new gold from the Klondike and the other mines, but its retention is due to the pressure for currency which leads to the acceptance of gold certificates and other paper money in preference to coin. The treasury recently has been shipping small notes in large quantities to New Orleans and other points upon deposits of gold in the New York subtreasury by the New York reserve agents of the southern banks.

The fact that $474,108,336 is thus accumulated in a sense under a single authority enables an estimate to be made of some of the other visible gold resources of the country. The national banks reported gold holdings on Sept. 5 of about $312,000,000, of which amount $115,118,140 was in the gold certificates issued by the treasury. The remainder, about $197,000,000, if added to the visible gold in the treasury, makes a total in these two classes of establishments alone of about $670,000,000. This is more than the entire estimated stock of gold in the United States at the close of 1895.

The gold supply of the country on the last day of 1896 was estimated at $692,947,212. The estimated amount Nov. 1, 1900, was $1,080,027,407, and it is probable that the report for Dec. 1 will show at least $1,100,000,000. The treasury officials are confident that the round sum of $475,000,000 in treasury gold holdings will soon be attained and that even $500,000,000 is not beyond reasonable expectation.

Smallpox In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Active measures are being taken by the board of health to prevent the spread of smallpox. Several new cases were reported, and it is believed that others will develop within the next few days, before the board succeeds in its efforts to stamp out the disease. Contagion was disseminated by persons who went about the city while they had smallpox, and cases have been discovered at some distance from the section where most of the sufferers lived. It may appear in unexpected places, but there is no danger of a general epidemic, say the health authorities. Twenty inspectors were detailed to go through the buildings where smallpox has been found and to vaccinate all the tenants. Policemen were stationed at Sixty-ninth street and West End avenue to prevent the removal of household articles which could have been infected and to give warning to persons who had entered the houses or apartments. Thirty-seven cases in all have been reported to Dr. Dillingham.

Mrs. McKinley In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Mrs. William McKinley and Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, widow of the late vice president, arrived in New York yesterday afternoon. They have come to do their Christmas shopping and are expected to remain several days. They are stopping at the Manhattan hotel. There are no children in the McKinley household, but ever since they have been in the White House the old mansion has held each holiday season a gay party of young merrymakers, the special guests of Mrs. McKinley. Because of her ill health, however, Mrs. McKinley is not able to take an active part in the entertainment of her young guests.

A Railroad For Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 1.—The statement is published here that the successful result of the vote at Victoria, where a bonus was given for a ferry to connect with the Great Northern railway, is but the forerunner of a scheme to bring the Great Northern into Vancouver. It is stated that a proposition will shortly be placed before the municipal authorities for through connection with the Great Northern railway and that the line will run into Vancouver from the south side of the Frazer river.

Owen Squire Convicted.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Owen Squire, 19 years old, on trial for manslaughter before Judge Moore in the Queens county court, Long Island City, for the shooting of Elizabeth C. Heigelsell, a 14-year-old girl, was found guilty, the jury adding to its verdict a recommendation for mercy. The shooting occurred on election day in the ice cream saloon of Philip Kochenberg at Beach street and Jamaica avenue, Richmond Hill.

Pennsylvania Finances.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1.—The state's financial officers announce that at the close of the fiscal year yesterday there was $6,649,988 in the state treasury, of which $4,322,336 was in the general fund and 2,327,652 in the sinking fund. During the year there was received at the state treasury $17,494,211, the largest receipts in one year in the history of the state.

Fast Train From Chicago.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 1.—Beginning tomorrow the Lake Shore Railroad company will inaugurate a fast train service between Chicago and this city. Train 28, which now leaves Chicago in the evening, will hereafter make the run to Cleveland in nine hours and five minutes. The distance is 347 miles. This will be one of the fastest trains in this section.

That Cruiser Contract.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—"It is probable," says the Constantinople correspondent of The Standard, "that the contract for a cruiser to be built in the United States will be canceled as soon as the Kentucky departs, for it is difficult to see how the money is to be found."

CHINESE VICTORY PREDICTED.

Attitude of America and Russia Will Result In Defeat of Allies.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Spectator, in a striking article dealing with the Chinese crisis, expresses the opinion that the most recent developments at Peking foreshadow a Chinese victory over the allies. "The quarrel has been brought to the test of force," it says, "and force on the civilized side has proved insufficient. This result is mainly due to the attitude of Russia and the United States. If China escapes with the payment of a small indemnity and many promises on paper, as seems not unlikely, since Germany and Great Britain may not be willing to incur the expenditure and risk involved in persisting in their demands, it will be equivalent to a victory for China, for nothing has occurred which will convince the Chinese that their mighty empress has been defeated or that Europe can avenge any future massacres."

The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring yesterday, says:

"Despite the cordial reception given Admiral Seymour the situation is unchanged. The Han-kow viceroy refuses to stop sending supplies to the court unless the Nankin viceroy will also refuse, and the latter, although he undertakes to send no more arms, says he must continue sending supplies so long as the emperor requires them.

"In fact, all our remonstrances amount to a miserable farce. We have no courage to do more than to talk. In the Chinese theater here the allies are represented by a soldier with an enormous mouth, who does nothing but talk until his career is ended by decapitation."

The Shanghai correspondent of The Times, wiring yesterday, says:

"Reports of uneasiness at Tien-tsin continue. Chinese regulars and Boxers are believed to be returning to that district secretly, and a renewal of trouble is feared when the port is closed for the winter.

"It is alleged that the Kalgan expedition met with a reverse, and it is believed that a party of Germans who were cut off were obliged to abandon their dead and wounded."

On the other hand, Count von Waldersee yesterday telegraphed to Berlin that the German column was returning from Kalgan and would "continue the march under General Gayl."

A similar reverse had been previously rumored and denied at Berlin.

A WISE RICH MAN.

Is Giving Away Part of His Fortune to Worthy People.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 1.—Alexander Jackson of Camden, one of the best known old men of Kent county, recently decided that if he lived until Thanksgiving day he would distribute part of his fortune. He has no children and few immediate relatives. He is going to give away $100,000.

Mr. Jackson began the distribution of his wealth in a novel manner. For many years Frank Jackson had driven a hack between Wyoming station and Camden. Frank Jackson, who is no relation to Alexander Jackson, had an antiquated cab. A few days ago Alexander Jackson appointed a committee to go to Philadelphia and spend $700 in the purchase of a fine pair of western horses, a modern upholstered hack, nickel plated harness and other equipment, which were presented to Frank Jackson.

Edgar Stubbs, a clerk in the store of Jackson Stubbs, in Camden, gets $3,000 and a fine farm near Marydel. His brother, Jackson Stubbs, besides other gifts, gets $300 in cash. Mrs. Henry R. Draper, wife of the justice of the peace of Camden, receives $9,100 in property.

Mrs. William T. Jakes, wife of the express agent at Wyoming, gets $5,000, principally in well invested securities; Miss Mary Draper, a well known young woman of Camden, receives $3,000.

Alexander Draper and Avery Draper, farmers, near Wyoming, each $3,000 in cash; Mrs. Annie Booker, recently married to a merchant of Hillsborough, Md., gets property valued at $3,000, and Isaac Jackson, a grocer at Wyoming, $2,500, and Miss Sallie Jackson, his daughter, $4,500. Other gifts are to follow.

FILIPINOS MUST DIE.

MacArthur Will Not Interfere—The Transport Indiana Safe.

MANILA, Dec. 1.—General MacArthur has confirmed the sentences of hanging passed upon four natives recently convicted of murder at Lingayen. The condemned were members of the "Guardia de Honor," a band of assassins whose victims were kidnaped and boloed. They will be hanged Dec. 21.

The United States cruiser Newark, under orders to proceed to Guam to investigate the circumstances of the disaster to the United States auxiliary cruiser Yosemite, has not yet sailed.

Mr. Arthur Ferguson, secretary of the Philippine commission, has gone to Hongkong for a short vacation to recuperate his health, which has recently been poor.

The United States transport Indiana, which, as announced Nov. 17, went ashore on the east side of the Isla de Polillo, off the east coast of Luzon, was successfully floated and arrived at Binangonan sound short of coal. She transferred to the United States transport Pennsylvania the contingent of the Twenty-second infantry and the supplies destined for Baler and then proceeded for Nueva Caceres, on the Bicol river, province of South Camarines.

"Mr. Dooley" Very Ill.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Finlay Peter Dunne, author of the "Dooley Papers" and for many years an active newspaper man of Chicago, lies dangerously ill with pneumonia at St. Luke's hospital. He was taken ill a few days ago in his apartments in the Virginia hotel, but later was removed to the hospital by the advice of his physician. Inquiry at St. Luke's hospital last night elicited the information that Mr. Dunne's condition was unchanged. The attendant physician said the patient was resting easily.

Mrs. Van Liew Pleads Guilty.

VAN WERT, O., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Emma Van Liew, who has been on trial here charged with causing the death of Alice Hummell by throwing vitriol in her face, yesterday pleaded guilty to manslaughter, was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years and was taken to the prison at Columbus.

Death of a Hermit.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Joseph Knapp, a hermit, was found dead in his hut at Port Jackson, in the Shawangunk mountains. He had been drinking heavily and died of delirium tremens. The most valuable thing in his shanty was a barrel of hard cider.

FAMOUS HORSE SOLD

The Abbot Knocked Down For $26,500.

HOLDS WORLD'S TROTTING RECORD.

Fire Commissioner Scannell of New York Is the New Owner of the Fleet Footed Gelding Bred by C. J. Hamlin.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The great trotting horse The Abbot was sold yesterday afternoon at the Madison Square Garden for $26,500. The purchaser was John J. Scannell, fire commissioner of this city. There was a crowd of 8,000 persons in the Garden to watch the holder of the world's trotting record go under the hammer. The Abbot was taken into the ring at 4 o'clock by Mr. Geers, who has driven him in his record beating trots. When the sale began, F. Tipton of the Fasig-Tipton company, bidding for another person, bid $26,000. This was followed by Mr. Scannell's bid of $26,500. No other bids being made, the horse went to the fire commissioner.

The price paid for The Abbot was not a record breaker. Maud S, Sunol and several other great trotters have brought higher prices under the hammer.

The Abbot was bred at the Village farm by Mr. Hamlin in 1893. His sire was Chimes, 2:30¾, by Electioneer, sire of The Monk, Fantasy, Merry Chimes and Ed Easton. His dam was Nettie King, 2:20¼, by Mambrino King. He is a bay gelding of good size and beautiful proportions. His legs are clean and muscular, and they support a finely shaped barrel, on which his neck and delicate head are gracefully set. He is the finest specimen of the straight line trotter ever seen on an American track. He does no waste any of his energy in throwing his feet out or too high. It is all directed in a straight ahead movement that has won The Abbot the highest praise from the veteran breeders of trotters. His appearance and action The Abbot is a vast improvement over Dexter, 2:17¼, and Rarus, 2:13¼, earlier champions. They were coarse and plain. He is more like the beautifully formed Alix, 2:03¼, whose record he lowered at Terre Haute.

His career since then has been one of brilliant successes. Out of nine starts in 1897 he won six times, earning $5,750 and finishing the season with a record of 2:11½. In the year following he started ten times, winning seven, earning $6,300 and reducing his record to 2:08¼. In only one of these races was he unplaced. Last year he swept the grand circuit with ten straight victories. He only suffered defeat in one heat, and Binger beat him by stepping the mile in 2:06¼, the best time of the year for a trotting stallion. Twenty-five of the twenty-seven heats he won were trotted in better than 2:10. His winnings aggregated $10,250.

Since 1899 The Abbot has been attacking records. He stepped a mile in 2:07 in public at Detroit in the season just ended and worked the distance in 2:05½ at Cleveland.

He created a sensation at Hartford on Sept. 27 by cutting Lucille's wagon record from 2:09¼ to 2:05½. He did some remarkably fast moving at the local trotting track and took away the breath of the trotting world by stepping a mile in 2:03¼ at Terre Haute.

Rich Gold Find In Arizona.

YUMA, A. T., Dec. 1.—One of the richest gold ledges ever known in Arizona is reported to have been discovered in central Yuma county, near the famous King of Arizona mines. The ore is said to be fairly speckled with free gold. The locators, six Yuma Mexicans, have bonded their main claims, with absolutely no development work done, for $50,000. The option has been secured by Ira P. Smith, assistant superintendent of the territorial penitentiary, who represents Frank M. Murphy of Prescott and several Los Angeles capitalists. The mine is in the most arid section of Arizona, about 22 miles east of the Colorado river, which is the nearest surface water.

Oscar Wilde Dead.

DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—A dispatch from Paris says Oscar Wilde is dead. The dispatch adds that he expired yesterday in an obscure house in the Latin quarter from meningitis and was received into the Catholic church on his deathbed. Oscar Wilde, who was about 45 years of age, was born in Dublin and was the son of William Mills Wilde, an eccentric surgeon dentist, who has been termed the "crazy doctor." Dr. Wilde was knighted for curing a defect in the eyesight of a member of one of the viceroys' families. Lady Wilde, Oscar Wilde's mother, wrote poetry over the signature of "Speranza." Oscar was educated at Trinity college, Dublin, and at Oxford.

Great Live Stock Show In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—What promises to be one of the greatest live stock shows ever held in this country opened this morning in the Dexter Park pavilion at the stock yards. Over 10,000 pedigreed animals have already been received, and it is expected that this number will be increased considerably by Monday morning. The display of blooded stock will represent a cash value of over $2,000,000. Six hundred classes are listed, and prizes amounting to $75,000 will be awarded.

Rogers Works Closed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Rogers Locomotive works at Paterson, N. J., closed down finally yesterday afternoon. At noon there were 50 men at work. They finished shipping two locomotives to Chile at 1 o'clock. When the crates containing the parts of the engine had been loaded upon flat cars, the last work in the shops had been done. Mr. Rogers was present and witnessed the closing of the shop.

Colombia Rebels Surrounded.

COLON, Colombia, Dec. 1.—The latest advices from Cartagena announce that the government forces, numbering 4,000, with artillery, now surround the Liberal, or insurgent, forces at Corozal, in the Habana region of Bolivar. The insurgents are under the command of General Uribe, whose request to treat for peace has been rejected.

Troops Leave Porto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 1.—The United States transport Crook has sailed for New York with a troop of the Fifth cavalry and 37 passengers. The United States transport Rawlins sailed last evening for Newport News, having on board 59 passengers, the headquarters, band and Companies K, L, and M of the Eleventh infantry.

KITCHENER TO LEAD

Lord Roberts Retires From South African Command.

DIFFICULT TASK FOR NEW LEADER.

The Situation Is Considered Very Grave—All the Military Posts Throughout Cape Colony Being Strengthened.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The war office announces that Lord Roberts handed over the command of the British troops in South Africa Thursday to Lord Kitchener.

It is further announced that the queen approves Lord Kitchener's promotion to lieutenant general, with the rank of general while in command in South Africa.

A lieutenant general is the next highest rank to a general in the British army. Lord Kitchener is the youngest lieutenant general in the British army. He was born in 1850 and entered the army in 1871. He was created a baron about two years ago for destroying the mahdi's power in the Sudan.

From Durban, Natal, comes the report that Lord Roberts is due to arrive at Pietermaritzburg Dec. 4 and should arrive there Dec. 6.

There is virtually no fresh news from South Africa this morning, but the retirement of Lord Wolseley, the return of Lord Roberts and the appointment of Lord Kitchener to the supreme command, occurring as they do simultaneously, are keenly discussed. Despite some misgivings hearty approval is generally expressed of Lord Kitchener's appointment. It is felt that if any one can clear up matters in South Africa he is the man, and it is readily admitted that the task before him, though of a different kind, is almost as difficult as that which faced Lord Roberts ten months ago and is calculated to give the fullest scope to all of Kitchener's talents as an organizer.

The Morning Post hints broadly that the recent demand of Lord Roberts for re-enforcements has not been complied with and insists that Lord Kitchener's hands must not be tied by any lack of men or horses. It says:

"If re-enforcements are withheld or delayed, Lord Kitchener may be paralyzed, with what consequences to the empire no one can foresee. From 30,000 to 50,000 men are required."

All the editorials dwell with considerable emotion on the nation's debt of gratitude to Lord Roberts, who has "successfully piloted us through one of the darkest hours of our history."

From Cape Town come indications of the uneasiness felt. All military posts throughout Cape Colony are being strengthened. Bloemfontein is now prepared for any possible attack. Extra scouts are out, and guards watch the streets in the night time. Mines have been laid along the railway. The garrisons on the Orange river drifts are being increased.

The Statist proposes that the government should begin negotiations with Commandant General Botha and General De Wet to bring the war to a close. As the Boer leaders might misunderstand the motive of an overture from the military authorities, it suggests that the highest civil authority in South Africa should begin the negotiations—if not Sir Alfred Milner, then the chief justice of Cape Colony or even Mr. J. H. Hofmyer.

This great financial journal leads up to its proposal by an analysis of the situation in South Africa and says:

"We are losing in every way—losing in prestige and losing in trade. We are seeing our South African possessions plunged into greater and greater distress, and the opinion is gaining ground abroad that we are incapable of bringing the struggle to a satisfactory termination."

Design For Hobart Monument.

PATERSON, N. J., Dec. 1.—The design for the monument of the late Vice President Garret A. Hobart has been decided upon. The successful competitor is Philip Martin. It shows Mr. Hobart standing, with a gavel in his hand, and leaning forward slightly as if listening to a speaker. It will be of bronze and be about nine feet in height. It will stand upon a pedestal in front of the city hall in Paterson.

Trenton Falls Power Plant Opened.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 1.—At Trenton Falls yesterday water was turned into the great steel and wooden pipe line and penstock that is to convey the water to the wheels in the immense power plant constructed there. The test was watched with great interest to find out if the enormous pressure had been properly calculated and provided for. No point of weakness was discovered.

Football Player Dead.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 1.—L. Trumbull Kelly, captain of the local football team and a former substitute on the Yale eleven, is dead as the result of injuries received on the gridiron Thursday afternoon in a game with the Indiana Normal school team. Kelly's skull was fractured. He was the son of Captain Kelly of West Superior, Wis., and was 21 years old.

Old Officers to Be Retined.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Governor Elect Odell has announced that he would reappoint John N. Partridge superintendent of public works and Edward M. Hoffman adjutant general. This is believed to mean the retention by Francis Hendricks of the superintendency of insurance until the expiration of his term.

Favors a Large Army.

The Newark News has been interviewing New Jersey's representatives in Congress as to what legislation they think will be enated and what their attitude in relation to it will be. One of the most prominent interviews is that with United States Senator John Kean. In discussing the prospective legislation Mr. Kean gives prominance to increase in the size of the army and declares his intention of supporting such a measure. He accepts the verdict at the polls on election day as indicative that the people want a larger army. He openly favors the passage of the ship subsidy bill, but he says that he is not prepared at the present time to discuss the Hay-Pauncefote canal treaty, as it was now in executive session. Much, he thought, would depend on how the canal is built, and various Senators entertained widely different opinions on the subject. He was not prepared to say how he would vote until he heard all the arguments presented.

In speaking of the Spooner resolution, giving the President full power in the Philippines until the insurrection shall have ceased and a permanent form of government be established Senator Kean warmed up and declared, with emphasis, that he was heartily in favor of the resolution, and believed the President should have full power to use his own discretion in handling the subject.

"The majority of the people of these United States," remarked Senator Kean, "showed at the late election by their votes that they have entire confidence in President McKinley's prudence, wisdom and good judgment in this matter."

The season for foolish political stories is supposed to have ended with the November election, but now and then one crops out in most unexpected quarters. For instance, this week's Somerville Democrat gives currency to the story that "it is reported on pretty good authority that Samuel S. Childs contributed $20,000 to the State Democratic Executive Committee during the recent campaign. This has set the workers in this country wondering where this money went to, and why they were unable to get speakers from the State Committee. When they applied for speakers they were told that there was no money to pay them. There must have been other contributors besides Mr. Childs. All the electors are supposed to pay for the honor of being on the ticket. Senator Keys frequently said during the campaign that he had contributed largely, and it is known that there were other liberal contributors. Where! oh where, then, did all the money go? Was it all spent in Hudson, Hunterdon and Warren—the only counties carried for Bryan? It is up to the State Committee to explain."

Mr. Childs did not contribute $20,000 in the last campaign, and it is doubtful if he contributed one-twentieth of that sum.

Former Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerset county, stands an excellent chance of getting the Democratic complimentary nomination for United States Senator against Gen. William J. Sewell next January. Congressman-elect Allan L. McDermott received the empty honor in 1895, and thinks the nomination ought to go to somebody else this time. There is nothing in the talk about the nomination going to Former President Grover Cleveland. Leader Robert Davis, of Hudson county, who will control the nomination, says that there is a strong feeling in favor of Mr. Clark. Former Congressman Clark served in Congress from 1877 to 1881. He is a father-in-law of Senator Charles A. Reed, and has a barrel. He is reputed to be worth a million.

At a caucus held by the Essex county Assembly delegation in Newark last night it was voted to support United States Senator William J. Sewell for re-election. The delegation also decided to support William J. Brakley, of Camden, for Speaker of the House. J. Harvey Bacheller was chosen leader of the Essex delegation.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Borough Board of Health will meet in regular session next Monday evening.

—Canvassers for the religious census will attend a preliminary meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building this evening at 8 o'clock.

—There will be a regular meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening, when business of importance will be considered.

—The large plate glass in the front door at N. K. Barnes' grocery store in West Front street, was broken a few days ago by the heavy wind which slammed the door suddenly.

—Otto Arens' handsome new residence, which has been in course of construction for some time past, is nearly completed and the finishing touches are now being made.

—Workmen have finished the work of erecting the stone wall on North avenue opposite the station. The work on the tunnel under the railroad tracks will be completed in a few days.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brother, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

—Preparatory services were held at the First Baptist church last evening, and the communion service will be held tomorrow morning. One member will receive the right-hand of fellowship.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L. W. Randolph.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 1.—While the majority of the borough housewives were busy Wednesday preparing the Thanksgiving dinner, there were some who were not to busy to remember a neighbor upon whom sickness and misfortune had fallen. Through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Arthur Vail, a generous supply of groceries and a substantial sum of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilton, by the aid of which they were enabled to participate in the day's rejoicing. The recipients of the gifts were taken completely by surprise but feel very grateful toward the donators and to those who planned the affair. Mr. Tilton, who has been sick since early last summer, is now gradually recovering, but it will be a long time before he is fully restored to his old time health.

By the tipping of a loose plank, George Cooper was precipitated from the top of Garretson & Gray's coal sheds yesterday afternoon. He struck the ground with considerable force cutting himself about the head. The accident was witnessed by several men who assisted him to the residence of Mr. Smith. The wounds were washed and dressed and he was afterward able to go home.

Mrs. Alvah Gray has gone to Washington, D. C., where she will spend two weeks as the guest of Mrs VanWhy, a former borough resident.

George W. Abbott, of Somerville, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bergen, of Newark, were the guests of Mrs. Annie Abbott, Thursday.

W. J. Hamilton, Jr., and family, of Westfield, and Miss Eva Bodine, of Bayonne, were the guests of T. C. Bodine Thursday.

Postmaster Adam Dealaman entertained his brother, William Dealaman, and family, of Newark, over Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Jeremiah Dunham entertained her brother, Alexander Hunt, and family, of Westfield, Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. George Young, of Trenton, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Stryker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vance left today for New York, where they will reside for the winter.

Miss Louise Holmes, of Plainfield, was the guest Thursday of her sister, Mrs. A. F. Sampson.

Rev. N. J. Sproull will begin his pastoral duties at the Presbyterian church tomorrow.

Percy Abbott enjoyed a pleasant visit with Roselle friends Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Naylor passed Thursday with friends in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boice passed Thursday with Bayonne relatives.

Miss Elizabeth Gray, of Califon, is visiting her brother, Alvah Gray.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 1. — A quiet wedding took place at the parsonage of the Stelton Baptist church Wednesday evening when Miss Mabel Harris and William Lant, both of the township, were united in marriage by Rev. W. T. Dorward. The only witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, who acted as bridesmaid and best man. The young couple will take up their residence with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lant.

Hunting still continues good in this vicinity and large numbers of rabbits and squirrels are caught daily. George Pizie captured three of the former in one hour yesterday and Edson Davis secured two in a short time.

A turkey raffle was a feature at the Hotel Nelson Wednesday evening, in which a large number participated. Fred Boice was the successful contestant and departed smilingly with a fine large bird.

Miss Estella Sofield was the guest of Miss Annie Doeringer, of Plainfield, Thanksgiving Day.

The Board of Education will meet in the schoolhouse next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Miss Katrina Krause has been spending several days with friends at Menlo Park.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher spent Thursday with Bertram Fletcher, at Brooklyn.

J. M. Adams and family have taken up their residence in New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, December 1.—A very quiet marriage was solemnized in town last night at the residence of Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D., the happy couple being Robert N. Moore and Miss Anna L. Bahr, both of Garwood. The young couple were accompanied by a friend as a witness, as they desired a quiet marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside at Garwood where the groom is employed.

The work of prospecting about the old copper mine at Glenside has stopped. For nearly two months several men have been working about the mouth of the old mine, but the work was stopped a short time ago, and the men left without telling any one as to how their investigation of the vein had resulted.

The special Thanksgiving collection at the Baptist church, which was postponed last Sunday for one week on account of the bad weather, will be taken up tomorrow at the morning service. The collection this year will be used to make a number of necessary repairs about the church building.

The subject of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermon for Sunday morning will be "The Plea of Evil." In the evening he will give the second of a series of sermons on the The Oldest Son Erring, the subject being, "The Elder Son Enquiring."

Twilight Council held their regular weekly meeting in their rooms last evening. During the good of the order the members were entertained by a number of selections upon the phonograph.

The Misses Alice and May Shott are enjoying a short rest from their studies at Hightstown Seminary and are spending it with their father, Rev. G. M. Shott.

The members of the entertainment committee of Fanwood Council, R. A., are arranging for an entertainment in the near future.

Miss Susie L. Parse has returned from a pleasant visit of several days with friends in Bridgeton.

A regular meeting of the Township Committee was held in their rooms last night.

The public school will re-open on Monday morning after a four days vacation.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, December 1.—The marriage is announced of John M. Ledley, a well-to-do contractor living in this town, and Miss Annie K. Norris, of Providence, R. I., which occurred at that place on October 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Ledley will make their home in Westfield as soon as they can find a suitable home.

Postmaster L. M. Whitaker has received a notice from the Postmaster General that the free delivery system will not be established in Westfield until December 15th owing to an unavoidable delay in receipt of the carrier eligible register.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, December 1.—Mr. Houston will preach this evening on "The Threefold Question," and tomorrow morning upon the "Abuse of Trusts." In the evening his topic will be "The Pearly Gates," and he will sing by request "The Holy City." This series of meetings will close with Tuesday night. They have been gaining in numbers and attraction.

Miss Sarah Giles is looking for a share in a fortune of many millions which was left by a distant relative in England. Albert Soper is also one of the three hundred to come in for a share.

Berlin. In den Knappschaftskassen des Deutschen Reiches war im Jahre 1898 gegen Krankheit eine durchschnittliche Belegschaft von 555,665 Personen versichert, bei welchen 259,601 Erkrankungsfälle mit 4,146,820 Krankheitstagen, für die Krankengeld oder Krankenhauspflege gewährt wurde, zur Behandlung kamen. Die aufgewendeten Krankheitskosten beliefen sich auf 11,972,117 Mark, wozu die Werkseigenthümer 6,158,320 Mark, die Mitglieder 7,965,744 Mark beitrugen. — Eine Anzahl Verkäufer in hiesigen Cigarrengeschäften sind neulich entlassen worden. Sie waren durch den Neun-Uhr-Ladenschluß überzählig geworden. Diejenigen Geschäfte, welche bis 2 Uhr Nachts und länger geöffnet waren, unterhielten alle doppeltes Personal. Diese Arbeitseintheilung wurde nun durch den Neun-Uhrschluß unnöthig.—Der Postassistent Theodor Collmann, welcher im Jahre 1890 von Berlin nach Siam berufen wurde, um das siamesische Postwesen nach deutschem Muster umzugestalten, ist vor Kurzem zum Generalinspektor der siamesischen Posten und Telegraphen ernannt worden.

Potsdam. Umfangreichen Diebstählen auf dem Potsdamer Güterbahnhofe, die zwei bis drei Jahre zurückliegen, ist die Kriminalpolizei erst jetzt durch anonyme Briefe auf die Spur gekommen. Es sind mehrere Arbeiter unter dem Verdacht verhaftet worden, aus Güterwagen Stoffe, Porzellan, Cigarren und Spirituosen entwendet zu haben.

A St. Louis paper hanger and contractor, in enumerating some of his past troubles, said: "My wife and I swear by Ripans Tabules. Many a morning I have gone to work on a job and had to quit. I can't begin to tell you all the suffering I have gone through. I lost my appetite and nearly starved myself in trying to work up a relish for food; but indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and headache constantly attended me. I took bitters, tonics, pills, but they didn't cure me. My wife had also some trouble with her stomach and it was a friend of hers who first told her to try

We started in together to take them. My appetite soon came back and I began to feel bully, and my wife is as well as ever she was in her life."

RAINY DAY TASTE.

IT MAY BE GOOD AND IT MAY BE ATROCIOUS.

Up to Date Women No Longer Look Shabby In Wet Weather—Simplicity the Correct Thing In Everything, From Hat to Shoes.

What guys some women still make of themselves in stormy weather! In the old times a rainy day was the signal for bringing out of the closet one's oldest things. "Oh, it will do for a rainy day!" was an expression heard frequently from the woman who was occupied in sorting out her last season's clothes. It was an understood thing that in wet weather the whole feminine world was permitted to look shabby. As for the really smart women who refused to appear in such a guise, they staid at home and waited for sunnier skies. In these enlightened days all this is changed. There is a costume for every possible occasion, and a woman would no more think of wearing her old silk dress in a rainstorm than she would wear any of her soiled satin dancing frocks to breakfast. Besides, the comfort and cheapness of the short skirt have endeared it to women at large, so that in bad weather the women hampered by long, dragging skirts can be counted on the fingers of the right hand. So far so good. But what about the accessories commonly worn with such a costume?

A friend of mine says: "The other day I was walking in the shopping district. It was raining, and I wish you could have seen the costumes! They reminded me of a rehearsal of a ballet in which the dancers merely slip into their short skirts without changing the rest of their costume. There was every kind of millinery, from a rusty, moth eaten toque to an elaborate creation worthy of being worn at a reception. On the whole the Gainsborough hats seemed to gain the preference and, with their huge bows and ends, looked as if they were going to fly away with the ludicrously short skirted little figures. Not content with this, some of the shoppers wore elaborate lace collars, fastened in front with a velvet bow or the fashionable huge rosette. Between the hat and the rosette it seemed wonderful that they were able to struggle along at all. In contrast to this were the emaciated legs clothed in the gayest of plaid or polka dotted stockings. These afforded reminiscences of olden time golf links, which, however, were quickly dispelled by shoes which in nine cases out of ten had French heels. I noticed that old silk waists and soiled satin ones gained the preference instead of dark flannel or neat cotton ones and the more elaborate the old waist the better. As for the gloves and old stocks—well, really I prefer not to speak of them. There was everything, from a Marie Antoinette fichu to a pair of soiled gray cotton affairs with the fingers all worn out at the ends."

The worst of it is that what she says is true. Why will not the American woman imitate the severe tailor made simplicity of her British cousin? A stormy day is not an occasion for "finishing up" one's dilapidated finery, nor is a short skirt a fit adjunct to a velvet hat or a pulley belt. The well dressed girl chooses her rainy day costume with the same care she bestows upon her riding habit. It must be of neat, strong material in quiet, serviceable color. The skirt must hang perfectly and come to the tops of the boots.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Many Failures in November—Iron and Steel Market Brisk.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Commercial failures in November were 850 in number and $12,300,316 in amount of liabilities against 782 in October for $9,072,791 and 886 in November last year, when liabilities were only $8,046,848. Manufacturing defaults were but 193 in number and $3,883,165 in amount, the bulk of the mortality occurring in trading concerns, of which 617 failed for $7,506,358. There were 40 other commercial failures, with liabilities of $910,793. Four banking and financial companies defaulted for $823,000.

Good news continues to come from iron and steel sections. Sales of pig iron in three weeks have aggregated 200,000 tons at Chicago, and idle furnaces are going into blast, indicating a much larger capacity now than on Nov. 1. Buying of all finished forms increases, and some orders are placed at slightly higher quotations. Railroads are purchasing most liberally, and machinery is in special demand.

A larger demand for goods for current consumption is the report from nearly all directions. The dry goods trade, recovering after recent liquidation, shows business expanding, but irregularly and slowly. Cotton goods show the best results.

Abundant estimates that the cotton yield will not reach 10,000,000 bales failed to affect prices, for traders are beginning to appreciate the fact that a decrease in consumption is an unavoidable concomitant of unusually high quotations. Wheat is further from a dollar than at any time since that price was predicted by a high authority and the usual rumors of damage from jointing before frost fall as flat as they have done in previous years.

After months of unchanged quotations boots and shoes move to a higher level, although the advance is only 2½ cents. The gain in the raw material made some rise necessary, or shops must have closed. Railroad earnings for November to date show 1 per cent gain over 1899 and 10.8 per cent over 1898.

TO STRAIGHTEN LACKAWANNA.

Proposed Railroad Changes—Will Shorten the Line to Buffalo.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—It is said at the offices of the Lackawanna railroad in Hoboken that important changes are to be made on the main line of the system. This now starts from Hoboken and runs to Dover by way of Paterson and Boonton. From Dover it runs to Hackettstown, at which point it turns southwest and runs to Washington. At that place it turns back toward the northwest again to Delaware Water Gap. Between Waterloo and the Gap the road makes an almost perfect "V," with Washington as the lower point. The main feature of the proposed alteration is the striking of an air line, or as nearly so as the nature of the country will permit, from Waterloo to the Gap. The corps of engineers are at work on this, surveying the land and selecting the route.

It is said that the line as proposed will require the cutting of a tunnel two miles long. Besides this shortening of the line, which it is estimated will reduce the running time from Hoboken to Buffalo by 45 or 50 minutes, it is said that numerous curves are to be straightened on the line of the road and that some of the steeper grades are to be reduced by trestling or cuts. Beyond the Water Gap other extensive improvements in the line of shortening the running time are said to be under consideration.

Seventeen Have Died.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Four persons injured in the glass works accident Thursday died yesterday, making the total number of dead 17. Several more of the injured will die. About the morgue there have been crowds of anxious inquirers, relatives and friends of those who are known to have been victims of the accident. The dead have all been identified. Until all the dead shall have been viewed by the coroner's jury no bodies can be taken away from the morgue. All of the hospitals are crowded with the maimed and injured, and a large staff of physicians and nurses is at work.

Governor Asked For Protection.

AUSTIN, Dec. 1.—Officers of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company have called on the governor for protection. The chief executive was asked to send troops to San Antonio to suppress rioting and keep the peace there. It is understood that the governor has promised to send state troops or a company of rangers. This appeal is the result of the riot at San Antonio between telephone, electrical workers and the police, in which two men were killed.

An Antarctic Expedition.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—At the meeting of the Royal society last evening it was announced that the projected national antarctic expedition would start next autumn and that the construction of a vessel, to be named Discovery, had already been commenced at Dundee.

Pittsburg Coal Shipments.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.—About 3,000,000 bushels of coal started for the south yesterday, requiring 112 coal boats and 34 barges to carry it. The day's shipment brings the total for the present rise to 11,000,000 bushels.

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Thousands View the Remains of Senator Davis at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 1.—For five hours yesterday a steady stream of people of all ages and conditions slowly filed through the governor's rooms in the state capitol to take a last look on the silent and lifeless body in which for 62 years had been housed the indomitable spirit and clear brain of Cushman Kellogg Davis, former governor and for 13 years a leader in the senate of the United States. The occasion was an impressive one, and every one in the long line seemed to realize the loss that had come to the state of Minnesota and the nation. Nearly 20,000 persons passed the silent form, paying their last tribute of respect with a look of regret and in some cases with a sob as if for a personal loss. Not alone the people of his home city, but from all parts of the state, came citizens of all creeds and politics, of all colors and conditions in life, to show their esteem for the honored dead. At an early hour the military and police escort marched to the Davis residence on Farrington avenue. The military escort consisted of Company D, First Minnesota national guard, Captain M. L. Merrill commanding, most of whom were veterans of the Philippine campaign as members of the Thirteenth Minnesota volunteers, and a detachment of Battery A, Minnnesota national guard, under Lieutenant Allen, who acted as body bearers.

Leaving the house, the procession, headed by a detachment of police, marched slowly to the capitol. Between lines of citizens the casket was carried to a catafalque in the governor's south chamber. The main corridor of the building was draped with crape. In the center of the chamber lay the body underneath a chandelier hung with crape and smilax. Broad bands of crape stretched from the corners and walls of the room to the chandelier in the center. Similar drapings were hung over each of the broad doors. Smilax and ferns and potted plants occupied the corners of the room and were banked in the windows.

The catafalque was draped with the national colors, and the casket was surrounded with floral tributes. At its head rested an oil portrait of the dead statesman, at its foot the sword he carried through the civil war.

A double line of guards was formed about the bier, and all classes of society were in the crowds which passed in a continuous line for hours, paying their last tribute to the dead.

At 3 o'clock the line of people seemed to be without end, and it was found necessary to close the doors, turning thousands away. The coffin was then again carried to the hearse by the stalwart artillerymen and the same simple escort proceeded back to the statesman's late home, where the bereaved wife and the stricken parents awaited in sorrow for their dead.

Kidnaped Girl Safe.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Marguerita Kelly, the 13-year-old girl who was reported as having been kidnaped near Wilkesbarre, Pa., has arrived here and tells a thrilling tale

VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:—

Next Tuesday you are to be called on to decide as to whether you wish to continue the Republican Party in power, or desire a change of administration. The principal offices to be filled are those of Mayor, Collector, School Trustee, and one member of the Common Council from each ward.

Our friends, the enemy, are conducting an unusually vigorous campaign, and are striving to the uttermost to defeat the regular Republican ticket. And, strange to say, the dyed-in-the-wool Democracy is being aided as never before, by certain Republicans, especially in the Third ward, who have dictated the nominntion of a most estimable gentleman for the office of Mayor on the Democratic ticket, and who are working night and day to elect him.

One would naturally suppose that these same Republican gentlemen must be inspired by some powerful reason to thus forsake the party which has not only served them well, but has honored them in the past by electing them to the most important local offices. But not a word is heard in condemnation of the present administration; not a single issue is raised by those who, after ungraciously withdrawing from the party councils, are striving with might and main to induce others to do likewise. Only one gentleman from the Third ward, and he a Democrat, has presumed to say a word in defense of the present effort to oust the Republican party from power. And what is his defense? He wants to "REJUVENATE DEMOCRACY!" To rejuvenate Democracy! think of it, voters of Plainfield! You are asked to place the stamp of your approval on the strenuous efforts now being made to betray the Republican party into the hands of a REJUVENATED DEMOCRACY!

If the Democratic party could claim credit for a single one of the many improvements which have gone to make Plainfield the up-to-date city that it is, some reason might attach to its efforts to wriggle back into power under a new name, but it can't. The Plainfield Democracy is but a miniature of its National prototype. It has never existed but to carp at and wantonly belittle the onward march of its rival. It is a destructive and not a constructive party, and whenever entrusted with the reins of government, has proven its thorough incapability and unfitness in dazzling style. Voters, are you going to place such a party in power here in Plainfield?

What has the Republican party done that you should desire to displace it?

Were Plainfield's streets ever in better condition than at present? Is the recognized claim that our city has the best Fire Department of its size in the State to count for naught with you? Isn't the remarkable absence of crime, riot and disorder in Plainfield a tribute to the efficiency of the Police Department?

Gentlemen of Plainfield, whatever of virtue there is in our civic government is due to the Republican Party, and to it alone.

The Democratic circular says: "The sewerage system of the city must be attended to; a new high school is projected; the business streets must be repaved; and the contract with the Water Company will come up for renewal," and urge these as the several reasons why the Democratic party should receive the vote of every loyal citizen.

With reference to the matters of the sewerage system and the Water contract, the Republican Party is confident that its candidates for the Common Council, namely: Mr. Tolles, Mr. Mellick, Mr. Coriell and Mr. Randolph, are quite as well trained in business, as experienced in matters of this sort and as capable of dealing with them as are Messrs. Lloyd, Lyman, Hillman and St. John, and that these matters will receive due and diligent attention at the proper time on the part of the Republican candidates and their colleagues in the Council cannot be doubted.

If the business streets are to be repaved it does not argue well for an economical Democratic administration, inasmuch as the present pavement thereon has hardly been finished.

And inasmuch as the Democrats graciously endorse Mr. Abbott's candidacy for School Trustee, after having tried in vain to find somebody to pit against him, we may assume that the question of the new high school is no matter for serious concern, even on the part of those cultured and broad-minded gentlemen who compose the "Rejuvenated Democracy."

The Republican-Democrats are bending all their efforts to elect the Democratic candidate for Mayor and profess they have no desire to defeat the rest of the Rupublican ticket. This would certainly seem to the general public to indicate that while the other nominees on the ticket were all right, the Republicans had made a serious mistake in choosing a candidate for Mayor. But is this the case? Empatically, No! Voters, whether you know him personally or not, you certainly know who Dr. Jenkins, the Republican candidate, is.

He combines all those elements which, if you shall place him in office, will enable him to give our city a thoroughly capable and business-like administration. He is a man of wide experience and culture. He is a man of the every-day people. He is a man who has had to fight every step of his way in life unaided and who has gained the esteem and respect of all who know him, simply by reason of his true sterling worth. His business is in Plainfield. He is a progressive man, and a man of broad views. He is a man who thinks and acts for himself and who, while open to argument, will act in all matters as his own best judgment shall dictate.

Voters of Plainfield, you can do no better than to elect Dr. Jenkins as your Mayor. See to it that he is elected and that his majority is large enough to effectually silence those who, without reason, have chosen to stigmatize him and are frantically working to place in power the so-called "REJUVENATED DEMOCRACY."

Remember also, voters of Plainfield, that Mr. Smith, the Republican candidate for Collector, has proved to all, during his present incumbency of that office, that he is thoroughly competent to discharge its duties, and remember also that his opponent was a member of the "Big Six," that noble body of statesmen who came nearer to Tammanyizing Plainfield than any body of men before or since their time. There should be no doubt in your minds as to which man is better qualified to occupy that office.

WORDS OF PRAISE FOR MASON W. TYLER

Communication From George A. Chapman Concerning the Municipal Election.

HE GIVES HIS REASONS.

EXPLAINS WHY HE THINKS COLONEL TYLER SHOULD BE ELECTED.

Mr. Chapman Thinks Professional Duties of a Physician Are Too Exacting to Allow Him to Perform Duties of Mayor Well.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Will you kindly grant me a little space in your valuable paper for the insertion of a word or two regarding the two candidates for Mayor of Plainfield, which are to be presented for our choice at the election tomorrow? I think I have never had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Jenkins, but I am glad to assume that he is a gentleman of unimpeachable character. But is it wise to call a man to assume the office of Mayor who is a physician without a partner? A business man can allot certain definite hours each day to be devoted to the performance of his official duties, but a physician's time is not his own, nor day, nor night. A patient's call for his physician is imperative, it admits of no delay. A Mayor who was a physician might be engaged in council upon matters ever so important to the interests of the city, but if he received a call from a patient he would be obliged to leave at once. I cannot conceive of a man being able to perform the duties of the Mayor thoroughly well who follows a profession so exacting as that of a physician.

It has been my privilege to know Colonel Mason W. Tyler for nearly a quarter of a century; but where is there a man in all Plainfield who does not know and esteem that gentleman? Mr. Tyler has lived in Plainfield for nearly thirty years, I believe, and during all of that time he has ever been foremost in promoting the best interests of our city. I venture the assertion, that never was an appeal made to him in the interest of a good object, that he did not respond with a word of encouragement from his lips, and a liberal donation from his purse. Mr. Tyler has served in the Common Council, and is thoroughly conversant with the needs of our city. Being practically out of business, he has ample leisure to devote to any other purpose. No man can come in contact with him without discovering that, back of that quiet, unostentatious manner, there lies a reserve force which marks him a man of unusual ability. That this is true is demonstrated also by the fact that he has made a grand success of his life in every way. The position of Mayor of Plainfield can bring to Mr. Tyler no honor higher than those which already crown him. But if he is willing to assume the duties of this position he will, in my judgment, bring to the office added dignity. He will bring to the service of our city also, the benefit of his mature judgment, gained by long years of experience in administering affairs of large importance. Some of my Republican friends decline to vote for Mr. Tyler because his name is not on the Republican ticket. I would remind these gentlemen that when some of them were in their cradles possibly, Colonel Tyler went forth to the front, and was fighting for the establishment and maintenance of those lofty purposes and principles, of which the Republican party was the exponent at that time. If it were not for the action of such men as Colonel Tyler at that critical period, the Republican party would not be in existence.

I shall esteem it a privilege, as well as my highest duty to cast my ballot tomorrow in favor of the election of this eminent citizen to the chief magistracy of this, the city of my home, the city where all that I hold dearest and best is located.

Geo. A Chapman.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Mail Train Plunged Into Coal Train Near Easton on Jersey Central This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Easton, Pa., Dec. 3.—Two men, the crew of the locomotive to the east bound New York mail, No. 2, on the Jersey Central Railroad, were killed in a wreck which took place at Springtown, a few miles east of this city, at 6 o'clock this morning. The mail train struck an open switch and plunged into the rear of a coal train which was waiting on a siding.

The engine was completely wrecked and the engineer and fireman buried beneath it. A "blind" coach, following the engine was wrecked as were four freight cars and the caboose. Both tracks were blocked until noon.

The mail train is the one reaching Plainfield at 8:02 and William Miller, the engineer, was well known in Plainfield and along the line.

PROMINENT NEWSPAPER MAN DEAD.

Thomas T. Kinney, Formerly Owner of Newark Advertiser, Died in Newark.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, Dec 3—Thomas T. Kinney, aged 80 years, son of the late William B. Kinney, who was the founder of the Newark Daily Advertiser, died yesterday morning at his residence on Broad street. After his father's death he continued the management of the Advertiser until six years ago. He was a delegate to the Republican convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln in 1860. He held many prominent offices and was one of the oldest and best known publishers in this State. He was a personal friend of George W. Childs and Charles A. Dana.

Said He Came From Plainfield.

A young man, who gave the name of Nelson M. Doty and said he lived in Plainfield, was arrested in Newark yesterday, charged with swindling Herman Gould, a clothier, of that city by offering a forged check in payment for a $15 coat. The man was accompanied by a stylishly dressed woman. The name of Nelson M. Doty does not appear in the directory of this city.

Transferred to Another Place.

Theodore Roeder, for many years agent at the Union News Company stand at the North Avenue station, has been transferred to another place, and his position has been filled by the appointment of Alfred Lacey, of Jersey City. Mr. Lacey his mother and two sisters will take up their residence in Plainfield this week.

After Crap Shooters.

The borough marshals were kept busy yesterday afternoon chasing a gang of boys that gathered at a point back of the Cadmus property near Grant avenue. Boys are said to gather Sundays at this point to shoot crap. No arrests were made.

Played Off Tie.

At the Hillside Golf Grounds Saturday Mrs. N. P. Rogers and N. P. Rogers, Jr., played off the tie game of Thanksgiving with Miss Grace Kaufman and J. Whitney Baker. The former team won by a score of 101.

OLD HENRY MELICK WAS QUITE WEALTHY

Inventory of Melick Estate Completed and Shows Nearly $60,000 of Property.

FILED WITH SURROGATE.

JOHN C MORRIS, THE ADMINISTRATOR APPOINTED AFTER CONTEST.

Inventory Shows Real Estate Valued at $51,844.90—Then There Are Notes, Personal Property and Farm Utensils.

All sorts of strange stories were told about the great wealth of Henry C. Melick, the aged farmer, who lived alone in the Melick homestead, on Woodland avenue, near Avon Park. Then he died and three score relatives appeared to claim the fortune which was supposed to have been left behind. The inventory of the estate has now been completed by the administrator, John C. Morris, and the appraisers, Reune B. Manning, of South Plainfield, and William Fitz Randolph. This inventory was filed at the office of the Surrogate of Middlesex county at New Brunswick last week.

It will be remembered that there was an exciting legal controversy over the appointment of the administrator, Application was made to the Orphan's court of Union county for the appointment of an administrator, certain heirs claiming that Melick died in this county. Other heirs applied to the Middlesex county Orphan's court for the same thing. It was finally decided that the case did not come under the jurisdiction of the Union county court as Melick died in Piscataway township which is part of Middlesex county.

The total amount of the real estate as set forth in this inventory is $51,844 90. This is made up very largely of mortgages held by him for various amounts ranging from $200 up to $6 000 upon some of which several hundred dollars worth of interest is due. The total amount of these mortgages is $45,193.80 including the interest.

Then there are several notes, twelve in number, amounting to $1 857 or $2,083.34 with the interest. In addition to this the personal estate consists of a check for $390.34 drawn on the City National Bank of Plainfield, a balance of $776 25 in the First National bank of Plainfield, cash to the amount of $245 and Rahway adjustment bonds worth $271.27. The household goods and farming utensils are inventoried at $179.50 and the stock and produce at $364.50.

To this of course is to be added the real estate, which is thought to be worth several thousand dollars, consisting as it does of some good farm land.

Important Day at Trinity Church.

Yesterday morning at the communion service in Trinity Reformed church twelve persons united with that church, ten of the number being young ladies, members of the Sunday-school. Two persons also united by letter from other churches. There was a large congregation present to witness the happy event and welcome the new members.

Ryan's Body Taken to Milburn.

The body of James Ryan, who was killed at Lincoln Friday, was taken to his former home in Milburn Saturday by Undertaker George W. Cole. The latter was also in charge of the funeral which was held yesterday from St. Theresa's church, of that place. Rev. Father Daniel McCarthy officiated. Ryan was very popular at Milburn.

Good Business Property.

Ira L. LaRue, real estate dealer, has purchased, for an investment, the two brick buildings on North avenue, one occupied by the U. S. Express Company and the other by Stephenson's confectionery. He will make some decided improvements to the express company's building, adjoining the railroad.

Important Meeting Tonight.

An important meeting of the Plainfield Association Football Club will be held in the Waldorf Hotel this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urgently requested to be present as matters pertaining to the club's condition and prospects will be discussed.

Another Plainfield Preacher.

W. D. Williams, of 308 West Fifth street, has been appointed minister of the Hicksite Society of Friends, whose meeting-house is on Watchung avenue.

One Baptized.

The rite of baptism was administered to one candidate at the Park Avenue Baptist church at the close of the services last evening.

FALL FROM WHEEL RESULTED FATALLY.

Former Captain of Police Geo. W. Grant Died This Morning as a Result of Accident OCCURRED ON SATURDAY.

OVERCOME BY VERTIGO WHILE RIDING HIS BICYCLE ON VALLEY ROAD.

Struck on His Right Temple and Fractured His Skull—Never Regained Consciousness—Was a Faithful Officer for More Than Twenty-four Years.

George W. Grant, former Captain of Police, died early this morning as a result of injuries sustained Saturday afternoon by a fall from his wheel. The accident to Officer Grant happened on the Washington valley road about three and a half miles from this city at a point a few rods west of the plant of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company.

Captain Grant took great pleasure in riding his wheel into the country. On Saturday he had gone to visit the Pedifious' mushroom farm in the valley. At Pedifious he met S. W. Workman, of Iselin, who is also interested in the raising of that delicacy. About 4 o'clock, Mr. Workman induced Captain Grant to ride back to town. The Captain reluctantly accepted the invitation. He placed the wheel in the buggy and the men started for this city. But they rode together only a short distance.

Captain Grant, feeling that it was too much to have himself and wheel in the buggy, asked that he be allowed to ride his wheel. He started on ahead and had gone but a short distance when he was seen to fall with his wheel. Mr. Workman hastened to his side and was surprised to find that his companion of but a few moments before was lying unconscious beside his wheel. His eyes were closed and blood was flowing from a severe cut on his head. His hands were still firmly grasping the handle bars of his wheel. Realizing that Captain Grant was seriously injured, Mr. Workman attempted to lift him into his buggy. It was not, however, until John C. Cooper, a brother of Assemblyman E. E. Cooper, of Warrenville, came along that the injured man could be lifted into Mr. Cooper's wagon, by which means he was brought to police headquarters in this city.

Chief Kieley at once summoned the ambulance and the injured man was conveyed to his home at 203 West Fifth street. Previous to being taken home Dr. Probasco made a superficial examination of the caption's injuries.

The best medical skill obtainable in the persons of Drs. Probasco, Murray and Ard were called in consultation. It was finally decided that an operation was necessary, though the surgeons could not offer any hopes of saving the unfortunate man's life. The operation was performed yesterday afternoon. It was then discovered that there were two fractures of the skull and that other injuries had been sustained. Their patient never regained consciousness. He died at 1 o'clock this morning.

The physicians are of the opinion that Captain Grant had a slight stroke of apoplexy and that the fall from his wheel was brought about by an attack of vertigo. It is not believed that the fall was caused by striking a stone in the roadway.

Captain Grant was sixty-five years of age. He was formerly a gardener. For nearly twenty-five years he had been attached to the police department of this city, being first appointed a special in February, 1876. At that time the late Dr. John C. Sutphen was Mayor and Philip Breen Captain of Police. Nelson Runyon was City Clerk and Peter P. Good City Judge. Some years later Officer Grant was appointed Captain of Police, holding that position until last spring, when he resigned, and was succeeded by Patrick Kiely. The excellent police record of Captain Grant, however, was the means of his being given an easy berth and he was assigned to do duty as doorman. Of late he had been on night duty.

The deceased is survived by his wife and four children, George W., Sadie, Della, and Mrs. Louis Miller. Miss Sadie Grant lives in Cleveland, O, being identified with the Chautauqua Literary Circle with headquarters in that city. The son is an employe of Scott's Printing Press Works.

Miss Sadie Grant, who is the eldest child, reached her home in this city about 8 o'clock.

Officer Grant was a charter member of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men. His family attended the

SOMETHING ABOUT DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

Short Sketch of the Career of of Democratic Candidate for the Mayoralty.

FOUGHT IN THE CIVIL WAR

HE HAS SERVED IN MANY PUBLIC OFFICES IN PLAINFIELD.

Is Now a Prominent Lawyer in New York—Graduated From Amherst College and Subsequently From Columbia Law School.

While the Republicans are doing their best to defeat Col. Mason W. Tyler for Mayor, neither Republicans nor Democrats have anything but the highest regard for the man himself. Col. Tyler is widely known in Plainfield where he has been identified with many of its interests, and he has a very large circle of friends among those in all stations of life. He has not been closely allied to either of the great political parties in the past, but has rather taken an independent position.

He was born June 17, 1840, in Amherst, Massachusetts, and educated at Amherst Academy, Williston Seminary and Amherst College. On the day after his graduation from college in June, 1862, he enlisted as a private in the Union Army of the Civil War and served with distinction in different Massachusetts regiments through that momentous struggle which resulted in the firm establishment of the unity of the Republic and the enfranchisement of the colored race. Rising through successive promotions he became Second Lieutenant August 1, 1862; First Lieutenant August 13, 1862; Captain January 17, 1863; Brevet Major September 19, 1864; Major March 4, 1865; Lieutenant Colonel May 19, 1865; Colonel, June 26, 1865, and, the war being then substantially over, was mustered out July 2, 1865. He took part in thirty-four battles and engagements, and was three times wounded.

His country's needs now leaving him leisure and opportunity to resume his own battle of life, and, without fortune or the assistance of the others, to carve out his own career, he chose the profession of the law, and, after a course of study in the Columbia College Law School, he began the practice of law in New York City, which he still continues. Since 1871 he has resided in Plainfield and been active in all the good works of the city. He is a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, Grand Army of the Republic, and of the Loyal Legion; has served as a director and is now president of the board of directors of the Public Library, and has served also as a governor of Muhlenberg Hospital, as a member of the Common Council, as school trustee and as an officer of various charitable organizations formed to aid the poor.

Col. Tyler's strong character, integrity and ability is well known. The Daily Press had already given a statement from Dr. Jenkins concerning his acts, should he be elected. A similar statement over Col. Tyler's signature, will be found in another column.

Grim Reaper Stepped His Trip.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 3.—Nathaniel R. Day, a retired nurseryman, and father of Charles Day, the well-known musical director of Cranford, died at his home on Central avenue, in this town, last Thursday evening after an illness of one day. Mr. Day was 74 years of age, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the town. The funeral services were held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock from his late residence. Mr. Day was in the habit of spending his winters in the south and had packed his trunk and gotten everything in shape to leave Westfield Saturday.

Thanks for Hospital's Friends.

The Woman's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital, desire through "The Daily Press," to thank the many friends of the Hospital, who so generously responded to their appeal, thereby making the "Harvest Home" a great success. Also to express their appreciation to the United States Express Company for giving so liberally of its service free of charge.

Woods on Fire.

Patrolman Lunger notified the fire department last evening that the woods in the rear of E. T. Barrow's residence on West Eighth street were on fire. Chief Doane and Assistant Chief Murray repaired to the scene where they were assisted by Roundsman Mattox and Patrolman Lunger in soon extinguishing the flames.

PLAINFIELD WON.

Exciting Game of Association Football Played on Clinton Avenue Grounds Saturday.

A crowd of two hundred enthusiasts gathered on the Clinton avenue grounds Saturday afternoon to witness the game of Association football between the Plainfield Association team and the Unions, of Kearney N. J. The game was a closely contested one from start to finish, and by clever work the home team won by the score of 4 to 2.

The two teams were evenly matched and there was very little advantage on either side. The visiting team was inclined to be scrappy and several times it looked as though they might give up the game. Robert Gow was referee and his decisions were given impartiality and fairness. At the start the home team won the toss and they chose the westward goal. This was to their advantage as the wind was in that direction.

The Plainfield eleven showed up remarkably well considering the little practice they have had and they showed themselves worthy of a stronger team. They played in unison and supported each other in good style. The majority of the crowd was with the home team.

The two teams lined up as follows: Plainfield—Goal, Dodd; backs, Nicholson, Turner; half-backs, Neil, Heal, Hendry, Darrach; forwards, Campbell, Stansfield, McNeil, F. Wharton, Cowley. Unions—Goal, Ryan; backs, Mohan, Skelley; half-backs, Bowley, J. Bowley, C. Brown; forwards, Kettles, Smith, Young, Dukes, Crook.

CORNER STONE LAID.

Rev. Dr. Whitney Laid Corner Stone for New Institution at Hackettstown.

The corner stone of the Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, N. J., was laid Saturday. The trustees of the institute conferred upon Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, of Plainfield, President Ernesitus, the honor of laying the stone and delivering the address of the occasion. An address was also made by Hon. Geo. J. Ferry, of New York, president of the Board of Trustees. The walls of the four large buildings are all up several feet above ground. $170,000 are already raised, and hopeful efforts are being made to obtain $70,000 more needed.

Pupils Thanked.

Will you kindly allow me space in your paper to thank most cordially the pupils of the North Plainfield public schools for their generous and valuable Thanksgiving donations? Also to thank the many friends whose varried gifts added to the cheer of the children.

COL. TYLER'S PLATFORM OUTLINED BY HIMSELF

Communication From Democratic Candidate Stating His Position in Charter Election.

WHY HE HAS ACCEPTED.

BELIEVES THAT CITY AFFAIRS SHOULD BE NONPARTIZAN.

Declares That He Will Administer the Office Without Reference to Party and According to His Ideas of City's Best Interest.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—At the request of some citizens of different party relations, I have accepted the nomination of the Democratic party in the city of Plainfield for the office of Mayor. To prevent any misunderstanding as to my position, and in order that no man may be misled in voting for or against me, I take the liberty of addressing the citizens in this public way on the eve of the election. A personal affliction has prevented me from giving earlier attention to this matter.

First. In principle I am a thorough independent; that is, I believe in voting for the best candidate, taking into consideration all the circumstances of each case, and irrespective of party. In this way only do I believe the parties can be compelled to nominate their best men under the penalty of having their candidates defeated by the independent vote if inferior men are nominated.

Second, I believe national party lines should not dominate in city elections. The weak spots in popular government today in the United States are our cities and the cause of that weakness is the inability thus far to prevent parties organized to control the nation and the state, which are purely political corporations, from meddling with the management of cities, which are business corporations. No more conspicuous instances can be cited than Greater New York today under Tammany rule. The nation and the state have to do with foreign relations, with commerce, with the administration of justice, and things of that broad character; the cities have to do with questions of purely local interest. It is absurb to attempt to make the lines that divide voters upon national and state issues applicable when those same voters divide upon city issues. The result is disastrous to the cities, and all over our land are raised monuments of corruption and extravagance and misgovernment that are a reproach to popular government and a disgrace to free institutions.

Being therefore such an independent in politics, and radically independent in my views about the relations of National and State party organizations to city politics, I can ask no man to vote for me as a Democrat or as a Republican. I tell you plainly that if I am elected to the office of Mayor I will administer the office without reference to party and solely as I conceive will be for the best interests of the city, and I want no man to vote for me who does not believe that it is for the best interests of the city of Plainfield without regard to so-called party ties and obligations that I should be elected.

I have no desire for the office or any other office on my own account, but if my fellow citizens honor me with an election to the chief magistracy of the city I will try to the best of my ability and with such light and assistance as I am able to command fairly, honestly and intelligently to do my duty.

Mason W. Tyler.

Circular Denounced.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I want to call the attention of your readers to a circular which is being sent to voters especially in the Third ward. It is signed by the "Democratic Citizens' Committee" and is opposed to Col. Tyler. There is no such committee. The circular is a lie and a fraud; it does not emanate either from Democrats or from decent Republicans. It is a dirty trick of disreputable scamps and deserves no attention but contempt.

Albert H. Atterbury.

Young VanSickle Held Up.

J. W. VanSickle and his three children, of East Third street, attended a family reunion at Metuchen yesterday and they spent a delightful day. The oldest boy, Clarence, returned about half way home on his wheel, when he was held up by three men. The boy was a little too quick for the highwaymen, and retreated to Metuchen. Later he telephoned to Plainfield, and his father, who had returned home, accompanied by Dr. Pocock, went to Metuchen and brought the lad back with them.

H-O

It was in Bonny Scotland
Of which the poets sing,
The clansmen met, with native pride
To dance the Highland Fling.

And one had dropped exhausted
Before the plaided clan,
One still was fresh in wind and flesh
And judged the better man.

And he continued dancing
Until they begged to know,
Whence came the vim, that dwelt in him
And he replied, "H-O."

And when they comprehended—
These rainbow-kilted lads—
Began to grow—upon H-O,
And worked it in their plaids.

At first the Scotch were skeptical about H-O because it lacked the bitter flavor characteristic of ordinary oatmeal.
In H-O (Hornby's Steam Cooked Oatmeal) the bitter, indigestible fibre is entirely removed.
No stomach is too weak to digest H-O, no appetite too capricious to enjoy it.

CITY CHURCH CANVASS.

WILL BE STARTED BY MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION THIS WEEK.

Open Letter From Committee Explaining the Workings of the Canvass and Its Objects.

An open letter from the Ministers' Association and Federation of Churches and Christian Workers to all the pastors and people of Plainfield.

Dear Friends,—In the business world results are greatly multiplied by the combination of forces, and we may confidently expect larger results in moral and spiritual things through the increased co-operation of Christians and churches for religious and social progress, and through a more practical manifestation of that unity for which our Lord prayed.

And in order to promote such co-operative effort in Plainfield and vicinity, by house-to-house visitation and by other ways and means that may be devised, the Ministers' Association has enlarged its organization by the appointment of an executive committee, a general secretary and six district secretaries—one for each city, ward and borough district.

These officers have been planning for a systematic house-to-house visitation of the city and borough by voluntary workers, for the purpose of gathering statistical and other information, needed both for more efficient church work, and for federated Christian effort.

The information sought is only what anyone would be willing to give; and this will be reported through the general secretary, to the appropriate pastors and churches; thus opening the way for more helpful ministration to the material, moral and spiritual wants of every family and person in an assigned area.

It is sometimes said that churches fail to go out among the people and to their homes, with practical sympathy and help; a chief object of this movement is to bring the church of Plainfield—that is, the Christians and churches of Plainfield in federal union—into the closest and wisest possible fellowship with every person and family here, for purpose of greater mutual acquaintance, sympathy, and helpfulness. And we invite the co-operation of every man and woman who approves our object.

As the result of the house-to-house visitation in other cities, hundreds of families, before unknown, have been brought within the reach of the influence of pastors and churches; in one city, some eight hundred persons were added to the number of those who were regularly studying the Bible; and knowledge thus gained has guided helpful friends to the poor and needy.

The pastor of a leading church in Providence, R. I., said to his congregation, just before one of these religious canvasses: "There may be no great need of this house-to-house visitation among you; but, for the sake of the common good, I hope you will all fall cordially into line with the plan, and help forward the work of the visitors."

In the wish and design of its promoters, this movement is not temporary; but we look for continued and united efforts for the spread of temperance, purity, peace and prosperity. And in spite of probable mistakes in the beginning, we hope to find our way, step by step, to wiser methods and larger results.

The house-to-house visitation is to commence this week; and we earnestly request every pastor in the city and borough to explain the nature and purpose of the proposed canvass to his congregation.

Yours fraternally,
W. R. Richards,
E. M. Rodman,
Arthur E. Main,
Committee.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. B. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." Right of Property Determined.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 3.—An interesting case was tried at the court house before Squire Kitchen and a jury. Enoch Howlett had sued John H. Snyder and obtained judgment and levied on goods supposed to belong to Snyder. Howard R. and David R. Snyder, son and brother of John H., claimed to own the goods and the suit was brought to determine right of property. Ex-Judge W. W. Cutler, of Morristown, assisted by Hon. James J. Bergen, represented the Snyders, and ex-Mayor Quayle, of Morristown, assisted by Hon. Alvah A. Clark, was attorney for Howlett. The jury decided that David R. Snyder had proved his right of property, but that Howard R. had not.

—Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will hold a regular conclave this evening.

—The Mayor and Borough Council will meet in regular session Friday night to take up several matters of importance.

RICH ALASKA MINES.

Discovery of Gold Ore Yielding $24,000 Per Ton.

COPPER VEINS OF GREAT VALUE.

Excellent Reports Come From Juneau and Cook Inlet, as Well as Other Districts—Supplies Seem Inexhaustible.

TACOMA, Dec. 3.—Excellent mining reports continue to come from Alaska. The richest quartz ledge ever found in the Atlin district has been uncovered on the Gleaner group, on Taku Arm. David von Cramer has reached Skaguay with samples of the ore in which free gold is very plentiful. He says the ledge is 18 feet wide and that it contains a streak of wonderfully rich ore. Two and one-half ounces from this streak were pounded in a mortar, yielding nearly $1.50 in gold. The owners declare that half a ton of picked ore will yield over $12,000.

A. G. Preston of White Horse brings news that the number of men at work in the copper mines has been doubled since the completion of the railroad to White Horse. The ore of the district is very rich, and there seems to be no end to it. The belt so far discovered is about 14 miles long by two miles wide, and equally rich ore is found in all parts of the belt. The assays run as high as 72 per cent copper, $20 in gold and 14 to 15 ounces in silver. Several mines, including the Copper King and War Eagle, will ship ore this winter, sending it by sleds to the railroad.

The official report of the Treadwell mine at Juneau for the year ended May 31 shows that during the year 557,960 tons of ore were mined, and bullion was sold to the amount of $1,153,368, or an average on the ore crushed of $2,067 per ton. The year's working profit was $673,901, and four dividends were paid amounting to $300,000, or 6 per cent upon the capital stock. The average expense was a trifle more than 36 cents per ton, leaving a net working profit of $1.20 per ton. The ore now in sight is estimated at over 4,000,000 tons.

A letter from Cook Inlet states that the richest placers known in that district were found last month. Jack Sutton took from his Canyon creek claim gravel giving $40 per pan. Two men working a claim on Lynx creek cut through a bar averaging $20 per day per man. In two weeks they took out about $1,500 worth of gold. These strikes have caused great excitement. Two weeks ago mining operations in the district were suspended for the winter. A rich strike has been made on the Monte Carlo, Index district, Wash. At a depth of 320 feet the tunnel encountered a vein of gray copper yielding values of nearly $100 per ton in gold and silver.

Serious Railway Wreck.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 3.—A terrible wreck, in which a score of persons were killed and about 60 hurt, occurred on the Mexican Central railway on Thursday afternoon between Tamanacha and Symon, 50 miles south of Jumilico. The first news of the disaster reached here yesterday. Edward Rische, a citizen of San Antonio, was at the scene 20 minutes after the engines crashed together. The place where the wreck occurred is in a valley at the foot of two immense hills. At the time both trains were running 30 miles an hour. One of the trains had on board a construction crew numbering 150 men. The other was a freight train of 52 empty cars. Three engines and about 40 cars were piled up 30 feet high. Two American train employees were forced to flee to avoid being lynched. The names of the killed and injured are not obtainable. This is said to be the most serious wreck that has ever occurred in Mexico.

A Possible Murder.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 3.—The body of George Annis of this city, who, it was reported, committed suicide by jumping into the canal in Syracuse last Thursday, was brought to Jamestown and an autopsy conducted. It showed conclusively that the young man was suffering from a deranged condition of the mental faculties and that this condition resulted from a recent blow on the head. The scalp was bruised, and a clot of blood had formed between the scalp and skull. Under the skull at this point the brain was congested, and blood clots had formed. Indications were that the injury was of very recent origin, more than 48 hours before death. The physicians say the injury was caused by a sandbag or something of that nature. Annis had evidently been robbed. A valuable ring had been torn from the finger, and a large amount of money which Annis should have had in his possession was missing.

Railroad Men Meet.

SUNBURY, Pa., Dec. 3.—The railroad brotherhoods of central Pennsylvania held a large union meeting in this city yesterday. Twelve hundred delegates were here from Harrisburg, Wilkesbarre, Pottsville and other points. A secret session of two hours was held in the morning, but the nature of the proceedings would not be divulged. It was learned, however, that the bulk of the time was consumed in discussing what action should be taken against the Reading Railroad company since the United States district grand jury refused to hold ex-Superintendent Sweigard responsible for the alleged discharging of men because they were affiliated with labor unions.

Result of a Drunk.

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 3.—At 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning four drunken men quarreled. One of them, named Dewandlear, was knocked through a store window. The broken glass severed veins in his hand, and he nearly bled to death. Dewandlear started home, lost his way, wandered around town and left a trail of blood on the sidewalks for half a mile.

The Czar Gaining.

LIVADIA, European Russia, Dec. 3.—The following bulletin regarding the condition of Emperor Nicholas was issued: "The czar passed a very good day and slept very well. His majesty's condition is very satisfactory. His appetite is returning and his strength gradually increasing. Yesterday morning his temperature was 97 and his pulse 72."

Turko-German Trouble Settled.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 3.—The Turko-German difficulty regading a coaling station in the Red sea has been settled, Germany intimating that she only wants a station during the Chinese crisis.

CONGRESS IN SESSION.

Actual Business of the Short Session Begins Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Both houses of congress assembled at noon today. No business was transacted. In the senate the announcement was made of the death during recess of Senators Gear and Davis and in the house the death of Representatives Daly of New Jersey and Huffecker of Delaware. Both bodies then adjourned out of respect for the deceased members.

The leaders of the house are preparing to press with great vigor the important business of the short session of congress. Already considerable preliminary committee work has been done on the important measures—the bill for the reduction of the war revenue taxes, the army reorganization bill, river and harbor bill and several of the appropriation bills—and the legislative mill will start under a full head of steam.

The army reorganization bill is considered particularly urgent owing to the possibility of its meeting strenuous opposition after it reaches the senate, and it is the intention of the leaders to get it out of the way at the earliest possible moment. It will be reported probably tomorrow and will be taken up at once unless after further consultation it is decided to let the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which also will be ready, in ahead of it. The Democrats will caucus on the army bill today, and the indications now are that they will offer as a substitute for the permanent reorganization measure a bill extending for two or three years the present law for a provisional army. The bill to reduce the war revenue taxes has been practically completed by the Republican members of the ways and means committee.

In the senate Mr. Frye expects to get up the shipping subsidy bill tomorrow, and if not on that day then on Wednesday, and in doing this to have the Spooner Philippine bill displaced. This will be the beginning of the important work of the session and upon the success or failure of the scheme may depend much of the future course of proceedings for the entire session.

The overflow of the Tiber flooded the lower portions of the city of Rome.

At the close of the moose season in Maine the number killed was reported at 140.

Lieutenant Hobson, U. S. N., is in a New York hospital, threatened with typhoid fever.

The annual cost to Greater New York of the city's police department was estimated at $11,162,328.

The American Transvaal league has issued an invitation to ex-President Kruger to visit this country.

The steamer St. Marc, trading between Naples and Marseilles, has been wrecked, and 45 of her passengers and a part of her crew have been lost.

Indian Marauders Shot.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The killing of three Indians in a fight in Mexico has been reported to the Indian bureau by Captain Michaelson, in charge of the San Carlos Indian agency in Arizona. He says that Mr. Woodruff of Salt Lake City, one of the Mormon church leaders, has come to San Carlos and reported to him the particulars of recent Indian troubles in Mexico near the Casa Grande. Mr. Woodruff says that on the night of Nov. 10 a band of six Indians, three men and three women, a remnant of the Nashualt-Pi-E band of the Chiricahuas who did not surrender with Geronimo, and who have been marauding the outlying Mormon settlements in Mexico for several years, raided a Mormon ranch and packed off a lot of plunder. Two men took up the trail the next day and came on the Indians in a deep canyon, and in the fight that ensued one Indian and two squaws were killed, the rest escaping to the mountains with the stolen stock. Woodruff and three other men joined the pursuers next day, but did nothing more than to bury the dead Indians.

Returned From China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Brigadier General James H. Wilson, who has arrived here from China on the transport Thomas, will leave for Washington tomorrow to report to the war department. General Wilson is accompanied by Lieutenant G. S. Turner of the Tenth infantry, who was one of the two American military attaches who accompanied the Paoting-fu expedition. Lieutenant Turner says the expedition had a good moral effect.

American Labor Federation.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 3.—The twentieth annual conference of the American Federation of Labor, which will convene in this city on Thursday, Dec. 6, will bring together some of the leading labor men of the world. Delegates from England have already arrived. Every state in the Union which has organized labor will send delegates, and it is expected that between 250 and 300 members will be in attendance.

Editor McBride Given Damages.

MITCHELL, S. D., Dec. 3.—The jury in the case of Editor McBride, who sued 40 citizens of this place for $26,000 damages for the destruction of his newspaper plant nearly five years ago, returned a verdict awarding McBride $700 damages. The newspaper plant was destroyed by citizens who were offended by articles alleged to have appeared in the publication.

Three Hundred Chinamen Killed.

TACOMA, Dec. 3.—The steamer Energia brings details of a powder explosion at Nankin, China, which killed over 300 people last month. During a storm lightning struck a gunpowder magazine, which exploded. Native houses were destroyed for miles around. The people killed were chiefly of the poorer class.

Coalboats Sunk.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Dec. 3.—The steamers Tom Dodsworth and Volunteer, both Pittsburg towboats, collided 20 miles above here. Almost 30 coalboats, containing 600,000 bushels of coal, sank. The loss is $100,000. Both the steamers and coal are owned by the Pittsburg coal combine.

A SNUB FOR KRUGER.

German Emperor Declines to Receive Him.

PLEADS PREVIOUS ARRANGEMENTS.

Boer Statesman Will Now Go Direct to Holland—German Press Accuses Him of Having Encouraged Useless Guerrilla Warfare.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Mr. Kruger has abandoned his proposed visit to Berlin owing to the receipt of an official intimation that Emperor William regrets that in consequence of previous arrangements he will be unable to receive him. The Boer statesman will therefore proceed direct from Cologne for Holland. He telegraphed to this effect yesterday.

The Cologne Gazette in an inspired communication says: "Mr. Kruger's visit is not agreeable to Germany, his aim being to obtain intervention in South Africa. It would be a grave political mistake, it would be even a great crime, to allow him to entertain even a spark of hope that Germany will render him any practical support."

This declaration is accompanied with reproaches, Mr. Kruger being charged with "having encouraged a useless guerrilla warfare and having disregarded Germany's advice when he might still have followed it." The press generally strikes the same note.

ENGLAND DENOUNCED.

War In South Africa One of the Blackest Spots In British Annals.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 3.—Replying at Stellenbosch, Cape Colony, to an address presented to him by the leaders of the Afrikander bund, Mr. J. X. Merriman, former treasurer of Cape Colony, in the course of an impassioned speech denounced the war in South Africa as "one of the blackest spots in British annals." The present methods of British warfare, he said, were such as encouraged the worst elements on both sides and were bound to prove fatal to the ultimate peace of the country. He declared that neither he nor Mr. J. W. Sauer, former commissioner of public works, would attend the Worcester congress, lest it should be said that the congress was engineered by politicians, and he appealed to all Afrikanders to speak boldly when upholding their rights and yet to "avoid wild language or actions which might lead to the abrogation of the last vestige of freedom."

Mr. Sauer, whose speech was rather more militant, demanded the removal of Sir Alfred Milner, whom he described as "violently anti-Dutch." He declared that if Great Britain deprived the two republics of their independence she would lose the affection of all South Africans. Referring to the Worcester congress, he urged the delegates to show firmness.

The Fight Near Rietfontein.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Dec. 3.—Further details have been received regarding the fight near Rietfontein between the British under General Paget and the Boers under Commandants Viljoen and Erasmus Nov. 28 and 29. General De Wet toward evening of the second day closed in upon the Boer position with the intention of attacking next day at dawn. The Boers, however, with re-enforcements, including three guns, made a desperate attack, and severe fighting ensued. The Boers, who were repulsed with heavy loss, withdrew in a northeasterly direction. General Paget, having occupied their position, sent mounted infantry in pursuit. The New Zealanders displayed great gallantry, losing five out of the six wounded officers.

Kruger In Cologne.

COLOGNE, Dec. 3.—Thousands of people waited yesterday in the vicinity of the Cathedral hotel to catch a glimpse of Mr. Kruger, who, when replying to the deputation of Bonn students in the afternoon, described the educational progress of the Transvaal, thanked the students for their kind welcome and shook hands with each. Afterward he appeared upon the balcony, where he was loudly cheered from below. Having rested for half an hour he went into the vestibule of the hotel, which was crowded with visitors. It is expected that Mr. Kruger will remain here until Wednesday.

Pleased With Kaiser's Attitude.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—No further details have been received regarding the capture by the Boers of the British garrison at De Wetsdorp Nov. 23, but it is said that General De Wet had seven guns. All the London morning papers comment with unbounded enthusiasm upon the abrupt snub administered by Emperor William to Mr. Kruger, which is all the more noticeable when contrasted with the Boer statesman's concededly successful visit to France. The snub is regarded as further evidence of the better relations existing between Great Britain and Germany.

British Need Heavy Re-enforcements

QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 3.—Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill, who is a passenger on the Cunard line steamship Lucania, which left Liverpool Saturday for New York, said in the course of an interview here that his sojourn in the United States would be short, as he must hurry back to his parliamentary duties. When questioned with regard to the war in South Africa, he said he agreed with Lord Roberts that 20,000 more regulars should be sent out because any slackening would only revive the spirit of the Boers. He estimated the Boer forces at present as about 7,000.

Coal Trade Active.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—In its coal article today The Ledger says: "The anthracite coal trade is very active both in mining and shipping coal. The demand is large, exceeding the supply, and some of the transporting companies are so short of cars that they find it difficult to keep up with the orders of the dealers and are unable to forward coal to the extent they would wish. The west is taking much coal, as shipments thence have been hurried, fearing the approach of winter. New England ports for a similar reason have been also taking a good deal."

Two Asphyxiated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—George Musselman, 46 years of age, and his wife, Jennie, 31 years old, were found dead in their room in a boarding house in Jersey City. Their deaths were caused by asphyxiation resulting from the accidental escape of illuminating gas into the room.

VANDALS IN PEKING.

Observatory Being Stripped of Astronomical Instruments.

A PROTEST TO VON WALDERSEE.

The Outfit, Aged and Somewhat Out of Date, Is Being Packed For Shipment to Europe—Railroad to Tien-tsin Nearly Ready.

TIEN-TSIN, Dec. 2.—Protests and requests have been forwarded to Field Marshal Count von Waldersee by the representatives of the powers urging the prevention of the removal of astronomical instruments from the observatory at Peking. Most of the principal instruments have been prepared for shipment and labeled for Berlin or for Paris.

The Chinese themselves do not protest because, as members of Li Hung Chang's staff put it, their objections would be useless, as whatever they say or do in the way of protest only elicits uncivil treatment.

The observatory is universally recognized as one of the most interesting sights in Peking. Most of the instruments now out of place are over 150 years old. Many of them are magnificent bronzes and, although not of modern type, can still be used for the purposes of astronomical observation.

The number of Chinese returning has been considerably augmented during the last few days. Apparently they are friendly.

The provosts marshal of the various nations are being daily informed as to the whereabouts of returning Boxers, but only those are arrested against whom there is conclusive evidence of having killed native Christians.

The first locomotive since the siege of the legations ran yesterday from Tientsin to Peking. The line will not be opened, however, for general use until about Dec. 15.

COURT ANXIOUS TO RETURN.

Chinese Rulers Said to Be Making Plans to Go to Peking.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Times reports that it is believed in well informed circles that the Chinese court is anxious to return to Peking, but he says that such a course would not be agreeable to Li Hung Chang, who hopes to gain an advantage from dissensions among the powers.

The Shanghai correspondent of The Standard says that Chang Chih Tung has received a dispatch from Sian-fu directing him to stop the forwarding of further supplies to the province of Shensi. It is rumored that Emperor Kwang Su will return to Peking immediately and that the empress dowager will follow if the reception given him is satisfactory.

Dr. Morrison, wiring to The Times from Peking, says: "In pursuance of their regrettable policy of appropriation the French and German generals, with Count von Waldersee's approval, have removed from the wall of Peking the superb astronomical instruments erected two centuries ago by the Jesuit Fathers. Half of them will go to Berlin and the rest to Paris. The explanation of this act of vandalism is that, inasmuch as the return of the court is so improbable, such beautiful instruments should not be exposed to the possibilities of injury when Peking is no longer the capital."

"Count von Waldersee expresses some solicitude," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, "concerning expeditions into the surrounding country, but he believes that they are necessary and salutary. Most of the British officers approve them.

"Sir Robert Hart, in the course of conversation, said he considered the resentment against foreigners to be partly just and the outgrowth of the last 60 years of treaty relations. He seemed to think the settlement would be a difficult problem.

"Chinese militia forces are being formed everywhere, and even if the importation of foreign arms is prohibited a supply will be easily obtainable from Chinese arsenals.

"A body of 100 American cavalrymen is escorting some Chinese officials to Tien-tsin."

ADMINISTRATION HOPEFUL.

It Is Believed at Washington That Powers Will Soon Agree.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Administration officials continue sanguine that the ministers of the powers at Peking will soon reach a common ground of agreement in the demands to be made upon the Chinese imperial government in satisfaction for the Boxer outrages. The state department is in communication with the ministers and embassadors of the United States to the European courts, and advices which have come from them from time to time lead the officials here to hope that the powers will be brought to the position maintained by the United States in dealing with the Chinese—viz, that there should not be demands made upon the imperial government which it is not able to fulfill.

Our government has persistently held to this view in the progress of the negotiations between the ministers at Peking, and if the principle of this contention can be maintained in the combined note to be handed to the Chinese plenipotentiaries a decided advantage will be had at the start.

Porto Rico's Commissioner.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Frederick Degetau, commissioner from Porto Rico, who arrived aboard the steamship San Juan, is in this city at the Imperial hotel. He will stay here a few days and then will go to Washington. He is a lawyer and has made several literary ventures, including novels, embodying his views on social progress and reform. Mr. Degetau is 37 years old. This is the first time he has been in an English speaking country. He was educated in Spain and once represented Porto Rico at Madrid.

Thieves Get Rich Haul.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—William S. Farmer of 332 East Eighty-fourth street went to the East Eighty-eighth street police station Sunday morning and said that second story thieves had got $3,070 in cash out of his trousers pocket while he slept and $3,000 worth of his wife's jewelry.

Former Governor of Missouri Dead.

LEBANON, Mo., Dec. 3.—Ex-Governor Joseph W. McClurg, aged 88 years, is dead here of hemorrhage of the stomach. He was elected governor of Missouri as a Republican in 1868 and served one term. He served in congress from 1862 to 1868.

The Charter Election.

Even a sweeping victory for the Democrats in the charter election tomorrow cannot wrest the control of the city government from the hands of the Republican party. There are eleven members of the Common Council, all of whom were elected to office by the Republicans. If the places of the four Councilmen, whose terms of office expire this month, should be filled by Democrats, the Republicans would still have a majority of three in the legislative branch of the city government. A Democratic Mayor would thus be able to accomplish little if he should not work in unison with the Republicans of the Council. While the Mayor makes a number of important appointments, the approval of the Council is required for each and while the Mayor has the right to veto any ordinance passed by the Council, the latter body may pass the measure over his veto.

If Col. Mason W. Tyler is elected to the Mayoralty through the efforts of the Democrats and his Republican friends, this verdict of the people will not be generally considered as an especial mark of disapproval at the acts of the present city administration. The election of any or all of the Democratic nominees for the Council would, however, distinctly show dissatisfaction with present methods. The fight for the Mayoralty has largely been reduced to a choice between the personalities of the two men, Dr. Olin L. Jenkins and Col. Mason W. Tyler.

It is a subject for general thankfulness that no matter which party wins at the polls tomorrow, Plainfield will have for Mayor a man, whose integrity and high standing in the community is unquestioned. There need be no fear that the election of either man will open the control of the municipal machinery to corrupt and dishonest influences. The Republicans have their reasons why they believe that Dr. Jenkins should receive every thinking man's ballot tomorrow. The Democrats and the friends of Col. Tyler, who have temporarily departed from their allegiance to the Republican party, are equally convinced that the cause of good and economical government for Plainfield demands the election of Col. Tyler. Many Republicans will undoubtedly vote for Col. Tyler, Democrats may desert their candidate as well. The Republican administration will be completely and fully indorsed or the Democrats may elect part or all of their ticket. But whatever is the result, the city will still be in the hands of men who may be trusted to do what they deem best for the interests of the city and its inhabitants, however they may differ in political belief from those whom they will represent. It is a matter for congratulation that Plainfield can show such a condition of affairs.

A Faithful Public Servant.

The report of the fatal accident that befell Former Chief George Webster Grant spread rapidly about the city Saturday night. Many friends of the faithful officer—for a quarter of a century one of the efficient guardians of the peace—called at police headquarters to ask for particulars of the accident and to express their profound sympathy. Every policeman on his beat, as well as the news reporters, was besieged all of yesterday for tidings from the injured man. Chief Kiely, the Sergeant and the Roundsman patiently answered the many questions that were asked by those who called. Expressions of sympathy for the bereaved family were on the lips of all—words that conveyed to those who have known the well-known police officer for many years a true value of his appreciation. The sad affair fell as a pall about police headquarters and only expressions of sorrow were heard from Chief to patrolman.

With all his peculiarities George W. Grant was possessed of many excellent qualities that go to make up the man. He was honest, trustworthy and efficient. His long service upon the police force and as an officer before the organization of the present department made his judgment and knowledge of police affairs of infinite value to the citizens and of aid to his associates. His death has removed a prominent figure in the city's municipality which will be felt alike by his superiors and subordinates.

Every city campaign shows more or less departure from the strict lines of partizanship. At the election tomorrow, many scratches will doubtless occur on both Republican and Democratic tickets. The wholesale support of Col. Tyler by Republicans in the Second and Third wards would give some cause for the belief that the scratching this year will be even greater than usual. Without doubt, Col. Mason W. Tyler is the strongest candidate on the Democratic ticket and has the best chance of being elected of any man on that ticket. There is enough uncertainty about it to lead both parties to make every possible effort to win. It looks like a close election but it is never possible to tell until the ballots are counted.

First Baptist church.

The death of George W. Grant has removed a prominent official, who was well-known throught Union, Somerset and Middlesex counties. His death is deeply deplored by all classes, many of whom esteemed him for his efficient service on the police force. It may be said of this faithful officer that he died in the harness.

Funeral services at his late residence, 203 West Fifth street, Wednesday, Dec. 5, at 3 o'clock p. m. Interment at Penn's Neck, Mercer county, N. J.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Board of Health will hold a regular meeting this evening.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will hold a regular communication tomorrow evening.

—The Volunteer League or Missionary Study Class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

—The Common Council will meet this evening in regular session. There will be a number of matters of importance for consideration.

—The members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R. will elect officers at the meeting to be held a week from tomorrow evening. The installation will take place in January.

—The third of the series of Sunday School Institutes will be held tomorrow evening at Hope Memorial chapel. All persons interested in Sunday school work are cordially invited.

—Commencing with this evening, Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., will hold a fair in Washington Hall. It will continue throughout the week with special attractions every evening.

—Lieut. Hobson, of the U. S. Navy, was removad to the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, last Saturday, by the Walton private ambulance, in which Lester Walton, formerly of this city, is interested.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Pauline Denton, of Washington avenue, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Grace Hurtt, of Manasquan.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs.—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

ORIENTAL RUGS

We place on sale this week a large consignment of Persian and Turkish Rugs. This consignment is made by the largest Importer of Oriental Rugs in the world and being consigned rather than bought, we are enabled to sell them on much smaller margins These Rugs are all selected by us, they are all perfect and fully twenty five per cent cheaper than if bought of importing houses. The lot comprises Guendjis, Kazacjas, Antique Moussouls, Kazats, Bokharas, Iran Halls, Fine Cabistans, Karmanshaws, Kurdistans, etc., in different sizes. Some 12 and 15 feet Persian Hall Runners over 50 years old are included. These Rugs are made from pure camels hair and, being dyed with Oriental dyes, retain their color indefinitely and wear excellently. This is an opportunity to buy high priced rugs considerably below regular prices.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 3.—The second of the series of entertainments and lectures provided by the Board of Education will be given in the Presbyterian chapel tomorrow evening. It will be a lecture on "Our Schools," by H Brewster Willis, and will be both helpful and interesting to those interested in the school system. There will be no admission fee and everyone is cordially invited.

After numerous complaints on the part of Peter Von Twistern and others, the low spot at the trolley terminus has been obviated. Street Commissioner Gavett's men appeared Friday and raised the sidewalk nearly a foot. This particular spot has been very annoying to trolley passengers in wet weather, as they were sometimes compelled to wade through water several inches deep to get to the cars.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton gave a reception at their home Thursday evening for the purpose of introducing Rev. M. Sproull to the members of the Presbyterian congregation. A large number were present and several hours were spent in games and social talk.

A rehearsal of the Choral Union will be held in the Whittier school building this evening at 8 o'clock. A second rehearsal will be held Thursday evening. A full attendance is desired on both occasions.

Mrs. A. A. Lake and daughter, Janet, returned today from Blythbourne, L. I., where they spent several days with friends.

A large attendance was in evidence at the Presbyterian church service yesterday when Rev. N. J. Sproull delivered his first sermon.

Edward Limepeter has purchased from Mrs. Lottie Taylor her property on Depot street and took possession Saturday.

The Junior football team will journey to Plainfield next Wednesday and play a team from the West End.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Merrill have returned home after a week's visit at Flemington and Clover Hill.

Mrs. Charles Ross returned home Saturday after spending several days with Brooklyn relatives.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough council will be held this evening.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 3.—Twelve young men from town journeyed to the home of Peter Lant Friday evening and gave a noisy serenade to Mr. and Mrs. William Lant, who were married Wednesday. After the crowd had cheered itself hoarse for the young couple, Mr. Lant responded to their calls in a fitting manner after which the serenaders returned to town.

Daniel Blackford left Saturday evening for New York, sailing from there for the West Indies. He will remain there for an indefinite period superintending the erection of mining machinery. Several friends accompanied him to New York and saw him depart.

Following is the new schedule arranged for the arrival and departure of the mails: Arriving, from the east, 8:35, 9:20 a. m., 6:30 p. m.; west, 5:00 p m. Closing, for the east, 7:15 a. m., 2:45 and 4:45 p. m.; west, 9:00 a. m.

The members of the Friendship dancing class will give their second reception to their friends this evening. The admission is by invitation only.

William Brokaw, who received a severe injury to his right foot several weeks ago, is now able to get about with the aid of crutches.

Fred Gaskill returned to Phillipsburg yesterday, after a several days' visit with relatives in town.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 3.—Another Scotch Plains young man joined the army of benedicts yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The happy groom was Albert Gibbs who was joined in wedlock to Miss Nellie Morgan, of Fanwood. The ceremony, which was a very quiet one, was performed by Rev. Father Smyth at his home in Plainfield. The young couple will for the present make Fanwood their home. Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs have the best wishes of all as they begin their journey through life together.

Miss Hazel Marsh gave a very pleasant birthday party to a number of her little friends at her home Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. The happy event was arranged in honor of Hazel's ninth birthday, and the three hours spent by the little host and her young guests will always be a pleasant reminder of her ninth natal day. Hazel received a number of very pretty presents in honor of the day.

The weekly meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union of the Baptist church was held in the church parlors last evening. Miss Alice Shott led the meeting, the subject being, "Spending Time and Taking Pains for Christ."

The entertainment committee of Fanwood Council, will hold a meeting this evening to arrange for an entertainment in the near future.

Ernest Humes, formerly of this place but now of New York, was the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marsh.

Mrs. Samuel MacIniney and family, who have resided in Fanwood for several years, have removed to Plainfield.

Mr. Graff, who recently purchased the business of Eugene Ford, spent Sunday with his parents in Elizabeth.

Rev. G. M. Shott is attending the ministers' conference meeting in New York today.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Dec. 3.—Rev. Thomas Houston will preach tonight upon "The State and Destiny of the Righteous and Wicked." Tomorrow night he will tell the story of his life, how he became blind, how he became converted and how he has lived. He will sing also, a song entitled, "My Ain Countree." The meetings yesterday morning and evening were largely attended. At the evening service extra chairs had to be furnished. At the afternoon meeting several young people signified their intention of becoming Christians.

Henry Arrowsmith has taken a position as a lathe hand in a machine shop in Jersey City. He was formerly employed in the Pond Tool Works, of Plainfield.

Mrs. Bigley and the Misses Emma and Lennie Faulks spent Saturday with Mrs. Oscar Thorn and with Miss Emmons, of North Plainfield.

The news stand which was removed from the depot about two weeks ago, will be replaced with a much better arrangement.

Thomas H. Brantingham left yesterday for a two weeks' hunting trip in West Virginia.

Hollis Cubberley has returned home after spending a few days with friends in the country.

Harry Tappen, of Newark, was visiting friends in town yesterday.

Tom Dorgan was visiting at the home of his parents yesterday.

Mr. VanArsdale is having extensive additions made to his barn.

John Geary sends a load of truck to Plainfield every morning.

Mr. Cohen, of Plainfield, was in town yesterday.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

"Lost in Egypt," a very strong melo drama which appears at the Music Hall tomorrow evening is highly spoken of by press everywhere. It is full of comedy with eight selected specialties and under the personal direction of Messrs. Harris and Parkinson, who are well-known comedians. The entire company are well-known artists and the scenery is all special. Miss Trixie Coleman will introduce several clever specialties. Messrs. Harris and Parkinson will also be seen to advantage.

* * * * *

Managers E. D. Stair and George H. Nicholai, who will present Harry Glazier in "The Three Musketeers" at Music Hall Thursday night, made a wise choice when they secured his services as a star. For a young man Mr. Glazier has had a remarkably wide range of experience. After a thorough training in the companies of such artists as Thomas W. Keene, Lawrence Barrett, Stuart Robson and Katherine Kidder, he entered a stock company. By sheer force of merit and hard work he forced his way upward until today he is the acknowledged peer of any young leading man in the profession. The entire scenic equipment which is carried by the company is perfect, down to the smallest detail, and invites comparison with that of any production of the play ever given. The costuming has received the same careful attention. It is historically correct and as magnificent as money and talent can devise. The supporting company was selected after much care and deliberation, and will be found entirely equal to the demands made upon it.

* * * * *

No more original or comical ideas in farce-comedy was ever created than the German singing society in "Who is Who," the laughable concert to be seen at Music Hall Saturday afternoon and night. All the up to date coon songs and rag-time ditties are rendered in the German language, and Charles A. Loder directs the effects of this comical sangerfest with all the seriousness of the old German school. Encore after encore invariably result, and the ludricous make-up of the singers, taken with their serious mein, is the source of roars of laughter.

Taken A other Position.

John Bailey, for a long time past associated with the Metropolitan Insurance Company, has resigned his position and has accepted a position with the Scranton Correspondence School. He will represent the school in this vicinity in place of George Hodgkins, who has gone to another field.

Saved His Eye.

Robert McCulley, an employe at the Pond Tool Works, who has been at the hospital for several weeks under treatment for a severe injury to the eye, was discharged today. The injury was caused by some hot metal from a casting which flew into his eye. For a time it was thought he would lose his eye. As it is it will be a year or more before the sight is fully recovered.

Dinner at Hillside Clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ackerman gave a dinner party at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse Saturday evening. There were covers for eighteen and the affair was a very pleasant one for all.

Exchanged Pulpits.

Rev. G K. Newell, of Hope chapel, and Rev. John McMurray, of Monroe Avenue church, exchanged pulpits yesterday morning. The attendance at both places was large and the sermons were greatly enjoyed.

Paid a $3 Fine.

Patrick Purcell was found on North avenue Saturday night acting in a disorderly manner. Pat was too full to look after himself so the officer locked him up. This morning he paid a $3 fine.

Charles GaNun, of Steiner place, is home after spending spending months in Hartford, Conn.

A practicing physician in Shelbyville relates that his attention was first directed to

by a brother doctor while on a visit to the National Capitol at Washington, D. C., some years ago. "I first used the Tabules myself experimentally," says the Illinois doctor, "and derived such benefit from them that I at once adopted them as a part of my medical armormentarium. They have given great satisfaction and in one case where the stomach was infected by large stomach worms, the Tabules destroyed the worms and expelled them, greatly to my surprise and also to the permanent relief of my patient."

WANTED:—A case of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. One gives relief. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. R·I·P·A·N·S, 10 for 5 cents, may be had at any drug store. Ten samples and one thousand testimonials will be mailed to any address for 5 cents, forwarded to the Ripans Chemical Co., No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

CURE FOR OVERWORK.

It Was a Severe One But It Proved to Be Profitable in the End.

"I used to be one of those chaps who try to kill themselves with overwork," said a hale and hearty business man of 60-odd years, relates the Washington Star, "but before I had quite accomplished a fatal termination, as so many of my brethren have done and are doing, I found I was injuring my business by it and quit."

"How can a man injure his business by devoting himself to it completely?" asked a tired-looking party. "That is preposterous."

"Is it?" smiled the hale and hearty man.

"Well, listen a moment, and when you have heard, maybe you will feel called upon to think it not so excessively preposterous as it seems. Thirty years ago, at which time I had built up a business that was worth $10,000 a year to me, I was so overworked that I was almost a shadow. My digestion and my nerves were gone, I could scarcely sleep, and the little spells of rest I took when my wife and the doctor forced me to do it were of no use at all. Lord knows how long I would have stood it, but the business was growing and I was making more money every day, and I seemed to think that that was justification for the loss of everything else save honor. I had one big manufacturing firm whose president threw into my hands yearly contracts that brought me at least half my profits, and I was about to receive one that would net me $25,000 and greatly increase the yearly business. The president had been a friend of my father's, and it was on this account that he had given me first chance at his work, other things being equal. I had not seen him for a couple of years, and just before awarding the big contract he wrote to me to come to the city where he lived to talk the matter over. I worked harder than ever to get everything up before taking four or five days out of a busy time, and rode at night to the city. I was at his office when he got there, and by Jove, he didn't know me.

"'My dear boy,' he said, when I told him who I was, 'you are killing yourself with overwork. I know all the symptoms, and I know a dozen men who have gone just the way you are going.'

"'Oh, I guess not,' I laughed. 'I may be working pretty hard, but I'm young and have a good constitution, and I think I can stand it.'

"He was a testy old fellow, and he argued with me until he lost his temper.

"'I tell you, Fred,' he said at last, 'I know what I'm talking about, and I will not be a party to your self-destruction. You've got more work than you can do already, and I'll give that contract to one of the other firms that are after it, and give them, besides, one-half of the business I've been letting you have. That will give you a good deal less to do, and when you have pulled yourself together again, and given that good constitution of yours a chance, I'll see what we can do for you.'

"Well, it almost took my breath away, but he was not to be moved to a reconsideration, and I went back home without the contract. I suppose I might have worked harder than ever to get other business, but the old gentleman's method of getting at me brought me to my senses, and I concluded that when a man was working so hard he was injuring his business probably it was time for him to take a rest. And take a rest I did, for a whole year. I worked, of course, but without crowding things, and when I went to see the president to have a talk with him about a larger contract than ever he didn't know me again, I was so much improved in appearance, and when I told him who I was he not only gave me the work, but insisted on my taking him out to a champagne dinner as a fee for his medical advice."

BODICES.

New Styles In Attractive Flannel Shirt Waists.

The flannel shirt waist is coming to the front in great force and is being universally adopted for mourning and ordinary service. As usual, when anything becomes adopted generally there are all sorts of variations upon it, many of them undesirable and in questionable taste, but there are also very attractive sorts displayed. A list of the colors worn would be useless, as every color and shade is represented—dark and light, crude and subdued. The shirt sleeve has almost disappeared, being replaced by the plain tight sleeve, flaring at the wrist. The simplest shirt waists have a plain back and a slightly full front and fasten with flat, gold buttons. Then there are large and small tucks, fancy stitching, waists with yokes and plastrons and with various tabs, scallops, straps and other ornamental methods of fastening. Clusters of tiny metal or pearl buttons are a favorite decoration.

The cut illustrates a street costume of green cloth. The skirt is crossed in front over a plaited form of black satin and is bordered by a band of yellow guipure insertion placed between two lines of black and green galloon. The bolero of green cloth is short and has half length sleeves with large cuffs and is trimmed to match the skirt. Under the bolero is a full bodice of black satin, and the collar, cravat and lower sleeves are also of black satin. The hat of green felt is trimmed with cream taffeta having green dots and a bow of black satin ribbon.

FASHION NOTES.

Sleeves, Trimmings and Other Details of the Wardrobe.

Ribbons, ruches and puffs disposed vertically or horizontally remain a favorite trimming for dinner and theater corsages and other bodices. A lengthwise arrangement is alone permissible for women who are not slender.

The sleeve open at the wrist, with a full undersleeve fastened closely by a band finished with or without a frill, is the newest style, although the long, tight sleeve is still worn.

Stitched straps of various widths are largely employed as a decoration for cloth tailor made costumes and are arranged in various ways upon both skirt and bodice.

Plaited skirts will continue to be worn during the winter. There are different methods of plaiting, but for cloth plaits over the hips only are sufficient, as it makes the skirt much heavier to carry them down low.

The illustration shows a mourning costume of black india cashmere. The skirt is laid in stitched plaits at the sides and back, and around the foot is a deep facing of crape headed by a crape fold, which forms a Louis Quinze bow in front. The corselet and bolero are of crape, the yoke of cashmere. A crape fold outlines the yoke, with a Louis Quinze bow in front. The tight cashmere sleeves have two folds of crape at the top and one at the wrist. The hat is smoothly covered with crape and is trimmed with bows and choux of crape.

THE GUAM TYPHOON.

Said to Have Been the Severest In Forty Years.

MANILA, Dec. 3.—In his official report of the recent typhoon which visited the island of Guam Rear Admiral Remey reports that the storm was the severest in 40 years. The palace at Agana and the government buildings were unroofed and wrecked. The sea reached the plaza. Many of the homeless sought refuge in the school and jail. No one is reported to have been killed at Agana, but the mortality caused by the recent epidemic of the grip has been much increased by exposure, most of the dwellings having been destroyed. The town of Marajan was leveled, and 28 persons were killed. Several persons were killed in various small villages, and several small coasters are missing. No reports have been received from some localities. Cocoanut trees and all crops are destroyed, and food is being distributed to the sufferers.

Admiral Remey has ordered the Arethusa from Cavite with food supplies. Flour, corn and meats are needed, and it is suggested that donations be sent from the United States. The Brutus, from Cavite, and the Solace, from San Francisco, due at Guam recently, will relieve immediate needs.

The pounding of the Yosemite upon the reef broke and twisted her propeller, and she was abandoned and sank Nov. 16. The flagship Newark has gone to investigate the disaster.

COLOMBIAN REBELS ACTIVE.

A Town Captured, but Retaken by Government Forces.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 3.—Advices brought from Colon by the Royal Mail steamer Don, Captain Newton, indicate the continuance of considerable rebel activity in all quarters of Colombia. Last Wednesday a strong force of insurgents captured the town of Chagres, 15 miles from Colon. Eight hundred government troops were sent immediately to relieve the town, and sharp fighting followed. The government forces lost heavily, but the rebels were compelled to retire.

Before the Don left news had reached Colon that the insurgents were attacking Porto Colombia and Sabanilla and that government re-enforcements had been ordered there.

It was believed at Colon that the insurgents had changed their plan and would concentrate against Colon instead of Panama, owing to the strict precautions taken by the government at the latter city. Martial law was being strictly enforced in Colon, and large numbers of people had been imprisoned under suspicion.

The United States gunboat Bancroft and the British second class cruiser Intrepid were at Colon Friday when the Don left.

Mysterious Death at Watertown.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Aruna F. Westcott, 25 years old, was found dead in bed at Mrs. Kaziah Putnam's boarding house, 8 Union street, at noon yesterday. He was brought there at 6 o'clock Saturday night by a man giving his name as William Brown, who had been boarding with Mrs. Putnam for a week. Brown placed the man in his own bed, saying to Mrs. Putnam that he was drunk and that his name was Smith and he was a well known clothier. Brown called at the house with a woman shortly after midnight and said to Mrs. Putnam that he would leave the stranger there to sober up. Mrs. Putnam's grandson went to the room at noon yesterday and found the man dead. His body was cold and he had been dead several hours. The police, district attorney and coroner were notified. Brown has disappeared, and the police are using every effort to locate him. Westcott's home is about 12 miles from here, near Sackets Harbor. He had been working lately at Great Bend on a canal job. He came to town Saturday afternoon. Brown is a stranger here. He arrived in town about a week ago and has been idle since.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—About 500 delegates are in Washington to attend the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, whose regular business sessions began in this city at the Lafayette Square theater today. The indications are that the convention will be one of the most profitable in the history of the organization. Yesterday a preliminary meeting was held in the Opera House, over which the national president, Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens of Maine, presided. Mrs. J. K. Barney of Rhode Island, round the world temperance missionary worker for the W. C. T. U., delivered the annual sermon. One of the most important features of the convention will be a discussion pertaining to the adoption of some sort of resolution with reference to the canteen system in the army.

Most Beautiful American Women.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The famous Pan-American beauty contest has closed and the awards made. This was a competition held for the purpose of selecting the two most beautiful women in America, blond and brunette, to typify North and South America on the official emblem of the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo in 1901. A committee of ten, of which Senator Chauncey M. Depew was chairman, selected from thousands of photographs sent to New York Miss Maude Coleman Wood of Charlottesville, Va., to represent North America and Miss Maxine Elliott (Mrs. N. C. Goodwin), brunette, to represent South America.

A Big Haul of Bolomen.

MANILA, Dec. 3.—Twelve hundred bolomen entered Vigan, island of Luzon, and surrendered to Captain Green of the Thirty-third infantry. This is the largest number of men who have yet surrendered in Luzon at one time. General Tinio has been keeping a swarm of bolomen along the mountains, and they have impoverished the food supply and cut off the leaders of the Tagalogs, but a considerable number of the Ilocanos, who had become lukewarm, believed that the surrender would hasten the collapse of General Tinio's power.

Judge Wyman Dead.

BUFFALO, Dec. 3.—The Hon. Orvis B. Wyman, judge of the Sixth judicial circuit of Wisconsin, whose home is in Viroqua, Wis., died yesterday at a hospital in this city. He came here to be treated for lymphitis, but the case was found to be hopeless. He leaves a widow and two children.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

MASCOTS SENT HOME.

Three Boys Involuntary Passengers on the Thomas From Manila.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Three little regimental mascots were involuntary passengers from Manila on the transport Thomas. They were Fred Seagelstell, aged 13, from Cleveland, who went out with the Thirteenth regiment; John Wolfling, aged 9, of Buffalo, and Sam Carter, a colored boy, who claimed the south as his home.

Seagelstell distinguished himself in the Philippines by capturing a Filipino soldier and by being himself captured before he could land the Filipino within the American lines. While scouting around on his own account at Lipa the little fellow came upon a stray Filipino, whom he took into custody at the point of a gun. He was on his way to camp with his prisoner, when a band of Filipinos took him in. Beyond relieving him of his shoes and hat the Filipinos treated him kindly and a few days later turned him over to the Americans.

Wolfling and Seagelstell together planned to go into the interior, regardless of war, and after procuring a team of horses had started on their trip, when the American officers took them in charge at Calamba and sent them back to Manila.

Nicaragua Route For Canal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The report of the interoceanic canal commission, which was handed to the president on Wednesday, will be transmitted to congress with a special message concerning canal legislation after the annual message has been delivered. In its report the commission unanimously recommends the Nicaragua route and will give in detail its reasons for believing that it is the more practicable. The report treats the subject of an interoceanic canal exhaustively, basing its comments on voluminous reports from its field parties. A statement from M. Hutin, the president of the Panama Canal company, pointing out the advantages of the Panama route and stating the terms on which the company's property rights and concessions may be obtained by the United States government, will accompany the commission's report.

Forger's Grave Disturbed.

PRINCETON, Ky., Dec. 3.—The body of Frank Merrick, the noted forger, has been stolen or his grave has been opened by some person or persons who desired to satisfy themselves that he was really dead. All signs around the grave show that it has been tampered with. Merrick was arrested last week charged with forgery. Before he could be removed to the jail he became suddenly ill and report of his death was made. It is believed that he was poisoned, though by whom it is hard to determine. The general opinion is that if Merrick was poisoned the guilty parties were desirous of getting rid of the body to escape detection if the authorities exhumed it. The grave will probably be reopened.

To Consecrate the New Century.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Archbishop Martinelli, the apostolic delegate, will participate at services to be held at St. Patrick's church in this city at midnight on Dec. 31 to consecrate the new century to God. A year ago the pope gave a special permission, with a view to wide exercise of the privilege, to sing a solemn mass at midnight of Dec. 31 of last year to consecrate the closing year of the century and to repeat it on Dec. 31 next at the same hour for consecrating the entire new century. The ceremony, like that of a year ago, is expected to be an unusually brilliant one, and most of the bishops throughout the country probably will hold similar solemn services.

Lumbering Delayed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 3.—Lumbering operations in Minnesota are practically at a standstill on account of the warm, unsuitable weather, and unless there shall be a change at once lumbermen will be heavy losers this winter. None of the swamps is frozen over as yet, and logging operations cannot be conducted with safety. The woods are full of men ready to go to work. They are being paid the highest wages that have prevailed for several years.

Hewitt Captured His Wife.

ALBANY, Dec. 3.—Gordon Fletcher Hewitt, the London financier who created a scene here Wednesday night by trying to kidnap an actress whom he mistook for his wife, succeeded in getting his wife from her mother just as they were leaving town last night. He had a carriage on guard, and both jumped in and drove away, leaving the mother dumfounded. The mother left for Springfield, Mass.

Sultan Pays Our Bill.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 3.—Hassan Pasha, Ottoman minister of marine, and General Williams, representing the Cramp Shipbuilding company of Philadelphia, have signed a contract for the construction of a cruiser for the Ottoman navy. The price to be paid is £350,000, which includes £23,000 as indemnity to the United States for losses sustained by Americans during the Armenian massacres.

The Manchesters Land.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Duke of Manchester and his bride, who was Miss Helena Zimmerman of Cincinnati, were passengers on the American liner St. Louis. The young man and his wife were apparently quite happy. Eugene Zimmerman, the duchess' wealthy father, went down on the revenue cutter with his brother to welcome his daughter and his son-in-law. He, too, was evidently happy.

Open Season For Deer Too Long.

OLD FORGE, N. Y., Dec. 3.—It is the general opinion among woodsmen and those interested in the preservation of deer that the hunting season should be shortened at the latter part. At this time it is obvious that the hunters have great advantage when snow covers the ground. At the rate deer have been killed during the past few seasons they will be exceedingly rare in a few years.

Collins Named to Succeed Davis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 3.—Loren W. Collins, Republican associate justice of the state supreme court, has been offered by Governor Lind the United States senatorship made vacant by the death of Cushman K. Davis. Mr. Collins has not yet accepted. The man appointed by Governor Lind will hold until a senator shall be elected by the state legislature, which will convene soon.

Peaceable Elections In Peru.

LIMA, Peru

VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:—

Next Tuesday you are to be called on to decide as to whether you wish to continue the Republican Party in power, or desire a change of administration. The principal offices to be filled are those of Mayor, Collector, School Trustee, and one member of the Common Council from each ward.

Our friends, the enemy, are conducting an unusually vigorous campaign, and are striving to the uttermost to defeat the regular Republican ticket. And, strange to say, the dyed-in-the-wool Democracy is being aided as never before, by certain Republicans, especially in the Third ward, who have dictated the nomination of a most estimable gentleman for the office of Mayor on the Democratic ticket, and who are working night and day to elect him.

One would naturally suppose that these same Republican gentlemen must be inspired by some powerful reason to thus forsake the party which has not only served them well, but has honored them in the past by electing them to the most important local offices. But not a word is heard in condemnation of the present administration; not a single issue is raised by those who, after ungraciously withdrawing from the party councils, are striving with might and main to induce others to do likewise. Only one gentleman from the Third ward, and he a Democrat, has presumed to say a word in defense of the present effort to oust the Republican party from power. And what is his defense? He wants to "REJUVENATE DEMOCRACY!" To rejuvenate Democracy! think of it, voters of Plainfield! You are asked to place the stamp of your approval on the strenuous efforts now being made to betray the Republican party into the hands of a REJUVENATED DEMOCRACY!

If the Democratic party could claim credit for a single one of the many improvements which have gone to make Plainfield the up-to-date city that it is, some reason might attach to its efforts to wriggle back into power under a new name, but it can't. The Plainfield Democracy is but a miniature of its National prototype. It has never existed but to carp at and wantonly belittle the onward march of its rival. It is a destructive and not a constructive party, and whenever entrusted with the reins of government, has proven its thorough incapability and unfitness in dazzling style. Voters, are you going to place such a party in power here in Plainfield?

What has the Republican party done that you should desire to displace it?

Were Plainfield's streets ever in better condition than at present? Is the recognized claim that our city has the best Fire Department of its size in the State to count for naught with you? Isn't the remarkable absence of crime, riot and disorder in Plainfield a tribute to the efficiency of the Police Department?

Gentlemen of Plainfield, whatever of virtue there is in our civic government is due to the Republican Party, and to it alone.

The Democratic circular says: "The sewerage system of the city must be attended to; a new high school is projected; the business streets must be repaved; and the contract with the Water Company will come up for renewal," and urge these as the several reasons why the Democratic party should receive the vote of every loyal citizen.

With reference to the matters of the sewerage system and the Water contract, the Republican Party is confident that its candidates for the Common Council, namely: Mr. Tolles, Mr. Mellick, Mr. Coriell and Mr. Randolph, are quite as well trained in business, as experienced in matters of this sort and as capable of dealing with them as are Messrs. Lloyd, Lyman, Hillman and St. John, and that these matters will receive due and diligent attention at the proper time on the part of the Republican candidates and their colleagues in the Council cannot be doubted.

If the business streets are to be repaved it does not argue well for an economical Democratic administration, inasmuch as the present pavement thereon has hardly been finished.

And inasmuch as the Democrats graciously endorse Mr. Abbott's candidacy for School Trustee, after having tried in vain to find somebody to pit against him, we may assume that the question of the new high school is no matter for serious concern, even on the part of those cultured and broad-minded gentlemen who compose the "Rejuvenated Democracy."

The Republican-Democrats are bending all their efforts to elect the Democratic candidate for Mayor and profess they have no desire to defeat the rest of the Rupublican ticket. This would certainly seem to the general public to indicate that while the other nominees on the ticket were all right, the Republicans had made a serious mistake in choosing a candidate for Mayor. But is this the case? Empatically, No! Voters, whether you know him personally or not, you certainly know who Dr. Jenkins, the Republican candidate, is.

He combines all those elements which, if you shall place him in office, will enable him to give our city a thoroughly capable and business-like administration. He is a man of wide experience and culture. He is a man of the every-day people. He is a man who has had to fight every step of his way in life unaided and who has gained the esteem and respect of all who know him, simply by reason of his true sterling worth. His business is in Plainfield. He is a progressive man, and a man of broad views. He is a man who thinks and acts for himself and who, while open to argument, will act in all matters as his own best judgment shall dictate.

Voters of Plainfield, you can do no better than to elect Dr. Jenkins as your Mayor. See to it that he is elected and that his majority is large enough to effectually silence those who, without reason, have chosen to stigmatize him and are frantically working to place in power the so-called "REJUVENATED DEMOCRACY."

Remember also, voters of Plainfield, that Mr. Smith, the Republican candidate for Collector, has proved to all, during his present incumbency of that office, that he is thoroughly competent to discharge its duties. and remember also that his opponent was a member of the "Big Six," that noble body of statesmen who came nearer to Tammanyizing Plainfield than any body of men before or since their time. There should be no doubt in your minds as to which man is better qualified to occupy that office.

OPENING CONTEST IN DAILY PRESS LEAGUE

Roselle Casino Team Will Roll Three Games on Westfield Club's Alleys Tonight.

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED.

PARK CLUB WILL MEET CRANFORD CASINO THURSDAY EVENING.

Several Changes Made in Various Teams—Allan B. Laing Will Captain Park Club Team—Has New Material for the Team.

The first contest in the Daily Press Bowling League will be rolled this evening on the alleys of the Westfield Club when the teams from Roselle Casino and the Westfield Club will meet for three games. There is every prospect that the tournament this winter for the championship of the Press League will be an eminently successful one. The same four clubs which were in the league last season, are entered again this year and there have been enough changes on the various teams to make the result an uncertainty.

Last year the Roselle Casino team won the Daily Press trophy for the first season by some clever bowling and occasional good luck. The Westfield Club made a strong fight for second place. The Park Club, of this city, made a good showing during the first of the season but fell back as the tournament progressed and had to be content with third place. The Cranford Casino brought up the rear.

When the League meeting was held in this city two weeks ago, Cranford had not formally announced its intention of entering the League this season. The permission of the governors of that club was since secured and Cranford will participate in the tourney as before. The chief changes in the League are in the Park Club team, which will differ considerably from the team which represented the local club last year Allan B. Laing will captain the team and he has several new candidates in practice for the team.

Westfield and Roselle are old rivals on the bowling alleys and this evening's series of games promise to be closely contested. The Westfield Club will probably be represented by Chauncey D. Smith, William M. Townley, R. I. Townley, Henry R. Forster and Fred M. Condit. The make-up of the Roselle team has not yet been announced but Charles A. Smith, Mulford and Patterson of last year's team are expected to roll.

Thursday evening, the first series of games to be rolled in Plainfield in the League will be held on the Park Club alleys between the Park Club team and the representatives of the Cranford Casino.

The schedule, which was arranged provisionally, to await the approval of the Cranford Club, is now announced, Cranford having agreed to it. As last year each club will visit each other club, and three games will be rolled on the occasion of each meeting. Each club will therefore roll nine games away from home and nine more at home. The schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, December 4—Roselle at Westfield.

Thursday, December 6—Cranford at Park Club.

Thursday, December 13—Westfield at Cranford.

Thursday, December 20—Park Club at Roselle.

Thursday, January 3—Roselle at Cranford.

Friday, January 4—Westfield at Park Club.

Friday, January 11—Cranford at Westfield.

Thursday, January 17—Park Club at Canford.

Thursday, January 24—Westfield at Roselle.

Friday, February 1—Park Club at Westfield.

Friday, February 8—Roselle at Park Club.

Thursday, February 14—Cranford at Roselle.

Its Tenth Anniversary.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-day Baptist church will observe its tenth anniversary Saturday morning with special exercises. They will take the place of the regular Sabbath morning service at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. Reports and a special address will be given.

The Green Light is There.

Wandering Willies in search of a bed or troubled citizens in search of justice will now have no excuse for not finding the location of police headquarters. Under the supervision of several of the force a regulation green lamp was erected in front of the new station Saturday.

FIRST NIGHT AT FAIR.

SUCCESSFUL UNDERTAKING OF MARTHA WASHINGTON COUNCIL.

Their Fair Opened in Washington Hall Last Night—Different Programme Each Evening.

The members of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, have spared no pains to make their fourth annual fair and dance as much of a success as previous events of this character. The fair opened under most auspicious circumstances last evening in Washington Hall on West Second street.

There are three or four prettily decorated booths in which are on sale fancy articles, candy, groceries, ice cream and other delicacies. The booths are arranged on the west side of the hall and are well supplied with many choice articles of luxury and necessity. They are presided over by the following:

Fancy Booth—Mrs. Huey Mattis, Mrs. Harriet Thompson, Mrs. Bellis.

Candy Booth—Mrs. John Hope, Mrs. Winnie Allen, Mrs. William Smith.

Grocery Booth—Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. Randolph.

Ice Cream Booth—Mrs. Katie Bennett, Mrs. Daniel Dodge, Sr., Mrs. Daniel Dodge, Jr.

Besides the dancing each evening the committee of arrangements has a number of extra attractions to offer by way of amusements. There are also a number of valuable articles to be chanced for, including a gold watch, couch, boy's bicycle, lady's shawl, bracelet, doll and last but by no means least an unique bed quilt, made by Mrs. F. G. Welsh to represent the National flag Tomorrow night beside dancing there will be a cake-walk by Hibbard Jones and Ada Dennis. Naylor's orchestra will furnish the music during the entire week.

The officers of the fair are: Chairman, Mrs. Mary Welsh; assistant chairman, Mrs. Sarah Page; secretary, G. S. Martin; treasurer, F. G. Welsh.

THE SUFFRAGE BAZAAR.

Plainfield Women Will be There to Assist in Making the Affair a Successful One.

The National Suffrage Bazaar is being held in Madison Square Garden Concert Hall, New York, entrance 26th street, this week. Every State in the Union is represented. New Jersey has one of the prominent tables on the main floor. Plainfield has sent a good contribution to this table, including several books contributed by Dr. J. Ackerman Coles and written by his father, the late Abram Coles. Miss Edith Negley and Miss Caroline Minturn Hall and Mrs. Florence Howe Hall are assisting at this table. Mrs. Minnola Graham Sexton, of Orange, the new president of the State Suffrage Association, is the chairman of the entertainment committee.

Mrs. Jeffrey, of Orange, is chairman of the Elizabeth Cady Stanton table, and Miss Hartshorn, daughter of Mrs. Joanna Hartshorn, of Short Hills, President of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs, have charge of the candy table. Thus it will be seen that New Jersey is doing its full share of the work for the fair. The Trenton Pottery has also sent a handsome contribution. Many Plainfielders will attend the fair, attracted by the fine performances which will be given each afternoon and evening.

Improving His Hotel.

Charles Jansen, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, Somerset street and Greenbrook road, has been puting his hotel in a first-class condition. He has added the Bishop, Babcock & Co., cooler to his bar and has had his pool tables recovered and everything put in an up-to date style. He has a large parlor with a piano for parties and the accommodation of his patrons. The wines, liquors and cigars are of the best quality. He extends an invitation to his friends and the public in general to his hotel.

A Successful Architect.

Samuel Prescott Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, an architect of much note and ability, secured the contract for drawing the plans for the handsome Y. M. C. A. building to be erected in the near future at Sing Sing, N. Y. The structure is to be one of the finest in the country and the members and officers of the Associantion are greatly pleased with Mr. Hall's work.

Forest Fires Raging.

The annual forest fires in the woods at the base of the Watchung Mountains, north of Dunellen, are again raging. The blazing brush presents a pretty scene after nightfall.

MAY BE A FORTUNE AWAITING CROWELL.

David E. Crowell, of the Borough, is One of Heirs to a Fortune of $30,000 000.

FOUR HUNDRED OTHERS.

OLD ENGLISH GENTLEMEN BEQUEATHED HIS WEALTH YEARS AGO.

Said That Arrangements Are Now Nearly Completed for the Division of the Millions Among the Many Heirs.

To fall heir to thirty million dollars is among the possibilities of this life. There are few people however, who have lived to experience the pleasant sensation that must come to those who are so fortunate as to receive such a windfall.

The latest story in this connection has to do with the Crowell family of the borough and Rahway. Authentic reports come from North Attleboro, Mass., to the effect that the heirs of the Crowell family in this country have fallen heir to $30,000,000.

The story in effect is that about one hundred years ago John Crowell, who died in England, bequeathed his vast estate to his relatives "when found," Many years ago John Crowell's two brothers came to America. One settled in New England and the other, Elish Crowell, in New Jersey somewhere near Elizabeth or Rahway. The estate of John Crowell has been accumulating for nearly a century until it has increased in value to upwards of $30,000,000.

Among the heirs of John Crowell is David E. Crowell, of No. 14 Craig place, who is said to be a direct descendant of the Englishman. Mr. Crowell, of Craig place, is believed to be a great-great-grandson of John Crowell, the deceased wealthy land owner of England.

There are also a number of other heirs in Rahway, who are also relatives of Mr. Crowell, of the borough. The entire Crowell family in this country is said to have descended from John Crowell, who left the vast estate. The heirs of this immense fortune have recently been informed that they are about to come in possession of the old man's legacy. There are nearly 400 heirs and each will receive nearly $60,000 after the expenses of settling the estate have been paid.

The family of David E. Crowell, of the borough, have many friends who will be pleased to hear of his good fortune. Mr. Crowell is at present employed as a saleman in the butcher shop of Alex Thorn on Somerset street. He is past sixty years of age but still enjoys the best of health. To a reporter of the Daily Press Mr. Crowell admitted that there was some truth in the story. He said the heirs had now positive information that the money was in a bank in London and that there was also considerable real estate in another part of England. Mr. Crowell said that the heirs were prosecuting their claims vigorously as thus far with good results. Nearly every link in the chain of evidence had now been completed. Every heir had been accounted for and it only remained for the attorneys to adjust some minor details before the money would be paid to its rightful claimants.

"But it may still be a myth," said Mr. Crowell, adjusting his glasses as he smiled at the reporter. "I'm not lying awake thinking about it. If it comes it will be most welcome to wife and I in our old age."

Visited His Former Charge.

Rev. W. L. Jones, a retired minister of 60 Westervelt avenue, who twenty years ago was the minister in charge of the Baptist church at Mechanicsburg, Pa., recently paid a visit to his former charge and preached a sermon in the church and addressed the Sunday-school. It was a gala day for Mr. Jones and also for the worshippers of the church, as pastor and people were very close to each other during Mr. Jones' pastorate and, in fact, are yet.

Society Wedding in Westfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 3.—The wedding of Miss Mary E. Lynde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Lynde, takes place this evening at the bride's home on Mountain avenue, the prospective groom being John C. Morrow, of this town. The bride to be is one of Westfield's leading society women and the groom is a young New York business man and the wedding is expected to be one of the affairs of the season.

Satisfactory Results.

The net receipts from the annual fair at Bethel chapel held Nov. 21, 22, and 23, were $104 50.

FIXED SCHOOL TERMS.

MONTHLY MEETING OF PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Received Reports, Did Some Business and then Went Into Executive Session.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening, all the members being present with the exception of Messrs. Lounsbury and Probasco. After the usual number of bills were read and ordered paid, Tax Collector Smith's report was read, which showed that $34,848 56 had been received and deposited to the credit of the Board with the custodian of school monies. The medical inspectors reported that 220 pupils had been examined during the month of November. W. F. Arnold, custodian of school monies, rendered a statement which snowed a balance in the general fund of $24 359.21 after all disbursements had been deducted.

On a motion made by Superintendent Maxson the terms during the remaining school year were arranged as follows: Fall term ends December 21; winter term begins January 2, 1901, and ends April 5; spring term opens April 15 and closes June 20; the fall term for 1901 beginning September 10. This is a slight deviation from last year's schedule. The Board then went into executive session.

DOTY IDENTIFIED.

Son of a Plainfield Tailor and Formerly Kept Store in Cranford.

Nelson M. Doty, the young man arrested in Newark Saturday night, charged with attempting to pass a forged check upon Herman Gould, a Market street clothier, turns out to be a son of George B. Doty, who conducts a tailor establishment on Watchung avenue in this city. When Doty presented the bogus check he was accompanied by a stylishly-dressed woman who is supposed to be his wife. At the time of Doty's arrest Morris Fisher, a clerk at the clothing store, who had given chase after the swindler, said the prisoner was the same man who had passed a worthless check on him last spring.

Doty was a resident of Cranford for some time and conducted a tailoring establishment in the Miller building. It was known as the Doty Tailoring Company. While in business in Cranford Doty had considerable trouble with his creditors. He also claimed to have sustained loss by a fire, which was covered by insurance. When Doty was arrested Saturday night twenty-seven pawn tickets were found in his pockets, some dating back to October, 1898. All were made out for clothing pawned in Elizabeth, Newark and Brooklyn. Doty was also in business at one time in Cranford.

Doty recently moved to this city and lived at 187 Somerset street.

ROSTAND AND HIS WORKS

Prof. Edouard Lance Gave Lecture-Recitation in Randolph-Cooley School Last Night.

The assembly room at the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School at 303 La-Grande avenue, was well filled last evening by an audience composed of those of a literary taste from this city and New York.

The affair was called a lecture recitation in which Prof. Edouard Lance, of New York, essayed to portray in English selections from the French author, Edmond Rostand and his works. The professor both read and recited from these works the stories of Cyrano de Bergerac, and L'Aigion as interpreted by M. Coquelin and Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, at present filling engagements at the Garden Theatre. Prof. Lance gave a delightful recital and his clear enunciation and immitable portrayal of the characters in these celebrated works of classic fiction proved as interesting as they were highly entertaining. He is a particularly clever recitationist and convinced his auditors that he has been a close student of the celebrated author's clever works.

Parish Meeting at Grace Church.

The annual parish meeting of Grace P. E. church was held last evening and the following officers elected: wardens, DeWitt C. Ivins and Edward H. Booth; vestrymen, Marion S. Ackerman, Lewis G. Timpson, W. T. Gough, Charles E. Brooks, William Tyler, Arthur Masters and O. G. Waring; deputies to convention, John B. Dumont, George S. Clay, George M. Randall; alternates, Marion S. Ackerman, Lewis G. Timpson, R. H Depew.

Prize Caoristers.

The prize choristers of Grace church for November are Miss J. Little, Miss M. Ulrich, Miss M. Yaeger and Miss C. Miller. Miss Jessie Little received the prayer book and hymnal, which is awarded as a prize, following the cross.

BOTH SIDES ARE WORKING.

VOTING IN THIRD WARD NOT AS HEAVY AS WAS EXPECTED.

Republicans Expect to Win and Democrats are Hopeful—Tyler Republicans Working at the Polls—Commuters Voting.

Judging from the showing made at noon the vote at the charter election today will be a heavy one for such an election. Despite the rain and general unpleasantness outdoors the voters have gathered at the various polling places and cast their ballots in goodly numbers. As to the result, only the counting of the ballots can decide. The Republicans are extremely confident of electing their entire ticket while the Democrats are fairly happy in the belief that Col. Tyler and perhaps two of their ward Councilmen will win.

At noon, the best showing was made by the Second ward where the voting was heavy. Most of the commuters voted before they took their trains for New York this morning and some of the factory vote was polled at an early hour. In the Third, there was a much lighter vote out than was expected, considering the bitterness of the fight there. In the First and Fourth wards, the factory vote will be polled chiefly at the noon hour and when the factories close at night.

The Republican organization in the First and Fourth wards is particularly strong and the Republicans there are being looked after by a large force of workers. There is the chief strength of the Democrats as well. Such of the Republican leaders in the Third ward as remained faithful to the organization are hustling this morning to make up, if possible, for the desertions from their ranks. In the Second ward, the Republicans have a good showing. Of course, there is comparatively little to do in the Second and Third wards except during the hours when the commuters come and go and when the factory vote is out.

Many of the prominent Republicans who have supported Col. Tyler in the campaign have been on hand about the polling place this morning. Contrary to a rumor current last evening they are using Republican tickets with Tyler pasters and are making no effort to gain votes for the entire Democratic ticket. The feeling between them and the "regular" Republicans is decidedly inclined towards bitterness.

JUMPED WRONG WAY.

Italian Nearly Killed in Somerville While Getting Off Trolley Car Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, December 4.—Guiseppe Zuzzuri jumped off a moving trolley car backwards yesterday, and narrowly escaped with his life. His right hand was broken near the thumb, a hole was knocked in his head, and his trousers nearly torn off. The wheels just grazed his head, and spectators shut their eys, thinking that he would be crushed. He was carried into Reusswig's drug store, nearby, and medical aid summoned. He was subsequently taken to his home in Raritan. Zuzzuri is about 60 years old and was on his way to New York.

Annual Parish Meeting.

The annual parish meeting was held at the Church of the Holy Cross last evening when the election of wardens and vestrymen resulted as follows: Senior warden, George P. Dupee; junior warden, Dr. J. H. Carman; vestrymen, Thomas H. Pollard, C. L. Nichols, Horsley Barker, E. C. Perkins, A. E. Faber, Jr.; delegates to the Diocesan convention, George P. Dupee, James A. Alexander, A. E. Faber, Jr; alternates, C. L. Nichols, G. T. Rhodes, H. R. Phillips.

To Complete Her Training.

Miss Olive DeLany, the city nurse, is preparing to leave Plainfield about January 1. She will go to Montreal, where she will pursue a six months' course in the Victorian School for Nurses, for the purpose of completing her education. Upon the completing of the course she will resume her work in this city.

Returns From Recent Fair.

The Ladies Aid Society of Hope chapel will hold an important meeting in the chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time all money and tickets will be received from the recent fair. All members are invited to attend this meeting.

EX-CHIEF'S FUNERAL.

MEMBERS OF LOCAL POLICE FORCE WILL ATTEND IN A BODY.

Arrangements Completed for Funeral Services Tomorrow—Red Men Will Conduct Service at Grave.

The entrance to police headquarters on East Front street has been draped in mourning out of respect to the memory of Former Captain George W. Grant. The police department and possibly many public officials will attend the funeral tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, 203 West Fifth street. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church. The body will be taken Thursday morning to Penn's Neck, Mercer county, for interment in the family lot.

Chief Kiely this morning selected the following policemen—the eldest members of the force—to act as pall bearers: Thomas Moore, P. J. Flannagan, Nicholas Myers, Martin Vanderweg, James Totten and George Lunger. Chief Kiely, Sergeant Frederickson and Roundsmen Flynn and Mattox, together with all members of the police force that can be spared from duty, will attend the funeral services in a body.

This morning Chief Kiely received word from the police departments of Elizabeth, New Brunswick and Perth Amboy stating that a representative from each force would be sent to attend the funeral.

The local police force will contribute a floral pillow containing an emblem of a policeman's shield and showing the figure No. 1—the number which the faithful officer's shield bore.

It is probable that a delegation from Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men will also accompany the body to its final resting place on Thursday morning. Last night F. A. Weber, V. W. Nash and Thomas Osment, a committee from the Red Men's order, called at the home of the deceased's family and made arrangements to conduct the services at the grave in Penn's Neck. The honorary pall-bearers have been selected from the members of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe.

FEARED GREAT CALAMITY.

Accident to Locomotive Whistle Caused a Continued Blast and Alarmed Many People Last Night.

Continued blowing of an engine whistle caused a short reign of terror about the city last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, and hundreds of people were attracted, thinking that some great calamity had befallen the city. The whistle was on engine No. 586, one of the large type, that was drawing the eastbound Royal Blue Line train which is due in this city at 6:15 o'clock.

The train was speeding along at a 60-mile-an-hour clip between Bound Brook and Dunellen, when Conductor John Merlette gave Engineer Bernard Munn the signal to stop at Plainfield to let off passengers. The engineer responded with the customary double toot of the whistle, but when he released his hold of the whistle cord the mechanism failed to work properly and the piercing shriek continued. The train was run as far as Elmwood place, where a stop was made to fix the whistle. In the meantime hundreds of people were coming from all directions. Some thought the town on fire, while others thought that there was a terrible wreck on the railroad.

The engineer and his fireman were working like beavers to put a stop to the terrible sound which was rapidly exhausting the steam in the engine. Quantities of waste were stuffed in and about the apparatus, but would blow out almost as soon as put in. Finally, after a delay of over a half hour, the whistle was repaired and the train proceeded on its way, much to the relief of everyone within hearing distance.

Removing Telephone Wires.

Employes of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company are at work removing disused wires and poles on Madison avenue, which have been replaced by underground conduits. A heavy distributing pole was removed yesterday from the new roadway, near the bridge, and replaced in the rear of the Babcock building.

Valuable Addition.

The choir of the First Baptist church has been materially strengthened through the addition of Mrs. B. Willoughby Annin, of the borough. Mrs. Annin has a well-trained soprano voice and sings with much expression.

Sunday-School Institute.

The third of a series of Sunday-school institutes will be held this evening at Hope Memorial chapel. A very interesting and attractive programme has been arranged.

CITY FATHERS DID ONLY ROUTINE WORK

Session of City Council on Eve of Election Was Only a Short One.

MANY PETITIONS RECEIVED.

CORPORATION COUNSEL REPORTED ON SUIT AGAINST CITY.

Street Committee Had a Little Batch of Miscellaneous Business to be Transacted—Resolutions on Captain Grant's Death.

The political atmosphere surrounding the Common Council chamber last evening had a tendency to make the session a comparatively short one. President J. B. Dumont attended a meeting of the Republican city executive committee, and his position was filled temporarily by Councilman Corlell. All the other members were present.

The regular order of business was suspended at first to receive objections to the passage of an ordinance which provides for the establishment of grades in certain streets and avenues. Thers were no objections and the ordinance was adopted on the third reading and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Leonidas Dennis, formerly a resident of 520 Stelle avenue, but now residing on Morningside avenue, New York, asked the Council through a communication to cancel an assessment of $300 on personal property. His reasons for asking this were that since October 21st, 1899, he has been a resident of New York, and that the assessment is an error. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

An opinion from the Court of Error and Appeals regarding the constitutionality of the Martin Act, was given in the case of Wilbert J. Flock and Frederick Flock by their next friend against Jeptha Smith. The Court sustained the Act and showed the procedure in enforcing the same. Silas D. Drake asked the Council to locate two fire hydrants on Hillside and Evergreen avenues for the protection of the new dwellings now being erected there. The matter was referred. Two electric lights were asked for on Columbia avenue near Leland avenue. Chas. Sandborn asked for the remittance of taxes paid by his wife by mistake. He has already paid the tax. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

Corporation Counsel Marsh submitted his regular report in which he stated that the Supreme Court had sustained the decision in favor of the city in the case of Mrs. Sarah Milliken against the city of Plainfield in the action brought for damages alleged by the establishment of the sewage beds. The Court, however, will allow the plaintiff to file proof that the work of establishing the beds was improperly done. If this is done a move will be made by the city. Mr. Marsh asked for the privilege of withholding his opinion in this matter until the plaintiff should take advantage of the privilege allowed. Mr. Marsh also reported progress in the enforcement of the Martin Act.

Building Inspector Doane reported that fifteen permits had been granted during the month. Mr. VanHerwerden offered a resolution which provided for the drawing of a warrant for $61,915 05 to pay the State and county tax for 1900. Another resolution by the same member provided that a sum not exceeding $75 be taken from the general fund to be used to keep the gravel pit in repair and to trim trees.

Mr. Tolles reported that communications received from the executors of the Babcock estate regarding the establishment of a crosswalk at the corner of West Front street and Madison avenue, and the one from J. W. Yates asking for the establishment of a curb line, had been answered and the requests granted.

Mr. Tolles also reported concerning Frederick C. Jennings' claim for an amount he expended for the treatment and care of Mr. Robinson, an employe of the city, who was injured through an accident caused by the city steam roller. Mr. Jennings, it will be remembered, was driving along West Front street, when his horses became frightened at the roller. The wagon struck Robinson and knocked him down. Mr. Jennings took proper care of the man and then asked the Council to reimburse him. Mr. Tolles reported that the Council has no authority to pay Mr. Jennings and besides it would establish a bad precedent. The report of the committee and the claim was ordered returned to

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

At the outgoing of the old and the incoming of the new century you begin the last session of the Fifty-sixth congress with evidences on every hand of individual and national prosperity and with proof of the growing strength and increasing power for good of Republican institutions. Your countrymen will join with you in felicitation that American liberty is more firmly established than ever before and that love for it and the determination to preserve it are more universal than at any former period of our history.

In our foreign intercourse the dominant question has been the treatment of the Chinese problem. Apart from this our relations with the powers have been happy.

The recent troubles in China spring from the antiforeign agitation which for the past three years has gained strength in the northern provinces. Their origin lies deep in the character of the Chinese races and in the traditions of their government. The telegraph and the railway spreading over their land, the steamers plying on their waterways, the merchant and the missionary penetrating year by year farther to the interior, became to the Chinese mind types of an alien invasion, changing the course of their national life and fraught with vague forebodings of disaster to their beliefs and their self control.

Posting of antiforeign placards became a daily occurrence, which the repeated reprobation of the imperial power failed to check or punish. These inflammatory appeals to the ignorance and superstition of the masses, mendacious and absurd in their accusations and deeply hostile in their spirit, could not but work cumulative harm. They aimed at no particular closs of foreigners; they were impartial in attacking everything foreign.

GROWTH OF TROUBLE.

An outbreak in Shangtung in which German missionaries were slain was the too natural result of these malevolent teachings. The posting of seditious placards, exhorting to the utter destruction of foreigners and of every foreign thing, continued unrebuked. Hostile demonstrations toward the stranger gained strength by organization.

The sect commonly styled the Boxers developed greatly in the provinces north of the Yang-tse and with the collusion of many notable officials, including some in the immediate councils of the throne itself, became alarmingly aggressive. No foreigner's life, outside of the protected treaty ports, was safe. No foreign interest was secure from spoliation.

The diplomatic representatives of the powers in Peking strove in vain to check this movement. Protest was followed by demand and demand by renewed protest, to be met with perfunctory edicts from the palace and evasive and futile assurances from the tsung-li-yamen.

The increasing gravity of the conditions in China and the imminence of peril to our own diversified interests in the empire, as well as to those of all the other treaty governments, were soon appreciated by this government, causing it profound solicitude. The United States from the earliest days of foreign intercourse with China had followed a policy of peace, omitting no occasions to testify good will, to further the extension of lawful trade, to respect the sovereignty of its government and to insure by all legitimate and kindly but earnest means the fullest measure of protection for the lives and property of law abiding citizens and for the exercise of their beneficent callings among the Chinese people.

Mindful of this, it was felt to be appropriate that our purposes should be pronounced in favor of such course as would hasten united action of the powers at Peking to promote the administrative reforms so greatly needed for strengthening the imperial government and maintaining the integrity of China, in which we believed the whole western world to be alike concerned. To these ends I caused to be addressed to the several powers occupying territory and maintaining spheres of influence in China the circular proposals of 1899, inviting from them declarations of their intentions and views as to the desirability of the adoption of measures insuring the benefits of equality of treatment of all foreign trade throughout China.

THE POWERS' RESPONSES.

With gratifying unanimity the responses coincided in this common policy, enabling me to see in the successful termination of these negotiations proof of the friendly spirit which animates the various powers interested in the untrammeled development of commerce and industry in the Chinese empire as a source of vast benefit to the whole commercial world.

In this conclusion, which I had the gratification to announce as a completed engagement to the interested powers on March 20, 1900, I hopefully discerned a potential factor for the abatement of the distrust of foreign purposes which for a year past had appeared to inspire the policy of the imperial government and for the effective exertion by it of power and authority to quell the critical antiforeign movement in the northern provinces most immediately influenced by the Mantchoo sentiment.

Seeking to testify confidence in the willingness and ability of the imperial administration to redress the wrongs and prevent the evils we suffered and feared, the marine guard, which had been sent to Peking in the autumn of 1899 for the protection of the legation, was withdrawn at the earliest practicable moment, and all pending questions were remitted, as far as we were concerned, to the ordinary resorts of diplomatic intercourse.

The president continues by narrating the growth of the Boxer movement, the fighting at Taku and the siege of the legations in Peking and continues:

On July 14 the besieged had their first communication with the tsung-li-yamen, from whom a message came inviting to a conference, which was declined. Correspondence, however, ensued, and a sort of armistice was agreed upon which stopped the bombardment and lessened the rifle fire for a time. Even then no protection whatever was afforded or any aid given save to send to the legations a small supply of fruit and three sacks of flour.

Indeed the only communication had with the Chinese government related to the occasional delivery or dispatch of a telegram or to the demands of the tsung-li-yamen for the withdrawal of the legations to the coast under escort. Not only are the protestations of the Chinese government that it protected and succored the legations positively contradicted, but irresistible proof accumulates that the attacks upon them were made by imperial troops, regularly uniformed, armed and officered, belonging to the command of Jung Lu, the imperial commander in chief. Decrees encouraging the Boxers, organizing them under prominent imperial officers, provisioning them and even granting them large sums in the name of the empress dowager are known to exist. Members of the tsung-li-yamen who counseled protection of the foreigners were beheaded. Even in the distant provinces men suspected of foreign sympathy were put to death, prominent among these being Chang Yen-hoon, formerly Chinese minister in Washington.

OUR POLICY IN CHINA.

The president then tells in brief the story of the rescue of the legations and proceeds:

The policy of the United States through all this trying period was clearly announced and scrupulously carried out. A circular note to the powers dated July 3 proclaimed our attitude. Treating the condition in the north as one of virtual anarchy, in which the great provinces of the south and southeast had no share, we regarded the local authorities in the latter quarters as representing the Chinese people with whom we sought to remain in peace and friendship. Our declared aims involved no war against the Chinese nation. We adhered to the legitimate office of rescuing the imperiled legation, obtaining redress for wrongs already suffered, securing wherever possible the safety of American life and property in China and preventing a spread of the disorders or their recurrence.

As was then said, "The policy of the government of the United States is to seek a solution which may bring about permanent safety and peace to China, preserve Chinese territorial and administrative entity, protect all rights guaranteed to friendly powers by treaty and international law and safeguard for the world the principle of equal and impartial trade with all parts of the Chinese empire."

Faithful to those professions which, as it proved, reflected the views and purposes of the other co-operating governments, all our efforts have been directed toward ending the anomalous situation in China by negotiations for a settlement at the earliest possible moment. As soon as the sacred duty of relieving our legation and its dependents was accomplished we withdrew from active hostilities, leaving our legation under an adequate guard in Peking as a channel of negotiation and settlement, a course adopted by others of the interested powers. Overtures of the empowered representatives of the Chinese emperor have been considerately entertained.

The president recapitulates the attitude of the administration to the Russian and French notes and concludes that part of his message relating to China as follows:

The government of Russia has put forward a suggestion that in the event of protracted divergence of views in regard to indemnities the matter may be relegated to the court of arbitration at The Hague. I favorably incline to this, believing that high tribunal could not fail to reach a solution no less conducive to the stability and enlarged prosperity of China itself than immediately beneficial to the powers.

THE EXPOSITION AT PARIS.

The president then refers to various matters affecting foreign countries rather than our own and continues by speaking of our part in the Paris exhibition. He says:

Despite all these drawbacks the contribution of the United States was not only the largest foreign display, but was among the earliest in place and the most orderly in arrangement. Our exhibits were shown in 101 out of 121 classes and more completely covered the entire classification than those of any other nation. In total number they ranked next after those of France, and the attractive form in which they were presented secured general attention.

A criterion of the extent and success of our participation and of the thoroughness with which our exhibits were organized is seen in the awards granted to American exhibitors by the international jury—namely, grand prizes, 240; gold medals, 597; silver medals, 776; bronze medals, 541, and honorable mentions, 322—2,476 in all, being the greatest total number given to the exhibit of any exhibiting nation, as well as the largest number in each grade. This significant recognition of merit in competition with the chosen exhibits of all other nations and at the hands of juries almost wholly made up of representatives of France and other competing countries is not only most gratifying, but is especially valuable, since it sets us to the front in international questions of supply and demand, while the large porportion of awards in the classes of art and artistic manufactures afforded unexpected proof of the stimulation of national culture by the prosperity that flows from natural productiveness joined to industrial excellence.

Good will prevails in our relations with the German empire. An amicable adjustment of the long pending question of the admission of our life insurance companies to do business in Prussia has been reached. One of the principal companies has already been readmitted, and the way is opened for the others to share the privilege.

SAMOA.

The settlement of the Samoan problem, to which I adverted in my last message, has accomplished good results. Peace and contentment prevail in the islands, especially in Tutuila, where a convenient administration, that has won the confidence and esteem of the kindly disposed natives, has been organized under the direction of the commander of the United States naval station at Pango-Pango.

An imperial meat inspection law has been enacted for Germany. While it may simplify the inspections, it prohibits certain products heretofore admitted. There is still great uncertainty as to whether our well nigh extinguished German trade in meat products can revive under its new burdens. Much will depend upon regulations not yet promulgated, which we confidently hope will be free from the discriminations which attended the enforcement of the old statutes.

Our friendly relations with Great Britain continue. The war in southern Africa introduced important questions. A condition unusual in international wars was presented in that while one belligerent had control of the seas the other had no ports, shipping or direct trade, but was only accessible through the territory of a neutral. Vexatious questions arose through Great Britain's action in respect to neutral cargoes, not contraband in their own nature, shipped to Portuguese South Africa on the score of probable or suspected ultimate destination to the Boer states.

Such consignments in British ships, by which alone direct trade is kept up between our ports and southern Africa, were seized in application of a municipal law prohibiting British vessels from trading with the enemy without regard to any contraband character of the goods, while cargoes shipped to Delagoa Bay in neutral bottoms were arrested on the ground of alleged destination to enemy's country. Appropriate representations on our part resulted in the British government agreeing to purchase outright all such goods shown to be the actual property of American citizens, thus closing the incident to the satisfaction of the immediately interested parties, although unfortunately without a broad settlement of the question of a neutral's right to send goods not contraband per se to a neutral port adjacent to a belligerent area.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

The work of marking certain provisional boundary points for convenience of administration around the head of Lynn canal, in accordance with the temporary arrangement of October, 1899, was completed by a joint survey in July last. The modus vivendi has so far worked without friction, and the Dominion government has provided rules and regulations for securing to our citizens the benefit of the reciprocal stipulation that the citizens or subjects of either power found by that arrangement within the temporary jurisdiction of the other shall suffer no diminution of the rights and privileges they have hitherto enjoyed; but, however necessary such an expedient may have been to tide over the grave emergencies of the situation, it is at best but an unsatisfactory makeshift, which should not be suffered to delay the speedy and complete establishment of the frontier line to which we are entitled under the Russo-American treaty for the cession of Alaska.

In this relation I may refer again to the need of definitely marking the Alaskan boundary where it follows the one hundred and forty-first meridian. A convention to that end has been before the senate for some two years, but as no action has been taken I contemplate negotiating a new convention for a joint determination of the meridian by telegraphic observations. These, it is believed, will give more accurate and unquestionable results than the sidereal methods heretofore independently followed, which, as is shown, proved discrepant at several points on the line, although not varying at any place more than 700 feet.

The assassination of King Humbert called forth sincere expressions of sorrow from this government and people, and occasion was fitly taken to testify to the Italian nation the high regard here felt for the memory of the lamented ruler.

INTEROCEANIC CANAL.

The growth of Japan is next referred to. The president says our commercial intercourse with Mexico continues to thrive. The movement for international arbitration is the subject of another paragraph, and the president then turns to the interoceanic canal. He says:

The all important matter of an interoceanic canal has assumed a new phase. Adhering to its refusal to reopen the question of the forfeiture of the contract of the Maritime Canal company, which was terminated for alleged nonexecution in October, 1899, the government of Nicaragua has since supplemented that action by declaring the so styled Eyre-Cragin option void for nonpayment of the stipulated advance. Protests in relation to these acts have been filed in the state department and are under consideration. Deeming itself relieved from existing engagements, the Nicaraguan government shows a disposition to deal freely with the canal question either in the way of negotiations with the United States or by taking measures to promote the waterway.

Overtures for a convention to effect the building of a canal under the auspices of the United States are under consideration. In the meantime the views of the congress upon the general subject, in the light of the report of the commission appointed to examine the comparative merits of the various transisthmian ship canal projects, may be awaited.

I commend to the early attention of the senate the convention with Great Britain to facilitate the construction of such a canal and to remove any objection which might arise out of the convention commonly called the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Satisfactory progress has been made toward the conclusion of a general treaty of friendship and intercourse with Spain in replacement of the old treaty, which passed into abeyance by reason of the late war. A new convention of extradition is approaching completion, and I should be much pleased were a commercial arrangement to follow. I feel that we should not suffer to pass any opportunity to reaffirm the cordial ties that existed between us and Spain from the time of our earliest independence and to enhance the mutual benefits of that commercial intercourse which is natural between the two countries.

A bill is now pending to effect the recommendation made in my last annual message that appropriate legislation be had to carry into execution article 7 of the treaty of peace with Spain, by which the United States assumed the payment of certain claims for indemnity of its citizens against Spain. I ask that action be taken to fulfill this obligation.

We await the fulfillment of the promise of the sultan to make reparation for the injuries suffered by American citizens in Armenia and elsewhere in the Turkish empire. His majesty's good disposition in this regard has been evinced by the issuance of an irade for rebuilding the American college at Karput.

The failure of action by the senate at its last session upon the commercial conventions then submitted for its consideration and approval, although caused by the great pressure of other legislative business, has caused much disappointment to the agricultural and industrial interests of the country, which hoped to profit by their provisions. The conventional periods for their ratification having expired, it became necessary to sign additional articles extending the time for that purpose. This was requested on our part, and the other governments interested have concurred, with the exception of one convention.

The exposition of the resources and products of the western hemisphere to be held at Buffalo next year promises important results not only for the United States, but for the other participating countries. It is gratifying that the Latin American states have evinced the liveliest interest, and the fact that an international American congress will be held in the City of Mexico while the exposition is in progress encourages the hope of a larger display at Buffalo than might otherwise be practicable. The work of preparing an exhibit of our national resources is making satisfactory progress under the direction of different officials of the federal government, and the various states of the Union have shown a disposition toward the most liberal participation in the enterprise.

REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES.

The president dwells on the value of the consular reports and then turns to the revenues and expenditures. He says:

It is gratifying to be able to state that the surplus revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, were $79,527,060.18. For the six preceding years we had only deficits, the aggregate of which from 1894 to 1899, inclusive, amounted to $283,022,991.14. The receipts for the year from all sources, exclusive of postal revenues, aggregated $567,240,851.89 and expenditures for all purposes, except for the administration of the postal department, aggregated $487,713,791.71. The receipts from customs were $233,164,871.16, an increase over the preceding year of $27,036,389.41. The receipts from internal revenue were $295,327,926.76, an increase of $21,890,765.25 over 1899. The receipts from miscellaneous sources were $38,748,053.97 as against $36,394,976.92 for the previous year.

It is gratifying also to note that during the year a considerable reduction is shown in the expenditures of the government. The war department expenditures for the fiscal year 1900 were $134,774,767.78, a reduction of $95,066,486.69 over those of 1899. In the navy department the expenditures were $55,953,077.72 for the year 1900 as against $63,942,104.25 for the preceding year, a decrease of $7,989,026.53. In the expenditures on account of Indians there was a decrease in 1900 over 1899 of $2,630,604.38, and in the civil and miscellaneous expenses for 1900 there was a reduction of $13,418,065.74.

Because of the excess of revenues over expenditures the secretary of the treasury was enabled to apply bonds and other securities to the sinking fund to the amount of $56,544,556.06. The details of the sinking fund are set forth in the report of the secretary of the treasury, to which I invite attention. The secretary of the treasury estimates that the receipts for the current fiscal year will aggregate $580,000,000 and the expenditures $500,000,000, leaving an excess of revenues over expenditures of $80,000,000. The present condition of the treasury is one of undoubted strength. The available cash balance Nov. 30 was $139,303,794.50. Under the form of statement prior to the financial law of March 14 last there would have been included in the statement of available cash gold coin and bullion held for the redemption of United States notes.

If this form were pursued, the cash balance, including the present gold reserve of $150,000,000, would be $289,303,794.50. Such balance Nov. 30, 1899, was $296,495,301.55. In the general fund, which is wholly separate from the reserve and trust funds, there was on Nov. 30, $70,090,073.15 in gold coin and bullion, to which should be added $22,957,300 in gold certificates subject to issue, against which there are held in the division of redemption gold coin and bullion, making a total holding of free gold amounting to $93,047,373.15.

It will be the duty as I am sure it will be the disposition of the congress to provide whatever further legislation is needed to insure the continued parity under all conditions between our two forms of metallic money, silver and gold.

EFFECT OF FINANCIAL ACT.

The beneficial effect of the financial act of 1900, so far as it relates to a modification of the national banking act, is already apparent. The provision for the incorporation of national banks with a capital of not less than $25,000 in places not exceeding 3,000 inhabitants has resulted in the extension of banking facilities to many small communities hitherto unable to provide themselves with banking institutions under the national system. There were organized from the enactment of the law up to and including Nov. 30 369 national banks, of which 266 were with capital less than $50,000 and 103 with capital of $50,000 or more.

Our foreign trade shows a remarkable record of commercial and industrial progress. The total of imports and exports for the first time in the history of the country exceeded $2,000,000,000. The exports are greater than they have ever been before, the total for the fiscal year 1900 being $1,394,483,082, an increase over 1899 of $167,459,780, an increase over 1898 of $163,000,752, over 1897 of $343,489,526 and greater than in 1896 by $511,876,144.

The growth of manufactures in the United States is evidenced by the fact that exports of manufactured products largely exceed those of any previous year, their value for 1900 being $433,851,756, against $339,592,146 in 1899, an increase of 28 per cent.

Agricultural products were also exported during 1900 in greater volume than in 1899, the total for the year being $835,858,123, against $784,776,142 in 1899.

The imports for the year amounted to $849,941,184, an increase over 1899 of $152,792,695. This increase is largely in materials for manufacture and is in response to the rapid development of manufacturing in the United States.

I recommend that the congress at its present session reduce the internal revenue taxes imposed to meet the expenses of the war with Spain in the sum of $30,000,000. This reduction should be secured by the remission of those taxes which experience has shown to be the most burdensome to the industries of the people.

I specially urge that there be included in whatever reduction is made the legacy tax bequests for public uses of a literary, educational or charitable character.

OUR MERCHANT MARINE.

American vessels during the past three years have carried about 9 per cent of our exports and imports. Foreign ships should carry the least, not the greatest, part of American trade. The remarkable growth of our steel industries, the progress of shipbuilding for the domestic trade and our steadily maintained expenditures for the navy have created an opportunity to place the United States in the first rank of commercial maritime powers.

Besides realizing a proper national aspiration, this will mean the establishment and healthy growth along all our coasts of a distinctive national industry, expanding the field for the profitable employment of labor and capital. It will increase the transportation facilities and reduce freight charges on the vast volume of products brought from the interior to the seaboard for export and will strengthen an arm of the national defense upon which the founders of the government and their successors have relied. In again urging immediate action by the congress on measures to promote

American shipping and foreign trade I direct attention to the recommendations on the subject in previous messages and particularly to the opinion expressed in the message of 1899:

"I am satisfied the judgment of the country favors the policy of aid to our merchant marine, which will broaden our commerce and markets and upbuild our sea carrying capacity for the products of agriculture and manufacture, which, with the increase of our navy, mean more work and wages to our countrymen as well as a safeguard to American interests in every part of the world."

In my last annual message to the congress I called attention to the necessity for early action to remedy such evils as might be found to exist in connection with combinations of capital organized into trusts and again invite attention to my discussion of the subject at that time, which concluded with these words:

"It is apparent that uniformity of legislation upon this subject in the several states is much to be desired. It is to be hoped that such uniformity, founded in a wise and just discrimination between what is injurious and what is useful and necessary in business operations, may be obtained and that means may be found for the congress, within the limitations of its constitutional power, so to supplement an effective code of state legislation as to make a complete system of laws throughout the United States adequate to compel a general observance of the salutary rules to which I have referred.

"The whole question is so important and farreaching that I am sure no part of it will be lightly considered, but every phase of it will have the studied deliberation of the congress, resulting in wise and judicious action."

Restraint upon such combinations as are injurious and which are within federal jurisdiction should be promptly applied by the congress.

THE PHILIPPINES.

In my last annual message I dwelt at some length upon the condition of affairs in the Philippines. While seeking to impress upon you that the grave responsibility of the future government of those islands rests with the congress of the United States, I abstained from recommending at that time a specific and final form of government for the territory actually held by the United States forces and in which as long as insurrection continues the military arm must necessarily be supreme. I stated my purpose, until the congress shall have made known the formal expression of its will, to use the authority vested in me by the constitution and the statutes to uphold the sovereignty of the United States in those distant islands as in all other places where our flag rightfully floats, placing to that end at the disposal of the army and navy all the means which the liberality of congress and the people have provided. No contrary expression of the will of the congress having been made, I have steadfastly pursued the purpose so declared, employing the civil arm as well toward the accomplishment of pacification and the institution of local governments within the lines of authority and law.

Progress in the hoped for direction has been favorable. Our forces have successfully controlled the greater part of the islands, overcoming the organized forces of insurgents and carrying order and administrative regularity to all quarters. What opposition remains is for the most part scattered, obeying no concerted plan of strategic action, operating only by methods common to the traditions of guerrilla warfare, which, while ineffective to alter the general control now established, are still sufficient to beget insecurity among the populations that have felt the good results of our control and thus delay the conferment upon them of the fuller measures of local self government, of education and of industrial and agricultural development which we stand ready to give to them.

By the spring of this year the effective opposition of the dissatisfied Tagals to the authority of the United States was virtually ended, thus opening the door for the extension of a stable administration over much of the territory of the archipelago.

AMNESTY PROCLAIMED.

The president then speaks of the appointment of the Philippine commission and his instructions to that body. He continues:

Coincidently with the entrance of the commission upon its labors I caused to be issued by General MacArthur, the military governor of the Philippines, on June 21, 1900, a proclamation of amnesty in generous terms, of which many of the insurgents took advantage, among them a number of important leaders.

This commission, composed of eminent citizens representing the diverse geographical and political interests of the country and bringing to their task the ripe fruits of long and intelligent service in educational, administrative and judicial careers, made great progress from the outset. As early as Aug. 21, 1900, it submitted a preliminary report, which will be laid before the congress and from which it appears that already the good effects of returning order are felt; that business, interrupted by hostilities, is improving as peace extends; that a larger area is under sugar cultivation than ever before, that the customs revenues are greater than at any time during the Spanish rule, that economy and efficiency in the military administration have created a surplus fund of $6,000,000 available for needed public improvements, that a stringent civil service law is in preparation, that railroad communications are expanding, opening up rich districts, and that a comprehensive scheme of education is being organized.

Later reports from the commission show yet more encouraging advance toward insuring the benefits of liberty and good government to the Filipinos in the interest of humanity and with the aim of building up an enduring, self supporting and self administering community in those far eastern seas. I would impress upon the congress that whatever legislation may be enacted in respect to the Philippine Islands should be along these generous lines. The fortune of war has thrown upon this nation an unsought trust which should be unselfishly discharged and devolved upon this government a moral as well as material responsibility toward these millions whom we have freed from an oppressive yoke.

I have on another occasion called the Filipinos "the wards of the nation." Our obligation as guardian was not lightly assumed. It must not be otherwise than honestly fulfilled, aiming first of all to benefit those who have come under our fostering care. It is our duty so to treat them that our flag may be no less beloved in the mountains of Luzon and the fertile zones of Mindanao and Negros than it is at home; that there, as here, it shall be the revered symbol of liberty, enlightenment and progress in every avenue of develpoment.

The Filipinos are a race quick to learn and to profit by knowledge. He would be rash who, with the teachings of contemporaneous history in view, would fix a limit to the degree of culture and advancement yet within the reach of these people if our duty toward them be faithfully performed.

PORTO RICO AND CUBA.

The civil government of Porto Rico provided for by the act of the congress approved April 12, 1900, is in successful operation. The courts have been established. The governor and his associates, working intelligently and harmoniously, are meeting with commendable success.

On the 6th of November a general election was held in the island for members of the legislature, and the body elected has been called to convene on the first Monday of December.

I recommend that legislation be enacted by the congress conferring upon the secretary of the interior supervision over the public lands in Porto Rico, and that he be directed to ascertain the location and quantity of lands the title to which remained in the crown of Spain at the date of cession of Porto Rico to the United States, and that appropriations necessary for surveys be made, and that the methods of the disposition of such lands be prescribed by law.

On the 25th of July, 1900, I directed that a call be issued for an election in Cuba for members of a constitutional convention to frame a constitution as a basis for a stable and independent government in the island. The election was held on the 15th of September, and the convention assembled on the 5th of November, 1900, and is now in session.

When the convention concludes its labors, I will transmit to the congress the constitution as framed by the convention for its consideration and for such action as it may deem advisable.

I renew the recommendation made in my special message of Feb. 10, 1899, as to the necessity for cable communication between the United States and Hawaii, with extension to Manila.

THE ARMY'S STRENGTH.

The present strength of the army is 100,000 men—65,000 regulars and 35,000 volunteers. Under the act of March 2, 1899, on the 30th of June next the present volunteer force will be discharged, and the regular army will be reduced to 2,447 officers and 29,025 enlisted men.

We have in Cuba between 5,000 and 6,000 troops. For the present our troops in that island cannot be withdrawn or materially diminished and certainly not until the conclusion of the labors of the constitutional convention now in session and a government provided by the new constitution shall have been established and its stability assured.

In Porto Rico we have reduced the garrisons to 1,636, which includes 879 native troops. There is no room for further reduction here.

We will be required to keep a considerable force in the Philippine Islands for some time to come. From the best information obtainable we will need there for the immediate future from 45,000 to 60,000 men. I am sure the number may be reduced as the insurgents shall come to acknowledge the authority of the United States, of which there are assuring indications.

It must be apparent that we will require an army of about 60,000 and that during present conditions in Cuba and the Philippines the president should have authority to increase the force to the present number of 100,000. Included in this number authority should be given to raise native troops in the Philippines up to 15,000, which the Taft commission believes will be more effective in detecting and suppressing guerrillas, assassins and ladrones than our own soldiers.

I favor the recommendation of the secretary of war for the detail of officers from the line of the army when vacancies occur in the adjutant general's department, inspector general's department, quartermaster's department, subsistence department, pay department, ordnance department and signal corps.

The president speaks of the rapid growth of the postal service and approves the recommendations of the secretary of the navy for new vessels and for more officers and men. The pension roll shows a net increase of 2,010 names. Action is recommended in the way of increasing the number of schools in Alaska. Progress is noted in the educational, agricultural and railroad development of the Hawaiian Islands. The president in connection with labor says:

In my annual message of Dec. 5, 1898, I called attention to the necessity for some amendment of the alien contract law. There still remain important features of the rightful application of the eight hour law for the benefit of labor and of the principle of arbitration, and I again commend these subjects to the careful attention of the congress.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

The civil service commission is greatly embarrassed in its work for want of an adequate permanent force for clerical and other assistance.

Its needs are fully set forth in its report. I invite attention to the report and especially urge upon the congress that this important bureau of the public service, which passes upon the qualifications and character of so large a number of the officers and employees of the government, should be supported by all needed appropriations to secure promptness and efficiency.

I am very much impressed with the statement made by the heads of all the departments of the urgent necessity of a hall of public records. In every departmental building in Washington, so far as I am informed, the space for official records is not only exhausted, but the walls of rooms are lined with shelves, the middle floor space of many rooms is filled with file cases, and garrets and basements, which were never intended and are unfitted for their accommodation, are crowded with them.

In our great prosperity we must guard against the danger it invites of extravagance in government expenditures and appropriations, and the chosen representatives of the people will, I doubt not, furnish an example in their legislation of that wise economy which in a season of plenty husbands for the future In this era of great business activity and opportunity caution is not untimely. It will not abate, but strengthen, confidence; it will not retard, but promote, legitimate industrial and commercial expansion.

Our growing power brings with it temptations and perils requiring constant vigilance to avoid. It must not be used to invite conflicts nor for oppression, but for the more effective maintenance of those principles of equality and justice upon which our institutions and happiness depend. Let us keep always in mind that the foundation of our government is liberty; its superstructure, peace. WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

A DEADLY EXPLOSION

Five Killed and Thirteen Injured In Chicago.

RAILWAY POWER HOUSE DEMOLISHED

A Passing Train Struck by Flying Fragments of the Boiler and Several Passengers Hurt—Cause of Accident a Mystery.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Four men and one boy were instantly killed and 13 persons injured by the explosion of a boiler in the power house of the Chicago and Northwestern road last evening. Several of the injured are hurt so badly that they may die.

The power house was a two story structure which stood west of the passenger station and north of the tracks leading into it. On the first floor was the boiler room, containing a battery of four boilers, and the dynamo room, which held nine dynamos. Twelve men were employed around the building, and in addition to such of these as were present at the time a number of strangers were standing around watching the dynamos. Four of those killed were people not employed by the road, and all four bodies were taken to the morgue unidentified.

It is not known what caused the explosion, as everything in the boiler room seemed in excellent condition, according to the uninjured men who worked in the place. At a few minutes past 5 o'clock one of the boilers in the center of the row of four burst with a detonation that was plainly heard at points a mile distant. The end of the boiler nearest the tracks was the weak part of the structure, and it flew toward the depot tracks and landed fully 70 feet away from its starting point. The boiler itself, which weighed ten tons, lies 60 feet from the boiler house.

Just as the explosion occurred the Ashland limited train was pulling out of the station. The greater part of the train had passed, and, though the cars were all heavily battered with falling brick and debris, none of them was badly damaged, and the passengers within them escaped unhurt.

The last two cars, a Pullman sleeper and a drawing room car, were not so fortunate, and the boiler head and the boiler itself caught them. The boiler struck the car in the rear, while the boiler head plowed through the one immediately in front. Fortunately both flew high and struck the cars above the windows, carrying away portions of the roof and vestibule. But few of the passengers happened at the time to be in the ends of the two cars hit by the flying metal, and such of them as were hurt were struck by flying splinters or suffered from being thrown violently to the floor.

The property loss to the road will not be far from $100,000. The boiler house was practically reduced to a ruin, two sides being blown completely out, and the costly electric plant was nearly torn to pieces.

Some Naval Movements.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The navy department has been informed that the gunboat Manila has left Cavite with a detachment of marines for the occupation of Subig and Olongapo, which temporarily have been transferred to the control of the department. The Culgoa is being used as a station ship at Cavite. The monitor Monadnock will dock soon at Hongkong and later proceed to Shanghai. The Celtic is to touch at Iloilo on her way from Cavite to Sydney. The Scindia has left Cavite for Hongkong. The gunboat Petrel is on patrol duty.

Colonial Cabinet Meets.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 4.—The colonial cabinet met Sunday, holding the first meeting that had been held on that day within 25 years. The ministers met again yesterday to discuss the anti-British agitation. It is expected that 10,000 persons will attend the Worcester congress. The principal speaker will be Olive Shreiner, the novelist. Eleven suspects arrested at Johannesburg in connection with the plot against the life of Lord Roberts will be deported, the evidence against them not being sufficient to warrant a formal trial.

A Constable Cremated.

DALLAS, Dec. 4.—John Baines, a former constable, was found running wildly in Elm street all on fire. His clothing had been saturated with turpentine and ignited. He lived an hour, perfectly conscious, and made a statement to the state's attorney, on the strength of which John Chapman and Ed Faulkner, saloon keepers, were arrested, charged with causing Baines' death.

Chicago Man In Trouble.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Samuel George Dessauer of Chicago, who was liberated from prison yesterday, where he had been confined for defrauding a London hotel, was immediately rearrested and arraigned at Bow street police court, charged on an extradition warrant with having committed forgery within the jurisdiction of the United States. He was remanded.

Kentucky's Officers In Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 4.—Captain Colby M. Chester and five officers of the United States battleship Kentucky, now at Smyrna, arrived in Constantinople yesterday morning. In the evening a dinner was given in their honor by the United States charge d'affaires, Mr. Lloyd Griscom, at which the British and German embassadors were present.

Suspected Russian Spies.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 4.—The recent appearance of a band of Russian saw filers, supposed to be military spies, has occasioned lively comment in the Norwegian press, which has warned the people not to furnish them with any information. Similar bands of Russian saw filers have provoked similar uneasiness in Sweden.

Russia's Population.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 4.—The population of Russia was estimated at about 75,000,000 in 1861, the year of the emancipation of the serfs. It is now calculated to be over 136,000,000, according to a statement just published by the ministry of finance.

Porto Rico Delegates Meet.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 4.—The recently elected house of delegates met at half past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 31 delegates being present. No action was taken beyond the work of organizing the chamber and electing the speaker and other officers.

Weather Probabilities.

Rain; fresh southerly winds, becoming variable.

CONGRESS IN SESSION

Crowds Witness the Opening Many Floral Tributes.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE READ

Both Houses Adjourn Out of Respect to Memory of Deceased Members. Republican Caucus Gives Ship Subsidy Bill Precedence.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The two houses met at noon yesterday and opened the second and last session of the Fifty-sixth congress of the United States. The weather was propitious, and the usual crowds flocked to the capitol to witness the event.

There were 85 senators on the printed roll, the full number being 90. The five vacancies were those caused by the failure by the legislatures of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Utah to elect a senator from each of these states, by the resignation late in the last session of Senator Clark of Montana and by the death last week of Senator Davis of Minnesota. There had been a prior death since the close of the last session, that of Senator Gear of Iowa, but the vacancy thus occasioned was filled by the governor's appointment of Jonathan P. Dolliver, whose name appeared on the printed list of senators.

As the hour of noon approached the chamber looked as if all the florists' stores in the city had been sacked to furnish flowers for senators. They were banked on desks so that it was impossible to see any one seated behind them.

It had been the purpose of the senate to announce the deaths of Senators Gear of Iowa and Davis of Minnesota immediately after assembling and then to adjourn and to receive the message of the president today, but as this had been announced by the leaders of both branches of congress to be a "quiet business session" it was determined to receive the message and thus gain one day in a session when that much time may be of immense importance.

Aside from the reading of the message and the administration of the oath of office to William B. Dillingham, the new senator from Vermont, who succeeds the late Justin S. Morrill, no business was transacted.

The opening of the session in the house was brilliant, but not exciting. There were the usual throngs in the galleries and the usual display of floral pieces on the floor, but the proceedings were purely formal, consisting of the rapping to order by the speaker, prayer by the chaplain, the roll call of members, the appointment of the formal committees to notify the president and the senate that the house was ready to do business and the reception and reading of the president's message. Despite the fact that a great presidential campaign had concluded within a month the best of feeling seemed to prevail between victors and vanquished. The reading of the message, which naturally was the feature of the day, occupied over two hours. It was listened to with respectful interest by both sides.

The following members elect took the oath of allegiance: Albert D. Shaw, who succeeds the late Representative Chickering of New York; Allen F. McDermott, who succeeds the late Representative Daly of New Jersey; L. H. Ball, who succeeds the late Representative Hoffecker of Delaware; Edward De V. Morrell, who succeeds the late Representative Harmer of Pennsylvania; William Richardson, who succeeds General Joe Wheeler of Alabama; W. H. Jackson, who succeeds Governor Smith of Maryland, and Samuel D. Woods, who succeeds Representative De Vries of California.

The deaths of the late Representatives Daly of New Jersey and Hoffecker of Delaware and Senators Davis of Minnesota and Gear of Iowa were announced, and as a further mark of respect to their memories the house adjourned until today.

President McKinley's message is a document of 18,000 words.

The interesting features of the message are the discussion of the army question, the Chinese problem, affairs in the Philippines, with brief references to Cuba and Porto Rico; statistics showing the prosperity of the country, the needs of the navy and the amicable relations of the United States with other countries.

A cut of $30,000,000 is recommended in the war tax.

The president repeats his injunction to congress last year that dangerous combinations of capital must not be permitted.

A standing army of 100,000 men is recommended, 60,000 of whom should be available for service in the Philippines.

Affairs in the Philippines the president declares to be progressing satisfactorily. The establishment of a local government he regards as a matter of the near future.

The president inclines to a pacific policy in China and favors the settlement of the existing trouble at The Hague provided the powers cannot agree.

The growth of all industries is commented on and the continuance of cordial relations with foreign powers noted.

In closing the president counsels economy and moderation in the matter of appropriations.

The Republican senatorial committee on order of business decided that the ship subsidy bill should displace the Spooner Philippine bill as the unfinished business. It also considered at the same time the disposition of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and decided that that question should receive alternate attention with the shipping bill. The arrangement provides that the shipping bill shall have preference, but that when no one is prepared to make a speech on it the senate shall go into executive session for the consideration of the treaty. In accordance with this, Senator Frye at the first opportunity today will move to take up the bill.

A caucus of the Democratic members of the house of representatives was held in the hall of the house at the close of the session to consider the course to be taken on army legislation. Representative Hay of Virginia, a member of the military committee, explained the status of the army bill proposed by Secretary Root and urged the desirability of not legislating until the course of the government as to the Philippines had been more definitely determined. He proposed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this caucus that the law now in existence as to the army be continued for two years from July 1, 1900." This led to extended discussion. Mr. Hay finally withdrew his resolution, and the other propositions were not pressed, the caucus adjourning without action.

Congress in Session.

Although President McKinley does not begin his second term until March 4th, and the members of Congress, who were elected last month, do not take their seats in the National Legislature until that time, the Republican administration of the country will begin at once to carry out plans for a continuation of the policy which the sweeping victory in November was considered an indorsement. Yesterday at noon, the second session of the Fifty-sixth Congress began and the message of President McKinley was read. The session thus begun promises to be very important despite the fact that it is a short one for the Republicans will doubtless enact some important measures.

Most important of all the subjects which this present Congress will be called upon to consider will be the reduction of the war tax. The Republicans favor this reduction but there is likely to be a lively controversy over the amount of it. Then there is the problem of the reorganization of the army. As a large number of troops, both regular and volunteer, will be mustered out next June, it will be necessary for Congress to make some provision. If the present Congress does not act, President McKinley will be compelled to convene an extra session, immediately after the Inauguration, a contingency which both parties will be desirious of preventing.

Westfield is actively agitating the question of changing from a township to a city. Mutterings have been heard in North Plainfield about the advisibility of a change from a borough to a city. Summit tried the experiment some time ago and from the point of view of the Summit Record, at least, has gained little by the change. For two years Summit has been a city and, says the Record, it has provided absolutely nothing that could not be obtained under the township plan except a police justice and a Board of Excise. In Westfield, the feeling is by no means unanimous on the subject and some of the particularly active opponents of the city scheme are planning to hold a meeting at which they expect to hear the plan roundly denounced.

A more unpleasant Election Day than this has not fallen to the share of Plainfield for many years. According to the general acceptation of the term, this is decidedly Democratic weather. As far as Plainfield is concerned, however, it is hard to say which side the inclemency of the weather will effect the more. It may slightly reduce the vote but there is enough general interest taken in the election and the workers of both parties are sufficiently active to make it likely that the rain will cut but a very small figure in influencing the balloting.

There are some citizens of Orange who want a new High School. There are others who desire to see a City Hall erected there in the near future. A plan to have them both has also found favor. At present, these projects are being agitated and there has been much discussion. As Plainfield, or some of its residents at least, want both a new High School and a City Hall, Orange's settlement of this question may throw some new light on it which will be of interest or advantage to Plainfield.

The death announced yesterday of Thos. T. Kinney, of Newark, brings to mind the fact that Mr. Kinney was the son of Hon. Wm. B. Kinney, who was minister to France under Pres. Franklin Pierce. Wm. B. Kinney married Mrs. Steadman, the famed poetess at Cedar Brook farm. She was a widow and the mother of Edmund Clarence Steadman, who is known as the Banker poet, a gentleman of much culture and fame.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Representative Howell, of Middlesex county, has been mentioned as a possible and popular Republican nominee for the Governorship next year, but he declares positively that he is not a candidate.—New York Herald.

Giving ex-Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerset, the Democratic caucus nomination for United States Senator would be rubbing it in on the free silver Democrats. It is doubtful if Mr. Clark has voted for a Democratic candidate for national or State office since 1895.—Newark News.

The merging of the street railway lines of Union county is another step in the development of the extensive trolley systems in this State. The development of the trolley system means the development of the State. There is nothing that will make a State grow quicker than up-to-date traveling facilities, and plenty of them. David Young's election as president of the merged lines of Union county is a guarantee that the evolution will go on with all possible rapidity.—Jersey City Journal.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

"Ned," the faithful old horse owned by Albert Hedden, of East Fourth street, died last week at the age of thirty-seven years. He was undoubtedly the oldest horse in this vicinity. Mr. Hedden purchased the animal twenty-eight years ago of the late Ellis Campbell and he was a true steed. During the past five years he had been on the retired list and everything was done for his comfort. He is greatly missed by all at the stables, where he was such a familiar figure and a favorite.

A new series of topographical maps of New Jersey is now ready for distribution. The separate sheets treat of the different localities throughout the State, have been drawn from detailed surveys, and are the most accurate maps of the State obtainable. They represent the cities, towns, villages, roads, railroads, streams, ponds, marshes and forested areas, and by contour lines, the shape of the surface is shown and the elevation above sea level of all points is given. These sheets may be had from John C. Smock, the State Geologist, at Trenton, at 25 cents each, according to the locality desired.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

George Giddes and family, of Duer street, spent Sunday at Millington.

Fred Sebring, of Division street, is home after a week's stay in Philadelphia.

Miss Laura Ayers, of Grant avenue, is home from a visit with friends at Hoboken.

Miss Julia McCann, of West Third street, is spending a few days with Somerville relatives.

Thomas Kane, of Brooklyn, has been spending a few days with relatives on West Third street.

Mrs. Lawrence Myers, of East Front street, has purchased a very handsome sorrel mare of Albert Hedden.

Mrs. Stephen Cahoone, of Watchung avenue, has left for Washington, D.C., as a delegate to the National W.C.T.U.

William Illsley, of South Second street, returned home Saturday after a month's business trip through Iowa.

Joseph Pike, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Brooklyn, has been spending a few days with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holland, of Elizabeth, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kenney, of East Second street.

Harry Thornton, of New York, has been spending a few days in Plainfield at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Williams, West Seventh street.

—"Conquering the World," will be the subject of the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the First Baptist church Friday evening. The members expect to have a visiting society at the meeting.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L W. Randolph.

Mr. Jennings.

Mr. Tolles offered a resolution which provides for the drawing of $800 from the general fund in anticipation of the amount to be collected from the Plainfield Street Railway Company. This amount will be used for the repairs of West Front street. Still another resolution by Mr. Tolles provided for the enforcement of the sidewalk and curbing ordinance, where property owners have failed to comply with the law. The walks and curbs will be laid and set and a lien put on the properties for the payment.

Mr. Mellick moved that an electric light be placed on LaGrande avenue near Berckman street as petitioned for. Upon his suggestion another light was ordered placed west of Farragut avenue near the bridge.

Before the Council adjourned to meet next Monday evening Mr. Buckle offered a resolution regarding the death of Former Captain of Police G. W. Grant, and providing that the sincere sympathy of the Council be conveyed to the relatives and friends of the deceased.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The hallway leading to offices in the Schwed building, on East Front street, is being painted and renovated.

—Adolph Emery, the bicycle repairer and fruit dealer, has moved his place of business from Somerset street in the borough to 430 Watchung avenue, this city.

—William L. Smalley, Jr., butcher, of Park avenue and Fourth street, has a clean and well kept meat market. He only keeps the best meat and he guarantees all he sells.

—Jeppe Sorensen, proprietor of the Crescent market, is offering as specialties fine Jersey dressed veal, spring lamb, fancy roast beef and poultry. Calves' liver and sweetbreads always on hand.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westfalen.

Lüdenscheid. Die Stadtverordneten beschlossen die Umwandlung und den Ausbau des Progymnasiums in eine Reformanstalt. Für die Sammlungen der Anstalt hat der Einwohner G. Nölle 3000 Mark gestiftet.

Schwerte. Die Familie Beckmann hatte ein Schwein geschlachtet, und die Frau nebst der 14jährigen Tochter waren zu einem nahen Teiche gegangen, um die Därme zu waschen. Als der Mann, ein Arbeiter, von der Schicht heimkam, fand er Frau und Kind ertrunken im Teich. Wie das Unglück entstanden, konnte nicht festgestellt werden.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der Konsum von Pferdefleisch hat in Dresden auch im vergangenen Jahre wieder eine ziemliche Zunahme erfahren. Es wurden in der auf der Hechtstraße gelegenen Pferdeschlächterei des Stadtgebietes im letzten Jahre 1478 Pferde, gegen 1333 im vorhergegangenen Jahre, geschlachtet. Auch wurden sieben Hunde geschlachtet, deren Fleisch nach der Entfernung und Vernichtung der erkrankten Organe zur menschlichen Nahrung zugelassen wurde.—Der Vorsitzende und Gründer des Sächsischen Handwerkerverbandes, Gustav Böhme, Mitglied der Handels- und Gewerbekammer Dresdens, ist gestorben.

Chemnitz. Als auf dem hiesigen Frachtbahnhofe ein Geschirr, welches mit Gütern beladen war, weggezogen wurde, blieb dieses an der Thür des Eisenbahnwagens hängen und schob diese zu. In dem gleichen Augenblicke steckte der beim Entladen beschäftigt gewesene und noch im Güterwagen befindliche 22jährige Handarbeiter Clauß aus Stollberg den Kopf zur Thür heraus, kam damit zwischen letztere und den Wagenkasten und erlitt einen Schädelbruch, der den sofortigen Tod zur Folge hatte.

Elsterberg. Vor Kurzem erschoß sich der Großindustrielle Louis Ruppert in einem Anfall von Schwermuth. Der Unglückliche bekleidete den Posten des Bizebürgermeisters.

Kirchberg. Unlängst wurde hier das von Bildhauer Cauer in Berlin ausgeführte Bismarck-Denkmal feierlich enthüllt. Die Kosten des Denkmals werden durch eine Stiftung des verstorbenen Kommerzienrathes und Landtagsabgeordneten Kramer gedeckt.

Voigtsberg. Nach viertägigem Todeskampfe verschied der Webermeister Franz Meißner. Er war Nachts auf unerklärliche Weise aus seiner in der ersten Etage gelegenen Wohnung auf die Straße herabgestürzt und besinnungslos und schwerverletzt liegen geblieben.

Zwickau. Der Rath der Stadt Zwickau beschloß die Anstellung von zwei Schulärzten für die städtischen Volksschulen.

Thüringische Staaten.

Gera. Im Walhallatheater stürzte der Akrobat Georg Umlauft aus Wien, als er einen Saltomortale ausführte. Der Bedauernswerthe erlitt einen Bruch der Wirbelsäule und war sofort todt.

Pößneck. Bei Kanalisationsarbeiten in der Neustädter Straße ist man in einer Tiefe von 3 Meter auf eine ergiebige Torfader gestoßen.

Stadtsulza. Als der Oekonom und frühere Bürgermeister Drescher in Dorfsulza gegen Mitternacht vom Abendschoppen heimkehrte, versuchte er, da er keinen Hausschlüssel bei sich trug und die Seinen im Schlafe nicht stören wollte, einen Lattenzaun zu übersteigen und so auf seinen Hof zu gelangen. Dabei brach das morsche Holz unter seinen Händen, und der 63jährige Mann fiel so unglücklich auf den Hinterkopf, daß er nach wenigen Stunden verstarb.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Die Hamburg-Amerika-Gesellschaft hat die der Firma A. C. de Freitas u. Co. in Hamburg gehörende „Brasilien und River Plata"-Flotte angekauft.—Kommerzienrath W. A. Riedemann hat eine katholische Kirche gestiftet. Diese, die dritte katholische Kirche Hamburgs, die St. Sophienkirche in Barmbeck, ist vom Bischof von Osnabrück in Anwesenheit zahlreicher katholischer Geistlicher eingeweiht worden.

Bremen. Der Dampfer „Großer Kurfürst" vom Norddeutschen Lloyd wurde jüngst in den Dienst der Reichspostdampferlinie für Australien gestellt.—Ein reicher Deutsch-Amerikaner, John Harjes, ein geborener Bremer, schenkte der Stadt Bremen die in Paris vor der Kunstgewerbeausstellung postirten kupfernen Ritter, eine Nachbildung der Maison'schen Standbilder auf dem Reichstagsgebäude in Berlin.—Anhier ist der Ornithologe Hartlaubt, ein gründlicher Kenner der europäischen Vogelwelt, aus dem Leben geschieden.

Bremerhaven. Der dem Norddeutschen Lloyd gehörige Dampfer „Bremen," welcher hier unter Führung des Kapitäns Nierich von Philadelphia ankam, ist, nachdem er einige der beim Hobokener Dockbrande erhaltenen Schäden nothdürftig reparirt hatte, nach Stettin gegangen. Er soll dort auf der Werft des „Vulcan" vollständig reparirt und zugleich verlängert werden.

"WINDY AND DISAGREEABLE."

When a man blows wind off his stomach, that is flatulence. Sometimes people call it gulping wind. No matter what you call it, the disease, for it is a disease, is an annoying one to you and disgusting to your friends. I once heard a politician speak of a rival, whom he did not admire, as a flatulent old fool. Flatulent means windy. Usually we mean by it wind collected in the stomach. Wind in the intestines may also be just as properly designated flatulence. It is always caused by indigestion. A physician, who practices in a town near Albany, New York, reports the case of an old gentleman who had been so annoyed by a persistent condition of flatulence that he had consulted all the doctors in the vicinity without securing any benefit. "Finally he came to me and I prescribed several remedies which failed utterly. I then prescribed Ripans Tabules, which he reported gave him immediate relief, and he is now nearly cured. I think it would be an excellent thing to make a strong feature of 'flatulence' in all the R·I·P·A·N·S advertisements, for I find them excellent in almost every case of that sort."

The Right Thing Has Been Found—A Plainfield Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to a Plainfield citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers residing in far-distant parts of the Union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following:

Mrs. Wm. H. Ludlow, of Jackson avenue, says: "I had backache and a sort of dull pain across my loins for several years. If I sat for any length of time and tried to rise I had a sharp pain in the kidneys. Walking any distance or standing aggravated the difficulty. I could not rest well at night from the fact that I had to be constantly changing about from one position to another trying to free myself from pain. I used quite a number of remedies but got no permanent relief. I was prevailed upon to get Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I must say they did me a great deal of good. It is seldom that I feel any pain in my back and when I do a few doses of this remedy never fails to relieve me. I know others who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

NO DEWEY ARCH.

Committee For a Permanent Structure Disbands.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—By a vote of 10 to 3 the executive committee of the citizens' committee for perpetuating the naval arch, or Dewey arch, as it was originally called, decided to disband and to return to the subscribers the money collected for the project. The abandonment of the plan is due to the lack of interest displayed by the public.

Before voting to disband the committee considered and rejected three propositions which had been submitted. One of these was from the Henry-Bonnard Bronze company, which made an offer to build the entire arch on its own responsibility under the supervision of the committee. The funds necessary to carry on the work would be collected by the firm under a special contract with the committee. As compensation the firm wanted 10 per cent of the money collected other than the amount which had been raised by the committee.

It was estimated that to build the arch of granite—the idea of building of marble and perpetuating the avenue columns having been long ago abandoned—would cost $360,000 without the figure sculpture work. This latter work would cost about $150,000 additional. It was the consensus of opinion that as the committee itself had not been able to raise the money necessary to carry on the work a private firm would not be able to do so.

One of the members of the general committee suggested that miniature models of the temporary arch be molded and sold at $1 each, these models to be made from the material of the arch itself. It was argued that enough money could be raised in this way to build the proposed permanent memorial. This was also frowned upon by the executive committee. Vigorous opposition greeted a proposition that the arch be built of terra cotta instead of stone. This, it was said, could have been done with the money already collected. The committee then voted on the proposition to disband, and this was carried, it having been decided to return dollar for dollar the money which had been subscribed.

War Department Estimates.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The secretary of war has forwarded to the house committee on appropriations a comparative statement of war department estimates for the fiscal years 1901 and 1902, together with a statement of appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901. The estimates for 1901 amount to $185,903,551, and the estimates for 1902 amount to $171,773,855. The appropriations for the present fiscal year amount to $148,205,934. The estimates for public works, including rivers and harbors, fortifications, etc., amounting to $25,560,665, are $183,245 more than the estimates for 1901 and $24,710,851 more than the appropriations for the present fiscal year.

Lieutenant Commander Hall Injured.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Lieutenant Commander Reynolds T. Hall, attached to the steam engineering department of the Brooklyn navy yard, sustained serious and possible fatal injuries while attending to his official duties yesterday. He was passing through the new machine shop now in process of construction when a heavy beam fell a distance of 75 feet, striking him on the head, fracturing his skull in two places. He was attended by Surgeon James C. Byrnes of the navy department and removed to the naval hospital in Brooklyn. His condition is extremely critical.

To Aid Boutelle.

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 4.—Information has been received here from Washington that a bill is to be immediately introduced in congress to place Congressman Charles A. Boutelle of Bangor upon the retired list as a naval captain with pay. The bill will be presented in the house by Congressman Littlefield, and in the senate Senator Hale will look after it. Such a step has been under consideration by Congressman Boutelle's friends for many weeks, who realize that his health is broken and that he will never be able to return to Washington.

Two Children Burned.

RICHMOND, Me., Dec. 4.—The 7-year-old daughter of George Clancey of Dresden Mills, since domestic difficulties separated her father and mother two weeks ago, has cared for her 2-year-old brother and performed the household duties. She attempted to start a fire in the kitchen stove with the aid of kerosene, and as a result both children were burned to death and the house was destroyed.

Cadet Booz Is Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Oscar L. Booz, a former cadet at West Point Military academy, who had been lying at the point of death at his home in Bristol, Pa., suffering from injuries which his parents claim were the result of hazing at the academy over two years ago, died yesterday in great agony. The cause of death was throat consumption.

GOVERNMENT LEGAL AFFAIRS.

Attorney General Griggs Reviews the Work of His Office.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Attorney General Griggs yesterday sent his annual report to congress. It opens with a statement of the conditions of the work of the United States supreme court, which shows that 370 appellate cases were docketed and 371 were disposed of, leaving 303 cases still pending. On July 1, 1899, there were 3,137 United States convicts in the various prisons and reformatories of the country against 2,293 at the close of the last fiscal year. In 907 of the 1,602 civil suits terminated during the last fiscal year judgments were for the United States, 206 against the United States, 489 were either dismissed or discontinued, and 28 were appealed.

Of the 17,033 criminal prosecutions terminated during the last year 197 were prosecutions under the customs laws, in which there were 126 convictions; 6,275 under the internal revenue laws, in which there were 3,749 convictions; 1,153 under postoffice laws, in which there were 772 convictions; 6 under naturalization acts, in which there were 4 discontinued and 2 entered nolle pros; 963 under the intercourse laws, in which there were 630 convictions; 206 under the pension laws, in which there were 145 convictions; 53 for embezzlement, in which there were 32 convictions; 8,180 miscellaneous prosecutions, in which there were 4,880 convictions.

The aggregate amount of the judgments rendered in favor of the United States in civil suits during the last year was $663,299, and the amount actually collected on these judgments was $52,795, while $52,748 was obtained during the year on judgments rendered in former years for the United States, and $27,130 was otherwise realized in civil suits. The aggregate amount of fines forfeited and penalties imposed during the year in criminal prosecutions was $705,137, and the amount of these fines, forfeitures and penalties collected during the year was $104,020, while $8,203 was realized on fines, forfeitures and penalties imposed in former years.

Owing to the increase in the price of building material, the attorney general asks for an increase of the limit and an additional appropriation which will enable the department to construct a new building for the department of justice of a style and finish that would be in keeping with the dignity of the government and a credit to the national capital.

Supplies For Guam.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The navy department has made arrangements to send a supply of lumber, nails, etc., to Guam on the brig Spreckels, which will leave San Francisco on the 5th or 6th inst. with naval stores for Manila. The building material sent to Guam is for the purpose of repairing the extensive damages done to that island by the typhoon which destroyed the cruiser Yosemite in the harbor of San Luis de Apra on the 15th ult. These supplies are sent in response to a requisition from Rear Admiral Remey at Manila based upon latest advices from Guam. Further supplies will be forwarded by the army transport scheduled to leave San Francisco for Manila on the 15th inst.

No Successor to Davis.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 4.—No appointment to succeed the late United States Senator Cushman K. Davis has yet been made, and there is even no decision yet by Governor Lind to make an appointment. Believing that the offer might meet with an affirmative response, the position was offered to Associate Justice Collins of the supreme court, but as that official has another year of his present term to serve and has just been elected to another six year term he declined, with thanks. Various names have been presented to the consideration of the governor, nearly all of them Republicans.

The Sherman Statue.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The commission having charge of the erection of the equestrian statue of General W. T. Sherman in this city has decided to permit Mrs. Carl Rohlsmith, the widow of the sculptor and contractor who recently died in Copenhagen, to carry out her husband's contract. Mrs. Smith has received offers from several leading sculptors of this country to complete the work begun by Mr. Rohlsmith, and this will be done in accordance with the original designs, the models for which already have been prepared.

Cable Contract Let.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The Pacific cable committee has accepted in behalf of the governments of Great Britain, New South Wales, Queensland and New Zealand the bid of the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance company to make and lay a cable from Vancouver to Queensland and New Zealand via Fanning, Fiji and Norfolk islands for £1,795,000, the work to be finished at the end of 1902.

Fire In Youngstown, O.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 4.—Fire gutted the six story building occupied by the Stamburgh-Thompson company, dealers in hardware, last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000, with $75,000 insurance. The fire originated among the oils in the basement and spread so rapidly that several employees had a narrow escape from being trapped by the flames.

Boston Terminal Improvements.

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—Following the visit of the New York Central railroad officials in the course of their tour of inspection of the Boston and Albany railroad comes the announcement that the New York Central in the near future will expend fully $2,500,000 in the development of its extensive harbor property here.

Austrian Ruler Has Other Business.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—"In response to a confidential inquiry as to whether Mr. Kruger would be welcomed here," says the Vienna correspondent of The Daily Mail, "a polite reply was returned to the effect that Emperor Francis Joseph had made other dispositions for the next few weeks."

Great Stock Show Opened.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Last night in the Dexter Park pavilion at the stockyards the greatest live stock show ever held in this country was formally opened. The great building was packed to the utmost, and many hundreds of people were turned away, unable to gain admission.

Large Shipment of Specie.

SYDNEY, Dec. 4.—The Oceanic Steamship company's steamer Alameda, Captain von Otterndorp, which sailed from Sydney today for San Francisco via Auckland, Apia and Honolulu, carries £300,000 in specie.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

A MISSION WIPED OUT

Fearful Slaughter of Christians In Shansi Province.

TREACHEROUS GOVERNOR THE LEADER

Bishops, Priests and Nuns, With Two Hundred Orphans, Put to Death by Chinese—Horrible Indignities Suffered.

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—A special dispatch from China to the Cologne Volks Zeitung reports a fearful mission slaughter in the province of Shansi. The first victims, the dispatch says, were a Catholic bishop and his coadjutor and four European priests, Franciscans, Italians and French.

The governor invited them to his house, pretending to give them better protection, but when they arrived their hands were tied. Then the governor himself poniarded them all.

Then the governor went to the bishop's residence with a number of soldiers and seized six Marseilles sisters. He promised them money and distinguished husbands if they renounced Christianity, which they unanimously rejected.

Thereupon the governor poniarded them and also a number of Chinese priests, 30 Chinese sisters and 200 orphans from 3 to 16 years of age.

Fifteen seminarists who had hidden themselves in a cistern were, the dispatch adds, tied to stakes and forced to drink the blood of the first victims. They were then killed.

A Chinese priest and two Christians who attempted to escape were cut to pieces and put in a small hut, where they were burned.

All the foreign envoys have now heard from their governments regarding the joint note to the Chinese plenipotentiaries, and a meeting will be held tomorrow. The envoys are not communicative, but enough is known with reference to the objections of different governments to make it seem doubtful that the meeting will have a satisfactory conclusion.

Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang both say that they are anxiously awaiting the demands of the powers. They declare that China desires peace at any price commensurate with the dignity of an independent nation, but they point out that so long as a large foreign army occupies the province of Chi-li the problem will be harder to solve.

The missionaries and others who went through the siege protest bitterly against any suggestion of leniency. They urge particularly that those who are high in office and who were really responsible for the outrages to foreigners should be executed, and they insist also that a sufficient force should be kept in China to guarantee order and to keep foreigners independent of the Chinese, declaring that if this is not done a repetition of the troubles is inevitable.

Expeditions Make Matters Worse.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 4.—Kwan Chang, an attache of the Chinese legation here, in a formal interview said: "It is futile for Field Marshal von Waldersee to send into the interior expeditions, the presence of which only irritates the natives and increases their animosity toward the Europeans. The emperor will not return to Peking as long as foreign troops, beyond the legation guards, are there. Should it be necessary the emperor will fly farther than Sian-fu."

Antiforeign Outbreaks Imminent.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—"Placards are again being posted," says the Tien-tsin correspondent of The Standard, wiring Sunday, "announcing a renewal of the antiforeign outbreaks as imminent." The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post says the Hankow viceroy told Vice Admiral Seymour during the latter's recent visit that the court would never return to Peking; but, as the correspondent learns, the Nankin viceroy holds just the contrary opinion.

Sale of Coal Lands.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4.—It is understood that Wilson Lee Camden of Baltimore has negotiated the sale to former Senator Henry G. Davis and Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia of a tract of 14,000 acres in Barbour and Upshur counties, West Virginia. It is said that the property contains extensive coal deposits, and it is understood that the purchasers will open the mines. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad extends through a portion of the field, but it is said to be more than likely that the West Virginia Central railroad will be extended from Belington when operations are begun. The tract adjoins the property of the Century Coal company.

A Rival of Niagara Power Company.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Dec. 4.—The Vanderbilt millions, through the agency of the Niagara, Lockport and Ontario Power company, will build a great power plant, rivaling in extent the famous Niagara falls plant; will construct a big water conduit from Lake Ontario to Lockport to supply this city with water, cut a wide power canal from Niagara river to this city, build a power transmission line to Depew and make of Lockport and Depew electric cities.

Died Soon After Golden Wedding.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Cortelyou of Franklin Park, near this place, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary a month ago. Mrs. Cortelyou seemed to be in the best of health, but the excitement and fatigue proved too much for her. After the celebration of the golden wedding she sank steadily and is now dead. She was 70 years of age. She had lived all her life in Franklin Park.

Tried to Kill Wife and Children.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Charles H. Blow, wife of a former state game warden, has sworn out warrants charging her husband with attempting to chloroform her and their three children. She charges him with applying the chloroform and turning on the gas so that suffocation would finish the work. Mrs. Blow says when she awoke the children were already stupefied.

TOOK PARIS GREEN.

James Filmore, of Rahway, Lies Hovering Between Life and Death as Result.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, December 4.—James Filmore, a young married man living in this place, is hovering between life and death as a result of swallowing a dose of Paris green. The poison was taken early yesterday morning. Two physicians were summoned and have since been in almost constant attendance upon the unfortunate young man. Young Filmore is about 21 years of age. He is a sister of Mrs. Frank Haulenbeck, of 847 North avenue, Plainfield. He is well known in Plainfield, where he has frequently been seen with Frank Haullenbeck, the junk dealer.

LEGAL FIGHT OVER HAY.

McGann Wanted to Cut Hay on Cory Farm When Tenant Objected.

The case of Thomas McGann against Peter Fugman, in tort, was tried yesterday afternoon before Justice Smalley. The plaintiff was represented by Murphy & Blatz, and the defendent by S. S. Swackhamer. The case, which is an old one, was an action to recover several tons of hay on the Cory farm. For several years past the plaintiff has always had the hay from the farm through an arrangement with Charles L. Lee, of the borough. The defendant arranged to occupy the house on the farm and he also had the use of a small portion of land near the house.

When McGann went to get the hay this year he found that Fugman had taken some of it and that he would not allow him to come on the farm and cut any hay. McGann then brought action against Fugman. At the trial it was stated that there is still five tons of hay still on the farm and this was valued at $10 a ton.

Mr. Swackhamer attempted to introduce a title to land act and said that the case was not one that should be tried in a Justice court. The objection was overruled and the trial proceeded. After both sides had been heard Justice Smalley decided to reserve his decision until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Infant Child Dead.

An infant daughter of Edward McCue, of West Fourth street, died last night. Mr. McCue is a son of Patrolman Thomas McCue, of the local police force.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

"Lost in Egypt" is the attraction at Music Hall tonight and from all accounts it is a praiseworthy affair. The play is like all melo-dramatic plays of its kind, and keeps the audience continually on the "go." Robert H. Harris, as Ensign Carter, gives an excellent performance of a gallant naval officer. Mr. Parkinson, as the boy from the Bowery, keeps the audience in laughter. Worthy of special mention are Florence Langdon, Mabel Drew, Fish Coleman, Ellen Seymore and the Carlton sisters. The specialties are all good and clear and the scenery some of the finest every seen in Music Hall.

* * * * *

The last few years have witnessed the era of costume plays. The success of many mediocre productions, which consisted of costumes and little else, inevitably led to the resurrection of early and greatest of all romantic dramas, "The Three Mufketeers," which is the attraction at Music Hall, Thursday night. At different periods we have had Fechter, Mayo, Tree, Salvini, O'Neill and Sothern in in the role of "Dumas' Delightful Hero." Now managers E. D. Stair and George H. Nicolai introduced a new Richmond into the field in the person of Harry Glazier. Reports from other cities indicate that he is in no way inferior to his illustrated predecessors in the part. The piece is mounted in a lavish manner, and a genuine treat is in store for our theatre-goers. Mr. Glazier has had a long and useful career in the support of many of the great stars. He is well equipped to play "D'Artagnan," or indeed any of the famous roles of the romantic drama, for he has a handsome presence, a keen intellect and an abundance of vigor and fire.

* * * * *

The title "Who is Who" which has been assigned to the musical farce comedy in which Chas. A. Loder, Paul Bordman and a large company presented under the direction of F. W. Stair, certainly indicate the nature of the vehicle. It is termed a comedy of complications and promises a merry antidote for the blues. Many of the situations are new, and that is considerable of a triumph now-a-days. While teplay partakes of all the elements of a legitimate farce, there will be sufficient interpolations of specialty features to entitle it to be classed with the most rollicking farce comedy bill extant. This superb organization will be at Music Hall Saturday afternoon and night.

* * * * * * *

"The Village Postmaster," with Archie Boyd in the title role comes to Music Hall Wednesday of next week, after a long and successful run of 227 nignts at the 14th Street Theatre, New York, comes direct from its third big engagement there, and is quite likely to please our theatre-going people.

Fast Trotter for Westfield.

At the horse sale in Madison Square Garden, New York, on Saturday evening George Peek, of Westfield, bought in the pacing pony "Dan Q" for $1,500. The pony is seven years of age and this was the first time he had been offered for sale. He has a record of 2:07¼. Mr. Peek is said to have made the purchase for W. J. Arkell, of Westfield, one of the prominent members of the Fair Acres Driving Association.

Week of Prayer.

The week of prayer is being observed in the Seventh Day Babtist church this week. Services began Sunday evening. There will be meetings for prayer of one hour every evening, 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock, in the church parlor. All who pray are invited to come at any time during that hour.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Charles Barrass, of 323 Cottage place, presented her husband with an eight-pound baby girl Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Farlander, of Perth Amboy, have been spending a few days with G. W. Brighton, of Park avenue.

Miss Bertha Engelhardt, of Grandview avenue, has recovered from a severe attack of diphtheria. Drs. Adams and Davis were the attending physicians.

Miss Rappaleye, of Westervelt avenue, and Miss Force, of Duer street, have returned from Philadelphia, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walling since Thanksgiving Day. One of the thoroughly enjoyable features of their entertainment was witnessing the annual football game between Pennsylvania and Cornell at which 23,000 spectators were present.

TO PLAY BASKET BALL.

Fanwood Athletic Club Organized to Support a Basket Ball Team This Winter.

The Fanwood Athletic Club was organized last evening at the Fanwood clubhouse for the express purpose of putting a basket ball team on the floor this winter. Norman Keib was elected president and the club has the promise of the necessary support from the leading citizens of Fanwood. A number of young men from this city, who have already played the game, are interested in the club and have united their efforts with those of the Fanwoodites. The team will practice and play in the Fanwood club house where it is accommodation for a hundred or more spectators. Games will be arranged and a team picked out. The first practice will be held Saturday evening when fifteen candidates are expected to turn out.

IN AID OF TEMPERANCE.

Series of Temperance Meetings Begun at Reform Hall Last Evening.

The first of a series of temperance meetings to be given this week, took place in Reform Hall last evening. A large number were present and an excellent temperance address was delivered by Mr. Bonney, of Brooklyn. His subject was, "On the Stage Behind the Scenes at the Theatre." At the conclusion of the meeting two men signed the pledge. The meetings will continue this and Wednesday evenings and possibly all the week. Next Thursday evening the nominations and election of the Reform Club officers will be held.

Carey is Ill But Not Dead.

A report has been in circulation about town during the past few days that Tunis J. Carey, formerly of this city, had died in a New York hospital. Mr. Carey is not dead, but was taken with pneumonia Saturday. Hiccups developed and he suffered intensely for nineteen hours. He is now better but is still confined to his apartments.

Guide Wires Fell.

The trolley guide wires of the Plainfield Street Railway Company on Somerset street, between Craig and Park places, snapped shortly before noon this morning and blocked traffic for an hour. Linemen of the trolley company repaired the damage as soon as possible.

SHOT GIGANTIC HAWK

Louis C. Wyckoff Captured Huge Specimen—Never Before Seen Here—Called Red Tail Hawk.

Louis C. Wyckoff, the well-known painter, of 26 Howard street, was yesterday successful in bagging the largest hawk ever captured in this city. Mr. Wyckoff calls it a red tail hawk.

In company with Otto Nair, Mr. Wyckoff was gunning in the woods at the base of the mountains back of the Park Golf Club grounds. It was about 12 o'clock when he was surprised to see a large bird, almost the size of a well fed turkey.

He was so excited that his usual good aim was defective. However, Mr. Wyckoff succeeded in winging his game. The huge bird fluttered and finally fell to the bushes, but only to rise again. Mr. Wyckoff at once gave chase. After a run of half a mile he succeeded in hitting the hawk with his hat and knocking it down. The bird was finally captured. It proved to be of immense size and measured four feet from tip to tip and it weighed six and a half pounds. Its tail is of a dull red and its talons long and very sharp, while its head is of prodigous size.

The hawk will be placed on exhibition in Powers' drug store on Somerset street. It is the opinion of many who have seen the bird that it may be a specie which hibernates in a Northern climate. It is certainly the largest hawk ever captured in this vicinity and of a species never previously seen hereabouts.

PRESENTED EQUIPMENT.

Rubber Coats and Boots for Pipemen in the Borough Fire Department.

Chief Debele and a commitee from the Warren Engine Company attended last night's meeting of the West End Hose Company. The purpose of the committee's visit was to obtain from the West End boys their co-operation in the proposed contest for a silver-mounted lantern that Chief Debele has presented the Warren boys to be contested for at their fair between Foreman William Perry, of the West End Company, and Foreman F. Murton Lunger, of the Warren Company. Both companies decided to back their respective foreman in the contest. The fair is to be held in February.

The purpose of Chief Debell's visit was to present two sets of rubber coats and boots for use of the pipemen. At tonight's meeting of Warren Engine Company four rubber suits will be presented to that company. The suits are sent through the generosity of the fire committee.

Later white rubber suits will be secured for the Chief and his assistants.

An Interesting Sermon.

The sermon delivered by Rev. W. T. Griffin, U. S. Consul at Limoges, France, in Trinity Reformed church on Sunday evening was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation present. Mr. Griffin threw his whole soul into the discourse, and his earnest presentation of the subject caused many of his hearers to offer him hearty congratulations at the close of the service. The subject selected was the return of the seventy disciples sent out by Christ to heal the sick and say unto them that the kingdom of God is nigh unto them, as recorded in the tenth chapter of St. Luke's Gospel.

Dunellen Council Met.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, December 4—The regular monthly meeting of the Dunellen Common Council was held last evening. Several matters of importance, which it was expected would be discussed, were laid over until the next meeting. Payment of the Watchung Water Company's bill was refused. The payment of the bill of Garretson & Gray, contractors, for macadamizing Madison avenue, was deferred.

Successful Dinner Party.

Miss May Teller, of Lafayette place, entertained a number of friends at a dinner party last Friday evening. Covers were laid for twelve. Cards and dancing were a feature during the evening and together with vocal selections by Edward J. Kline and Roger Erickson made the hours pass pleasantly. The decorations were chrysanthemums.

Auction Sale of Furniture.

There will be auction sale of new furniture at 403 Watchung avenue, corner East Fourth street, tomorrow at 1 o'clock. There will be many bargains and Hand & Pangborn, the auctioneers have been instructed to sell everything to the highest bidder regardless of value. Among the things to be sold is a Grand square piano.

Entertained in Honor of Friend.

A pleasant social event of last evening was the affair given by Miss Mary E. Robinson, of East Fifth street, in honor of her guest, Mrs. E. Dubree, of Trenton. Features of the evening were the dancing and the playing of games, and at a late hour refreshments were served.

COMPLETE VICTORY FOR THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Closest Contest Was For Mayoralty, Dr. Olin L. Jenkins Winning By 376.

THE FOUR REPUBLICAN COUNCILMEN RE-ELECTED.

REPUBLICAN TICKET IN THE CITY RECEIVED THE UNEXPECTED MAJORITY OF 1,222.

Republicans Carried Third Ward Which Was Expected To Go For Tyler But Lost The Second Ward By 22—Heavy Vote Polled—Repud'ican Gains In Nearly Every District—Frank Smith's Big Majority.

Despite the combined efforts of the Democrats and the independent Republicans to defeat the choice of the Republican party for Mayor in the charter election yesterday, Dr. Olin L. Jenkins, the Republican nominee, was elected, receiving a majority of 376 votes over Col Mason W. Tyler, his Democratic opponent. The rest of the Republican ticket was elected by overwhelming majorities which showed a heavy Republican gain in nearly every election district.

Frank H. Smith was elected City Collector, defeating A. T. Gallup by 1023 majority. Charles F. Abbott was chosen School Trustee without opposition The four ward Councilmen, Ralph I. Tolles, George P. Mellick, B. Frank Coriell and Frank D. Randolph, were re-elected by majorities ranging from 154 to 319.

The only Democrat elected was Hezekiah Hand, who ran for Justice of the Peace in the Second ward where the Republicans failed to nominate a candidate for the office.

While the personality of the men rather than any local issues played the prominent part in the campaign, the re-election of the four ward Councilmen can be considered an endorsement of the present city administration. As this year, the Common Council of 1901 will be composed of eleven Republicans.

It was merely a question whether Col. Mason W. Tyler's popularity was extensive enough and the opposition to the Republican organization strong enough to defeat the man whom the Republicans had chosen as their candidate for Mayor. The fight was made at the charter election yesterday, and while the combined forces of the Democrats and independent Republicans battled hard, the Republican party of the city again demonstrated its ability to win when the question was submitted to the votes of the people.

A heavy vote was polled in nearly every polling district, and while the day was devoid of any exciting incidents, both sides labored hard all day to win votes for their respective candidates and to get the voters out. There might have been far more excitement if the day had not turned out to be exceedingly stormy. The rain fell heavily almost all day and towards afternoon a gale from the northeast made things even more unpleasant. The workers remained at their posts, however, and the carriages of the politicians were kept exceedingly busy in bringing out voters who were not anxious to face the storm on foot.

It was generally understood that Col. Tyler's chief strength lay in the Second and Third wards and so it proved. Such of the Republicans in the Third as remained "regular" made a desperate fight to defeat their former coworkers and probably prevented a wholesale desertion to the Tyley faction. They carried that ward for Dr. Jenkins but by only 27 votes.

The Republican leaders were not prepared for the result in the Second Ward, however, which they had hoped to carry for the Republican nominee by 50 to 100. The silent vote swept down upon them, equipped with Tyler pasters, and the count showed that the ward had gone for Col. Tyler by just 22 votes. The Republicans had their workers out but the element which supported Col. Tyler is the one uncertain quantity in that ward which occasionally rises up despite the politician's best efforts to hold it in line. It was evidenced three years ago when Councilman George H. Frost was defeated.

Strong organization in the First and Fourth wards polled a very heavy vote for the Republican ticket but there were more or less desertions for Col Tyler. Dr. Jenkins polled a large enough vote there, however, to elect him by substantially the same majority that was given to Former Mayor Fisk four years ago and Mayor Rockfellow two years ago.

As far as the Republican ticket was concerned, it won an overwhelming victory. Its majority in the city was 1 222 Frank H. Smith, Collector, wasn't far behind and rolled up 1,023. Charles F. Abbott had no one against him for School Trustee. Councilman Mellick defeated Charles H. Lyman by 154 votes, better than he did two years ago. Councilman Tolles polled 186 votes more than John Lloyd. Councilman Coriell had an easy thing in defeating J. H. Hillman by 266. Frank D. Randolph rolled up the biggest majority of any of the Councilmen, defeating W. W. St. John by 319 majority. The latter was twenty five ahead of his ticket. Frank H. Smith polled the largest vote in the Fourth ward of any of the candidates.

There was just one Democrat who was elected to office. That was Hezekiah Hand who was elected Justice of the Peace in the Second ward, simply because the Republicans failed to nominate any one against him.

FIRST WARD, 1st DISTRICT.

Strong Organization Gave Republican Ticket a Large Advance But Dr. Jenkins Suffered Considerably.

A heavy Republican gain was made by the Republicans in the First district of the First ward, the home of Dr. O. L. Jenkins. Some of it was due to the Doctor's popularity and the rest to the strong organization of the Republicans. The district gave the Republican ticket a majority of 243, as against 183 last year, while Dr. Jenkins was given a majority of 157. Councilman Tolles did not run even as well as Dr. Jenkins and was three votes behind him.

There was lots of activity on the part of the Republicans and some by the Democrats all day but the G. O. P. had far the better of it. 479 ballots were cast, of which 359 were Republican and 116 Democratic. Four were rejected.

FIRST WARD, 2d DISTRICT.

Slight Democratic Gain Made Over Last Year While Dr. Jenkins Ran 22 Votes Behind His Ticket.

Everything was quiet in the Second district of the First ward and the election passed off without any exciting incidents. The voting was fairly heavy and showed a slight Democratic gain over last year's figures. There was some scratching at the head of the ticket and Dr. Jenkins fell 22 behind his ticket. Councilman Tolles was 15 behind. Collector Smith was almost even with his ticket.

The total vote was 182. 122 Republican ballots and 60 Democratic ones. The Republican majority was 62, as compared with 76 last year, while two years ago, Lounsbury carried the district by 25.

SECOND WARD, 1st DISTRICT.

Gave the Republicans an Unpleasant Surprise by Showing a Majority of 46 for Col. Tyler.

The greatest surprise of the day was in the First district of the Second ward. The Republicans expected the vote to be close there but they were not looking to see Col. Tyler win out in the district by 46, which gave him a majority in the entire ward. Aside from the vote on the mayoralty, the district sustained its reputation by giving the Republican ticket a majority of 203.

All day the Republican workers were worried at the persistent use of Tyler pasters but they hoped to hold the district in the Republican column. There were a few workers for Col. Tyler on hand during the day but it was the silent votes which gave the Democratic nominee his big vote. Dr. Jenkins was 125 ballots behind his ticket. Councilman Mellick was scratched to the number of 44 votes. Smith was slightly behind.

The total vote cast in the district was 460, 104 more than last year. There were 329 Republican ballots and 126 Democratic ballots. Four were rejected. Aside from the vote for Mayor, the Republican ticket made decided gains over last year when a majority of 134 was rolled up and over two years ago when Mayor Rockfellow received 126 majority. Councilman Mellick defeated his opponent by 117 when two years ago he won by 102. What the Second ward leaders are now bemoaning is the fact that Tyler's vote in that district gave him the Second ward, the only one he carried. Its loss not expected by the Republicans.

SECOND WARD, 2d DISTRICT.

All Was Quiet and the Vote Was Light—Small Democratic Gain While Dr. Jenkins Ran Behind.

Just the same number of Republicans voted in the Second district of the Second ward yesterday as did at the charter election a year ago, while the Democrats polled six more. The vote was consequently light. There was some scratching but Dr. Jenkins did not fall as far behind as was expected. The Republican ticket received a majority of 50, while Dr. Jenkins' majority was 24. Councilman Mellick received 36 majority. Smith was almost up to his ticket.

There were 144 votes cast, of which 96 were Republican, 46 Democratic and 2 rejected. Two years ago 139 votes were polled and Mayor Rockfellow only received a majority of 5 over F. C. Lounsbury.

THIRD WARD, 1st DISTRICT.

Col. Tyler Received a Majority of Sixteen, But the District Went Overwhelmingly Republican by 199 Votes.

Despite the desperate efforts of Roger F. Murray and the other Republican leaders who remained steadfast in their allegiance to the Republican party, the First district of the Third ward gave Col. Tyler a majority. The majority was so small, only 16, that it failed to overcome the lead which Dr. Jenkins obtained in the Second district. As far as the Republican and Democratic tickets were concerned, they ran about as usual. The fight in the district was hot, particularly toward the close of the day.

There were 470 ballots cast in the district, out of which the Republicans secured 333 and the Democrats 134. There were 4 rejected ones. Dr. Jenkins was badly knifed, running 109 behind the ticket, Collector Smith and Councilman Coriell ran slightly behind their ticket. The Republican majority in the district was 199, as against 149 last year and 176 for Mayor Rockfellow two years ago.

THIRD WARD, 2D DISTRICT.

Dr. Jenkins Ran 23 Votes Behind His Ticket. But Col. Tyler Did Not Develop Strength Expected.

The count was first completed in the Second district of the Third ward. While Dr. Jenkins ran 23 votes behind his ticket, he managed to poll enough votes to give him a majority of 43, as compared with Mayor Rockfellow's majority of 19 in the same district two years ago. It was expected that Col. Tyler would poll a heavy vote in the district, but the Republican leaders managed to keep most of their party in line.

Out of the 236 voters registered, 148 ballots were cast. There were 115 Republican tickets, 32 Democratic and one rejected. The Republican majority was 83. In November, McKinley received a plurality of 103 Smith

MISS LUCKEY WAS FAVORABLY RECEIVED.

Her Recital, Given in Y. M. C. A. Hall Last Evening, Was a Success.

HER WORK WELL DONE.

ASSISTED BY MISS PERRY AND MISS PATTERSON.

Entertainment Was Highly Praised—Miss Luckey's Readings Found Great Favor With Appreciative Audience.

The recital given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, last evening, by Miss Mary Adelaide Luckey, the well-known and popular reader, proved to be a literary treat to those who had the pleasure of listening to it. Miss Luckey was assisted by Miss Magdelena Perry, contralto, and Miss Helen Patterson, violinist. Mr. Hill was the pianist. The stage was handsomely set with palms and a few potted plants, and the toilets of the ladies who assisted Miss Luckey were rich and elegant.

In the first part of the programme Miss Luckey wore a handsome gown of pea green silk, cut decollete. Her first presentation of the characters in the scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" brought her into favor with the audience and this clever young artist was at once placed at ease in the early part of the entertainment. Miss Luckey's monologue, entitled "A Musicale," was one of the numbers on the programme that pleased the audience and brought forth unstinted applause.

In the second part of the programme Miss Luckey gave "Up in a Villa" and "Aunt Peggy and High Art" in a clever manner and her inimitable style of character acting and dialect enunciation gave evidence of close study of that which goes to make up human nature and its quaint characteristics.

Possibly Miss Luckey's best efforts, however, and the one in which she displayed the greatest artistic effect was in her portrayal of the arena scene from "Quo Vadis," in which she gave a truly artistic conception of that tragic scene in the Roman Ampetheatre. Miss Luckey's part of the entertainment closed with a Nymph Drill in which she gave a clever exhibition of the Greek drill—a study of the beautiful motions of those ideal creatures of Greek fancy.

While Miss Luckey's recital was highly interesting and entertaining to those who had the pleasure of listening to this cultured artist, it was by no means the only portion of the programme that gave satisfaction. The singing of Miss Perry, who has a rich contralto voice, both charmed and pleased the audience. Miss Perry's voice is one of marvelous compass and sweet expression and her singing was much admired and so thoroughly appreciated as to bring forth deserved applause.

Of Miss Patterson, whose skill as a violinist is well known among her many friends in this city, only words of praise can be offered. She shared with Miss Perry the honors of the evening. The entire entertainment was one of the best of its kind that has been presented to the society people of this city in some time. It was indeed one of merit and deserved a more liberal patronage than it received. The limited attendance, however, was due no doubt to the inclement weather. The patronesses of the entertainment were Mrs. Marion Ackerman, Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Mrs. Martin Cooley, Mrs Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Frederick Mead, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Jacob Kirkner, Mrs. Wm. E Lowe, Mrs. Lewis Fitz Randolp, Mrs. Orville T. Waring.

Westfield People Want 9:43 Express Train to Stop There as Well as Plainfield.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 5—The residents of Westfield, particularly the commuter element, feel that the Central Railroad officials have ignored the patrons of this place since the recent time table went into effect. The train leaving Plainfield at 9:43 a. m. does not stop at Westfield. There is a train at 9:28 that stops at Westfield; but there is none stopping there between that hour and 10:33. It is possible that a petition may be presented to the Central Railroad officials asking that the 9:43 train stop at Westfield. Previous to the last change the 10:09 train stopped at Westfield much to the convenience of the many patrons of the road living in the township.

WESTFIELD WON FROM FORMER CHAMPIONS

Opening Series in Daily Press Bowling League Rolled on Westfield Alleys

WITH ROSELLE CASINO.

WESTFIELD WON TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES.

No Big Scores Were Made by Either Side But the Games Were Close and Aroused Much Enthusiasm.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 5.—The first series of games in the Daily Press Bowling League took place at the Westfield Club alleys last evening and, despite the storm, a large number of the club members were present to witness the contest between the team from the Roselle Casino, holders of the handsome silver cup offered by the Daily Press to the team winning it three seasons, and the home team.

The Westfield team was made up the same as last season with the exception of Chauncey D. Smith, the team captain, who was called out of town, in place of whom was R. I. Townley, a regular member of the team, who was laid up by illness the greater part of last season. The Roselle team had three new men, Dean, Howe and Miller The team is captained this season by Charles A. Smith who led them to victory in 1899. Mulford, their old stand-by, is still on the team and made the only 200 score of the evening.

The first game began at 8:30 o'clock with Westfield in the lead up to the fifth frame when the visitors took the lead by seven pins. In the next frame the home team rolled a little better and led by fourteen pins, but in the next both teams were tied with 617. With only one break in the ninth and one in the tenth the Roselles forged to the head and won out by 37 pins.

The second game resulted in a victory for the home team by 66 pins. They took the lead at the start and kept it up by a good margin to the end, the visitors seeming unable to fill in on their spares, while breaks and splits were features of the game.

With a game to their credit each of the teams came to the mark for the third and deciding game with the determination to win or make their opponents raise the score above the eight hundred mark and for the first few frames it looked as though this would be done but the pace was too hot and the bowlers of both teams tied out and fell back to the habit of of missing spares and making "lovely splits," as one man put it.

Roselle took the lead and kept it until the third frame from when three strikes and two spares against three breaks for them placed the Westfielders in the lead. The visitors seemed to loose heart and the home team won out by 66 pins, the same as the second game. The scores:

PETIT JURORS DRAWN.

Panel for January Term of Union County Court Drawn at Elizabeth Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Dec. 5.—The panel of petit jurors for the January term of court was drawn by Sheriff Houston yesterday at a session of the Court of Common Pleas. Judge Vail presided and Prosecutor English was present. Fifty-four jurors were drawn. The Plainfielders on the list are William W. Coriell, Henry D. Parli, Charles C. Lister, Cornelius van Herwerden and Humphrey A. Bodine. Thomas N. Patt, Jr., of Fanwood, was also drawn.

Accidently Knifed by Companion.

Robert Marsh, a young lad living on Plainfield avenue, was accidentally stabbed in the right arm by a companion while at play in the Washington school yard Monday. The blade of a penknife was the weapon and it narrowly escaped severing a large vein. The cut was so severe that it had to be dressed at the hospital.

Fred Van Auken Made Captain.

At a meeting of the P. H. S. A. A. held yesterday afternoon, F. C. Van Auken was elected captain of the football team for next season. Van Auken is a member of the class of 1902.

AT WESTMINSTER SCHOOL

The following custom formerly prevailed:—

On Shrove Tuesday, all the scholars being assembled, the cook fried a pancake which it was his duty to throw over a high bar, from which a curtain hung, dividing the upper school from the lower. His success was generously rewarded.

If he failed, he was pelted with books.

If the cake was satisfactorily thrown the scholars scrambled to secure it whole and unbroken, and the successful boy was by old usage presented with a guinea by the Dean.

The custom is long since abolished, but boys still like pancakes, and always will.

The H-O Co. has two sorts of flours for pancakes—a mixture of Rice, Wheat Flour, and Corn, called Pancake Flour, and a prepared Buckwheat flour; both self-raising, and to be had at all grocers.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for Reference by Press Readers.

—Huyler's chocolates and confections, always fresh. Leggett's Y. M. C. A. pharmacy.

—The most effective little liver pills made are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They never gripe. L. W. Randolph.

—The Women's Association of the Congregational church will hold a sewing meeting in the church parlors tomorrow afteroon.

—DeWitt's Little Early Risers are dainty little pills, but they never fail to cleanse the liver, remove obstructions and invigorate the system. L. W. Randolph.

—Fred Endress, of West Front street, is offering as specialties, fancy Jersey pork, all kinds of game and fancy dressed poultry. Have you tried Endress' sausage?

—Help is needed at once when a person's life is in danger. A neglected cough or cold may soon become serious and should be stopped at once. One Minute Cough Cure quickly cures coughs and colds and the worst cases of croup, bronchitis, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Florence Burt, of West Seventh street, has been the guest of friends in Orange.

Irving Marcley, of New street, has returned home after a visit with New York relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James E Kimball, of Park avenue, are the happy parents of a little daughter which arrived last week.

Willard Wadsworth, of West Eighth street, has returned to his studies at Harvard College after spending a few days at Plainfield.

Miss Elizabeth Turney, of Paris, Ky., who has been the guest of Miss Mabelle Phillips, of Madison avenue, has returned to her studies at Wellesley College.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

No boiling! no baking! simply add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Theodore Smith, of Allen place, is confined to his home with rheumatism.

Miss Helen Walton, of New York, has been visiting her mother on East Front street.

Miss Minnie Wilson, of "Tunlaw," is visiting Judge and Mrs. Arnold, of Philadelphia.

J. W. VanHorn, of Duer street, who has been seriously ill at his home on Duer street, is no better.

Miss Marie Hoagland, of Griggstown, is a guest of A. E. Hoagland and wife, of West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. LaRue, of East Second street, have been entertaining relatives from New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, of Duer street, have named their young daughter "Margaret Virginia."

Mrs. Herbert Bolsterli and son, of Lorraine, who have been visiting borough relatives, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, of East Front street, have been entertaining their daughter from Somerville.

Fred Ross, of Park avenue, is improving from a long and tedious illness. Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan is the attending physician.

George N. Cortright, of East Sixth street, is again very seriously ill, so as to require the attendance of the members of the U. V. U. every night.

Miss Rita Pound, of Washington Park, has returned to her studies at the State Normal School, after spending several days with her parents.

Edward Lynch, of West Second street, who was stricken with a nervous trouble some time ago, returned home yesterday almost completely cured.

—Wm. Kirch and B. R. Cain, carpenters, have formed a partnership and will open a shop at 17 Grandview avenue.

—The city steam roller was used on West Front street yesterday afternoon between Madison avenue and New street, rolling down the rough spots.

—When the stomach is tired out it must have a rest, but we can't live without food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure "digests what you eat" so that you can eat all the good food you want while it is restoring the digestive organs to health. It is the only preparation that digests all kinds of food. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Foster, of Jersey City, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Martin, of Jackson avenue.

The Misses Frentz, of Scotch Plains, have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Frank Putnam, of East Fifth street.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—The annual election of officers will be held at Reform Hall tomorrow evening.

—It is expected that two new members will be received at the First Baptist church next Sunday.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gull stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For Sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—Drugs sold by C. M. Nagle, West Front and Grove streets, stand any test. Try a bottle of his "Tar and Wild Cherry," nothing like it for a cold; will relieve it at once.

—Albert Hedden, of Fourth street, who will have charge of the carriages at the wedding of Miss Joanne Shepard on Saturday afternoon, has been obliged to engage coaches from several nearby towns. The affair will probably be the largest of any of recent years.

—When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. W. B. Wadsworth, of West Eighth street, is able to be out again after several weeks' illness.

W. V. Mundy, janitor of the Common Council chamber, has returned to his position after an extended absence caused by illness.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

Harry Glazier, the new D'Artagnan, who is to appear in Edmund Day's version of "Dumas' Three Musketeers," at Music Hall, tomorrow night, has not traveled any royal road to his present stellar position. During his stage career he has played over three hundred and fifty leading parts, a large share of his experience having been gained as leading man of the most prominent stock companies. In essaying the part of D'Artagnan, and as the latest exponent of the reckless Gascon, Mr. Glazier felt the necessity of giving to his impersonation as much originality as a proper regard for Dumas' description of his hero would permit. He illuminates the character with bits of new "business" and original readings, and evinces a fine regard for the net work of tradition that always surrounds so celebrated a character. E. D. Stair and George H. Nicolai are the managers of the tour and they have given the production a handsome and costly stage setting. The supporting company is numerous and carefully chosen.

* * * * * * *

Where the "Who is Who" company appeared last season it left behind a name second to none in the fun making line, and it is safe to say that "Who is Who" coming to Music Hall Saturday afternoon and night will be received by theatre goers with genuine pleasure. Farce comedies too seldom possess any merit and when an attraction of this class really merits the attention of the theatre loving public, it must be an exceptionally strong organization. "Who is Who" is a comedy that classes with the very best of plays constructed for laughing purposes only; and it has a number of high class vaudeville features to enhance its value. This is the third season of this company and it is better and stronger than ever. The play is one continuous round of complications which are all straightened out in the last act. The company is a large one and contains a number of well-known people including Chas. A. Loder and Paul Boardman.

* * * * * *

Life in the rural districts of New England is mirrored in "The Village Postmaster" which will be presented at Music Hall on Wednesday of next week by Archie Boyd and the strong company that supported him during the run of 227 nights at the 14th Street Theatre, New York.

* * * * * * *

Hall Cain's powerful play, "The Christian" will be seen here at Music Hall for the first time on Saturday night of next week. This remarkable attraction made the extraordinary record of 22 weeks in New York city to receipts exceeding $225,000. These figures exceed those ever received by any dramatic attraction in America playing to regular prices. The average for New York will reach $11,000 per week. "The Christian" will be presented here exactly as staged in New York with every detail of scenery, stage furniture, properties and effects complete and unaltered. The cast will be exceptionally strong. The management will bring their entire company of 18 principals and 40 auxiliary actors and actresses.

Tortured A Witness.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T. L. Martin, of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence: "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. King's New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for four years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for Coughs, Colds and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough, and not only prevents but absolutely cures Consumption. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—Some of the city firemen have received their new winter suits, which were made in Newark.

—Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The orignal DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns, sores and skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Removing Telephone Poles.

Employes of the New York & New Jersey Telephone Company are engaged in removing telephone poles from Madison avenue and in other streets where the company's wires are underground.

—Strictly new. There is more variety just now in correspondence paper than every before. S. F. Harker, stationer, 430 Watchung avenue, has all the choicest shades and styles.

—Now is the time when croup and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is one Minute Cough Cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. L. W. Randolph.

FOR REPAIRING STREETS

PLAINFIELD STREET RAILWAY COMPANY OWES CITY OVER $1,800.

Pending Its Payment Street Department Has Had to Borrow From General Fund.

One of the acts of the Common Council at its regular meeting Monday evening was to borrow $800 from the general account in anticipation of funds which will have to be paid into the city treasury by the Plainfield Street Railway Company. One of the provisions of the franchise for the street railroad company was that it should bear its share in the expense of repairing any streets on which the tracks of the company are laid. The street department has been making some great improvements on West Front street to defray the cost of which the corporation will have to pay over $1 800.

According to the agreement between the street railway company and the Council, the company bears one-third of the cost of improvements or repairs to any thoroughfare where there is but a single track and one-half the amount when there are two tracks. Under the supervision of the street department, West Front street has been re-macadamized from Park avenue to Plainfield avenue. During October the street railway company's share of the expense was $571. The bill has not yet been paid. In November, the company's share was $1.300, the bill for which was sent to the company's officials yesterday by Street Commissioner Gavett.

As the fiscal year of the Plainfield city government is drawing to a close and most of the appropriation for streets has been expended, the street committee was obliged to borrow money in order to pay their bills until the Street Railway Company makes its payments.

Rough on Piles.

Used largely in this and foreign countries. Only complete, absolutely successful, never failing cure; Relief at first application, and quick cure. External and internal treatment in the one package. Price 50c at Druggists, or sent promptly by mail on receipt of price. E. S. Wells, Chemist, 710 Grand St., Jersey City, N. J.

Gray Hair.

If gray, Wells' Hair Balsam gradually restores to original color, black or brown, elegant tonic dressing, 50c., $1. Druggists, or sent by express prepaid. E. S. Wells, Chemist, Jersey City, N. J.

Connolly Has Left Hospital.

Patrick Connolly, of West Third street, was discharged from the hospital yesterday after being confined to the institution for several weeks with a severe scalp wound. The injury was inflicted by being thrown from a saloon and striking on his head. It will be some time, however, before the wound is entirely well.

A Keen Clear Brain.

Your best feelings, your social position or business success depend largely on the perfect action of your Stomach and Liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen, clear brain, high ambition. A 25 cent box will make you feel like a new being. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Improving Postal Service.

Through the efforts of Postmaster Bird the residents of Park avenue below Randolph road now have their mail delivered at their doors. Carrier Robert Loughlin makes one trip daily to this section, beginning yesterday.

Board of Health Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Plainfield Board of Health will be held this evening when some important matters will be considered. The results of the inspection of the local milk supply will probably be considered.

—Gavett is open evenings now until the holidays. His line of fine goods for Xmas is complete.

—"Conquering the World," will be the suject of the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the First Baptist church Friday evening. The members expect to have a visiting society at the meeting.

—Johnson & Barnes, 217 Park avenue, telephone 1443, have a full line of choice fruits and vegetables, smoked meats and fish; cheese, all kinds of chicken salad, pigs feet and lots of other good things. Don't fail to give them a call.

A. I. Smalley, of the borough, and Thomas Brantingham, of South Plainfield, left Monday for West Virginia, where they will remain for a two weeks' hunt.

GOVERNOR ALLEN'S MESSAGE.

Porto Rico's House of Delegates Receives Valuable Instructions.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 5.—The Porto Rican house of delegates was harmoniously organized, Senor Manuel F. Rossy being elected speaker. While in joint session with the executive council the two bodies adopted a resolution to cable greetings to President McKinley.

Governor Allen's message, consisting of 5,000 words, was well received. After congratulating the people of Porto Rico on the meeting of their first legislative assembly the governor points out that the finances of the island are in a satisfactory condition, showing a balance of $1,583,496. The receipts from May to October inclusive were $1,041,696. The sum of $209,668, the balance due from the customs, will be used to refund the chief revenue customs which cease in 1902.

The governor recommends an equitable system of taxation, including excise, inheritance tax, and a direct tax upon real estate, together with a general valuation of all property and the abolition of municipal taxes.

He announces that there are now 800 schools in the island, an increase of 184 during the last year, and recommends that this number be augmented and that increased appropriations be made for elementary education.

The reorganization of the judiciary and the jury system is also recommended, and an argument is made in favor of simpler forms of municipal government, the suggestion being that municipalities be divided into three classes, according to the population of the towns.

Governor Allen asks for a repeal of the order giving alcaldes judicial power and recommends the establishment of boards of supervisors similar to those in Massachusetts. He praises the insular police, but thinks the force should be increased for all towns having populations under 20,000. More roads are recommended.

The message advises that the United States congress be petitioned to deepen, widen and clear San Juan harbor.

PINGREE PARDONS BOTH.

Generals White and Marsh Receive Executive Clemency.

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—Governor Pingree at 10 o'clock last night announced that he had pardoned both General W. L. White, ex-quartermaster general, and General A. F. Marsh, ex-inspector general of the Michigan national guard, who were convicted of complicity in the state military clothing frauds, upon the payment of $5,000 fine by each. One thousand dollars of the fine is to be paid Jan. 1, 1901, and a like sum on the 1st day of January, 1902, 1903, 1904 and 1905.

General White was committed to Jackson prison yesterday to begin the ten year sentence imposed upon him by Judge Wiest, and General Marsh is under bonds pending the result of an appeal of his trial, which resulted in his conviction, to the supreme court.

Both General White and General Marsh addressed petitions to the governor asking executive clemency.

Governor Pingree in his announcement of the pardon says:

"These men entered into a conspiracy with the Henderson-Ames company, a corporation composed of prominent and influential citizens of Kalamazoo, to defraud the state of a large amount of money in connection with the sale and repurchase of military clothing.

"The circuit judge and the prosecuting attorney of Ingham county, who had control of the proceedings before the grand jury, made no effort to have the grand jury bring all the guilty parties to justice, but permitted the seven members of the Henderson-Ames company and their agent, Bickerstaff, to go free. This ineffectual and one sided kind of justice is not consistent with my ideas of right and wrong, and has had great weight in determining my action in these cases."

Senatorial Honors Declined.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Governor Lind, who is a fusionist, has informally offered the appointment as United States senator ad interim to succeed Senator Davis to C. A. Smith, a wealthy Swedish-American lumberman of this city and a Republican. Mr. Smith has, however, declined the proffer. The governor's appointee would serve until the legislature, which meets next month, elects. One very generally credited report stated that former Governor John S. Pillsbury would be willing to accept the appointment with no expectation of being a candidate before the legislature. Confirmation was impossible as also was it in the case of reports that Moses E. Clapp had been offered the position.

Powerhouse Destroyed by Fire.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—What is known as the Ridgewood powerhouse, owned by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, causing a loss of $150,000. The fire started in some unknown manner shortly before 4 o'clock, and at the risk of his life Chief Engineer C. F. Wendlard shut off the power from each of the 750 horsepower dynamos, of which there were six in the building. Three alarms were turned in. Almost immediately after the first alarm the buiding was a mass of flames, and the firemen bent most of their energy toward the saving of adjacent property.

Disastrous Fall.

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Robert Wilson fell from a hay loft in Cameron. His lantern set fire to the straw and burned the farm buildings and contents.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; westerly gales, slowly diminishing.

SOUND FINANCIALLY.

Report of Secretary Gage Makes Excellent Showing.

RECEIPTS INCREASE, LARGE SURPLUS

Enormous Amount of Gold In the Treasury—Large Increase In Bank Note Issues—Shipping Subsidy Urged.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The annual report of Secretary of the Treasury Gage shows that the revenues of the government for the fiscal year ended June 30 last were $669,595,431.18 and the expenditures for the same period $590,068,371, leaving a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $79,527,060.18. As compared with the fiscal year 1899 receipts increased $58,613,426.83 and expenditures decreased $117,358,388.14.

The revenues for the fiscal year 1901 are estimated at $687,773,253.92 and the expenditures at $607,773,253.92, or a surplus of $80,000,000.

For the fiscal year 1902 the receipts are estimated at $716,633,042 and the expenditures at $690,374,804.24, or an estimated surplus of $26,258,237.76.

"The net increase during the year of national bank capital was $19,631,850, the total authorized stock of all banks on June 30 being $627,503,095.

"The imports of the year were $849,941,184 against $697,148,489 in 1899, an increase of $152,792,695. This large increase, however, is chiefly in manufacturers' materials.

"The total exports of the year were valued at $1,394,483,082, of which $1,370,763,571 were of domestic production.

"The operation of the act of March 14 last with respect to these two important matters of our finances has well exemplified its wisdom. Confidence in the purpose and power of the government to maintain the gold standard has been greatly strengthened. The result is that gold flows toward the treasury instead of away from it. At the date of this report the free gold in the treasury is larger in amount than at any former period in our history. Including the $150,000,000 reserve the gold in the treasury belonging to the government amounts to over $242,000,000, while the treasury holds besides more than $230,000,000, against which certificates have been issued.

"That provision of the act which liberalized the conditions of the bank note issue was also wise and timely. Under it, as previously shown in this report, there has been an increase of some $77,000,000 in bank note issues."

In urging the passage of the shipping bill Secretary Gage says:

"'Our national greatness cannot be fully rounded out while we are so dependent as at present on foreign shipping for our intercourse with the rest of mankind. At this time political and commercial considerations demand of us a larger measure of strength and independence on the seas than ever in our history, yet never before have we been relatively so weak in transoceanic navigation.'

"A bill for the promotion of American commerce and for the creation of an American merchant marine in foreign trade which shall be worthy of the nation now awaits the action of both branches of congress. It conforms in principle and general outlines to recommendations upon the subject in the reports for 1898 and 1899. Early consideration of that measure is recommended."

Canal Commission's Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The report of the isthmian canal commission, submitted by the president to congress, gives as the unanimous conclusion of that body that "the most practicable and feasible route for an isthmian canal under the control, management and ownership of the United States is that known as the Nicaragua route." The commission estimates the cost of this route at $200,540,000. This estimate is much in excess of any heretofore made and is due to increased dimensions and other features not heretofore considered. The commission also estimates the cost of a canal by the Panama route at $142,342,579 according to one route or $153,378,258 according to another route. As between the Nicaragua and Panama routes the commission sums up a number of advantages favorable to the former. It states also that under the concessions given by the government of Colombia to the Panama Canal company that government is not free to grant the necessary rights to the United States except upon conditions made by the company.

Smallpox In New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Forty cases in the pesthouse on North Brothers island, one new case in the infected district on the west side and two deaths to date was the condition of the smallpox outbreak as reported by the board of health yesterday. None of the officials took any comfort from the fact that but one new case developed yesterday as against eight on Monday, for the smallpox has overleaped the bounds to which they had tried to confine it in the neighborhood of "All Nations' block" in West Sixty-ninth street, where it started. They are now satisfied that they will have many more cases to deal with.

Land Quickly Taken.

CROOKSTON, Minn., Dec. 5.—Agricultural lands in four ceded townships on the White Earth reservation were thrown open to settlement at 9 a. m. yesterday, and by noon nearly every available piece of land had been filed upon by men who had been in line before the United States land office several hours. Everything passed off quietly. A large number of those who filed left immediately for the reservation. Some of the claims are rich in pine.

Alaska Telegraph Lines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—General Greely, chief signal officer, has been informed that 200 miles of telegraph land lines have been constructed in the vicinity of the Southern Yukon and Nome, Alaska. The cable between Nome and St. Michaels which recently was turned over to the signal corps by the contractors and salvers interested in its construction is reported to be working satisfactorily.

Cuban Convention Considers Constitution.

THREE DRAFTS ARE PRESENTED.

Colored Member Offers For Approval the United States Constitution With Slight Changes—Other Plans Outlined.

HAVANA, Dec. 5.—The Cuban constitutional convention resumed its sittings yesterday with an air of business. The first thing done was to defeat overwhelmingly the motion of Senor Gualberto Gomez to discuss General Wood's address at the opening of the convention. This action will probably close the incident.

Three complete constitutions were submitted by General Rivera, Senor de Quesada and the colored general Morua respectively. These will be printed and distributed among the delegates, who will discuss them later.

General Rivera's proposed constitution provides for a president, a senate, a house of representatives, a governor for each of the six provinces, a legislative body for each province and for one member of the house of representatives for every 30,000 inhabitants, with election by popular vote. His scheme calls also for the election of three electors in each municipal district, whose duty it shall be to elect a legislative body of 11 for the province in which they reside. This legislative body shall elect the governor and four members of the senate. Finally the six legislatures shall meet and choose the president, who must be a native Cuban. Candidates for senatorial honors must have incomes of at least $1,500 a year.

General Rivera's idea is to have the power vested in the central government, and the convention virtually pledged itself to one state government at Monday's secret session.

Senor de Quesada's proposal would centralize the government in a president, senate and house of representatives elected by the people, suffrage being restricted to educational qualifications.

General Morua offered for approval the constitution of the United States with the exception that any one who fought in the war might be chosen president. His proposal leaves the question of an army and navy to be decided by congress.

Senor Zayas offered a clause providing that a judicial body higher than the supreme court should be elected by popular vote and providing that any official removed from office should have the right of appeal to this body.

Senor Ferrara submitted a general educational scheme.

Eight Killed; Twenty Injured.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—A work train, carrying its crew of between 25 and 30 track repairers, backed into a freight train a few miles east of Suisun, on the Southern Pacific road, yesterday, and in the wreck which followed eight men were killed and 20 more injured, many of them seriously. From the meager reports received it appears that the freight train had the right of way and was running at full speed in order to meet and pass another freight at Suisun. The work train should have been on a siding and was making for it at a good rate of speed when it collided with the freight. At the time there was a heavy fog prevailing, and it was possible to discern objects for only a short distance, so the shock of the colliding trains was terrific.

Lee at His New Station.

OMAHA, Dec. 5.—General Fitz-Hugh Lee, Mrs. Lee and their daughter Ann have arrived here from Chicago. At the station was Lieutenant G. M. Lee, late of the Thirty-ninth infantry at Manila, who has been sick at the Presidio since his return from the Philippines. Lieutenant Lee had not seen his parents for more than a year, and the meeting was an affecting one. General Merriam, who has had the department of Colorado and Missouri under his supervision, with his staff officers and others of the army headquarters here, was at the train to receive him, and General Lee is now in command of this department.

Commuted His Sentence.

ALBANY, Dec. 5.—Governor Roosevelt has commuted the sentence of Timothy Donovan, who was convicted in Erie county Dec. 1, 1888, of murder in the second degree and sentenced to Auburn prison for life. He was released today. Donovan shot and killed John Howard in a saloon in Buffalo. The men got into a quarrel, during which Howard gave Donovan a severe beating. Donovan thereupon left and went into another saloon and was followed by Howard, who attempted to repeat the beating, when Donovan drew a revolver and shot him.

Ashes Scattered to the Winds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—In the presence of a number of his lifelong friends the ashes of the late Justice Albert Hoffman of Hoboken were scattered to the winds. The body was incinerated at Fresh Pond, L. I. When the work had been done, the ashes were taken charge of and thrown into the air. This was in accordance with the wishes of the former judge. He had expressed a wish to be cremated and said he did not want his ashes taken home to be knocked about. He wanted them to return to mother earth.

Deserted and Robbed.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Helen Taylor, 19 years old, who was married in New York a few days ago, has been deserted here by her husband, Theodore Taylor. Mrs. Taylor alleges he also relieved her of $150, all her savings. Taylor represented to his wife that he was to manage a store here. Mrs. Taylor says the money taken was the result of ten years' saving. Her maiden name was Helen Krause.

Maurice Thompson Ill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Maurice Thompson, the distinguished Indianapolis author, is seriously ill at his home in Crawfordsville. His condition is such as to excite great alarm among his friends. He was stricken several weeks ago, but rallied somewhat. Within the last few days he has grown steadily worse.

Military Funeral For Tafe.

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 5.—Patrick Tafe of Hornellsville, who died in San Francisco from wounds received in the battle of Tien-tsin while en route home, served in a New York volunteer regiment during the Spanish-American war. He will have a military funeral at Hornellsville.

A FUTILE MEETING.

Envoys at Peking Make No Headway—Conger Hopeful.

PEKING, Dec. 5.—As was expected, the meeting of the foreign envoys yesterday did not result in any definite conclusion owing to the fact that not all the governments have notified their representatives as to the form of the preliminary note to the Chinese plenipotentiaries. Mr. Conger, the United States minister, said after the meeting:

"Apparently it is the desire of all to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. I believe the next meeting will be the last, but will not be called until every minister has received definite instructions covering all contingencies. Personally I am satisfied with the results of the proceedings."

A dispatch from Shanghai says that an imperial edict deprives General Tung Fu Hsiang of his rank and titles, but permits him to retain command of the troops. He has been ordered to disband 5,000 men and to withdraw to the province of Kan-su with the remainder.

The edict deprecates his ignorance and roughness in dealing with foreign affairs, but it is not regarded as of serious import.

A recrudescence of the southern rebellion is reported. The Triads are said to be getting fresh supplies of ammunition and to be preparing outbreaks in the provinces of Kwang-tung and Kwang-si.

Natives papers express the belief that the court is preparing to return to Peking, whither orders have been issued to send the rice tribute instead of sending it to Sian-fu.

FRENCH WAR TALK.

General Mercier Says France Is England's Equal.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—In the course of an extraordinary speech General Mercier said:

"In view of the possibility of war with Great Britain the use of the army is not sufficiently taken into account. The times are not the same as they were 100 years ago. Steam, the navy, the telegraph and the railroad have rendered the problem of the invasion of England much easier of solution. Moreover, England herself is no longer the same. The Transvaal war has shown that the British army, although brave, is not equal to the task which England expected it to perform. The British navy is powerful, but it has many coasts to defend.

"France, therefore, is numerically England's equal at certain points and is even her superior in the instruments of destruction. History furnishes many instances of mutiny in the English navy at the moment of battle. A landing in England is, therefore, not beyond realization.

"This is not only my opinion, but that also of high naval officers. The British premier recently expressed significant fears, and if the principle of landing is admitted the practical means of execution may be discussed.

"I venture to think that the work I prepared while commanding an army corps could serve as a basis for such a project, which would not be expensive."

BRINGING THE DEAD HOME.

Remains of Soldiers En Route From China and the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Quartermaster General Ludington has received a cable message from General Humphrey, quartermaster with the troops in China, saying that the transport California sailed from Taku on the 30th ult. for San Francisco with the remains of 74 soldiers and marines who either died of wounds or disease during the recent military operations in China. These remains were disinterred at Tien-tsin, Piet-sang and Yang-tsen. All the bodies unclaimed by relatives will be buried in the National cemetery at the Presidio, San Francisco, with military honors.

The quartermaster general is also informed that the transport Hancock, which has just arrived at San Francisco, brought the remains of 229 soldiers, marines and citizens who lost their lives in the Philippines in the service of the government. In addition the vessel brought the remains of 36 soldiers and one marine who died in Honolulu. In most cases these remains will be turned over to relatives for private interment. All unclaimed, however, will be buried at the Presidio.

Cone-Platt Case Settled.

TOLEDO, Dec. 5.—Greatly to the surprise of attorneys and court officials, when the long drawn out suit of Calvin Cone versus Thomas C. Platt, president of the United States Express company, was called in the United States court, the announcement was made that it had been settled out of court. Cone was formerly general western agent for the company and claimed a life contract. He was removed some years ago and sued for $32,000 and continuation of salary. The basis of settlement was not announced, but is said to have been the payment of $9,000 to Cone.

Skyscraper For Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 5.—A 20 story skyscraper office building, which will be the highest in western Pennsylvania and which will cost $2,000,000, will be erected by H. C. Frick on the block bounded by Fifth avenue, Diamond and Grant streets and Scrip alley. This is opposite St. Paul's Roman Catholic cathedral and alongside the Carnegie office building, which it will overtop by six stories. Mr. Frick will also erect a mansion for himself on Squirrel hill, fronting on the Beechwood boulevard, the construction of which will cost $750,000.

Peacemaker Shot.

TISHOMINGO, I. T., Dec. 5.—Robert Patrick was shot dead by Samuel Keel while endeavoring to step in between Keel and quarreling neighbors. In a scuffle that followed Keel was shot through the shoulder and seriously wounded by Sim Tyson, who escaped. Patrick's aged father, upon hearing of his son's death, dropped dead.

THE YOSEMITE'S LOSS.

Members of the Crew of the Wrecked Cruiser Tell of the Disaster.

MANILA, Dec. 5.—Two members of the crew of the United States auxiliary cruiser Yosemite, which recently foundered during a typhoon off the island of Guam, have arrived at Cavite on board the United States transport Alava, which left Guam Nov. 26 with 75 marines who had been transferred to Cavite from Guam. The names of the two men of the wrecked vessel are John Barry, a carpenter, who was about to be relieved at the time of the disaster, and Henry Colligan, a hospital apprentice, who came on board the Alava to attend some of the sick marines. Barry had much to do with rigging up the steering gear and in other attempts to save the Yosemite. A boom 50 feet long and a foot thick which was rigged over her stern snapped off when attempts were made to steer with it. By the time a stouter arrangement was effected what was left of the propeller was almost out of the water, and the steamer was constantly settling lower by the head. No progress was possible, and all on board thought their last moment had come. The discipline on board was good.

After the Yosemite had drifted shoreward from her anchorage she pounded on a reef. The wind shifted with extreme suddenness and terrific fury and carried the vessel outward through such a narrow outlet in the harbor that no one understood how she got through. It was very dark and thick. The spray was blinding, and the wind threatened to sweep the men into the water at any moment.

When asked whether there was any criticism among the men of the officers' action in abandoning the ship, the two men interviewed replied that practically every man conceded all had been done that was practicable and abandonment of the vessel was the only course left.

Several marines who were at Agana, Guam, during the typhoon said that three-quarters of the town was under water and that all the dwellings were destroyed excepting those having tile roofs. The corrugated iron roofs surmounting the government buildings and residences were for the most part lifted bodily.

The marines waded about and assisted women and children to places of refuge. The natives, after their losses, made but feeble efforts to repair the damage.

In the judgment of naval officers the abandonment of the Yosemite was the only course feasible, the feeling being that the Justin might have stood by longer, but that the result would have been the same.

CONSUL STOWE'S VIEWS.

Returning From Cape Town, Says War Will Soon Be Snuffed Out.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—James G. Stowe, the United States consul general at Cape Town, landed at Southampton yesterday, wearing the identical coat which he wore when the Boers attacked his train while he was on his way to Pretoria on a special mission. A bullet hole in the collar of his coat testified to the narrowness of his escape.

Mr. Stowe, who is taking a long delayed leave of absence and who will sail for the United States on Dec. 15 on the St. Louis, compared the guerrilla warfare in South Africa with the closing scenes of the American civil war. He said:

"I give the war in South Africa four months to come to an end. In my opinion it is bound to be snuffed out during that period. I do not believe Lord Kitchener will do much more than any other general. The present plan of the British campaign is bound to bring about results. Moreover, there are 16,000 Boer prisoners in Ceylon, St. Helena and Cape Town, all of whom are anxious to have an end of hostilities.

"Shortly before I left there Christian Botha, a cousin of Louis Botha, got up a petition among his fellow prisoners at Cape Town urging the commandant general to make peace. A majority signed the petition, which undoubtedly represented the aggregate opinion of the Boer prisoners.

"All this talk about burning farms is buncombe. The only farms destroyed are those from which shots are fired at the British or those which are being obviously used to shelter Boers."

Referring to the services of Adelbert S. Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, who is expected to return to the United States in the course of a few weeks, Mr. Stowe said:

"Mr. Hay has won golden opinions on both sides, although for a time some unpleasantness existed in his relations with the Boers owing to the assertion that he was a British spy."

Want Old Landmark Preserved.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The women's auxiliary to the Society For the Preservation of Scenic and Historic Places and Objects held its first memorial meeting at the historic Fraunce's tavern, one of the oldest landmarks in this city. The meeting was in celebration of the one hundred and seventeenth anniversary of the famous "farewell" of General Washington to his fellow officers of the Revolutionary war. Fraunce's tavern is at Broad and Pearl streets and about 1762 was a famous public house. Additions and alterations have been made to it, and the society wishes it to be taken over by the city and the land about made a park.

The Harrisons In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Ex-President and Mrs. Harrison, with their daughter, are in the city, the guests of Hon. John W. Foster. Mr. Harrison is a member of the general committee of the Presbyterian church appointed to tabulate the returns from the presbyteries on the subject of the proposed revision of the confession of faith which met here last night. The ex-president expects to remain in the city about a week.

Accidental Electrocution.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Dec. 5.—Alexander Hamilton, a baker's employee, was accidentally electrocuted here last night. He was driving his wagon, when he noticed a loosened telephone wire lying across the street. He alighted and picking up the wire, began to coil it about his arm, when it came in contact with an electric light wire, and the strong current caused his instant death. He leaves a wife and child.

Another Corn Corner.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Indications on the board of trade are that another corner is hatching in corn, this time in the December option. Conditions are practically the same now as they were in the November options, manipulated by Phillips, with the probability that the local stocks of contract corn will be still further depleted.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL.

Senate Gives This Measure Precedence.

MR. FRYE SPEAKS IN ITS BEHALF.

Shows That It Costs This Country From Forty to Eighty Per Cent More to Operate Ships Than It Costs Foreign Nations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The programme of the senate leaders for a business session was taken up in earnest yesterday, and material progress was made. What is popularly known as the ship subsidy bill was made the unfinished business of the senate instead of the Spooner Philippine measure, and the discussion of it was opened by Mr. Frye of Maine, chairman of the committee on commerce, from which the measure was reported. He addressed the senate for more than an hour and a half. Recognized by his colleagues as an authority upon the subject, he was accorded close attention. He spoke without notes and at times was forceful and eloquent. He had not concluded when the senate adjourned.

"The world," Mr. Frye declared, "has entered upon a fierce commercial war, and it is to be a long and strenuous conflict. Each nation is seeking the advantage of its rivals in this conflict and is pressing forward to gain that advantage. Most of the foreign nations are looking for commercial advantages in the east. Russia, France, Great Britain, Italy and Germany are paying an aggregate of $5,000,000 per year in subsidies for the carrying ships of the eastern trade."

He pointed out that under present conditions it costs the United States from 40 to 80 per cent more, principally in wages and food, to operate its ships than it costs Great Britain, and about 80 per cent more than it costs Norway, and yet the United States is forced to compete under such a handicap with the encouraged and protected ships of foreign countries. That was one of the reasons, he said, why the United States was in a humiliating position as to its merchant marine.

Mr. Frye discussed at some length the question of export bounties and discriminating duties, maintaining that export bounties were impracticable and that in the matter of discriminating duties the United States would encounter no less than 31 different treaties. These would have to be abrogated if discriminating duties are enforced. The abrogation of these treaties would be an offense to every nation involved.

"Our relations with European countries today," said he, "are most amicable. Do you think it wise to disturb these relations at this time?"

At considerable length Mr. Frye discussed the origin of the pending bill and referred to the committee of 25 prominent Americans which had drafted the original subsidy bill. The pending measure, he explained, had been amended materially and radically by the committee on commerce.

None of the original committee of 25 had favored free ships, and Mr. Frye said he could see no reason why any man should favor them. In this connection he referred to the shipyards of the United States and expressed the opinion that a great maritime nation like this might as well be without a constitution as to be without shipyards.

Mr. Frye showed how much greater was the cost of building and operating ships under the American flag. If these expenses were not greater, he said, there would be no excuse for the pending bill and its foundation would fall. He presented, therefore, an array of figures to prove that it cost not only more to construct American ships, but more to operate them after they were built. His figures indicated that ships of Great Britain had an advantage of from $4.50 to $5 per gross ton over American ships in the expense of construction and operation.

Mr. Frye referred to the line of vessels run by the late John Roach from New York to Brazil. They came into competition with a line of Spanish ships exactly similar in size and speed to the American ships. The Spanish vessels had a yearly advantage of $120,000 over the American ships and could make money carrying freight at $5 per ton, while the American vessels in order to make money had to charge $7.50 per ton. Mr. Roach was forced to sell the line of vessels, and Mr. Thurber and the other purchasers of the ships eventually lost their entire investment.

Mr. Frye then took up that provision of the bill which provides the amount of subsidy to be paid vessels and explained how the payment was regulated. He showed that by the terms of the measure a ten knot vessel out for 175 days would draw $15,000 a year beyond the cost of her coal and handling and that the amount of the subsidy would in percentage diminish with the increase of the speed of the ship.

At this point Mr. Frye yielded the floor for the day, and the senate at 3:55 p. m. held a brief executive session, after which it adjourned.

The session of the house was brief. The real work began today with the consideration of the army reorganization bill, which Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, reported yesterday. He explained the urgent necessity for immediate action upon this measure, saying that under the present law the army must be reduced to 27,000 men on July 1 next and asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the bill. When Mr. Sulzer of New York objected to the request, Mr. Hull introduced a resolution for a special order for the consideration of the bill today, with provision for a vote at the end of six hours general debate.

January 10—Vocal concert at Casino.

The Public Verdict.

The verdict of the people of Plainfield, as expressed at the polls in the charter election yesterday, was decidedly in favor of the present municipal administration of the Republicans. A year ago the charter election gave the Republicans the entire membership of the Common Council. Yesterday's balloting again gave that party complete control of the local legislative body by even a more decisive victory than last year. The Republican ticket received a majority of 1,222 in the city yesterday. At the election a year ago the majority for the Republican ticket was 880. It is decidedly evident that the policy of the present city administration is satisfactory to a majority of the citizens of Plainfield.

Col. Tyler's candidacy for Mayor on the Democratic ticket put a new phase on the local situation. It was known that his personal popularity in the Second and Third wards, where most of the commuters live, would win him many votes from the Republicans of those wards. Many of the Republicans, heretofore prominent in their own party, came out for Col. Tyler and worked directly against the head of the Republican ticket.

Not a word of objection against Dr. Jenkins, save that he was a physician and did not have the time, was heard. The election for Mayor became a contest between the personalities of the two men.

Yesterday's election showed that a large element of the Republican party in the Second and Third wards believes in independence from partisan views in municipal elections. In the Second and Third wards, usually Republican strongholds, Dr. Jenkins received a majority of five.

It was in the First and Fourth wards that the election was really decided. The workingmen, who form the bulk of the voters in those two wards, came out strongly for the Republican ticket. While there was some cutting of the head of the ticket, the majority was large enough to show that Dr. Jenkins was the more popular candidate of the two.

No matter which man was elected, Plainfield was assured of a Mayor, honest and faithful to his duties, whose efforts would be to advance the city's best interests according to his views. As it is, Dr. Jenkins can be safely trusted to fill the position with honor and ability. His actions may not please everyone and doubtless will not but they will be based on what he believes is best and not for any unscrupulous ends.

Advertising Needed.

There is but one advantage which Bayonne can claim over Plainfield as a home for New York business men and that is the greater accessibility of the city in Hudson county from New York. In many other ways, Plainfield is vastly superior and the recent improvements to the service of the Jersey Central Railroad have been greatly to the advantage of those who daily commute from this beautiful city.

Despite this comparison, so much in favor of Plainfield, the business men of Bayonne are preparing to advertise what advantages Bayonne has with a view to bring manufacturing industries and home-seekers to that city. The Good Government Association, the Business Men's Club and the Bayonne Board of Trade have leagued together in behalf of the movement. If such a place as Bayonne, with all its disadvantages, can bring additions to its residents and to its industries by judicious advertising, it is time that Plainfield, which possesses so much to attract, should be properly presented to the prospective home-seeker. If the man, seeking an ideal location for his home, has Plainfield's advantages properly pointed out, he will carefully consider them. If he never hears of Plainfield, however, it will make no difference what a charming city this is and how many advantages it offers.

Orange has a new health ordinance which corresponds in many particulars to the one at present in force in Plainfield. It is the first official act of the Board of Health of Orange to compel the people of that city to give up the use of cesspools and connect with the sewers where possible. The ordinance also contains some very stringent provisions regarding the sale of milk and ice and the keeping of domestic animals. The Board of Health is given the right to stop the sale of milk and ice where the provisions of the code are not complied with.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The mention of Alvah A. Clark as the recipient of the empty honor of a minority nomination against Senator Sewell brings to mind a man who was once a political force in this State, but who in these later years has dropped out of sight and mind, Mr. Clark reached his sixtieth birthday a couple of months ago and was generally believed to be out of politics. He has achieved success as a lawyer and has a comfortable competence. He was elected to Congress in 1876, when the old Fourth District consisted of Hunterdon, Somerset, Sussex and Warren counties, and it was considered so hopelessly Democratic that no Republican was nominated. The Republican vote was cast for Veghte, who ran as an Independent Democrat, and was beaten by over 5,000 majority. Two years later Potts took the nomination against him, and Larrabee, a Greenbacker. Larrabee drew off about 4,000 votes, but Clark won by over 1,500.—Jersey City Journal.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

In connection with the death of Former Captain of Police George W. Grant, an event of historical interest is brought to mind. He was a member of the jury that convicted Bridget Durgan, of New Market, for the murder of her husband and as far as known he is the last of that jury to pass away. Many of the older residents will remember the incident which excited considerable interest when it occurred many years ago.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS GATHERED.

Quorum Not Present So the Executive Committee Met Instead.

A meeting of the executive committee was held last evening in the absence of a quorum of the board of directors of the Public Library. Those present were Col. M. W. Tyler, J. Evarts Tracy and J. B. Dumont

A letter from Mary G. Burton asking for a teachers' card was referred to the library committee with power.

A painting entitled "Cain's Marius," by John Vanderlyn, bequeathed to the Art Gallery in and by the will of the late Miss Elenor Boome, of North Plainfield, having been duly delivered to the Art Gallery by John H. VanWinkle and Charles Place, the executors, the secretary was directed to formally acknowledge its receipts, and the president and secretary were ordered to sign the release presented by the executors and attach the seal of the library thereto.

The secretary was directed to extend the thanks of the board to Joseph O. Osgood for his gift to the library of volumns 1 to 17 of VanNostrand's Electric Engineering Magazine.

One Fare for the Round Trip to Washington, D. C.

For the centennial celebration of the establishment of the seat of government at Washington the Central R. R. of New Jersey will sell tickets from all stations at one fare for the round trip. Tickets good to go on December 11th and to return on or before December 14th.

The Mayor is Away.

Mayor George W. Rockfellow left yesterday for a few days' trip to points in Virginia. The Mayor's trip is for the benefit of his health. He will be absent about ten days and will probably stop at Old Point Comfort before his return. Mrs. Rockfellow did not accompany him.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L. W. Randolph.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, December 5.—For the brief time that yesterday's high wind raged in this vicinity it caused considerable damage. The most serious was the demolition of a wagonhouse on the Abram Vail property at Greenbrook. Four wagons, the property of Soren Sorensen, who runs the farm on shares, were stored in the house, and were totally wrecked by the falling timbers and the weight of 175 bushels of corn stored above. One of the vehicles was a new top market wagon purchased by Mr. Sorensen a few weeks ago. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars. Mr. Sorensen had a narrow escape from being crushed by the structure as he had been at work in it and left but a few minutes before it fell. The loss of the wagons will be keenly felt by him as they represented the savings of several years and leave him without means for getting produce to market.

Last evening's lecture in the Presbyterian church by H. Brewster Willis was not attended as largely as it would have been, had the weather been clear. Those who did brave the storm, however, were well repaid for their trouble as the talk was very interesting. The next of the series will be given on December 18th, and will probably be a lecture by H. M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield schools.

Judgment for the full amount and costs in favor of the plaintiff was rendered by Justice Warden yesterday in the contract case of Howell against Kellogg.

The Board of Education met last evening but adjourned immediately in order to be present at the school lecture in the Presbyterian church.

Ludlow Frazee has just completed neat jobs of interior decorating in A Gray's residence and Taylor's Hotel.

Miss Helen Terry, of Westfield, is spending several days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H Terry.

The Elwood Vaudville and Dramatic Company will give a performance in the Town Hall this evening.

There are letters remaining uncalled for the post office for Miss Maggie Kane and Mrs. Willis.

Mrs. A. N. Randolph is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. B Sproull, of Jersey City.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 5.—The following letters were uncalled for at the post office during the month of November: John Gramsan, Dilley and Wintermute, Carl E Drange (3), George Harbuth, R. Helmsah, John Suydam, Esq. and Mrs. George Ulrich.

The Farmer's Institute will be held in the Stelton Baptist church this evening and all day tomorrow. This evening's programme begins at 7:15 o'clock. Several interesting speakers will be present to discuss various subjects of importance to farmers. Tomorrow's session will commence at 9:45 a. m. and a similar programme will be followed out.

At a meeting of the Piscataway Township Committee held yesterday afternoon, the question of lighting the village by electricity was brought up. In all about ten lights will be needed. The question will be definitely settled at a later meeting.

With the exception of uprooting a few trees and the blowing down of a few fences yesterday's young gale passed over this vicinity without doing any serious damage.

The G. E. Club will meet this evening with Miss Irene Day.

Mrs. W. J. Davis is confined to the house by illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 5—The storm of last evening kept a number home who had intended attending the Sunday-school meeting in Hope chapel, Plainfield. Rev. G. M. Shott, of the Baptist Sunday-school, addressed the meeting.

The many friends of Henry Keuhn, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, will be pleased to learn that he is recovering very nicely and expects to leave the hospital in two weeks.

The regular monthly meeting of Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company will be held in the company's rooms this evening.

Mrs. Hogan and family who have been residents of the borough during the summer, have returned to New York for the winter.

Miss Mary Lee, of Orange, who has been spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Billings, returned to her home on Tuesday.

The members of the Board of Education held their regular monthly meeting in the parlor of the school last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Dec. 5.—Rev. Thomas Houston left this morning for Scranton, where he will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings among the miners. At the meeting here last night over one hundred were present to hear the story of his life.

Repairs and changes are being made to the railroad bridge near the depot preparatory to the laying of a new track. The platform around the depot is also to be rebuilt and extended.

The high wind of yesterday broke the telephone wires connecting Plainfield and South Plainfield, but communications were resumed within a few hours.

At the P. O. S. of A. meeting, tomorrow night, J. S. Thuma and Albert Young are expected to appear for initiation.

Mrs. William Clawson is visiting Mrs. H. C. Avery, of New York. She will return home in about three weeks.

TenEyck & Harris have established a branch office at Frank Rowley's drug store in Plainfield.

Mrs. Fred LaTurette will be hostess of a small party at her home this evening.

W. S. S. Entertained.

The rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club in the Babcock building were the scene of a merry gathering last evening, when nearly one hundred young people assembled in response to an invitation from the W. S. S. Dancing was the feature of the evening and to the strains of Frazee's orchestra, was kept up until a late hour. Refreshments were served at midnight. The committee which conducted the affair so successfully were N. R. Peterson, H. O. Bogart and Robert Goldsack.

COMPLETE VICTORY FOR REPUBLICANS.

ran slightly behind his ticket as did Councilman Coriell.

FOURTH WARD, 1st DISTRICT.

Republicans Made Heavy Gains But Failed to Keep Dr. Jenkins up With Rest of the Ticket.

While the promises of the Republican leaders in the First district of the Fourth ward, that Dr. Jenkins would not run behind his ticket, were not fulfilled, the Republican nominee for Mayor received 59 majority there. He ran 30 behind his ticket. Collector Smith was one better than the Republican ticket which was the result of his personal popularity. He lives in that district. W. W. St. John made the best run of any of the Democratic candidates except Col. Tyler in the district. He was 21 ahead on his ticket.

The total vote in the district was 413, 264 Republican, 145 Democratic and 4 rejected. The vote was far heavier than that last year or two years ago and came within 51 of the figures of last November. The Republican majority was 119, a heavy Republican gain.

FOURTH WARD, 2nd DIRTRICT

Republican Landslide of Last Year Again Repeated—District Carried by 102 Majority.

The Republican landslide of last city election in the Second district of the Fourth ward was repeated yesterday and the result showed the Republicans even stronger than before. They carried the district by 102, polling 245 to the Democrat's 143. Last year's majority was 93. Despite the efforts of the Republican organization, Tyler pasters were freely used and Dr. Jenkins only carried the district by 5. Smith and Councilman Randolph ran behind the ticket slightly. The total number of ballots cast was 389 and one was rejected. Two years ago the district gave F. C. Lounsbury, Citizen's candidate for Mayor, 71 majority.

FOURTH WARD, 3d DISTRICT.

Strong Republican Vote Stood by Head of the Ticket With Only Eighteen Scratches.

Down in the Third district of the Fourth ward, the Republicans made a strong showing, carrying the district by 161. Last year it went 108 Republican and two years ago, gave F.C. Lounsbury, the Citizen's candidate for Mayor, a majority of 10. There was comparatively less cutting of the head of the Republican ticket than in nearly any of the other districts of the city. Dr. Jenkins only ran 18 behind his ticket and defeated his opponent by 126. W. W. St. John did one better than his ticket. Smith and Randolph were close behind the Republican vote. 335 votes were cast and four were rejected. The election there was a quiet one although the vote was heavy.

Oldenburg.

Oldenburg. Das hier errichtete Kriegsgericht der 19. Division verurtheilte in seiner ersten Sitzung den aus Berlin gebürtigen Deserteur Kipka vom Infanterie-Regiment Nr. 91, der bei seiner Ergreifung in Ihrhove den Gendarm erstochen hatte, zu 13 Jahren Zuchthaus.

Mecklenburg.

Friedland. Seit Jahren hat man in der Gegend von Friedland keine so gute Tabakernte erzielt, wie in diesem Jahre. Den Centner hat man mit 20 bis 24 Mark bezahlt bekommen.

Braunschweig. Anhalt. Lippe. Waldeck.

Blankenburg. Die Eheleute Pochstein in Kattenstedt hatten beide ihre Wohnung verlassen, in welcher ihre beiden, zwei und vier Jahre alten Kinder allein zurückblieben. Als die Eltern heimkehrten, fanden sie beide Kinder todt vor. Es war aus dem Ofen Rauch in das Zimmer gedrungen, so daß die Kinder ersticken mußten.

Dessau. Der Klempner Lossow erschoß aus Eifersucht seine Frau und versuchte, sich die Kehle zu durchschneiden. Der Mann war schwer verletzt.

Detmold. Die Lippische Regierung hat ihren Prozeß gegen den früheren Minister, jetzigen Regierungspräsidenten in Lüneburg, v. Oertzen, in zweiter Instanz verloren. Es handelte sich um ein Wartegeld, welches v. Oertzen nach einem mit dem Regenten Prinz Adolf geschlossenen Vertrage zustand, von der Lippischen Regierung aber verweigert wurde. Abgesehen von der Gewährung des Wartegeldes, hat das Land nunmehr auch die nicht unerheblichen Prozeßkosten zu tragen.

Rhoden. Durch eine Feuersbrunst sind hierorts sechs Wohnhäuser mit allen Vorraths-, Neben- und Stallgebäuden in Asche gelegt worden.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Der Garnisonverwaltungsdirektor, Rechnungsrath Wild, ist nach bedeutenden Unterschlagungen verschwunden. Wild ist 70 Jahre alt. Er nahm sämmtliche an einem der nächsten Tage auszuzahlenden Gehälter der Garnisonsbeamten mit und machte noch bei hiesigen Geschäftsleuten verschiedene Anleihen. — Der ehemalige hessische Finanzminister Küchler, der vor einigen Monaten wegen schwerer Krankheit von seinem Posten zurückgetreten war, ist gestorben.

Friedberg. Das dem Baron v. Klinckerhoff gehörige, bei Friedberg gelegene Schloß wurde durch Großfeuer zerstört. Der Schaden beträgt etwa 300,000 Mark.

Mainz. Von der Zollbehörde wurden in Folge des unlängst in Kraft getretenen Fleischbeschaugesetzes ganz bedeutende Sendungen von Wurstwaaren, die aus Italien und der Schweiz hier eingetroffen und für hiesige Geschäftsleute bestimmt waren, beschlagnahmt und vernichtet.

Worms. In einer Nacht desertirte der aus Hahnheim gebürtige Musketier Straub vom hiesigen Infanterie-Regiment. Der Flüchtling war noch Rekrut. Er wurde in Alzey verhaftet und hierher in Untersuchungshaft gebracht.

Bayern.

München. Das Ministerium des Innern überwies der meteorologischen Centralstation München Geldmittel für vorbereitende Versuche zur Erprobung des Hagelschießens.—Vor 25 Jahren betrug die Zahl der Schüler in den Volksschulen Münchens in 278 Klassen 15,233, während das Resultat der heurigen Inskription 963 Klassen und etwa 50,000 Kinder ist.—Dahier haben ein gewisser Dr. Stäudl und die 37-jährige Lehrerin Schreyer, ein Brautpaar, sich mit Cyankali vergiftet.

Augsburg. Jüngsthin verschied Frau Kommerzienrath Wirth, Besitzerin der „Augsburger Abendzeitung," im Alter von 70 Jahren.

Bamberg. Letzthin wurde in der Pödeldorferstraße das dreijährige Söhnchen des Infanterie-Sergeanten Scharf von einem elektrischen Straßenbahnwagen überfahren und auf der Stelle getödtet. Frau Scharf hatte den Knaben an der Hand und auf dem Arme ihr kleineres Kind. Auf einmal riß sich der Junge los und sprang mitten in's Geleise. Die Mutter sprang dem Knaben nach, stürzte mit dem kleineren Kinde nieder, so daß dies schwer verletzt wurde. Auch die Mutter erlitt Verletzungen.

Dettelbach. Der Oekonom Georg Füller von Gerlachshausen ging Nachts hier weg und benützte zur Abkürzung einen Fußpfad, von dem er in der herrschenden Dunkelheit abkam; er gerieth in den Main und ertrank.

Mühldorf. Der Prinz-Regent hat die wegen fahrlässiger Tödtung und fahrlässiger Gefährdung eines Eisenbahntransports gegen den Wechselwärter Martin Amann in Mühldorf ausgesprochene Gefängnißstrafe von drei Monaten auf vier Wochen gemildert. Es handelte sich um einen Zug, der voriges Jahr in der Hochwasserkatastrophe in Folge Zusammenbruches der Brücke bei Mühldorf Nachts in den Inn gestürzt war. Der Zug hatte keine Passagiere. Die vier Zugbediensteten ertranken.

The President of the W. C. T. U. in a Pennsylvania town describes the experience of her husband, who was treated by many physicians of note, but obtained no relief. "He was in a deplorable condition," she says. "Some physicians thought it paralysis, others thought it tobacco heart. His arms would get numb from the shoulders, and on rubbing them they would pain him severely, the hands being almost entirely helpless. Rest at night was out of the question. He had a bad stomach, a burning sensation after eating, and complexion of a yellowish cast showed that his liver was not discharging its duty. On receiving some Ripans Tabules he commenced the use of them at once, and I am most happy to say they have helped him greatly, and we would not be without them. The result is no doctor bill. Heretofore we have had large ones."

WINTER SKIRTS.

They Still Follow the Lines of the Figure.

The plaits which now appear at the back of the skirt are usually stitched down for several inches, although for transparent goods free plaits and gathers are readily employed. The general effect of skirts is still clinging, defining the form very clearly, but there is a slight increase of fullness at the foot and back. The circular flounce continues to be a resort for gaining amplitude at the edge while the upper part remains close. Plaited flounces are also used for silks and thin materials.

Plain, flat skirts are made in one with the lining—that is, have the lining attached throughout—but plaited and full skirts are made over a separate lining or drop skirt, the latter being plain except at the foot, where it is finished by a circular flounce or a plaiting or perhaps several plaitings to sustain the outer skirt and prevent it from falling in too much around the ankles.

Today's picture shows an evening gown of black spangled and beaded net over black colored silk. The net skirt has a small ruche of black mousseline de soie around the foot. The bodice has a slight blouse effect in front and is cut with a square decolletage before and at the back. The sleeves, which descend as far as the elbow, consist of three puffs separated by bands of black velvet ribbon tied in a bow at the outside of the arm. The belt is of black velvet. The black velvet hat is trimmed with a long white ostrich plume and a jeweled buckle.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW SKIRTS.

Revival of an Old Style Forms a Winter Novelty.

Among the latest novelties is the corselet skirt, which, while professing to be new, is merely a revival of a style much seen five or six years ago. The top of the skirt, instead of terminating at the waist line, is continued above it for several inches, being fitted to the figure like a princess gown and left plain at the top, cut in points or tabs or continued to the shoulder by bretelles. The back of the skirt has no plaits or gathers, but is so cut that the flare of the seams allows a degree of fullness to begin immediately below the waist line.

More elaborate skirts of this style have the corselet adjusted by means of little stitched plaits, which have an excellent effect, the plaits and stitching serving to stiffen the corselet and hold it up in place. Where the corselet is plain it may be covered with lines of stitching, running horizontally or following the line formed by the top. If stitching is not used to stiffen the corselet, it must be boned inside to hold it firm.

Two new designs for draped skirts are shown. The first has a lower skirt of Scotch plaid, over which is another of plain cloth, which is plain in front and at the right side and has a fan plait at the middle of the back. The left side is draped by three stitched plaits, and the upper skirt is bordered with a heavy cord. The second design is of amazon cloth, having a double watteau plait at the back and a coquille drapery at the left side lined with silk. A band of fur borders the coquilles and is carried around the foot of the skirt.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

LONG ENGAGEMENTS.

WHAT A CATHOLIC PRIEST SAYS ON THE SUBJECT.

The Chief Reason Why There Are So Many Old Maids—Absence Does Not Make the Heart Grow Fonder—Ethics of Courtship.

"And will you wait for me, dear?" says the man.

"I will wait a hundred years if necessary, for I would rather die than marry another man," answers the girl.

Then they separate. The man goes to another city to make his fortune, and the girl stays at home and waits. All is as it was before she met him with this exception—that in her desire to remain true to him she shuns the society of other men, and thus she misses almost all the good times in her particular set and becomes more and more of a recluse. Time passes on, her old admirers console themselves with other girls, and her friends marry. And meanwhile what of her? What of the man to whom she is indefinitely engaged and for whom she is sacrificing all the best years of her youth?

He was a mere college graduate perhaps when she first met him and in the fullness of her love promised to wait and marry him when he had made his way. He goes out into the great world, and in a few months his horizon broadens wonderfully. His whole view of life undergoes a change. He shows this in his letters perhaps, and the girl wonders at it and attributes it to other causes. Then she notes that he has changed, and they have their first misunderstanding, a thing which would never have happened if they had been together.

Perhaps on the very day he receives her letter he meets another girl. In the soft light of the lamp on her tea table he confides to her that he is unhappy. She is so sympathetic! Her very presence rests him from his labor at the office. So he goes to see her oftener and oftener. At first he may talk of the girl at home to whom he is engaged, then after awhile they find other subjects of common interest. Then the inevitable happens—his letters become fewer and fewer. At first the girl at home reproaches him, then she cries her eyes out, and after a long time her pride comes to the rescue, and she tells him that perhaps their engagement was a mistake, and she releases him. By that time probably all her chances of marrying are gone, and she passes the rest of her life alone. Even if she has chances still it is ten to one that she refuses to avail herself of them because she cannot rid herself of the memory of the man she loved.

Has a man any right to tell a girl of his love when he cannot support her and consequently marry her? This is a subject which has been widely discussed. Some say he should at least give the girl that consolation that she may know that she does not love in vain. Why give her that consolation? For it is like a sweet sirup which contains poison. A woman is naturally hopeful, and, knowing that her love is returned, she will refuse to give him up. On the other hand, suppose he had not spoken. Of course her pride would have been hurt, but pride heals, and then she would have forgotten and would have grown to love some other man who could marry her and give her the sort of a home every woman should have and of which no man has a right to deprive her by substituting a love which can lead to nothing but misery and anxiety.

There is a priest in New York state who has been preaching this to his parishioners. Father Owens is a brilliant and sympathetic man, with a broad and thorough knowledge of human nature. After witnessing for some time the disasters among his parishioners caused by these long engagements this is what he has to say on the subject:

"I have established a rule in my church against long courtships and protracted engagements. They are responsible more than anything else for the increasing number of old maids to be found everywhere and in every class of society today. The girl who enters into a long matrimonial engagement jeopardizes every possible chance she has of marriage. Nine times out of ten, after she has spent the best years of her life waiting for her lover to come and claim her, she is left an old maid.

"There should be no excuse, and there is no excuse, for a long courtship or a long engagement. No young man has the right to pay marked attention to a young woman for any length of time unless his intentions are serious, and no young woman has a right to accept those attentions for a very long period unless she feels that she can say yes when the supreme moment comes. Then, too, that young man has no right to offer himself to that young woman unless he is in a position to ask her to name the day, and that some time within the following six months. Marriage is often called a lottery, but when a girl enters into a long engagement she does not invest her stock of happiness in anything even so sure as a lottery. It is more as if she were to stake her last dollar on a horse race.

"The best years of the young woman's life are being wasted; the years of her greatest physical attractiveness. Every woman has the God given right to look forward to some day becoming a happy wife and mother. I have a very poor opinion of the girl who does not indulge in day dreams of little arms twining about her neck, of soft baby hands nestling in her bosom. And it is entirely right and wholesome that she should dream such dreams. Marriage and maternity are her manifest destiny, and courtship and betrothal, as blazing the way to that destiny, cannot be too seriously considered."

COOKING A SCIENCE.

Its Importance Recognized by Prince as Well as Pauper.

Exhibit of Kitchen Utensils Used in All Parts of the World Interests Visitors to the National Capital.

[Special Washington Letter.]

INDIGESTION causes more dissatisfaction, unhappiness and misery in families than any other one complaint to which human flesh is heir; particularly if the sufferer happens to be a man and the head of the family.

Therefore it is that women make such a careful study of cookery. They know that all of the good things in the world will not produce contentment and happiness in the mind and heart of a man unless they are well prepared and well served. This has been the case in all families from time immemorial; and it will probably always be so. Strong men are naturally the protectors of women, but the ladies all know that their protectors are usually big babies who need to be coddled and pampered.

In the National museum here the scientists have gathered samples of all of the cooking utensils of the world, not only of the present time, but of all ages. This exhibition would prove to be not only interesting but valuable to women, and they could draw from its peculiar phases valuable inferential lessons in cookery. But a man can only tell the story as it appears to his unenlightened eyes.

Here are carefully arranged all of the utensils of the kitchens of the world, showing how women have cooked, washed, ironed, boiled, baked, steamed, stewed, fried, toasted, roasted, basted, broiled, deviled, fricasseed and chafed in all ages for their lords and masters, and for the rest of the family. Here are the utensils which have been handled by the patient hands of suffering women, while they slaved away their lives for the unappreciative and sometimes brutal creatures upon whom they depended for their food and scanty raiment, while they tried so hard to "love," as well as to honor and obey, those to whose tender mercies their lives had been committed by the customs and ceremonies of their races, tribes and creeds. In every bit of iron, copper and pottery there is woven some life's history, and all of them have felt the hot tears of grief, and vibrated with the laughter of innocent youth.

Not only are the utensils here, but there are perfect pictures of the kitchens of some nations, and working models of others. Chinese, Japanese and Samoan houses are here in miniature with models of women at work inside of them. They are true to life and interesting beyond description. With these object lessons before our eyes we can know exactly how the other people of the world live; or, we might better say, how many of them exist.

If you are invited to dinner in Samoa you may see the feast prepared by the women. The stove is a hole in the ground, and there is no trouble in the family over the stove pipe, for there is no stove pipe. The women dig the hole, and fill it with wood. The hole is about as large as a molasses barrel, and when the wood is well ignited, the hole is covered with stones, which remain there until they are red hot and all the wood beneath them burned to ashes. Then the stones are removed, the hole is cleaned out, and a layer of hot stones placed at the bottom. The women then wrap bananas, chickens and vegetables in leaves, and spread them over the hot stones, and these delicacies are covered with more stones. Then other food is placed in another layer and covered with more hot stones, and so on until the hole is filled. A big fire is built on top of it all, and the entire mass is left to sputter and simmer until the woman in charge announces that dinner is ready. Travelers who have been honored with such a feast declare that it rivals anything that European banqueters have ever enjoyed.

Stones are used in Turkey and Egypt

for making cooking stoves. But in Alaska they use holes in the ground just as they do in Samoa. The Alaskans, however, have recently taken to using some American stoves, but as yet they are very rare. The women of Alaska make baskets for baking and boiling, and hot stones are dropped into the baskets to cook the food. They have to keep the stones rolling all the time to prevent them from burning the baskets, some of which are as beautiful as any fancy work baskets used by ladies in highly civilized countries for their sewing implements.

In Turkey and Egypt the floors of the houses are of stone as are also the bottoms of their stone stoves. The cooking utensils are almost all made of fine copper. The average harem has two or three cooks, but the sultan has usually about 300 cooks. It is said that once upon a time there was a sultan who had no regular time for his meals, but expected a banquet to be served whenever he chose to call for it. His chief cook was chained to the cooking stove, and everything was kept constantly in readiness for the royal call. If he ordered soup first, it was hastily cooked while the table was being set. If he ordered pie first, it was hurried to him. Meanwhile all of the machinery of the kitchen was at work so that as fast as he could dispose of one dish the others were made ready for him. The chef knew not which dish would be demanded next, so he proceeded to prepare a full banquet every time the royal appetite asserted itself.

The kitchens of Japan are very neat, and always very clean. Every Japanese kitchen is supplied with running water; and these recently civilized people are the only orientals who value water as it should be valued. They are cleanly in their kitchens, in every part of their residences, and in their personal habits. The Japanese cook stoves would look like toys to the average American woman. They are about two feet square, and they cook but one dish at a time. For fire they use little balls made of coal dust and mud, and they also use charcoal in some houses.

Some observant travelers have declared that the Japanese women are the best housekeepers in the world; but, mind you, I am not bold enough to say that to American women. Japanese ladies take two baths every day in water as hot as they can endure. Their floors shine almost like mirrors. They use the softest and whitest of mats, and visitors are required to take off their shoes before being allowed to cross the thresold. The mats are made by the girls out of fine straw. They are an inch thick and are easier on the bare feet than the finest of carpets. The very poorest people in Japan have clean kitchens, clean floors and fine mats. The children make mats and regard it as recreation. They also take pride in this sort of work.

The Chinese women are the opposite of the Japanese in that they are averse to the use of water; in fact, they seem to have a perfect horror of it, and, as a consequence, they are among the dirtiest and greasiest and most disagreeable people on earth. They wear their clothes until they are grimy all over, with a distinctively greasy mark down their backs which is made by the queues which they wear. Their kitchens are disgustingly dirty and they seldom sweep their floors.

The Chinese and Coreans use kangs in their kitchens, and do the greater part of their cooking on them. A kang is a large oven-like ledge built into one side of the house. The cooking is done over the holes of the kang, and on cold nights the members of the family sleep on top of the kang. You may well imagine that no civilized person would want to eat anything cooked over a kang, on which the lazy, greasy, dirty creatures have been sleeping.

The Burmese use a box filled with ashes, on which a fire is built, and cook their food upon the live coals. They do not cook any meat, because all Buddhists fear that if they should eat meat they might be chewing the bodies of their reincarnated ancestors, so thoroughly do they believe in the transmigration of souls.

But of all the funny kitchens on earth those used by the Jews in Jerusalem are the queerest. The Jews there are very poor, and there is but one room for each family. The kitchen is a pen like a box, just big enough to stand in; and it is built on the porch. The cooking is done on a charcoal fire, but they use no meat except that which has been pronounced "kooshar" by a rabbi. Many of their dishes are cooked in oil, and one writer has said that pastry made by these Jewish housewives in Jerusalem would "ruin the stomach of an American tramp;" and that is not too mean a thing to say of it.

Time and space forbid a description of the washing and ironing done by the women of the world. The Corean women have the hardest time of it. They are at it all the time. Their husbands wear about a dozen dresses each, in addition to their big baggy trousers. The washing is done in running streams and without soap.

The Japanese rip their clothing all to pieces whenever they do a washing. They tightly spread the garments on boards and leave the sun to dry them; and, at the same time, the sun takes all of the wrinkles out, so that they do no ironing.

But to tell all about the washing and ironing, which is a very interesting subject, we must take another time and much more space than the editor can allow this week.

Waiters' Tips in Germany.

A hotel-keeper in Germany, who pays his waiters $6 a month, declares that he would have to pay them $75 a month were he to give them what they receive in fees, too.

THE FLOUR SHAMPOO.

A Common-Sense Substitute for the Horrible Messiness of Soap Suds and Water.

Isn't it a pity that women persist in ruining their hair by too much soap and water? says the London Mail. One of the most successful coiffures refuses to shampoo with it oftener than twice a year unless the hair is unusually oily. For other shampoos, given once a month, flour is used. The flour bath takes time, but is an effective shampoo. The powder is sifted into the hair in handfuls. Then the locks are divided into sections and brushed with a soft brush until every particle of white dust has been removed. Three or four applications of flour should be used at each shampoo, the color and consistency of the refuse proving that an amazing amount of dust is removed from the hair and scalp with each application.

Twice a year the hair should be singed at the season when trees and hedges are cut back. After the soap and water shampoo only the purest castile soap should be used on the hair—brilliantine should be applied, and then there will be no trace of the stiffness and dryness usually so noticeable after this shampoo. The hair should be brushed every night with fine, flexible brushes, and the brushes should be cleaned twice or three times a week with flour or ammonia and water.

If the hair is turning gray or falling out massage is the best remedy, and by massage is not meant a rubbing of the scalp, which will ruin the finest head of hair, but a rotary movement of the scalp. To massage properly a finger is firmly pressed against the head, and the loose scalp under it pushed with a rotary motion. The fingers are moved from point to point, but are never permitted to slide over or rub the scalp.

These new methods are abundantly successful, but some women, in spite of expert advice, persist in clinging to old and dangerous ways, and then they wonder why the hair becomes thin or unlovely. Much harm is often done by the use of noxious kinds of soap—a misguided passion for cleanliness should not mean the destruction of beauty, but its preservation or enhancement.

Tomato Paste with Steak.

Many first-class cooks like a little tomato paste served with their steak. This is inexpensive, and is made by boiling down tomatoes to a solid mass. A quart of it will last a year; a teaspoonful laid on the bottom of the platter sufficing to season a large steak.

Keeping Baby's Sleeves in Place.

A new device for baby's comfort is the little armlets used to keep the short sleeves in place. These are made of ribbon mounted on an elastic, like a rather fanciful garter, and are used in place of pins to keep baby's sleeve just where you want it to stay.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

SPORTING.

GOLF

Howard Wright, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, who was entered in the individual championship tournament under the auspices of the East Jersey Golf Association, did not play as expected. Mr. Wright informed a Daily Press representative Monday that he received no notification regarding play, hence he could not respond.

Miss Griscom, of Philadelphia, the National golf champion, visited the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course recently as the guest of Charles Hyde, Jr. She played nine holes and made a score of 45. Owing to the poor condition of the remaining part of the course she did not finish. It is interesting to note in connection with this that Mrs. N. P. Rogers, of East Front street, went over the course a few days later, and scored 46 on the first nine holes. She was unaware of Miss Griscom's performance until a day or two afterward.

In the play-off of the tie between Mrs. N. P. Rogers and N. P. Rogers, Jr., and Miss Grace Kaufman and J. Whitney Baker for the Gilbert cup, which took place last Saturday on the Hillside course, Mrs. Rogers and her son played from scratch and made a score of 101. Their opponents had a handicap of 4 and made a net score of 103. This is Mrs. Rogers' first win for the cup. Miss Kaufman also has won the cup once. To own the cup a woman contestant has to win it three times.

TOO MUCH RAIN.

Attendance at Sunday-School Institute in Hope Chapel Last Evening Was Very Slim.

The third of a series of Sunday-school Institutes being held in this city, took place in Hope chapel last evening. Owing to the stormy weather the attendance was rather slim and the institute took the nature of a general conference, imparting helpful information to officers, teachers and those interested in Sunday-school work.

The principal speaker of the evening was Rev. G. M. Shott, of Scotch Plains, who gave an interesting talk on "Normal Work and the Teacher's Meeting." David E. Titsworth spoke from the point of a Sunday-school superintendent. At the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to hold the institute shortly after the holidays, when last evening's speakers in connection with others will deliver addresses.

Hailed From High Bridge.

A young man who gave the name of John O'Brien and his residence as High Bridge, was arrested by Patrolman Myers late last night for being intoxicated. City Judge Runyon fined him $3 or ten days, this morning.

Deaconess Patterson Spoke.

Deaconess Mary Patterson gave the second of her Tuesday afternoon lectures yesterday to the Sunday-school teachers of Grace Episcopal church. Owing to the heavy rain the attendance was quite small.

Public Meeting of O. A. A.

The annual public meeting of the Organized Aid Association, of Plainfield, will be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church on the evening of Tuesday, December 11, at 8 o'clock.

THE NEW BRIDGE.

Will be Accepted Tomorrow by Freeholders of Union and Somerset Counties.

The new Madison avenue-Duer street bridge across Green brook is now practically completed and it will be accepted tomorrow by the Boards of Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties. It was intended that the Freeholders should meet last Monday to accept to accept the bridge, but for some reason the Somerset county members failed to appear.

The bridge is one of the best in this vicinity and is not only a substantial structure, but a great convenience to the people of the city and borough, opening as it does an entirely new thoroughfare. This new street is sure to become popular and will no doubt be travelled considerably. The bridge is the same style and type as the Watchung avenue structure and is intended for hard wear. Wm. Farrier did the mason work, which is first-class and the iron work was done by W. T. Kirk, who has a reputation for building bridges. The work of macadamizing the roadbed of the bridge will be completed within a few days. Work was started yesterday to macadamize the Duer street extension and this will be finished in a short time. The macadamizing on the city side is almost finished. It is quite likely that an electric light will be placed at each end of the bridge. This will make a thorough and complete thoroughfare equal to any in the city or borough.

C. J. BAXTER TO SPEAK.

Meeting of State Educational Board Association Will be Held at Trenton.

A meeting of the State Educational Board Association will be held in the Senate Chamber at Trenton, December 28, at 10 a. m. The following will make addresses:

C. J. Baxter, of Plainfield, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. (Subject to be selected)

J. B. Betts, Assistant State Superintendent, "Distribution of Public School Money on the Basis of Average Attendance."

Dr. Austin Scott, President of Rutgers College, "The Relation of the Public Schools to Higher Education."

James Owen, member of the State Board of Education, "Transportation of Pupils."

Dr. Ernest Schmid, President of the New York State Association of School Boards, "The Relation of the Home to the School."

Mr. Betts' subject is of vital importance to the various school boards throughout the State, as it involves a possible serious diminution of the public school moneys appropriated to the districts of the State. A large attendance is therefore expected at this meeting.

OLD POINT COMFORT.

Six-Day Tour Via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The first of the 1900-1901 series of personally conducted tours to Old Point Comfort via the Pennsylvania Railroad will leave New York and Philadelphia on Thursday, December 27.

For itineraries and full information apply to Ticket Agents; Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, New York; 4 Court street, Brooklyn; 789 Broad street, Newark, N. J.; or Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street station, Philadelphia. 12 5 19

"PLAINFIELD" IN MOURNING

But the Black Decorations Were Removed Before Club Car Reached the North Avenue Station.

When the club-car "Plainfield" rolled into the Grant avenue station this morning the patrons of this car, who board it at that station, many of whom were supporters of Col. Mason W. Tyler for Mayor, found the car draped in mourning. The work had been done at Dunellen. With some difficulty the decorations were removed but when the train reached Madison avenue there was still some hanging about the car. This was taken down before the train came into the Plainfield station. Quite a crowd gathered at the North avenue station expecting to see the fun. They were disappointed, however.

DOESN'T FAVOR CLARK.

James E. Martine Disagrees With "Bob" Davis Regarding Democratic Candidate for U. S. Senator.

James E. Martine was asked today what he thought of Robert Davis' suggestion that the complimentary Democratic vote of New Jersey be given to Hon. Alvah Clark for United States Senator.

"Well," said Farmer Martine," while I have great faith in the general good judgment and universal honesty of Robert Davis, I think such a course would be unfair to the mass of our party. It is true that complimentary votes don't amount to much, but if they are given let them be given to those who have been loyal and zealous to our principles and true to our party's candidates."

"But was not Mr. Clark one of those?" was asked.

"No! Now while I esteem Mr. Clark as a dignified gentleman and most honored citizen, I feel sure he did not vote with the Democratic party in 1896 nor in 1900. I believe in rewarding and complimenting the loyal followers—not those who strive against us."

"But who would you suggest?" continued the questioner.

"Oh, there are scores in this commonwealth who are fit and capable in the Democratic party, and who have always stood true to our party call in every crisis. 'Tis true our minority is small, but let it alone—it will work out all right."

Concert of Song.

A most enjoyable concert is advertised for tomorrow evening at the Casino. It will be devoted to songs exclusively. Frank J. Smith is the conductor and the soloists will be Mrs. Grace W. Dutton, Miss Marguerite Hall, Wm. C. Weeden and Dr. Carl E. Duff. Bennett Griffin will assist with the violin. Among the selections will be "Gypsy John," Schubert's "Linden Tree" and "Erl King," Schumann's "Row Gently Here," Gounod's "Sing, Smile, Slumber," Grieg's "Ich liebe dich," together with "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" and many others. The concert will begin at 8:15, and the doors will be closed during the singing.

Mischevious Boys In Netherwood.

Complaints have been made to the police by Messrs. Manning & Runyon, the builders, regarding a gang of boys that are said to have damaged buildings in course of erection at Netherwood. The builders report that these boys have commited depredations about the Netherwood stables, much to their annoyance and injury to property. The names of some of the boys have been learned, and arrests may follow if the practice is not stopped.

Another Hawk Captured.

Another large hawk has been placed in the show window at Powers' drug store. It was captured by William VanWinkle who has had it in captivity at Gravely's Manhattan Hotel in the borough. The hawks prove interesting attractions to patrons of the store. Many are of the opinion that the hawks are mates, although the one captured by Mr. VanWinkle was bagged near Stelton several weeks ago.

In Justice Mattison's Court.

Justice Mattison has issued summons in an action of Nischwitz & Kitchen against Lebens Pack, on contract; returnable on the 10th. Also Nischwitz & Kitchen against Charles Willis, contract; returnable tomorrow. The justice has issued executors against Charles H. Smith and Susan Johnson in favor of W. D. Manning, of Plainfield,

Good Progress for Firemen's Fair.

At last night's meeting of Warren Engine Company, the members listened to reports from two or three committees appointed to arrange matters for the approaching fair, to be held in February. The reports showed that the committees were making good progress. A number of bills were also audited and ordered paid.

Plainfield Woman in Jail.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 5.—Edna Parker, a colored girl, hailing from Plainfield, was arrested Monday by Officer O'Neil. It is alleged that the girl drew a razor and threatened to "carve" a colored man. Justice of the Peace Toucey sentenced her to the county jail for sixty days.

Increased Attendance.

The temperance meetings being conducted in Reform Hall on Second street are proving of interest to many, and increased attendance is the result. Tonight Horace J. Martin and some members of the Grant Glee Club will be present to enliven the occasion.

Remembered Election Officers.

The election officers at the First district, Fourth ward polling place were kindly remembered last evening by Former Councilman V. L. Frazee, who supplied them with an abundance of good things to eat.

Off for Texas.

Fred Sheppard, of this city, left today noon for Texas, where he will spend the winter. A number of friends were at the station to see him off and wish him success.

Snow Sweeper Ready for Use.

The new snow sweeper for the Street Railway Company arrived yesterday and this morning was taken via. Front street to the car barns.

Although the car was attached to a regular trolley car the young man acting as motorman amused himself by ringing the heavy sounding gong, much to the annoyance of horses which the car was compelled to pass. Some of the horses were badly frightened but fortunately no accident resulted.

Worthy of Attention.

The Imperial hairdressing, facial massage and manicuring parlors are located at 1244 Broadway, New York, between 31st and 32d streets. Special attention is given to diseases of the scalp and falling hair. Scientific facial massage is given by competent operators. R E Campbell is the proprietor and his advertisement appears in today's Press.

The deceased is survived by three sons and two daughters one of the latter being Mrs. Louis Hall, of Columbia avenue. The funeral services will be held from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Waited to Vote.

Alfred Johnson, of this city, intended to sail Monday for his old home in Sweden. His friends prevailed upon him to remain over until yesterday to vote. He cast his ballot early in the morning and hastened to New York just in time to catch a steamer that sailed for his home.

Endeavorer's Reception.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel will tender a reception this evening to the Ladies' Aid Society of the chapel. A very attractive programme has been arranged and a pleasant time is anticipated.

INSURANCE RATES RAISED.

Increase of Twenty-five Per Cent—Will Not Affect Plainfield, However.

There has been an increase in the rates of insurance in the towns and boroughs between Elizabeth and Plainfield, not including the two latter places. This is a result of a concerted movement made by companies all over the country. In this particular instance the fire protection is not considered as efficient, and this, together with the fact that during the past year the companies have been heavy losers, is responsible for the increase. The increase is 25 per cent, and will probably hold good for a year. The fire protection in this city is so good that the companies did not feel like raising the rates here, and it will remain as it is for the present, at least.

A Hero at Tarrant Fire.

Miss Etta Yaeger, of Plainfield avenue, has received word of the recent death of a cousin, who was a firemen in New York, and who performed valiant service several weeks ago when the Tarrant drug house was wrecked.

Station Walk Completed.

The work of laying an asphalt walk from the new railroad station to Park avenue on the southside of the railroad was completed yesterday. The finishing touches at the Park avenue end will be completed in a day or two.

Netted $94.

As a result of the entertainment given in the Y. M. C. recently entitled "The Old Maid's Return from the Klondike," the sum of $94 was realized as profit. This will be used by the W. C. T. U to meet expenses.

A New News Stand.

As soon as the new railroad station is completed the Union News Company will establish a stand there. It is likely that Agent Alfred Lacey will be put in charge and someone else will have charge of the present stand.

Borough Schools Closed.

The borough public schools closed today for the balance of the week to allow the teachers to attend the institute which will be held in the public school at Bound Brook. It will be a three days' session.

Book Party Postponed.

The book party which was to have been given at the Park Club last evening, was postponed, on account of the weather, to Tuesday evening, December 11.

Sanitary Company Directors to Meet.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Plainfield Sanitary Company will be held at 120 East Front street Monday evening, Dec. 10, at 8 o'clock.

Hard to Down a Philosopher.

A playful gust of wind came along and picked off his hat. It was of the straw brand, vintage of 1900, already out of date, although still quite presentable in appearance. That hat just got up on its rim and bowled merrily along the sidewalk, while the usual number of feet and canes were thrust out to check its progress.

"Never mind," called out the owner of the hat, cheerfully, "I'm going that way, anyhow."

So he walked on in the hat's wake without any hurry and overtook it within a block. Then it rolled into a gutter, which was dirty. This would have disconcerted anyone except a philosopher.

"Never mind," said he again, as he gave the hat a careless brush and put it on his head. "I was going to get a new hat to-morrow, anyhow!"—Chicago Tribune.

MANY HONOR MEMORY OF EX-CHIEF GRANT.

Large Attendance at Impressive Funeral Service of Former Chief G. W. Grant.

HELD AT HIS LATE HOME

REV. DR. D J. YERKES WAS IN CHARGE OF SERVICES.

Spoke Very Highly of Departed One Whom He Had Long Known Personally—Beautiful Floral Tributes.

The funeral services over the remains of the late George W. Grant, former captain of police of this city, were conducted at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the home of the deceased, 203 West Fifth street. The parlors were too small to contain the large number of public officials and private citizens who gathered to pay their respects to the bereaved family and honor the dead.

The body rested in a handsome cloth covered casket which occupied a position in the north-east corner of the front parlor. Conspicuous on and about the casket was a profusion of floral emblems and cut flowers—tokens of love and esteem for the faithful officer. There was a large pillow with shield and "No. 1" in immortelles from the police department; a large stand piece from Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe, No. 193, I. O. R. M.; a bunch of roses and lilies of the valley from Former President of the Common Council Elliot T. Barrows; carnations from Former Assessor Joseph A. Hubbard and several other pieces from relatives and immediate friends of the family.

Among those who attended the obsequies, besides the members of the police department were Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, Fire Chief T. O Doane, Constable Amos Moffett, J. F. Buckle, president of the Police Board, Former Councilman W. L Hetfield, City Clerk J. F. MacMurray, Lawyer Wm. DeMeza and other citizens.

The services were very impressive but simple. Dr. Yerkes read first from the scriptures and then Elmer E. Runyon rendered in good voice "Nearer Heaven." Dr. Yerkes delivered an extemporaneous discourse in which he paid a deserved tribute to the deceased and his public life. He first called attention to the uncertainties of life and the importance of being prepared for the great hereafter. Dr. Yerkes said he had known Captain Grant for many years and he believed that he tried to live the life of a Christian. He referred to his proverbial honesty of purpose and his faithfulness in the discharge of every trust imposed in him both of public as well as private life. His kindness of heart won for him many friends and none knew him better than the officers and members of the police department, by whom he was held in high esteem.

Although Captain Grant did not occupy as an exalted a position in life and his scope for making himself a more prominent figure in the affairs of the city were not as wide as some others, the speaker said that his strong personality and fidelity to duty made him worthy of the respect of all and creditable to his spirit of fairness. Fidelity, he said, was one of the things to be proud of and this fact should be of much comfort to his bereaved family and friends.

After Dr. Yerkes had invoked the divine blessing and opportunity was given all who desired to view the body before it was removed. This morning at 10:23 o'clock the body was taken to Penn's Neck, Mercer county, for burial. It was accompanied by a delegation from Paughcoughnaughsuque Tribe of Red Men, who will also act as bearers.

The officers from out of town who attended the funeral were: Chief George Tenney and Captain John Long, of Elizabeth; Chief Francis Harding and Detective McCann, of New Brunswick; Chief P. J. Burke, of Perth Amboy; Warden Charles W. Dodd, of Elizabeth; George Wright, of Rahway.

The following members of Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men were selected as pall bearers and accompanied the body to Penn's Neck: F. A. Weber, Thomas Osmet, John Snyder, M Kadensky, A. D. Pope and W. H P. Drake.

Chief Kiely, Sergeant Frederickson and Bounisman Flynn and Mattox also acted as an escort as far as Elizabeth where the funeral party changed cars on the Pennsylvania road.

CARPET WEAVER DEAD.

SAMUEL J. NEAL, OLD AND RESPECTED CITIZEN OF BOROUGH.

The End Came Suddenly Last Evening—Was Fifty-Six Years of Age.

Samuel J. Neal, the well known carpet weaver, died suddenly about 9:30 o'clock last night of heart failure at his home, 177 Duer street, aged fifty-six years.

Mr. Neal had been ill for about two weeks. He had complained of difficulty with his heart and had consulted Dr. Buchanan, who was attending him at the time of his death. For about two weeks Mr. Neal had been confined to his home but was not considered by his family to be dangerously ill.

Last night at ten minutes of eight Mr. Neal complained to his wife that he did not feel quite right. He said that he experienced sharp pains about the heart. Mrs. Neal administered to her husband the medicine left by Dr. Buchanan, bnt it did not appear to give the necessary relief. Mr. Neal continued to grow worse and his wife and family became alarmed. They finally decided to send for the attending physician. But there was no change for the better. The unfortunate man continued to grow worse until death came to relieve his sufferings. While sitting in his chair Mr. Neal gave a gasp and died without a struggle.

The deceased is survived by a wife and one son—George A. He has been married twice. The funeral will be held from the family residence at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Interment will be in the Presbyterian cemetery, North Plainfield.

Samuel J. Neal has been in business in this city for many years, nearly a quarter of a century. For the past fifteen years his place of business had been in the basement of the Stillman building at 218 West Front street. Mr Neal came to Plainfield from Burks county, Pa., when he was five years of age, and has lived in this city and the borough for nearly fifty years. He counted many of the best citizens among his friends and patrons. The news of his death was received with sorry by the citizens generally, many of whom respected him for his upright dealings and trustworthy characteristics.

OFFICERS FOR UNITY LODGE

Nominated at a Meeting Last Night and Will be Elected at a Meeting Later in the Month.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last evening and transacted considerable business. There was a large attendance and much interest. In nominating lodge officers it was found impossible to nominate a chancellor commander, vice-chancellor commander, inner guard and alternate representative. These offices will probably be filled at the meeting to be held December 19. The other nominations are as follows:

Prelate, Robert H. Rushton; master of finance, J. VanWinkle, Jr., master of exchequer, Samuel E. Humpston; keeper of records and seals, Frank Putnam; master of arms, Joseph F. Sheppard; outside guard, E. P. T. Smith; trustee, three years, Bateman Thatcher and Robert Rushton; representative to Grand Lodge, Frank Humpston and Robert Rushton.

There were twelve past chancellors present at the meeting and they cast their votes for Grand Lodge officers, according to the rule of the order. The new officers are elected the last of the month.

Arrangements for Carriages.

Owing to the great number of carriages to be handled at the wedding at the Crescent Avenue church Saturday afternoon it is requested that in leaving the church the residents of Plainfield shall use for exit the Watchung door, nearest the front of the church, and the guests from out of town shall use the Crescent avenue door, nearest the front of the church. Watchung avenue will be reserved for the Plainfield guests' carriages, and Crescent avenue for out-of-town carriages, and to avoid confusion they are to face toward the north and go in that direction. Frank Hedden.

ATHLETICS PROSPER

Excellent Showing Made by High School Athletic Association—Entertainment Planned.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association was held yesterday at which reports were received from the football manager and the track team manager. The treasurer's report showed a neat balance in the treasury and also disclosed the fact that the association has been entirely self supporting during the past fall. The subject of giving an entertainment for the benefit of the association was brought up and received favorably. If definitely decided upon it will be given within a short time, probably during Christmas week.

SUCCESSFUL RECEPTION.

Given to Ladies Aid Society of Warren Chapel by Christian Endeavor Society—A Pleasant Affair.

The reception tendered to the Ladies' Aid Society of Warren chapel last night, by the Christian Endeavor Society of that chapel, was attended by a large number of young folks, who filled the Sunday-school room. After the pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, made a few remarks by way of a welcome the guests listened to an impromptu programme, consisting of musical selections and recitations There was a duet by Mrs. Andrew Stiglitz and Miss Sheppard; recitations by Fred Bach and Miss Try Mattox; piano solo by Miss Windham and a vocal solo by Mrs. Stiglitz, while Mrs. Bert Boe and Mrs. John Kline delighted the audience by rendering selections on the piano.

Mrs. James A. Sutton, chairman of the committee of arrangements, welcomed the visitors and made them feel at home. She was assisted by Mrs Fred Bach, Miss Adele H. Kirby, Arthur Beekman and Mrs. Wesley Garthwait.

At the close of the literary part of the programme the guests were regaled with choice refreshments. The affair was a pleasant one and in keeping with the reputation the members of Warren chapel have for entertaining.

WANTED TO PARADE.

But Mayor-Elect Jenkins Did Not Favor Serenade for Leaders of the Opposition.

Dr. O. L. Jenkins, the Mayor-elect, was kept busy yesterday receiving the congratulations of both his Republican and Democratic friends upon his election to the Mayoralty. A floral offering was sent to the doctor from his friend, Stephen A. Ginna, a member of the city committee from the Second ward, in the shape of a bunch of "Cleveland" carnations and white chrysanthemums.

It was the desire of many enthusiastic Republicans to make a parade the night of election and tender a serenade to some of those who had been identified with the defeated side. Dr. Jenkins, however, frowned upon any such proceedings, and, at his request, the proposed parade was given up.

A Wonderful Singer.

A live boy is interesting. When he can sing he is more than interesting. A boy soprano is a wonderful creation. Of Master George Loose, of the choir of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth avenue, New York, who is to sing at the Park Avenue Baptist church next Tuesday evening, the New York World says: "He has the most wonderful boy's voice ever heard in New York. Able to reach A flat he unites with this great range wonderful pathos and perfect power."

New Offices.

Bruce & Runyon, lawyers, will take the offices on Front street, opposite Park avenue, now occupied by Lawyer Robert H. Clark, on Saturday, December 15, and Lawyer Clark will take the offices now occupied by Bruce & Runyon on Park avenue, corner of Second street.

At Marconnier Chapel.

Preparatory services will be held at Marconnier chapel tomorrow evening and on Sunday afternoon the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered. Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph. D., of Trinity Reformed church, will officiate.

Breem is Recovering.

KELLER IS MISSING; FAMILY IN TROUBLE

HE HAS TWO CHILDREN.

ONLY LEFT HIS FAMILY $2 75, AND TOOK REST OF SAVINGS.

Wife Believes That He Deserted Her and Has Raised the Money to Take Her and Children to Her Home in London.

Leopold Keller, a former employe of the New Jersey Bottling Association, has disappeared from town. The last scene of Leo, as he was familiarly called by his intimates, was on Sunday, Nov. 17. The following day he disappeared, leaving behind a wife and two small children.

Keller has of late been employed at Hibbard-Ely-Rodman Safe Company's factory on Clinton avenue. The last Mrs. Keller saw of her husband was on Sunday, November 18, when he slipped on a cardigan jacket and said he was going for a walk. Previously he had been playing with his elder child, a boy, two and a half years of age. The other child is but four months old. Catching up the youngster, Leo kissed it affectionally several times and telling his wife that he would be back in a little while, left the house. And that is the last Mrs. Keller saw of her husband, although she made dilligent inquiries of all her husband's acquaintances.

At first she did not suspect that Leo had left for good—had deserted her in fact. When her absent one did not return, however, she suspected that the man she had promised to love had skipped. Her suspicions were confirmed when an inspection of the place where they kept their hard earnings revealed the fact that Leo had appropriated $5 to his use, leaving her but $2 75 with which to support herself and two small children.

This was two weeks ago. Monday she left for New York, where she secured passage for Liverpool, and will join her relatives living there.

The Kellers occupied apartments over the office of the New Jersey Bottling Association at 27 Somerset street. In order to raise money to pay her passage to Liverpool, Mrs. Keller was compelled to sell her furniture at a sacrifice. She also secured a small sum of money from a niece who is out at service in this city. The unfortunate woman told a neighbor that this was not the first time that her husband had left her. She said that Leo disappeared at another time and remained away three or four days. When he returned he said that he had been drinking and did not know what he was doing. Mrs. Keller says that her husband was perfectly sober when he left home Nov. 17. Nothing is known of Keller's whereabouts. It is believed that he has left the vicinity.

NON SUIT GRANTED.

Levy Was Made in French Vs. Snyder Case Prior to Issuance of Papers.

The landlord and tenant case of P. M. French against Daniel Snyder was called in Justice Nash's court yesterday afternoon. Judge Runyon represented the plaintiff and W. S. Angleman the defendant. The defendant was granted a non-suit on the grounds that a levy was made the day prior to the issuance of the papers by Constable John Gjettleson, and while the distress proceedings were still pending. The action against Snyder was brought to recover rent in the sum of $200.

There is still another case of French against Snyder in this court and this will probably be decided next Monday. Justice Nash asked for briefs in this case and until they are submitted a decision cannot be given.

Bought Another Railroad.

Andrew Radel, vice-president of the Brunswick Traction Company, has just purchased the Akron and Cuyahoga Falls Rapid Transit Electric Railroad, of Ohio, and has taken possession of it. The price is said to have run into several hundred thousand dollars. It consists of twenty-five miles of electric street railway, with equipment, and also the electric lighting plant at Barberton, Ohio. Mr. Radel recently sold his electric railroad at Bridgeport, Conn.

Central Wants Assessment Reduced.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has filed an appeal with the State Board of Taxation from the assessment of $2 374 000 levied by the Jersey City Tax Commissioners on two tracts of land. The company asks that the amount be reduced to $1,175 000, or $1,199,000 less than the assessment fixed.

TO CLOSE HILLSIDE CLUB.

Club House Will Be Boarded Up Saturday and Members Should Remove Property Before That Time.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club was held last evening. Mostly routine business was considered. It was decided some time ago to remove all fixtures from the clubhouse this week and the house will be closed and boarded up Saturday. It is earnestly desired that all members having any personal property and golf clubs at the house will remove the same by Saturday, unless they want to leave them there during the winter. The course will be kept open while the good weather lasts, and the temporary greens will be used.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Classes Busy for the Christmas Season — 1902 Elected Officers.

Preparations for the coming holidays are being actively made by the High School classes, several meetings having been held within the past few days. The class of '03 assembled yesterday and appointed the following committee for Christmas decorating: Miss Frank Pomeroy Burr, chairman, Miss Harriet Randall, Ralph Lane and Herbert Dyer A second committee was selected for the performance of other objects not divulged. The matter of selecting a class pin was laid over until after Christmas.

Meetings of the classes of '01 and '02 were held Tuesday afternoon. At the former it was decided to give an entertainment on December 15 in the chapel of the Franklin building. A committee of arrangements was appointed to make all preparations and report at a later date. The class of '02 transacted no important business with the exception of electing officers with the following result: President, Abner Moore; vice president, Harold Nomer; secretary and treasurer, Kenneth Buckley. A meeting for the adoption of a class pin and the discussion of other matters will be held later.

WITNESSES ABSENT.

Case of John King Charged With Assaulting Wm. Dodd, Laid Over at Lawyer's Request.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Dec. 6—At the Union county court of special sessions yesterday, several minor offenders were sentenced.

The trial of criminal cases of the October term was next begun. The first case called was that of the State against John King, of Plainfield, who was indicted for an atrocious assault and battery against William Dodd at a baseball game.

Lawyer William Newcorn, of Plainfield, counsel for the accused, asked that the case go off for the term, on the ground that it had been impossible to produce for the defendant a very material witness. Another of the defendants had also been accidentally shot in the leg, and was still under medical treatment. Prosecutor English consented to the adjournment.

Football Association Strengthened.

The Plainfield Association Football Club met in the Hotel Waldorf Tuesday evening, and completed plans for making the club a permanent organization. Officers were elected as follows: Andrew McCardell, honorary president; Robert Gow, president; Thomas Comerford, secretary, and H. H. McMurray, treasurer. Next Saturday the club play the Arlingtons, of Newark, on the Clinton avenue grounds. The latter team is a strong one and a good game is promised. The kickoff will be made at 3 o'clock.

Special Matinee.

At the suggestion of a number of patrons Manager Maze Edwards has arranged for a matinee performance of "The Village Postmaster" at Music Hall next Wednesday afternoon for special accommodation of ladies and others unable to attend the evening performance. Reserved seats can be secured at Box Office. The famous play will be given in its entirety, same as at night.

Will Speak On China.

Mrs. Rapalje, wife of Rev. Daniel Rapalje, of Watchung avenue, who, with her husband, was a missionary in China for many years, has consented to speak to the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Visitors are cordially invited to be present.

First to Finish Count.

The Second district of the Third ward won the prize election night by being the first to make returns. It took the officers just twenty minutes to count the vote. They filed the same at 8:15 o'clock, which was far in advance of any other ward.

TROLLEY LINE TO AMBOY

FRANCHISE GRANTED FOR ELECTRIC RAILWAY FROM METUCHEN.

Stormy Session of Middlesex County Board of Freeholders When Franchise Was Granted.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Dec. 6—After an all-day session, yesterday, the Board of Freeholders of Middlesex county adopted the ordinance granting the Raritan Traction Company a franchise to construct and operate a trolley line between Metuchen and Perth Amboy. It was one of the most stormy sessions ever held by the Board and even up to the last minute it looked as though the matter would be laid over. The final vote was 15 in favor of the ordinance, one against it and three members did not vote. The line will be about six miles long and starts from Crows' Mills road and goes over the turnpike pass Keasbey's corners to Metuchen.

W. A. Coddington, of the law firm of Reed & Coddington, of Plainfield, was present at the meeting representing objectors who own several thousand feet of property along the proposed route. He made a strong plea for his clients. During the early part of the day there was a division among the members of the Board, but toward the close the strongest objector was Freeholder Totten. The granting of the franchise is considered a great victory for the Raritan Traction Company.

OFFICERS NOMINATED

Iona Council, No. 14, Degree of Pocohontas, Held Important Meeting Last Night.

Iona Council, No. 14, Degree of Pocohontas, met last evening and received two propositions for membership. The adoption degree was worked on five candidates. There were visitors present from Pocohontas Council, of New Brunswick, and Great Wenoah Mary Morgan, of Newark, was also at the meeting. The local team was complimented highly for the work performed.

The nominations for officers resulted as follows: Prophetess, Mrs. Charles A. Dencklau; Pocohontas, Mrs. William Claassen; Wenonah, Miss Josie Snyder; Powhatan, Samuel Montrose; keeper of records, Mrs. Charles L. Holstein; collector of wampum, Mrs. Andrew Mattis; keeper of wampum, Mrs. Edward Bowman; trustee, Mrs. Frederick Westphal. The election will take place at the next meeting. After last evening's session refreshments were served.

Union Veterans Union Elect Officers.

The members of the Third New Jersey Regiment Antietam, Plainfield Division, Union Veterans' Union, met last evening in their rooms on East Front street, and elected the following officers: Colonel, Charles B. Stephens; lieutenant colonel, Henry C. Drake; major, Edward E. Townley; chaplain, John A. Goodwin; surgeon, Dr. Berg; quartermaster, John R. Naylor. The other officers, who are appointed by the colonel, will be announced at the next meeting.

Sick at the Home of His Employe.

Frank Gougar, secretary and treasurer of the Gougar Lumber Company, of Centralia, Wash., came to Plainfield on Friday last and was taken down on Sunday with the grip. His general eastern agent, R F. R Stevens, of West Fifth street, took Mr. Gougar into his home, and Dr Endicott has been attending him daily. He hopes to get Mr. Gougar out in a day or two.

Property Owners Paid.

The statement made in another paper in a recent issue that the property owners in Orange place had reaped the benefit of that street's macadamizing without contributing at all to the cost, is declared to be untrue. Sums ranging from $10 to $25 were paid to the city by the owners on the street and it is no more than just that they should receive the credit.

Named for New Mayor.

As the election of Dr. O. L Jenkins to the Mayoralty was the chief topic of interest in the city yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Henderson, of 181 North avenue, have named their little baby girl, who was born Election Day, Georgia Olin Jenkins Henderson.

SOCIETY'S NEW CLUB BEGINS ITS CAREER.

Meeting of Members Was Held Last Evening and Governing Committee Elected.

IS NAMED THE CASINO.

STARTS WITH A MEMBERSHIP OF NEARLY TWO HUUNDRED.

Steward Ivamy and Corps of Assistants are Installed at Clubhouse on West Seventh Street—Executive Committee Organized.

Under the title of "The Casino," Plainfield society's new organization has begun its career with every promise of a successful winter. A meeting of those who had agreed to become members of the new club was held in the clubhouse of the defunct Union County Country Club last evening, and the informal organization, which is to control the government of the club this season, was formed.

A large attendance of prominent citizens marked the meeting. The first thing was the report of the committee recently appointed to secure the names of subscribers for the new club. Former Councilman Elliot T. Barrows, chairman of the committee, made the report. According to the estimate of the orignators of the plan, a hundred members were needed to make the affair a success. The committee had met with even better success than was expected. A hundred and twenty-five names were secured and there is promise of a number of others which will bring the total to 150 or more.

Mr. Barrows then gave a suggestive outline for the organization of the club which met with favor. It was decided to call the club simply "The Casino." Each member will subscribe $15 to the club treasury, which will secure for himself and one lady of his household the privileges of the clubhouse. Other members of his household, including all ladies and male members between the ages of 16 and 21, may secure the club privileges on payment of $3 each. As the organization is only a temporary one and intended to last only until spring, these subscriptions or dues will simply be for the winter, until the club is put on a permanent basis or disbanded for the summer.

Mr. Barrows further reported that Steward Ivamy and his corps of assistants had left the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club and were now installed in the quarters of the new club and would be ready to give such the same service as they did at the Hillside Club house.

According to the outline presented, the government of the club and its clubhouse will rest entirely in the hands of an executive committee, composed of seven members. They were elected as follows: John T. Baker, George P. Mellick, William R. Cock, William C. Kinney, Townsend Rushmore, Evarts Tracy and Lewis E. Waring. This committee was empowered to form such other committees as they deemed necessary for the proper management of the club.

At the close of the general meeting, the executive committee was called together and organized. John T. Baker was chosen chairman and Lewis E. Waring secretary. William C. Kinney, who is trustee of the holders of the club house property, will act as custodian of the funds of the club.

Chairmen of committees were chosen as follows: House committee, George P. Mellick; entertainment committee, William R. Cock; committee on admissions, W. C. Kinney, bowling committee, Charles C. Burnett. The various chairmen of the committees were empowered to select the other members of their committees. The bowling and admission committees will be composed of three members each while the chairman of the house and entertainment committees will add the names of two ladies and two gentlemen to each of their committees. The executive committee will hold its next meeting Saturday evening, December 15, at the club house of the Casino on West Seventh street. The club house is now open to members and a pleasant season is anticipated.

Entertained Visiting Officers.

Old First Church to Celebrate.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, December 6.—John E. Stuebell, pastor of the old historic First Presbyterian church here, has started a movement for a twentieth century celebration in the old church, to be co-operated in by the other Presbyterian churches in Union county, of which the First is the mother. The intention is to have a grand patriotic celebration, beginning at 10:30 o'clock New Year's Eve and continuing until long after midnight. Prominent clergymen will be invited to deliver short addresses, as also will the Governor, Mayor, United States Senator, Congressman and other notable personages.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For Sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—There will be an important meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., this evening.

—The several members of the local W. C. T. U. who have been in Washington attending the National convention of the Union, will return home the last of the week.

—Fred Endress, the popular butcher, has another fresh lot of plumb and tender turkeys, chickens, ducks and game. No old birds among them; all newly killed and fresh. No dinner is complete without his delicious oysters.

—When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

William Hepburn, of East Second street, has been visiting out of town friends.

Miss Bessie Martin, of Jackson avenue, has returned from a visit with Miss Bowers, of Basking Ridge.

Lindsey Woolley, of West Front street, who represents a New York rubber house, left this week for an extended business trip through New York State. He will be gone several weeks.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

Probably no play has met with so favorable a reception, from the present day theatre-goers as the dramatization of Dumas' wonderful novel "The Three Musketeers." Mr. Glazier, the handsome young romantic actor who will appear as the hot blood d Gascon, D'Artagnan, at Music Hall tonight, has won his spurs on the hard field of work, and strenuous endeavor. After serving his novitiate in such splendid companies as those of Lawrence Barrett, Thos. W. Keene, William Redmund, Stuart Robson and Katharine Kidder, he entered a stock company, and worded his way up step by step, playing 350 parts, ranging from low comedy to high tragedy. At the present time Mr. Gladier is recognized as one of the best young leading men in the country. His impersonation of D'Artagnan shows much care and thought, and is in no sense a servile imitation of his predecessors in the role. Managers Stair and Nicolai have equipped the play with magnificent scenic surroundings that fully equal any previous productions. The costumes have been designed with the same exactitude of detail and lavish disregard of expense. So complete is the production that not even the smallest necessity is asked for of the theatres in which the play appears. Two sixty foot baggage cars are required for the transportation o the production. The play demands a large cast and each member has been selected with great care.

* * * * *

The musical farce comedy "Who is Who," will be seen at Music Hall, Saturday afternoon and night. The present company numbers twenty people who are all talented players and renowned vaudeville stars headed by the well known comedians Chas A. Loder and Paul Bordman. Hanging on a distinct comedy plot, are almost enough catchy and up-to date musical numbers for a comic opera, and clean and novel specialties by recognized vaudeville artists. This is the third successful season for "Who is Who" and the management has spared no expense in making this, as the bills say, the third and best edition.

* * * * *

"The Village Postmaster" will be the attraction at Music Hall on Wednesday of next week. Archie Boyd, who again heads the company, is a worthy character actor from the old school. His long experience with Denman Thompson's part, "Joshua Whitcomb," in "The Old Homestead" and "Uncle Nat" in "Shore Acres" give him special fitness for the somewhat similar part of "Seth Huggins," the postmaster, which he plays cleanly and well. He will be supported by the complete New York cast, including Miss Angela Russell, a young actress of unusual ability, whose excellent impersonation of "Miranda," the postmaster's daughter, has been very highly commended. The production will be exactly the same as when the play was seen at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York.

* * * * *

Della Fox, who has returned to vaudeville after a most successful engagement with the Rogers Bros., will make her appearance for the first time this season at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre next Monday, Dec. 10. This will be Miss Fox's last vaudeville engagement as she appears at Christmas in a new comic opera. Another notable number in the program will be John W. Albaugh, Jr., and his company in a comedy drama, "Trenton, '76," an episode treating of the Revolutionary War. Others in the long bill are Alice Pierce, a clever imitatrieux; Les Dumonds, Parisian street singer; George Evans, the "Honey Boy"; Louise Gumming, who signs Scotch ballads sweetly; Review Comedy Four, singing comedians; Farrell and Starck, comedy cyclists, and 20 others. The prices are always 50, 25 and 15 cents. Continuous, 12:30 to 11 p. m., daily.

* * * * *

The secret of the success of "The Christian," which will be seen at Music Hall on Saturday of next week, is its heart-interest, which appeals with equal force to all classes of people, from the habitual play-patron to the church-goer who seldom visits a theatre except to witness a production of this character. The company presenting "The Christian" here is under the immediate direction of Liebler & Co. The cast embraces a number of the leading artists from their extensive list of well known players.

—Frank Linke, of West Second street, has had an iron fence placed in front of his property.

—A sale of useful articles and homemade cake and candy is being held at the Unitarian church on Park avenue. It will be continued through tomorrow.

—Now is the time when croup and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is one Minute Cough Cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. L. W. Randolph.

PARTICULAR MENTION

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Residents and Visitors who Go and Come in Society and Business.

Robert Barnes, of Staten Island, has returned home after a visit with Plainfield relatives.

Mrs. C. J. Newman, of Richmond street, has entirely recovered from a recent severe illness.

Amos Moffett, who has been visiting Brooklyn relatives, has returned to his home in this city.

The Misses Symons, of East Third street, have been entertaining company from out of town.

Miss Lulu Randolph, of West Eighth street, has been visiting friends at Bound Brook.

Howard Doty, of West Fourth street, has returned after a stay of several weeks in New York.

LITERARY

Of all the great fields which modern civilization offers to the writer of fiction, the business world has been the least exploited. The reason is obvious. Men who are in business are there to make money, not to write stories. Men who write stories are not in business, and what they know of it they may well have learned from their wives and children. Their so called financial stories are fairy tales to the business man. Leslie's Monthly is doing the public good service by publishing a series of actual business stories as appropriate to the broker as to the ordinary novel reader, the first of which, "The Greatest Swindle of the Curb Market," appears in the December issue. If there is any woman who cares to know how a dollar is made or lost, she can understand and enjoy them. The author, Samuel A. Nelson, is well-known in New York as the author of "The A B C of Wall Street," a book for the tyro and the successful man alike.

Tortured A Witness.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T. L. Martin, of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence: "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. King's New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for four years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for Coughs, Colds and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough, and not only prevents but absolutly cures Consumption. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—Grand Overseer V. W. Nash visited Camden Lodge, No. 1, of Camden, last evening.

—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church.

—At the meeting of the First Baptist Church Christian Endeavor Society tomorrow evening the members expect to have a visiting society present. All are cordially invited.

—Morey & Co., No. 74 Somerset street, are still continuing to receive winter apples and potatoes and they are wholesale and retail dealers in all kinds of produce. Orders called for and delivered.

—Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The orignal DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns, sores and skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

—Marchant Bros., proprietors of the Plainfield Milk and Cream Co., 327 Watchung avenue, make deliveries for breakfast, luncheon and supper in the city and borough. Their method has been investigated and endorsed by all physicians, as every sanitary requirement has been fulfilled. An order to them will be promptly and carefully attended to. Telephone 822.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

DUG THEIR WAY OUT.

Imprisoned Miners Have a Desperate Battle For Life.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 6.—Imprisoned 1,000 feet in a coal mine at Dunmore, near here, 32 men had a desperate battle for life yesterday as the result of a mine cave in and only succeeded in gaining their liberty by digging their way out.

The cave in was at the mine of the Nay Aug Coal company. Five acres of surface fell into the mine and completely blocked the exit of the 32 mine workers, who were far in the interior. Those on the outside formed themselves into rescuing parties and, while feeling the men would not be reached in time, worked with a will.

Meanwhile the imprisoned men were not idle. With their shovels and picks they began working at a point where the fall had blocked the main gangway at a point where it led to a roadway through which an exit could be made. After some hours' work they succeeded in clearing away sufficient of the fall to get through before the rescuing party reached them. None of the men was injured.

PRAISE FOR OUR TROOPS.

Sir Claude Macdonald Speaks Highly of the Boys In Blue.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—General Chaffee, commanding the China relief expedition, has forwarded to the war department a copy of a letter received by United States Minister Conger from Sir Claude Macdonald, British minister to China, speaking in a complimentary way of the review of the American troops which took place at Peking on Oct. 3 last. Sir Claude says:

"I have been so busy all day I have not had time to write and tell you how much I enjoyed the review of your troops. As an old soldier I looked on with critical eye and think that nothing could have been finer than the appearance of the 'boys in blue.' As an old infantryman it was to this branch of the service particularly I devoted my attention, and I greatly admired the marching and splendid bearing of the men. I have spoken to some of our cavalry officers since, and they are loud in their praise of both horses and men of the cavalry."

Adirondacks Snow Bound.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 6.—From one to two feet of snow fell in northern New York and throughout the Adirondack region Tuesday and yesterday, making a total snowfall of nearly four feet in less than two weeks. The last storm was accompanied by a pretty strong wind, which piled the snow in drifts, filling the highways level full and seriously delaying traffic on railroads in northern New York. The sleeper from New York over the Delaware and Hudson due here at 5 a. m. was eight hours late, and the sleeper from New York due at Malone at 7 a. m. over the Adirondack and St. Lawrence road was seven hours late. The Adirondack lumber woods are so full of snow that the lumbermen cannot do much of anything.

A Boer Settlement on Long Island.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—A real estate firm announces that a colony of Boer farmers is to be established on Long Island between Hicksville and Syosset, in Nassau county. According to the firm, they have signed a contract for 1,113 acres of land with the "Boer refugee aid committee" and expect 23 families of Boers here on Dec. 28. Seventy families in all are to live on the tract, according to the promoters, and each is to have from 5 to 25 acres.

Commission Dined by President.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The first formal social function of the season at the White House occurred last night, when the president and Mrs. McKinley gave a dinner to the commissioners of the United States to the Paris exposition and their ladies. The table was set in the state dining room, which, with the east room and the red, blue and green parlors, had been appropriately decorated for the occasion. The Marine band furnished music.

Death From Hydrophobia.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Dec. 6.—James Lawlor, aged 24 years, a resident of Brownsville, a suburb of this place, is dead from an attack of hydrophobia. He was bitten by a dog about ten weeks ago, but felt no ill effects from it until Tuesday, when he began to show symptoms of rabies. Six of the best physicians in the county attended the sufferer, but could afford no relief, and he died in great agony last evening.

The President at a Wedding.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President McKinley, accompanied by Secretary Gage and Private Secretary Cortelyou, attended the marriage of Miss Mary McComas, daughter of Senator McComas of Maryland, and Mr. Clinton Goodloe Edgar at St. John's Episcopal church.

Waylaid and Robbed.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Dec. 6.—Joseph Loskosky of Cleveland was waylaid and robbed of $200 in cash and a gold watch on one of the principal streets of this city early yesterday. He came here in search of a brother and was trying to locate his brother's home when attacked.

DE WET IN RETREAT.

British Under Knox Defeat Boers Near Bethulie.

ROBERTS WELCOMED AT DURBAN.

Charges of Harsh Treatment by Lord Roberts Presented to London Liberal League—Mounted Troops Only to Be Sent to Africa.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The war office has received the following from Lord Kitchener, dated Bloemfontein, Dec. 5:

"General Knox re-engaged De Wet near Bethulie on the Smithfield road yesterday. He drove the enemy from all their positions before dark, when they retreated northward. Colonel Pilcher assisted by a turning movement on Knox's left."

Lord Kitchener reports also several minor affairs.

A London news agency publishes a dispatch from Pretoria saying that fighting has been going on for four days at Bronkhorst Spruit, east of Pretoria, that Commandants Viljoen and Erasmus, with 2,500 Boers, are now surrounded, and that 80 Boers have been killed.

At the war office this dispatch is characterized as belated information regarding events covered in the official dispatches from Lord Kitchener, dated Bloemfontein, Nov. 30, although the statement that the Boers were surrounded is not supported officially.

A Durban dispatch says:

"Lord Roberts, who has arrived here, was accorded a tumultuous reception. Members of the Irish association dragged his carriage to the town hall. The streets were profusely decorated and crowded to suffocation. Numerous addresses were presented to the field marshal."

Mr. J. M. Robertson, who has just returned from South Africa, in a speech at a meeting of the League of Liberals said the people here knew little or nothing of what was going on in South Africa. He further asserted that he himself saw an order of Lord Roberts in July for the burning of 40 farms. The Dutch, Mr. Robertson, added, are now absolutely alienated.

According to The Daily Express no more infantry drafts will be sent to South Africa. The only troops to go to the front hereafter will be mounted men.

Editor Imprisoned For Sedition.

WORCESTER, Cape Colony, Dec. 6.—Mr. J. E. DeLong, proprietor of the Worcester Advertiser, has been imprisoned on a charge of sedition, the specific offense being his publication of allegations of filthy atrocities by British soldiers. Worcester is rapidly filling with people who will attend the Dutch congress. The British troops are not allowed within the town limits for fear of a collision.

Smuggled Chinamen Arrested.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Detectives of the Jersey City police department yesterday arrested two Chinamen in the Pennsylvania railroad station in Jersey City for alleged violation of the Chinese exclusion law. The prisoners, who said they were Ching Tung and Yin Wah, were passengers on the Lehigh Valley express train which left Buffalo at 10 o'clock the previous night. They had berths in the Pullman sleeping car. They were taken before United States Commissioner Romaine and were held to await examination. It is alleged that they were smuggled across the border and were to be taken to a place in New York where Chinese immigrants are received and obtain employment.

Towne to Succeed Davis.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 6.—The Pioneer Press says that it learns from a source which it believes to be authoritative that Hon. Charles A. Towne of Duluth has been offered and has accepted the appointment as United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator C. K. Davis. The paper says that Governor Lind refused to confirm or deny the statement, but that its source of information is such that it cannot doubt that it is reliable. Mr. Towne was the candidate selected by the Democrats for United States senator in the election four years ago, when Senator Davis was re-elected.

Porto Rico Measures.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 6.—Of the first seven bills introduced in the executive council the most important are a measure proposed by Senor Jose C. Barbosa to establish trial by jury, a measure proposed by Mr. Jacob H. Hollander, treasurer of Porto Rico, to provide revenue and a measure proposed by Mr. William H. Hunt, secretary of Porto Rico, to compensate members of the executive council for their services.

Church Rites Refused.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Frank Tuscani, the Italian who was murdered on Sunday, was buried in Hackensack cemetery, a Protestant burying ground. Father Lambert of St. Mary's parish refused to allow the body to be buried in consecrated ground. The priest explained that Tuscani was not a good Catholic, having failed to observe the rules of the church regarding the sacraments and confession.

Customs Law Violations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—In his annual report to the secretary of the treasury the supervising special agent states that during the last fiscal year goods of the value of $64,876 were seized and that 54 arrests were made for violation of the customs laws. The amounts recovered on account of penalties aggregate $17,449 and on account of undervaluation and improper classification $369,346.

A Harmless Explosion.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—A dynamite bomb wrapped in brown paper exploded in a corner of Sands' theater, Harvard college, while Professor A. C. Coolidge was delivering his lecture. No one was hurt, and the bomb did little damage. The authors of the act are not known.

Six Injured by Gas Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 6.—While a number of men were driving a plane in the Maxwell mine of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company at Ashley an explosion of gas occurred, which burned six men, two perhaps fatally, and damaged the mine to some extent.

Woman Burned to Death.

WALLINGFORD, Conn., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Franklin Allen, aged 60, was burned to death at her home in this town. She had been mentally unbalanced, and it is not known whether or not the burning was an accident. She leaves a family.

THE POWERS AGREE

Modifications Called For by United States Accepted.

CONGER AUTHORIZED TO SIGN.

Punishments to Be Severest Chinese Government Can Inflict—Admission of Liability For Indemnity a Basis For Further Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The state department has been informed that the foreign ministers at Peking have reached an agreement which was submitted to the home offices. Secretary Hay cabled Mr. Conger authorizing him to sign the agreement on behalf of the United States government. It is difficult to gather details of the understanding at this time.

Advices received at the state department from Mr. Conger state that the ministers have modified the agreement in accordance with the instructions sent to their representatives by the respective governments. The agreement was necessarily a compromise, but on the whole it is satisfactory to the United States, the two main points, punishments and indemnity, being arranged in conformity with the views of the president and the secretary of state. The state department has learned within the past 24 hours that an agreement such as that reached would be acceptable, if not wholly satisfactory, to the other powers, so that the formal peace conference may begin as soon as all the governments concerned have notified their ministers to sign.

The main question at issue was that of punishments. The ministers had adopted an article of the agreement which provided that 12 Chinese dignitaries should be executed for their complicity in the anti-foreign troubles. To this the United States objected on the ground that the Chinese imperial authorities or the powers were unable to inflict such severe sentences on the powerful officials named, chief of whom was Prince Tuan, the father of the heir apparent to the throne. Russia promptly came to the support of the United States in this contention, and all the other nations followed suit with the exception of Germany, which desired the most exemplary punishment inflicted on those who were directly responsible for the murder of Baron von Ketteler.

As a result of exchanges within the past week Germany, it is understood, has come around to this view, that the Chinese government, which is charged by the powers with the infliction of the punishments, was unable to carry out capital sentences on the principal offenders. The form of the demand finally incorporated in the agreement at Peking was suggested by Russia and the United States. It calls for the infliction of the severest punishment on the principal offenders that the Chinese government is able to inflict. Guarantees must be given that these men will be punished severely, and the powers must have evidence that the punishments have been carried out in good faith.

As to indemnity the agreement contains a provision that the Chinese government shall acknowledge liability for the injuries to governments, corporations and persons and agree to pay damages, actual and exemplary, to be fixed hereafter in such manner as the peace plenipotentiaries shall decide. The amounts to be paid are not fixed, nor is any limit of indemnity named. This government and Russia favor the transfer of the indemnity question to the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, of which ex-President Harrison, Chief Justice Fuller, Attorney General Griggs and Judge Gray of Delaware, formerly United States senator, are the American members.

All the other demands heretofore adopted by the ministers are included in the agreement, with no material modifications.

MA HOLDS MOUNTAIN PASSES.

Governor of Shansi Said to Have Executed Eighty Boxers.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—A dispatch from Field Marshal von Waldersee, dated Peking, Tuesday, Dec. 4, says strong detachments of Chinese regulars under General Ma are reported from Shansi to be holding the mountain passes on the frontier of Chi-li.

An explosion at Pao-Ting Fu during the clearing out of a powder magazine, killed one man and wounded Lieutenant Wolfgramm and four others.

The Chinese minister here has handed the foreign office officials a telegram from Li Hung Chang to the effect that Sih-Liang, the new governor of Shansi, has publicly executed upward of 80 rebel leaders and asserting that he is otherwise acting with the greatest severity in the suppression of the Boxers and energetically protecting the missionaries.

Rich Cuban Drops Dead In Bank.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Gregoria de Quesada, a Cuban, who took a prominent part in the affairs of Cuba during the time that the island was a dependency of Spain, dropped dead in the Merchants' National bank while waiting in the line before the receiving teller's window. Senor Quesada lived in this city. He managed to save the greater part of his fortune when he fled to this country from Cuba at the close of the revolution in 1878. He had a large plantation and cattle range in the province of Puerto Principe. He had three sons, who were educated in this country. One of them, Gonzalo de Quesada, is at present in Cuba as the representative of President McKinley.

The Iowa Under Orders.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The big battleship Iowa, flagship of the Pacific station, in company with the Philadelphia, has been ordered to leave San Francisco for the usual winter cruise southward. It is stated there is no particular purpose in this cruise, but conditions along the isthmus are disturbed, and it is regarded as good policy to have the United States flag shown in that quarter at comparatively short intervals.

Shipping Damaged by Storm.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—As a result of the gale which swept over New England many marine disasters are reported, and nobody dares to say there are not more to come. Four schooners were driven ashore at Beverly, one tug and five barges were sunk at Newburyport, and another tug was injured in collision and three schooners were driven ashore at Salem.

Lace Finishers Strike.

NEW HAVEN, Dec. 6.—Sixty lace finishers employed by Newman & Sons, corset makers, are out on a strike. The strikers are all women, and they are dissatisfied with their wages.

CONSCIENCE AWAKENED.

Unknown Robber Returns Goods and Pays Damages.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Chief Inspector Watts discloses a mysterious case of awakened conscience, in which he has been acting for nearly a month past. On Nov. 13 an express team brought two large cases addressed to Chief Watts to headquarters. There were no marks to tell where they came from. The cases contained 14 rolls of flannel, valued at $300. In the chief's mail came this letter:

"Dear Sir—Two boxes were left at your office last evening. They contained part of the contents of three boxes stolen this summer from the Boston and Maine railroad by parties acting for others and as their tools.

"The principal has returned the goods you have, but says that the balance has been disposed of. Please ascertain the amount due for balance and all expenses and in the Boston Herald of Nov. 12, 20 and 23 insert the amount due is —— dollars, and as soon as possible it will be paid. From this you will have realized what they have suffered and what they will suffer."

The letter was written on a plain piece of paper and inclosed in a plain white envelope, postmarked Boston.

Chief Watts consulted J. N. George, claim agent of the Boston and Maine Railroad company, and learned that the goods were stolen from a freight car at Ballardvale, Mass., in September. The goods were in transit to New York from the Ballardvale Manufacturing company. The loss to the railroad company was figured up, and on the days named by the unknown writer the following advertisement was inserted in the paper named:

"Boston and Maine railroad amount is $143.57."

At noon on Nov. 30 another letter was received by the chief. It read:

"Please acknowledge receipt of $70 in the same paper and same place on Nov. 22 and 24. Balance soon."

In the envelope $70 in bank bills was found wrapped in a piece of newspaper. The receipt of the money was acknowledged in the manner suggested.

Tuesday afternoon another letter containing the remaining $74 due the railroad reached the chief inspector. The letter accompanying it read:

"Dear Sir—Inclosed find $74, balance due the Boston and Maine matter. Please acknowledge the amount in the same paper in issues of Dec. 6 and 7."

The request will be complied with.

The Dutch premier declared himself unable to state when Holland could propose arbitration between England and the Boers.

Back From Dawson.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 6.—The steamer Amur, which has just arrived here from Alaskan ports, brought the first party to reach the coast from Dawson since the waterways were frozen up. They report the finding of the frozen bodies of two unknown men on the trail. The bodies looked as though they had been eaten by wolves. The weather was intensely cold, the thermometer registering 59 below at Selwyn Nov. 16. Sterling B. Higgins of San Francisco, one of the wealthiest men on Gold Run, died Nov. 23. Hector McDonald, one of the pioneers of Selkirk, died there Nov. 27. Six automobiles intended for an express service between Dawson and White Horse are stalled in the ice near Hell Gate. Mail carriers brought out 18 sacks of mail from Dawson. They report that city crowded with idle men.

Express Boats For Lower Hudson.

NYACK, N. Y., Dec. 6.—A well known resident of South Nyack, A. S. Guerber, has submitted for public inspection the plans upon which he has been working for months for an express line of steamboats to run on the lower Hudson at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The boats, according to Mr. Guerber's plans, are to be 130 feet long, 15 feet beam and have a draft of 4½ feet. They will be fitted up for 250 passengers and will, if his plans prove successful, make hourly trips during the day between Nyack, Tarrytown, Dobbs Ferry, Yonkers and New York, making the distance of 30 miles, with all the stops, in one hour.

Indian Relief Fund Closed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—After receiving subscriptions for the relief of the famine stricken in India to the extent of $252,988 the New York committee ended its work with a meeting of the executive committee. The committee was appointed in May last, with William E. Dodge chairman and John Crosby Brown secretary. It is estimated that more than $1,000,000 has been sent from the United States to India for the help of the sufferers.

Pleaded Guilty of Arson.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—With a possible sentence of 40 years in state prison staring them in the face, Adolph Hoffman, 24 years old, and his wife, Florence, pleaded guilty before Recorder Goff to arson in the first degree. They were charged with setting fire to their home in a tenement in East One Hundred and Forty-sixth street on Nov. 2. There were five families in the house, consisting of 20 persons.

Sunday Night Concert Barred.

ATLANTA, Dec. 6.—Chief of Police Manley has notified Henry DeGive, manager of the Grand Opera House, that the Edward Strauss concert scheduled for Sunday night would not be permitted. This action was taken as a result of a protest by the local association of ministers on the ground that the concert was a desecration of the Sabbath.

Thanksgiving For Czar's Recovery.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 6.—In all the churches yesterday special services of thanksgiving were held for the convalescence of the czar and in connection with the birthday of the czarowitz, Grand Duke Michael, who was born Dec. 4, 1878.

Heath's Successor Confirmed.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

A SHIPBUILDING COMBINE.

American and English Companies Considering the Subject.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—The Ledger today says that persons who are in a position to know the facts of the matter were asked concerning the publication that proposals have been made looking to the combination of the great English shipbuilding concern, the Vickers' Sons' & Maxim company, the Cramp Ship and Engine Building company and the Midvale Steel works. That a scheme which contemplates the union of the Vickers' Sons' & Maxim company, the Cramp company and the Midvale company has been advanced and been seriously considered and favorably by even some of those heavily interested was admitted by a large stockholder of the Cramp company. He said that the proposition had been put forward from the other side; that it includes the merging of the Midvale company and the Cramp company and the union of the two with the Vickers & Maxim company. The capital necessary to effect the combination would in large part come from the English interest, which would thereafter have an important voice in the management of the Cramp and Midvale combination. The affairs of the interest here would, however, be largely in the American directors.

No formal action on the proposition has, he said, been taken by the Cramp directors, but as individuals they generally favor it. As the directors control the stock of the Cramp company their action in the matter would doubtless meet the consent of the smaller stockholders. It was stated, however, that the scheme is still largely "in the air," though it is promising.

FUNSTON TELLS OF FIGHTING.

Insurgents Severely Punished—The Liquor Legislation.

MANILA, Dec. 6.—A dispatch has been received from General Funston giving an account of a two hours' fight in the woods of Santo Domingo between an American force and 300 rebels commanded by Sandico. The American force, consisting of 30 native scouts commanded by Lieutenant Jernigan, attacked the rebels, who retreated, leaving on the field 16 men killed, including the rebel leader Aguilar and an American negro. It was at first thought the latter was a man named Fagin, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry, but this turned out to be a mistake. Not one of Jernigan's men was wounded.

The hall occupied by the United States commission was crowded yesterday, the occasion being the public discussion of the Manila liquor license bill. The section providing for banishing saloons from the Escolta and down town plazas was strongly criticised. Judge Taft explained that the United States courts had settled the right of the police and the power to limit the sale of liquors and yet the places where they were sold were unlimited. He declared that the condition of the Escolta, owing to the presence of saloons, was disgraceful. The judge admitted that it was a hardship to some, but he denied that injustice was being done. The licenses expire in January, and the section of the bill requiring removals will take effect in April.

Deadly Fight In a Coal Mine.

SAGINAW, Mich., Dec. 6.—A desperate fight occurred late yesterday at the Standard coal mine, near here, between Poles and other miners. Clubs and other weapons were used freely. During the melee Silvesta Stanck, a Pole, struck Pearle Jenkins, 23 years old, on the head with a club, crushing his skull and causing death shortly after. Jenkins came here from Ohio. Stanck, who is 35 years old and has a family, escaped and has not been apprehended. The trouble started between two miners while at work in the mine over a cart. When the men got above ground, the fight was renewed. Delore Brown was badly injured, and several others were hurt.

Two Drowned In Bridge Collapse.

BERLIN, N. H., Dec. 6.—Two men were drowned and five others are suffering from chills and exposure as the result of a suspension bridge for the use of laborers on the property of the Burgess Sulphite Fiber company collapsing. The bridge was suspended on wire cables at a height of about 50 feet over the falls on the Androscoggin river. Seven of the company's employees were crossing the structure, when one of the cables snapped, precipitating all the men into the water 50 feet below. Two were drowned before any one could reach them. The remaining five were rescued after considerable difficulty.

Too Much Water Now.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 6.—While up to a few days ago operations had to be supended in many coal mines in Luzerne and Schuylkill counties on account of lack of water, the opposite conditions now prevail in some instances. The downpour of rain of the past few days has been so heavy that operations had to be suspended at Cuyle Bros.', Dick & Co.'s, the Crawford & Dugan and the Beaver Brook strippings. Several washeries also had to close down on account of the weather, and in some collieries the mine pumps had to be started up to relieve the slopes of accumulated water.

Diamond In Hog's Stomach.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 6.—When George Smith slaughtered a 5-year-old hog on his farm at Hornby, he found in the animal's stomach a diamond ring his daughter had lost four years ago while at a husking bee in the barn. Miss Smith immediately upon discovering her loss accused Bertha O'Brien of stealing it. This was denied by Miss O'Brien, but her friends, thinking her guilty, left her, and the girl soon after disappeared from the village. No trace of her has ever been found.

The Storm at Coney Island.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The northeast windstorm caused considerable damage at Coney Island. The tide was the highest in years past, and the meadows were flooded. The ocean side of the island received a terrible pounding from the waves, which washed over the concourse between the Brighton Beach property and West Brighton. Much damage was done to several small pavilions along the shore, and the old iron pier was slightly damaged.

Excursion For Kentucky's Officers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 6.—The United States charge d'affaires, Mr Lloyd C. Griscom; Captain Colby M Chester, commander of the United States battleship Kentucky, and the other officers of the Kentucky have been invited on board the British guardship here, the Imogene, which will go on an excursion in the Bosporus in honor of the Americans.

ARMY BILL DEBATE.

House Agrees to Immediate Consideration.

VIGOROUS ATTACK BY MR. M'CALL.

Eleven of the Twenty-six Pages Disposed of Before Adjournment—In the Senate Mr. Frye Concludes His Speech on Shipping Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The house devoted yesterday to the army reorganization bill, which was brought up under a special order adopted at the opening of the session which limited general debate to two hours on a side. Lieutenant General Miles and a number of army officers were interested spectators throughout the day. Chairman Hull of the military committee, who was in charge of the bill, and Mr. Parker of New Jersey, who is a member of the military committee, Republicans, spoke for the bill and Messrs. Cochrane of Missouri, Kleburg of Texas, McClellan of New York, Shafroth of Colorado, Cummings of New York and Cox of Tennessee, Democrats, against it.

Mr. McCall of Massachusetts, a Republican, aroused the only enthusiasm of the day against the measure. Several times during the last session, notably on the Porto Rican tariff bill, he refused to follow his party. Yesterday he attacked the whole Philippine policy of the administration. Although temperate in language, he was plain spoken in his warnings of the dangers which lay ahead of the government if a colonial policy was persisted in. He also criticised technically several features of the bill, especially that lodging in the president the discretion to expand or reduce the size of the army at will. In conclusion he likened the unconquerable spirit which opposed our sway in the Philippines to that of Washington at Valley Forge. Love of independence, he said, was the "noblest heritage of the human heart." He declared that the United States should immediately give the Filipino people honorable assurance that they should have a government of their own.

In replying to Mr. McCall, Mr. Hull declared that until congress acted to the contrary we must assert and enforce our sovereignty over the Philippines or disgrace ourselves before the world, and it was the duty of congress to provide an army adequate to put down the rebellion. Eleven of the 26 pages of the bill were disposed of before adjournment.

The Grout oleomargarine bill, under a special order made at the last session, displaced the army bill, which will go over until tomorrow.

Senator Frye at the session of the senate concluded his speech upon the ship subsidy bill. He devoted his attention principally to a technical explanation of the various provisions of the measure, explaining with especial care that provision which would admit to American registry foreign built ships. From several sources his attention was directed to this provision, and it is evidently one upon which much of the forthcoming debate will rest. Aside from the speech of Mr. Frye no business of importance was transacted in legislative session.

REVENUE REDUCTIONS.

Chairman Payne Presents a Bill Cutting Out Forty Millions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee has introduced the bill reducing the taxation under the war revenue act after the Republican members of the committee had agreed on the form of the measure and the articles to receive the reduction of tax. The bill provides an aggregate reduction estimated at $40,000,348. The estimated reductions in detail, as given out by Mr. Payne, are as follows:

Beer, $9,832,712; cigars, $3,189,764; special taxes (section 2)—Commercial brokers, $138,281; custom house brokers, $8,167; circuses, $11,744; theaters, $47,178; exhibitions not otherwise provided, $84,218; total special tax, $287,589.

Schedule A.—Bank checks, $7,000,000; certificates of deposit, $200,000; drafts, inland, $500,000; promissory notes, $3,500,000; postal orders, $602,000; foreign bills of exchange, $100,000; export bills of lading, $100,000; express receipts, $1,200,000; telephone messages, $315,000; bonds of indemnity, $250,000; certificates other than of profits, $200,000; charter party, $100,000; brokers' contracts, $100,000; conveyances, $3,000,000; telegraph dispatches, $800,000; insurance, $3,000,000; leases, $200,000; mortgages, $500,000; passage tickets, $200,000; power of attorney, etc., $100,000; protests, $25,000; warehouse receipts, $250,000; total schedule A, $22,242,000.

Schedule B, $4,548,283, less wines $600,000—$3,898,283; legacies, charitable, etc., $500,000; grand total, $40,000,348.

The bill provides a discount of 20 per cent in the tax of $2 per barrel on beer in lieu of the present 7½ per cent reduction, making the new rate $1.60 per barrel.

Pingree Summons Special Session.

DETROIT, Dec. 6.—Governor Pingree has issued a call for a special session of the state legislature to convene in the state capitol at Lansing Dec. 12 for the purpose of enacting taxation legislation along the lines of the constitutional amendment adopted at the November election. This amendment permits the taxation of railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone companies and other forms of corporate property on their true cash value instead of specifically on their earnings, as was mandatory before the passage of the amendment.

Kruger Leaves Cologne.

COLOGNE, Dec. 6.—Mr. Kruger walked yesterday in the rain from his hotel to the cathedral. He was cheered enthusiastically by an assemblage of people who had long waited to see him. Mr. Kruger repeatedly raised his hat in acknowledgment of the cheering. He departed at 10 a. m. today on a special train connecting with the Dutch express at Zovenaar.

A New Party.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—Charles M. Walter, secretary of the Middle of the Road Populist committee, has issued a call for a conference to be held here Dec. 22. He says this conference will be the first step in the formation of a new national party to embrace all of the reform elements.

Make no Mistake.

It was not to be expected that the Common Council would bring up such an important question as the proposed changes at the sewage disposal beds at the meeting on the eve of a city election. It will be remembered, however, that the Council adjourned at that time until next Monday evening. The report of the street committee concerning these changes and their estimated cost is practically ready and may be expected at the next Council meeting. The committee is also likely to ask for permission to act in the matter.

This subject of sewage disposal is one of the most important ones which any municipal government has to consider. Plainfield has a disposal plant but it is generally admitted that the beds, as they are at present, are not perfectly satisfactory. Something has to be done and the Council is supposed to use all reasonable effort to obviate any unpleasant conditions as soon as may be consistent with the necessary investigation of the subject.

The Councilmanic committee on streets and sewers has had the matter under advisement for some time, and has employed the services of an engineer who is an expert on the question under consideration. His suggestions have already been presented to the Council. The committee's recommendations are now expected.

While delay is by no means desirable, yet the subject is one that should receive thorough consideration before any steps are taken to revise the present system. It costs money to make such changes and the Council should be entirely convinced of the excellence of the plan before the committee is authorized to expend the city's funds for that purpose. If the first attempt to provide the city with a proper sewage disposal plant was not a success, let the Councilman make sure of the success of the remedy before adopting it.

Fifty-six general advertisers have reported to The Mail Order Journal according to the Philadelphia Record that their mail order business has increased this year over last by from 5 per cent. to 300 per cent. As to the best medium for advertising for the mail order trade "the opinion of the great majority of those who answer favors the newspaper circulating purely among subscribers." This result was to have been expected, because the person who takes a particular newspaper daily learns to look to its colums not only for general news but also for news which the advertisers have to make public.

With the formal acceptance of the Madison avenue-Duer street bridge over Green brook, a worthy improvement for both city and borough will be thrown open to the public. It was only after years of effort that the new entrance into the borough was secured. Great credit is due those who have been influential in bringing it about.

The month which ended last week was the mildest November on record for many years. A mild winter is now prophesied.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

There is every probability of the Democratic members of the Legislature naming former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., as their nominee to succeed Senator William J. Sewell this winter, when a new United States Senator is to be elected. Of course the honor is an empty one, but Mr. Smith is entitled to it, having made the last fight for his party in that direction. New Jersey will send a Democrat to the United States Senate to succeed Senator John Kean, and who who is more likely to be the man than former Senator James Smith, Jr.? —Hunterdon County Democrat.

Mayor Mack, of Elizabeth, is setting his brother chief magistrates of other cities in New Jersey an example in the way of strictly enforcing righteous laws that some of them might study to decided advantage. He gave strict orders to the police to see to it that the laws prohibiting the carrying on of secular business of any kind on Sunday should be enforced, and in consequence last Sunday in Elizabeth was as perfect a type of the American Sabbath as could be found in New Jersey. It is understood that this is not a spasmodic outbreak of civic morality on the part of Mayor Mack, but that he purposes to fight it out on this line so long as he is Mayor. Sunday closing is to be universal.—New York Herald.

Ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerset county, who was selected by Robert Davis, of Jersey City, as the candidate of the Democratic party for United States Senator at the next session of the Legislature, is willing to obey the wishes of his party in this respect. Referring to the matter yesterday, Mr. Clark said: "Although the nomination is, in this instance, what is regarded as an empty honor, it is one that should not be lightly regarded by Democrats. It would, however, be rather out of place for me to discuss at this time this complimentary nomination, especially in view of the fact that the Legislative session is still more than a month off."—New York Tribune.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

"A Prisoner in Buff" is the name of another interesting book for young people from the pen of Rev. Dr. Everett T. Tomlinson, of Elizabeth. The comment of a critic is "Dr. Tomlinson is digging in the historic vein and finding precious gold."

A queer spectacle was witnessed a few days ago when one of Plainfield's numerous special policemen was seen coming into the city through Park avenue with a wheel. He could neither walk steadily nor ride his wheel. He was well under the influence of the flowing bowl and how he reached his home is a great mystery to all. The peculiar part of the incident is that it occurred on Sunday. Where did he get his drinks?

The census returns of Texas present some curious facts. For instance, Bailey county has but four residents; Cockran has twenty-five; Andrews has thirty-seven; Lynn has seventeen, and Dawson has thirty-six. Twenty five other counties have populations of less than 500 each. Some counties have no running stream within their borders, some are hundreds of miles from a railroad, and others are almost wholly inhabited by prairie dogs, jack rabbits and rattlesnakes. Tom Green county, the largest in the State, is larger than the whole State of Ohio, and has but 6804 inhabitants.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

ORIENTAL RUGS

We place on sale this week a large consignment of Persian and Turkish Rugs. This consignment is made by the largest Importer of Oriental Rugs in the world and being consigned rather than bought, we are enabled to sell them on much smaller margins These Rugs are all selected by us, they are all perfect and fully twenty five per cent cheaper than if bought of importing houses. The lot comprises Guendjis, Kazacjas, Antique Mousouls, Kazats, Bokharas, Iran Halls, Fine Cabistans, Karmanshaws, Kurdistans, etc., in different sizes. Some 12 and 15 feet Persian Hall Runners over 50 years old are included. These Rugs are made from pure camels hair and, being dyed with Oriental dyes, retain their color indefinitely and wear excellently. This is an opportunity to buy high priced rugs considerably below regular prices.

At the Same Time a

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 6—Harold Milliken, the two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Milliken, of Brooklyn, former residents of the borough, was found dead in bed by his parents yesterday morning. The cause of death is a mystery, as the child appeared to be in his usual health the night before It is supposed by some that the child became enveloped in the bed clothes and was smothered. Mr. Milliken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Milliken, of the borough.

The Junior football team journeyed to Plainfield yesterday and played a game with a team from the Irving school. The borough boys won by a score of 35 to 0. Their team was captained by Arthur Bogardus and consisted of the following players: John Logan, Frank Fletcher, Howard Craig, Harvey Giles, Earl Wyhuskey, Edward Hoffman, Edward Heller, Hudson Wilcox, Albert Conklin and Russel Garretson.

The Somerset and Middlesex Traction Company placed one of its large new cars on the local line yesterday, greatly to the appreciation of borough residents. It attracted considerable attention from the fact that it was equipped with two trolley poles one at each end. This is for the benefit of the conductor in reversing the car, simply pulling one down and letting the other up.

A dime sociable will be held at the residence of Mrs. John Kinney this evening under the auspices of two classes from the Methodist church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Patrick Costello took possession of the house on Fairview avenue yesterday, which he recently purchased from John Beck.

Mrs. William Helling, of Elizabeth, has returned home after a few days visit with her brother, Henry Wiedenhaupt.

The performance of the Elwood Vaudeville Company in Apgar's Hall last night was fairly well attended.

The contract case of Giles against Randolph will be tried in Justice Warden's court tomorrow.

Harry Zimmerman, of Elizabeth, was the guest of borough friends yesterday.

B. F. Bogardus is recovering slowly from a light attack of typhoid fever.

W. H. Satterlee and family removed to Plainfield yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 6—At the last meeting of the township Board of Education it was decided not to pay the Dunellen board for the tuition of township pupils, transferring them to the New Market school. The parents of several of the pupils are not in favor of the plan as it will make a very long walk for the children.

The advertising bazaar to be given by the ladies of Holy Innocents church will open in Friendship Hall tomorrow evening and continue for two nights. A special programme has been arranged for each evening and a treat is promised to all who attend. The bazaar itself will also be a novel affair.

Two of the largest hogs killed this season in this vicinity were slaughtered for Zeba Osmun yesterday by Charles Giles and several assistants. There were several wagers as to what they would weigh and the result was awaited anxiously. Their combined weight was 611 pounds.

Mrs. John Dolan, of South Amboy, is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Smith.

William Piddington has been engaged by Daniel Moody to cover his morning paper route.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 6—During the past three weeks the Electric Light Company has been having a great deal of trouble by having the electric lights on the several circuits through the village and borough broken. The work is no doubt done by boys, who have a fondness for this kind of sport, regardless of the consequence if caught. Several evenings ago Inspector John Miller put in sixteen new globes on the Fanwood circuit, on Wednesday evening five had been broken and had to be replaced. The company has had a great deal of this trouble for a long time and it is needless to say if the guilty ones are caught it would go hard with them.

The electric light circuit on Park avenue, the fuse of which was burned out during the storm Tuesday night, was burning all right again last night, the repair men from the Electric Light Company having repaired the damage during the day.

The Young People's Literary Society connected with the Methodist church held an interesting reading on Shakespeare's works in the class rooms of the church last evening.

The body of Mrs. Augusta Johnston, who died at her home in New York on Sunday, was interred in the family plot in the Baptist cemetery yesterday.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company held their regular monthly meeting in their rooms last evening. Only routine business was transacted.

The "Three Musketeers" at Music Hall, Plainfield, this evening, will be attended by a number of the lovers of amusement from the village.

Mrs. DeForest Thomæ, who has been spending a few days with friends at Elizabeth, has returned home.

LeRoy Day has returned from a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at Somerville.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Dec. 6.—Miss Nellie Manning attended the reception given by Mr. Cother's dancing class at New Market last night.

A large turnout is expected tonight at the meeting of the P. O. S. of A. Dr. F. L. Condit, of New Brunswick, State Master of Forms, has been invited to be present.

Rev. J. W. Richardson, of Plainfield, will speak here tomorrow night. The evangelistic meetings are to be continued as long as sufficient interest is manifested.

Several people in this vicinity are attending the Farmers' Convention at Stelton. The meetings were in session yesterday and today, closing with this evening.

Mrs. J. A. Cubberbey spent yesterday in Trenton, where she has been attending the wedding reception of her nephew, William Cubbuby.

The Misses Bird, of Plainfield, were visiting friends in town last night.

Flaging is being supplied for some new sidewalks on Lehigh avenue.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Lorenzo Townley, of Somerset street, has been visiting Hoboken friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Craft, of New York, are spending a week with Mrs. Messinger, of North avenue.

Miss Ella Fleschner, formerly of North Plainfield, but now of Perth Amboy, has announced her engagement to J. F. Alofsin, of St. Louis, Mo.

William L. Egry, president of the Egry Auto Graphic Register Company, Dayton, O., was a guest yesterday of J. E. McConnell, clerk at Hotel Imperial.

Mrs. Samuel Porter Williams and her daughter, from Hartford, Conn., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clark, of Crescent avenue.

Halsey H. Conger, of New Brunswick, has been appointed contract agent and solicitor for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company in the Plainfield district. He began his duties this morning.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The Union County Association to Meet Friday.

The annual institute of the Union County Teachers' Association will be held tomorrow in the Morrell Street Public school at Elizabeth. The schools of this city and throughout the county are closed for the day and all teachers are expected to be in attendance at the institute, for which a programme of very great interest has been arranged.

There will be morning and afternoon sessions. Features of the session, beginning at 9 a. m., will be addresses on "The Direct Ethical Instruction of Children," by Edward Howard Griggs, "Relation of the Home to the Child," by Miss Louise Connolly, and "Training for Citizenship," by W. P. Powell. At the afternoon session Dr. C. C. Bounds will speak on "Instruction in Morals" and "The Professional Importance of the Teacher;" Miss Margaret McCloskey will speak on "Classic Art in Elementary Education."

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Two Plainfield Women Elected at Annual Meeting of Missionary Society.

At the annual meeting of the Elizabeth District Association of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. churches, recently held in the Park M. E. Church, Elizabeth, officers were elected as follows:

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Aus der Rheinpfalz.

Kaiserslautern. Der Fabrikarbeiter Heinrich Grub wurde von seiner eigenen Frau wegen Majestätsbeleidigung angezeigt. Sie war von ihrem Mann mißhandelt worden und wollte sich dafür rächen. Vor Gericht widerrief sie ihre Behauptungen. Doch wurde der Angeklagte von der Strafkammer zu fünf Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Neustadt. Die Begründung einer Kreis-Innung pfälzischer Buchbindermeister wurde von einer hierorts veranstalteten Versammlung von Buchbindermeistern beschlossen. Die Innung soll zur Beseitigung der im Buchbindergewerbe vorhandenen Mißstände dienen und namentlich die im Lehrlings- und Gesellenwesen herrschenden Uebelstände bekämpfen.

Trippstadt. Neulich trank das 2½jährige Kind des Johann Hensel in Stelzenberg aus einem Fläschchen Essigessenz. In Folge dessen ist das Kind am anderen Tage unter großen Schmerzen gestorben.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. Bei einem Zimmerbrand in einem Hotel in Brixen, Tirol, ist der Fabrikant Otto Kahn aus Stuttgart erstickt. Die Ursache des Brandes war die Entzündung eines Bodenteppichs durch Abspringen eines unbeachtet gebliebenen Zündholzfunkens. Erwachend, aber von Rauch schon betäubt, suchte Kahn den Weg nach der Thür, fand aber nicht mehr die Zeit, das Schloß aufzuschließen.

Asperg. Der Fuhrmann Johann Spieß gerieth zwischen Markgröningen und hier unter seinen mit Obst beladenen Wagen und erlitt so schwere Verletzungen, daß er, in seine Wohnung verbracht, alsbald starb.

Gmünd. In einem Kannstatter Hotel vergiftete sich der 30jährige Kaufmann Kurt Brom von Gmünd, welcher in geistesgestörtem Zustande sein Geschäft verlassen hatte.

Heilbronn. Der älteste Bürger Heilbronns, der sogenannte Amtshaus-Schüßle, hat kürzlich das Zeitliche gesegnet. Der Mann, der ein Alter von 100 Jahren 5 Monaten erreichte, benöthigte die lange Zeit seines Lebens nie ärztliche Hilfe. Seit einem Jahre hatte sein Augenlicht etwas nachgelassen, dagegen war sein Gedächtniß bis zu seinem Tode ein sehr gutes.

Neresheim. Beim Bau der Härdtsfeld-Bahn wurden Reihengräber angeschnitten. Drei Skelette mit Zierrath, Lang- und Kurzschwertern, und zwei Kugelgießer bildeten das erste Fundergebniß.

Baden.

Karlsruhe. Im Großherzogthum Baden gibt es jetzt beinahe 70,000 Kapitalisten, die zusammen 1,663,803,180 Mark versteuern. In einem Jahre hat sich die Zahl der Kapitalisten um fast 2400 und ihr Steuerkapital um 96,000,000 Mark vermehrt.—Wegen Diebstahls wurde der 22 Jahre alte Student Ludwig Bruß zu vier Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt. Bruß hatte in einem Zeichensaale des Polytechnikums die verschlossene Schublade des Studenten Ernst Au erbrochen und diesem ein auf 63 Mark bewerthetes Reißzeug entwendet. Dasselbe versetzte er um 15 Mark.

Donaueschingen. Im Alter von 70 Jahren verstarb in Meßkirch der in weiten Kreisen bekannte Bürstenfabrikant Leo Kunz, der Begründer der hiesigen Bürstenindustrie.

Heidelberg. Der erste Bürgermeister unserer Stadt, Dr. E. Walz, der neu habilitirte Privatdozent an der hiesigen Juristenfakultät, liest im laufenden Wintersemester wöchentlich ein zweistündiges Kolleg über „Badisches Verwaltungsrecht."

Walldorf. Der Kaufmann Wilhelm Bruch wurde wegen Urkundenfälschung zu vier Wochen Gefängniß verurtheilt. Er hatte das Datum eines Eisenbahn-Kilometerheftes, das noch nicht ganz abgefahren war, um 20 Tage durch Vorsetzung eines Zweiers vor den Einer verlängert.

Elsaß-Lothringen.

Straßburg. Der Gemeinderath nahm den von sozialistischer Seite gestellten Antrag auf Einführung des französischen Unterrichts in den oberen Elementarschulklassen mit der Modifikation an, daß dieser Unterricht an die Kinder dieser Klassen vom 12. Lebensjahre an ertheilt werden soll.—Die hiesige Polizei verhaftete auf Ersuchen der Berliner Polizei den italienischen Gipsfigurenhändler Francesco Ansaldi als Abgesandten eines italienischen Geheimbundes.

Kaysersberg. Bei einem Brande, welcher mehrere Häuser zerstörte, kamen zwei Familien mit zusammen acht Personen um's Leben. Es konnten sechs Leichen geborgen werden.

Mutzig. Vor Kurzem wurde eine Militärschwimm- und Badeanstalt an der Breusch, zwischen Mutzig und Greßweiler, errichtet, womit einem dringenden Bedürfniß abgeholfen ward.

I felt better from the very first one I took. I had taken them for about a month, and was feeling so much better that I had forgotten about the bad feelings I used to have. The doctors called my trouble dyspepsia. I had it for about seven years, and had never in all my life been able to eat rich food or a very hearty meal. I often wondered why I should have so much dyspepsia. I would have what I call waterbrash sometimes four or five times a day when clean water that seemed hot would run out of my mouth and the pain was something terrible for a minute, or else I would have pains at times in my stomach that would fairly double me up or pains in my shoulders and legs and all over me so that I would wish I was dead. I would send for the doctor, and when he came in he would say: "Well what is the matter now?" The best way to describe how I felt was just to say that everything was the matter with me and I felt bad everywhere. I think everybody who is troubled with their stomach ought to just try Ripans Tabules and they will soon know how valuable they are. My age is fifty-one years.

The Twentieth Century Cook.

How the Brownes Tried an Educated Servant.

"Arrah, thin, yez'll be after gettin another c-o-ook!"

The last word ended in a shrill howl, followed by the crash of falling dishes.

Mr. Browne looked across the table at his wife, and she, in turn, fixed her eyes on her plate. Out in the kitchen Miss Anastasia was calling Bridget's attention to the fact that the breakfast was not only late, but positively uneatable. Miss Anastasia was a capable housekeeper. She had run things for her brother previous to his marriage, and now the young couple found her absolutely indispensable. She came to the door with a rather set face.

"I've dismissed Bridget," she announced, with her customary calmness.

THE TYPE WE ALL KNOW.

Mrs. Browne gave a cry of dismay. "Where shall we find another?" she exclaimed.

Anastasia drew herself up with dignity. "Leave that to me," she said. "The state of affairs in that kitchen was something awful. Now, I have had enough of uneducated emigrants. I am going out in the kitchen to get you two some coffee, and tomorrow, Alexis, you will find a new maid in charge."

On the stroke of 10 Miss Anastasia entered the office of the Educated Cook Ladies' union. She was met by an austere female, who put to her questions as to her age, whether she was single or married, her brother's business, annual income, number of children and number of animals in the house, number of evenings and afternoons on which company was entertained, etc. After these had been answered satisfactorily she was dismissed and told that a member of the organization would call in the evening at 8.

Promptly on the stroke of the hour the new maid appeared at the Brownes' apartment. She was small and wiry, with a businesslike look and a determined eye. After she had given her name as Mary Flint and answered a few questions Miss Anastasia asked, with her customary politeness, whether she was satisfied, to which Mary Flint answered, with dignity: "I belong to the Cook Ladies' Protective union. We have investigated your character and that of the house, and we find both proper. The hours of work, as you have no doubt been informed at the union, are from 7 in the morning until 8 at night, with from 2 to 4 in the afternoon for my sewing and other personal matters, and the time for my meals deducted making it practically a ten hour day."

"Yes, so I have understood. The new way—housework to be put on the same plane with other labor—is an excellent idea. I believe in it myself," commented Miss Anastasia. "Now, you will come tomorrow in time to prepare breakfast"—

"At 7," the new servant corrected.

"Ahem! At 7," repeated Miss Anastasia.

Next morning on the stroke of the hour Mary Flint put in her appearance. Her first act after inspecting the kitchen was to take from her pocket a small and neatly printed card, which she tacked over the stove, after which she commenced operations. It was 9 minutes after 8 when the Brownes came to breakfast, and they found it all neatly laid out for them—stone cold. Miss Anastasia rang the bell for Mary, who, after listening quietly to what she had to say, asked her to step into the kitchen and read the card over the stove. It proved to be a schedule of the Cook Ladies' union, and in plain letters was written:

"8:00—Breakfast put on table.

"8:45—Table cleared.

"9:00—Dishes washed and put away."

Miss Anastasia did not stop to read any more, but rushed back to eat her breakfast. "You know, it's the new way," she explained. "If we want educated labor, we must be on time for our meals." And little Mrs. Browne agreed with her. Mr. Browne said nothing, but meekly ate his cold potatoes.

All through the morning Mary Flint worked with a degree of energy which was wonderful to behold. After a stolen look at the card Mrs. Browne and Miss Anastasia seated themselves at the lunch table promptly on the stroke of half past 12 and were rewarded by a well cooked hot lunch.

"She's a treasure," declared Miss Anastasia, her mouth full of a particularly appetizing concoction.

Punctually at 2 the kitchen was clean and deserted. Mary sat in her room sewing. The doorbell rang once, twice, three times. No answer. Mrs. Browne ran out from her room.

"Mary," she called, "some one at the door!"

"I beg pardon," came the polite answer, "but you forget that from 2 to 4 are my free hours."

There was nothing for Mrs. Browne to do but open the door herself. At half past 3 the Van Twillers called, and at a quarter to 4 Maisie Bender dropped in for a little chat.

"You will have to hire another girl to answer the doorbell in the afternoon," commented Miss Anastasia.

"But where shall we put her in the flat?" inquired Mrs. Browne anxiously, "and I'm afraid Alexis can't afford to keep two servants."

When Mr. Browne came home, he brought with him a college friend to whose society Anastasia was by no means averse, so she flew to put on her most charming gown. Now, the dinner hour on the schedule was 6, and little Mrs. Browne, foreseeing that there would be some delay, was much afraid lest the experiment of the cold breakfast would be repeated, so she sneaked into the kitchen and by cajolery and bribing persuaded Mary to delay the soup somewhat. Therefore it was thanks to her that when the family arrived at the table a trifle late (it lacked one minute to half past 6) the first course was brought on steaming hot. Everything was well cooked and correctly served, Miss Anastasia was at her best, and the friend was seriously considering many things as he gazed at her between mouthfuls. After the salad there was a pause. Nobody noticed it at first because every one was chattering and having a good time. Suddenly Mrs. Browne exclaimed: "Dear me! Why doesn't Mary bring on the salad?"

Miss Anastasia rang. No answer. She excused herself and disappeared. She found the kitchen silent and deserted. It was spotlessly neat. Every pan and dish had been washed and put away. The stove shone like a mirror. The clock ticked away cheerfully, and the hands pointed to 8. Miss Anastasia's cheeks grew pale as she gave a hasty glance at the card back of the stove. It read:

"7:30—Wash dishes and clean kitchen.

"8:00—Retire."

The Brownes now have a Japanese servant. He is an immigrant and uneducated, but he salaams to the ground every time he meets Mrs. Browne or Miss Anastasia, and he does not work on schedule time.

"You are perfection!" he whispered. She shook her head sadly. "Alas, no!" she sighed. "I fear no man could come so near perfection as this!" In point of fact, not so much a sofa cushion intervened between them as she spoke.—Detroit Journal.

"Now, children," said the school teacher, "can you tell me of a greater power than a king?" "Yes, ma'am," cried a little boy, eagerly. "What, Willie?" asked the teacher (expecting the answer, "An emperor"), benignly. "An ace, ma'am," was the unexpected reply.—Town Talk.

THE GAME OF CHESS.

Its Supposed Origin and Some of Its Most Famous Votaries.

"There is nothing new under the sun" is a remark which we are constantly making; and this is especially true of the means whereby man seeks to amuse himself, says the London Express.

Among the most antiquated of games is chess, which the oldest Persian and Arabic authorities state to be of Indian origin. We find the game specifically referred to in Sanskrit literature 200 years before the birth of Christ.

Enthusiasts to-day might deem the methods then in vogue somewhat primitive, the board usually called an "eight square" to distinguish it from the board on which pachisi or backgammon was played. In the earliest known attempt at romance in Indian literature, the "Harsacarita," there is a punning passage which reads: "Under this monarch * * * only bees quarrel in collecting dews (dues); the only feet cut off are those in meter; only chess boards teach the position of the four members." That was written in the first half of the seventh century.

There is a Persian tradition to the effect that an Indian sovereign sent a Persian monarch the game of chess between 531 and 579 A. D. By way of returning the compliment the latter king sent the former the game of ward or backgammon.

The game was introduced to the flowery land as comparatively recently as the sixth century (A. D.). It was probably first known in Spain in the tenth century, for in the eleventh we already find it a popular amusement.

At the beginning of the twelfth it began to be known in this country, as well as in France and Germany; and it unfortunately has to be recorded that at the close of the century it had become a favorite gambling game all over the continent of Europe. Many men who have figured prominently in the pages of the world's history were passionately fond of the game. Perhaps the most noted example of this was Louis XIII., who, though he hated games of chance so much that he would not allow them to be played at his court, was nevertheless so amazingly keen on chess that he played even while riding in his carriage.

It is interesting to record in this connection that each man was provided with a pin at his foot, which, being stuck into a padded chess board, resisted the joltings of the royal vehicle. Imagine the prince of Wales driving along Piccadilly absorbed in a game of chess while her majesty's loyal subjects were eagerly waiting to bow to his royal highness.

John Frederick, elector of Hanover, proved that the ruling passion was strong in death. He had been made prisoner in 1547 by Charles V., and was playing chess with Ernest of Brunswick, his fellow captive, when he got the news that he was condemned to die.

He merely made a few remarks on the irregularity of the emperor's proceedings and coolly went on with his game. On winning it he expressed his keen satisfaction; then he betook himself to the religious exercises befitting one in his unenviable situation. To such a man the word chess was like a charm under whose potent spell he labored.

A New Will.

"Hello, Jasper," exclaimed Spenders, stopping his rich uncle's valet, "how's uncle this morning?"

"Well, sir, he says he thinks he needs a change of heir."

"So he sent you for the doctor, eh?"

"No; his lawyer."—Philadelphia Press.

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

The Right Thing Has Been Found—A Plainfield Citizen Shows the Way.

Once more we are indebted to a Plainfield citizen for a public statement that throws more light on a subject of ever-increasing interest. People have been deceived by false misrepresentations from time immemorial. No wonder they are skeptical of all claims endorsed by strangers residing in far-distant parts of the Union. It is no longer necessary to accept such endorsements, for local citizens are giving their testimony and 'tis an easy matter for any reader to investigate the correctness of such evidence as the following:

Mrs. Wm. H. Ludlow, of Jackson avenue, says: "I had backache and a sort of dull pain across my loins for several years. If I sat for any length of time and tried to rise I had a sharp pain in the kidneys. Walking any distance or standing aggravated the difficulty. I could not rest well at night from the fact that I had to be constantly changing about from one position to another trying to free myself from pain. I used quite a number of remedies but got no permanent relief. I was prevailed upon to get Doan's Kidney Pills from L. W. Randolph's drug store. I must say they did me a great deal of good. It is seldom that I feel any pain in my back and when I do a few doses of this remedy never fails to relieve me. I know others who have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

RUINS OF UXMAL.

Many of the Old Aztec Priests Were Skilled in Mechanical Tricks.

"In the fall of 1897 I spent several days examining the ancient ruins of Uxmal, in Yucatan," said a gentleman who was formerly in the consular service to a New Orleans Times-Democrat man, "and during the visit I made a curious little discovery which convinced me that the old Aztec priests were adepts at mechanical trickery. The woods around the main buildings at Uxmal are full of scattered ruins of every description, and at one point I found a singularly perfect column lying in the midst of what appeared to be the debris of a small house or temple.

"I conjectured that the column had probably been the pedestal of some statue or idol which had stood in the center of the edifice and cleared away the underbrush to get a better look at it. It was about five feet long by 1½ feet in diameter and was covered with characteristic carving. When I scraped the top clean of caked dirt I was surprised to find a hole leading into the interior and large enough for me to thrust my thumb. I cut a stick, sounded it and found that the hole reached to a point about a foot from the base. There it connected with another channel running off at an angle and leading to a small opening hidden in the carving of the base.

"While I was probing the interior a beautifully polished circular stone plug, shaped almost exactly like a jug minus the handle, slid out of the lower hole. It was made of flint and remarkably heavy for its size. What could have been its purpose is all guesswork, but the theory that seems to me most plausible is that it was a weight and had once been attached to a cord of thong leading up through the main boring. If there was a figure of some kind on the column, all that smacks pretty strongly of some secret mechanical device, and such is the opinion of several well-posted archaeologists to whom I have described the arrangement.

"The old Egyptian priests had idols that shed tears, rolled their eyes and groaned, and no doubt the Aztecs were up to the same dodge. As far as I know, this perforated pillar was the only one of the kind ever found in Uxmal."

LIVES ON FRUIT AND NUTS.

A Resident of Samoa Who Does Not Miss the Cook Stove Products.

Herbert Ossig has established himself in Samoa among his German fellow countrymen and may remain there, says the Pacific Commercial Advertiser. This young German is an interesting character. No woman has a fairer complexion and a clearer eye than he, and no man of his age has a greater capacity for hard work. He lays it all to his diet. Ossig does not believe in meat eating anywhere, least of all in a tropical climate. Nuts and fruits compose his daily menu, his drinks being distilled water and lemonade. Sometimes he tries the nut pastes and other preparations of a certain sanitarium, but as a rule he confines himself to the raw material.

"I used to eat meat," he said, before leaving for Samoa, "and I liked it. Reading convinced me that I could get more nourishment and fewer earth salts from fruit and nuts, and after sticking to that diet for awhile I got to loathing meat. At the same time my general health improved, my mind was clearer and my muscular vigor seemed to increase. Friends tell me that my complexion soon cleared up.

"The thing to do for the sake of long life and no tormenting ailments is to diminish the amount of earth salts that enters the system. These salts clog the arteries with calcareous deposits and bring on the phenomena of old age. The less calcareous matter the more juvenility. I use distilled water to dissolve such earth salts as my system has already absorbed and carry them away. The pure condensed steam, cooled in full and tightly-corked bottles and drank without much exposure to the air absorbs these foreign substances and they pass off. Look at me and see if you don't think my system the right one."

Certainly Ossig was the picture of health—ruddy, sinewy, elastic of step, bright of eye. Perhaps his hardy German parents had more to do with his looks than have bananas and distilled water, but Ossig says if you think that just try his dietary and note the effect in your own system.

America the Land of Stability.

What other civilized government can boast such continued stability as the United States since the inauguration of our first president? During this period the form of government in France has changed ten times. Germany is but 30 years old. Austria, as a nation, is the outcome of the Hungarian rebellion. Italy is a still later product of popular evolution. Cavour tore down many walls to build one nation. England and Russia are the only great powers which are now identical in structural character with what they were when our republic adopted her constitution.—Albion W. Tourgee, in N. Y. Sun.

A Hawaiian Beverage.

People in Honolulu indulge in a beverage known as "swipes." It is the native beer of Hawaii, and is a dangerous concoction. The principal articles used in its manufacture are sugar, corn, pineapple root and Chinese ginger, bran, Irish potatoes and sliced pineapples. It is fermented after standing four or five days, and then it is ready for use.

STATE GRANGE FOR GROUT BILL.

Oleomargarine Measure Indorsed by Jersey Patrons of Husbandry.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Dec. 6—The State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, met in secret session in the Assembly Chamber yesterday. There were 100 voting members present.

By a unanimous vote, the Grout Oleomargarine bill, which is expected to come up in Congress today, was indorsed. H. M. Bidone was deputized to notify the New Jersey Congressmen of the action of the grangers.

FIRST BILL FROM JERSEY.

Representative Stewart Wants Pension for a Passaic Veteran Now Blind.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Washington, Dec. 6—Representative Stewart is the first New Jersey member of the House to introduce a bill at the present session of Congress, and he has introduced one that he says is to do tardy justice in a worthy case. The bill proposes to grant a pension of $72 per month to Lieut. John H. Doremus, of Passaic, who is totally blind as a result of his Civil War service, and is, therefore, totally dependent.

Col. Dickinson Honored.

President McKinley has sent to the Senate the nomination of Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson, of Jersey City, to be Assistant Collector of Customs at Jersey City, in the District of New York. Colonel Dickinson is prominent among the leaders of the Republican party in Hudson county. The office of Assistant Collector of Customs at Jersey City is practically a sinecure. The appointment is for four years and the salary is $2,000 a year.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Postmasters in the Third District.

Congressman Howell has recommended W. L. Borden for appointment at Shrewsbury, Monmouth county, vice A. H. Borden; Peter N. Kline, for the same position at North Branck depot, Somerset county, vice P. C. Cramer; and Elisha J. Maps, for the same position at Ocean Port, Monmouth county, vice Jacob E. Corliss. Their appointments will follow in a few days.

Special Music by Orchestra.

The meeting at the East Third Street chapel Sunday evening will be of special interest. An orchestra will be present and render special music.

William Newcorn has arranged to visit the Red Men's lodge at Cape May next week Tuesday and on the following Thursday he will go to Paterson.

Sang in Burmese Language.

At the missionary meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening, Miss Carr, a returned missionary from Burmah, gave an interesting talk on the work in that country. One of the features of the evening was the singing in the Burmese language by Miss Carr, Miss Henrietta Cumming and Mrs. W. S. Lowry, while dressed in cosutme, of "A Shelter in the Time of Storm."

Getting Ready for Red Men's Fair.

The joint fair committee from Miantonomo and Wetumka Tribes, I O. R. M., and Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, met last evening and reported progress. It was decided to set Thursday night as "Red Men's Night," and many high officers and visiting lodges will be present. The fair will be held the week commencing December 17th.

Election Officer Burned by Hot Glass.

While several of the election officers in the First district of the First ward were busily engaged counting the votes Tuesday evening, they were startled by the bursting of a large lamp chimney directly above their heads. Fragments of hot glass flew in all directions, one piece striking Michael DeCourcy below the eye, inflicting a severe burn.

Meetings at Reform Hall.

There was a large attendance at the temperance meeting at Reform Hall last evening Tonight Mr. Bonney, a one-armed pianist from Brooklyn, will play and sing, and a quartette from the Grant Glee Club, of North Plainfield, is expected. The meetings will be continued all this week.

Senator Reed Mentioned.

Senator Charles A. Reed, of Somerset county, is mentioned for the Supreme Court vacancy in case the Chief Justice retires. Senator Reed is a close friend of Gov. Voorhees.

Over 1,000 children in Havana are receiving instruction in the Protestant day and Sunday schools. The Roman church, for the first time in its history in Cuba, has established Sunday schools.

Most of the Turkish ministers to the different countries are Christians The present ministers to the United States and England are Greeks and belong to the Greek Catholic church. One Turkish minister, a Christian, served Turkey for 44 consecutive years in London.

The present orthodox church of Russia is divided into 67 eparchies, including one in Alaska and 43 vicarial seats of bishops Russia has now 117 archbishops, including three metropolitans, 67 eparchial vicarial archbishops and 39 bishops. Most Russian hierarchs have attended the seminaries and academies.

The first kindergarten was opened by Froebel in 1837 at Brandenburg, Germany, and 15 years afterward he died. This short period was sufficinet to establish a system of education that has made life different for little children. When the king of Prussia, in 1851, forbade the establishing of kindergartens, the old man died of a broken heart, not dreaming that his life work had been a noble success.

GAGHANITES IN TROUBLE

DISCORD PREVAILED AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING OF FAMOUS ASSOCIATION.

Somebody Tampered With Hart's Extinguisher While the Funds in the Treasury Disappeared.

For the first time in the history of the organization discord prevailed in the Gaghanites' meeting last evening The president had no sooner rapped for order than the members began indulging in remarks of a personal character. Before any routine business had been transacted the muttering became so pronounced that it resembled a miniature stock exchange on a busy day.

The president finally laid all other matters aside and informed the disturbers that if they had any complaints to make he would be glad to hear them singly. Hardly had he spoken than several of the more eager ones sprang to the floor. Conroy was given the preference, and after waving his hand for silence, informed the president that unless certain members stopped talking about him he would withdraw from the association. When asked what the remarks were he declared that at the griddle cake supper furnished by Pat Melvin a few nights since, some one hinted that a few of those present were not members, but simply friends of his gathered for the occasion. On account of this Pat was unable to supply the demand and several charter members went home without getting even one cake as a souvenir. This led to further remarks on their part of the sour grape variety, to Melvin's great indignation. He also, Conroy stated, had threatened to resign and matters were reaching a crisis.

As Conroy finished the president arose and in stern tones declared that no guilty man should escape. At this juncture Charlie Hall, Mike Nevins and Mark Hipp were seen gliding toward the door, but their progress was stopped by Sergeant Totten, who waved them back. While the remaining members were accusing each other of being the ones who made the remarks, Brother Hart hurried up the aisle with his famous extinguisher in his hand and deposited it in full view of every one. In angry tones he demanded to know who it was that had removed the contents therefrom and substituted a composition which strongly resembled "Long Life Bitters." He had the extinguisher at the supper, he said, and several members had sampled the contents with disastrous results. They had placed the blame on him and it was with difficulty that he prevented them from doing him bodily injury.

As Hart concluded, the president demanded to know if anyone could enlighten him as to who had tampered with the extinguisher, but, as on the former occasion everyone denied all knowledge of the affair. Before dropping the subject, however, Aleck Martin ventured the remark that he thought Hart was altogether too fond of the supposed fire can and asked that member to open it for inspection. This Hart refused to do, at the same time placing the can out of sight.

Feiring next arose and stated that he had received a complaining letter from Officer Saunders. One night recently, the letter read, as the officer dropped in the association hall to see that the members were behaving themselves properly, someone placed a Swiss cheese sandwich in his coat pocket. Unconscious of the act Jim was in misery for the rest of the night and only discovered the cause on arriving home in the morning. He had afterward been notified by Inspector Addis to bury the coat, which practically ruined it.

He asked the association to pay him for the loss or he would begin proceedings against it as soon as Feiring was made justice. As the latter finished the letter the members became very indignant and declared that Saunders should have known better than to ask the association for money as there was was none in the treasury. This was a surprise to some and as they were about to ask to what use the dues were put the electric current gave out and their queries were lost in the noise as the members crowded to the door.

A SUCCESSFUL OPERATOR.

B. O. Bowers, Jr., of Franklin Place, is Making an Excellent Reputation for Himself at Cutler, Me.

One of the most successful independant sardine factories in operation this season is situated at Cutler, Me., and owned and managed by B. O. Bowers, Jr., of Plainfield, N. J. This factory was entirely remodelled and many improvements added in the way of machinery this spring. It is estimated that it has produced 30,000 cans of sardines and 2 000 cans of mackerel, which considering the scarcity of fish this season is considered an excellent output. It has also been of great benefit to the people of Cutler as they have had steady work from the later part of May until the present time. Although Mr. Bowers is one of the youngest owners of a sardine factory on the coast he is considered a very able and proficient manager and the success with which this factory has met is due to his personal efforts.—Frontier News and Island Press of Eastport, Me.

EVENING OF SONG HELD AT CASINO.

Fine Programme Given by Excellent Talent in First Subscription Concert at Casino.

SOCIETY WAS PRESENT.

DR. CARL DUFFT WON PARTICULAR FAVOR BY HIS CREDITABLE WORK.

Numbers Were Given by Mrs. Grace W. Dutton, Miss Marguerite Hall, William C. Weeden, Dr. Carl E. Dufft and Bennett Griffin.

So song, like fate itself, is given
To scare the idler thoughts away,
To raise the human to the holy,
To wake the spirit from the clay.
One with the gods, the bard: before him
All things unclean and earthly fly;
Hushed are all meaner powers, and o'er him
The dark fate swoops unharming by;
And while the Soother's magic measures flow,
Smoothed every wrinkle on the brows of woe.
—Schiller.

And indeed every wrinkle was smoothed and every brow relaxed its frown after listening to the superb singing that was provided at the first subscription concert given last evening at the Casino. It was the most artistic performance of its kind that the citizens of Plainfield have had the pleasure of listening to in some time.

The artists who delighted the large number of society people present were Mrs. Grace W. Dutton, soprano; Miss Marguerite Hall, contralto; William C. Weeden, tenor; Dr. Carl E. Dufft, basso. Bennett Griffin, a violinist of ability, also assisted to make the concert a success. Frank J. Smith was the conductor.

The Casino was well filled with the best of the city's society people and the affair was one of the social events of the midwinter season.

Of the artists much could be said in praise but space is not available to particularize. Both Mr. Weeden and Dr. Dufft have voices of wonderful sweetness and great power This is particularly true of Dr. Duff, whose marvelous compass seems to have almost no limit to its range. Mr. Weeden's tenor is pure and of sweet expression while losing none of its richness.

The ladies were in good voice also, particularly Miss Hall, whose strong, though sweet voice fairly captivated the audience. Miss Hall sings with an expression that is pleasing, and her efforts to reach the higher notes were accomplished with perfect ease.

While all the artists did exceptionally well, it is perhaps but fair to say that it was with Dr. Duff that the audience found most favor. His "Gipsy John" was well done and pleased the audience immensely. To an encore that could not be suppressed the doctor favored his friends with "Way Down Upon the Suwanee River."

The concert was pronounced by all to be a grand success from a musical as well as a financial standpoint. Those who wish to listen to a treat should avail themselves of the opportunity of attending the second concert on Thursday, January 10.

The arrangements for the patrons of the concert were never as well looked after, a fact that was much appreciated particularly by the ladies. Credit for this is due Albert H. Atterbury, who has been indefatigable in his efforts to make the concert a success from the minutest detail.

The patronesses were:

Mrs. Charles F. Abbott, Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman, Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury, Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs Howard W. Beebe, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mrs. John Bushnell, Mrs. George A. Chapman, Mrs. Martin I Cooley, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Daniel F. Ginna, Mrs. John F. Harman, Mrs. Ellis W. Hedges, Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. William T. Kaufman, Miss Kenyon, Mrs. William E. Lowe, Mrs. Chas. W. McCutchen, Mrs. S. St. J McCutchen, Mrs. Jose A. Machado, Mrs. Frederick G. HAD TO CLOSE SCHOOL.

Accident to Boiler at Bryant Public School Building Caused One Session Yesterday.

The teachers and pupils were obliged to abandon the Bryant Public School at noon yesterday on account of a break in the section of the boiler which heats the building. The break occurred in a section of the boiler between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning, allowing the water to run out. "Steve" Hope, the efficient janitor, by hard work managed to keep the building warm until noon, when school had to be closed. He kept water in the boiler with great difficulty, and by the noon hour the work was so hard and tedious that he had to give it up. The break was repaired yesterday afternoon. This is the first break in this boiler since it was installed fifteen years ago.

SALE AT ALL SOULS.

FIRST AFTERNOON AND EVENING WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL.

Affair Will Be Continued Today—A Great Variety of Articles Prettily Displayed.

A two days' sale of fancy and useful articles, home-made candy, etc., commenced yesterday afternoon at All Souls church, on Park avenue. During the first afternoon and evening of the affair the attendance was large and very satisfactory to the women of the church who are in charge. The Sunday-school room, where the sale is being held, has been transformed into an attractive place, with decorations of evergreen, flowers, etc. Booths and tables have been arranged about the room and upon each are to be found articles both useful and fancy.

As one enters the room there is to be seen the candy table, where everything in the line of toothsome sweets are on sale. Those in charge are Mrs. R. C. Leonard, Miss Leonard, Mrs Starkweather, Mrs. M. H. Evart, Miss A. Haviland, Miss M. B. McMaster and Miss Alice Thompson. To the right of the candy table is the art booth. There are very many beautiful works of art displayed, both costly and at moderate prices. Those presiding here are Miss C. Haviland, Mrs. E. H Conklin, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Miss Conklin, Miss Hall, Miss Clement, Miss Walker, Mrs. Nichol and Miss Nichol.

On the opposite side of the room is a long table devoted to a display of useful and fancy articles. This is in the form of a booth, with an attractive covering of evergreen. There are lots of pretty things on sale and something to suit the need of everyone. Those presiding are Mrs. J. O Osgood, Mrs. W. F. Adams, Mrs. Stephen Haff, Mrs. Gates Willard, Mrs. J. F. Buckle, Mrs. C. Draper, Mrs. R. I. Tolles, the Misses Osgood.

There is also a package table, where a variety of things are to be found Those in charge include Mrs. C. Ryder, Mrs. E. H. Mumford, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. H. Durar, Mrs. L B. Woolston, Mrs. C. T. Collins, Miss Reynolds, Miss Willard, Miss Baron, Mrs. Harker.

One of the important features last evening was the substantial supper served from 6:30 to 8 o'clock. The menu was complete in every particular and the women in charge, including Mrs. H. A. Wells, Miss May Wells, Mrs. A. C. Nickerson, Mrs. P. VanR. Van Wyck, Mrs. Charles L. Brownell, Miss Pierce, Miss Bessie Taylor and Miss Haff, worked faithfully to please the many patrons.

An additional feature of the affair is paper cosmos. This is very attractive and finds ready sale. The sale will continue this afternoon and evening and no doubt will be largely attended. The proceeds will be devoted to church work.

Power Gave Out.

Traffic on the local street railway and on the through line as far as Westfield was entirely suspended for two hours this morning, owing to the burning out of a dynamo at the Plainfield power house. The accident occured at 5:45 o'clock, compelling scores of workman to walk instead of riding, many of them being late in consequence. The waiting room at the North avenue terminus was besieged by an anxious crowd during the entire blockade. It was nearly 8 o'clock before the dynamo was repaired and the power restored.

Serenaded Fellow Employe.

A number of the young men from Woodhull & Martin's serenaded their fellow employe, P. Lindsley and wife, who have recently been married, at their residence on Somerset street last night, after which refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening spent.

FISK JUBILEE SINGERS.

GAVE A CONCERT AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Sang Some Familiar Plantation Melodies Which Found Much Favor With a Large Audience.

The First Presbyterian church was filled almost to its capacity last evening with an appreciative audience that gathered to hear the Fisk Jubilee Singers of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. They are the successors to the original jubilee singers who travelled extensively and created such a favorable impression, Those who sang last evening are certainly worthy successors and they gave a concert which was highly enjoyable. Everyone of the singers had a cultivated voice, rich and sweet in melody. The various selections were given in fine style and called for hearty applause.

During the evening the male quartette sang "My Old Kentucky Home," which was very effective. Four of the women singers gave "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," and this elicited hearty applause. Then a trio of women gave "Lift Thine Eyes" in a finished and enjoyable manner.

The programme included some familiar plantation songs and these found favor with the audience. During the intermission, Rev. J. G. Merrill, D. D., dean of Fisk University, who accompanies the singers, made a few remarks telling of the various needs of the University. He recited briefly some of the excellent results, how some of the graduates are now holding responsible positions as teachers, physicians, lawyers, etc., and he urged a liberal response from all.

Following the short talk the singers gave part second of the programme, which was fully as enjoyable as the first part. The collection taken for the University amounted to $52 85. The singers included four men and five women. They were all bright intelligent looking persons and everyone was convinced that they were first class musical artists.

SHEPARD-BRIGHT WEDDING.

One of the Largest Weddings Seen in Plainfield for Many Years Will Take Place Tomorrow.

One of the largest and most elaborate weddings, which Plainfield society has witnessed for a long time, will take place in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon. At that time, Miss Joanna Hayes Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard, of the "Gables," Fanwood, will be wedded to Osborn Wyckoff Bright, of New York. The ceremony will take place at 3 o'clock and will be witnessed by a fashionable audience, including those prominent in New York and Plainfield society The bride has been prominent in local society circles, and her marriage and the reception following will be one of the chief events of the month.

The bridal party will be large and all the fair young women in attendance on Miss Shepard will be beautifully gowned. Mrs. John Doull Miller, a sister of the bride, will be the matron of honor. The bridesmaids, six in number, will be Miss Edith Smalley, of Netherwood, Miss Edith Hyde, of East Front street, Miss Eleanor Russell, Miss Una Soly, Miss Sarah Thompson and Miss Esther Hoppin, of New York. The best man will be Mr. Burrill Hamilton Shepard, a brother of the bride, and the ushers will be Arthur Pemberton Sturges, Robert Varnum, George Blagden, Jr., Prescott Slade, of New York; Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., and Rutherford Mead Shepard, brothers of the bride.

IMPROVEMENTS AT BONN'S.

An Addition Made to His Store Which Greatly Improves His Facilities.

Plainfield is fortunate in having a strictly up-to-date millinery store, such as the one conducted by H. A. Bonn, of West Front street. Recently, Mr. Bonn increased his facilities, thereby adding to the convenience and comfort of his patrons. He has added a fitting room in the rear of his store, which consists of large airy and light room 25x23 and additional cabinets in which to keep his stock of hats. This room, as well as the other parts of the store, is brilliantly lighted, and on all sides are to be found large mirrors. The room is handsomely furnished with a carpeted floor and attractive drapings. There is a pleasing privacy about the room and many Plainfield women have already found it a desirable place to secure their new hats and have them fashioned to suit their taste and style.

Improving Railroad Property.

PARK CLUB LOST TWO TO CRANFORD

Series of Three Games in Daily Press Bowling League Rolled On Park Club Alleys

WON BY SIX PINS.

TWO OF THE THREE GAMES WERE HOTLY CONTESTED.

William R. Faber Made Best Showing of New Men on Park Club Team—Ball and Van Buren Rolled Well.

Two out of the three games were lost to the Cranford Casino by the bowling team of the Park Club in their first match in the Daily Press Bowling League, rolled on the Park Club alleys last evening. Two of the three games were closely fought from start to finish and roused no end of enthusiasm among the bowling enthusiasts of the Park Club.

While the Cranford Casino sent five of their old and experienced bowlers to take part in the matches, the team of the Park Club included three men who were new to tournament games William R. Faber proved to be an excellent bowler. In the second game he fell off but was high man for the Parks in the other two. Allan B. Laing, who is captain this year, rolled a steady game. Ralph Willis was off the form he has been showing at the club and H. D. Hibbard took his place in the last of the series. Fred O Ball and Laurens H VanBuren rolled strong steady games

After a weak opening in the first game, the Parks took the lead and were 66 to the good in the fifth. Ball had four strikes and Faber was rolling better than a 200 game. As the games progressed, the home team began to weaken but a brace on the windup saved the game for the Parks by just six pins, 781 to 775

The second game saw the visitors start out in a winning frame of mind. A spasmodic effort by the Park bowlers to save the game reduced the visitors' lead a trifle, but the Cranfordites had no trouble in winning by 68 pins. Willis and Faber were both way off their usual games.

Both teams were anxious to win the final game and started out with that intent. Something troubled the Cranford team for the first five frames and they kept behind. Bates completely collapsed breaking five times in succession. Barry came to their rescue with four successive strikes, and they began to crawl up as the end approached. Two clean frames landed the visitors in the lead by twelve pins in the seventh. The Parks made a final brace and were within one pin of them on the ninth, but the wind-up of the home team was woefully weak and they lost the game by twenty pins. Everybody broke but Faber who made a strike.

The scores:

PARK CLUB.

	1st game.	2d game.	3d game
Ball	172	158	157
Willis	106	114

Surprised Mr. and Mrs. Winn.

The many friends of Frank Winn, of Regent street, tendered him a surprise at his home last evening. There was a large attendance and the affair was a complete surprise for the young host and his wife. Naylor's orchestra supplied music for dancing. Refreshments were also served. The committee of arrangements consisted of Fred Bock and Harry Winn.

To Prevent Accident.

The contractors in erecting the new railroad station made a wise provision in putting the slate roof on. On both sides of the roof there are rows of small spikes which will prevent snow and ice from falling off and thereby possibly injuring someone. Many have wondered what they were for.

Thatcher Will Play.

A first-class minstrel company, with George Thatcher as one of the stars, has been organized to play in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, during Christmas week. No doubt many of George's friends will accept the opportunity to see their old time favorite.

No School Today.

No sessions were held in the public school today, owing to the Teachers' Institute being held at Elizabeth. All public school teachers in the city are in attendance, The institute will be continued tomorrow.

SERVICES AT OLD HOME

MANY GATHERED AT PENN'S NECK IN MEMORY OF EX-CHIEF GRANT.

Services Held in Church of Which Departed One Was a Member—Loving Words by Rev. Dr. Yerkes.

Yesterday afternoon at one o'clock at Penn's Neck, were held the final services over the remains of the late George W. Grant, of this city. The church was well filled with relatives and friends who had known Mr. Grant from his youth and felt the greatest love and respect for him.

The church, from which the services were held, was the one with which Mr. Grant united on his twentieth birthday, and attended for many years after. He was well known in that part of the country, and, as a young man was esteemed and held a high place in the opinion of his friends.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes accompanied the family to Penn's Neck. His sermon was most beautiful and comforting. He held out to the bereaved ones that death could not sever the ties of any family whose trust was in the Lord and of the simply trust and faith that Mr. Grant had in God. In speaking to the people of Penn's Neck of Mr. Grant, he said in substance, that among all Plainfield people he was esteemed, that his intregrity was of the highest order and he had never been known to be otherwise than upright in all his dealings and kindly toward all men.

In speaking to the family, he assured them that they had the beautiful hope of meeting their loved one in Heaven The singing was in charge of the church choir. Rev. Dr. Yerkes was assisted by Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Penn's Neck.

Mr. Grant was laid to rest beside the bodies of his two little daughters who died a number of years ago.

SHOT A BURGLAR.

Storekeeper Davis Gave Warm Welcome to Stranger Who Was Entering His Store This Morning

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Market, December 7.—An attempt to burglarize the grocery store of W. J. Davis, at this place, about 4 o'clock this morning was frustrated by the proprietor, who shot the burglar as he was entering through a rear window.

Mr. Davis' residence adjoins the store and projects beyond it in the rear. He was awakened by an unusual noise, and going to the window discovered some one at the back of the grocery. Hastily siezing a gun he went to the cellar of the residence where he was enabled to enter the store through a connecting door.

The burglar was just entering a window when Mr. Davis took aim and fired. The shot evidently struck the man for he hastily withdrew, at the same time giving a scream of pain. Mr. Davis hurried to the rear of the store but the burglar had disappeared in the darkness. He was with a companion.

Robberies of a petty character have been quite frequent in the village of late and the residents have become convinced that the only remedy is to shoot anyone detected in the act.

Crayon Portraits Free.

In their advertisement today Woodhull and Martin call attention to the life size portraits they are giving to every purchase of one dollar. These reproductions on canvass or card board are the work of first class artists, and not the ordinary style turned out with this class of advertising. They invite the public to inspect the work being done on the main floor of their big store.

Died From Pneumonia.

Miss Maggie Laurch, daughter of the late Gotfried Laurch, of South Sterling, died last night, after a brief illness, aged 14 years. The funeral, which is in charge of Undertaker DeMott, will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Laurch had been ill about a week with pneumonia.

Will be Appealed.

Justice Smalley gave his decision yesterday in the case in tort of McGann against Fugman, wherein the plaintiff sued for the right to cut hay on the Cory farm. The plaintiff represented by Murphy & Blatz was given $20 and costs. The case will probably be appealed.

In Justice Mattison's Court.

STORE BURNED

Disastrous Fire at White House Yesterday—John B. Davis' Store Destroyed.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Somerville, December 7.—The store building and contents of John B Davis, at White House Station, was totally destroyed by fire early yesterday morning The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock, and as it was behind the stove, it is supposed that an over heated stove set fire to the wood work. There is no fire department in the place and so a bucket brigade was formed to save Mr. Davis' dwelling, adjoining the store, which effort was successful. The house was afire several times and the goods were all removed, but by hard work it was saved. The building and contents were fully insured.

TEACHERS INSTRUCTED.

CLOSING SESSION OF SOMERSET COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Most Profitable and Instructive One Ever Held in Somerset—Met at Bound Brook Three Days.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Dec. 7.—The most profitable and interesting session of the Teachers' Institue ever held in Somerset county closed here at noon today. The instructors were W.B. Powell, formerly superintendent of schools of Washington, D C.; Miss Janette Trowbridge and Miss Lillie Williams, of the State Normal School; Dr. Edward Howard Griggs, of Brooklyn, N. Y; Miss Louise Connolly and Dr. C.C. Rounds, of New York City.

Miss Trowbridge's talk on "School Room Games," was both interesting and valuable. Charming, magnetic and inspiring were some of the words heard in reference to Dr. Griggs' three talks. Miss Connolly's name is a synonym for close attention and merriment, interspersed with home thrusts at vital points in school methods.

The whole programme showed the keen interest an sound judgment of the State Superintendent, C. J. Baxter, of Plainfield. Mr Baxter was present at two sessions of the institute to judge for himself of the merits of the instructors. The teachers feel that Mr. Baxter is doing what has never before been done in order to make the institute the means of elevating the teachers and of keeping them in touch with the best educational thought of the times.

SET FIRE BY TRAMPS

Such is Supposed to be the Cause of Conflagration at Liberty Corners.

The large barn of James H. Pope, at Liberty Corners, was totally destroyed by fire early last Tuesday morning. Mr. Pope was awakened about 3 o'clock by the barking of his dog. When he reached the barn all hope of saving the structure was beyond question. Mr. Pope thinks the barn was set on fire by tramps as the front door was seen to be wide open when he ran out His loss will reach several hundred dollars. Two cows, a quantity of farm implements and his entire crops were destroyed. There was no insurance on the property. Mr. Pope is a brother of Eugene Pope, of the borough.

May Lose His Sight.

J. F. Lightfoot, of Downer street, Westfield, is at Muhlenberg Hospital being treated for an injury which he received while chopping wood at his home Monday. Mr. Lightfoot, who is over seventy years of age, was at work when a piece of wood flew up and hit him in the eye, making a very dangerous and painful wound. It is thought that the sight of the eye may be destroyed. He is the father of Grand Regent Lightfoot, of the Royal Arcanum.

To Practice Basket Ball.

The candidates for the basket ball team of the Fanwood Athletic Club will meet at the Fanwood clubhouse tomorrow evening for practice. It is expected that fifteen candidates from this city and Fanwood will try for the team. A meeting of the club will be held at the same time to arrange details for the season's play and the securing of games. A manager and captain will soon be elected.

Will Support Clark for Senator.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, Dec. 7.—The Democratic Assemblymen of Hudson county held a caucus here last night and decided to nominate Alvah H. Clark, of Somerset, for United States Senator, and George G. Tennant for Speaker. Maurice Marks was selected as the party leader.

New Station to be Completed Soon.

The contractors on the new railroad station hope to complete their work about the first of the year. The work is now progressing favorably.

CENTRAL WILL BUILD NEW SHOPS AT ONCE

Elizabeth Journal is Authority For Statement That Contracts Have Been Awarded.

WILL BE AT ELIZABETHPORT.

SHOPS WILL BE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE IN THE COUNTRY.

New Management of Jersey Central Railroad Has Had Proposed Improvement Under Consideration For Some Time.

Nearly a year ago The Daily Press told of the plans of the new management of the Jersey Central Railroad to establish completely equipped shops at Elizabethport. These plans have been under consideration for some time but the Elizabeth Journal is authority for the statement that the contracts for the projected railroad shops had been awarded and that work will be started the first of the year.

According to The Journal $500 000 will be expended in the construction of the plant. A Staten Island contractor has secured the contract for grading and filling in the grounds, and he will begin the work immediately.

The contracts for the buildings have been awarded to a Mr. Hill, and the material is already under shipment, so that the work will be begun with the new year.

For a number of years the Central Railroad Company has been without the necessary capacity and facilities at its main repair shops in Elizabeth, and since the fire, which so nearly destroyed the plant, the inconvenience and hindrances have been more manifest. The structures now used are inadequate and temporary in character, The total number of employes in all the different departments comprising the shops in Elizabeth is over 700.

The new plant will cover a very large area, and the buildings will include an immense roundhouse, machine shops, car building departments, etc., and it is reported the general locomotive and car repairing for the road, some of which is done in branch shops, will be concentrated and the work all done in the new shops. The working force will probably be very greatly increased.

GRANT'S SUCCESSOR.

A New Doorman Will Have to be Appointed — Will Probably be McCue or Flanagan.

The death of the late Captain George W. Grant leaves vacant the position of doorman at police headquarters. Since Patrick Kiely was placed at the head of the police department the position of doorman was filled by Officer Grant. The vacancy will probably not be filled before the newly elected municipal administration assumes office. It is quite probable that the position will be given to either Patrolman McCue or Patrolman Flanagan, the oldest officers on the force. It is understood that Constable John Gjettelsen is a candidate for the place.

Red Men Entertained.

After the usual meeting last evening, during which three candidates were adopted and five elected, Wetumpkah Tribe of Red Men enjoyed one of its pleasing informal entertainments. Refreshments and cigars were passed and while they were being enjoyed, the members listened to a musical programme consisting of songs by the Clark brothers, piano solos by Marcus Hoyt, and harmonica solos by Frank Wintry. John Adelman was also present and gave his specialty in his usual excellent manner.

Dinner to Bridal Party.

Miss Joanna Hayes Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, who is to be married tomorrow afternoon at the Crescent Avenue church to Osborn Wyckoff Bright, of New York city, tendered a reception and dinner last evening at the home of her parents, "The Gables," at Fanwood, to the bridemaids and ushers and a few friends. The dinner was at 7:30. Covers were laid for twenty-two.

German Mission for Garwood.

Rev. William Trebert, of Plainfield, will conduct a meeting in the German language at the school house at Garwood Sunday afternoon. It is proposed to establish a German Mission at that place and the Germans of Westfield, Cranford and Garwood are invited to join in the movement.

In Justice Weaver's Court.

The contract case of Clark against Whitlock will be tried this afternoon before Justice Weaver at South Plainfield. William Newcorn will represent the plaintiff.

Old Nick Van Stan, that happy man
Who lived in Holland years ago,
(And lives there yet), walked down the street
In search of something good to eat;
And this is what he chanced to meet
Hung on a Tavern:—"Eet H-O."

It promised much—because his Dutch
The simple legend did not know;
For things we cannot understand
Appear proportionately grand,
Therefore he entered quickly, and
Inquired the meaning of H-O.

Within, the Host who liked it most
To fill his guests with genial glow,
The tid bit brought to Nick Van Stan;
And when to eat it he began
He shouted: "Donner Blitzen, man!
Oxceeding goot ish dot H-O."

And Nick Van Stan—that happy man
Enjoyed the toothsome porridge so
That he informed his host with zest
That he would let the mortgage rest
Provided—when he was a guest—
They'd serve him always with H-O.

In Holland
or any other country,
H-O (Hornby's Steam Cooked Oatmeal) is conceded by all to be the most nutritious and palatable oat food.
Its excellence is particularly demonstrated in cases of invalids or children when capricious appetites must be catered to—
as well as in every-day eating.

It is called H-O (Havermout) in the Netherlands.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

There's lots of different kinds of "fun." There is the quiet fun, the "laugh in the sleeve" sort of fun, the fun that merely causes a smile to arise and melt away within itself again, a fun that never makes its appearance, a sandfly kind of fun that exists for a moment then drops into nothing, not even a recollection. And then there is the loud fun, the fun that holdeth "both sides," leaps, bounds, spurts and gallops, a roaring clattering fun, a fun of loud acclaim and boisterousness. The one is fun of literature, the other fun of the stage, the farce-comedy as its agent. The fun of "Who is Who," the offering at Music Hall tomorrow afternoon and night, is of the latter kind. It is the American fun of exaggeration, dash and repartee, with a genuine side-slap of human nature now-and-then to serve as a garnishment to the dish. The company this season is said to be the strongest that has yet appeared in this amusing farce, and it is headed by those funny comedians Charles A. Loder and Paul Bordman, and they are supported by a coterie of high class vaudeville stars introducing many new and up-to-date specialties, and a thoroughly competent company of comedians and pretty girls. Usual prices prevail at the matinee tomorrow.

The scenes of "The Village Postmaster," which will be at Music Hall, on Wednesday of next week are laid in a quiet New Hampshire town in 1852 The characters are those which can be found in any New England town today. The best part of "The Postmaster," that wins the audience affords it unusual enjoyment and makes it depart with a feeling that it can return again for more, cannot be described. The audience just sits and laughs and admires and enjoys itself hugely at the succession of picturesque surprises that are reeled off Simplicity and realism are the crowning features of the production, which abounds in humor, with just sufficient pathos to heighten, by contrast, the effect. Archie Boyd appears in the title role, and Miss Angela Russell is the postmaster's daughter, Miranda.

In "The Christian" which is the attraction at Music Hall Saturday of next week, Glory Quayle is said to appear in the play exactly as represented in the book. In the story John Storm is a conversational character, a personage whose attibutes as described by the author present him in the light of a religious fanatic. Holding in mind that people go to the theatre to be amused and not to be preached at behind the foot lights, Mr. Caine relieved the stage John Storm of his pronounced religious characteristics, and presents him as noble, self-sacrificing men, the love existing between Glory Quayle and him, forming the central motive of the dramatic story Yet the changes made in the character of Storm and in the general construction of the play itself, is is said, do not disappoint the reader of the book, who may go to the theatre only to see the characters translated by the stage.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gull stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For Sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

AT THE HAGUE.

Former President Kruger Welcomed by the Dutch.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 7.—Mr. Kruger arrived here yesterday afternoon. He was conducted from the train to the royal waiting room, where he was received by the municipal councilors. Afterward he drove to the Hotel des Indes. The reception accorded to him was very enthusiastic. The crowds remained long in front of the hotel cheering and singing. Finally Mr. Kruger appeared on the balcony, where he remained for a few minutes. He then retired and was not seen again. After dining privately with his grandson, Mr. Eloff, he went early to bed, being greatly fatigued. Beautiful floral offerings were displayed in the hall of the hotel.

The address after a long eulogy of the heroism of the Boers proceeded to liken Mr. Kruger to William the Silent, who sacrificed everything for the welfare of his people.

Kruger's Faith Unshaken.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Daily Mail publishes the following from its correspondent at The Hague: "When I asked Mr. Kruger whether he would renew his request to Emperor William to offer arbitration, he replied: 'Yes; but my faith remains in the King of Kings. South Africa will yet save itself.'"

Eagan Restored and Retired.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Brigadier General Charles P. Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, who has been under suspension since Feb. 9, 1899, by sentence of court martial for alleged intemperate and abusive language concerning Lieutenant General Miles in connection with the army beef investigation, has been restored to duty and immediately afterward was placed on the retired list of the army. The story is told in two special orders which were bulletined at the war department yesterday afternoon. They are issued by command of Lieutenant General Miles, commanding the army. The vacancy thus created will enable the president to carry out his purpose of appointing Colonel John F. Weston, assistant commissary general of subsistence, to be commissary general.

Presbyterian Creed Revision.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The committee of 16 ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian church, now in session here for the purpose of agreeing on some recommendation to be made to the next general assembly on the revision of the confession of faith, made material progress yesterday. Action was taken by a subcommittee of five, which provides for a vote today by the full body on each of five propositions contemplating some change or revision in the confessional. One of these, it is expected, will be adopted, thus bringing the question before the general assembly in May.

Whitney Offers to Introduce Moose.

ALBANY, Dec. 7.—At the regular monthly meeting of the forest, fish and game commission a communication was received from Mr. William C. Whitney of New York expressing a lively interest in the proposition to introduce moose into the Adirondack forest and offering to render any assistance possible to secure a successful result. Mr. Whitney advised the commission that he would very much like to see elk also introduced into the forest and offered to give a number of these animals to the state for the purpose of beginning the experiment.

New Place For W. J. Youngs.

ALBANY, Dec. 7.—It is a current rumor about the capitol that William J. Youngs, secretary to the governor, will be appointed pardon and requisition clerk by Governor Elect Odell. The position at present is held by Judge John T. Joyce of Buffalo, who has served in that capacity for a number of years. The salary attached is $3,000.

Locomotive Works Sold.

ROME, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The Compressed Air company has acquired possession of the locomotive works here, which will be filled with new machinery for the manufacture of Hardie compressed air motors. It is believed the Central Railroad company figures in the deal, by which a large number of hands will be given employment.

Odell Would Cut Tax Rate.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Governor Elect Odell told Moses de Costa and Herman Grossman of the Central Federation of Labor that he was against increasing the number of factory inspectors and that his first concern after becoming governor would be to reduce the state tax rate instead of to increase it.

Snow In the Catskills.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The first heavy snowfall of the season has occurred in the Catskills, and the mountains are covered to a depth of over a foot. Tannersville and Hunter are enjoying their first sleighing.

AFRIKANDERS MEET.

Six Thousand Take Part In the Worcester Congress.

BRITISH TROOPS SURROUND TOWN.

Resolutions Demand Termination of War, Censure Sir Alfred Milner and Pledge Constitutional Effort to Attain Desired Ends.

WORCESTER, Cape Colony, Dec. 7.—About 6,000 Dutchmen assembled in the open air at the Gum Tree plantation, on the edge of the town, to take part in the Afrikander congress. Horsemen from a radius of 60 miles had been riding in all night.

Mr. S. C. Cronwright-Schreiner made a speech in which he attacked Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner and governor of Cape Colony, saying there would be no peace while he was governor.

Mr. J. W. Sauer, the former commissioner of public works, is expected to speak and guide the congress' conclusions, among which will be to select a large deputation to visit Sir Alfred Milner and urge him to advise a cessation of hostilities and give autonomy to the republics.

More troops have arrived here. Some 1,500 Canadians and Australians are camped around the town, and ten guns are in position.

After a number of violent speeches—the speakers, however, repudiating all idea of rebellion and keeping within stricter limits than had been anticipated—three resolutions were carried by acclamation, and a delegation was appointed to submit them to Sir Alfred Milner.

The first resolution demands the termination of the war, with its untold misery, protests against the devastation of the country and the burning of farms, which "will leave a lasting heritage of bitterness," and declares that the independence of the republics will alone insure peace in South Africa.

The second urges the right of the colony to manage its own affairs and censures the policy of Sir Alfred Milner.

The third pledges the congress to "labor in a constitutional way" to attain the ends defined in the two preceding resolutions and directs that they be sent to Sir Alfred Milner for submission to the imperial government.

The congress, which, it is claimed, represented 120,000 Afrikanders, has been closed, numbers of the members leaving town immediately.

BRITISH LOSE AGAIN.

Boers Attack a Convoy and Kill Fifteen Men.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The war office has received a dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Bloemfontein, Dec. 6, announcing that General Delarey, with 500 Boers, attacked a convoy proceeding from Pretoria to Rustenburg at Buffelspoert Dec. 3, burned half the convoy and killed 15 men and wounded 23, including Lieutenant Baker. The Boers, the dispatch adds, suffered considerable loss, some of them being killed with case shot at 50 yards. Guns and assistance were sent from Rustenburg and Commando Nek, and the Boers were driven off.

The advices also say General De Wet crossed the Caledon Dec. 5 at Kareepont Drift, making for Odendal. General Knox was following him, the drift was held by a detachment of the guards, and the river was flooded.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: "In connection with the forthcoming Afrikander congress at Worcester the Dutch residents of Cape Colony are incensed at the dispatch of British troops to that place. They are particularly angry over the posting of guns on hills which command the place where the meeting is to be held."

A blue book of the South African dispatches from Jan. 3 to Oct. 24 has been issued. It largely concerns the Cape Colony rebels and martial law. The conclusion to be drawn from the mass of documents is the eagerness of the Cape Dutch to take up arms and especially the willingness of the border Dutch to join the invaders without compulsion.

Mayor Harrison Revokes Licenses.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Mayor Harrison has issued an order revoking the licenses of 14 notorious saloons in the business portion of the city. The places were not closed, but their right to sell intoxicating liquor was taken away. All of them were open last night, but the habitues of the places were forced to be content with cider, sarsaparilla and kindred beverages. It was said unofficially that the liquor licenses of 42 places will be revoked within the next 24 hours. The action of the mayor is due to the crusade against vice which has been waged by committees of citizens against saloons conducted as resorts for courtesans.

Raines Urges State Police.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Senator John Raines is here to urge Senator Platt and Governor Elect Odell to insist on the introduction and passage of a state police bill to take in all the cities of the state. He said: "I am convinced that after a trial of about two years such a law would give entire satisfaction to two-thirds of the people who most vociferously object to it at the present time. There was a great deal of objection to the Raines law when it was introduced, but it seems to suit a majority of people now."

Colored Pastor Under Bonds.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Dec. 7.—Rev. C. H. Mathews, pastor of the colored church at Romney, W. Va., is held under $800 bonds for shooting William Alexander, the 18-year-old son of Albert Alexander, also colored, in the arm. The lad was with a number of other boys who were blowing horns and making noise around the minister's house in repetition of a Holloween frolic, which annoyed the minister very much. The wound is a serious one.

Montana's Official Canvass.

HELENA, Mon., Dec. 7.—William J. Bryan carried the state of Montana by a plurality of 11,665, as shown by the official canvass of the vote of the state, just completed. Four years ago Bryan carried Montana by 32,043. The Social Democratic ticket received 708 votes, the Prohibition 298 and Social Labor 116.

South Dakota's Vote.

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 7.—The total vote of the state is shown by the official canvass to be: McKinley, 54,530; Bryan, 39,544; Woolley, 1,542; Barker, 339; Debs, 169.

A STORMY OPENING

Victoria's Fifteenth Parliament In Session.

A FIERCE ATTACK ON CHAMBERLAIN

English Liberals Bitterly Criticise the Government's South African Policy—The Queen's Speech the Shortest on Record.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The fifteenth parliament of the reign of Queen Victoria opened yesterday. Before the lights went out in the ancient chambers almost every leading politician had spoken. Such fierce personal animosity and such bitter invective had scarcely ever before marked proceedings at Westminster.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, was the center of the storm. The policy of the empire regarding South Africa and China, the action of the government in causing a dissolution when it did, the conduct of the war against the Boers and, in fact, all the questions vitally affecting the empire were gravely discussed and explained, but dominating all was the opposition's hatred of the colonial secretary. From Lord Rosebery's veiled allusions in the house of lords when he assumed what many took to be the practical leadership of the Liberal party to the outspoken comment in the house of commons criticism of Mr. Chamberlain permeated almost every utterance from the Liberal benches. For hours this target of satire and abuse sat with his arms clasped around his gaiters, his head on one side, listening intently, unmoved by groans or cheers. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman shook his notes in Mr. Chamberlain's face and declared that a man who published private letters for political purposes (referring to the Clark-Ellis correspondence) would be excluded from the society of all honorable men and ostracized for life had he resorted to such action as a private individual.

Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, referring to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's suave regrets at the departure of Mr. George J. Goschen and Sir Matthew White Ridley from the front bench, said he believed that Sir Henry was so generous that he would even find good in Mr. Chamberlain should the latter be removed to another sphere. A Liberal shouted, "We draw the line somewhere," and both sides of the house roared with laughter.

Once Mr. Chamberlain interrupted and leaped to his feet. A thrill went through the house. "It is not so," he declared and proceeded to deny the allegation that he had said that any seat lost to the government during the recent election was one sold to the Boers.

It was nearly 11 before he rose to reply to the avalanche of attacks launched against him. How great a strain he had undergone was evident in the scarcely suppressed excitement of tone on the part of one rarely known to show feeling in the house.

He denied that he had ever accused Mr. Ellis of being a traitor. He denied also that he had decried any accusations against his own personal integrity. He declared that the special purpose of the meeting of parliament had been forgotten in an attack upon himself. Irritated beyond control by frequent interruptions and disturbances, he called one of the Liberals, amid excitement, a "cad."

The speaker called him to order, and Mr. Chamberlain withdrew the epithet, apologizing for its use. After defending the publication of the Ellis correspondence, he was cut off by the midnight adjournment.

Today the opposition will move an amendment to the address, setting forth grounds for an early announcement of the government's policy.

Among the other leading features of the opening session, in which the Liberal benches were so sparsely filled and the government's side so packed that there was no room for a vast majority, was Mr. Balfour's announcement that no member of the cabinet had ever said that he had even dreamed the Boer republics would remain permanently under the crown colony form of government.

"That restricted phase of liberty," declared Mr. Balfour, "will only be necessary as a temporary expedient."

After expressing in earnest tones the hearty desire of the government to cooperate with the opposition in doing anything to bring about a cessation of hostilities, Mr. Balfour said he realized deeply the terrible danger of embittering the Dutch in South Africa.

While Mr. Balfour was in the middle of a solemn declaration that the government would endeavor to temper necessity with mercy in dealing with a brave enemy a Liberal called out, "It would be better for the Boers to be dead than the English."

The queen's speech which was read in parliament was the shortest on record. It was as follows:

"My Lords and Gentlemen—It having become necessary to make further provision for the expenses of the operations of my armies in South Africa and China, I summoned you to hold a special session in order that you may give your sanction to the enactments required for this purpose. You will not enter on the discussion of other public matters requiring your attention until the ordinary meeting of parliament next spring."

Belgians Buy Swedish Mines.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A Belgian syndicate with a capital of £2,000,000, has purchased in Sweden, according to the Copenhagen correspondent of The Daily Express, 30 copper and lead mines.

ANOTHER EDICT.

General Tung Fu Hsiang Dishonored, but Retains His Army.

PEKING, Dec. 7.—Li Hung Chang received an imperial edict announcing that General Tung Fu Hsiang had been stripped of all his honors and offices, but allowed to retain the command of his army and had been ordered to Kansu province with 5,000 of his men.

This is the most important decree that has yet been issued by the court. It has been explained in these dispatches that since the flight of the court from Peking the empress dowager and Emperor Kwang Su have been absolutely in the power of Tung Fu Hsiang. He commanded the army which surrounded the court, and these troops were the only ones at the command of the empress dowager and the emperor. Hence if Tung Fu Hsiang said that they could not return to Peking they had no redress, assuming that they were willing to come back to the capital.

In their original proposition the ministers demanded the head of Tung Fu Hsiang, but under the circumstances it was impossible for the court to agree to this.

It is probable that there will be considerable trouble over the severity of the punishment of Chinese officers demanded by the ministers. This is the point which has so far delayed the opening of the peace negotiations.

The action of the court in regard to Tung Fu Hsiang improves the chances of the return of the empress dowager and the emperor to Peking, but to what extent it is impossible to say at this time.

Dispatches were received here confirming officially the statement made in these dispatches on Dec. 1 that the empress dowager was willing to inflict the death penalty on Yu Hsien, the notorious anti-foreign governor of Shansi, who was responsible for the massacre of missionaries and native Christians in that province. In a previous edict it had been decreed that Yu Hsien should be banished to the extreme borders of the empire, where he was to be put to work on the roads. This was not satisfactory to the ministers, who thought this man of all should be put to death.

The empress dowager in the latest edict promises that this will be done soon, but the decree does not state in what manner Yu Hsien is to meet his death. It is believed that this action of the empress dowager, taken in connection with the banishment of Tung Fu Hsiang to Kansu, will help the situation materially.

"Negotiations for the peace settlement have not yet been opened," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring yesterday. "The French, German and Japanese ministers are awaiting instructions, and Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang are awaiting a more satisfactory edict. The impression is growing among men of all nationalities that peace is impossible, that a resumption of the campaign in the spring is inevitable and that partition will be the only solution. Two American missionaries complain that the Germans at Cho-Chan loot converts equally with other Chinese."

Oklahoma's Progress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The annual report of the governor of Oklahoma says that the year has been marked by general prosperity, agriculture, grazing, manufacturing and commercial enterprises prospering in an unprecedeated manner. The total assessed valuation of property this year is $49,338,661, an increase of $6,386,247 over 1899. The report states that in addition to its excellent public school system Oklahoma has five higher institutions of learning which are not excelled by similar institutions of any state in the Union. There are still 5,733,385 acres of vacant government land in the territory subject to homestead entry. The report says that the prosperous condition prevailing in Oklahoma, its population, area and wealth, when compared with a like condition prevailing in a large number of states at the time of their admission into the Union, amply justifies its claim to statehood.

Federation of Labor.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—Today the American Federation of Labor began disposing of the business before it, yesterday's opening session having been devoted to welcoming addresses, reports and the appointment of committees. The attendance is the largest in the history of the federation. Prominent among the delegates are the three women representatives, Miss Sarah Groshans of Streator, Ills.; Mrs. Emma Laphere of Galesburg, Ills., and Miss Ellen King of Petersburg, Ind. Each represents a labor organization. Among those on the stage were Samuel Weir, the delegate from Scotland, and Peter Curran, representing the British trades union congress.

Young Squire Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Owen Squire, the 18-year-old boy who was convicted last week of manslaughter in the second degree for the shooting and killing of Lizzie Hiergesill on Nov. 6, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Moore in the Queens county court for sentence. Previous to the arraignment a number of ladies from Richmond Hill, where the boy resides, called on Judge Moore about the case and pleaded leniency. At the trial Squire insisted that the shooting was purely accidental. Judge Moore, after denying a motion for a new trial, sentenced the young man to four months in the county jail.

W. C. T. U. Delegates Visit President.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The president and Mrs. McKinley gave a reception to the 1,900 delegates to the W. C. T. U. convention. The elaborate decoration of the principal rooms which had been provided in honor of the commissioners to the Paris exposition, who were the president's guests at dinner the previous night, remained in place. The Marine band furnished the music. The receiving party consisted of the president and Mrs. McKinley, Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Secretary and Mrs. Long, Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs and Secretary and Miss Wilson.

William Perpetrates a Joke.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Emperor William, adopting the role of a practical joker, has just sent Count von Bulow a large package containing 100 pounds of soap with which to clean the chancellor's palance, the count having complained that the countess was afraid of a grand cleaning.

TOWNE FOR SENATOR.

Governor Lind Names the Silver Leader to Succeed C. K. Davis.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 7.—Former Congressman Charles A. Towne has received from Governor John Lind the official documents which entitle him to a seat in the United States senate until the state legislature, which meets on the 8th of January, can elect a successor to serve the rest of the unexpired term of the late Cushman K. Davis.

Mr. Towne was the fusion nominee to whom the honor of a party vote was given in the legislature two years ago, and his name has been prominent among those mentioned for the appointment from the time the vacancy occurred. He is a native of Michigan, 41 years of age and a graduate of the Michigan university academic and law departments.

CHARLES A. TOWNE.

For a time he practiced law in Chicago and later in Marquette and Duluth.

Mr. Towne was elected to congress by the Republicans of the Sixth district in 1894. In 1896 he left the Republican party because of his belief on the money question. He quickly became a leader among the Silver Republicans. As the head of that party he was active in the campaign of 1896. The Populist national convention named him for its vice presidential candidate, as also did the Silver Republicans, but he withdrew from both tickets in the interest of the straight Democratic ticket, later announcing himself as a regular Democrat.

Mr. Towne left last night for Chicago, where his mother will meet him and proceed with him to the national capital to see her son sworn in as United States senator.

Broker Fails After Arrest.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—While Charles W. Morgan, whose big bucket shops at 71 Broadway and 1440 Broadway were raided by the police, was on trial in Center street court notice of a general assignment was posted on the front doors of his office. Crowds of angry creditors, all of whom claimed to have been defrauded by investing in Morgan's "discretionary pools," were at the lower Broadway office when Bert Hanson, the assignee, called to take charge. There was not much in the way of assets for the assignee, as all of the books were seized by the police at the time of the raid and carted away on a dray to police headquarters. Morgan and his chief bookkeeper, Michael Hart, were arraigned before Magistrate Zeller on the charge of grand larceny.

Edson For Inauguration Manager.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, has offered to Mr. John Joy Edson of this city the chairmanship of the inaugural committee. Mr. Edson accepted the tender and will take charge of the inauguration ceremonies. Mr. Hanna first offered the chairmanship to Mr. Theodore W. Noyes of the Washington Evening Star, who declined to act, stating that he could not give the attention which the duties of the office required. Mr. John Joy Edson has lived in Washington ever since the war of the rebellion, and during that period he has grown from a clerk in the treasury department to be president of one of the largest financial institutions in the District.

ARMY BILL PASSED.

House Favors Reorganization by Vote of 166 to 133.

ANTICANTEEN AMENDMENT ADOPTED.

Majority For Prohibition of Liquor Selling at Army Posts—The Senate In Executive Session Discusses Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The house of representatives at the end of a long sitting passed the army reorganization bill by a vote of 166 to 133. Three Democrats, Messrs. Hall of Pennsylvania and Underhill and Clayton of New York, voted with the Republicans for the bill and Mr. McCall (Rep., Mass.) with the Democrats against it. Otherwise it was a strict party vote.

The proposition which some of the Democrats attempted to commit their side to in caucus, an extension of the present temporary army until July 1, 1903, which was voted upon indirectly on a motion to recommit, commanded the votes of only about half the opposition and of two Republicans, Mr. McCall and Mr. Mann of Illinois. Many of the Democrats, however, voted against the motion because they were opposed not only to the reorganization bill, but also to continuing the temporary army at its present strength.

Quite a number of amendments were placed upon the bill before it passed. The liveliest fight was made upon a substitute offered by Mr. Littlefield of Maine for the canteen section. The substitute absolutely prohibited the sale of intoxicants at military posts. It was supported by Messrs. Littlefield, Grosvenor (Rep., O.), Dick (Rep., O.) and Hay (Dem., Va.) and opposed by Messrs. Slayden (Dem., Tex.), Fitzgerald (Dem., Mass.), Pearce (Rep., Mo.), Parker (Rep., N. J.) and Bartholdt (Pop., Mo.).

Large delegations from the W. C. T. U., which is in session in this city, watched the fight from the galleries. When the vote was taken, the prohibition amendment was carried by an overwhelming majority, 159 to 51. Mr. Bartholdt attempted to secure a record vote in the house, but the peculiar parliamentary status shut him out.

The sections designed to retire General Shafter as a major general and Generals Fitz-Hugh Lee and James H. Wilson as brigadier generals were stricken out.

Among the amendments adopted were those providing for 50 volunteer surgeons and 150 assistant surgeons for service in the Philippines, for 30 dental surgeons and for a veterinary corps with actual rank. The officers of the pay corps were increased 11 and of the signal corps 23. The age limit was removed from volunteer officers eligible to appointment as first and second lieutenants, and the provision for retiring officers who served in the civil war as of the next higher grade was stricken out.

The motion to recommit was lost—68 to 248. Two Republicans, Mr. McCall of Massachusetts and Mr. Mann of Illinois, voted with 66 members of the opposition for this motion. Many Democrats voted with the Republicans against this motion. A roll call was demanded for the final passage of the bill. The bill was passed—166 to 133—and at 6:05 p. m. the house adjourned.

The senate transacted no business of importance in open session. Throughout almost the entire afternoon it was in executive session. The ship subsidy bill therefore received no consideration.

The senate was in executive session for more than four hours, the entire time being devoted to the discussion by Senator Morgan of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the abrogation of that portion of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty which relates to the Nicaraguan canal.

The senator made it very plan in the course of his remarks that while he was not opposed to the pending treaty in almost any form his principal if not his only concern in that connection is for the passage of the canal bill, and he allowed it to be very broadly understood that he had engaged in the treaty discussion because of his conviction that there was a majority of senators who would insist upon action upon the treaty as a condition precedent to the passage of the canal bill. For this reason, he said, he was willing to discuss the treaty. He intimated privately to other senators, however, that he would not consent to the fixing of a time for a vote upon the treaty until there also could be a time fixed for like action upon the Nicaraguan canal bill.

Scranton Councilmen Resign.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—The ten councilmen indicted by the last grand jury for accepting bribes resigned last night in fulfillment of part of the agreement made with the prosecuting committee of the Municipal league in consideration of the cases against them being dropped. They are to also sign a paper promising not to accept public office for a term of five years and further make up a fund of $2,200 to be distributed among the city's charitable institutions. It is claimed that this is the amount the accused councilmen received from the league's detective when he was masquerading as lobbyist for the Southern Railway company.

Colonel Astor Buys Woodland.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Colonel John Jacob Astor has purchased 100 acres of woodland adjoining Ferncliffe, his country seat at Rhinebeck, from the farms of George Esselstyn and Robert and Cornelius Snyder. It is said that the millionaire's motive in buying the land was to save the beautiful trees that cover it from wood choppers, and he may stock it with game, as the property would make an admirable preserve. The purchase greatly enlarges Colonel Astor's holdings in Rhinebeck.

The Czar Much Better.

LIVADIA, Dec. 7.—The czar now leaves his bed each day and spends an hour or two in an armchair. In sleep and appetite he is steadily improving, though he is still limited to a liquid diet. It is probable that the bulletins will be discontinued next Sunday. The czarina is much thinner, but her general health is excellent.

Trolley Franchises.

By the granting of the franchise for a trolley road from Metuchen to Perth Amboy, another link has been added to the chain of electric railway lines which are gradually uniting all the principal places of northern and central New Jersey. While the road between Metuchen and Perth Amboy will be of little importance to Plainfield at present, the day is not far distant when Plainfield and Metuchen will be united by trolley and then the Perth Amboy branch will assume decided importance to Plainfield. Boyn-Beach, which is not far from Perth Amboy, is now connected with this city by trolley. It is also possible to reach South Amboy from here by the way of New Brunswick and South River.

That these electric railway lines are of a great benefit to the country through which they pass, no one can rightfully dispute but municipal governing bodies should remember that these franchises are valuable possessions to the traction companies and see that the latter are made to recompense the municipalities for the privileges granted them.

The Casino, Plainfield's new social organization, promises to be a decided addition to the society life in Plainfield this winter. The organization has only been put on a temporary basis but if it proves successful this winter, it will undoubtedly be continued. When all the other prominent suburban cities in New Jersey can support a good social organization, there is no reason why Plainfield cannot. There is the Park Club in North Plainfield but that is largely for the boroughites and there is a strong demand for a clubhouse on this side the brook this winter.

Next in the line of elections will be the borough election in North Plainfield, which takes place next March.

The second year of The Daily Press Bowling League has started most auspiciously.

It is said that Robert Davis, the Democratic leader in Hudson, is opposed to having the Legislature give a complimentary nomination for U. S. Plainfield's city election was held yesterday and though the Republican ticket made a clean sweep the Democrats have good reason for feeling elated. The city has always been overwhelmingly Republican, but yesterday the Republican candidate for Mayor, Dr. Jenkins, was elected over Mason W. Tyler, the Democratic nominee, by less than 350 majority and the four Republican councilmen were elected by greatly reduced majorities.—New Brunswick Times.

* * * * * *

The charter election was held Tuesday in Plainfield, and the Republican ticket won by something over the normal majority. The Republican Mayor, though elected, did not poll the ordinary Republican majority, because the "roosters," as the comuters are called, voted for the Democratic candidate, who was personally popular and entirely unobjectionable, except for his politics.

The Democrats hoped that this election would show a Republican loss, and would thus encourge Democratic effort in the fall campaign next year, but in this they were disappointed. The normal Republican plurality in Plainfield is about 700. Senator Cross carried it by 754, but in Tuesday's election the new City Collector was elected with 900 majority. The Plainfield Republicans earned their victory and deserve congratulations. They also demonstrated that there is no danger of a falling off in the Republican vote next fall.—Jersey City Journal.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

L. V. F. Randolph's book of poems, entitled "Survivals," has just come from the press. It is charmingly illustrated by Bryson Burroughs. Mr. Randolph lived in Newark, says the Newark News, for more than twenty years, and has many friends there. For a long time he was the treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad, and for half a dozen years past he has been president of one of the largest banking institutions of New York, the Atlantic Trust Comany. He resides in Plainfield and was for a period Mayor of that city. His ancestry on both sides has been in New Jersey for more than two hundred years. Perhaps no verse writer of the last fifty years has been so thoroughly a Jerseyman. The poems he now publishes were written during his leisure hours from year to year, and are of considerable variety—descriptive, philosophical, sentimental and religious. The following example is in place at this season of the year:

DECEMBER.

As through some sun-forsaken canyon's stress
Explorers pass to find a bright beyond—
So, through this dark defile, December, press
Lives, following larger light and hopes still fond.

Shivers and shrivels now the winter day:
And grave and grizzled is the weary year;
But eyes of faith dwell not on hues of gray,
And hearts of trust are unabashed by fear.

AFTER CRAP SHOOTERS.

Police Are Determined to Break Up Gang Which Gathers Near Fat House—Several Arrested.

The police are after the "crap shooters" in earnest. Chief Kiely says that he is bound to break up the gang that gathers nearly every Sunday afternoon in the rear of the fat house back of Somerset street. Last Sunday the officers made a raid on a bunch of the violators of the law. The gamblers beat a hasty retreat and no arrests were made then.

Warrants were sworn out for the young men before Justice Mosher and the police have been busy this week in trying to apprehend them. Yesterday Roundsman Flynn and Patrolman McCarthy arrested Henry Myers and Frank Drake, who pleaded not guilty. Later John Callahan and Louis Sutterlin were also arrested.

The prisoners were arraigned this morning before Justice Mosher in the city court room and each held in $25 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. There are also warrants out for six or seven other young men. Some of the boys claim that they were not playing "craps," simply looking on.

Kane Claimed Self Defense.

Dennis Kane and Thomas Keefe, who were arrested for fighting on Thanksgiving eve, near Washington Hall, were arraigned this morning before City Judge Runyon. Denny claimed that he was assaulted first by Keefe and his friend and that he acted in self defense. Keefe was fined $3, while sentence was suspended in Kane's case.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, December 7.—A number of borough residents who bought soap of a stranger yesterday with the understanding that they were to receive a premium in a few days, may find that they have been duped. The stranger claimed to represent a New York firm, but that he himself lived at 333 Park avenue, Plainfield. This led a number to invest in the soap for which they paid high prices not doubting that they would receive a premium later. Some of the more cautious investigated the above address and discovered it to be the office of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. They are now anxiously awaiting the arrival of the promised premiums.

Central Lodge, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., of Westfield, will pay a fraternal visit to William G. Holton Council, next Tuesday night, December 11. The entertainment committee of the latter council will care for the visitors in a fitting manner. It is also requested that all members be present as several condidates will be initiated.

Announcement has been made of the approaching wedding of John B. Lane and Miss Ida Suydam, formerly of the borough, but now of Bound Brook. The wedding will take place in the Presbyterian church at Bound Brook, on Wednesday, December 12, at 12:30.

N. B. Snell gave an oyster supper to a number of friends last evening. There were about ten present and several hours were spent afterward in an enjoyable manner.

The dime sociable at the residence of Mrs. John Kinney, last evening, proved quite successful both financially as well as in a social way.

Mrs. Catharine Maier returned home yesterday after a two weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. William Conly, of Reaville.

The Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club members will give a reception to their friends in Apgar's Hall on January 3.

The Ladies' Whist Club was entertained in a pleasant manner this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Isaac Giddis.

Charles Tilton was able to be out yesterday for the first time since his recent severe attack of illness.

M. B. Smalley has gone to Trenton for a few days' visit with relatives.

Mrs. M. F. Wirtz, of Bound Brook, visited borough friends yesterday.

W. H. Terry was the guest of Westfield relatives yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Nov. 7.—A quantity of household and family goods and live stock from the abandoned printer's farm at Bound Brook, will be disposed of at auction on the Lapardus farm occupied by John C. Holden, on Tuesday, December 11. C. E. Kelley will be the auctioneer.

This evening's programme at the advertising bazaar in Friendship Hall, will consist of vocal and instrumental music. The admission will be free. Ice cream, cake, lemonade, candy and fruit will be on sale at the various booths. Tomorrow afternoon tea and wafers will be served. Admission for afternoon and evening will be ten cents.

Fred S. Nelson has returned from a trip through Texas and will spend the winter with his brother, Dr. W. J. Nelson.

Mrs. R. H. Batchelor has gone to Philadelphia for a few days' visit with relatives.

Lewis Selerg and family have removed to New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 7.—The corps of teachers in the public school are attending the Teachers' Institute meetings at Elizabeth today and tomorrow. No session of the school was held today, much to the delight of the pupils.

Rev. G. M. Shott will lead the weekly prayer meeting in the Baptist church this evening. Mr. Shott is running a series of interesting talks upon the different books of the Bible at these weekly meetings and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the services.

The members of Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., held their regular weekly meeting in their rooms last evening. The report of the committee appointed to consider the advisability of consolidating Goodwill Lodge with Perseverance Lodge, of Plainfield, was received.

John Allen and Edwin Faucher have returned from a two days' hunting trip at Liberty Corner. Both returned loaded down with game which their friends are helping them to enjoy.

The low branches on the trees along Hunter's are being cut away, so as to enable pedestrians to use the sidewalks on that street without fear of injury.

Members of the Baptist church will observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the close of the service Sunday morning.

Frederick Schmidt has purchased the Clark property, occupied by Wm. D. Johnston and family, on Forest avenue.

Mrs. Wm. S. Terry, of Netherwood, was the guest yesterday of her mother, Mrs. James Buckley.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, December 7.—Miss May Coulter, who was recently injured by a cow, shows no improvement. Dr. Nelson, who is in attendance, fears that she may become paralyzed as the spinal column has been injured.

At a meeting of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, last night, Jacob S. Thuma and Alfred L. Young were initiated to membership in the company.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Unlängst machte der Erzherzog Leopold Salvator als erster österreichischer Prinz einen Aufstieg mit einem Militärballon. Der Erzherzog, Kommandeur der Wiener Infanterie-Division, wünschte die Handhabung des Ballons kennen zu lernen, um sich zu überzeugen, wie er etwa im Kriegsfalle vom Luftballon aus Befehle ertheilen könne. Der Ballon landete bei Wezdorf, etwa 60 Kilometer von Wien, ganz glatt und hatte in dreistündiger Fahrt eine Höhe von 3000 Meter erreicht.—Der Börsenberichterstatter antisemitischer Blätter, Emil Sparkeß, hat sich wegen Börsendifferenzen erschossen.

Asch. Kürzlich feierte der Superintendent Alberti hier das 50jährige Jubiläum als Geistlicher der Stadt Asch. Aus diesem Anlasse hat ihm die Stadtvertretung das Ehrenbürgerrecht verliehen.

Bozen. Die Ortschaft Cavallar ist niedergebrannt. Ein kleines Mädchen fand in den Flammen den Tod.

Budapest. An der medizinischen Fakultät der hiesigen Universität wurde unlängst zum ersten Male eine Dame, Fräulein Charlotte Steinberger, zum Doktor der Heilkunde promovirt.—In Dobsina band sich der Grubenarbeiter Johann Kocsis Dynamitpatronen um seinen Körper und zündete dieselben an. Das explodirende Dynamit zerriß den Körper des Selbstmörders in tausend Stücke. Das Motiv der That waren Familienzwistigkeiten.

Eger. Bei Lessau wurden große Lager vorzüglicher Kohle gefunden. Die böhmische Gewerkschaft „Frisch-Glück" hat bereits zwei große neue Schächte mit einem Kostenaufwande von zusammen 300,000 Kronen herstellen lassen.

Olmütz. Bei der hiesigen czechischen Kontributions-Fondskasse wurde ein Abgang von 34,000 Kronen entdeckt. Der Leiter der Kasse, Namens Strnad, wurde seiner Stelle enthoben. Weitere Erhebungen wurden eingeleitet.

Salzburg. In der Cementfabrik der Gebrüder Leube in Gartenau legte sich der Ofenarbeiter Christian Peil in der Mittagspause auf eine Bank in der Nähe des Ofens, um auszuruhen. Als nach beendeter Mittagspause die Brenner in den Ofenraum kamen, fanden sie den erwähnten Arbeiter als Leiche vor. Der sofort herbeigerufene Arzt konstatirte Vergiftung durch Kohlenoxydgas.

St. Wolfgang. Neulich hat der über die Grenzen Oesterreichs hinaus bekannte Hotelier Josef Traßl, zugleich Pächter des Hotels auf der Schafbergspitze und eines Hotels in Obermais bei Meran Konkurs angesagt. Der Zusammenbruch der renommirten Firma erregte allenthalben großes Aufsehen.

Serajewo. Der Gendarmerie-Rittmeister Ceranic hat sich im Gebäude des Gendarmeriekorpskommandos durch einen Revolverschuß getödtet. In den letzten Jahren war Ceranic wegen eines Leidens Morphinist geworden.

Tetschen. Der Produktenhändler Eduard Schmider wurde ermordet und sein Leichnam an den Elbestrand geworfen. Die Gattin des Ermordeten wurde verhaftet unter dem Verdacht, in Gemeinschaft mit ihrem früheren Geliebten den Mord begangen zu haben.

Schweiz.

Bern. Während bisher die gewehrtragende Mannschaft des in den Landsturm übertretenden Jahrganges das neue Gewehr gegen das Vetterligewehr umtauschen mußte, trat bei dem Uebertritt des Jahrganges 1856 in den Landsturm zum ersten Mal die Neuerung ein, daß der Jahrgang das Gewehrmodell 89 behielt. Auf diese Weise wird nach einer Reihe von Jahren auch der Landsturm mit dem neuen Gewehr ausgerüstet und damit die Einheit der Waffe in der ganzen schweizerischen Armee hergestellt sein.—In Meiringen starb, 92 Jahre alt, Vater Heinrich Kehrli, der wohl 50 Jahre lang auf Regi-Kulm und später in Zermatt die Holzschnitzereien vertrieb.

Zürich. Dieser Tage ist in Folge des Rückganges der Liegenschaftswerthe die Transportgesellschaft „Biene" in Zürich, welche durch ihre Schiffe seit Jahrzehnten einen Theil des Güterverkehrs auf dem Zürichsee besorgte, in Konkurs gerathen.

Glarus. Der staatliche Abschuß von Gemsen und Murmelthieren im glarnerischen Freiberge durch die Wildhüter hat ein Ergebniß von 159 Gemsen mit 3350 Kilo und 51 Murmelthieren mit 204 Kilo geliefert. Ein großer Theil dieses Wildprets wurde außer dem Kanton abgesetzt.

St. Gallen. Der Verwaltungsrath der Ver. Schweizerbahnen bewilligte einen Kredit von 280,000 Francs für ein neues Bahnhofsgebäude in Glarus, ferner 360,000 Francs für neue Güterschuppen auf dem Bahnhofe St. Gallen.

Graubünden. Das am Ausgange des Fluelapasses gelegene Dorf Sues im Unterengadin ist zur Hälfte niedergebrannt.

A well known Shoe Manufacturer at Nyack, N. Y., says he has never been a drinking man, but if by chance he ever did take so much as a glass of beer it would make his head swim and upset his stomach. His stomach was always weak, anyhow, and every now and then he would suffer from a distressing retching in the morning—an attempt to vomit. His brother John, who is in the same business in Newark, frequently said to him: "Dick, why don't you try Ripans Tabules?" Finally Richard said: "Well, buy me some," and John did so—and now there is no happier man in Nyack than Richard. He takes one R·I·P·A·N·S after every meal, and they do him a heap of good.

There is a class of bad health that R·I·P·A·N·S will not benefit. They banish pain and prolong life. Note the word R·I·P·A·N·S on the package and accept no substitute. The pillow is the curse of man.—German Proverb.

There is little doubt that the above is true. A nation that is rugged in its simplicity and strength of character disdains these soft inducements to rest. On the other hand, the indolent and pleasure loving countries could hardly exist without them. In the New England farmhouse the cushion is almost an unknown quantity. Perhaps in the "best room" it may be found, a prim, stiffly embroidered affair, executed by the hands of the daughter of the house. It rests in a very upright position at one end of the horsehair sofa. It is made to look at and admire, but never, never to lie upon! In Turkey, on the contrary, the pillows and the divans are the whole furnishing of the room, gorgeous in fabric and color, unnumbered in quantity, soft, alluring. It is no wonder the Turks are the laziest people in the world. But here comes the serious part. According to my argument, then, we are degenerating. Never before have beautiful pillows been in such demand, and never have so many been used. Are we, then, becoming weaker as a nation? And shall we also become victims of the pillow? I suspect not, and I will whisper in your ear my reason. The new cushions are almost without exception made to look at.

It would be an utter brute, for instance, who would have the heart to lay his frowzle on the following creation: The background is of pale green satin on which appear to be scattered carelessly handfuls of autumn leaves. A close examination reveals the fact that the leaves actually grew on maple and oak trees. They were pressed in books and then glued lightly to the satin surface. Then they were covered by a bit of white silk illusion, and this was carefully embroidered around the edges with red brown or green silk to match the edge of the leaf. It is a gorgeous cushion and one of the latest fads. Fads! How I hate the word. It symbolizes all that is silly and affected, but what a blessing it is to shopkeepers and what a mint of money it sends jingling into their pockets!

There is the artificial flower craze, for instance. Would you believe it, it has actually struck the cushions?

"What color is your room, madam?"

"Pink and white."

"Then you certainly want a rose cushion."

And you see a square of pale tinted satin with a huge pink rose appliqued in the middle, with the large velvet petals stitched down flat and the fluffy center of crimped silk left to stick upright, to tickle your ear if you should feel inclined to lay your weary head upon it, which you don't! Stunning, of course! And the pansy and chrysanthemum cushions are even more so. I forgot to say that the leaves and stems of the flowers are all done in flat embroidery, and so are the buds. It is only the one large central flower which is, so to speak, in bas relief.

Two striking affairs are made of lace. One is called the bowknot and the other the patchwork pillow. In the patchwork lace figures, black, white and yellow conventional flowers, bowknots, diamonds, etc., are set over pale pink, blue or yellow satin pieces of the same shape, and these are appliqued on a background of white or black silk, giving a very odd effect. The lace bowknot consists of three appliqued bows and ends of white, black and yellow lace. It gives an effect like a monogram in which each letter is distinct and yet all three are mingled gracefully.

"They marked that $6 at Chargem's," remarked a friend of mine, "and, if you please, I made mine out of three remnants of dress trimmings appliqued on a section of my old orange silk petticoat."

What in the world, I ask you, would become of the shopkeepers if there were more girls like her?

Well, to return to the subject, there's the verse pillow, for instance, not serious verse, I am sorry to say. The tendency of the age doesn't run in that direction. No, some flippant doggerel or perhaps a snatch from a popular coon or coster song. The verse is embroidered crookedwise, and on either side are figures done in paint and outline stitch supposed to illustrate the prevailing sentiment. For instance, that classic:

I've 'er picter next my 'eart
Dressed all up so fine an smart
In a jacket trimmed with artificial fur,
An it makes a feller feel
Kinder prouder of 'imself
To be loved by a gal like 'er!

It is illustrated in this wise: Over the verse floats a miniature of the lady in the famous jacket, and below at the left kneels the ardent cockney looking upward with one hand on his 'eart. I may add as further evidence of the realistic wave which has struck pillow land that the many buttons on his trousers and coat are real little gilt ones. No, I do not think that any sins of laziness will be laid to the share of this pillow. It must be the same designer who evolved out of her inner consciousness the Indian pillow with the real bead necklace around the brave's neck and the danseuse with her abbreviated skirt set full of scratchy spangles.

By the way, these Indian pillows are all the rage. They come printed in cotton and painted or burned on leather. They are supplanting somewhat the "vice" pillow. Don't start in horror. I am merely quoting a remark I overheard at the cushion counter. The speaker had just been fingering a pile of pillow designs for college men's rooms. They represented edifying scenes, such as a pile of cards and poker chips surrounding an emblematical "kitty" or a crowd of men around a large beer stein with the choice motto:

While we're young we'll have our fling,
So let us drink and let us sing!

"Dear me!" she remarked. "If women have vices, at least they don't embroider them."

Which is true. They are not yet afflicted with the desire of advertising their badness. But patience! Perhaps even this masculine attribute will be theirs in time.

Land of the Powder Puff.

In every country where women make a pretense to elegance you will find the little powder puff. It is useless for reformers to preach against it. Their own shiny faces counteract any effect their words might produce. In warm countries especially it is valued as an aid to beauty, and Cuba in particular has gained the name of "The Land of the Powder Puff."

Even when bread was so scarce that thousands of people were literally starving, there was no lack of face powder even among the poorest. Every Cuban woman, from the octogenarian grand dame to the little peasant girl of 6 or 7 summers, regards powder as an absolute necessity to her attractiveness and far more important than mere soap and water.

In every Cuban school teachers and pupils alike are well powdered, and in every desk is to be found a powder box. In factories and shops where women are employed, directly the hands of the clock point to the hour of the luncheon, every girl stops work and, getting out her powder, proceeds to adorn herself.

Unique Paperweight.

It remained for the Prince of Wales to startle the world of fashion with a new fad in paperweights, but it is safe to say that he will have few imitators. His numerous letters are held in place by the mummied hand of a daughter of one of the pharaohs. This is without doubt the most curious desk ornament in existence.

Elephants as Nursemaids.

Siamese mothers intrust their children to elephants, who are most careful of their little charges. If danger threatens, an elephant will gently lift the child with its trunk on to its back out of harm's way.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 9—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—How to listen.—Math. xiii, 1-23.

THE PARABLE.

This passage contains the parable of the sower, in which Christ illustrates by the growth of seed the different effects of the truth upon different lives. A sower went forth to sow. Some seeds fell by the wayside, on the hardened path across the fields or on the edge of the plowed ground. The birds soon ate them up. Some fell upon stony places, on rocks lightly covered with soil. They sprang up quickly, but having no depth of root died also as quickly. Other seed fell among thorns, upon soil where there were roots of thorns. The thorns grew up with them and, being the stronger, choked the seed to death. Still other seed fell on good ground and brought forth fruit in proportion to the quality of the soil.

THE INTERPRETATION.

The seed is the word of God. The sower is the servant of Christ who spreads His words abroad or that preaches His truth. The soil is the human heart. Four classes of bearers are pictured by Christ. The first class is represented by the seed which fell by the wayside. This class consists of the careless, corrupt and utterly hardened hearer, upon whom the truth makes no impression at all. Satan plucks it away as quickly as the birds the seed which fell on the paths of the field. The second class is represented by the seed which fell on stony ground. Here is pictured the enthusiastic hearer, but the fickle hearer. He has temporary enthusiasm, but no permanent stability; is full of feeling, but not of faith. The third class is represented by the seed which fell among thorns. This is the worldly hearer. He hears, but his worldly cares and anxieties are so great that the truth is choked out of his heart and brings forth no fruit. The fourth class is represented by the seed which fell upon good ground and brought forth fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixty and some forty. Good soil differs in quality. It can be cultivated and improved, and we should use every means to make our acceptance of the truth the more in accord with the best possible results.

THE APPLICATION.

How shall we listen to the truth? With our hearts so prepared by faith and prayer that it may be laid up in our minds and practiced in our lives. We should hear prayerfully, attentively and practically. There should be no temporary enthusiasm without permanency and stability, no hardness of heart and no such anxiety concerning the things of the world, that the word of God shall find no lodgment in our hearts and shall produce no fruits in our lives. When we hear the truth of God, may it fall on good soil and bring forth good fruit, to the honor and glory of God!

THE PRAYER MEETING.

Have a specially prepared programme, with a prepared paper or address on each class of hearers pictured in this parable.

BIBLE READINGS.

Neh. viii, 1-3; Ps. xxxiv, 1, 2; Math. vii, 24-29; Luke vi, 46-49; Acts viii, 26-40; x, 24-33; Rom. ii, 13; Jas. i, 22-27; Rev. ii, 17; iii, 6.

The Value of the Individual.

One thing that the gospel has done is that it has brought out the value of the individual. The time was when a single life did not count for much. The community, the nation, the government, was everything. The single individual, as an individual, was regarded as a trifle. But such is not the case with the present order of civilization, and the high state of civilization in our day is the fruit of Christianity. There can be no doubt in regard to this. The gospel has been molding human society. And one of the things that have been accomplished is that the life of every individual has come to be regarded as having a value in itself.

And this life needs to be protected and developed, for as individuals become strong with a self conscious power of their own so will the community and the state become powerful and efficient. The strength and character of a state in these latter days do not lie so much in the rulers and government as in the people. Make the people as individuals intelligent and good and strong and the nation will partake of the same general character.—Reformed Church Messenger.

The Awakening of the Ideal Side.

General morality depends in great measure on having the ideal side of the human being awakened and gratified from the very beginning of life, in order to afford a counterpoise to sensual desires.—Froebel.

A Common Error.

Human nature readily falls into the mistake that those who are making the most fuss and noise in the world are doing the most work.—Christian Standard.

Some Sweet Today.

I will not light the lamps until I've thought
What was the sweetest thing
In all my day.
I will not seek to speed
The lingering ray
Until my anxious eye somewhere hath caught
A word, a smile or something that hath passed
In my small sphere. O Memory, thou hast
Some sweet today!

Now fancy travels out and conjures up
A long and brilliant train;
It all floats by;
Joy and gladness go
With laugh and sigh,
And dregs of pain lie deep in pleasure's cup,
But now I see two tender hazel eyes
Turn on me—lips that smile; ah, herein lies
My sweet today!

A perfume breathes from pictures of the mind,
And in our fancy Memory carves her lore.
Our dearest treasures in the air we find;
I know my happiness tonight was for
Some sweet today!

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 9, "How to Listen"—Text Math. xiii, 1-23.

Some seeds fell by the wayside, some on stony places, some among thorns, some into good ground.

This parable is a literary gem, exquisitely beautiful in its simplicity and faithful picturing of the natural scene, wonderfully discriminating in its moral application.

Wayside hearers. Hearing the word, but understanding it not and having all its possible good snatched so quickly away. What a loss of effort! What irreparable loss of harvest! It is well that we do not know how many there are in this company. It might paralyze effort if we realized what proportion of all hearers of sermons and religious appeals are to be classed as understanding not. Some people appear to be almost destitute of spiritual appetite. The matters of religion are strange and foreign to their thoughts and outside their world. They understand neither the language nor the experiences. How, then, can they have much impression made? Soon the whole affair passes from mind.

Stony ground hearers. Easy to move to tears and of quick sympathies. They are glad to hear the story of salvation, are resolved to be Christ's followers, are ready to speak and pray and exhort. What joyousness, what rapid growth! Often there is great gladness because of the promise of quick and abundant harvest from so little labor. But it all passes as quickly as it sprung up. No root. No depth of soil. Lost seed. Lost time. Lost souls.

How shall we hear?

We are too quick to give the application of this lesson to every one but self. How do I and how ought I to hear? That is the point of it all so far as I am concerned.

Have you ever considered how much of seed in your own case has fallen on beaten footpaths and been devoured by the adversary at once? You listened to a sermon or address, testimony or exhortation, and went away unimpressed, perhaps in bitterness of soul because it "hit" you, or the personality and manner of the speaker or some peculiarity of the thought cut athwart your prejudices. Beware how you allow too much wayside margin in your heart field, too many footpaths of hard ground in your garden patch of spiritual life. Better break up some of the fallow ground. Plow up and mellow the soil beaten hard by worldly customs.

There is more in this parable than is usually seen. Get the truth in it as it applies to yourself. Too often it is read and the facts accepted as if there was no remedy for any of the defects pointed out. That wayside and stony and thorny ground must ever remain such and be a curse to self and loss to the owner.

Take another view of it. Why not dig up those stones, root out those thorns? If the ledges lie near the surface, blast out and fill in with good soil. Thorough cultivation alone pays. If you are getting thirtyfold, why not a hundred? Use as much skill in your religious life as the most thrifty market gardener does in his work. Till the soil and mix intelligence with devotion.

"Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit."

A Service of Song.

This can be made one of the most pleasant and profitable of meetings and can be varied almost endlessly.

There should not be too much singing, but more thinking. Read in unison or responsively the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Psalm. Have some orchestral instruments to re-enforce the organ in leading the singing.

Have some one prepare and read a five minute sketch of the music of the early Christian church. Then sing as a specimen of that early hymnology,

The day of resurrection, earth tell it all abroad,
The Passover of gladness, the Passover of God, written by John of Damascus and found in all modern church hymnals.

As a specimen of the songs of the middle ages sing "Jerusalem the Golden," composed in Latin by Bernard of Cluny.

Have short sketches of Isaac Watts and Charles Wesley and sing one hymn of each, such as "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "I'll Praise My Maker While I've Breath."

If the musicians are competent, let them render the gloria from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass," one of the grandest compositions in the whole range of sacred music.

The men who find easy situations are those who have mastered difficult ones. Men who have left hard places, with the work undone, in order to find easier ones do not succeed. The workman who acknowledges himself beaten in a task he has chosen is not sought for to repeat the experiment. Those who have shown wisdom in selecting their work and then have accomplished it against all obstacles are always in demand.—Congregationalist.

He Sees and Keeps.

Do you ever think, when the skies are blue
And the clouds in the west are an amber hue
And a shaded red and a shimmering white,
That the great All Father takes delight
In seeing His children rest awhile?

Has the day been weary, the task been long?
Lay care aside and let a song
Rise to your lips as you gaze at the sky,
For the glories of heaven seem floating by
And the great All Father shifts the scenes.

For some life seems but idle play,
While others are burdened with care alway;
But idle seeming oft hides a pain,
As the sun oft shines in summer rain,
And the great All Father sees it all.

And the beauty of sun and cloud and sky
That gilds the west as night draws nigh
But shows the love that will safely hold
Each trusting heart of this earthly fold
Till the great All Father leads us home.
—Antha M. Munsell.

SPORTING.

GOLF

One glaring fault of the average present-day golfer is his lack of practice. He plays a deal of golf, to be sure, but that's another matter. Except during the early stages of his golfing career will he be seen to take out a club and a few balls and devote an occasional hour to practising some shot which he is unable to play successfully. There's no denying this practising is dull business at best, but it's worth the doing, for no end of mental anguish will be saved and matches won as a result of this precaution.

Before long the golf committee of the Newark A. C. will have to determine one way or another whether the N. A. C. is or is not going to remain in the East Jersey League next season. There is a feeling on the part of quite a number of the members of that club that it would be better to branch out and try to connect with some larger organization. Steps have already been taken to have the Newark A. C. become a member of the Metropolitan Golf Association. This will place the N. A. C. in a position to conduct an open tournament under U. S. G. A. sanction. An open tournament would be a great benefit to the club in a golf way, and bring it up on a par with the Morris County and Baltusrol organizations, the only ones in this vicinity who attempt open events each season.

New Jersey at National Capital.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Dec. 7—The estimates for the expenditures of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, are thus stated to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury, so far as they relate to the State of New Jersey: Salaries of internal revenue collectors and deputy collectors and surveyors—Ist District, $13,000; Vth District, $35,500; proving grounds, Sandy Hook, total appropriated, $5,067; appropriated for the year ending June 30, 1901, $62,100. River and harbor improvements—Alloway Creek, $7,000; Elizabeth River, $2 000; Manasquan River, $10,000; Matawan Creek, $3,000; Passaic River, $18,000; Raritan River, $25,000; Shoal Harbor and Compton Creek, $12,000; Shrewsbury River, $10,000; South River, $12,000; Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, $700 000; Staten Island and New Jersey, $10,000; Keyport Harbor, $5,000; Raritan Bay, $45 000; superintendent of Life Saving Service, $1,800; New Custom House, $6,510, for assistant custodians and janitors; Paterson Postoffice, $1,600, for janitors, and Trenton Postoffice, $2 670, for janitor.

More Trouble for Doty.

Nelson M. Doty, formerly of this city, who was arrested in Newark a few days ago, charged with attempting to pass a forged check upon a clother of that city, is again in trouble. Some time ago Doty attempted to obtain money under false pretenses by offering a worthless check to Albert Goldman, a tailor of Broad street, Newark. A warrant has been issued on that charge.

Firemen's Fair.

The members of the Warren Engine Company have placed tickets among their friends to sell for the approaching fair to be held from Feb. 4 to 11 inclusive. The fair promises to be one of the best ever held by this organization. It will be held in Saengerbund Hall

DENOUNCED SMOKER.

Westfield W. C. T. U. Passed Resolution Denouncing Affair at Westfield Club Election Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 7.—As an out come of the "Smoker" which was held at the Westfield Club on Election night and which caused considerable adverse criticism at the time, the local Willard W C. T. U at a regular meeting yesterday passed a resolution denouncing the affair and smokers in general. A part of the preamble says: "We regard with anxiety and apprehension, the introduction into the club "smokers" of indecent features, such as pertain to the low variety theatres of the city; what ever degrades womanhood, tends to the degradation of manhood; that the necessity for protection exists is a cause of deepest humiliation, but the safeguarding of the best interests, requires that the moral sense of the people should be awakened to the danger which threatens, that public sentiment shall prevent further repetition of such offense against the home of our community."

WATER CO. CHANGES HANDS

New Management Has Purchased Controlling In Watchung Water Company.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 7—At a recent meeting of the Watchung Water Company there was a change made in the company. The old company disposed of their stock to a new company of which C. P. Bassett, the Newark civil engineer is the head. The new company has retained Charles P Sebring to assist in the management of the company.

The company's plant is in first-class condition and is supplying pure and wholesome water to many families in the borough. There is an abundance of water and a pressure of 100 pounds is maintained constantly. Mr. Sebring is thoroughly acquainted with the plant and its workings and the new company is fortunate in being able to retain him in its management.

SOME JUSTICES ARE SLOW.

Prosecutor English Has Sent Communications to Them, as Directed by Court, Asking for Promptness.

The Justices of the Peace in Union county have received communications from Prosecutor N. J. C. English, in which he cites that at the October term of the court of Oyer and Terminer, the Prosecutor was instructed to communicate with the Justices regarding prompt returns of papers in criminal cases. It appears that some of the local Justices have been derelict in this matter and it has been a source of annoyance to the Court.

On the other hand it is understood that the Court has been a little slow in returning papers to the Justices, and in one case papers sent to the Court in October has not yet been returned to the Justice who issued them. These communications will have a good effect, however.

A Great Artist.

A great artist will play in concert at the Park Avenue Baptist church next Tuesday evening. The (N. Y) Musical Courier says of him: "Clarence de Vaux-Royer, violinist, formerly of Paris, and a pupil of Ysaye, Hallir and Marsick, has been heard several times in New York in private musicales, and he has always met with success His public debut was made in Chickering Hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 16. He was warmly received; in fact his reception approached an ovation, and he was recalled a number of times. His playing of the Legende and Mazurka by Wieniawski was especially pleasing. His tone is full and mellow and his interpretations are replete with fire, delicacy and feeling."

Wants to Sell Book Accounts.

Atwood L. DeCoster, referee in bankruptcy in the case of John H. McVey, former proprietor of the Hotel McVey, has given notice that a hearing will be held at his office at Newark, Monday, December 17, when he will consider the application of the trustee of the bankrupt's estate for an order allowing him to sell at public sale that portion of the property consisting of book accounts and notes.

To Present Golf League Prizes.

Within a short while the East Jersey Golf League will hold a dinner, when the team and individual championship prizes won during the season will be officially presented. E. E. Moody, captain of the Newark A. C. team, is chairman of the dinner committee, and it is not unlikely that the affair will be held at the Newark club, although that part has not been definitely decided.

WANTED TO ENLIST.

Young Paoli Was Refused at Brooklyn Navy Yard and Has Not Been Heard From Since.

The local police and those of other cities have been notified to be on the lookout for Gabriel Paoli, the seventeen-year-old son of Lorenzo Paoli, the North avenue fruit dealer. Young Paoli left home last Friday morning without informing his parents as to where he was going. Since that time, with but one exception, nothing has been seen or heard of him. Inquiry revealed the fact that he had applied for admission to the navy at the yard in Brooklyn, but was refused on account of his youth.

The boy has been employed for the past two years in McCullough's planing mill and has always been of a quiet and unassuming disposition.

He is described as being 5 feet, 6 inches in height and of slight build. His complexion is dark. As far as is known he had but one dollar when he left home.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Five Routes to Be Established With New Brunswick as a Base.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, D. C. Dec. 7—Congressman Howell has been notified by the Postoffice Department that on the fifteenth instant there will be established five rural free delivery routes, with New Brunswick as the base. They will cover a radius of something like twenty square miles, and will afford good places for five good men as carriers.

Congressman Howell has indorsed the application of citizens of Bernardsville, Somerset county, for the establishment of "Bernard's National Bank," with a capital stock of $25,000. The organizers of the bank are Luther Childs, P. C. Henry, Samuel S. Childs, W. P. Bromfield and Jesse L. Hedden.

REFORM CLUB ELECTS.

Held Business Session at the Close of Temperance Meeting Last Night.

An increased attendance was present at the meeting in Reform Hall last night and much interest was manifested. Addresses were made by Mr. Bonney, of New York, and John Sayers. Music was furnished by the Grant Glee Club and was greatly enjoyed. The pledge was taken by two young men.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Reform Club met and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, M. Armstrong; first vice-president, Jonn Manley; second vice-president, Charles Rice; financial secretary, Charles Stephenson; recording secretary, Arthur C. Smith; treasurer, J. W. A. Bauersachs. It was also decided to continue the temperance meetings tonight and tomorrow night and all next week.

Election in Greenbrook Council.

At the meeting of Greenbrook Council, No. 1725, Royal Arcanum, held last evening the following officers were elected for one year: Past regent, Frank L Cobb; regent, C. M. Wilson; vice regent, M. G. Pierson; chaplain, G. W. Taylor; secretary, Webster Grant; collector, J. F. W. Bauersachs; guide, R. F. Hazard; warden, John Ebberly; sentry, Ralph Bunyon. One candidate was also initiated.

New Derrick at Freight House.

Meeting for Sewing.

The Women's Association of the Congregational church held its regular sewing meeting in the church parlors yesterday. There was a large attendance of members.

Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis was called several days ago to Battle Creek, Mich., where Mrs. Lewis has been very ill in a sanitarium. Word has just been received from Dr. Lewis that his wife is much better.

ON NEUTRAL GROUNDS.

Deciding Match for Interscholastic Football Championship of New Jersey to Be Played at Orange Oval.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, Dec. 7—The New Jersey Interscholastic League decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting at the Newark High School that the football game between the Newark High School and Princeton Preparatory for the league championship shall be played at the Orange Oval Saturday. Princeton wanted to play on its own grounds, but the Newark players held out for a neutral field.

It was decided by the league to not have any hockey series this winter because East Orange and Montclair are the only schools which have teams. Fort and DeWolf were appointed a committee to arrange a baseball schedule for next season.

Justice Huff's Court.

Justice Huff issued attachment papers yesterday in the case of W. W. Wilson against Arthur Scott. The papers were served last evening. The contract case of Lowden & Johnson against Howell was tried yesterday afternoon, and judgment given for the plaintiff. The case of Stenger against Harris & Co. will be tried next Monday morning. The action is an attachment on contract. The contract case of Mintzo against Glazier will be tried tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

MISS LEE MADE HER DEBUT IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. Charles S. Lee, of East Ninth Street, Gave Reception to Introduce Her Daughter.

WAS A CHARMING AFFAIR.

MANY PROMINENT IN CITY SOCIETY CIRCLES WERE PRESENT.

House Was Handsomely Decorated—Reception Lasted From 4 to 7 and Was Followed by an Informal Dance.

A charming event in the social circles was that of yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Charles S. Lee, of 240 East Ninth street, introduced her daughter, Miss Genevieve Lee, to Plainfield's society. The affair was one of the most pleasant of the mid winter season and was attended by the members of the select set of the city, as well as by many prominent persons from out of town. The spacious residence was thronged with people during the hours, 4 to 7 o'clock, and most flattering, indeed, was the honor accorded the charming debutante. Miss Lee has, since coming to this city sometime ago, been a favorite in the younger set, and her entrance into society was marked by many pleasing features.

The home was a scene of charming floral display giving added brilliancy to the affair. Ferns, potted plants, white chrysanthemums, American beauty roses and other choice cut flowers were artistically arranged about the parlors and reception hall, while smilax was used here and there with pleasing effect. The debutante received a profusion of bouquets from friends, both in this city and elsewhere, as an evidence of her popularity.

The debutante, a pronounced brunette, wore a gown of white crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and white hyacinths. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, who wore a gown of cluny lace over white satin. The others in the receiving party were Mrs. F. O. Herring, who was gowned in mauve silk, ornamented with diamonds; Mrs. John G. Foster, who wore a gown of pale green moire; Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, gowned in black jetted net, and Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, in a gown of white crepon. Miss Edith Arens wore white embroidered crepe, and Miss Lydia Ackerman's gown was white spangled tulle over pink silk. Miss Ethel Guernsey, of Philadelphia, wore blue crepe de chine with steel trimmings. Others assisting were Mrs. Frederick Mead, Miss Sarah Compton, of this city, and Miss Nancy Wetherell, of Chester Pa.

Miss Lee was showered with congratulations by the host of people who thronged the house, and she was the object of many flattering expressions, all of which gave her a cordial welcome to society's ranks. During the reception an attractive programme was rendered by Rogers' orchestra. The musicians were stationed in an alcove just off from the reception room, where a profusion of potted plants and ferns hid them from view.

Refreshments were served in the dining room. Here the decorations, with the prevailing colors, pink and white, about the table, lent a decided charm to the scene. Many remained later in the evening and enjoyed an informal dance, thus giving a finish to one of the most pleasant events of the social season.

In addition to the many guests present from this city and other places, several were from Philadelphia, the former home of Charles S. Lee and family.

Smallpox in Perth Amboy.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Perth Amboy, Dec. 8—A case of smallpox in Perth Amboy has called attention to the number of children attending school who have not been vaccinated. There are 2 686 pupils in the public schools, and only 1 010 have been vaccinated. The Board of Health has ordered that all children be vaccinated by December 13

Wants Assessment Reduced.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, Dec. 8—The State Board of Taxation held a session here Thursday to hear the appeal of the North Jersey Street Railway Company from the assessment by the Newark Tax Board on the company's personal property for taxes. The valuation is $3,100 000 and the company asked for a reduction to $640 000.

TO PASSAIC VALLEY

MACADAM ROAD FROM WATCHUNG IS UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Freeholders Coddington and Mobus Went Over the Proposed Route Yesterday.

Now that the Board of Freeholders of Somerset county has started on a campaign for good roads in that county, Somerset county promises to develope rapidly. Thanks to the State aid road act, the Freeholders have been able to push the work of building good roads much faster than they otherwise could. The macadam road, connecting Millstone with the New Brunswick city line was built and is now in use. The eight miles of road between Somerville and Bernardsville is now being macadamized and will open up that section. Yesterday, Freeholders Coddington and Mobus drove over the road which runs from Watchung to the Passaic valley road by the way of Smalleytown with a view to improving that thoroughfare under the provisions of the State aid road act.

County Engineer Doughty, of Somerville, accompanied the Freeholders on their trip to examine the grades to see that they can be brought under the five per cent. limit. The road starts from the cross roads by Demler's store at Watchung and winds over the second mountain, through Smalleytown and finally to the bridge over the Passaic river, near Stirling. The road does not contain the steep grades that the other roads to the Passaic Valley have, and such as exist on it can be greatly reduced by a little judicial grading.

No action has yet been taken on the project to build a county road over the mountain following the course named, but it is quite probable that such action will be taken next year. At present there is no really good thoroughfare connecting this side of the mountain with the part of Somerset county which lies back toward the Passaic river. Such a road would open up the country in that nighborhood and be of immense value to the farmers in that section.

A MURDERER CAUGHT.

Riddled With Buckshot Before He Was Captured by Detectives at Portsmouth, Va.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Freehold, Dec. 8.—Sheriff O. E. Davis received a telegram Thursday from Portsmouth, Va, stating that a man supposed to be William Bullock, the murderer who escaped from the Monmouth county jail here in August last, had been captured near that place. Two detectives found Bullock working on the farm of Milliard Parker, five miles from Portsmouth, several days ago. When they met Bullock they ordered him to halt, but he ran, and they fired at him. He was riddled from the waist down with buckshot, and fell. His injuries are such that it is said that he can hardly recover. Sheriff Davis left for Portsmouth Thursday to identify the man.

Bullock shot and killed Officer James Walsh at Red Bank on November 13, 1899, when Walsh attempted to attrest him on a charge of malicious mischief. He was tried three times, being twice convicted, and the jury once disagreeing. Both convictions were upset, and he was awaiting a fourth trial when he escaped.

To Accept New Bridge.

The Boards of Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties will meet at the new Madison avenue bridge on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to accept the same. They were to have met last Thursday but the members could not arrange to be there. Next Thursday the members from Middlesex, Union and Somerset counties will inspect the new Jefferson avenue bridge.

Ice Trust in Elizabeth.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Dec. 8.—The American Ice Company, it is rumored, is getting ready to do business in this city. It is said that an agent of the company has been in town looking over the ground and obtaining opinions on land that would be suitable for the erection of an ice plant.

Public Meeting of O. A. A.

Nash; alternates, Mrs. Edward Vine, Mrs. Samuel Terry.

The officers will be installed at the next meeting. At that time each member will make a donation of some kind and the various artices will be given to some charitable object. Outside of the election of officers nothing but routine matters were considered last evening.

CABMEN BATTLED.

Trouble Over a Passenger That Lyons and Kennedy Both Wanted, Finally Ended in City Court.

Patrick Lyons and Michael Kennedy, cabmen, went after the same fares yesterday afternoon. Kennedy was successful and that made Lyons angry. When Kennedy returned to the station Lyons, it is said, called him names and attempted to give him a thrashing. Roundsman Flynn put in an appearance before the men succeeded in disfiguring each other's faces and arrested them. This morning in police court Lyons was fined $5 or twenty days, while sentence was suspended in the case of Kennedy, who claimed to be acting in self-defense.

LISTENED AND ATE.

After Working of New Preparations Were Explained, Painters Had Supper.

Plainfield's painters and decorators, to the number of sixty, gathered in the parlors of the Hotel Kensington last evening and listened to an interesting talk by Mr. Danielson, of Brooklyn, representing the Murillo Company, of that place. His talk was in the nature of an explanation of the workings of "Murillo" and "Kalsimo," two cold water preparations for wall decorating.

The preparations are a comparatively a new thing and the dealers are taking this method of introducing them to painters and decorators They have already placed them with Rushton & Hansen, who will act as agents for them in this city.

At the conclusion of the talk those present sat down to an excellent supper. During its disposal vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by the Black Diamond quartette.

A Quarter Century of Her Life.

There was an unusual gathering today at St. Joseph's Home conducted by the Sisters of Mercy on Manning avenue. The occasion was in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Sister Mary Marcella's devoting her life to religious work in this order. Sister Mary has been at St. Joseph's Home for nearly five years. She is greatly beloved by all of the faithful women connected with that institution. To-day many friends called to extend congratulations. Sister Mary received a number of handsome presents as expressions of regard.

Station Improvements.

Among the improvements to be made at the North Avenue station will be the removal of the board walks between the tracks in front of the two stations. In place of them the space will be filled in with dirt and cinder screenings. This will be packed very hard making a sold and almost continuous surface. The fence to be erected between the tracks will extend from the Park avenue bridge to the Watchung avenue bridge

Services at St. Joseph's Church.

The Feast of the Immaculate Conception was celebrated this morning at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in the borough. A service of high mass was held with Rev. Father Brennan as the celebrant. Besides the rector, Rev. Father Miller, there were also present Fathers Griffen, of Woodbridge, and Father Diedrick, of Bound Brook. There was a large attendance.

Special Musical Services.

At the East Third Street chapel, tomorrow evening there will be a special musical service, conducted by H. E. Needham. Two choice selections will be rendered with piano, flute and violin by Mrs. G. W. Saums, Mrs. C V. D. Corle, Elmer Wheeler, Clifford Braider and Robert Barnes.

COUNCIL OPPOSES LICENSE FOR SISSER.

Resolution Passed by Borough Council Asking the Judge Not to Grant It

AT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

COUNCILMAN LEE HEADED FIGHT AGAINST SISSER'S SALOON

Doesn't Think One Is Needed There and Doesn't Like the Way the Establishment Is Conducted—Police After Cider Joints.

At last night's meeting of the Borough Council the saloon question was brought up by Councilman Lee, who called attention to the place kept by William Sisser on Somerset street, near the county and city line. Mr Lee offered a resolution to the effect that a petition be presented to Judge Schenck asking that the license of Sisser be not renewed another year Mr. Lee said he did not think that there was any need for a saloon at that point and he did not consider that the one there at present was conducted properly. The Mayor said he acquiesced in what Mr. Lee said. He also said that the police had experienced more trouble with that saloon than all the others in the borough.

This opened the way for a general discussion with reference to the places where hard cider was sold Sundays. Both Mr. Rogers and Mr. Lee were in favor of having the Council take some action to close all places of business Sundays. The entire Council was of the opinion that many places were kept open Sundays under the guise of being Seventh Day Baptists. Mr. Lee asked if the Mayor couldn't have the places closed, regardless of the religious views of the proprietors. The Mayor said he was in favor of taking any action that was consistent with the law. He was of the opinion that the Corporation Counsel could throw some light on the matter.

Mr. Rogers suggested to the Mayor that the violators of the law when they sold hard cider should be punished. The Mayor said that there had been two men found guilty and punished. As fast as the officials could get the evidence they would make arrests. Mr. Lee's resolution was then adopted.

SIX HUNDRED 'PHONES.

Steady Growth of the Local Exchange of the N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Company.

The two largest telephone exchanges in this part of New Jersey, considering the relative number of inhabitants in the cities where they are located, are in Plainfield and Morristown and are both owned by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. A year ago at this time, the number of subscribers in the Plainfield exchange was almost 500. Manager Charles W. Runyon made a strong effort and brought the number up to over 500 when the year 1900 began. At the present day, there are 596 subscribers on the Plainfield exchange and four new ones all ready to have their instruments placed in position.

Manager Runyon and his assistants have been carefully working to increase the service here and, owing to the new system, which brings practically separate service and reduced rates, they have been able to increase the number so that the 600 mark will be passed before the new year. There have been losses but the increase has been enough to bring the net figures up to the desired point. The remaining four 'phones will be put up next week.

Mr. King's Fine Work.

There is on exhibition at L. W. Randolph's pharmacy a very handsome study in water colors. It is that of a young woman's face and the fine detail work about it has attracted the attention of many lovers of art. The work is that of Nathan E King, one of the most talented artists in Brooklyn. Mr. King has executed a great deal of work for Plainfielders with perfect satisfaction. Mrs. E. J. Olssen represents Mr. King in this vicinity and she will be pleased to receive orders either at Randolph's pharmacy or at her residence corner of Grove and Howard streets, North Plainfield. A postal card will receive prompt attention.

Before Governor-Elect Odell.

Governor elect Odell, of New York, gave a hearing yesterday afternoon at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to a large delegation of representative business men who desire the improvement of the Erie Canal. Among the Plainfielders present were Elliot T. Barrow, Henry A. McGee, John M. Whiton and D. M. VanVliet.

REPUBLICANS SATISFIED

Work of the Republican City Executive Committee for the Year Was Completed Last Night.

There was a meeting of the members of the city Republican executive committee last evening when the affairs of the committee were closed up. All bills were ordered paid for the city and national campaign work. All the members expressed themselves as being very well satisfied with the result of both campaigns, and as both were conducted more economically than those of previous years there was much rejoicing among the members. The meeting adjourned sine die.

TO SUPPORT BURMESE TEACHER.

Endeavorers of Park Avenue Baptist Church Make Contributions.

There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church, held at the home of Miss Cora Brokaw in the Babcock building, Thursday evening. Considerable routine business was transacted after which the society voted to continue paying for the support of a native teacher in Burmah. It was also decided to contribute $20 toward the hundred dolls asked for by the local union of the Christian Endeavor Society to be equally divided between Miss Sara Curry and Mrs Dassori, of New York for the Christmas of the poor children among whom they labor. Following the transaction of business the several chairmen conferred with their committees regarding work for the coming month. Afterwards the members enjoyed themselves in a social way.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ross, of LaGrande avenue, gave a party last evening in honor of their little daughter, Miss Alice Ross. There were about twenty-five young friends of Miss Ross present, and a very pleasant evening was passed in dancing, playing games, etc., and before the young people left for home refreshments were served.

A Seasonable Drop.

This is the time of year when the mercury can be expected to "take a drop," and if you will take a drop into Collier's, 103 Park avenue, you will be doing the seasonable thing, too, for nowhere else can you find more offerings for Christmas purchases, and get as satisfactory results at such little cost.

Dinners for a Hundred Families.

The Relief Association wishes to thank the public for the donations on Thanksgiving Day. Though very acceptable they were not nearly as generous as usual but one man who did not wish his name to appear supplied all deficiencies and dinners were given to over one hundred families.

Death of Infant Daughter.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Pape, of 35 Harmony street, will be pained to learn of the death of their infant daughter, Hulda E., which occurred this morning. The funeral will be held under the direction of Undertaker DeMott at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

FATAL COUGH MIXTURE.

DRUGGIST, WHO MADE IT, IS HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Grand-Child of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Milliken, of This City, Poisoned With Laudanum in New York.

Oscar Epstein, a druggist doing business at 163 Florist avenue, Bronx Borough, New York, was arrested yesterday charged with having caused the death of Howard Milliken, the two year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Milliken, of 912 Bronx Borough. They formerly resided in this city on West Front street, where Mr. Milliken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Milliken, still live.

As already stated in the Press, the child was found dead in bed by its parents Wednesday morning. The cause of death was a mystery. Except for a cold the child had been in its usual health the night before. Mrs Milliken had been using a cough mixture purchased at Epstein's store and prepared by himself.

The physician who was afterward called tasted the mixture and declared it to be pure laudanum. A warrant was then sworn out for the druggists' arrests and he was held in $5 000 bail for manslaughter. Epstein admitted that the mixture contained laudanum but only the ordinary amount used in such preparations. He declared that if any mistake had been made it was on the part of the parents in giving an overdose. In giving directions for its use, he stated, he had distinctly said the dose was five drops while the parents had given the child ten.

TOLD OF WORK IN CHINA.

Mrs. Daniel Rapalje Andressed Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed Church.

The members of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held a very interesting and helpful meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Rapalje, wife of Rev. Daniel Rapalje, both of whom have been missionaries in China for many years, was present and gave a delightful talk concerning the Chinese. Mrs. Rapalje was a teacher in the Mary Duryea school at Amoy and in her talk she told a great deal of interest concerning her work there. She exhibited shoes worn by Chinese women, idols and other interesting Chinese symbols, explaining them in detail and telling of their peculiar relation to the Chinese.

The members and their friends were given another treat at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Samuel Case was present and she kindly consented to sing. Her selection was "I Shall be Satisfied," and she rendered it impressively. There was a large attendance at the meeting.

SUPPED ON OYSTERS.

Successful Affair Given by Women of Grace M. E. Church Last Evening.

Under the auspices of the women of the church an oyster supper was given in Grace M. E. church last evening. MUCH MONEY LEFT FOR STREET WORK.

An Unexpended Balance of $1,119 72 Remains to Credit of Borough Street Committee.

FOR REST OF FISCAL YEAR.

WILL ASK COURT TO INCREASE LICENSE FEES IN BOROUGH.

Objected to Sisser's Saloon—Borough Council Didn't Like Size of Gas Bill—Want Legislature Action Regarding Taxation of Notes.

The Borough Council did considerable business last evening at the regular monthly meeting. There was present besides the Mayor, Councilmen Clark, Coddington, Rogers, Lee and Valiant. Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed was not present, being absent from home.

One of the most important business transacted had to do with the report for November of Councilman Clark, chairman of the street committee. The report showed that there was an unexpended balance of $1,119 72. The expenditures for labor were $169 42; stone work, $11 26; stone for Watchung avenue, $52 52, leaving a total of $233 20. For sprinkling (six months) there was expended $702 96; water wagon, $550 00, a total of $1253 96. For road purposes there was expended for ten months $4,098 66; amount appropriated for road purposes, $4,500. The receipts from all sources were $718 38, leaving a balance unexpended of $1,119 72.

The report was received and a vote of thanks tendered the chairman of the committee for his painstaking efforts in behalf of the citizens on this important committee.

Under the head of communications the clerk read one from the Building and Trades Council, composed of 300 carpenters, masons and other artisans with reference to being recognized in the giving out of work, etc. This was referred to the laws and tax committee.

The report of George F. Brown, the collector and treasurer of the borough, for November, showed the receipts to be $23 756 72 and the disbursements $14 331 06, leaving cash on hand to the amount of $9,425 72. The actual amount of taxes collected with interest, however, is but $6 644 99. The report was referred to the proper committee.

Mr. Rogers, from the fire, water and lamp committee, reported that a test had been made with reference to the energy of the electric light supplied the borough and that it was highly satisfactory and the committee believed that the borough was getting good service.

Upon motion of Mr. Clark the collector was authorzied to make certain changes in reference to the tax on the estate of Isaac Scribner with regard to reapportionment.

Mr. Valiant called attention to the bills that had been presented by the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company for gas. For the month of September a charge of $6 16 had been made; for October a bill of $4 06 and $3 50 for November. It is considered that the charges are exorbitant in as much as the Council met but one night in each of these months. The Mayor and Clerk were authorized to see that the charges were investigated.

The collector reported that he had received $115 28 from the street railway company; $2 for fines; $2 50 for licenses and ten cents for a dog tag.

The clerk was directed to send out the necessary notices asking for the co-operation of the various municipalities throughout the State in reference to having the Legislature repeal the law which now exempts from taxation all notes in bank. The Mayor said that through the operation of this law the borough had lost several thousand dollars which made it appear as though the borough taxes were much higher than they really were.

Upon motion of Mr. Valiant, the collector was authorized to draw a warrant for $6,500 to meet necessary expenses.

Action was taken on a bill of W. H. Pangborn for $25 for services in connection with the Watchung avenue improvement. After some discussion the bill was ordered paid.

Councilman Lee, from the license and marshals committee, reported six arrests for November and fines to the amount of $2 collected.

Before the Council adjourned some action was taken in reference to the borough saloons in general and the license fee in particular. Councilman Lee offered a resolution to the effect that a petition be presented to Judge Schenck to increase the license fees as as follows: Rudolph Spiegel, $450;

TWO BIG ATTRACTIONS COMING NEXT WEEK.

Manager Edwards Has Two Big New York Successes Booked for Coming Week.

VILLAGE POSTMASTER FIRST

HALL CAINE'S "THE CHRISTIAN" WILL BE PRESENTED SATURDAY NIGHT.

Strong Companies of New York Artists Will Give Both Plays—Other Good Things in View—Last Week's Plays.

The severe storm of Tuesday night undoubtedly prevented many from attending the performance of "Lost in Egypt" at Music Hall but those present were well repaid for their attendance for it was a thoroughly enjoyable play, well acted and mounted, eliciting much applause.

One of the very best performances ever given in this city was that of "The Three Musketeers," Thursday night, by Mr. Henry Glazier and his supporting company. This may be considered rather fulsome praise but it is perfectly justifiable, for a more finished perfect portrayal of Dumas' celebrated hero, D'Artagnan, in the great author's book of "The Three Guardsmen" is rarely seen. A good sized audience was present and the entire presentation and performance was a perfect dramatic treat. Mr. Glazier is certainly a talented actor and he played his part in a way that won for him round after round of applause.

The company supporting Mr Glazier was good. Miss Vail de Vernon, in the role of Miladi, played her part in a manner that won the admiration of the audience.

John P. Barrett in the role of Cardinal Richelieu was very good. Miss Blanche Stoddard as Anne, of Austria, Queen of France, was also capable.

The remainder of the company was excellent, and the scenery, costumes and accessories sumptuous and correct in every detail.

Tonight Charles A. Loder and a finely poised fun company will be seen in the sparkling farce comedy of complications, seasoned with vaudeville features, entitled "Who is Who."

The story of the play, which has more force to it than the usual farce comedy, is as follows: A young New York attorney, Jack Hartland, without clients or experience, conceives the idea of having a partner who is nothing but a myth. This partner is called Nemo, and is always too busy to be seen by callers at the office. When one wishes to see the partner, Mr. Hartland informs him that Nemo is in some distant city. Hartland purchases clothes and other articles in the name of his partner and successfully keeps up the ruse for some time. Hartland is in love with Mabel, the daughter of Von Bombach, an eccentric German banker and speculator, who is violently opposed to Hartland's attentions to his daughter. Artie Barclay, Jack's best friend, is also in love with Mabel, but has already two wives, one of whom follows him and demands $1,000 "hush money," she having learned that he is a suitor for the hand of the heiress.

A host of complications accumulate during the progress of the three acts and all culminate at the same time. It is the largest and strongest company that has ever appeared in farcical satire, and it contains among others, Charles A. Loder, Paul Boardman, Miss Dell Lincoln, Kitty Wolff and Alice Hare.

Next week may be set down as the "Star" week of Manager Maze Edwards' present season. Two great plays are the offerings and two finer plays could not be desired. The first on Wednesday, two performances, matinee and night, is "The Village Postmaster" under the management of J. Wesley Rosenquest, manager of the 14th Street Theatre, New York, with Archie Boyd in the title role. The play, the scenes of which are laid in New Hampshire is somewhat on the order of "The Old Homestead" and "Blue Jeans," and the story told is an unconventional one of love and disappointment, coming out all right as all love stories do. It's also unconventional in its setting, which is in a New Hampshire village in 1852, during the Presidency of Franklin Pierce. Scenery and costumes are in keeping with the time, the former being elaborate in detail and pleasing to the eye, as well as being most realistic. A brief resume of the story of the play will no doubt be interesting. The first scene is in the village store and post office with the usual loungers and gossipers, the scene changes to the village green on Training day, a day familiar to the elder generation as the annual holiday when every able bodied citizen was compelled to appear and go through the manual of arms. The act ends with a rain storm of real water which breaks up the festivities. The second act shows the interior of the Baptist Minister's house where an old-fashioned donation party is in progress. The third act shows the farm yard with a big old fashioned threshing machine in operation. The last act, the interior of a country church, where preparations are being made for the wedding of the Postmaster's daughter. All these are elaborately pictured and constitute no small part of the entertainment, which will be presented by the same company, headed by Archie Boyd, as the Postmaster, and Miss Angela Russell as Miranda, with the same scenery and properties used during its long run in New York.

Saturday night Hall Caine's great play, "The Christian," in which Miss Viola Allen has achieved enduring fame and success, will be seen for the first time in this city under the direction of Liebler & Co., who are the managers of Miss Allen and other great New York successes. The play will be presented with an equal cast, with the same scenery and effects used in the original production at the Garden Theatre, New York. Probably the best known among the principals of the company is Miss Lilla Vane who is accredited with the success of her career. Her charming work in "Hazel Kirke" won her many admirers who will be glad to welcome her as "Glory Quayle." The "John Storm" is portrayed by Henry Kolker, who is said to be one of the best romantic actors on the stage.

The other principal players include such well known names as Harold Hartsell as "Lord Robert Ure." "Horatio Drake" is in the capable hands of Frederick Conger, who shares the stellar honors. "Polly Love" is essayed by Miss Rachel Crothers, one of the most beautiful women on the stage. Mrs. Georgia Dickson, has made a pronounced hit as "Mrs. Callender," her unctious Scotch dialect being a treat to hear. Frank Roberts as "Archdeacon Wealthy" stands out prominently. Jefferson Lloyd as John Storm's father, is said to be in keeping with the others in this notable cast, while Adolph Lestina as "Father Lamplugh" is a strong factor in the stirring scenes with "John Storm" and "Lord Robert Ure." The mob scene will be given in its entirety by over fifty auxiliary people from the school of acting.

There probably will be no performances during the week before Christmas, but for the Christmas Day attraction, Manager Edwards will present a spectacular production of the great moral drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," with many novel effects.

—The curb stones are being set on Madison avenue between Front street and the brook.

—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders inspected a new road in Bernard township yesterday.

—Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The orignal DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns, sores and skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

RATHBONE'S EXPENSES.

Paid Coachman and Bought Shirts With Government Funds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Senator Platt of Connecticut, chairman of the senate committee on relations with Cuba, has made public the statement prepared by the auditing division of the war department showing the expenditures made by E. G. Rathbone, late director of the department of posts for Cuba. The total disallowances for the 15 months were $72,631.

The first disallowance was on account of an expenditure of $850 for a duchess carriage, made on Feb. 28, 1899. After that time there were frequent disbursements for the director general's carriage service. March 20 he paid $202 for a set of harness and carriage "auxiliaries"; April 7, $12 for a jipigapa hat and for another hat for his coachman with rosettes, and on the same date $306 for harness, etc. Rent for the coachman, stable, etc., seems to have been regularly paid out of the public funds at the rate of $110 per month, and in one or two instances the hostler's salary was thus supplied. All the coach furnishings were provided in this way. In May, 1899, a uniform costing $40, a pair of boots costing $15 and another hat costing $9 were bought for the coachman. June 9 a rain coat costing $26 was supplied to that individual. The coach later was supplied with rubber tires at an expense to the public of $110. In addition, there were many miscellaneous charges for stable rent and for carriage and car hire.

FUNSTON IN A FIGHT.

Morrow's Men Also In Action—Several Minor Engagements.

MANILA, Dec. 8.—More activity is shown in the operations in northern and southern Luzon. The reports from the former district come in more quickly, and telegraphic interruptions are fewer.

General Funston, with Troop A of the Fourth cavalry and a score of scouts, last Thursday encountered 100 insurgents posted on the opposite bank of the Nehico river. The Americans charged across the stream, and the enemy retreated, firing from cover. They left four dead on the field. A native who was captured reported that Fagin, deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry, who has been active with the Filipinos, with a party of two cavalrymen, had been wounded.

Lieutenant Morrow, with 50 men from the Forty-seventh regiment, attacked and occupied Bulacan. While returning these troops encountered Colonel Victoris, occupying an intrenched position with 30 rifles and 300 bolomen. Lieutenant Morrow's force charged and drove the enemy from their position, it is believed with heavy loss. Preceding the fight the expedition had captured Major Flores and several of his followers.

An engagement is reported to have occurred near San Roque, in which, according to natives, 50 rebels were killed.

Several minor encounters and captures are also reported. The American casualties have been very slight.

Nurse Kills Her Charge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Alice O'Donnell, a nurse in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, who live in the apartment house at 127 Palmetto street, Brooklyn, killed their only child, a boy of 18 months, last night by cutting his throat with a razor. The murder was committed in the kitchen of the apartment while Mrs. Jones was singing for her husband in the parlor. The nurse, after finishing her deed, left the little victim lying on the floor with the razor by its side and fled. The nurse, who is 26 years old, had been in the employ of the Jones family only since Thursday night. She had been known to the Joneses almost ever since their marriage, a little over two years ago, and they considered her capable and trustworthy.

To Dine With the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 8.—Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, United States charge d'affaires; Captain Colby M. Chester, commander of the United States battleship Kentucky, and the other officers of the battleship now at Constantinople attended the selamlik yesterday. The sultan sent expressions of welcome to Captain Chester and has invited him to prolong his stay until Monday, when he will be received in audience with Mr. Griscom and his suit, dining at the palace in the evening.

Quebec's New Legislature.

QUEBEC, Dec. 8.—The general election of members of the Quebec legislature, which took place throughout the province yesterday, was a greater success for the Liberal party than the general election for the Dominion of Canada of a month ago. On that occasion out of the 65 seats accorded Quebec for federal purposes only eight were taken by Conservatives. Only seven of the 73 seats in the provincial legislature were secured by Conservatives.

Full Fare For Clergy.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Some of the trunk lines operating between New York and Chicago have determined to abolish after Jan. 1 the old custom of issuing half fare tickets to clergymen and religious workers. After that date clergymen, missionaries, relief committees and Salvation Army workers will be required to pay full fare.

Petition Against Hawaiian Delegate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming has received a petition from A. N. Kepoika and A. B. Lowenstine of Hawaii stating that the election of the Hawaiian delegate, Wilcox, was irregular. They ask that a hearing be given for the consideration of the points they make against his admission.

England's War Budget.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The second supplementary estimate of the war in South Africa and the expedition to China for the financial year ending March 31 next as presented to parliament amounts to £16,000,000. The expenses of the war in South Africa and China up to August last were £69,323,000.

German Press Changes Its Tune.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—President McKinley's message to congress now meets with milder criticism in the German press, especially since some one discovered, as already cabled, that the term "good will" used by the president with reference to Germany really amounted to a compliment.

Swiss Favor the Boers.

BERN, Dec. 8.—Forty members of the national council, lower house, have presented a resolution in favor of the government appealing to England to agree to arbitration in the Transvaal.

OLEO BILL PASSED.

Vote Stood 196 to 92 For the Grout Measure.

REVENUE REDUCTION BILL REPORTED

Ways and Means Committee Agrees to $40,000,000 Decrease—The Most Annoying and Vexatious of the War Taxes to Be Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The house yesterday passed the Grout oleomargarine bill by a vote of 196 to 92. The substitute offered by the minority of the committee on agriculture, which imposed additional restrictions on the sale of oleomargarine to prevent its fraudulent sale as butter and increased the penalties for violators, was defeated by a vote of 113 to 178.

The bill as passed makes all articles known as oleomargarine, butterine, imitation butter or imitation cheese transported into any state or territory for consumption or sale subject to the police power of such state or territory, but prevents any state or territory from forbidding the transportation or sale of such product when produced and sold free from coloration in imitation of butter. The bill increases the tax on oleomargarine colored in imitation of butter from 2 to 10 cents per pound and decreases the tax on oleomargarine uncolored from 2 cents to one-quarter of a cent per pound.

Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee late in the afternoon submitted the report of that committee signed by all the Republican members in favor of the bill reducing the war revenue taxes about $40,000,000. The report says in part:

"In making the reductions in the bill reported the committee have sought to remove the more annoying taxes in the war revenue act by the entire abolition of those which were most vexatious and by a reduction of those which seem to have proved a great burden upon the several branches of trade to which they were applied."

The report then gives the changes in detail, with estimated amount of reduction, which has heretofore appeared. It continues:

"The 2 cent stamps on bank checks, certificates of deposit, drafts, postal money orders, etc., are very annoying to a large class of people, and much complaint has been made to the committee, especially from the smaller towns and from farmers.

"Another source of annoyance has been the tax of 1 cent on express receipts and telegraph messages. There is no doubt but that this taxation has caused more widespread annoyance and trouble than anything else in the act. The committee, therefore, have stricken these taxes from the law. The tax on deeds and conveyances has been quite burdensome in numerous instances, as well as the tax upon insurance and leases. The tax upon promissory notes and mortgages has been very onerous upon the debtor class. It has seemed to them that it was enough to pay interest without paying a tribute to the government upon every transaction of this kind. These are the principal items in amount that are stricken from the schedule, while the other taxes of like character are small in amount and present an obvious reason for their repeal."

After giving the reductions in detail, aggregating $40,000,346, the report says:

"In making the foregoing reductions your committee believes that the bill goes as far as it is safe to go in reducing the revenue. They also believe that they have made the reductions so as to do away with the most annoying and vexatious taxes under the act and also to relieve such business as is best entitled to relief under all the circumstances. While regretting that they cannot at this time make a report finally disposing of the war taxes, except such as congress may deem it wise hereafter to keep upon the statute book, yet they congratulate the country that they are able to report a bill striking off 40 per cent of this kind of taxation."

Mr. Payne said that he would call up the bill in the house next Tuesday after the legislative bill is passed. No programme for debate has been fixed.

No business of importance was transacted by the senate yesterday in open session. Practically the entire legislative day was consumed by an executive session.

The developments in the senate in executive session in connection with the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were:

An agreement on the part of the senate to vote on the amendment offered by the committee on foreign relations providing for the policing of the canal on next Thursday at 3 o'clock.

An amendment was offered by Senator Teller striking out the treaty prohibition against the fortification of the Nicaragua canal when constructed.

The conclusion of Senator Morgan's speech.

A speech by Senator Teller in opposition to the treaty.

To Prohibit Polygamy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Tayler of Ohio, who was prominently identified in the movement to exclude Brigham Roberts of Utah from a seat in congress, has introduced a measure intended to bring about federal prohibition of polygamy. It proposes a constitutional amendment for uniform laws on marriage and divorce. Mr. Tayler says, however, that his aim goes considerably beyond a mere uniformity of such laws and is expressly designed to reach polygamy and put an end to it. He regards this form of remedy as the most effective and farreaching.

Ballington Booth's Tenement Work.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—General and Mrs. Ballington Booth announce that they have received from so many cities appeals to begin tenement house work that they have decided to make the movement national instead of confining it to New York city, as at first proposed. They say that the active field work will begin within a few days in Chicago and within a few days will be next added to the other large cities of the country. The Volunteers in every post in the country will be directed to take up the work and press it.

Coal Famine in Norway.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 8.—There is a coal famine in Norway, the price having risen 40 per cent, notwithstanding the fact that coal imports have increased 25 per cent. The Christiania papers intimate that the United States would find ready purchasers of coal in this country.

TWO BIG ATTRACTIONS COMING NEXT WEEK.

Manager Edwards Has Two Big New York Successes Booked for Coming Week.

VILLAGE POSTMASTER FIRST

HALL CAINE'S "THE CHRISTIAN" WILL BE PRESENTED SATURDAY NIGHT.

Strong Companies of New York Artists Will Give Both Plays—Other Good Things in View—Last Week's Plays.

The severe storm of Tuesday night undoubtedly prevented many from attending the performance of "Lost in Egypt" at Music Hall but those present were well repaid for their attendance for it was a thoroughly enjoyable play, well acted and mounted, eliciting much applause.

One of the very best performances ever given in this city was that of "The Three Musketeers," Thursday night, by Mr. Henry Glazier and his supporting company. This may be considered rather fulsome praise but it is perfectly justifiable, for a more finished perfect portrayal of Dumas' celebrated hero, D'Artagnan, in the great author's book of "The Three Guardsmen" is rarely seen. A good sized audience was present and the entire presentation and performance was a perfect dramatic treat. Mr. Glazier is certainly a talented actor and he played his part in a way that won for him round after round of applause.

The company supporting Mr Glazier was good. Miss Vail de Vernon, in the role of Miladi, played her part in a manner that won the admiration of the audience.

John P. Barrett in the role of Cardinal Richelieu was very good. Miss Blanche Stoddard as Anne, of Austria, Queen of France, was also capable.

The remainder of the company was excellent, and the scenery, costumes and accessories sumptuous and correct in every detail.

Tonight Charles A. Loder and a finely poised fun company will be seen in the sparkling farce comedy of complications, seasoned with vaudeville features, entitled "Who is Who."

The story of the play, which has more force to it than the usual farce comedy, is as follows: A young New York attorney, Jack Hartland, without clients or experience, conceives the idea of having a partner who is nothing but a myth. This partner is called Nemo, and is always too busy to be seen by callers at the office. When one wishes to see the partner, Mr. Hartland informs him that Nemo is in some distant city. Hartland purchases clothes and other articles in the name of his partner and successfully keeps up the ruse for some time. Hartland is in love with Mabel, the daughter of Von Bombach, an eccentric German banker and speculator, who is violently opposed to Hartland's attentions to his daughter. Artie Barclay, Jack's best friend, is also in love with Mabel, but has already two wives, one of whom follows him and demands $1,000 "hush money," she having learned that he is a suitor for the hand of the heiress.

A host of complications accumulate during the progress of the three acts and all culminate at the same time. It is the largest and strongest company that has ever appeared in farcical satire, and it contains among others, Charles A. Loder, Paul Boardman, Miss Dell Lincoln, Kitty Wolff and Alice Hare.

Next week may be set down as the "Star" week of Manager Maze Edwards' present season. Two great plays are the offerings and two finer plays could not be desired. The first on Wednesday, two performances, matinee and night, is "The Village Postmaster" under the management of J. Wesley Rosenquest, manager of the 14th Street Theatre, New York, with Archie Boyd in the title role. The play, the scenes of which are laid in New Hampshire is somewhat on the order of "The Old Homestead" and "Blue Jeans," and the story told is an unconventional one of love and disappointment, coming out all right as all love stories do. It's also unconventional in its setting, which is in a New Hampshire village in 1852, during the Presidency of Franklin Pierce. Scenery and costumes are in keeping with the time, the former being elaborate in detail and pleasing to the eye, as well as being most realistic. A brief resume of the story of the play will no doubt be interesting. The first scene is in the village store and post office with the usual loungers and gossipers, the scene changes to the village green on Training day, a day familiar to the elder generation as the annual holiday when every able bodied citizen was compelled to appear and go through the manual of arms. The act ends with a rain storm of real water which breaks up the festivities. The second act shows the interior of the Baptist Minister's house where an old-fashioned donation party is in progress. The third act shows the farm yard with a big old fashioned threshing machine in operation. The last act, the interior of a country church, where preparations are being made for the wedding of the Postmaster's daughter. All these are elaborately pictured and constitute no small part of the entertainment, which will be presented by the same company, headed by Archie Boyd, as the Postmaster, and Miss Angela Russell as Miranda, with the same scenery and properties used during its long run in New York.

Saturday night Hall Caine's great play, "The Christian," in which Miss Viola Allen has achieved enduring fame and success, will be seen for the first time in this city under the direction of Liebler & Co., who are the managers of Miss Allen and other great New York successes. The play will be presented with an equal cast, with the same scenery and effects used in the original production at the Garden Theatre, New York. Probably the best known among the principals of the company is Miss Lilla Vane who is accredited with the success of her career. Her charming work in "Hazel Kirke" won her many admirers who will be glad to welcome her as "Glory Quayle." The "John Storm" is portrayed by Henry Kolker, who is said to be one of the best romantic actors on the stage.

The other principal players include such well known names as Harold Hartsell as "Lord Robert Ure." "Horatio Drake" is in the capable hands of Frederick Conger, who shares the stellar honors. "Polly Love" is essayed by Miss Rachel Crothers, one of the most beautiful women on the stage. Mrs. Georgia Dickson, has made a pronounced hit as "Mrs. Callender," her unctious Scotch dialect being a treat to hear. Frank Roberts as "Archdeacon Wealthy" stands out prominently. Jefferson Lloyd as John Storm's father, is said to be in keeping with the others in this notable cast, while Adolph Lestina as "Father Lamplugh" is a strong factor in the stirring scenes with "John Storm" and "Lord Robert Ure." The mob scene will be given in its entirety by over fifty auxiliary people from the school of acting.

There probably will be no performances during the week before Christmas, but for the Christmas Day attraction, Manager Edwards will present a spectacular production of the great moral drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," with many novel effects.

—The curb stones are being set on Madison avenue between Front street and the brook.

—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders inspected a new road in Bernard township yesterday.

—Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The orignal DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns, sores and skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bonn, of Sandford avenue, are entertaining relatives from New York.

Miss Swackhammer, of Whitehouse, has been visiting Plainfield relatives for several days.

Charles H. Herring, of New York, is visiting his son, Rev. Charles E. Herring, of Watchung avenue.

Andrew Wall, who has been at the Muhlenburg Hospital undergoing an operation, is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. B. C. Bentley, of Westerly, R. I., has returned home after spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Smith, of Madison avenue.

Miss Lulu Mills, of East Fifth street, has returned to her position at the U. S. Express Company office, after being detained at home for some time by illness.

Miss Edna VanCleef, of East Millstone, who has been spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, of Elmwood place, returned home yesterday.

—When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

—Today is the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, and was appropriately observed in St. Mary's and St. Joseph's churches.

—Now is the time when croup and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is one Minute Cough Cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. L. W. Randolph.

RATHBONE'S EXPENSES.

Paid Coachman and Bought Shirts With Government Funds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Senator Platt of Connecticut, chairman of the senate committee on relations with Cuba, has made public the statement prepared by the auditing division of the war department showing the expenditures made by E. G. Rathbone, late director of the department of posts for Cuba. The total disallowances for the 16 months were $72,631.

The first disallowance was on account of an expenditure of $850 for a duchess carriage, made on Feb. 28, 1899. After that time there were frequent disbursements for the director general's carriage service. March 20 he paid $202 for a set of harness and carriage "auxiliaries"; April 7, $12 for a jipigapa hat and for another hat for his coachman with rosettes, and on the same date $306 for harness, etc. Rent for the coachman, stable, etc., seems to have been regularly paid out of the public funds at the rate of $110 per month, and in one or two instances the hostler's salary was thus supplied. All the coach furnishings were provided in this way. In May, 1899, a uniform costing $40, a pair of boots costing $15 and another hat costing $9 were bought for the coachman. June 9 a rain coat costing $26 was supplied to that individual. The coach later was supplied with rubber tires at an expense to the public of $110. In addition, there were many miscellaneous charges for stable rent and for carriage and car hire.

FUNSTON IN A FIGHT.

Morrow's Men Also In Action—Several Minor Engagements.

MANILA, Dec. 8.—More activity is shown in the operations in northern and southern Luzon. The reports from the former district come in more quickly, and telegraphic interruptions are fewer.

General Funston, with Troop A of the Fourth cavalry and a score of scouts, last Thursday encountered 100 insurgents posted on the opposite bank of the Nehico river. The Americans charged across the stream, and the enemy retreated, firing from cover. They left four dead on the field. A native who was captured reported that Fagin, deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry, who has been active with the Filipinos, with a party of two cavalrymen, had been wounded.

Lieutenant Morrow, with 50 men from the Forty-seventh regiment, attacked and occupied Bulacan. While returning these troops encountered Colonel Victoris, occupying an intrenched position with 30 rifles and 300 bolomen. Lieutenant Morrow's force charged and drove the enemy from their position, it is believed with heavy loss. Preceding the fight the expedition had captured Major Flores and several of his followers.

An engagement is reported to have occurred near San Roque, in which, according to natives, 50 rebels were killed.

Several minor encounters and captures are also reported. The American casualties have been very slight.

Nurse Kills Her Charge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Alice O'Donnell, a nurse in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, who live in the apartment house at 127 Palmetto street, Brooklyn, killed their only child, a boy of 18 months, last night by cutting his throat with a razor. The murder was committed in the kitchen of the apartment while Mrs. Jones was singing for her husband in the parlor. The nurse, after finishing her deed, left the little victim lying on the floor with the razor by its side and fled. The nurse, who is 26 years old, had been in the employ of the Jones family only since Thursday night. She had been known to the Joneses almost ever since their marriage, a little over two years ago, and they considered her capable and trustworthy.

To Dine With the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 8.—Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, United States charge d'affaires; Captain Colby M. Chester, commander of the United States battleship Kentucky, and the other officers of the battleship now at Constantinople attended the selamlik yesterday. The sultan sent expressions of welcome to Captain Chester and has invited him to prolong his stay until Monday, when he will be received in audience with Mr. Griscom and his suit, dining at the palace in the evening.

Quebec's New Legislature.

QUEBEC, Dec. 8.—The general election of members of the Quebec legislature, which took place throughout the province yesterday, was a greater success for the Liberal party than the general election for the Dominion of Canada of a month ago. On that occasion out of the 65 seats accorded Quebec for federal purposes only eight were taken by Conservatives. Only seven of the 73 seats in the provincial legislature were secured by Conservatives.

Full Fare For Clergy.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Some of the trunk lines operating between New York and Chicago have determined to abolish after Jan. 1 the old custom of issuing half fare tickets to clergymen and religious workers. After that date clergymen, missionaries, relief committees and Salvation Army workers will be required to pay full fare.

Petition Against Hawaiian Delegate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming has received a petition from A. N. Kepoika and A. B. Lowenstine of Hawaii stating that the election of the Hawaiian delegate, Wilcox, was irregular. They ask that a hearing be given for the consideration of the points they make against his admission.

England's War Budget.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The second supplementary estimate of the war in South Africa and the expedition to China for the financial year ending March 31 next as presented to parliament amounts to £16,000,000. The expenses of the war in South Africa and China up to August last were £69,323,000.

German Press Changes Its Tune.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—President McKinley's message to congress now meets with milder criticism in the German press, especially since some one discovered, as already cabled, that the term "good will" used by the president with reference to Germany really amounted to a compliment.

Swiss Favor the Boers.

BERN, Dec. 8.—Forty members of the national council, lower house, have presented a resolution in favor of the government appealing to England to agree to arbitration in the Transvaal.

OLEO BILL PASSED.

Vote Stood 196 to 92 For the Grout Measure.

REVENUE REDUCTION BILL REPORTED

Ways and Means Committee Agrees to $40,000,000 Decrease—The Most Annoying and Vexatious of the War Taxes to Be Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The house yesterday passed the Grout oleomargarine bill by a vote of 196 to 92. The substitute offered by the minority of the committee on agriculture, which imposed additional restrictions on the sale of oleomargarine to prevent its fraudulent sale as butter and increased the penalties for violators, was defeated by a vote of 113 to 178.

The bill as passed makes all articles known as oleomargarine, butterine, imitation butter or imitation cheese transported into any state or territory for consumption or sale subject to the police power of such state or territory, but prevents any state or territory from forbidding the transportation or sale of such product when produced and sold free from coloration in imitation of butter. The bill increases the tax on oleomargarine colored in imitation of butter from 2 to 10 cents per pound and decreases the tax on oleomargarine uncolored from 2 cents to one-quarter of a cent per pound.

Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee late in the afternoon submitted the report of that committee signed by all the Republican members in favor of the bill reducing the war revenue taxes about $40,000,000. The report says in part:

"In making the reductions in the bill reported the committee have sought to remove the more annoying taxes in the war revenue act by the entire abolition of those which were most vexatious and by a reduction of those which seem to have proved a great burden upon the several branches of trade to which they were applied."

The report then gives the changes in detail, with estimated amount of reduction, which has heretofore appeared. It continues:

"The 2 cent stamps on bank checks, certificates of deposit, drafts, postal money orders, etc., are very annoying to a large class of people, and much complaint has been made to the committee, especially from the smaller towns and from farmers.

"Another source of annoyance has been the tax of 1 cent on express receipts and telegraph messages. There is no doubt but that this taxation has caused more widespread annoyance and trouble than anything else in the act. The committee, therefore, have stricken these taxes from the law. The tax on deeds and conveyances has been quite burdensome in numerous instances, as well as the tax upon insurance and leases. The tax upon promissory notes and mortgages has been very onerous upon the debtor class. It has seemed to them that it was enough to pay interest without paying a tribute to the government upon every transaction of this kind. These are the principal items in amount that are stricken from the schedule, while the other taxes of like character are small in amount and present an obvious reason for their repeal."

After giving the reductions in detail, aggregating $40,000,346, the report says:

"In making the foregoing reductions your committee believes that the bill goes as far as it is safe to go in reducing the revenue. They also believe that they have made the reductions so as to do away with the most annoying and vexatious taxes under the act and also to relieve such business as is best entitled to relief under all the circumstances. While regretting that they cannot at this time make a report finally disposing of the war taxes, except such as congress may deem it wise hereafter to keep upon the statute book, yet they congratulate the country that they are able to report a bill striking off 40 per cent of this kind of taxation."

Mr. Payne said that he would call up the bill in the house next Tuesday after the legislative bill is passed. No programme for debate has been fixed.

No business of importance was transacted by the senate yesterday in open session. Practically the entire legislative day was consumed by an executive session.

The developments in the senate in executive session in connection with the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were:

An agreement on the part of the senate to vote on the amendment offered by the committee on foreign relations providing for the policing of the canal on next Thursday at 3 o'clock.

An amendment was offered by Senator Teller striking out the treaty prohibition against the fortification of the Nicaragua canal when constructed.

The conclusion of Senator Morgan's speech.

A speech by Senator Teller in opposition to the treaty.

To Prohibit Polygamy.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Representative Tayler of Ohio, who was prominently identified in the movement to exclude Brigham Roberts of Utah from a seat in congress, has introduced a measure intended to bring about federal prohibition of polygamy. It proposes a constitutional amendment for uniform laws on marriage and divorce. Mr. Tayler says, however, that his aim goes considerably beyond a mere uniformity of such laws and is expressly designed to reach polygamy and put an end to it. He regards this form of remedy as the most effective and farreaching.

Ballington Booth's Tenement Work.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—General and Mrs. Ballington Booth announce that they have received from so many cities appeals to begin tenement house work that they have decided to make the movement national instead of confining it to New York city, as at first proposed. They say that the active field work will begin within a few days in Chicago and within a few days will be extended to the other large cities of the country. The Volunteers in every post in the country will be directed to take up the work and press it.

Coal Famine In Norway.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 8.—There is a coal famine in Norway, the price having risen 40 per cent, notwithstanding the fact that coal imports have increased 25 per cent. The Christiania papers intimate that the United States would find ready purchasers of coal in this country.

AMERICANS PRAISED

Chinese Pleased by Conduct of Our Troops.

REFORMER KANG YU WEI HAS PLAN.

Would Not Allow Empress Dowager and Her Advisers to Negotiate, Would Restore Emperor and Severely Punish Boxers.

PEKING, Dec. 8.—Li Hung Chang has informed General Chaffee that he and all the people of the province of Chili are extremely pleased and gratified at the behavior of the American troops toward the Chinese. This is considered no light matter. From all sections of that portion of the city under American supervision come words of praise, thankfulness and commendation regarding the behavior of the Americans.

Mr. Conger, the United States minister, and the other foreign envoys received a letter signed by Kang Yu Wei, the well known Cantonese reformer, who was formerly an adviser of Emperor Kwang Su and who has always been favorable to foreigners.

Kang Yu Wei says that great calamities have befallen China through the empress dowager and also in consequence of her advisers, Prince Tuan, Prince Ching, Yung Lu, Yung Li, Chao Shu Chiao, Munag Ru, Moyn Kuen and Hriong. He says he is thankful that the foreigners held out in the legation buildings in Peking and that all the Chinese who understand the law of nations regret the murder of Baron von Ketteler.

He then says he desires to make suggestions which "will insure the just punishment of the real culprits, satisfaction to the different countries and a permanent settlement of the international relations of China." He urges:

First.—That the empress and her advisers should not be allowed to negotiate the peace.

Second.—That the emperor, who is a friend of foreigners, should be restored.

Third.—That all reactionary officials should be arrested and that a careful watch should be kept over the so called friendly viceroys in the south.

Unless Yung Lu, Prince Tuan and the others are severely dealt with, Kang Yu Wei contends, they will continue to say that the foreigners are powerless.

"The foreigners should not rely upon the viceroys," continues the Cantonese reformer. "They send men, money and armaments to the empress and are her obedient servants. Should the emperor be restored, the empire would rejoice. The emperor's party consists of the most enlightened men, who are friendly to foreigners and desire to incorporate western civilization and culture in an ancient country."

Kang Yu Wei points out that he was appointed for the task by a secret edict of the emperor in 1898 when he made his appeal on behalf of the emperor to the foreign powers, "an appeal which, had they listened, would probably have prevented what has happened."

Sir Claude Accused of Looting.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The Peking correspondent of the Deutche Zeitung writes that several German marine officers discovered Sir Claude Macdonald, former British minister at Peking, and Lady Macdonald personally superintending coolies who were carrying off treasures from the Chinese imperial palace to the British legation buildings.

French War Preparations.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—The senate adopted the naval bill after a short discussion. Senator Combes, Progressive Republican, representing the Charente-Inferieure, urged the building of 20 additional cruisers to prey upon Great Britain's commerce in case of war. The minister of marine, M. de Lanessan, replied that the number of cruisers projected in the present bill would suffice for France's needs. General Mercier then rose and alluded to his speech of Dec. 4, when he urged training the army in embarkation and disembarkation drills so as to be ready for an invasion of England. He said he was unable to understand the sensation his remarks had produced. He did not desire war with Great Britain, but he thought it the duty of the government to provide for such an eventuality. He repudiated any intention to appear aggressive toward Great Britain.

Railroad Plans For Cuba.

HAVANA, Dec. 8.—Sir William Van Horne has arrived in Havana after inspecting the proposed route of the Central railroad. The company of which Sir William is the head now owns the line operating between Santiago and San Luis and is planning to construct a line from Santa Clara to connect with it, the distance being 335 miles. "Our company is making a purchase of a strip of land 40 meters wide along the entire contemplated route," said Sir William. "The titles are being rapidly passed, and we expect the road to be finished in about 18 months. We shall probably employ 5,000 workmen and are now making arrangements to bring in Spanish immigrants and their families with a view of colonizing."

Gage Urged to Remain.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Homer of the Baltimore clearing house and 30 other prominent business men representing the clearing house, the savings banks and the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Baltimore called in a body at the treasury department yesterday and urged Secretary Gage to accept the invitation of the president to remain at the head of the treasury department for another four years.

Roberts Warmly Welcomed.

PORT ELIZABETH, Cape Colony, Dec. 8.—Lord Roberts arrived here this morning on board the Canada and was accorded a splendid reception. Hundreds of the townsfolk had been up all night in order to secure points of vantage. The field marshal drove around the town, received a number of addresses and then re-embarked on the Canada.

Smallpox In Manchester, N. H.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 8.—Smallpox continues to spread in the McGregorville district of this city, and the board of health realizes that the situation is becoming more serious. Since Wednesday night 11 additional cases have been discovered. There are now nearly 20 cases of smallpox in the city.

Harvard Defeats Yale.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 8.—Harvard defeated Yale for the third consecutive time in the intercollegiate debate in Sanders' theater last night.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Conservative Progress Generally Noted—An Advance In Cereals.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Business is progressing along conservative lines. It is without excitement and without great speculative activity, but with a confident undertone which is to be explained largely by the fact that leading concerns in most of the great industries have orders booked to employ their machinery at nearly full capacity during months when curtailment is usual. This situation should quiet fears of bad shocks such as some previous seasons have seen.

No net reduction in working force has appeared in the last fortnight, and a readjustment of wage schedules in some branches of the steel trade is effected without trouble. Prices of commodities are generally steady, and holiday trade is brisk at all points. The south is particularly cheerful, with cotton firm and the rice crop coming in at very full prices.

Bank clearings make excellent comparison. At New York this week the gain is 21.8 per cent over the same week in 1899 and 45 per cent over 1898. For the leading cities outside New York the gain is 3 per cent over 1899 and 26 over 1898.

There is no cause for alarm in the small volume of new business at iron and steel centers. With the first sign of higher prices there came forward such a flood of contracts that mills and furnaces booked orders sufficient to keep their full force employed for months. Hence there has come a more quiet condition, with less bidding for products.

For the first time in many weeks the cereals exhibited strength, and some advance was to be expected after the extensive decline. Wheat was started upward by foreign markets, and prompt response here compelled covering of contracts. Greater strength was shown by corn, which brought out receipts of 4,609,166 bushels against 3,450,772 last year, but foreign buying was brisk even at quotations 7 cents higher than last year. Atlantic exports for the week aggregating 6,336,715 bushels against 3,703,273 in 1899.

Failures for the week were 287 in the United States against 221 last year and 25 in Canada against 33 last year.

BIDDERS PLENTY.

Many Companies Want to Share In $50,000,000 Naval Construction.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Never since the birth of the new navy has there been such a gathering of shipbuilders and metal kings as was assembled in the office of the secretary of the navy at noon yesterday to witness the opening of bids for an amount of naval construction which Secretary Long denominated as the greatest industrial event this or any other country had ever seen, involving the placing of contracts for about $50,000,000. The secretary left the cabinet meeting for the purpose of presiding at the ceremony. Associated with him were the chiefs of the great naval bureaus, Admiral Hichborn, Admiral Melville, Admiral O'Neill and others.

There were eight bidders, and most of the bids were well within the limit of cost allowed by congress for the ships. The notable feature was the attempt on the part of the younger and smaller concerns to break the line of the old organizations which have constructed all of the heavy vessels of the new navy up to this time.

While it is not possible at this moment to forecast results accurately there are indications that in at least one instance and perhaps two instances these attempts will be attended with some degree of success, for it looks as though some of the work will be bestowed upon the Fore River company, which appears for the first time as a bidder for constructing armored ships.

The Pacific coast, too, presents a likely candidate in the Morans' bids. Because of changes made in the specifications by the bidders, the general tendency of which is to reduce considerably the equipment of the ships, it is not possible yet to tell which of the bids are actually the lowest.

Secretary Long expressed himself as pleased with the result of the bidding, so far as he could perceive it from the hasty reading of the bids. He felt that on the whole the latter were very liberal.

William Seaton broke the skulls of four persons and shot another in a fit of murderous rage at South Park, Wash.

Divorce Mill In Buffalo?

BUFFALO, Dec. 8.—Five justices of the supreme court held a secret conference in chambers yesterday. It was said about the city hall that information had been laid before the justices in regard to the practice of fraud in divorce cases, and it was alleged that a divorce mill similar to that which operated in New York had been run here. The justices declined to talk. On good authority it is said that there will be an investigation by the next grand jury.

Enormous Postal Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The report of the third assisant postmaster general shows that the total receipts from all sources of postal revenue during the year amounted to $102,354,579, while the expenditures reached $107,740,267. The value of the total number of pieces of stamped paper issued to postmasters was $97,687,771, a net increase over the issue of the previous year of $7,536,111.

LARGE IMMIGRATION.

Over Half a Million Foreigners Came to Our Shores Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The annual report of the commissioner general of immigration shows that during the last fiscal year the total number of immigrants who arrived in this country was 448,572, of which 23,200 came through Canada. Of the whole number 304,148 were males and 144,424 females. This is a net increase over 1899 of 136,857. These figures, however, the commissioner general says, do not show the total number of alien arrivals, as 65,635 aliens came as cabin passengers. They would have swelled the total immigration to 514,207 had they traveled in the steerage. The figures show that of the whole number of arrivals 424,700 came from European countries, 17,946 from Asia, 30 from Africa and 5,896 from all other places. Switzerland and Spain and the Spanish islands show a small decrease in immigration, while Austria-Hungary shows an increase of 83 per cent, the Russian empire and Finland 49 per cent increase, Italy 29 per cent increase and Japan 340 per cent increase. The total arrivals from Japan, however, amounted to only 9,791.

Of the 448,572 arrivals 54,624 were under 14 years of age, 370,382 were from 14 to 46 years and 23,566 were 45 and over. It appears that 93,576 could neither read nor write, and 2,097 could read, but not write. The total number exhibited to the inspectors in money the sum of $6,657,530, 271,821 bringing each a sum less than $30 and 54,284 having each a sum in excess of that amount.

There were returned within one year after landing in this country 356, and relief in hospital was furnished during the year to 2,417.

KNOX AFTER DE WET.

Boer Force Said to Be Hard Pressed and Suffering.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Lord Kitchener informs the war office that it is reported that De Wet's force has gone east and northeast from Odendaal. General Knox is following it. He also states that a Krupp ammunition wagon has been captured and that all the British prisoners taken at De Wetsdorp with the exception of the officers have been released.

Lord Kitchener states that while the British, at the request of a Boer field cornet, were handing over some women to the Boers near Belfast under a flag of truce the burghers vigorously attacked a neighboring infantry post, which held out until relieved.

A dispatch from Aliwal North, Cape Colony, of yesterday's date said General De Wet's main force was laagered. It was hard pressed, and the men appeared to be suffering from continual trekking. A British patrol came in contact with the Boer outposts and captured a prisoner, who said a Krupp gun had been abandoned near Caledon river.

Boers Closely Pursued.

ALIWAL NORTH, Cape Colony, Dec. 8.—After the fight at Sterk Spruit General De Wet doubled south during the night, crossed the Caledon river, marched to Odendal Drift, where he found the stream impassable, turned east and marched along the north bank of the Orange river until within 15 miles of Aliwal North, and then turned northeast in the direction of Rouxville. General Knox dogged his steps the whole day. De Wet's forces were thoroughly exhausted. Three hundred of their dead and dying horses were counted between the Smithfield road and the Orange river.

Presbyterian Reformers Lead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—There is a big row between the reformers and conservatives of the Presbyterian creed revision committee, and four of the members left in a huff for home. Instead of arriving at an amicable conclusion as to what shall be recommended to the general assembly next May it has been decided that another meeting of the revision committee will have to be held in February. There is talk of "Briggs and reform," and the only question to be decided seems to be how much "reform" the general assembly will stand. The Rev. Herrick Johnson of Chicago is in charge of the field.

Gold Badge For Mrs. McKinley.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President De Young and Thomas F. Walsh of the Paris exposition commission called upon President McKinley and presented to him a gold badge on behalf of the commission to be handed to Mrs. McKinley with their compliments. The badge is one of the finest pieces of workmanship produced by Parisian goldsmiths, and the president pronounced it the most beautiful he had ever seen.

Smothered Her Babe.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 8.—While being driven from Northeast to Sharon station the 4-week-old son of Mrs. Benjamin Millon of Northeast was smothered to death in its mother's arms. On account of a five mile ride Mrs. Millon wrapped the child in a heavy shawl. On reaching her destination and uncovering the baby's face she was horrified to find her baby dead.

Diphtheria Conquered at Oswego.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Oswego is clear of diphtheria for the first time in 14 months. There have been 250 cases and 14 deaths in that time.

ANOTHER WAR CLOUD

Holland and Portugal Sever Diplomatic Relations.

DUTCH CONSUL AIDED THE BOERS.

Portugal Demanded His Removal From the Lourenco Marques Post, and Holland Refused Without Prior Investigation.

LISBON, Dec. 8.—In consequence of the action of the Portuguese government in withdrawing the exequatur of Herr Pott, the Dutch consul at Lourenco Marques, on the ground that he used his office to assist the Boers and exposed Portugal to a dispute with Great Britain, Dr. Van Weede, the Dutch minister to Portugal, and Count de Selir, the Portuguese minister at The Hague, have been withdrawn from the respective capitals. Dr. Van Weede has already left here.

Herr Pott also represented the Transvaal at Lourenco Marques up to a short time ago, when Portugal withdrew his exequatur for the same reason as was given when his Dutch credentials were canceled two days ago.

The Trouble Explained.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Lisbon correspondent of The Standard, in a dispatch giving the history of the Pott dispute, says:

"Portugal's first request to Holland to withdraw Herr Potts was made Nov. 17. Holland offered on Nov. 27 to give him a three months' leave of absence, and Portugal accepted this solution on condition that he should be withdrawn at the expiration of his leave. Holland did not reply until Dec. 4, when she claimed the right to make a prior investigation at Lourenco Marques. Portugal considered this impertinent and withdrew Herr Pott's exequatur. Thereupon Holland ordered her representative to leave Lisbon, and Portugal followed suit."

A Dutch Version.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 8.—It is semiofficially stated that no question has been raised as to the recall of Count de Selir, the Portuguese minister at The Hague. He is visiting Lisbon for a few days in connection with the affair of Herr Pott, but will return here. It is also stated that Dr. Van Weede, the Dutch minister to Portugal, will remain at Lisbon. It is admitted, however, that the relations between the two countries are undoubtedly strained.

Value of Vanderbilt Estate Fixed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—After a long delay the heirs of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt have agreed to the appraisement of the estate as made by G. D. Hasbrouck, representing the state comptroller. This appraisement is $52,500,000 for the real estate. The figures insisted on by the heirs were $49,826,856.96, but Mr. Hasbrouck stood firm and has at last gained his point. The transfer tax on the Vanderbilt estate will reach $520,000. Already the executors have paid into the state the sum of $379,500, which was paid early to get advantage of a reduction of 5 per cent. Comptroller Coler will get a snug sum from the Vanderbilt estate. His fee will amount to $52,000.

Tried to Kill His Father-in-law.

NYACK, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The authorities are looking for George Cooper, who fired two shots from a double barreled gun at his father-in-law, John Henry Goetschius, a well known citizen of Suffern. Mr. Goetschius was in the act of retiring, but had not lighted a lamp, when Cooper approached a window and fired into the room. The charges went into the ceiling and walls, narrowly missing Goetschius. Cooper is believed to be mentally unbalanced because of a sunstroke.

The Hackensack Murder.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Coroner Tracey of Hackensack, N. J., has concluded the inquest in the murder of Frank Toscani, which occurred on Sunday night, and the jury found that the deed was committed by some person to them unknown. Pietro Viccio, who was well nigh tortured to death with stilettos by Toscani's friends because they thought him to be the murderer, is believed to be innocent. It has been determined that the two men who escaped are the probable murderers.

Investigating Booz Case.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Colonel Mills is conducting a personal investigation bearing upon the alleged hazing of the late Oscar L. Booz, who was a cadet at the Military academy in 1898 and whose death last Monday is attributed to the injuries he received during such hazing. The colonel is questioning respectively all the cadets of the first and second classes that he may be prepared to submit a report to the war department if such is desired.

Hospital For Children.

ALBANY, Dec. 8.—The New York State Hospital For the Care of Crippled and Deformed Children, established by chapter 369 of the laws of 1900, is now open for the reception and treatment of patients. The hospital is located in Tarrytown, N. Y., at Paulding avenue and the Hudson river, about one mile below the railroad station. It has accommodation for about 25 patients.

Suffered Eleven Years.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 8.—After living 11 years without eating solid food Charles, the 14-year-old son of Hiram Naher of West Woodstock, is dead. When 3 years old, he drank a solution of concentrated lye which destroyed his stomach. For 11 years he was able to take no nourishment except milk. The boy never grew any larger after the accident.

Human Skeleton Found.

GREYSTONE, Conn., Dec. 8.—The skeleton of a human being has been found in the woods near this place. Medical Examiner Wellington pronounced death to have occurred about six months ago. The victim has not yet been identified.

Railroad Man's Mysterious Death.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Henry J. Hayden, vice president of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, jumped or fell to his death from the fourth story window of his residence in this city last evening.

King Oscar Able to Be Out.

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 8.—King Oscar has so far recovered from his recent illness that he now drives about the city and has recently been purchasing Christmas presents. He looks vigorous.

Mr. Murphy's Future.

From the Trenton correspondent of the New York Herald comes the hint that some of the best informed politicians at the State capital believe that Franklin Murphy will be given a foreign appointment by President McKinley. All through the last campaign, the name of Mr. Murphy as the probable nominee of the Republican party for the Governorship next year was constantly heard. The boom of Senator Pitney, which was so strong immediately after Foster M. Voorhees was nominated, dwindled into insignificance beside the one in favor of the chairman of the Republican State committee. Mr. Murphy's services to his party were of such importance that it was generally conceded that he deserved marked recognition at the hands of his party. It was understood that Mr. Murphy was willing to succeed Governor Voorhees and his friends long ago signified their intention of backing him for the nomination.

Of course a foreign appointment for Mr. Murphy would not necessarily put him out of the race for the Gubernatorial nomination, but, if the berth should be an important one, as it would most likely be, Mr. Murphy's rivals for the nomination could say with reason that he had already been well taken care of by the Republican party. It may be that this possible appointment has been suggested by certain politicians who are interested in the candidacy of some other Jerseyite who aspires to the chief executive office of the State.

Mr. Murphy has many friends in Plainfield as well as throughout the State who would be pleased to see him receive any honor which the Republican party might bestow, but they have in the past, at least, declared themselves in favor of Mr. Murphy for the Gubernatorial place on the ticket, and will undoubtedly support him at the State convention next fall should his name be presented at that time.

One of the largest and most elaborate weddings ever witnessed in Plainfield takes place this afternoon at one of the leading churches of the city. It is one of the events of the month in local society circles. One of Plainfield's charming young women made her debut in Plainfield society at a large reception held last evening. Dinners, dances, amateur dramatics, teas and other social pleasures are being arranged for this winter of 1900 01, which promise to make it the most brilliant season ever known in Plainfield.

An experienced general advertiser announces this rule says the Philadelphia Record for the benefit of others: "Be careful to use only such mediums as reach people who have use for the kind of goods you sell" The reason given for this rule is this: "At first I took space in all prominent newspapers, but found that some of them were chiefly political, and were read almost exclusively by politicians and not by families. The returns from such newspapers were never satisfactory."

During the past two years, golf has made wonderful strides into popularity in Plainfield. This city now possesses two healthy clubs both of which possess excellent courses. Thanksgiving Day marked the end of the season at the Park Golf Club. Today the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club ends a season which has been a complete and entire success. So satisfactorily has the club been managed that the receipts exceed the expenditures and its financial standing is all that can be desired.

The Central Railroad Company is about to build two new ferry boats. One of them should certainly be named "Bound Brook."—Bound Brook Chronicle.

Not a bad idea, Editor Mason, but there are too many towns of more importance and with more euphonious names than Bound Brook to leave much likelihood of the suggestion being adopted.

The end of the year and the century is near at hand. It has been quite an eventful one for this nation. What would our forefathers of a century ago say to us now?

The rendition of the famous oratorio "Messiah" for the public of Plainfield will be one of the important events of the Chrismas season.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

If Alvah A. Clark is the Democratic nominee for United States Senator, it will be rather embarrassing for Senator Reed, his son in law, to vote against him, but such is politics.—Bound Brook Chronicle.

* * * * *

Whether the compliment of a Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator, by our incoming Legislature, be worth anything or not, we agree with that straight and stalwart champion of Democracy, James E. Martine, that it should be given only to some one who has been "loyal and zealous to our principles and true to our party's caddidates."—Clinton (N. J.) Democrat.

* * * * *

There are so many Republicans in Plainfield that they have occasional elections among themselves. This is what happened on Tuesday last. The Republicans made an excellent mayoralty ticket, and the Democrats made an excellent mayoralty ticket, and, just to make the contest interesting a number of the leading Republicans turned in and sided with the Democrats. The result was a moderately close contest for mayor, but an increased Republican majority for the other candidates on the ticket. This is, of course, the pleasant view to take of the Plainfield charter election, but there is a deeper cause for the division on the mayoralty question. Those Republicans who opposed the regular ticket are derisively called "roosters," because they do business in New York city and have their homes in Plainfield. The facts are that these "roosters" are among the very best of Plainfield's citizens and property owners, and are among the very largest of the taxpayers. They are opposed to certain local factions because they hold that these factions do not run local politics on a high and reputable plane, and because they are too subservient to local leaders and "bosses." The struggle between these different elements in Plainfield has been in progress for several years, but the mayoralty election of Tuesday last was one of its most significant evidences. Present time appearances indicate that the contest is by no means ended.—Elizabeth Journal.

Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches.

For destruction and complete riddance of Cock Roaches, Beetles, Wood and Water Bugs, Bed Bugs, Ants, Rats, Mice, etc., "Rough on Rats," though poisonous, if used with care is most effective. In fact it is the only thing that will permanently annihilate Bed Bugs and Cock Roaches. As an exterminator of Rats and Mice, "Rough on Rats" is the old reliable that never fails nor disappoints. They "don't die in the house." Is sold all around the world. Is used by all civilized nations of the earth. Is the most extensively advertised, the best know and has the largest sale of any article of its kind on the face of the globe. It gives satisfaction every time. Beware of imitations. I employ no peddlers. Have a suspicion of any dealer offering substitutes said to be as good. 15c. and 25c.

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 8.—With a large number in attendance the fair and bazaar of the Parish Guild of Holy Innocents' church opened in Friendship Hall last evening. Beside the attractions offered at the booths those present were entertained with an excellent musical programme consisting of banjo solos by Joseph Waglow and piano duets by Miss Emma Nelson and Miss Irene Day. The booths were well patronized. The booths and those in charge are as follows: Paul Reusch's confectionery booth, Miss Josie Reusch, Miss Lizzie Reusch and Miss Elsie Peters; W. B. Smith's confectionery booth, Mrs. Sutton and Miss Nora Wade; A. G. Nelson's grocery booth, Miss Irene Day and Miss Edna Smalley; P. W. Brakeley's drug booth, Maxwell Brakeley, Miss Nellie Tabb and Miss Rose Haynes; A. Dealaman's grocery booth, Mrs. Bishop and Miss May Hallet. A feature of the affair is a postoffice in charge of Miss Rita Brokaw and Miss Alice Hallet. Peanuts and lemonade are sold from a boat in charge of Miss Jessie Haynes and Miss May Hallet. The entire affair is in charge of a committee consisting of Miss May O Fulper, Miss Emma Nelson, Miss Jessie Haynes and Miss Irene Day This evening a representation of Miss Partington entertaining her friends will be given.

W. J. Davis has in his keeping a derby hat, a glove and an ax which the burglar, who attempted to enter his store yesterday morning, left behind in his hurried flight. The missing gentleman can have the articles upon application to Mr. Davis.

Miss Estella Sofield entertained the members of the Dunellen Methodist church choir last evening. Several hours were passed in a pleasant manner.

Frank Montross, of Newark, visited friends in town yesterday.

William Jenner was in New York on business yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, December 8.—The population of Scotch Plains is now increased by two, the recent arrivals being a fine pair of twins which arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Angelo, of Hunter avenue, yesterday morning

"Distributing the Bread" will be the subject of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermon tomorrow morning. In the evening the third of the series of sermons upon "The Elder Son" will be given. Subject: "The Elder Son Enraged."

E. M. Johnston is removing his coal office near the depot from the railroad company property across South avenue upon the land of the New Jersey Land Improvement Company.

Front street and part of Park avenue was in total darkness last night owing to the fuse on that circuit of lights burning out. The trouble will be attended to today.

The corps of teachers in the school have returned from a two days' session of the Teachers' Institute at Elizabeth.

William Jimerson and sister have removed from the Hollingsworth cottage on Front street to Stanbery avenue.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Dec. 8—Wednesday evening, Prof. H. H. Halls will give an entertainment in the schoolhouse. Moving pictures will be the feature of the evening, and among the subjects to be treated in this manner will be "Ten Nights in the Bar-Room," "Life of Christ," and "Wonderful Things." He appears at the Union School house on the preceeding Tuesday evening.

The revival meeting last night was one of the best. In the after meeting a number of young men and young women gave their first testimony on the Lords' side. The attendance was large. It was a sunshine meeting.

William Manning was appointed by the Board of Education as one of a committee to arrange for an entertainment at the opening of the new school-house which is expected to be ready some time in January.

Rev. Mr. Cubberly will speak tomorrow on "The Sound of Abundance of Rain." Revival hymns will be sung. A "Happy Hour" service will be held in the evening.

John Powers, who was employed on the L. V. R. R., has taken a position in the Metuchen freight office. His new duties will be assumed Monday.

Miss Nellie Manning is spending the day in New York making some Christmas purchases.

A meeting was called today of the officials of the Lehigh Valley railroad.

Henry Arrowsmith leaves Monday to take a position in New York.

Mrs. George Ryno is entertaining out of town friends.

LABOR STATISTICS.

Annual Report of Bureau of Labor Statistics is Completed and is Now Being Printed.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, Dec. 8—Chief Staineby, of the New Jersey Bureau of Labor Statistics, has completed his annual report and it is now in the hands of the printer.

In the first section of the report the statistics of manufacturers in the State for the year 1899 are given. The number of manufacturing establishments considered is 1,738. Of these 934 are managed by private firms and 804 by corporations.

According to report, the capital invested in establishments managed by private firms amounts to $48,761,189 and by corporations $206,922,361. The total amount of capital invested in the 1,738 manufacturing establishments is $255,689 550. The average number of persons employed (male and female) throughout the year is 185,285. The total amount paid in wages is $76 161,051.

The second section of the report contains a comparison of the number of persons employed and the amounts paid in wages at all the principal manufacturing establishments in the State for the years 1898 and 1899. The increase in wages is shown to have been nine and eight-tenths per cent. A slight decline in prices—two and five tenths per cent.—is shown in 1900, as compared with 1898.

Part three contains a study of the trade unions of New Jersey, showing their growth, cost of maintenance and benefit features.

Part four contains a study of the glass industry and the company stores of South Jersey, showing the growth of both from the conditions attending the establishment of the first glass plants in that section of the State.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

Perhaps nothing speaks more for the kindly ways of the late George W. Grant, former captain of police, than the fact that after his death and when the body might be seen by friends, numbers of little children came that they might look upon him and each had some incident to tell of his kindness to them. Others of the poorest and lowliest came to tell of his good deeds and in their hearts is a monument above price.

• • • • •

It was at one of those real "swell" card club meetings and of course everyone was anxious to win a prize. It so happened that one lady present, an expert player, and the envy of her sisters, captured the first prize for her sex. This was a handseme lace collar valued at $3. When it became known that this woman had secured the prize she was looked upon by envious eyes. The prize was gracefully accepted and she pretended to be very well pleased. Not so, however. She returned home and after passing a restless night thinking about that lace collar, she decided early the next morning that she would hasten to the store where it was purchased and persuade the proprietor to exchange it for something else which she wanted. She met the proprietor and told him that she was more than blessed with collars, especially lace ones, and wouldn't he please be so kind as to make an exchange. The owner of the shop tried to reason with the woman and impress upon her mind that such a gift should be prized for the giver's sake. All the reasoning in the world could not convince the woman that her wish was foolish and she left the store in a state of excitement and very warm, especially in the region where lace collars are worn.

She threatened to take all her trade away, and, besides, she would influence the fifteen other members of the club and see that they did not trade at the store in the future. The proprietor, a genial man, blessed with plenty of patience and filled with long suffering bade the woman good-bye and told her to do her worst. The woman had not been away very long when she returned and visiting a certain part of the store discovered an article that she desired very much. She looked at the price mark, $1 48, hesitated and finally exclaimed, "Well, I will sacrifice my lace collar even if this article is only half the value," and back to the proprietor she went and in pleading tones asked him if he would not please make the exchange. Recognizing her plight and her grief the good-hearted man consented and with many sighs of relief the much-perplexed woman left the store, feeling that she had at least gained her point. The proprietor then sought a quiet corner and he wondered when woman would cease to be such a perplexing problem.

Richard Boice, $400; John Gracely, $350; Charles Jensen, $300. These places now pay $225 a year. The resolution was adopted. This led to considerable discussion regarding the saloon of William Sisser, situated near the county line on Somerset street, mention of which will be found in another column.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeabley aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Curtis M. Thorpe, of Norwood avenue, is detained at home by an attack of the grip.

A SLOW RACE.

Oxen Ridden by Their Owners Without Whips, Spur, Yoke or Harness.

A race that in a peculiar sense is not to the swift is one that is run—if the word may be allowed in such a connection—every year in the provincial districts of Germany, says Youth's Companion.

Early in May, during the celebration of a festival that to a certain extent corresponds to the English May day, an ox-race is held. The entrance fee is small, but the conditions are peculiar.

Each ox must be ridden by its owner, and ridden bareback. No whip, spur, yoke, harness nor any means of guiding the animal is allowed. The rider must depend entirely on his voice to accomplish the end he has in view, and, as the oxen do not race on a track, but across a large open field, the training of the animals and the skill of the rider are severely tested.

Speed is a secondary consideration in this race, for the rider who can induce his steed to go in a straight line is sure to win.

The start is made at one side of a field a mile square, the finish being at the opposite side. When the competitors are lined up and the signal is given the fun begins.

Despite the efforts of the riders, the majority of the oxen refuse to head toward the opposite mark, and, as spectators are allowed in the field, and are at liberty to do anything they wish to interfere with the rider except touch him or his mount, the difficulties of the race are not inconsiderable.

Oxen are not excitable beasts as a rule, but the shouts of the spectators and the efforts of the riders soon reduce them to a state of complete bewilderment. It often happens that an hour has passed before one of the oxen is ridden "under the wire."

But when once the task is accomplished the winning rider is fully repaid for his pains. His ox is decorated with garlands and flowers, and the lucky owner receives a small money prize.

But the honor which the victory brings is the great thing. Winning riders are remembered for years, and it frequently happens that when a peasant refers to some past event, he recalls it to the mind of his listener not by mentioning the date when it took place, but by saying it was in the year when So-and-so won the ox-race.

HARD SOAP.

Directions for Making a Good Article for Household Use.

The best hard soap we know of is made of a pound can of pure potash, five pounds of grease, tried out and strained, one tablespoonful of pulverized borax, five cents' worth of "rock" ammonia and one quart of soft water. If you have no soft water, catch rain water for the purpose. Where water is very hard and muddy, as the waters of the Mississippi are, a certain amount of potash or sal soda should be stirred into the water. It will dissolve at once. This will cause the mud and impurities to settle. The clear water can then be dipped off the sediment. Any good hard soap will do well in this water. The amount of potash to use to a gallon of hard, muddy water to clear it in the way described depends on the condition of the water. Use a tablespoonful of the crystals of potash to a gallon of water, says the New York Tribune.

To make the soap, empty the pound of potash in a quart of water in which a teaspoonful of borax has been dissolved. The potash will make a strong, hot lye. When it is cool melt the five pounds of grease ready. It must be free from salt, and strained. Stir the five cents' worth of rock ammonia in the lye, and when it is melted pour the lye into the warm, melted grease and stir it for about ten minutes, when it will be thick enough to pour into molds. It hardens very quickly. Crease it when it has stood a day and cut it into bars as soon as it seems hard enough, and let them dry several days before trying to use them. More sal soda must be used to soften and settle than potash. Too much of either is very bad for clothes, as everyone should know, but where the water is hard it is necessary to use some such powerful alkali to render it fit for use, and in such water it does not do the same injury to clothes it does in soft water, where it is not needed.

Preußen.

Provinz Brandenburg.

Berlin. Das immobile Gemeindevermögen der Stadt Berlin betrug am 31. März 1899 395,012,624 Mark, das bewegliche Gemeindevermögen 182,411,336 Mark. Es bedeutet dies eine Zunahme von 8,738,064 Mark gegenüber dem Vorjahre. Die Passiva beliefen sich am 31. März 1899 auf 287,589,737 Mark, oder auf 414,585 Mark weniger als im Vorjahre.—Wie verlautet, werden sämmtliche alten Grenadier-Regimenter zur 200jährigen Feier des Bestehens des Königreichs Preußen am 18. Januar n. J. als Auszeichnung Gardelitzen, wie sie bereits die Regimenter 2 und 7 tragen, erhalten.—Die vor etwa Jahresfrist von ruchloser Hand verstümmelten Nebenfiguren in der Siegesallee wurden neulich durch neue Marmorbüsten ersetzt.—Kürzlich starb im Alter von 46 Jahren Wilhelm Bogler, Mitglied der Redaktion der „National-Zeitung."—Die Geschäftsordnungs-Kommission des Reichstags hat sich geweigert, der Staatsanwaltschaft in Mannheim die verlangte Genehmigung zur strafrechtlichen Verfolgung der Sozialisten Opificius in Pforzheim und Dreesbach in Mannheim wegen Beleidigung des Reichstags zu ertheilen. Die Beleidigung sollte nach Ansicht der Staatsanwaltschaft in einer Flugschrift „An das deutsche Volk" enthalten sein.

Eberswalde. Der Zeitungsbesitzer Adolf Lemme ist nach bedeutenden Wechselfälschungen flüchtig geworden.

Staaken. Hier wurde der Bauerältster Krause in fast vollendetem 90. Lebensjahre zu Grabe getragen. In der bewegten Zeit des Jahres 1848 gehörte er mit zu jenen märkischen Bauern, die vor König Friedrich Wilhelm dem Vierten erschienen, um ihm das Gelöbniß unwandelbarer Treue abzulegen.

Provinz Hannover.

Hildesheim. Vor Kurzem feierte der Oberkonsistorialrath und Generalsuperintendent Dr. Hahn sein 50jähriges Jubiläum als Geistlicher. In 1883 erhielt er anläßlich der Luther-Feier von der Universität Göttingen die theologische Doktorwürde.

Norden. Mit einem Kostenaufwand von 6000 Mark soll hier ein Standbild für den Fürsten Bismarck errichtet werden. Mit der Ausführung ist der Berliner Bildhauer Arnold Künne beauftragt.

Sögel. Aus Unvorsichtigkeit erschoß im Oktober d. J. der Primaner Dinklage seine eigene Mutter. Letzthin wurde er zu 14 Tagen Gefängniß verurtheilt. Zugleich wurde ein Gnadengesuch an den Kaiser abgesandt.

Provinz Hessen-Nassau.

Kassel. Der Arbeiter Georg Pfläging, der Mörder seiner Schwägerin, der ledigen Fuhrmann, wurde letzthin hingerichtet.

Frankfurt. Bei der Stadtverordnetenwahl unterlagen die Sozialdemokraten; nur in einem Bezirk kamen sie in die Stichwahl. Das Centrum errang zum ersten Mal zwei Sitze, außerdem wurde zum ersten Mal ein Zünftler (Antisemit) gewählt.

Wiesbaden. Der nassauische Heilstättenverein für Lungenkranke hat beschlossen, für die Heilstätte Naurod 400,000 Mark in Anschlag zu bringen.

Provinz Pommern.

Stettin. Wegen Urkundenfälschung wurde der Opernsänger Georg Steinbeck zu vier Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Pasewalk. Im hiesigen Kirchenforst wurde der 82jährige Rentier Zander aus Berlin, ein geborener Pasewalker, erhängt aufgefunden. Das Motiv für den Selbstmord ist unbekannt.

Wolgast. Bei der Insel Greifswalder Oie wurde das Wrack des schwedischen Schoners „Maria" gefunden. Das Schiff war von einem unbekannten Dampfer angerannt. Die Besatzung, aus drei Mann bestehend, hatte sich im Schiffsboote gerettet.

Provinz Posen.

Gnesen. Hier ist der 79 Jahre alte Oberbürgermeister Machatius gestorben. Er stand durch 43 Jahre an der Spitze der städtischen Verwaltung. Als er sein Amt antrat, zählte Gnesen nur 6000 Einwohner, bei seiner Pensionirung am 1. Oktober 1895 aber über 20,000.

Jarotschin. Ein unter dem Namen „Steuersupernumerar v. Broniewski aus Meseritz" im Adam'schen Hotel zu Jarotschin wohnender Gast verließ nach mehrtägigem Aufenthalt das Hotel, ohne seine Zeche zu bezahlen. Der ihn verfolgende Kellner des Hotels wurde von ihm durch einen Revolverschuß lebensgefährlich verletzt. Broniewski flüchtete sich in einen Wald und konnte nicht ermittelt werden.

Some time ago I had my attention called to Ripans Tabules for heart trouble caused by indigestion, by one of my friends who had been using them for some time. I never found any relief till I began using the Ripans, but I have found great relief from them, and can say that I am cured. At times I feel slight symptoms of it when I eat a little too much, but that is my own fault. I always keep the Tabules on hand, and take one whenever I feel indisposed the least bit. I never will hesitate to recommend them to any one in this bad state of health.

The Blouse in Many Forms Still a Favorite

Other Fancies of Fashion That Are to Be Seen in New York City

THE inverted box plait the correct thing in skirts

ONE of the real fashion authorities, a person whose word is accepted as final in the realm of the mode, says the prevailing method of finishing the back of the winter skirts will be in an inverted box plait.

But it would hardly take a fashion expert to see that at the present time, for these inverted box plaits are everywhere, and are one of the very few things in which fashion really seems inclined to dictate. A woman may wear almost any kind of a gown that suits her fancy, but if she wishes to be considered in with the prevailing mode her skirt must have the inverted box plait.

We have had the plaited skirt in all its forms. There have been ordinary box plaits, and the double and triple box plaits, all of which had a short career of usefulness and popular favor, but now all have given way to the much more graceful in-turning plaits, which seem destined to reign throughout the winter.

Many of the skirts with these inverted plaits have the plaits stitched down for a few inches below the waist and then allowed to flare. In this way is secured almost the effect of the habit back skirt at the top.

I would not attempt to say that the inverted plaits will drive the other styles of plaited skirts out entirely, for many of them will be worn. Even at this late day dressmakers tell me they have a few orders which call for the double and triple plaits in place of the more popular inverted style, but such orders are the exception rather than the rule. If one wishes to be sure of being right it is much safer to order the inverted plait than any other style of finish for the back of the skirt.

THE blouse waist is with us in great variety

DESPITE the many rumors that we hear at every turn regarding the disappearance of the blouse, it is still with us, and even in more gorgeous forms than ever before known.

I might almost say with truth that there are hundreds of varieties of the pretty blouses in soft and clinging cloths. Dots, and above all else embroideries, are the latest novelties in the realm of blouses. Plaits, tucks and folds, which adapt themselves to the curve of the figure, are in great demand, so say the modistes. For combination with the clinging variety of cloths velvet is the favorite.

OF A RICH CREAM CLOTH.

To describe some of these charming blouses I will begin with one in delicate sky-blue cloth. It is closely tucked and inserted with gold embroidery across the front and the upper half of the sleeves. The collar and round yoke have silk herring-bone stitching as entredeux between folds of silk; the same trimming on the cuffs, with a girdle of blue velvet to finish.

Another blouse is of a fashionable rich cream cloth, combined with handsome quipure insertion of a deeper shade of cream, the insertion coming from each shoulder and crossing over on each side of the blouse, this giving an excellent effect. The lace is on the sleeve just below the elbow, with tucking and puffing with the lace at the wrist.

A third that is pretty is a smart affair of automobile red cloth, trimmed with cording, shell tucking forming a deep pointed yoke and vest. The cording is on the lower half of the bodice and on the upper part of the sleeves. There are wee steel buttons on the yoke and sleeves and a smartly arranged bow of taffeta at the yoke.

SOME pretty accessories that are seen in stores

HERE are a few of the charming little novelties and accessories of dress that one can see in almost every store and which capture so much of our spare change:

A pretty effect of gold is given in black velvet ribbon, which is embroidered with tiny bow knots in gold thread, the knots showing on both the velvet and satin sides of the ribbon.

The latest matinee bag is of fancy colored leather, suspended by a ribbon over one shoulder. The bag is large enough to hold opera glasses, purse, handkerchief, odor flask and any other desirable trifles.

The new muffs are large and varied in style between the soft round muff of fur, with tails across one side, and the dainty little novelty of velvet, fur and chiffon. One kind of large muff is drawn up at the top, where three little heads are the finish, with some gold tassels attached to gold cords.

Feather boa holders have a safety pin fasten which is secured to the coat or gown at the back, and the boa can be slipped into the long curves of the gold or silver above and held in place.

The shaped belt is still popular and likely to remain so for some time, as it tends to accentuate the downward dip of the waist line that now is considered "the only wear." Some are so deep as to be really corselets, others narrow as the leather belt that still is worn with walking, golfing and wheeling costumes.

High Louis XIV. heels are the correct thing for dressy shoes, and colored suede slippers which match the gown are one of the fads in footgear. If you cannot afford a variety of shoes, brown will answer every purpose with different colored gowns. Of course, the stockings must match the shoes.

The smallest possible bolero of fur has appeared, and makes a charming addition of beauty and warmth to the costume. It is usually without sleeves, but sometimes has a bell-shaped sleeve to the elbow. The fur gauntleted glove forms a desirable addition to this dainty jacket.

SARAH DAVIDSON.

Good Heat Radiator.

The tendency of heat to diffuse itself is effected by radiation, conduction and convection. Nearly all dull and dark substances are good radiators, while bright polished surfaces radiate badly. Some substances conduct heat more freely than others, silver among the metals being the best conductor, and as a unit of measurement is taken at 1,000. Compared with silver as a conductor, gold is 981, copper 845, zinc 641, tin 422, steel 397 and wrought iron 436. Glass, wood, gases, liquids and resinous substances are bad conductors. Water is such a poor conductor that if heat is applied to the top it will boil at the top while the bottom will remain cold.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

Sneeze-Wood.

Among its many peculiarities, South Africa includes the "sneeze-wood" tree, which takes its name from the fact that one cannot cut it with a saw without sneezing, as the fine dust has exactly the effect of snuff. Even in planing the wood it will sometimes cause sneezing. No insect, worm, or barnacle will touch it. It is very bitter to the taste, and its specific gravity is heavier than water. The color is light brown, the grain very close and hard. It is a nice-looking wood, and takes a good polish. For dock work, piers or petties it is a useful timber, lasting a long while under water.—Building News.

BITTEN BY DOG.

Jack Kenney, of East Second Street, Attacked by Dog Belonging to Robert McCormick.

Jack Kenney, the young son of John J. Kenney, of East Second street, was severely bitten by a dog yesterday afternoon. The boy was playing with a companion when the animal ran at him and fastened its teeth in his leg near the thigh, inflicting several lacerations. The dog, which is of the Scotch terrier breed, belongs to Robert McCormick, a neighbor.

The lad was taken to the office of Dr. Jenkins, who cauterized the wounds. The doctor does not believe any serious results will follow the dog's attack. He said that he would not advise having the dog killed until it could be ascertained whether it has the rabbies. Mr. McCormick, the owner of the dog, said he was willing to have the animal killed if Mr. Kenney desired.

Appealed at Once.

In Justice Moffett's court yesterday judgment was rendered for the full amount and costs in the contract case of Vitromile against Acolia. The defendant immediately filed notice of appeal to the Court of Common Pleas.

To Drain Front Street.

New drain pipes are being installed in Washington avenue between Front street and the brook to carry the surface water from Front street and Washington avenue.

After Game.

Freeholder Andrew Larkins, of the borough, and Fred Covey, of West Second street, are spending today hunting on Assemblyman Cooper's farm at Warrenville.

S. J. Neal's Funeral.

The funeral of Samuel J. Neal will be held from his late home on Duer street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Christmas Day at Hospital.

The usual Christmas Day celebration will be held at Muhlenberg Hospital this year and the Woman's Auxiliary Board is very busy arranging for the event.

Justice Huff's Court.

In Justice Huff's court the contract cases of Mintze against Glazler, and Arnold against O'Connors, were adjourned today for one week.

Hospital is Full.

There are twenty-five patients at the hospital and the accommodations have reached the limit.

Miss Marion Richardson, of New York, formerly of Kentucky, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Ackerman, of Crescent avenue.

Use Allen's Foot-Ease in Your Gloves

A lady writes: "I shake Allen's Foot-Ease into my gloves and rub a little on my hands. It saves my gloves by absorbing perspiration. It is a most dainty toilet powder." WILL FIGHT TROLLEY.

Property Owners Along Line of Metuchen-Perth Amboy Talk of Injunctions and Cannon.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Dec. 8.—The Raritan Traction Company, which secured its franchise to build a trolley road between Perth Amboy and Metuchen from the Freeholders on Wednesday will begin work at the earliest opportunity, it is reported. The company already has material along the road.

It is also claimed that the effort to build the road will be met with every possible legal obstacle and it is expected that those who object to the road will secure injunctions to stop the work. One man who objects and who attended the meeting on Wednesday threatened to place a cannon on his premises and to shoot down the first workman who tries to place a pole or lay a rail before his place.

NEW TENNIS CLUB.

Enthusiasts Who Played on J. H Doane's Court Have Organized Cedar Brook Tennis Club.

A meeting was held at the residence of Joseph E. Morse, of Franklin place, last evening, at which the Cedar Brook Tennis Club was formally organized. It is composed of those who were regular players on the tennis court of J. Hervey Doane, of LaGrande avenue, last summer.

The club plans to build two courts in the field opposite Mr. Doane's residence. The following officers were elected: President, J. Hervey Doane; vice president, Charles B. Morse; secretary, D. Stuart Pope; treasurer, James A. Stafford.

Home From Maine.

Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., of Franklin place, returned to Plainfield last evening from Cutler, Me., where he has been since spring personally superintending his sardine factory. He will remain in Plainfield for a month or more and take a much needed rest.

"Messiah" Chorus Meeting.

There will be a meeting of "The Messiah" chorus at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Monday evening and members are requested to be in their seats promptly at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock as heretofore.

HONESTY IN ICELAND.

Crime Is Almost Unknown There and All Classes of Society Are Thoroughly Educated.

To the average reader Iceland is as little known as the interior of Africa. Yet Iceland is a famous country, famous for the achievements of its heroes, for the poetry and prose it has given to the world, and above all, for the education that pervades all classes.

The love of learning is almost a mania in Iceland, and it is the rarest thing in the world to meet a native who cannot read and write.

Another admirable trait is the remarkable honesty which prevails in Iceland. Crime is almost unknown; the people never lock their doors, and but two cases of thieving are known to have taken place within many years.

One was an Icelander who had broken his arm, and whose family in the winter were suffering for food. He stole several sheep, and was finally detected. He was at once put under medical care for his injury, provisions were furnished for his family, and in time he was given work. This was his punishment.

The other case was a German who stole 17 sheep. He was in comfortable circumstances, and the theft was malicious. His punishment was to sell all his property, restore the value of his thefts and leave the country, or be executed. He left at once.—Golden Days.

CONNELLY SUES BLATZ.

Connelly Alleges That He Was Thrown Out of Blatz's Saloon and Badly Injured—Wants $5,000 Damages.

Through his lawyers, Wm. G. DeMeza and Codington & Swackhamer, suit has been instituted by Patrick Connelly, of West Third street, against Joseph A. Blatz for $5,000 damages. The case will probably be tried in the January term of the New Jersey Supreme Court.

On the night of November 11, Connelly was thrown out of Blatz's saloon, it is alleged, and on striking his head against a curbstone received severe injuries which necesitated his being taken to Muhlenberg Hospital.

The flesh was badly torn from the scalp and he was dazed for several days afterward. He was confined to the hospital for twenty-three days.

Although able to leave the institution he has not yet recovered. Another operation will be performed tomorrow. Connelly is a machinist by trade and is employed in one of the local factories.

BRILLIANTLY WEDDED IN PRESENCE OF MANY

Most Noted and Elaborate Wedding of Year Was That of Miss Shepard and Mr. Bright.

IN CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

CEREMONY FOLLOWED BY RECEPTION AT HER PARENT'S HOME.

Fashionable Circles of Many Eastern Cities Were Represented at Wedding—Elaborate Gowns—Magnificent Gifts.

The society event of the holiday season in this city was the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Joanna Shepard, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, of the "Gables," East Front street, and Osborn Wyckoff Bright, of New York city. Miss Shepard is one of the most popular of the society young women in this city and New York, where here parents are recognized as prominent in the circles of the fashionable set. The event drew upon the best that society affords in this vicinity. It was the most noted of any that has been held in this city in some years. The list of the invited guests ran into the hundreds and was composed entirely of the elite of the various cities of the east.

The bride, Miss "Daisy" Shepard, as she is called by her parents and intimate friends, is a niece of the late Elliott F. Shepard, of New York; also of the architect, William Rutherford Mead; of the sculptor, Larkin G. Mead, Italy; and of Mrs. William Dean Howells, wife of the author. She is a general favorite in society and a lover of outdoor sports, being an enthusiastic golfer, one of the best on the local links. She is a member of the Baltusrol and Hillside Golf Clubs and of the Park Club, of North Plainfield. Miss Shepard is perfectly at home in the saddle, and is an accomplished whip.

The groom is a son of the late Osborn E. Bright, lawyer, of New York, and is secretary of the Security and Trust Company of that city. He is also a lover of field sports and numbers among his friends many of the most prominent and influential residents of New York. Mr. Shepard, the bride's father, is vice-president of the American Bank Note Company, of New York.

The nuptials were celebrated at 3 o'clock in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church in the presence of a host of friends of the young couple. In fact the edifice was too small to accommodate all who wished to witness the ceremony. Fortunately for the friends of the families admission to the church was by card. As it was, however, the church was filled to its limit.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, pastor of the church. In front and surrounding the platform was a profusion of flowers and palms, whose fragrance permeated the atmosphere of the edifice.

The bridal party entered the church in the usual style. First came two ribbon boys, Lawrence B. Smith and Lawrence M. Mead. Next the ushers, Arthur Pemberton Sturges, Robert Varnum, George Blagden, Jr., and Prescott Slade, of New York; Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., and Rutherford Mead Shepard, brothers of the bride. The ushers wore frock coats and white vests and displayed boutonniers of lilies of the valley.

The bridemaids followed. They were Miss Edith Smalley, of Netherwood, Miss Edith Hyde, of Plainfield, Miss Eleanor Russell, Miss Esther Hoppin, Miss Una Soley and Miss Sarah Thompson, of New York. Following the bridemaids came the matron of honor in the person of Mrs. John Doull Miller, of Plainfield, sister of the bride.

The bride, escorted by her father, completed the procession, which wended itself slowly up the east aisle. At the platform the groom, attended by his best man, Burritt Hamilton Shepard, brother of the bride, met his affianced. Then the bridal party arranged itself in front of Dr. Richards, the bride and groom facing the minister and the others forming a half circle.

As the wedding party proceeded up the aisle, Ward Stephens, the organist, rendered Lohengrin's wedding march. When the sweet strains of the beautiful music died away Dr. Richards began the solemn service that changed maid to bride and bachelor to benedict. He used the Episcopal form. After the happy couple had been pronounced man and wife the bridal party retraced its steps to the church door by the west aisle, though in a reversed form, Mr. and Mrs. Bright leading the procession.

The music was of a high order of excellence. It had been prepared especially by Ward Stephens, the regular organist and musical director of the Crescent Avenue church. Mr. Stephens was assisted by Hans Kronold, a celebrated 'cellist, of New York. Before the bridal party entered the following musical programme was rendered, much to the gratification of the immense throng of cultured people who filled every seat in the church.

Nuptial March.....Guilmant
Prayer from Rienzi.....Wagner
Nocturne.....Chopin
Prize Song from "die Meistersinger".Wagner
Faust Fantasie.....Gounod
Arranged by Mr. Stephens.
Largo.....Handel
Polonaise.....Chopin

During the ceremony Mr. Stephens played softly the "Traumerei" by Schumann. When the bridal party left the altar the rich tones of the organ burst forth with Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was merged into "die Meistersinger" as the newly married couple passed to the vestibule, where the bride received the first congratulations from her mother, followed in turn by her father. Then the bridemaids and matron of honor offered theirs, Mrs. Bright affectionately kissing each in turn and offering her hand to the ushers.

When the bridal party entered the church, of course, all eyes centered upon Miss Shepard, a prepossessing brunette, who made a handsome bride. Her gown was an elaborate creation of the modeste's art and skill. It was of cream satin with a bolero of duchesse lace, unusually artistic. She wore a tulle veil with orange blossoms. It was caught together by a diamond crescent. She carried lilies of the valley.

The bridemaids also came in for close inspection. They shared with the bride the admiration of the vast congregation. They were gowned in costumes of pin cloth, with pink waists, pink chiffon skirts and picture hats of tucked pink chiffon, trimmed with autumn leaves and pink and yellow roses. They carried large bouquets of marguerites.

Mrs. John Doull Miller, matron of honor, was attired in a gown of white cloth with white chiffon, trimmed similarly to those worn by the bridemaids. Mrs. Shepard, mother of the bride, was richly dressed, being gowned in violet brocade silk, trimmed with point d'alencon lace. She wore a bonnet of ostrich feathers.

The gifts to the bride were rich and elegant and numbered into the hundreds. They included diamonds and precious stones, paintings, bric-a-brac, silverware, china, cut glass, etc., besides a large painting, the work of a celebrated artist, and executed expressly for the bride. The groom's gift was a magnificent diamond necklace. The bride gave her attendants gold neck chains with a pearl and diamond pendant. The groom presented the best man and the ushers with pearl scarf pins. The presents were displayed in an upper chamber at the bride's home where they were much admired for their beauty and value.

The church decorations were very artistic, though not on as an elaborate scale as have been attempted at previous affairs of this kind. They consisted of palms and smilax, the latter being twined about the galleries. In the center of the platform, which had been increased in size to better accommodate the bridal party, was a large bunch of marguerites while back of the potted plants were several hugh palms.

Immediately after the wedding, the guests were driven to the "Gables" at Fanwood, the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held. It was on an elaborate scale, for which more than six hundred invitations had been sent and nearly 500 accepted. The handsome and spacious residence of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard never contained so large an assemblage before. There was gathered the wealth and culture of this city, New York, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and other cities. The guests were brought to this city from New York by a special train of six cars which was was held at the Netherwood station to convey them back.

The decorations at the house were very handsome and in profusion. In the centre of the reception hall was suspended a magnificent marriage bell, formed of roses and lilies of the valley, while in and about the parlors and drawing rooms evergreens and smilax prevailed, interspersed here and there by small bunches of marguerites. The windows of the library on the west side of the house had been removed, admitting the guests to the large piazza which extends in front and at the sides.

The reception was noted for the handsome toilets of the ladies and the brilliancy of the wealth and culture of the assemblage. While Mr. and Mrs.

ANOTHER AMATEUR PLAY

LOCAL TALENT WILL PRESENT "THE PRIVATE SECRETARY."

Under Charge of W. L. Saunders—Alfred Young Will Coach the Members of the Cast.

Plainfield society people will be delighted to learn that through the generosity of William L. Saunders, they are to have an opportunity to witness a play given by local talent. As usual, Mr. Saunders will have full charge, and this will assure a fine performance.

It has been decided to give that mirth-provoking and side-splitting farce comedy "The Private Secretary." This play has never been given here by local talent, and in the choice of the cast great care has been taken. Alfred Young, of the Amaranth Club, of Brooklyn, who coached the talent that presented "Diplomacy" and "A Night Off," with such success, will again have charge of the rehearsals, the first of which will be held next week in Mr. Saunders' barn.

The play will be given sometime toward the last of January or the first of February of next year, and, as heretofore, the proceeds will be devoted to charity.

Among those who will make up the cast are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Saunders, Wm. R. Cock, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Iredell, Wm. P. Pelletier, Miss Elsie Martin, Miss Saidee Mae Howell, Fred W. Goddard, Laurens H. VanBuren and Harry Curtis.

There is no doubt as to the ultimate success of the production, and society will surely respond generously in giving their support to the efforts of those upon whom will fall much hard work. If the dates can be arranged the play will be given in Music Hall. A very important part of the affair will be the stage settings, etc., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis will have charge of this

TOWNSHIP OR CITY.

Westfield People Invited to Discuss Question at a Mass Meeting to be Held Friday Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Dec. 10.—A call has been issued for a mass meeting of the citizens of this town to be held at the Westfield Club hall on Friday evening when the question of changing the government of Westfield from a township to a city will be discussed and the wishes of the people ascertained. The committee in charge of the meeting who wish to see the town incorporated are J. B. Wilson, E. P. Burritt, George B. Dickerson, E. S Smith, A. L Alpers, Harry E Knight, J. Alston Dennis and Paul Q Oliver.

A representative from Summit is expected to be present at the meeting and tell how much better that town has gotten along under the new form of government. Some of the people are opposed to the city idea and they are openly saying that they will turn down the next Republican candidate for Assemblyman should the present holder of that office, Chester M. Smith, favor the bill which would make Westfield a city.

Grand Reception to Mrs. Howe.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Madison avenue, and her friends have a right to justifiable pride in the reception given Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the mother of Mrs. Hall, at the Suffrage Bazaar held in the Madison Square Concert Hall, New York, Friday evening, when Mrs. Howe was the principal feature of the bazaar. One of the pleasures given the audience was the recitation by Mrs. Howe of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which she wrote nearly forty years ago. The audience sang the hymn later, Mrs. Howe joining in the last verse.

Dislocated His Shoulder.

As the result of a fall from his wheel a few days ago, John Donnelly, of West Fourth street, is confined to the house with his right shoulder dislocated. The wheel turned on a stone, throwing him to the ground with considerable force. The dislocation was cared for by Dr. VanHorn and the patient is recovering rapidly.

A New Crosswalk.

Among the improvements brought about by the opening of the Madison avenue-Duer street bridge is the laying of a new crosswalk at the junction of Craig place and Duer street. The improvement is much appreciated by pedestrians of the borough.

Sale in Guild Rooms.

A sale of fancy and useful articles, home-made cake and candy will be held in the Guild rooms of the Grace P. E. church Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings.

Preached at Weston.

Rev. A. E. Main, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church, preached in the Weston School-house last night. He was accompanied and assisted by E. R. Taylor.

FORGED EDITOR'S NAME

AFTER HAVING CHECK CASHED, C. T. HILLMAN DISAPPEARED.

Associate Editor and Foreman of The Review Has Not an Enviable Record Left Behind.

C. T. Hillman, who has been acting as associate editor and foreman at the office of the North Plainfield Review, has disappeared. He is said to have left town some time during Saturday night or early yesterday morning. There are several people who would like to see Mr. Hillman. One of them is Alex. Thorn, the well known groceryman of Somerset street. A few hours before Hillman left town he called upon Mr. Thorn and presented a check for $25, which he asked to have cashed.

The check purported to be signed by Harry H. Webb, the proprietor of The Review. It was made out on a blank of the "Citizens' Bank." Mr. Webb does business with the First National Bank, of this city. With no suspicion that the check was not genuine, Mr. Thorn cashed it without asking any questions. It was subsequently discovered that the check was a forgery, and rather a clumsy one at that.

This morning Mr Webb discovered also that an attempt had been made to pry open his roll top desk in The Review office. It is believed that Hillman's object in opening the desk was to secure possession of Mr. Webb's check book.

Hillman came to Plainfield last summer as a tramp printer. He was given employment by Mr. Webb soon afterwards. He boarded at Jacot's restaurant and slept in The Review office. It is not known where he came from. Hillman is also said to be indebted to Harry Werner for a balance due on a suit of clothing. Chief Marshal Campbell is trying to locate the fugitive printer.

MISS COULTER IS WORSE.

Little Hope Entertained For Woman Who Was Tossed by a Vicious Cow Near South Plainfield.

Miss Mary Coulter lies at her home in Avon Park in a precarious condition, as the result of injuries inflicted by a cow a few days ago as was told in The Daily Press at the time.

The cow attacked her and knocked her down, but owing to the curvature of its horns was unable to gore her. It managed to catch Miss Coulter's clothing and toss her in the air. She landed on her back and neck with great force and it is feared, fractured two vertebræ of the spinal column.

Partial paralysis developed, causing great suffering. A consultation was held Saturday between Drs. Zeglio, of this city and Nelson, of New Market. They hold very little hopes for the girl's recovery. This morning her condition had taken a decided change for the worse.

RING AND CASH TAKEN.

Arthur Drake Held on Charge of Stealing Property of Councilman Robert L. Lee Friday.

Arthur Drake, the seventeen-year-old son of Charles Drake, of 745 West Third street, was arrested yesterday by Chief Kiely on a warrant sworn out before Justice Mosher by Councilman Robert L Lee, who charged the boy with grand larceny. On Friday, it is alleged, young Drake sneaked into the residence of the Councilman on West Fourth street and helped himself to a diamond ring and about $4 in change. The accused was arraigned before Justice Mosher this morning. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was held in $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Building in Woodland Park.

The S. D Drake Realty Company, owners of Woodland Park, has sold J. B. Drayton, of Franklin place, a large lot at the corner of Hillside and Evergreen avenues. Mr. Drayton will have a handsome residence erected on the property in a short time. R. H. Depew, of East Ninth street, who also purchased a lot is now having a handsome residence erected where the Denton homestead formerly stood. John Abbott and Seaman Williams are the contractors. A large house has just been completed for J. E Tracy and negotiations are pending for the erection of four more at a cost of $5,000 each.

Ten Signed the Pledge.

Large audiences attended the Reform Hall yesterday afternoon and last evening. The addresses by Mr. Barney were well received as were several excellent solos by Mrs. John Manly. There were ten signers to the pledge, among them being several drinking men. The meeting will be continued every night this week.

STATE CHAMPIONS HERE

EXCITING GAME OF FOOTBALL ON CLINTON AVENUE GROUNDS.

Arlingtons, of Newark, Won by Score of 6 to 1, After a Hard-Fought Contest.

Before a crowd of several hundred enthusiasts, one of the most exciting football games played this season took place on the Clinton avenue grounds Saturday afternoon. The teams were the Association Football Club, of this city, and the Arlingtons, of Newark.

Although the local team was defeated by a score of 6 to 1, they are greatly elated as the Arlingtons are considered the crack team of the State, not having lost a game this season or even had a goal scored against them.

The Plainfielders played hard and every goal scored by the Arlingtons was well earned. The kick-off was made by J. T. McMurray, a new player.

During the first half of the game the ball was in Plainfield's territory most of the time. There were several weak spots in the home team which allowed this, but the Arlingtons were unable to get it through the goal.

In the second half both teams played harder than ever and a number of excellent plays were made. The Arlingtons showed their superiority, however, and the game ended in their favor. The game lasted for two 35 minute halves. Next Saturday the local team will play the True Blues, of Arlington, on the same grounds. Saturday's line-up was as follows:

TO PAY FLOATING DEBT.

Trinity Reformed Church Will Enter Twentieth Century Free From Indebtedness.

Yesterday morning the congregation of Trinity Reformed church made a start to pay off the small floating debt that has accumulated during the last three years. The pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., preached a sermon on the blessedness of giving, as the Lord had prospered those present during the year, and Elder Robert Clark, Jr., made a statement showing how the small debt had accumulated, notwithstanding the fact that rigid economy had been practiced by the consistory, and asking for pledges payable on or before January 1. A very liberal response was the result and when those members who were absent have contributed it is expected that the entire amount needed will be contributed, and the church be entirely free of debt.

NEGRO IN THE CELLAR.

Abbott Brainerd Had Exciting Experience With Sneak Thief Saturday Night.

Abbott Brainerd, a son of George B. Brainerd, of 320 Central avenue, had an exciting experience with a tramp whom he found in his father's house at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Young Brainerd heard a noise in the cellar and he set about to investigate. Seizing his gun, he hastened down stairs. He was surprised to find a colored man there. Before he could seize the fellow, the negro hit him a stinging blow on the side of the face and made good his escape.

Lost Their Little Daughter.

The sympathy of many friends will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. James L. Powers, of Elizabeth, on account of the death of their infant daughter, Clara Isabelle, which occured on Saturday last, of a malignant disease. The parents have many friends and relatives in this city. Mr. Powers formerly practiced law in Plainfield.

Lived But Two Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roeder, of 119 West Fourth street, have lost their daughter, Iva J., who was almost two years old. Her death occurred last evening after a short illness. The funeral services will be held from the house Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends are invited.

Tripped Over a Chair.

Mrs. W. J. Ford, of East Fourth street, who sustained several severe fractures by tripping over a chair in her room, is now somewhat improved. The injuries are very painful and will require considerable time before they are entirely well. Dr. Tomlinson is in charge.

Notice to Bowlers.

Our opening night is Tuesday, Dec. 11, bowling, 7:30 to 10 p. m., free. All welcome. Boice & Conover, 117 East Second street.

PREFERS SHRIEVALTY.

Probable That Mayor Smalley Will Decline Appointment to State Board of Arbitration.

Governor Voorhees has tendered the appointment of a membership on the State Board of Arbitration to Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of the borough, but it is very unlikely that it will be accepted. His Honor has several days in which to decide the matter, but in conversation with a Daily Press representative Saturday he talked as though the honor would be declined. Mayor Smalley is in the field for other honors, that of becoming the sheriff of Somerset county. His friends are urging him to accept the nomination which they claim they can give him, and this position would be worth far more to Mr. Smalley than the one offered by Governor Voorhees. If Mr. Smalley decides to enter the race for Sheriff, he will decline the other appointment.

DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL.

Miss Mary Mohan Was Unable to Survive Operation and Died at the Hospital.

Miss Mary Mohan, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Owen Mohan, of Prospect avenue, Dunellen, died in Muhlenberg Hospital Saturday evening, shortly after an operation for septic peritonitis had been performed.

The girl was taken ill Thursday morning while attending school. Dr. Nelson was called and pronounced the trouble appendicitis. It rapidly grew worse and Dr. Hedges was called in consultation. The latter advised her removal to the hospital, which was done Saturday afternoon.

Before the operation could be performed the abscess broke, rupturing the abdominal cavity and causing septic peritonitis. She was then unable to survive the operation and died shortly after 7 o'clock. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from St. John's church, Dunellen.

GLENNEY WON.

Defeated Roger F. Murray in the Play Off for the Reinhart Cup on Hillside Links Saturday.

The last scheduled event on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course for this season was played Saturday afternoon, when the play off of the tie for the Reinhart cup took place between Roger F. Murray and W. L. Glenney. The scores for the play on September 15 were 78, and in Saturday's contest Glenney scored 79, while his opponent made 82. This closes one of the most exciting and interesting events of the season, and brings still further honors to the club champion, Mr. Glenney.

Good Night to Sinking Sun.

A man calling at Henry Duncan's studio last week heard one of the soprano soloist boys sing, and he said that the youngster's notes were as clear, full and rich as a song-bird uttering a good-night to the sinking sun. The soprano solos, together with the instrumental solos, and ensemble numbers of organ, harp and violin, by such superior artists as Henry Duncan, organist; Madame Edith Jones, harpist, and Clarence DeVaux-Royes, violinist, will make a programme of rare value for the music-lovers of Plainfield. Concert tomorrow night in Park Avenue Baptist church.

Talked Too Much.

Anthony Schwabach, of Scotch Plains, came to town Saturday night and got drunk. When Anthony is in his cups he has a bitterness in his heart for policemen in general and Patrolman Saunders in particular. He handed out a lot of talk that was anything but complimentary to the officer and things that would be unprintable. Officer Saunders locked him up. As this was Anthony's second offence within a few days, City Judge Runyon sent him to jail for twenty days.

Special Officer Babbitt Fined.

The case of Special Officer Jim Babbitt, who was charged with gambling in rooms at 129 East Front street some time ago, came up this morning before City Judge Runyon. The accused was fined $8 or thirty days.

To Complete Work This Week.

The work of macadamizing West Front street will be brought to a close this week by Street Commissioner Gavett. The season is so far advanced that he does not feel safe in continuing it any longer.

Near Neighbors Now.

The Salvation Army has placed a red light in front of their rooms on East Front street, near the green light in front of police headquarters.

Council Meeting Tonight.

The Common Council will meet this evening in adjourned session to consider several important matters.

POLICE INTERRUPTED QUIET POKER GAME.

Visited Home of William Kline Early Sunday Morning and Secured Much Evidence.

KLINE WAS CONVICTED.

CAME UP FOR TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE RUNYON AND FINED $30.

Young Men Who, It Is Alleged, Were In the Game, Held For the Grand Jury By Justice Mosher—Four of Them.

Chief Kiely is after the crap shooters, poker players and all small fry gamblers. Saturday night Sergeant Frederickson and Patrolman Vanderweg stationed themselves about the home of William Kline, at 334 East Second street, and watched. Numerous complaints had been entered against Kline, who was believed to be running a game at his house.

It was nearly 4 o'clock, however, before the vigilance of the officers was rewarded. One of the young men had occasion to leave the house. This was the opportunity the officers had waited for. They immediately rushed in and, it is alleged, found the evidence they desired. Surrounding a small table were seated William Baldwin, Augustus Sutterlin, John Angleman and William Boe, who were engaged, the police say, in a quiet game of draw poker. The quartette was marched to the station house and locked up.

Yesterday morning the young men were arraigned before Justice Mosher, who allowed them to go until this morning when they were held to await the action of the grand jury. After the officers had taken the young men to the station house they went back after Kline, who was also locked up. He was arraigned before City Judge Runyon, who fined him $30 for violating a city ordinance in keeping a gambling house. The fine was paid.

RUNAWAY HEARD FROM.

Gabriel Paoli Wrote From Newsboy's Lodging House in New York to Say He Was Going West.

Gabriel Paoli, the 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Paoli, of North avenue, who disappeared from home ten days ago, has been heard from. His mother received a letter from him this morning. He says that he is located at the Newsboy's Lodging House on Duane street, New York, where he expects to remain for a few days. He then expects to go west and secure employment on a farm.

In his letter he tells his strong love for his mother, and concludes by saying "My pen is bad, my ink is poor, but my love for you will ever endure!"

This morning the father telephoned to New York in the hopes that the boy may be intercepted and brought home.

TO THE HOME OF GOLF.

Expert Brown, of the Hillside Club Sailed For His Native Heath Saturday.

Expert M. R. Brown, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, sailed Saturday for his native city, St. Andrews, Scotland, "the home of golf." In honor of his departure a number of friends gave him a farewell reception at the home of Samuel Johnson, of Park avenue, Friday evening. Several hours were spent in a social way and in singing Scotch songs. Several other prominent golfers accompanied Mr. Brown on his departure. He will return next April.

Celebrated Fourteenth Birthday.

In honor of her fourteenth birthday, Miss Ada Westphal, of West Fourth street, entertained nearly fifty of her friends Friday evening. Games and singing made the hours pass pleasantly and the guest left for home at 11 o'clock after supper had been served. Miss Westphal received a large number of pretty gifts in honor of the occasion.

Plainfield's Population.

The manager of the Wand Directory Company told a reporter for The Daily Press that he had figured the population of Plainfield as 18,555. He bases his figures on a percentage of three people to a family.

Appointive Officers to be Announced.

At the meeting next week of the Third Regiment Antietam, Plainfield Division, Union Veterans' Union, the appointive officers will be announced and arrangements made for the installation.

Book Party at Park Club.

The entertainment committee of the Park Club will give a book party at the club tomorrow evening. This was postponed a week ago on account of the weather.

ENGLAND AND PORTUGAL.

Exchange of Kindly Sentiments at This Time Significant.

LISBON, Dec. 10.—King Carlos has received from Queen Victoria the following telegram in response to the one sent by his majesty:

"I am greatly touched by your kind telegram. I sincerely thank you, my dear nephew, for it and for the good wishes you entertain toward me and my people. It is again with the greatest pleasure that I recognize the cordial and friendly understanding between Portugal and England."

After cordial farewells to the Portuguese officials and an exchange of salutes the British squadron sailed at noon yesterday.

At Saturday's banquet on board the British battleship Majestic, when King Carlos, Queen Marie Amelie and Prince Louis Philippe, together with the members of the cabinet and other dignitaries, were entertained by Vice Admiral Sir Harry Holdsworth Rawson, the Portuguese premier, Senhor J. Luciano de Castro, toasting "Queen Victoria and Great Britain," saluted "the alliance that has long existed in treaties and has been confirmed in recent acts." He said the significance of the alliance was "an assurance that our rights will be respected and our dominions maintained."

Sir H. G. MacDonell, the British minister, in responding, thanked the government of King Carlos for "the friendly attitude maintained with such correctness toward Great Britain during the war in South Africa, which has been warmly appreciated by the government of Queen Victoria."

Senhor Villaca, minister of marine and the colonies, who responded, said: "We welcome our allies. There (pointing to the British flag) is the British flag. Let us salute it with respect and affection as the Portuguese flag was saluted at Komatipoort. These two salutes are a public affirmation of the alliance." Senhor Villaca toasted the British squadron.

Alarm at The Hague.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Special dispatches from The Hague represent the feeling there as one of alarm at the prospect of an Anglo-German-Portuguese combination, which might snatch the Dutch seaboard or seize Java. It is reported at the Dutch capital that the possibility of a war with England has even been discussed by the cabinet council. Queen Wilhelmina will give a dinner in honor of Mr. Kruger, but he has abandoned all hope of any effective result of his visit to Europe, although he does not despair of meeting Emperor Nicholas, possibly on the Riviera.

LOST IN A LAKE GALE.

Crew of Eight Goes Down With Sinking Barge.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—A special to The Plain Dealer from Erie, Pa., says:

"In the midst of one of the most bitter gales that ever swept Lake Erie the iron ore barge Charles Foster, in tow of the Iron Duke, went to the bottom yesterday ten miles off Erie, and eight persons were drowned, including Captain John Bridge of Cleveland.

"The Foster was one of the fleet of James Corrigan of Cleveland and for two months has been running from Duluth to Erie with iron ore. Her cargo consisted of 1,500 tons of ore.

"Captain Ashley of the Iron Duke made Erie in safety. In an interview he said:

"'The Foster was in tow about 600 feet astern. I was up all night, and there were three men on watch with me. The seas were rolling tremendously from the northwest, and the gale carried with it a blinding snowstorm. We made the harbor light all right. When we turned for the harbor, a sea much heavier than any other experienced struck us. I ran to the stern. Just as I got there the Foster plunged in an awful sea and dived down nose first. There was not a cry from a soul of the crew of eight she carried. Just as she pitched down I saw a man on her forecastle with a lantern. The towline parted when she went down. The storm was so heavy that I could not put about to hunt for any one. There would not have been a particle of use anyhow, because in those tremendous seas no one could have lived a minute even if the water had not been icy cold. Had there been a cry for help I would have turned and risked my ship, but it was no use. I had all I could do to make port in safety myself.'"

Big Cycle Contest Begun.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—In Madison Square Garden a great international speed battle between cycling kings of two continents has been begun. At 5 minutes past 12 this morning 28 seasoned racing men who hold records or championships in a score of countries were started in a contest of swiftness and endurance that will continue ceaselessly today, tomorrow, Wednesday, Thursday and on to within two hours of another Sunday.

Fatal Quarrel Over Fifty Cents.

THOMASTON, Ga., Dec. 10.—Charles Byce, a well known young man, was killed by Cliff Harnsberger here yesterday, being shot twice in the chest. Harnsberger in the fight which is said to have been caused by a dispute over 50 cents was seriously cut. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Duke of Westminster to Wed.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—It is authoritatively asserted that the Duke of Westminster is engaged to marry Miss Shelagh West, daughter of Colonel Cornwallis West. By the marriage the duke will become the brother-in-law of Mrs. George Cornwallis West (Lady Randolph Churchill).

Zero Weather and Blizzard.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 10.—An amateur blizzard has made life miserable in central New York. The mercury has hovered about the zero mark, while the wind has blown a gale. Trains on the New York Central from the east are about an hour late in Syracuse.

Homecoming of Roberts.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Lord Roberts is expected to arrive in London Jan. 3. He will be met by the Prince and Princess of Wales and will proceed immediately in triumphal progress to St. Paul's cathedral, where all will attend a special service of thanksgiving.

Death Claims Three Aged Ones.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Three aged people have died in this city within a few hours of each other—Mrs D. E. Lockwood, 89; Mrs. Horace Conklin, 81, and Mrs. Mary Williams, 80.

POSTOFFICE REPORT.

Revenues of the Department Exceed $100,000,000.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY A SUCCESS.

Is Fast Being Extended and Proves a Great Boon to Isolated Families. Second Class Mail Matter Abuses Need Prompt Attention.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith in his annual report made public last night, besides discussing domestic and insular operations in the last fiscal year, devotes particular attention to the abuses of the second class mail matter privileges and extension of rural free delivery. He makes the following recommendations for legislation: Compulsory separation by publishers of second class mail matter, amendment of the interstate commerce law to prohibit telegraph and express companies or their employees from aiding or abetting in the green goods or lottery swindles or any other wrongful scheme carried on jointly by mail and common carriers, punishment of persons who forcibly attempt to enter mail cars or who assault a railway mail clerk while on duty, authority for postoffice inspectors to take out search warrants whenever necessary, an appropriation for constructing inspectors' lookouts in postoffices wherever the postmaster general deems them necessary.

The financial operations of the department for the last fiscal year are shown briefly in the following statement of revenues and expenditures: Ordinary postal revenue, $100,899,433.44; receipts from money order business, $1,455,145.85; total receipts from all sources, $102,354,579.29; total expenditures for the year, $107,740,267.99; excess of expenditures over receipts, $5,385,688.70.

From this statement it will be observed that the revenues have now passed the hundred million mark; also that while the expenditures were over $6,000,000 greater than for the previous fiscal year the deficit for the year 1899-1900 was but $5,385,688, being $1,225,088 less than that of the previous year.

Several pages of the report are devoted to rural free delivery.

The extraordinary extension of rural free delivery during the past two years has proved to be the most salient, significant and farreaching feature of postal development in recent times. We have had other striking advances, but they have been along lines already well settled.

But to undertake the personal and daily delivery of the mail at the individual and isolated farmhouse on the remote country road marks what in this widely extended land amounts to a new departure in postal service.

Rural free delivery has now been sufficiently tried to measure its effects. The immediate and direct results are clearly apparent. It stimulates social and business correspondence and so swells the postal receipts. Its introduction is invariably followed by a large increase in the circulation of the press and of periodical literature. The farm is thus brought into direct daily contact with the currents and movements of the business world. A more accurate knowledge of ruling markets and varying prices is diffused, and the producer, with his quicker communication and larger information, is placed on a surer footing. The value of farms, as has been shown in many cases, is enhanced. Good roads become indispensable, and their improvement is the essential condition of the service. The material and measurable benefits are signal and unmistakable.

But the movement exercises a wider and deeper influence. It becomes a factor in the social and economic tendencies of American life. With all these results clearly indicated by the experiment as thus far tried rural free delivery is plainly here to stay. It cannot be abandoned where it has been established, and it cannot be maintained without being extended. It is a service in which there can be no backward step.

In urging the importance of remedial legislation for flagrant abuses of second class privileges the postmaster general says:

"There should be no abatement of the protest or effort against the perpetuation of evils which have insidiously grown up through the ingenious perversion of the laws, intent on furthering private interests, and which have now become a heavy public burden. Their elimination, while doing no injustice in any quarter, would effect a saving ranging from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year and would pave the way for legitimate postal advances in every direction."

Scotland's Exposition Secures Sousa.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The international exposition of 1901 at Glasgow has engaged John Philip Sousa and his band to play at the exhibition for four weeks next October. After his Glasgow season Sousa will take his band to London for a series of concerts, after which he will make a tour of the principal cities of Great Britain and Ireland, returning to America about Christmas time. Sousa starts on a 17 weeks' tour of the United States on Jan. 3, playing in 160 different cities in all parts of the country.

Long Sail For Small Craft.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Five little cockleshells of the navy, three of them Tom Thumbs of war vessels, are to travel more than 13,000 miles to the Philippines. The flagship of this mosquito fleet will be the gunboat Annapolis, and her consorts will be the gunboat Vicksburg, the converted yacht Frolic and the tugboats Wompatuck and Piscataqua. They are to be sent in response to the request of Rear Admiral Remey for small vessels to do patrol duty in the Philippines.

Neely Case On.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The supreme court today is hearing argument in the case of Neely versus Henkel, involving the right of the United States to extradite Neely for trial in Havana for the alleged embezzlement of Cuban postal funds. The court has specially assigned it for argument today, and it is at the head of the call.

German Arbitrators.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—The German members of the international court of arbitration at The Hague will be Dr. Bingner, president of the senate of the high court; Herr von Frantzius, councilor of the foreign office and councilor of the high court, and Professor von Bar of the University of Gottingen.

HOSTILITIES WANING

Important Captures, but Little Fighting, In the Philippines.

INSURGENTS GENERALLY RETIRING

Americans Prevented From Landing Near Pandan—Large Quantity of Arms, With Printing and Signal Outfits, Seized In Mountains.

MANILA, Dec. 10.—While the captures of supplies and the occupation of new points are quite numerous those involving actual fighting are comparatively few. Apparently the insurgents are falling back at all contested points, sacrificing their possessions in most cases and satisfied to save themselves.

A detachment of the Forty-seventh United States volunteer infantry from the island of Catanduanes, off the southeast coast of Luzon, relinquished an attempt to land near Pandan. On anchoring the Americans were fired upon by 60 riflemen, and after a short engagement they cut the anchor chain and sailed for Catanduanes with two killed and twe wounded. The names have not yet been received here.

Captain Richard T. Ellis of the Thirty-third volunteer infantry captured in the mountains near Barbar a large quantity of Krag, Mauser and Remington ammunition, together with a signal outfit, a printing press and other equipment. All of this was destroyed.

Thirty rifles and several hundred cartridges were secured at Victoria.

A detachment of the Fourth infantry captured Major Garion and three officers of lower rank in the town of Pasay. Another detachment destroyed General Ugnad's camp. The enemy had fled, but the Americans subsequently rounded up 25 insurgents.

General MacArthur has approved the death sentences passed upon several additional persons convicted of murder, arson and pillage. In a few other instances he has commuted death sentences to imprisonment.

Dark Reports From Hongkong.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—"Reliable mail advices from Manila show that the position of the Americans is becoming increasingly hopeless," says the Hongkong correspondent of The Daily Mail. "Money is freely subscribed to purchase arms and ammunition that are imported for the insurgents. The Americans will never capture the rebel contraband running vessels. While, in order to flatter the official view, the trade is flourishing, goods are permitted to be freely imported into Manila, they are distributed from that point to the insurgents, who are murdering and pillaging all native sympathizers with Americans."

American Citizen to Be Shot.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 10.—For the first time in many years an American citizen has been sentenced to be shot in Mexico. The sentence was imposed upon Bias Aguirre, a native born Texan, by the Juarez tribunal as the penalty for murder in the first degree. Aguirre was convicted of making a raid across the border and murdering Juanes Cajeda, a citizen of Mexico. He escaped to Texas, but was arrested by American officers and extradited eight months ago. He was tried and convicted, and the sentence of the Juarez court will undoubtedly be carried out unless the president of the republic shall interfere.

Otis Not a Place Hunter.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—It can be definitely and authoritatively stated that the report that General Harrison Gray Otis is in Washington seeking an official appointment is without foundation. In fact, General Otis himself is authority for the statement that he has not applied for any appointment whatever under the administration. He is not in Washington on an office seeking mission and declares that there is no warrant whatever for the published statements to the contrary, as the Los Angeles Times engages his entire attention.

Thinks the Boers Will Win.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—On board the steamer La Bretagne, just arrived, is Major John McBride, late of the Boer army. Major McBride was in command of the Irish brigade which was recruited in this country and served with distinction under Colonel Blake until Major McBride, who is a native of County Mayo, Ireland, was given the command, May 3. Major McBride speaks very enthusiastically of the Boer cause and expresses the opinion that they will eventually win in spite of their recent reverses.

Football Cripples.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—A census of the crippled in football games has been taken at the University of Chicago and at the Northwestern. During the brief session 12 men were injured seriously or painfully at the University of Chicago, while at the Northwestern ten athletes received hurts which put them temporarily out of the game. The injuries range from ruptured blood vessels to broken noses and torn ligaments.

American Shipbuilding.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The vessels built in the United States and officially numbered from June 30, 1900, to Nov. 30, 1900, were 495, of 149,963 gross tons. The principal items of the total are seven steel steamships on the great lakes (34,933 gross tons) and four smaller steel steamships (8,456 gross tons), which could pass through the new Welland canal, and one steel schooner barge (2,790 tons).

Arrayed Against Europe.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—The National Zeitung devotes its first page today to a carefully prepared editorial dealing with the United States as a world power. After pointing out the enormous progress economically and politically of America in the world's affairs the editorial declares that in both respects the United States is arrayed against Europe.

Typhoid at Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—No new cases of typhoid fever appeared at the state prison at Sing Sing yesterday. Only the 17 which had developed prior to Saturday are in the hospital. All of these are progressing favorably. The prisoners and attendants in the prison are now having boiled water served to them.

Johannesburg Fenced In.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—A dispatch from Johannesburg says the town has been fenced round with barbed wire to prevent the inhabitants getting food to the Boers.

WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

Both Houses Are Likely to Be Kept Busy This Week.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The senate will continue to give its attention to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and the ship subsidy bill during the present week, taking up first one and then the other as may suit the convenience of those who may wish to speak on the two measures. During the last session of congress the Nicaraguan canal bill was made the special order of business for today, but the establishment of the ship bill as the regular order will have the effect of displacing the canal bill, preference being given under the senate rules to a regular order over a special order. It is understood that Senator Morgan, who has charge of the canal bill, will not press that measure until the treaty for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty is disposed of. On this account the friends of the ship bill do not apprehend that he will make any opposition to the continuance of the consideration of that measure. He has, indeed, said that he would be content to allow his bill to follow closely in the wake of the ship bill.

Three or four set speeches are promised in opposition to the subsidy bill, and it is expected that most, if not all, of those already in sight will be made during this week. Among those who will speak on the subject are Senators Clay, Vest and Berry, all of whom oppose the bill. Senator Vest is an especial advocate of free ships.

There are differences of opinion as to what effect the taking of a vote on the fortification amendment to the treaty will have upon the time of disposing of that instrument, but a majority of the senators express the opinion that the vote upon the treaty itself will follow very soon after the vote upon the amendment.

The programme in the house for the coming week contemplates the consideration and passage of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill and the bill for the reduction of the war revenue taxes. Wednesday will be a dies non so far as legislation is concerned, as on that day the exercises in connection with the centennial celebration of the removal of the seat of government to Washington will be held in the house.

Denmark's Large Export Trade.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Mr. Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets of the agricultural department, has issued a special bulletin on the subject of the trade of Denmark, which has developed steadily in exports of dairy and other farm products. The bulletin says the foreign trade of Denmark during 1898 amounted to more than $200,000,000. The imports were valued as high as $123,874,758, exceeding all previous records, and the exports, with a value of $87,464,660, were larger than in any of the preceding years except 1897. Denmark's exports are chiefly agricultural. The farm products marketed abroad in 1898 formed 85 per cent of the entire export trade and were valued as high as $74,065,448. Butter is decidedly the most important factor in the export trade of Denmark. In value it constitutes nearly one-half of the agricultural produce sent abroad. Next to butter the largest agricultural export is pork.

An Astronomical Expedition.

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 10.—D. O. Mills of New York, at the request of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, has promised the University of California to defray the expenses, about $24,000, of a two years' astronomical expedition from the Lick observatory to South America or Australia. The object of the expedition is to study the movement of stars in the line of sight. Already this work has been done at the Lick observatory over about three-fourths of the sky. Two years' work at an observing station south of the equator will complete the first general survey ever made of the heavens for this purpose.

Philadelphia Yacht Wrecked.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The schooner yacht Rosina, owned by Harry T. Melpass of Philadelphia, has gone ashore off Rocky Point, L. I., in the sound, and at last reports was pounding heavily and likely to go to pieces. The four men on board were transferred to the lifeboat with much difficulty, as the surfboat could not be brought alongside close enough for them to get to it without being immersed. A line was passed from the schooner to the surfboat, and along this the men made their way. They were taken to the station and cared for.

Death of Mrs. McLean.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Mary L. McLean, the mother of John R. McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer, is dead at her residence here of acute heart affection. She had been ill since Friday last, and from the first attack her life was despaired of. At the bedside of Mrs. McLean when the end came were her daughters, Mrs. Dewey and Mrs. Ludlow, the wife of Rear Admiral Ludlow; her son, Mr. John R. McLean, and Admiral Dewey. Mrs. McLean was a native of Kentucky and was in her seventy-second year.

Canton's Big Blaze.

CANTON, O., Dec. 10.—The burning of the Saxton block, owned by Mrs. M. C. Barber, sister of President McKinley's wife, rendered 20 families who occupied the building homeless. The entire loss was about $300,000, with the insurance at about one-third of that amount. Four firemen were seriously but not fatally injured. The Grand Opera House, adjoining the Saxton block, was threatened by the fire, but a sudden change of the wind saved the structure.

Electric Traction For Canals.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Daily Express publishes an interview this morning with Mr. Hawley, vice president of the Erie Traction company, who has just made a tour of the principal canal systems in Europe. Mr. Hawley told the representative of The Daily Express that he expected to obtain very shortly a concession for electric canal traction in Holland and that he could see a great opening in France and England.

Kruger Attends Church.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 10.—Mr. Kruger attended religious service yesterday at the cathedral, and the congregation sang the Boer anthem as he withdrew. After the service he conferred with Dr. Gleichman, president of the second chamber.

THE SANTA FE STRIKE.

Officials Hopeful of Speedy Settlement With Telegraphers.

TOPEKA, Dec. 10.—The officials of the Santa Fe road take a decidedly hopeful view of the telegraphers' strike situation. They all say the backbone of the strike is practically broken already and that the affairs of the road will be in their normal condition inside of two weeks. The officers felt justified, in view of the alleged improvement in conditions, in rescinding the order closing the shops.

H. U. Mudge, general manager of the road, sent out a general order yesterday to all operators who had not yet gone out offering to promote them if they would continue in their resistance to the strikers. He told them that they had been faithful to the interests of the company thus far and that they could fill out their application blanks for better positions at once. The general manager added that all the men not taking part in the strike should have better positions if they were capable of filling them and that their old places would be filled from outside sources.

Mr. Mudge expressed great satisfaction at the order he had sent out and said it was only fair that the company should thus recognize those of the men who had been faithful to their interests.

Orange Growers Alarmed.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 10.—As a result of the strike of the Santa Fe telegraphers 325 men in this city have been thrown out of work. In the large machine shops of the Santa Fe company an order was posted saying, "The shops will be closed until further notice." The strike has caused consternation among the orange growers and shippers of this city, as if the strike is continued it will undoubtedly result in a heavy loss to the orange dealers. An average of 100 cars of oranges is being shipped from this vicinity daily. Thousands of boxes of fruit have been picked and are ready to be shipped, and nearly the entire crop is ready for shipment. There are more than 500 carloads of oranges billed from this city to the east, and if the strike assumes the proportions which threaten the oranges will probably be sidetracked.

Telegraphers Expect Help.

DALLAS, Dec. 10.—Men who are in charge of the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe system say that the trainmen will join them in a day or two if the strike of the telegraphers is not settled by that time. The trainmen had meetings at Gainsville, Cleburne and Temple to consider the proposition of federating with the operators and striking at once.

Santa Fe Road Not Crippled.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—The local train dispatcher of the Santa Fe road announces that all trains are on time and that the strike will in no way interfere with traffic. He declared that in all less than 60 operators have gone out west of Albuquerque, and of these 50 belonged to the division between Albuquerque and Mojave.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Fire has destroyed Iowa Agricultural college. Three hundred students in the building had a narrow escape.

Twenty persons were injured in an accident on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad at Gray's Ferry station in West Philadelphia.

The large four masted steel ship Astral built for the Standard Oil company of New York has been launched successfully from the Arthur Sewall company's yard in Bath, Me. It is the largest sailing vessel afloat.

Artist John McAuliffe Killed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—John McAuliffe, a well known artist, aged 70 years, was accidentally killed by falling from a window of his residence. Mr. McAuliffe was especially well known in connection with his pictures of horses. He was originally a house painter, but as he had a natural gift for drawing and painting horses he soon took to that as a business. He painted extensively on orders for the late Robert Bonner, Commodore Dickinson, Colonel Kipp, Sheppard Knapp and others.

Gavit For Military Secretary.

ALBANY, Dec. 10.—From a social standpoint the legislative session of 1901 bids fair to be an unusually brilliant one. During the past week numerous senators and assemblymen have visited the capital city with a particular object in view, that of house hunting. It is asserted here on the best of authority that Governor Elect Odell has selected E. Palmer Gavit of this city to be military secretary. Mr. Gavit is a prominent society man and will be of great assistance to Governor and Mrs. Odell.

Americans Outbid English.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Daily Mail has received the following by mail from its Calcutta correspondent: "The port commissioners recently invited tenders for locomotives. The lowest English tender quoted £1,544 for each locomotive and wanted nine months to complete the order. The lowest American tender quoted £1,260 and asked for six months. The latter was accepted, subject to the approval of the government."

Mill Operatives Strike.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 10.—This city is in the throes of another great battle between labor and capital. This morning nearly 1,000 operatives remained away from the Acushnet and Hathaway mills, and there is a feeling among the operatives that they will win the battle, as they say the "cause is just."

Drowned In the Delaware.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Dec. 10.—Joseph Martin and Cass Lippencott of this city attempted to row across the Delaware river during a gale, but just as they reached midstream the boat was swamped, and Martin was drowned. Lippencott was rescued after a severe struggle in the icy water.

Steamer's Crew Mutinous.

HOBART, Tasmania, Dec. 10.—The crew of the Union Castle line steamer Harlech Castle, Captain Findlay, having mutinied a police guard has been placed on board the vessel, which is detained here.

Woolen Mills Burned.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 10.—A special to The Post-Standard from Cazenovia says that the mills of the Cazenovia Woolen and Felt company have been destroyed by fire. Two houses were also burned.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair and cold; diminishing northerly winds.

DELAYED BY BRITAIN

English Minister at Peking Alone Awaits Instructions.

CHINA'S EMPEROR READY TO RETURN

Removal of General Tung Fu Hsiang Considered to Indicate China's Desire to Come to Terms—International Club Organized.

PEKING, Dec. 10.—All the foreign envoys except Sir Ernest Mason Satow, the British minister, have received instructions from their governments agreeing to the joint note proposed at the last meeting. Another meeting will probably be called for tomorrow. Should the British minister have received his instructions to sign the joint note by that time communication will be immediately opened with Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, who are in daily touch with the court by the Chinese telegraph.

Prince Ching says Emperor Kwang Su is ready to return as soon as assured that the negotiations will allow him to come under conditions consonant with his dignity and safety.

The removal of General Tung Fu Hsiang from the command of the Chinese forces surrounding the court is considered by the foreign envoys to be a very important step as showing the real desire of the government to come to terms. His banishment indicates that the court recognizes the expediency of obeying the demands of the powers.

The International club was opened yesterday, its object being to bring together in a spirit of social harmony the officers and diplomats of the various nations. There was a large company present, and music was discoursed by military bands. It is expected that the club will continue a great success. The building was formerly an imperial temple.

The envoys are considering the question of legation buildings in the future. At present none of the governments owns its buildings, all the houses being rented. The only ones not damaged considerably are the American, British and Russian.

To Stop Looting.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—"General Chaffee wrote a letter to Count von Waldersee," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, "complaining of the removal by French and German troops of the astronomical instruments from the wall of Peking, but the letter was returned to him on account of its tone. He has notified the foreign envoys that all persons are prohibited passing the American guard on entering the south gate of the palace owing to the frequent cases of looting. The ministers are offended at this individual assumption of authority. Yung Lu, who is now acting as the adviser of the Chinese court, enjoys the favor of the empress dowager and is forming regiments which may be trusted to defend the court. I am informed that the execution of Yu Hsien is certain whenever the envoys demand it." "The Boxers are disturbing north and western Korea," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, "and the Russian troops are preparing to scatter them."

Placing Credit Where It Belongs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 10.—The Novoe Vremya, in an article evidently inspired, referring to the recent dispatch from Dr. Morrison in Peking to the London Times saying that all the credit for securing softened terms is given by the Chinese to the Russians, remarks: "The credit for the existing entente really belongs to America. England begrudges President McKinley his just prestige because he has emphasized America's friendship for Russia." The Russian journal regards the alterations which America has procured in the peace preliminaries as of the greatest importance.

Chinese Cutthroat Captured.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 10.—Pao Ho Nien, taotai of Chu-chau-fu, in the province of Che-kiang, who was responsible for the July massacre and who absconded, has been captured near Su-chau and sent to Hang-chau-fu. Mr. John Goodnow, United States consul general in Shanghai, is about starting for the United States on leave of absence.

Ships Icebound at Taku.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—A dispatch from Taku says that the outer harbor there is frozen and that 50 vessels are locked in the ice.

Negroes Going to Liberia.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 10.—It is announced that the first shipment of negroes from the south to Monrovia, Africa, will leave Birmingham Jan. 30 for Savannah, from which port they will sail. The colonists go under the auspices of the Liberian Colonization company. There will be 250 negroes in this shipment. Another lot will go within six or eight months.

Erie Canal Closed.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Water is being drawn from the Erie canal, and navigation for the season is at an end. It has been kept open nine days longer than the time originally decided on for closing in order to allow boats that were delayed by the break at New London to reach their destinations. The cost of repairing the break was about $7,000.

Horse Thieves Arrested.

ROME, N. Y., Dec. 10.—George Gwilt and Joseph Winneger of Utica are under arrest here for horse stealing, at which they seem to have done quite a business. They were caught at Cleveland, N. Y., and will be arraigned. They admit their guilt and are old offenders with police records.

Oil Negotiations Balked.

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, Dec. 10.—According to a dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung from Bucharest, the Roumanian government has broken off the negotiations with the Standard Oil company for a lease of the petroleum fields.

Nelson Relics Stolen.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Several relics of Lord Nelson, including his watch and many of the medals awarded him, were taken from the Greenwich hospital Saturday after the attendants left. The police have no trace of the thief.

New Minister From Persia.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—General Isaac Kahn, the new Persian minister to the United States, has arrived here from New York. He probably will be presented to the president during the coming week.

New Court House.

It is on the ground of economy that the Union County Board of Freeholders declares that it favors the erection of a new court house. No one who has seen the present unsightly structure at Elizabeth, can gainsay the fact that, as far as appearances are concerned, Union county is certainly deserving of better quarters than at present. The worst of it is, however, that the various departments of county work are very inadequately provided for, at present. Union county has grown so much since the present court house was built that the county officials whose offices are located there, are greatly cramped for room.

But a new court house costs money. According to the calculations of the Freeholders, the proposed building will cost from $175,000 to $200,000. Just at present, the Freeholders are compelled yearly to appropriate about $5 000 to keep the present building together or make some addition to provide for the increasing needs of a department which has overflowed its old quarters. By issuing bonds at 3 or 3 1-2 per cent., the interest would but little exceed the present appropriation and the county would have a building of which it would be proud.

A committee from the Board of Freeholders was instructed to go into the matter and ascertain the cost of erecting such a building. There is no question about the site as the lot next to the present court house, where the old Sheridan House stood, is owned by the county and would make an ideal spot for a handsome county building. The report of the committee will be watched with interest and, if the Freeholders can manage to have a structure, the erection of which will not increase their annual budget to an appreciable extent, their action will be approved by every thinking citizen of the county.

The inventor and manufacturer of a popular fountain pen, says the Philadelphia Record, has told some of his experiences to a representative of Printers' Ink. Besides the direct returns from newspaper advertising, there were other benefits—for example, "salesmen find newspaper 'ads' a great aid." As an instance of immediate results aside from effecting sales the manufacturer mentions that "from a forty-five-cent advertisement in a newspaper I obtained an excellent salesman who was with me eight years, and sold many thousands of dollars worth of goods."

It is much easier to tell how it should have been done when it is all over than to explain beforehand. When the question of changes at the city's sewage disposal plant comes up before the Council tonight the Councilmen want to remember that fact and go slowly so that some future Council will not have to repeat their present experience.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Robert Davis has turned down James Smith, of Newark, for the nomination of United States Senator by the Democratic members of the Legislature. Served him right. Mr. Davis nominates former Congressman Alvah Clark, of Somerset county, for that place. Whereupon Farmer Orator Martine dissents, saying that "such a course would be unfair to the mass of our party;" but does not suggest any other candiddate. "Uncle Jim" is too modest, by far. Now there is James Martine, of Union, f'rinstance.—Bayonne Herald.

* * * * *

The suspicion is abroad in New Jersey that James F. Martine, well, widely and willingly known as the "Farmer Orator," will be one of the most lonely men north of the Raritan river if he doesn't wear ship and go about pretty soon. His latest appearance in print is his objection to ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark. of Somerset county, as the Democratic candidate for United States Senator. His objection is that Mr. Clark is not a Bryan Democrat. Mr. Martine's loyalty to an idea has never been questioned but his loyalty to the Hudson County Democrats, who will see to it that Mr. Clark is unanimously supported in the joint session of the Legislature, call "a dead one," is likely to create a demand for sunflower seeds on at least one farm in Union county next spring.—New York Tribune.

* * * * *

Everybody knew a kick was coming, but not everybody thought it would come so promptly. "Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, of Plainfield, protests against the selection of ex Congressman Clark for the complimentary nomination for United States Senator, because he is not a Bryan man.

It is just possible that that was one of the main reasons why Collector Davis picked out Mr. Clark for that honor. If there is one thing in the world that the Hudson Democracy is sick of it is Bryanism. This is the plague that has sometimes caused local Democrats more sleepless nights than any other nuisance.

In party councils, where reason has not yet been dethroned, Democratic leaders are throwing overboard the Bryan ballast. In some cases the proceeding is going on openly. In other places it is being done behind screens

The Hudson Assembly caucus held last Thursday night indorsed Clark for the Senatorial complimentary nomination, and Clark will get it notwithstanding any protests on the part of the Farmer Orator."

But Mr. Martine's kick will call attention to one fact, and that is that all the Bryanites are not dead yet, and that Collector Davis is going to have a barrelful of trouble with these gentlemen before he gets through with them.—Jersey City Journal.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Railroad.

On account of the Centennial Celebration of the establishment of the seat of government of the United States in the District of Columbia, to be held at Washington, D C., December 12, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell round-trip tickets to Washington from all points on its line at rate of single fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold and good going December 11, and will be good returning until December 14, inclusive. 12 6 10

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently Annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

With a Repertoire Company.

Walter Sherman, of Washington street, left last week for New York where he joined the Burrill Comedy Company. The company plays repertoire and is booked for a western tour as far as Wisconson. Mr. Sherman will take important parts in several of their leading productions.

Box Office Open Evenings.

For the accommodation of the general public, Manager Maze Edwards will keep the box office of Music Hall open until 9 o'clock every night this week when performances are not given for the sale of reserved seats for "Village Postmaster" and "The Christian."

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening for the consideration of important business.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L W. Randolph.

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, December 10.—Frank Schmidt, a young lad living on Prospect avenue, was held up by a rough character while on his way home from the depot Friday night. Young Schmidt had a package with him which the stranger attempted to take. The boy resisted and was aided by his dog, who sprang at the fellow, forcing him to release his hold and flee in the darkness.

Ludlow Frazee commenced work today decorating the interior of St. John's church. It will be about two weeks before the work is completed.

William Dealaman has taken a position with the Central at their New York office. He began his new duties last Saturday.

A. S. Giles has taken the contract for painting the roof of the Babcock building at Plainfield with a patent roof paint.

James Block returned to his position at W. G. Runyon's today after a week's absence with a sprained ankle.

J. W. Beetham, of Greenbrook, has taken the contract to convey township pupils to the New Market schools.

The Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club will meet this evening with Mrs. J. Fesmeir, of Clinton avenue.

John Peters, Jr., of Somerville, spent yesterday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. L. Peters.

A. N. Randolph and Mrs. Manning Randolph are home from a visit with New Brunswick relatives.

Mrs. William Winges who has been serious ill for some time is slowly recovering.

Lewis Churchill was the guest of friends in Bethlehem, Pa., yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 10.—With a much larger attendance than was present on the previous evening, the advertising bazaar in Friendship Hall came to a close Saturday night. During the entire evening the different booths were surrounded with eager buyers causing the contents to disappear rapidly. The programme, aside from the booth attractions, was taken up mainly with a reception by "Mrs. Partington" and her friends. Those who took part were the Misses Zella Kelly, Amy Samson, Grace Lacompte, Kittie Bays, Ethel Garretson, Katrina Krause, Mabel Pierson and Emma Danz. The characters were well rendered and showed careful preparation on the parts of the participants. The affair was successful in every way and, as a result, a goodly sum will be added to the building of Holy Innocent's church.

The cellar of Abrham Smalley's house was entered Thursday and Friday nights by some one, evidently in search of eatables. The place was ransacked both nights but nothing of value was taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pizie, of Plainfield, have taken up there residence with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pizie.

The sale of the effects from the abandoned printer's farm will be held at the farm of John Holden tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hill, of Trenton, spent yesterday with Mrs. Mary Runyon.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 10.—Frederick Hetfield, a well-known resident of the lower end of the township, died at his home Saturday night at 12:30 o'clock. Mr. Hetfield's illness was only of a week's duration. For several days he had been suffering from a severe cold, which rapidly developed into pneumonia. Funeral services will be held from the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. G. M. Shott will officiate. Interment will be made in the family plot in the cemetery adjoining the church.

A very pleasant event in the social life of the village was the "social gathering" tendered Saturday evening by Miss Sadie Ruger to a number of her friends in honor of Miss Mabel Palmer, of Bloomfield, who has been visiting her. The evening was given up to games, vocal and instrumental music and social talks. During a short intermission in the evening gayety refreshments were served. Friends were present from Bloomfield, Westfield, Plainfield and this village.

The women of the Methodist church are arranging to hold a "Rummage Sale" in the Marsh building, corner Bartle and Park avenues, on the afternoons and evenings of the 12th, 13th and 14th. Proceeds will be turned into the church treasury.

The Bright-Shepard nuptials of Saturday afternoon will go down in the social history of the village, as being one of the largest weddings in the history of Scotch Plains.

Mrs. G. M. Shott led an interesting B. Y. P. U. meeting in the Baptist church parlors last evening.

Samuel Cunningham, of Westfield, was the gueet of friends in town Sunday.

James H. Buckley, of Plainfield, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. James Buckley, yesterday.

Miss Bella Merceir was the guest of her sister in Plainfield Sunday.

Bright were receiving the congratulations of their friends, the Hungarian orchestra, of New York, concealed behind a profusion of palms, discoursed sweet music. Delmonico, of New York, was the caterer. He had provided for nearly four hundred guests, who were regaled by an elaborate dinner served about five o'clock.

Immediately after dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Bright were driven to the Netherwood station, where a special train was in waiting to carry them to New York from which city they left on a bridal tour that is to last about ten days. Upon their return they will take up their residence on their residence on Fifty seventh street, New York.

Mrs Bright's traveling gown was of grey cloth, with a cherry colored silk waist. A grey hat adorned with cock's feathers completed her attire. As the happy couple left the "Gables" they were greeted with a shower of colored confetti and one old shoe, cast by Mrs. Shepard, the bride's mother.

The arrangements at the church were carried on without the least incident happening to mar the solemnity of the services or interfere with the outside details. Chief Kiely had detailed Sergeant Frederickson, Roundsman Flynn and several patrolmen to maintain order. The chief was also present to direct matters. The police rendered material assistance in keeping the carriages in their proper position when the guests were arriving and departing. The carriage service was in charge of Frank Hedden, who handled the hundreds of carriages without trouble or accident. With the exception of the bridal party, all carriages entered from Crescent avenue. The guests' carriages left by way of Watchung avenue. Owing to the large number of guests at the church there was a scarcity of carriages and some of the guests were compelled to take trolley cars to reach the "Gables," at Fanwood, the home of the bride's parents, where the reception was held.

Among the guests present from out of town were: Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Fabbri, Judge and Mrs. Horris Russell, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoppin, Mr. and Mrs. James Russell Soley, Mrs. William Douglass Sloane and Miss Sloane, James Goodwin, and Mrs. R. M. Stuart, of New York city; Robert Shepard, Washington, D. C.; Rev. and Mrs. Francis Goodwin, of Hartford, Conn.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Dec. 10.—A wagon belonging to Mr. Block, the butcher, when turning the corner from Plainfield avenue to the New Market road, Saturday afternoon, lost a wheel. A little girl who was in the wagon at the time had a narrow escape from injury, falling headlong from the seat.

Yesterday morning a chimney fire in the old house, belonging to the Weber estate, caused quite a commotion. After a few minutes search the blaze was found and quickly subdued.

Leroy Hartzel has returned home from Easton, after making a two weeks' visit with his brother.

The windows have been boarded up and a new door placed in Peter McDonough's butcher shop.

The employes of the L. V. R. R. have made their appearance in new winter uniforms.

Repairs have been completed to the railroad bridge, and the gang of workmen laid off.

Mrs. Watson Payne has returned from Newark after a few days visit.

Shipped Big Lathe.

One of the largest forge lathes built at the Pond Tool Works in some time, was shipped today to a firm in Syracuse, N. Y. The machine is about sixty feet in length. A number of men worked over time since Saturday in order to get the lathe loaded by today.

At the Big Wedding.

Among former residents of Plainfield who were in town Saturday attending the Shepard-Bright wedding were the following New Yorkers: Miss Emma Haviland, Charles Case, Miss Emma Wadsworth and Mr. and Mrs Innerarity.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

No plays appeal with more peculiar force to theatregoers now-a days than those which deal with the quaint phases of life in the communities of New England and for this reason the presentation of "The Village Postmaster," at Music Hall, Wednesday afternoon and night, will be regarded with exceptional interest. It's naturally of extraordinary interest to say that Archie Boyd appears in the title role, and those who recall his magnificent work of Josh Whitcomb in "The Old Homestead," and Uncle Nat in "Shore Acres," know what a remarkable bit of character work is in store for all who attend. The drama is admirably staged; the store, post-office and farmyard scenes were made very effective by the appearance of the live stock, and the rain storm of real water is one of the attractive features. Archie Boyd is a great favorite in this style of character and will be supported by the original cast, and the production exactly as given during the run of 227 nights which this play had in New York, including Miss Angela Russell, as "Miranda," the Postmaster's daughter. The matinee performance of Wednesday will be the same as at night. Reserved seats can be secured for this special performance.

Probably the most pretentious theatrical event of the season here will be the engagement of Hall Caine's celebrated play, "The Christian," which comes to Music Hall Saturday night of this week. Tunis F. Dean representing this attraction, arrived in the city Saturday to complete the preliminary arrangements with Manager Maze Edwards. The stage of the opera house will be taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the two carloads of scenery and paraphernalia. The production will be attended with the same elaborate mountings and attention in detail which characterized its run of 35 consecutive weeks in Boston and New York. The company includes over 50 people. The sale of reserved seats begins today at box office. The scale of prices is announced in advertising columns.

WHERE DEW COMES FROM.

It Is Evaporated by the Heat of the Earth and Rises to Descend Again.

Ground a little below the surface is always warmer than the air over it. So long as the surface of the ground is above the dew point vapor must rise and pass from the earth into the air, says a scientific paper.

The moist air so formed will mingle with the air above it and its moisture will be condensed, forming dew wherever it comes in contact with a surface cooled below the dew point. In fact, dew rises from the ground.

Place some metal trays over the grass, the soil and the road on dewy nights. You will generally find more moisture on the grass inside the trays than outside; you will always observe a deposit of dew inside the trays, even when there is none outside at all. This shows that far more vapor rises out of the ground during the night than condenses as dew on the grass and other objects.

Dew then rises from the ground. But how is the dew formed on bodies high up in the air?

Dew does not rise in particles, as it was once considered, to fall in particles like fine rain. It rises in vapor. Some is caught by what is on the surface of the earth, but the rest ascends in vapor form until it comes in contact with a much colder surface, to condense it into moisture.

The vapor does not flow upward in a uniform stream, but is mixed in the air by eddies and wind currents and carried to bodies far from where it rose. In fact, dew may be deposited, even though the country for many miles all around be dry and incapable of yielding any vapor to form that dew would depend on the evaporation of the dew and on what was wafted over by the winds.

I was riding on the Brooklyn elevated, said a lady, when I noticed two nice looking men sitting opposite me who were reading the advertising cards over my head. I heard one of them read:

"Open your mouth and shut your eyes
And I'll give you something to make you wise."

Whereupon the other said: "That is an advertisement of Ripans Tabules—They're a good thing! I know that from my own experience. I used to have occasional headaches that spoiled a day for me. About two years ago I learned about the Tabules and they stave off the headache every time. I carry them in my vest pocket regularly now."

"I must look into that," said the other man, "for I too have headaches now and then."

"Well," said his friend, "Ripans Tabules will break them up. Here! take one now," added he, producing a vial from his vest pocket.

"And," says the lady, "the man swallowed the Tabule then and there."

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

Sarah Davidson's Gossip of New York Fashion

She Writes About the New Skirts, the New Coats and the Odd Things in the Stores

GREAT variety is seen in the skirts of the season

VARIETY almost without limit is the feature of the season in the line of skirts. Ever so many designs are in vogue, and all have a following, but those with a flare at the foot are in the lead, as I prophesied they would be earlier in the season. I would not say that these are the prettiest of the season's skirts, but the cut probably appeals to the woman of fashion more strongly because it is the farthest away from the skirts of last season, and then, too, one of the straight skirts that we have been having could not by any possible means be cut over so as to give this effect, and this gives the women who care not for dollars a little more exclusiveness of style. Our woman of society is not yet so charitable as to desire to give the woman who must economize an opportunity to emulate her in the matter of gowns.

These flared skirts are made in several ways. The effect may be produced by numerous gores, by plaitings let in between gores, by plaitings set on all around or by the always favored shaped flounce. But, while the shaped flounce is quite as popular as of old, it is different in cut to what it was. Now it is much narrower than formerly, merely giving a graceful swing to the skirt without rippling, and the fullness introduced in the gores is not stiffened, but falls quite limply and always gracefully.

When the let-in plaiting method is used it is possible to introduce many pretty conceits. This method is adopted to a considerable extent for light wools and crepes because of this fact. They show the laces and braids that are used in connection with them to better effect than other materials would.

There is practically nothing new at the waist line. There the old condition of a flat, rather close fit predominates. But in some the plait is not concealed at all, though it is seldom aggressive.

THE fashionable winter coats come from abroad

OUR American women have to a great extent worn home-designed gowns for the past season or two, and it is the American designers who have fashioned American styles in gowns for the present and coming season, with the exception of the few who bought while in Paris at the exposition. But the imported coat is the vogue in that line of ladies' garments. No really smart woman in New York thinks of buying a winter outer garment of the more serviceable order that has not come from Paris, Berlin, Vienna or London, and in these styles London leads. This demand for imported garments runs through driving coats, box coats, automobiles, L'Aiglons, empires, Raglans and walking coats. The colors run to tones of tan, gray, brown, royal blue, olive green, fawn and automobile red. The materials are covert cloth, heavyweight Venetian, broadcloth and velvet principally.

OF AUTOMOBILE RED COVERT CLOTH.

A description of two or three of them will illustrate the general trend of the styles in these garments. One of the new long coats, for instance, is made of royal blue silk velvet cut on the raglan style, with large flowing sleeves, around which are bands of sable. It has a broad turnover collar and pointed revers of the sable that cover the entire front of the coat.

A coat that is entirely different but quite as handsome is of automobile red covert cloth on the empire style. It has a scalloped yoke stitched in a handsome design with white silk. The skirt of the coat hangs in side plaits falling loose just below the waist line. A Medici collar of ermine and deep cuffs of the same complete the garment.

One of the jaunty double-breasted three-quarter length affairs is of broadcloth in the popular rich brown. This is stitched with a darker shade of brown. It has a high Medici collar lined with ruching of ivory satin ribbon. Rounded revers and six large cut-steel buttons finish the front. The sleeves are bell-shape at the wrists.

ODDS and ends of fashion in the NEW YORK stores

HOW easy it is for the woman who loves the beautiful in dress accessories to be pleased with what is shown in the New York stores just now. But they are not the knick-knacks that are bought with nickels and dimes; it takes dollars, and sometimes many of them, to purchase the pretty little things. In fact, they are more expensive proportionately than the gowns.

In the shops are sold separate boleros embroidered heavily in gold, as well as embroidered sets of cuffs and collars. The use of the gold embroideries requires a considerable outlay of money.

The use of tinsel ribbon promises to become very widespread. Before long we shall be reveling in all sorts of patterned tinsels, the smooth cloth worked in small patterns with gold thread.

OF ROYAL BLUE VELVET.

Gold buckles and belts enjoy a renewed popularity in this craze for the loved metal. Heavily embroidered bodices and skirts for evening wear are handsome affairs, but a weariness to the wearer, for the gold applied to them usually in the aggregate makes them very heavy.

From Paris come the empire fans to go with the empire gowns. Some of the new ones are exact reproductions of some of the famous fans of Josephine. Fans with amber and mother of pearl sticks, covered with lace and then hand-painted, are considered very smart. One of the novelties of the new fans is the fact that they are provided with a couple of eye-shaped holes, through which the owner may peer coquettishly while she pretends to shade her eyes with her fan.

The latest thing in handkerchiefs is a gauze affair, edged with the most cobwebby of lace, tiny enough to hide itself in the palm of the glove.

The novelty of the season seems to be the use of white, black and gold lace together—that is, the three kinds of lace woven in the same piece. Or a white net may be covered with applications of black and gold lace and hung over a pink foundation.

The variety offered in stockings is without limit, but they are all gay when seen well above the shoe top—that is, those designed for street wear. For the house it is different, and too much ornamentation cannot be placed about the instep, where it will show just above the slipper. This ornamentation often takes the form of appliqued flowers, the applique being of velvet. They are supposed to be worn with the latest fad, the black velvet slipper.

SARAH DAVIDSON.

Money in an Old House.

While making repairs to the house of E. J. Buckingham, in Huntington, Conn., the workmen found in a cunningly devised hole in one of the walls, a tin box containing $1 570 in gold, silver and copper coins. The coins bear dates from 1796 to 1812. Twelve years ago $40 in gold coin were found concealed in the same house, which was built in 1772. The owner believes other treasures are concealed in the dwelling.

People Who Are Making the HISTORY of the WORLD

A Story of Mason.

Senator William E. Mason, of Illinois, is a good story teller, and can usually occupy the floor without any opposition. But the best men in all lines will sometimes meet a "Waterloo," and Senator Mason met his on an Illinois Central train a few days ago.

Senator Mason.

The Wellington that administered the defeat was an elderly lady who had performed the same task for the corpulent senator when he was but a stripling of a youth and lived with his parents in Franklinville, N. Y.

The two met quite by accident. They were both traveling in the same Pullman car. When the senator saw the lady he recognized in her, despite her gray hairs, the young woman who had first "trounced" him at school. It was but a few moments before they were oblivious of all surroundings and were living over again the happy days in Franklinville when the youthful Mason was mastering his first school lessons and laying the foundation for the career that landed him in the United States senate, while the young lady teacher was "boarding 'round" in the community.

"And do you see any resemblance in me to the boy you taught in Franklinville?" asked the senator.

"No, not a great deal," replied the lady; "but then you are washed now, and that makes a great difference. I remember quite well the first night I stayed at your father's house. We were sitting about the fireplace in the front room when he came in, and the first thing he asked me was if I noticed any reduction in the size of the family, and then he explained that they had had the annual wash-up that day, that the children had all been given a bath, and that they had found two of their neighbor's children had been living with them all winter."

"And don't I look something like I did that night?" asked the senator.

"When I look at you closely I believe that you do," replied the lady, and the laugh that went around the car was at Senator Mason's expense.

Gen. Otis in Chicago.

Unless the unexpected happens Maj. Gen. E. S. Otis has settled down in Chicago to complete his active service in the United States army. There are yet nearly two years before the date of his retirement, and as the next highest military post in the gift of the government is the command at Governor's island, N. Y., and as Gen. Merritt does not retire until after the date on which Gen. Otis will sever his connection with the army it is hardly probable that his military duties will again take him from Chicago.

Gen. E. S. Otis.

Gen. Otis is not the first of the great American soldiers to command the department of the lakes. It is a duty that has devolved upon many historic men within the past few years, and it has always been considered a good berth. Just at present there are but few soldiers in the department, but its importance as a military department remains just the same. Through this department is purchased many of the supplies for the army in Cuba, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the different posts in the United States, and for that reason army headquarters in Chicago is at all times a busy place.

Of the various general officers who have served at Chicago none have been more popular than was Gen. Sheridan, because of his democratic ways. It was Sheridan who made famous a little back-door restaurant on Madison street. By patronizing it he attracted to it many of the wealthy and influential men of the city. Gen. Sheridan has long since passed away, but the little restaurant still holds the patronage which he gave it, and the wealthiest men in the city take their luncheon there off pine-topped tables and from cracked and broken dishes, just as Gen. Sheridan did.

The Tables Turned.

So frequently has it occurred that we have grown quite accustomed to the titled poor of Europe seeking richly dowried brides in America, and it is a pleasure to record an instance in which the usual order of things seem to be reversed, and an American woman is to be accorded the privilege of spending a few European millions.

Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg.

Rumor has it that Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg is to marry in the near future Alfred Beit, the head and feet of the De Beers Diamond company, and the only billionaire in the world.

The lady in question is the handsome widow of the New York banker who was drowned at sea a few years ago, and has the modest little fortune of $500,000 of her own. But a critical public can never accuse the prospective groom of seeking her hand for any such paltry sum as that when compared with his own wealth.

Alfred Beit, like Cecil Rhodes, made his fortune in South Africa in the diamond and gold fields. In fact, he was many times a millionaire because of his investments at Kimberley long before Rhodes took a hand in the game at all. He went there as the representative of his father 25 years ago. The father was a Hamburg merchant to whom came many applications for credit from parties in South Africa, and he sent his son, then a young man of 22, to the country to see whether or not conditions warranted the extension of the credits which were asked for. He found "confusion worse confounded" at the new town of Kimberley, and realized that if diamonds were not to become a drug on the market it would be necessary for the extensive fields to pass under the control of one governing body and the sales limited. He quietly bought up the claims, and in time organized the De Beers company. What that company represents in pounds and shillings all the world knows.

If rumor is right, and Mrs. Ladenburg becomes Mrs. Beit, she will be the mistress of one of the finest and at the same time queerest houses in London. Its style of architecture was unnamed until a London literary woman called it "early South African." But it is a charming place, even with its queerness.

Promotion of Curzon.

According to rumors that come down from high places, it is possible that there are even greater honors in store for Baron and Lady Curzon than viceroy and vicerine of India. Rumor has it that the brilliant young baron is likely soon to be premier of England.

Lady Curzon.

Five years is the alloted term of a viceroy of India, and of this Baron Curzon has served but two, but during that two years he has given to India one of the most brilliant administrations the country has known. Bad as the famine conditions have been they might have been a hundred per cent. worse but for the relief measures which the viceroy has carried through. As for the social features of his reign in India, even the spectacle-loving natives could have asked for nothing more brilliant than the regal splendor of the Indian court under the rule of Baron and Lady Curzon.

When Miss Mary Victoria Leiter became the wife of the now Baron Curzon he was under secretary of state for foreign affairs of England and a member of parliament. That was in 1895, and since then his promotions have been rapid. When he was sent to India he was created Baron of Curzon, and this title he will continue to hold until the death of his father, when he will succeed to the title of Baron Scarsdale and become eligible to a seat in the house of lords.

New Governor of Transvaal.

Lord Roberts has named as the first military governor of the Transvaal Maj. Gen. John Grenfell Maxwell. In English military circles the appointment is considered an excellent one, as the officer has an enviable reputation; but he certainly has a greater task at present than has ever been assigned to him before. Just at the present time the pacific governorship of the Transvaal is by no means a sinecure, and to bring about a lasting peace will be a hard task.

Gen. Maxwell.

Gen. Maxwell has seen considerable exciting service in the 41 years of his life. He entered the army after graduating at Cheltenham in 1881 as a lieutenant in the Royal Highlanders. Almost immediately he was ordered with the Black Watch to Egypt, to take part in the campaign against the Egyptian rebels. He was present at the battle of Tel-el-Kebir; served as staff captain during the Nile expedition, and in 1885-86 with the Egyptian field force as aide de camp to Maj. Gen. Grenfell. In 1896 he was breveted lieutenant colonel and served with Kitchener in the fierce fighting that finally reconquered the Soudan for Egypt, commanding the Egyptian brigade at the battle of Omdurman. He is a companion of the Distinguished Service order.

WRIGHT A. PATTERSON.

To Be Buried in Palestine.

The heart of the late marquis of Bute is to be taken from the body, carried to the Holy Land and buried on the summit of Mount Olivet. The marquis was a devout Roman Catholic and expressed a wish just before he died that his heart be so disposed of.

Cheap at That.

Seventeen historical novels are being written by prominent Billville authors. They have hired three men at a dollar a day to manufacture the history.

THE NEW KENTUCKY.

Trolley Is Revolutionizing the Blue Grass Country.

Horse Racing and Whisky Making Seriously Crippled by a Fin de Siecle Wave of Industrial Progress.

[Special Lexington (Ky.) Letter.]

THE "Old Kentucky" is the new, and old things are rapidly passing away with the advance of progressive ideas. The towns and thickly settled neighborhoods of the far-famed "Blue Grass" region will soon be connected by an electric railway system, extending from Lexington, the central point, to Versailles, Paris, Frankfort, Bardstown, Highbridge, Harrodsburg, Boonesboro, Maysville, Bluelicks and Kingsbridge. These include the principal commercial points and the main historic spots of "old Kentucky," the blue grass belt being the richest in history of any portion of the state. This system will be extended to these historic spots for the benefit of sightseers, thus making of this region a resort, as well as for the purpose of building up the various towns and settling the country with farmers and stock raisers. During the past decade Kentucky has somewhat lost prestige as a stock raising country, especially with reference to horses, owing to the decline in prices and competition from other sections. Manufacturing has also languished, and the growing of hemp has considerably fallen off. But with increased railroad facilities these industries will be revived, especially the two latter. The rich limestone formation underlying this fertile Blue Grass region (from which the blue grass is produced and takes its name), makes a highly productive soil, not found where limestone does not exist. Here not only agriculture flourishes bountifully, but many products are raised which build up factories, and the newer generation now propose to utilize at home the products of their soil, and to make the Blue Grass region produce something besides race horses and whisky for exportation. The wave of industrial progress has reached this section of "old Kentucky," and it will soon become the "new," so far as material progress is concerned.

FIRST CHURCH BUILT IN KENTUCKY, AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington is the commercial center of the Blue Grass region, and though only a city of 30,000 population, it has $10,000,000 of unemployed capital to loan, and $5,000,000 in United States bonds in addition. These mainly represent the wealth of some of the retired aristocracy who lie back in the shade, free from the cares and troubles of life, and when money is wanted they merely cut off a few interest-bearing coupons. Much of this capital will be invested in factories and in other enterprises during the next few years, and Lexington will no doubt keep at the head in the march of progress. But, strangely, the city cannot grow to a much larger extent—as a corporate city. When it was founded by the Pattersons and Steeles a century and a quarter ago, the limits were extended one mile in every direction from the central point—the present courthouse. Those limits have never been changed, and while Lexington has grown to almost its fullest capacity it has overflowed, and about 25 per cent. of its population are included in suburbs. Sentiment for the past has prevented the changing of the original limits of the town, which the "long hunters" named who happened to be camped upon this beautiful spot when they heard of our victory at Lexington—the first battle of the revolution. The people are richer, in proportion to the number of inhabitants, than those of any other city in the United States, it is believed; yet Paris and Versailles contend that they are the richer. For many years after its settlement Lexington was the commercial center of the west, and was a thriving city when Louisville was known as the "Falls of the Ohio," and Cincinnati as a fort. But with the rise of these cities Lexington declined, and its manufactures became unprofitable. These are now being reestablished with the new order of things, and less attention will be given to raising horses for the market, and, it is hoped, to horse racing and the manufacture of blue grass whisky.

LEXINGTON IN RACE WEEK.

It may be stated, incidentally, that the genuine article of blue grass whisky is rarely, if ever, found beyond its habitat. It is in most cases adulterated, beyond recognition almost. While Lexington was the commercial center of the west it was also the intellectual center—the "Athens of the west." The early settlers were men of intelligence, rather than adventurers. They came from Virginia and Pennsylvania principally, and the majority were leaders in their own communities. Hence Lexington justly claimed the title; as its people, like those of ancient Athens, possessed about all of the learning that could be gathered to this seat of learning. Some of the settlers possessed slaves, and all had vast tracts of land, and thus they formed a "leisure class," though they were pioneers. This is an exception in pioneer life, and because of this Kentucky is so rich in history and has produced so many men of eminence who have helped to make national history. Kentucky also claims to have taken the lead in the invention of the first steamboat and the first railroad in this country. There is a model of a locomotive and car in the Lexington museum, made by Joseph Price in 1829. He traveled round the country exhibiting it, as a menagerie. His invention was used in the first railroad in the west—between this city and Frankfort. The locomotive was drawn by horses, the rails were of scrap iron and were spiked down on stone foundations. This was the second railroad to be built in the United States. There is also in the museum here an account of the first steamboat built in the United States. It was built by John Fitch, in 1787, and a creek near Lexington was dammed for the "trial trip." Later improvements were made in order to get the craft to run up stream. It is believed that this is the first steamboat built in the world. Rifled cannon were made here in 1840, and ships were built on the Kentucky river in 1820.

A moral wave is sweeping over this section of the Blue Grass country. Horse racing is not so fashionable as it was in the old days; in fact, it is only fashionable with a certain element—the true aristocracy draw the line at this famous Kentucky "sport." The racing seasons are not so well attended, even locally, as in days past, and comparatively few people from a distance attend. And those that do come are largely of that class that is not wanted in any civilized community. In former days there was less of this rough element, which has done more than anything else to make "race week" unpopular. Lately, however, the roughest element from the cities flock here, bringing their confidence games and jockey schemes for swindling those who bet on the speed of horses, thus causing distrust and changing genuine racing to schemes for defrauding. Of course, there are many exceptions, but the invasion of this element has greatly reduced the attendance and lessened the general interest in these annual "trots." During the racing season, which usually lasts ten days, Lexington is crowded with the toughest element that ever disgraced any city—the scum of civilization. Jockeys, gamblers, bunco thieves and "shovers" of counterfeit bills—all come to fleece the Blue Grass natives, if possible. This element is of no benefit to the people, nor to legitimate racing. They prey upon the town and the people, and leave only a demoralizing effect, and their swindled victims.

The better element is beginning to realize this, and steps will be taken to prevent this influx of degraded humanity at the next racing season. The usual result from the visitation of this scum is several shooting affrays, and perhaps two or three murders. This is an additional expense to the taxpayers. The local criminal population is large enough, without an invitation to other cities. It is this refuse element which has made Lexington a "wide open" town, especially during the racing season, and it is very difficult to close it afterward. Games run at full blast, corrupting the youth, and often tempting those holding financial positions to an extent beyond their powers of resistance. The saloons are open at all hours, regardless of the law requiring them to keep closed on Sundays. Were it not for this violation of law, and the migration of the rough element to this city during the racing season, Lexington would not have near the number of killings that occur here. There have been but two legal hangings in this county within the past 40 years, and, while the number of informal hangings has not greatly exceeded this number, it is the opinon of the better element that there should be more of one kind or of the other.

DUCKS PLENTIFUL.

Reports From South Jersey Coast Show That Gunners Are Bagging Bunches of Fowl.

All along the New Jersey coast gunners are bagging big bunches of ducks. The fowl settle on the inlets and throughfares in great flocks. At Corson's Inlet near Cape May, there are feeding grounds, where the birds may be found any time during the day, through late in the afternoon the opportunity for wing shots is the best, as the ducks then come in from the ocean to seek cover over night.

Most of the ducks that are now found are of the diving variety. They seldom fly, and the gunner must be quick to shoot, as they dive quickly. Black ducks, however, have begun to appear in large numbers.

A South Jerseyman who has spent many years gunning for ducks, predicts that this will be the greatest season for sportsmen that he has ever known. He says gunners making single day trips may take a boat and decoys, throw up a little brush found along the inlet, and, behind this, shoot from two to ten ducks a day.

Frequently gunners arrive on the morning train and return in the evening, carrying a fair-sized bunch of birds. The laws of New Jersey do not prohibit the taking of ducks out of the State.

FORMER PLAINFIELDER DEAD.

Joseph Walton Dobbins Passed Away at His Home in California Last Week.

Word was received this morning by M. C Dobbins, of Elmwood place, of the death of his brother. Joseph Walton Dobbins, which occurred a week ago yesterday at his home, Santa Paula, California.

Mr. Dobbins was 50 years old and was the youngest of four brothers and one sister. He was born in Caldwell, Essex county, and for many years lived in this city, where he was engaged in the tobacco business with his brother. Afterwards he took up his residence in Newark, and he held a responsible position for several years with the New York Life Insurance Company.

Four years ago he contracted a heavy cold while watching a McKinley and Hobart demonstration in Newark and he never recovered from it. Two years ago he, his wife and his brother, Francis, and wife, went to Santa Paula to live, thinking the change would do him good. While a resident of this city Mr. Dobbins was married to Miss Gussie Lee, of Rahway, who survives him.

The interment took place early last week at Santa Paula.

Injured Man Found on Track.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 10—A man, who gave the name of Mahansky, was picked up on the tracks of the Jersey Central Railroad, near the Bridge street crossing, early yesterday morning. He had apparently been struck by an eastbound train and thrown on the westbound tracks. His injuries consists of a fractured arm and a scalp wound. He was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. He will recover.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Joseph Robinson, of West Third street, was tendered a pleasant surprise party by thirty of his friends Friday evening. Several hours were passed in singing and playing games. After refreshments had been served the merry-makers left for home shortly after midnight.

TO ENTERTAIN GOVERNOR.

C. N. Fowler Will Give Him a Dinner at Washington Tomorrow.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Washington, Dec. 10—The Postoffice Department granted to Congressman Howell a sixth rural free delivery Saturday, completing the circuit around New Brunswick. It will include Franklin Park and a part of Somerset county not hitherto supplied with facilities.

Congressman McDermott has in charge the matter of eulogies to be delivered on the late Representative Daly, his predecessor. The date has not been fixed.

Tomorrow Congressman Fowler will entertain Governor Voorhees and staff at dinner at his home here, and on Wednesday Senator Bacon, of Georgia, will give a reception in their honor.

Citizens of New Jersey have petitioned through Senator Kean in favor of the Grout Oleomargarine bill and a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy.

Congressman McDermott has been granted indefinite leave on account of illness.

NINE YEARS OLD.

Christian Endeavor Society Celebrated its Birthday Saturday Morning.

The ninth anniversary of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church was observed Saturday morning. Miss Ida Spicer, president of the Society, was in charge of the service and she made a few congratulatory remarks regarding the excellent work done during the past year.

The reports showed that eight new members were received, making a total active membership of 78. There are 28 associate members. A very interesting report was also made by Miss Mitchell, superintendent of the Junior society. A feature of the service was the excellent address by Rev. Dr. A. E. Main, pastor of the church. He spoke words of encouragement and congratulation to the young people and gave them some good advice for the coming year.

HAND CRUSHED.

Miss Florence Carver Had Hand Caught in Press at Crescent Embossing Works This Morning.

Miss Florence Carver, a young woman employed at the Crescent Embossing Works, met with a painful accident early this morning soon after going to work. She was at work on one of the presses and accidentally her right hand was caught in the press, crushing most of the fingers and a good portion of the hand.

A telephone message quickly brought a carriage to the Works, and as the young woman refused to go to the hospital, she was taken to her home, where medical aid was summoned and proper treatment given It is not yet known whether or not Miss Carver will lose her hand.

ELECTION RETURNS.

A Few Corrections Made at a Meeting of County Election Board This Morning.

Regarding the returns of the last municipal election those published in The Daily Press were correct except in Fred Huff's vote for Justice of the Peace in the First district of the First ward. His vote should have been 245 instead of 235, which would make the total vote 716 and not 706. This makes Justice Huff's majority 323 instead of 313. The error was a clerical one and easily adjusted by the County Board of Canvass, which met at Elizabeth this morning. The returns from the First ward were corrected and the certificates of election sent to City Clerk J. T. MacMurray.

Faithful to Her Church.

Mrs. Rachel Allen Neal, widow of William H Neal, aged 78 years, died Saturday evening at the home of her son, Frank S. Neal, of West Front street. She had been in feeble health for a long time past, and her death was not wholly unexpected. She was a faithful member of the First Baptist church and a sincere Christian woman. She will be greatly missed in the home by those who have been near her for many years. The funeral services will be private.

Rasores Club Meets Tomorrow.

The Rasores Club will meet tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. William DeWitt Miller, of LaGrande avenue. A full attendance is requested. All ladies having books for the "travelling library" are asked to bring them or send them at once to Mrs. R. C. Leonard.

HANSEN IS DEAD.

Overseer of the Poor Passed Away This Morning at 9 O'clock After a Long Illness.

After a long and tedious illness Christian P. Hansen, Overseer of the Poor, died at his home on West Second street, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. His health had been failing for the past year. In the hope of recovering his strength he spent the greater part of the summer in Canada but returned in September without being benefited to any extent. Since then he has steadily grown worse, death finally relieving his suffering.

Mr. Hansen was thirty-five years old and came to this country ten years ago from Denmark. He was a machinist by trade and was employed for some time in the Pond Tool Works. For a long time he was a member and a regular attendant at Hope Chapel. A wife and two children survive him. The funeral arrangements have not as yet been perfected.

BURGLARS AT WORK.

Entered Residence of E. E. Pray, of Rahway Road, But Obtained Nothing of Much Value.

The residence of E. E. Pray, situated on Rahway road, was entered by burglars last night. It was about 12 o'clock when Mrs. Pray's father was seized with a bad spell of coughing and this aroused the family. It is believed that the noise frightened the intruders away.

It was not, however, until this morning this morning that Mr. Pray discovered that the house had been entered, which was accomplished by raising a kitchen window.

The thieves did not secure anything of value. The only property taken was some shoes and a coat and vest belonging to Mr. Pray. They did not succeed in getting up stairs. Mr. Pray, who has reported the matter to the police, is of the opinion that the burglars are of the local stripe and not professionals.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Annie Miller, of Park avenue, went to Roosevelt Hospital today to undergo an operation. Dr. Zeglio has charge of her case.

Mrs. Elijah Dufford, of Middle Valley, Morris county, is visiting at the home of her son, Geo. E. Dufford, 203 West Second street.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—In pursuit of the best for the least money. That is what all are after and Peck's is the place to find it.

—A fair will be held Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings of this week at Grace P. E church.

A Story Writer.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Matthews, of Brooklyn, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Runyon, of Madison avenue. Mr. Matthews is an editor of the New York Sun and the author of many popular books. An article by him in the Harper's Weekly last fall, on "The Cost of Tammany Hall in Flesh and Blood" is the direct cause of the present crusade against the big New York political organization.

Died After Brief Illness.

The death of Mrs. Flora W. Porteous, wife of Allen H. Craft, occurred at her home, 14 Norwood avenue yesterday. Death was caused by perotonitis. Her illness was of brief duration. The funeral services will be held at her late residence tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Interment will be made at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Hanged Himself to Bed-post.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 10—Henry Weber, who conducts a fruit store here, was found dead in his room late Saturday night. He committed suicide by hanging himself to the bed-post. His wife left him a short time ago.

Justice Huff's Court.

The case of Stenger against Harris & Co, has been settled without being tried.

Papers have been issued in the contract case of Thos McGann against Anna B. Mills, returnable December 15th.

The Captain Only Laughed.

A Kansas man en route to the Paris exposition declares that the only time in his life he really lost his nerve was when the sailors on the ship commenced to load up the lifeboats with bread and water. He did not know that this is done once a week, in order to have the boats always in readiness, and he felt sure that a great storm was coming that would swamp them all. He was so scared that he hunted up the captain and asked him about it. The captain only laughed, and, although that made the Kansas man easy in his mind, it also angered him. "These captains," he confided to another passenger, "put on too much style, anyway. There isn't one of them that could tell the difference between a self-binder and a steam stacker."

FUNERAL OF S. J. NEAL.

Held From Family Residence on Duer Street Yesterday Afternoon—Dr. Snodgrass Officiated.

There was a large attendance yesterday afternoon at the funeral of the late Samuel J. Neal, which was held from the family residence, 177 Duer street. Many floral tributes surrounded the handsome black cloth casket in which the body reposed. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. William C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Methodist church, who paid a deserved tribute to the life and characteristics of the deceased, who was held in high esteem by many of the citizens of North Plainfield as well as this city, where he was engaged in business for so many years The bearers were: Frank Rowley, J. L. Bennett, Peter Flynn, Charles Krewson and Burt and Frank Eick. Interment was in the North Plainfield cemetery.

LITTLE BUSINESS AT COUNCIL MEETING

Important Questions Didn't Come Up at Adjourned Meeting Last Night.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.

PASSED BY COUNCIL AT THE DEATH OF OVERSEER OF POOR.

Building Trades Council Asked the Council to Recognize It in Work on City Buildings—New Quarters For Police.

There was an adjourned meeting of the Common Council last evening. There was no special business of importance but what could have been considered at the last meeting or held over until the next meeting. All the members were present, and the small amount of business under consideration was transacted expeditiously.

A communication was received from George Whitlock, secretary of the Building Trades' Council, asking the Council to recognize the Union in matters pertaining to all work on city buildings, etc. The communication stated that the Council now numbers about three hundred members.

Mr Buckle, chairman of the police committee, reported that the department had taken possession of the new quarters in East Front street, and Corporation Counsel Marsh had been requested to draw a lease for the rental of the place.

Mr. VanHerwerden offered a resolution engaging H. C. VanEmburgh, the civil engineer, to make the necessary corrections on the city maps. For this work he is to receive $100 for a term of one year, which will extend from May 1900 to May 1901.

City Clerk MacMurray reported that the County Board of Elections had corrected the city election returns and passed on them officially.

The following was offered by Mr. Lee, chairman of the alms committee, and adopted unanimously: "Resolved, That the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, learns with regret of the death of Christian P. Hansen, overseer of the poor, and tenders their sympathy to the widow and family in this their hour of bereavement."

In conclusion arrangements were made for holding the last meeting for the year. President John B Dumont announced that on account of the first Monday in January falling on the 7th, it would be in the jurisdiction of the Council to meet any time in January up to the 7th. It was finally decided to hold the last meeting Thursday evening, December 27, when the business of the year will be concluded.

POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

That City Department is Now Provided For the Best That It Ever Has Been.

The police department of this city has now the most comfortable quarters that it has ever been its good fortune to occupy. They are clean, light and warm and centrally located, a convenience much desired and appreciated. The City Judge has a high desk from which he can look down and frown upon the derelicts that are brought before him. In reference to the cadi's desk it might incidentally be mentioned that the large chandelier which hung in close proxmity to Judge Runyon's head, and from which he was compelled to dodge in order to avoid a collision, has been removed and side lights placed on either side of the desk.

Many Carriages Needed.

The Shepard-Bright wedding of last Saturday drew upon the stock of carriages in this city. The demand was greater than the supply. In consequence Frank Hedden, who had charge of that part of the arrangements, was compelled to send out of town to meet the demand. There were 209 private carriages, while there were 69 coaches to convey the out of town guests from the station to the Crescent Avenue church and then to the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard. It required 12 minutes to place all the out of town guests in carriages at the station and twenty-two minutes to start them from the church after the wedding.

At the Convention.

The annual convention of the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association was held in Paterson yesterday. Branch No. 7, comprised of the firemen in this city, was represented by James Daley, William Ross and George Feiring.

REDUCED TROLLEY FARE

FIVE CENT RATE PROMISED BETWEEN BOUND BROOK AND SOMERVILLE.

Important Meeting of Town Commissioners of Somerville Last Night —New Arrangement Made.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, December 11. — The Town Commissioners last night decided to buy a chemical engine for Lincoln Hose, conditioned on the company's putting up a house to receive it. The company will put up a three-story brick house on Warren street, and will commence work at once.

The Board also decided to macadamize the piece of road connecting Union avenue with Cliff street, which will then give a good macadam road all the way to Bound Brook.

An amendment to the trolley franchise was passed on its first and second reading, which provides for a reduction of fare to five cents from any point in Somerville to any point in Bound Brook, in consideration of which the Board allows the company to put up round wooden poles in place of iron ones, and to allow two cars to stand in front of the Court House all night. The latter clause to be terminnated at the will of the Board.

A resolution was also passed directing the Counsel of the Board to take proceedings in Chancery requiring the Central Railroad to place gates or flagmen at the Middagh street and Hamilton street crossings.

ARCANUMITES ELECT.

Officers Chosen For the Year by Plainfield Council — Grand Regent Lightfoot Present.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, held a regular meeting last evening, and officers for the ensuing year, were elected. The office of vice-regent was left open to be filled at the next meeting, the night before Christmas. The election resulted as follows: Regent, Dr. W. Kempton Browning; orator, Geo. H. Bruce; past regent, Herbert Buxson; chaplain, Wheaton S. Lowry; secretary, Fred J. Pope; collector, Elliott T. Burr; treasurer, D. W. Littell; guide, Richard Osmun; warden, A. W. Winckler; sentry, A. Devine; representative to Grand Council, Herbert Buxson; alternate, A. I. Littell; treasurer, 3 years, A. W. Conklin.

A feature of the meeting was the official visitation of Grand Regent Lightfoot, of Westfield, and Grand Deputy Collins, of Fanwood. They both gave interesting addresses, and encouraged the members to greater effort. The grand regent stated that would visit the council the first of January and he earnestly requests every member to be present, especially those not out last evening.

The council received one addition to the membership by transfer, J. E. Flannery, of Fanwood Council, uniting with Plainfield Council.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served and a social time followed.

Factory For Dewey Park.

S. D. Drake has just closed a contract with Charles F. Greber, of Newark, for the location of his factory for the manufacturing of novelties, in Dewey Park. The factory at the start will employ 40 hands. The contract for erection will be given out this week and building operations will be commenced at once. In connection with the erection of the factory contracts have been made for the sale of 100 building lots in Dewey Park and for the erection of two $2,500 houses. Ten other houses will be built as soon as the weather permits.

Former Mayor Randolph's New Book.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph's book of poems, entitled "Survivals," which has just come from the press, is charmingly illustrated by Bryson Burroughs. These poems have been written during Mr. Randolph's leisure hours and are considered of much merit. They can be found on sale at H. M. Estil's, Park avenue.

Petitioned for Anti-Bigamy Amendment.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning petitions to U. S. Senators Kean and Sewell and to Congressman C. N. Fowler were circulated and many signed them. The petitions asked the officials addressed to use all their influence to secure the passage of a constitutional amendment prohibiting bigamy.

NEW BRIDGE ACCEPTED.

Structure Over Green Brook Approved by Boards of Freeholders of Union and Middlesex Counties.

The new Madison avenue-Duer street bridge across Green brook, was accepted yesterday by the full Board of Freeholders from Somerset county and the special bridge committee from the Union county Board, consisting of Wm. A. Westphal, John Robison, M. M. Scudder, John Farrell and August Gerstung.

The meeting was called for 2 o'clock, but it was nearly 3 o'clock when the members got together. Everyone expressed himself as highly pleased with the bridge and the contractor were complimented for the substantial structure. There was not a dissenting vote on the acceptance.

DESERTED HIS ALLY.

Italian Man and Woman, It Is Alleged, Robbed Leonardo Vetromil and Then Man Forsook Woman.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Dec. 11—An Italian woman is now detained at the Somerset county jail on a charge preferred by A Vetromil, father of Leonardo Vetromil. Justice Brampton has issued a warrant for the arrest of an Italian, who, it is alleged, is an accomplice of the woman in a plot to rob the plaintiff.

W. K. McClure represents the plaintiff, who alleges that the defendants took $110 of his money and some clothing.

It is alleged that the defendants went to New York with the booty and that the man promised to marry the woman. When they reached New York, it is said that the man deserted the woman and left her penniless. He cannot now be found.

Artists for Tonight.

Henry Duncan as organist will render solos, DeVaux-Royer the violinist solos, Madam Edith Jones harpist solos; also several ensemble numbers for organ, harp and violin. Alfred Brown, the boy nightingale, will render soprano solos. Of him the Suffolk (N. G.) Bulletin said: "His voice is sweet and clear, particularly bird-like are his higher tones." Edith Jones by request played before their royal highnesses The Prince and Princess of Wales. DeVaux-Royer, the pupil of Ysaye, Narlir and Marsic, has received ovations from New York audiences. George Loose will not be present. Park Avenue Baptist church open at 7:30 o'clock.

MANUAL TRAINING TO START NEXT YEAR.

New Department in Borough Schools Will be Ready in a Short Time.

BUILDING IS COMPLETED.

COOKING, WOODWORK AND LABRATORY WORK WILL START FIRST.

Borough Will Receive $2,500 From State for Aid of Manual Training Department—Classrooms Have Been Repaired.

There is every prospect that the new building for the Manual Training School in North Plainfield, made possible by the generosity of Charles W. McCutchen, will be ready to use after the holiday vacation, or about February first at the latest. The building is well along, and, with the exception of the heating apparatus which has been delayed, is ready for occupancy.

At first, only the departments devoted to cooking, woodwork and the laboratory and the physical culture will be used. As fast as possible thereafter the other departments will be fitted for service. It is expected that Prof. Robert L. Sauder, a graduate of the department of technology of Stevens Institute, of Hoboken, will be placed in charge of the department for woodwork and mathematics. Prof. Sauder comes highly recommended for this work.

For the cooking and sewing departments the Board of Education has selected Miss Bessie Taylor, well known in this city and a graduate of the Pratt Institute, who has had a large experience in this work in Smith College. It is also the intention of Superintendent Wightman to extend the work in the line of chemistry and mathematics this winter.

With reference to the opening of the manual training school, Superintendent Wightman told a reporter for The Daily Press that he had received a letter this morning from the State superintendent of schools stating that the North Plainfield schools would receive $2 500, the amount due from the State to be used for purposes of this kind. This is the same amount of money that Mr. McCutchen has contributed toward this worthy object. It is probable that next year the Board of Education will ask the tax payers to appropriate an amount of money to be used to further the interests of the manual training school. The amount to be asked for, however, will not be anything like $2,500—possibly about half this sum.

All the classrooms, which were damaged by the fire last summer and rendered useless, have been repaired and are now in better condition than before the disastrous fire that threat- the destruction of the handsome structure. The rooms that were damaged are known as departments No. 5 B and No. 1 A.

Think Hillman Went to Philadelphia.

It is believed that C. T. Hillman, the printer, who was employed at the Review office in North Plainfield, and who forged the name of Harry H. Webb, the proprietor of the Review, to a $25 check which he succeeded in getting Alex Thorn to cash, has fled to Philadelphia, where he will seek work at his trade. The authorities of the Quaker City have been notified by Chief Marshal Campbell to look out for Hillman and arrest him if found.

Held for Hearing.

Through an error the Press stated yesterday that William Baldwin, Gustav Sutterlein, William Boe and John Angleman, the men arrested for gambling, were held for the Grand Jury. They were released on their own recognizance for a hearing before Justice Mosher next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Senior Class Entertainment.

The senior class of the Plainfield High school is engaged at present in completing all arrangements for their proposed entertainment. It will take place in the chapel of the Franklin building Saturday evening. A number of excellent artists have been secured and a pleasing programme is assured.

Engagement Announced.

Many Plainfielders will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Irving Doge, formerly of this city, but now of Bayonne, to Miss Helen Thomas, also of the latter city. Mr. Dodge is a brother of Miss Florence Doge, of this city.

Public Meeting Tonight.

The public annual meeting of the Organized Aid Association of Plainfield will be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church this evening at 8 o'clock.

HOLIDAY RUSH.

Local Department Stores Compelled to Increase Their Corps of Clerks to Meet Big Trade.

The holiday rush has already commenced with the Plainfield merchants. The two leading department stores have been compelled to increase their force of clerks to meet the demands of the shoppers. Yesterday Messrs. Woodhull & Martin added four clerks to their already large force. They expect to increase the number perceptibly during the week. The delivery wagons are pushed to their utmost to serve customers. The above firm has three wagons on the go and expect to put on another this week. At Crosby & Hill's there is also a rush of customers and increased help is the demand of Manager Carsen.

RUNAWAY HAS RETURNED

Lawrence Paoli Found at Kensico, N. Y., by His Father and Brought Back to Plainfield.

After an all day search, Lawrence Paoli, of North avenue, located his runaway son yesterday and induced him to return home. The lad had been in the New York Newsboys Lodging House, but when Mr. Paoli called there yesterday he had left. He was traced to Kensico, New York State, where he was found in the Brace Farm school. It was his intention to leave with a number of other boys, in the spring, for a large ranch in Texas.

Upon meeting his father last evening he gave up the idea and decided to return home. He would give no explanation as to the cause of his running away.

Prof. Witten's Special Offer.

Prof. Witten, the world's famous clairvoyant and palmist, has just arrived in Plainfield. He will as a matter of advertisement to all those calling upon him at once with object of having a reading, answer one sealed question and give each caller's name in full free of charge. He gives advice on all points of interest, such as love, courtship, marriage, divorce, business, speculations, etc. No money accepted in advance. Satisfaction absolutely guaranteed. Is this not honest? Could anything be fairer? Call tonight. Parlors, 130 West Second street.

After Cider Joints.

Chief Kiely is after the cider joints that keep open Sundays. Next Sunday the Chief will station an officer at the door of all places that are suspected of violating the law by selling cider and other drinks or of doing anything else that is considered a violation. All persons who enter these places will be warned that they do so at their peril and are liable to be subpoenaed to court to tell what they know regarding them.

Ten New Cottages.

The property on the southeast corner of Clinton avenue and West Third stret, comprising 2½ acres of grounds, has been sold through S. D. Drake to several parties who will at once develop the place. The old house on the property is being remodelled and the barns are being torn down. Ten cottages will be erected for the accommodation of workmen who will be employed at the new safe works.

Will Save Her Hand.

Miss Florence Carver, of West Fourth street, whose hand was terribly mangled at the Crescent Embossing Works yesterday, is doing well and the chances are the hand will be saved. Dr. Adams, the attending physician, was obliged to take thirty-four stitches to close up the lacerations. There were two fractures in one finger.

Former Employer Had Moore Arrested.

On complaint of John Huff, proprietor of a Park avenue laundry, Thomas Moore was arraigned before Justice Mosher this morning charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Moore had been employed by Huff, but left a few days ago. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and was held in $50 bail for trial tomorrow morning.

Trying for Faster Time.

With a view to decreasing the running time of the 7:59 train the Jersey Central Railroad officials are having engines of various types attached to it for experimental purposes. For the past two days No. 495, one of the new large freight engines, has pulled the train and given entire satisfaction. It may be retained permanently.

Temperance Meetings Continued.

Another large audience greeted Mr. Barney at Reform Hall last evening and listened to one of his usual excellent addresses. Mr. Barney will speak every night during the week This evening the North Plainfield Glee Club will be present and render vocal selections.

WINTER ASSERTS ITSELF

FIRST CAME SNOW AND NOW LOW TEMPERATURE.

Good Skating is Now Assured if the Cold Snap Continues a Day or Two Longer.

Winter appears to have asserted itself in genuine earnest. The first snow storm of the season in Plainfield made its appearance Sunday morning by a slight squall. But it did not last long The "beautiful" was not in sufficient quantities to be either a nuisance or a benefit to those who desired it. Towards night the wind came up and the mercury took a drop.

Yesterday the weather continued cold and clear. The predicted storm did not appear but at this writing there's pospect of another. This morning thermometers about town registered eighteen degrees above zero. The cold snap was the means of causing ice to form more than an inch in thickness. Another day of this weather will produce ice of sufficient thickness to warrant good skating. This will be good news for the young folks, many of whom have already begun to look up last winter's skates and polish them up in anticipation of the sport.

MR. SWAYZEE'S SON DEAD.

Theo. Swayzee, Jr., Died in Washington Last Friday, From Appendicitis—Was Twenty Years Old.

E. W. Mills, local manager of the United States Express, yesterday received a letter from Hon. Theodore F. Swayzee, chief clerk in the treasury department at Washington, notifying him of the death of his son, Theodore, Jr., which occurred last Friday Young Swayzee was taken suddenly ill about ten days ago with appendicitis. He was removed to the Homoeopathic Hospital for treatment. He was 20 years of age and had many friends in this city. His parents formerly resided on East Ninth street in this city. They left here about four years ago.

Outgrown Old Quarters.

The Morey-LaRue Laundry Company, after occupying the store at 19 Somerset street for the past three years, find they need more room, so they have leased from P. M. French the whole building at 23 Somerset street, consisting of three floors and basement, for five years. The first floor will be used as an office in front and in the rear a wash room, while the two upper floors will be used as assorting and ironing rooms, thus making a convenient and up to date laundry.

Cripple in Court.

William Wilson, alias "Packer" Wilson, an unfortunate man, who has lost both feet and a portion of one leg, was gathered in by Roundsman Flynn last evening for being intoxicated. Wilson claimed that his apparent condition was due to the fact that his wooden leg had become disarranged and being unable to walk he had fallen. City Judge Runyon gave him the benefit of the doubt and suspended sentence.

Believe Thief is the Same One.

A peculiarity about the recent burglaries that have taken place in this city is the fact that the police have invariably found a small stick lying beneath the window from which the burglars entered the house. Chief Kiely believes that the same thief has operated at all the places that have been entered.

Sold Property at Lincoln.

The Lincoln Realty Company, owners of the property south of the railroad tracks at Lincoln, have sold the property to a New York syndicate who will improve it. The property has been in charge of S. D. Drake and has had no connection with the New Jersey Mutual Realty Company, owners of Lincoln.

Fence Between the Tracks.

Jersey Central Railroad workmen have commenced placing boxes in the ground along the depot platform, for the reception of posts for the new fence dividing the tracks. The fence will extend between the Park avenue and Watchung avenue bridges and will be about five feet in height.

PUBLIC RENDITION OF THE "MESSIAH."

Will be Given in Crescent Avenue Church, Thursday Evening of Next Week.

GREAT CROWD EXPECTED

PUBLIC REHEARSAL WILL TAKE PLACE ON PRECEEDING TUESDAY NIGHT.

Only Side Doors at Front Entrance Will be Opened to Admit Crowd —J. E. Kimball is in Charge of the Ushers.

One of the chief events of the Christmas season in Plainfield will be the public rendition of the well-known cantata, "Messiah," by a large chorus of local voices. This rendition will take on the nature more of a Christmas religious service rather than a concert. It will be given in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Thursday evening of next week On the Tuesday evening preceeding, the public rehearsal, for the benefit of those who have contributed to the fund to meet the expenses of the rendition will be held in the same church.

Last year the "Messiah" was given at the Crescent Avenue church during the week before Christmas and proved very popular indeed. So successful was it that the committee which had that affair in charge decided to repeat the "Messiah" this season. The chorus has been practicing for it for two months and is now singing very satisfactorily. A rehearsal was held in Y. M. C. A. hall last evening and the final rehearsal will be held Saturday night. The public rehearsal Tuesday evening will be similar to the public rendition and all the soloists will take part.

For the public rehearsal, a limited number of tickets have been issued to the subscribers and the members of the chorus. There will be no admission without ticket. The distribution of tickets to the subscribers has begun. There is still an opportunity, however, for those who wish to contribute to the expense fund and thereby obtain tickets for the rehearsal The number of tickets issued will be limited to the seating capacity of the church.

Last year's rendition of the cantata showed what a great popular demand there was to hear it sung and there were several hundred who could not get into the church at all and were forced to go home disappointed. Arrangements are being made this year to enlarge the seating capacity of the church for that night. For the public affair Thursday night of next week the doors will be opened at promptly 7:30 o'clock. Special attention is called to the fact that only the doors facing Crescent and Watchung avenues will be opened, and that the middle entrance, facing the square, will remain closed.

James E. Kimball, who was in charge last year, will take command of the large corps of ushers who will assist in seating the audiences on both nights.

Case Wasn't Bailable.

It appears that in the case of Mary Irby against Dennis Kane, in which the former charges that Kane stole $10 from her, that the case is not bailable. At the hearing Justice Mosher released the defendant on bail. Yesterday he was informed by counsel for the plaintiff that he must, according to law, cause the arrest of the defendant and place him in jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. This will probably be done today.

Cock Fight at the 'Plains.

A cock fight was held at Scotch Plains Saturday night between birds from Westfield and those from Scotch Plains. Eleven battles were fought, the 'Plains birds winning six of the mains. Quite a number of sports were present to witness the battles, some of which were very exciting.

FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

The officers and heads of departments of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union will hold an important conference on Wednesday evening next. December 12, at the home of the president, W. J. Hamilton, Jr., of Westfield.

Belfast has in recent years become one of the strongest centres of Christian Endeavor work in the United Kingdom. Ten years ago there was but one society in Belfast, and, indeed, in all Ireland. Today the ancient city of Belfast has over 70 societies, and the work is rapidly increasing in all parts of the country.

The Junior Christian Endeavorers in some places are far in advance of their seniors in effort and achievement. During the past year the Reformed Juniors of Long Island City gave $150 to their own church; a society in another part of the Empire State sends the Junior C. E. World to seven different mission schools; a society of 28 members in Hudson, N. Y., gave $11 to missions last year, and the Siloam M. E. Juniors, of Philadelphia, have raised over $100 in three months.

One of the most flourishing societies of the county union is that of the Second Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. Its prayer meetings are well attended and it has been found that the five-minute service held by the prayer meeting committee and the leader just before each regular meeting increases the spirituality and helpfulness of the latter meeting. Within the past two years the missionary spirit has so increased that instead of the ten dollars which it formerly gave, the society contributes to missions annually, through its own denominational board, the sum of $100.

In response to the request of the Christian Endeavor World, the various State presidents have given expression to their wishes for Christian Endeavor in 1901. New Jersey's president, Dr. Spooner, speaks in part as follows: "The thing which Endeavorers must do first, if the year is to be memorable on account of the triumphs of the cross, is to apply to our lives the principles of the gospel of Christ as they have never been applied before. Our service for Christ must cease being mechanical and become spiritual. The pledge must not be merely learned, but lived. The motto for New Jersey for the opening year of the century is this; More of Christ; more for Christ.'"

A Keen Clear Brain.

Your best feelings, your social position or business success depend largely on the perfect action of your Stomach and Liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen, clear brain, high ambition. A 25 cent box will make you feel like a new being. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of Latham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

George Graves, of Somerville, spent Sunday with his parents on Liberty street.

—Now is the time when croup and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is one Minute Cough Cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption. L. W. Randolph.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mr. Cortright, of East Sixth street, who is very ill at his home.

—When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

GERMANY AND KRUGER.

Chancellor von Bulow Explains the Position Taken.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—The Imperial chancellor, Count von Bulow, replying in the reichstag to a question on the subject of Mr. Kruger's failure to be received by Emperor William, said the government did all in its power to ward off war and left the two republics in no doubt as to the state of affairs in Europe and as to German neutrality. When, in 1899, the question of arbitration seemed not altogether excluded, the government recommended it to Mr. Kruger. He thought the time had not yet come. When Mr. Kruger later sought intervention his feelings were too highly inflated for the Dutch and German governments. For the German government it was lost time to give advice. Germany was convinced that any step of a great power at that moment would be critical and lead to no result. "There was no use for us," said the chancellor, "to pinch our fingers between the door and the hinge." The chancellor added that when the suggestion of mediation was made to Great Britain by the United States in a quite gently worded inquiry it was rejected officially and categorically. Intervention might have led to war.

Although the Kruger matter will be taken up again in the reichstag, Count von Bulow's speech, evidently prepared with great care, was so overwhelming in its array of powerful facts that it amounted to a sweeping victory over the entire opposition. The imperial chancellor's involuntary humor and his particularly apt quotations extorted hearty laughter from his bitterest opponents. So far as German politics go the incident is closed.

The budget committee of the reichstag has adopted a resolution that the Chinese expeditionary corps must be dissolved after it has finished its duty in China.

SUITS MAY BE DROPPED.

Oleomargarine Case Against the Armours Without Evidence.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The suits instituted by Commissioner of Agriculture Frederick C. Schraub against Philip D., Jonathan C. and Philip D. Armour, Jr.; the Armour Packing company and others to collect penalties for the illegal sale of oleomargarine may be dropped. The penalties amount to nearly $1,730,000, and the state has spent about $1,000 in the litigation. The Armours offered when Frank S. Black was governor to compromise for $20,000 under a special act of the legislature which authorized such a settlement. Governor Black declined to sanction the compromise. The papers in the case are now before Justice Frank H. Hiscock.

Frank H. Platt, who defended the Armours as their counsel, has asked for the dismissal of the suits, and Attorney General John C. Davies has practically concurred by informing Justice Hiscock that the prosecution has not evidence to sustain the charges because papers and books of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company and other transportation corporations have been destroyed under their system of periodically destroying accumulations. The counsel for the New York Central said that the company was never a party to the oleomargarine suits even as a witness.

Bribery Cases Dropped.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—The remaining bribery, perjury and conspiracy cases of the last session of the Pennsylvania state legislature on which true bills were found by a grand jury of Dauphin county came to a close yesterday, when District Attorney Millar entered a nolle prosequi. This was entered on the agreement of the defendants to pay the costs, which amounted to about $2,000. The charges of bribery arose through the effort to secure the passage of what was known as the McCarrell jury bill, which, it was claimed by some members of the legislature, was intended to facilitate the escape from conviction of certain politicians accused of criminal offenses.

Vaccination Opposed.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Considerable feeling is already manifested in this city over the proposed wholesale vaccination of school children, and there is every reason to believe that the public schools will be practically deserted if the order is made by the health board. Dr. Louis Faust, a leading physician, says in an interview that he believes vaccination in this cold weather would involve great damage.

American Steel In England.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Three thousand tons of steel plates and angles for shipbuilding from the works of the Carnegie company reached the Clyde Sunday by the steamer Dunstan from Philadelphia Nov. 24. In spite of the railway freight to Philadelphia and the ocean freightage the price is still 10 shillings per ton below English figures.

Convict Still at Large.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 11.—Kuhns, the escaped convict, upon being discovered near Logansport, fatally wounded several members of a sheriff's posse in a fight. The convict is still at large. The militia is in pursuit.

First Skating Fatality.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Dec. 11.—Through a hole in the ice John Harris, 12 years old, skated yesterday, and his drowning made the first fatality of this nature in Vermont since cold weather set in.

THE SANTA FE STRIKE

Officials and Operators Give Conflicting Reports.

GENERAL MANAGER MUDGE SANGUINE

Chairman Newman of the Telegraphers' Union Says the Strikers Are Gaining and Lines Will Be Completely Tied Up.

TOPEKA, Dec. 11.—The officials of the Santa Fe railroad say the strike of operators is practically over. The operators themselves continue in the belief that their case is a winning one and say the prospects look better now than they have been any time yet.

The men in the Santa Fe shops here went to work as usual yesterday. An order had been issued closing the shops as a result of the strike. The officials later decided it to be useless for the shops to be kept closed, as they say the strike will be of small proportions.

General Manager Mudge professes to be sanguine that the strike is at an end and talks as follows regarding the revocation of the order for closing the shops:

"The strike amounts to so little and the situation is so favorable that to shut down the shops is not necessary. If the operators had succeeded in tying up the system and had prevented the operation of trains, we would have had nothing for the men in the shops to do. As it is, with our trains running very close to schedule and no practical interruption to our business, there will be the regular work to do and no reason why it should not be done.

"We have word that on the California lines the operators are back to work. On the Southern California and San Joaquin Valley there is none out. They went out when the order to strike was sent, but came back shortly afterward. They have no grievance and are under contract. On the Santa Fe Pacific there are about 50 operators out, according to our information. One hundred and twenty-three men went out on the Gulf line in the original strike, which was the whole number employed."

STRIKERS GAINING.

Chairman Newman Says the Entire Road Will Be Tied Up.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 11.—A. J. Newman, general chairman of the strike committee of the Telegraphers' union, declares that the men are gaining ground hourly and that the trainmen will probably join them, which will mean the tying up of the road.

He added that not a telegrapher was working on the Santa Fe's Pacific division and hardly a train moving.

All Atchison trains, he declared, would stop, and Santa Fe trains on the Gulf division would also cease moving.

Little Trouble In Southern California.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—From General Manager Nevins the following statement was obtained in regard to the strike situation on the Santa Fe: "The trouble on our Southern California division has never reached proportions to cause us inconvenience. In this city all vacancies have been filled. On the Valley road six men quit. Their places have all been filled or will be filled. On Superintendent Denair's division, from Seligman to Mojave, 14 men quit, and on Superintendent Hibbard's division, from Seligman to Albuquerque, there were four vacancies. Practically all these have been supplied, many of the old men having returned to work, and in other cases new men are being employed. We are handling our through telegraphic business from the coast to Chicago with no delay whatever, and all freight and passenger traffic is being handled without the slightest delay or interruption."

Tortured and Robbed.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 11.—Masked burglars broke into the residence of John Flynn at Lima, a suburb of this city, and bound, gagged, tortured and robbed the sole occupant. Mr. Flynn was awakened shortly after midnight by the breaking of glass in a rear window. He sprang out of bed only to see three masked men each with a pistol leveled at his head. The intruders asked for his valuables, and he gave them the watch he carried and said that was all. This they did not believe, and, heating the poker red hot in the kitchen range, applied it to the soles of his feet. After standing the torture until the odor of burning flesh filled the entire room Flynn weakened and told where his money was hidden. This was secured, and the men hastily left the house, jumped into their wagon and drove rapidly toward Rochester.

Miss Morrison Gets Many Letters.

EL DORADO, Kan., Dec. 11.—Within 24 hours Miss Morrison has received 40 letters of sympathy. Only a few of these have been opened. On the other hand, the state's attorneys are daily receiving letters expressing hope that the prsioner will be convicted. Most of these come from women. A. L. Redden, for the defense, continued his argument at the afternoon session. There was in the courtroom the largest crowd that it had ever held. People were standing on every foot of the floor, and men and women had climbed up to the window sills.

De Wet Cornered.

PRETORIA, Dec. 11.—The Boer commander, General Christian De Wet, is cornered between the Caledon and Orange rivers, on the borders of Basutoland. As the rivers are in flood it is considered that his capture is certain, even if he should manage to recross the Caledon. British columns have been sent to hold all the passes and roads to the north to prevent his escape. The military officers here are greatly pleased that the attempt of De Wet to enter Cape Colony with his commando has been frustrated.

Colonel Liscum's Remains Arrive.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The remains of Colonel Emerson H. Liscum, one of the heroes of the fight at Tien-tsin in July last, arrived at the Pennsylvania railroad depot yesterday and were escorted by a troop of the Fifth cavalry to the parish hall of St. John's church. They were accompanied from China and San Francisco by General James H. Wilson and by Mrs. Liscum and her brother. Colonel Liscum's remains will be buried at Arlington cemetery this afternoon with full military honors.

Smothered Himself With Pillow.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Charles H. White, aged 70, a veteran of the civil war, was found dead in bed here. He accidentally smothered himself to death with a pillow.

TO GOVERN PEKING.

International Commission Under a German President.

IMPERIAL EDICT TRANSFERS VICEROYS

Chinese Blue Book Just Issued Claims the Government Under the Spell of the Boxers Thought It Could Defy the World.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—"Count von Waldersee is forming an international commission under a German president," says the Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, "to establish harmonious civil administration and for the collection of taxes and customs, with other duties. The Chinese representative is Ching Hin, governor of Peking. This action is intended to prevent friction and to prepare the way for the transfer of the administration of the city on the return of the Chinese court."

"An imperial edict," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post, "orders an exchange of offices between the viceroy of the provinces of Shensi and Kansu and the viceroy of the provinces of Yunnan and Kweichow, the object being to get the viceroy out of Kansu, together with his Hunanese troops, so as to give General Tung Fu Hsiang a free hand in Kansu."

A Chinese blue book has been issued devoted exclusively to the dispatches of Sir Claude Macdonald, former British minister at Peking, from May 28 to Sept. 20 and consisting largely of the history of the siege of the legations.

"The Chinese government became so influenced by the pretensions of the Boxers to supernatural powers," says Sir Claude, "as actually to believe that it could safely defy the rest of the world. In fact, the government became mad."

Among the curious incidents mentioned is one of a Swedish missionary who escaped to the Chinese and gave them a deal of valuable information.

CHAFFEE'S ORDER.

Strict Discipline Enjoined Upon American Troops In China.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—An idea of the strict discipline exacted of the United States troops in China is indicated by the following general order issued by General Chaffee:

"All officers will take measures to assure themselves that enlisted men of their commands are always in proper dress and present a neat and clean appearance when leaving their quarters to visit other parts.

"It has been noticed that many campaign hats are old and dirty. New hats as well as other articles of dress should be drawn if necessary and efforts made to preserve them in proper condition. The hat or cap will not be used to wear or carry any article or ornament not contemplated.

"The blouse or coat must at all times be buttoned throughout. If for satisfactory reason the blouse be not worn, the blue shirt must be buttoned throughout, collar turned down, underclothing concealed and suspenders discarded.

"Especial attention should be paid to military courtesy to preserve the good opinion the world now has for the American soldier. Officers and noncommissioned officers are depended upon to maintain a high standard of appearance, deportment and efficiency at all times and are reminded that the precept and example which they set is quickly reflected in their subordinates, and every member of this command who is proud of his country is expected so to bear himself at all times that the reason for his pride will be evident."

Hay's Victory Displeases Germany.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—It is now dawning upon the German press and public that Mr. Hay, the American secretary of state, has secured an out and out diplomatic victory in obliging the powers, Germany included, to yield to his arguments in favor of more moderate terms in the preliminary joint note to the Chinese peace plenipotentiaries. This clearly defined defeat is especially bitter here because Emperor William had set his heart on imposing the most humiliating conditions upon the Chinese and thus emphasizing Germany's power in their eyes.

Germans Continue Looting.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—Captain Dannhauser, who is with Count von Waldersee, says in a private dispatch received in Berlin: "The French have abandoned their operations to remove astronomical instruments from the walls of Peking, presumably in order to impress the Chinese with their comparative clemency, but the Germans continue removing instruments under the protection of a company of engineers."

Was a Brother of Millionaire Daly.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Dec. 11.—The Rev. P. Daly, an inmate of the Soldiers' home at this place for the last few years, was reading a biography of the late Marcus Daly and to his great surprise discovered he was his brother. Mr. Daly knew he had a brother Marcus, but they were separated when young, the family being poor, and never again met each other. Mr. Daly says he had often read of the multimillionaire Daly, but never for a moment thought it was his brother, who had left home ragged and penniless. Mr. Daly served as pastor of Free Methodist churches in the east during his active years.

A Railroad Sued.

UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Elmer E. Kirkland, a Binghamton cigar manufacturer, has brought suit in the United States district court for $20,000 damages against the Pennsylvania Railroad company for being put off a train at Jersey City after having paid his fare. The answer states that the defendant was arrested in Jersey City and fined $5 for violating the railroad laws of New Jersey.

American Rails In Norway.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 11.—The Norwegian government has awarded the entire contract for steel rails for the state railways this year, 11,800 tons, to the Pennsylvania and the Maryland Steel companies. The contract last year was awarded to the United States and England, each taking half.

Permission to Use Electricity.

ALBANY, Dec. 11.—The Oneonta, Cooperstown and Richfield Railroad company has secured the approval of the state board of railroad commissioners to use electricity on its road.

CARTER SENTENCE SUSTAINED

Federal Court of Kansas Upholds the Trial Court's Ruling.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 11.—In a decision handed down by Judge Hook of the federal district court of Kansas and concurred in by United States Circuit Judge Amos M. Thayer, Oberlin M. Carter, ex-captain United States army, under sentence of five years' imprisonment for misappropriation of government funds while in charge of the harbor work of Savannah, is remanded to the custody of Robert W. McLaughry, warden of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, where Carter has been confined.

The court overruled the petitioner's demurrer on the habeas corpus writ issued some time ago and sustained the ruling of the trial courts, together with the subsequent action of President McKinley, who set aside 12 of the charges under which he was convicted, but made no change of the sentence imposed by the court martial.

One of the chief contentions urged in Carter's behalf was that the president in reducing the number of specifications preferred thereby made void the punishment inflicted. On this point Judge Thayer says:

"The punishment prescribed by the articles of war is attached to the charge and not the specifications made thereunder, the latter being merely by way of exemplification and detailed statement of the principal charges to which they respectively relate, but even if this were not so the rule is well established that where a sentence in gross is pronounced upon a conviction under an indictment containing several counts and upon appeal or review some of them are held bad and the others are sustained the sentence will not be disturbed, provided it is such as could lawfully have been imposed under the counts which were upheld."

HAVANA BAR CUT OFF.

Governor General Wood Resents That Body's Action.

HAVANA, Dec. 11.—Governor General Wood has severed the official connection of the Havana Bar association with the government in consequence of the action of the association Sunday in electing to the board of governors five deposed judges who had been removed for dishonesty.

Hitherto the association has sustained semiofficial relations with the government, and the board of governors, or executive committee, has had power to review certain court proceedings. General Wood had notified the association that there was ample cause for the removal of the offending judges and that no protest had been made and no appeal taken. In laying his letter upon the table and proceeding with the election the association was guilty of a gross discourtesy to the governor general, which he has promptly and emphatically rebuked.

The association numbers 300 members, 65 of whom were present at the election.

The alcalde, assistant alcalde, supervisor and chief of police of Batabani have been indicted by the judge of first instance for complicity in the recent demonstration against the collector of customs—a demonstration accompanied by threats upon his life—for not hauling down the customs flag on the anniversary of the massacre of the students.

Farm Burning Explained.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 11.—In a memorandum to the premier of Cape Colony, Sir John Gordon Sprigg, Lord Roberts explains that farm burning has been ordered strictly in accordance with the usages of war. He says in part: "Whether the people whose houses are burned are actual accessories to the cutting of railways and other damage must be left to the general officers commanding to decide. They must be trusted to make a full inquiry before having recourse to extreme measures, but, as this is essentially police work, I anticipate that when the police are established we shall find the necessity for burning gradually disappear, with less danger of the innocent suffering, and that my successor will eventually be able to abolish altogether a distasteful punishment."

Received by the Sultan.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 11.—A dinner was given at the Yildiz palace last night in honor of the officers of the United States battleship Kentucky, now at Smyrna, previous to which the United States charge d'affaires, Mr. Lloyd C. Griscom, introduced the officers to the sultan. The grand vizier and other dignitaries were present at the dinner. Subsequently Mr. Griscom and Captain Colby M. Chester were received in private audience by the sultan, who afterward received the other officers and addressed to each of them a few gracious words.

Big Railway Contract.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 11.—In addition to the 44 passenger cars, two dining cars and two combination cars ordered last week the Northern Pacific has contracted for about $600,000 worth of new motive power, which will be built at the Schenectady works. The order includes 50 engines, and the company has reserved the right to order 75 more locomotives at the same contract price if the condition of trade shall warrant the additional order. The entire cost of the new engines and cars will not be less than $850,000 to $900,000.

Bulgaria's Cabinet Crisis Ended.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Dec. 11.—The crisis caused by the resignation of the Bulgarian cabinet presided over by MM. Ivantchoff and Radeslavoff has ended with the formation of a ministry by M. Ivantchoff, who, in addition to the premiership, will hold the portfolio of finance, with M. Tontscheff as minister of foreign affairs and General Petroff as minister of the interior, succeeding M. Radeslavoff.

Woman's Corpse Found In Field.

OWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 11.—The body of Mrs. Daniel Noonan of this place was found by some hunters in a field on the outskirts of the village. She disappeared from her home last Monday night only scantily clothed. It is supposed she wandered into the fields and died from exposure, as a severe storm prevailed at the time. She was about 74 years of age, and her mind had been unbalanced for some time.

TEWKSBURY FOUND.

Missing Broker Now Cutting a Wide Swath in Mexico.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Having been missing from his office in this city since July 13 last, Lewis G. Tewksbury, a stockbroker who owes, it is said, nearly $500,000, is reported to have been found living in the City of Mexico under an assumed name. A number of those who knew him here are endeavoring to confirm the report.

Tewksbury's office was at 32 Broadway, and the money is said to have been intrusted to his care.

It is said that he has high connection with officials of the Mexican government and the city. His office is in the Calle de San Francisco, one of the finest business streets in that city. Mr. Tewksbury when seen admitted his identity, but refused to give out any statement as to when he would return to New York.

According to the report, he was recognized by a New York woman who knew him well by sight and who says he is living in sumptuous style and has the confidence of every one. No one questions his honesty. He is a favorite with President Diaz and his ministers, and it is said he has received $125,000 worth of contracts since his arrival there. Outside of his business hours he devotes a great deal of his time to society and driving fast horses in the parks, as was his custom here.

Tewksbury, who loved to pose as a multimillionaire, disappeared very suddenly on July 13 of this year. The firm of Lewis G. Tewksbury & Co., bankers and brokers, of which he was head, closed its doors on July 13, and a member of the firm declared that Tewksbury had absconded with all the firm's assets. Tewksbury's defalcations were said at the time to amount to $500,000. Tewksbury's flight was made known when Mr. Browning Johnson, a client, sued the firm and was granted an attachment.

Tewksbury came here from Manchester, N. H. He lived in magnificent style in West Seventy-second street at one time, but sold his house in 1898. He was fond of fast horses and bought John R. Gentry and Robert J, the fastest pacers on the turf, for his private use.

His affairs seemed to take a sudden turn two years before the time of his flight. He sold his horses, but still seemed to have money.

Tewksbury's disappearance created a great stir in Wall street, as it was generally believed that he was a wealthy man. He was a great lover of art, and his home in this city was filled with many art treasures. Some of them are said to be now in his office in Mexico.

Rock taken from the Blackwell's island quarry by Commissioner Lantry has been found to contain gold.

Absinth Drinking a Menace.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—In the chamber of deputies M. Marie Edouard Vaillant, Socialist, one of the deputies for the department of the Seine, moved a resolution calling upon the government to prohibit the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic liquors pronounced "dangerous" by the Academy of Medicine. The resolution was aimed at absinth, the consumption of which has nearly doubled in France since 1894 and now stands at 10,000,000 liters annually. M. Vaillant and others denounced the spread of absinth drinking and laid stress upon its ravages among the population. "The increase of consumption of absinth," said the mover of the resolution, "marches arm in arm with the increase of cases of driveling insanity, which will end by becoming a national malady." The chamber adopted the resolution unanimously.

To Make the Weather In Boston.

BOSTON, Dec. 11.—It is learned that the United States weather bureau officials are considering a plan to make Boston a regular forecast station instead of a collecting and distributing point. The change is viewed with favor on account of the saving in time which could be made by having the forecast prepared here instead of at Washington, from which point it is now telegraphed to the station in this city.

Battleships Nearly Ready.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Three of the six battleships now under construction, the Illinois, Alabama and Wisconsin, are reported by Chief Constructor Hichborn to be practically complete, the work done upon them ranging from 87 to 99 per cent. The Maine, at Cramps', is set down at 38 per cent, the Missouri, at Newport News, at 19 per cent and the Ohio, at the Union Iron works, at 35 per cent.

Cleared From Murder Charge.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 11.—The Rev. D. E. Stuart is a free man again after being in jail since last Thursday on the charge of wife murder. At the hearing the prosecution failed to produce any evidence to prove that his wife had been murdered, and after hearing several witnesses Prosecuting Attorney Thornton asked for the minister's discharge.

Body Found In a Canal.

SANDY HILL, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Yesterday when the water was drawn from the canal the body of Michael K. Reynolds was found in the five combined locks. Reynolds disappeared Nov. 10. Coroner Pattee held an inquest and rendered a verdict that death was due to accidental drowning. Reynolds was 46 years old and unmarried.

Fatal Explosion In a Tunnel.

OGDEN, Utah, Dec. 11.—It is reported that an explosion of gas occurred in the big Union Pacific tunnel six miles north of Aspen, Wy. Five men were killed and a number badly injured. Aspen tunnel is 6,700 feet long.

Zero Weather Reported.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 11.—The thermometer registered 8 degrees below zero here. At Ogdensburg it was 10 degrees below. At Malone it was 12 degrees below and at Rouse Point 15 degrees below zero.

TREATY CONSIDERED

Senate Spends Several Hours In Executive Session.

HOUSE PASSES SUPPLY BILL QUICKLY

It Required the Clerk Three Hours to Read What Was Adopted In a Few Minutes—Minority Ways and Means Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Hon. Charles A. Towne, the recently appointed successor of the late Senator Davis of Minnesota, attended yesterday's session of the senate and took the oath of office. No business of importance was transacted in the open session, the senate going into secret session on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as soon as routine business had been concluded.

The senate spent almost five hours in executive session considering the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. There were five or six speeches made, some of them by senators who had not spoken hitherto upon the treaty and others by senators who had previously expressed themselves. Among the latter was Senator Morgan, who returned to his former speech, elaborating somewhat his position as to the effect of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. He took issue with Senator Teller as to the purport of the first clause of that treaty, claiming that it applied only to Great Britain's right to fortify the Nicaragua canal itself. Senator Teller replied at some length, asserting that the provision was of more general import, as, he said, any one could ascertain for himself by reading President Buchanan's views upon the subject when he was minister to England. The declaration then made showed plainly, he said, that England had attempted to extend her rights beyond the immediate vicinity of the canal.

During the day speeches were made by Senators Money, Stewart, Frye and others. Senator Stewart announced that he was for the treaty without amendment and Senator Money that he was against the treaty in any form. He wanted the canal built as much as any senator could, he said, but he considered the pending treaty little less than an insult to the intelligence of the American people. He had no doubt that if proper diplomatic efforts should be made it would be possible to secure the complete abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and that was what he wanted.

The first of the great supply bills, the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, was passed by the house in record time. The bill carries $24,496,408 and has 131 pages, but there was less than ten minutes' debate upon it. Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania, who was in charge of the measure, tendered his thanks to the house for the confidence shown in the appropriations committee. It required about three hours for the clerk to read the bill. No other business was transacted.

The views of the minority members of the ways and means committee on the bill reducing war taxes about $40,000,000 was completed and made public late in the afternoon. It is signed by the entire Democratic membership of the committee, Messrs. Richardson of Tennessee, Swanson of Virginia, McClellan of New York, Newlands of Nevada, Cooper of Texas and Underwood of Alabama. The report says that the minority is of the opinion that the proposed reduction of revenues is too small and that the bill does not go far enough in relieving the people of the burdens imposed upon them for war purposes. The remaining taxes, says the report, are unnecessary and should be removed.

The minority takes issue with Secretary Gage's estimate of $26,000,000 surplus in 1902 and says that if congress observes proper economy in expenditures the surplus ought to be $109,000,000.

Young Thief Puzzles Police.

BOSTON, Dec. 11.—The case of Morris Aaronburg, the youth who has confessed that he stole $8,837 from Mrs. Margaret Beck, which has puzzled the police from the first, still staggers the officials, although the boy has declared his guilt. It is the first case in police records here where a man or boy has confessed to having stolen money and has stood ready to take all the punishment which could be given for the offense without making restitution and trying to escape the full penalty. The police have figured it out that if Aaronburg goes to prison for the maximum term of five years without returning the stolen money he will come out financially as if he had been at work all the time on a salary of about $1,800 a year. All evidence is taken as indicating that Aaronburg has the money safely concealed and intends to go to prison without revealing its hiding place.

A Shipload of Dead Bodies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The transport Hancock has arrived from Manila by way of Nagasaki with a grewsome cargo. It consisted of the bodies of about 1,500 sailors and soldiers who either died in battle or succumbed to the ravages of disease in the Philippines, China, Guam and Honolulu. This is the largest number of bodies brought home since the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. The Hancock will likely remain in quarantine a few days. The bodies will be conveyed to the Presidio and placed in the buildings there pending interment or shipment to the homes of the relatives. The Hancock was 25 days in making the run from Manila and was 17 days in coming from Nagasaki, the last port at which she touched.

Dead Beside His Forge.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Lying beside the old forge at which he had worked for many years in the basement of 217 Division street the body of Leopold Stormer, 82 years old, was found yesterday. He had been ailing for several days, but refused all offers of assistance, and when an ambulance from Gouverneur hospital stopped in front of his door he refused medical attention and declined positively to go to the hospital.

Fifteen Years For Murder.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Joshua Harrison, who on election night killed Clark Johnston in a barroom brawl, was sent to Sing Sing prison for 15 years. Harrison is an ex-sailor and was on the Texas in the fight off Santiago.

Roosevelt Burning Cranks' Letters.

ALBANY, Dec 11.—Governor Roosevelt occupied the greater portion of yesterday in destroying by fire unimportant state papers and correspondence received from cranks, many of whom desired positions under the administration.

Sisser's License.

The Borough Council has taken an unqualified stand regarding the granting of a license for Mr. Sisser's saloon on Somerset street, near the county line. By a unanimous vote at the meeting last week, the Borough Councilmen put themselves on record as being directly opposed to the establishment of Mr. Sisser. Their action is approved by every thinking citizen of the borough.

While the granting of the licences rests with Judge Schenck, it is but fair that the direct request of the people most interested should be granted. During the time that Judge Schenck has been in office, he has made the reputation of being a fair and honest judge. It is therefore expected that he will give the resolution of the Borough Council due consideration. If other citizens of the borough who echo the sentiments of the Council should take the trouble to make that fact known to Judge Schenck, it would have its measure of influence in preventing the renewal of the licence.

In the eyes of the Councilmen and others as well, the establishment of Mr. Sisser is not needed. There are surely enough without his place. The location, so close to the county line, is unfortunate and has long been strongly opposed by both city and borough residents. Mayor Smalley made the statement that Sisser's saloon gave the police of that municipality more trouble than any other establishment of its kind in the borough. But putting aside the question of its proper management, there is surely enough reason why the license should not be granted to convince Judge Schenck of the fact and that the wish of the representatives of the people of the borough should be heeded.

No action was taken on the proposed changes of the city's sewage disposal plant by the Council at its adjourned meeting last evening. The subject was not, in fact, brought up at all. It has been decided by the members of the committee on streets and sewers not to bring up the subject before the present Council as nothing can now be done until spring, but to defer all action on the subject until the Council of 1901 has been organized. A full report of the work which the present committee has done will be made at the last meeting in the year and the proposed changes outlined so that the Council of 1901 can take up the subject and make the proposed changes.

Mr. Newbro, of Butte, Montana, began to advertise in the newspapers a proprietary article in September, 1899, says the Philadelphia Record, when his monthly sales to druggists amounted to $2. In the succeeding November his sales reached $1,490 The manufacturer extended his advertising (exclusively in the newspapers) until he had occupied space in one hundred and sixteen journals. His article is now sold in large quantities by every druggist in the country, and Mr. Newbro declares that his success has been due wholly to newspaper publicity.

The presentation of the name of Alvah A. Clark as the Democratic candidate for United States Senator would be rather significant in view of Mr. Clark's ideas regarding William J. Bryan.

The chances that Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, of this city, will be the Republican leader in the Assembly this year, are not as bright as they were.

Christmas is two weeks away and the local stores are rapidly getting ready to provide for the wants of the Christmas shoppers.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Those who recall the Congressional career of Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, will be moved to huge laughter at his appearance as Reform Candidate for United States Senator. Even the endorsement of Robert Davis, of Hudson, does not add humor of the paradox.—Newark Call.

* * * * *

The Newark News despises as "an empty honor" the determination of the Hudson county legislative delegation to support ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark for United States Senator. The honor is not made any the more empty by the paucity of Mr. Clark's claims to represent New Jersey's Democracy in point either of political honor, public capacity or personal associations. If the Hudson county delegation were in search of archaic statesmen, they might easily have done much better than to select the former running mate of the late James N. Pidcock. But the Democracy of New Jersey, or such of them as appear to be in control of party affairs, seem to have retained full possession of that madness with which the gods visit those whom they mark for destruction.—Trenton True American.

* * * * *

Plainfield has just held another city election and the result is in favor of the Republican party. At the November election the Republicans swept the city by over 1,500 majority. On Tuesday last the Republican Mayoralty candidate won by 376 majority. The Democracy of Plainfield is almost hopelessly demoralized. No leader; no newspaper; no organization; it is not popular to be known as a Democrat in the city of club cars and municipal expresses Almost any backwoods township leader in Somerset county could return better results with issues, concisely and convincingly presented, that exist there which the amateurs leaders ignored entirely.

With a police department, a paid fire department and a street department in that city furnishing a solid foundation for the machine to stand on the Republican party is pretty well entrenched there. Leadership in the Republican party in Plainfield has brought to the front railroad men, bankers, machinists, hackmen and ironmongers, whose grip among the city the taxpayer will find it hard to loosen. Some of the leaders were former Democrats—and it didn't pay.

Plainfield's Democracy is so accustomed to being beaten in elections that they probably would not know how to act if they should ever again be successful in a contest. Convincing issues by the score were obtainable if the listlessness of the Plainfield Democracy had enough political animation. Mark upon the Democratic New Jersey mule another indelible stripe and decorate in large letters—Plainfield—the place where Democrats fail to take advantage of opportunities.—By "A Tilden Democrat" in Bound Brook State Centre.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 11—Owing to the absence of Mayor Swackhamer, no definite conclusion was arrived at yesterday in regard to the acceptance of Madison avenue. The members of the Council, with the exception of Wilcox, went over the ground in company with Engineer Corlell and the contractors, Garretson & Gray. A few trifling defects were pointed out, but on the whole the street was found to be in an excellent condition. The matter will now come up for final settlement at the adjourned meeting of the Council next Saturday evening. Last evening the Councilmen made a test of the water pressure furnished by the Watchung Water Company. Messrs. Basset, Ball and Blair, of the company, were present and assisted in the test. A stream of water was thrown simultaneously from three hydrants located on North avenue. The average distance was from seventy to eighty feet, which is about what the contract calls for. If this pressure is always maintained the fire department will have no difficulty in fighting fires.

A number of young men from the borough and North Plainfield are likely to find themselves under arrest as the result of a little escapade in which they indulged Sunday night. After partaking of numerous drinks they proceeded to make a nuisance of themselves about town and ended up by breaking a window in a house on North avenue. They made their escape but not before they were recognized. A complaint has been made against them and unless they appear and pay for the damage done, arrests will follow.

All members of W. G. Holton Council are requested to be present this evening and assist in entertaining Central Council, of Westfield. Beside an interesting programme to be given there will be several initiations.

The wedding of John B. Lane and Miss Ida Suydam, formerly of the borough, will take place in the Presbyterian church at Bound Brook tomorrow noon.

The men arrested by Marshal James Sunday evening, were discharged in Justice Wardens' court yesterday, the complaint against them having been withdrawn.

Lewis Vroom and family removed yesterday to Plainfield where they will reside in the future.

Mrs. John Wherly, of Somerville, is visiting her parents, Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

Court Dunellen, I. O. F., met last evening and elected officers for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton spent Sunday with Westfield friends and relatives.

Fred Taylor, of Newark, was the guest of Bernard Sirisky yesterday.

Mrs Fred Wilcox is confined to her home by illness.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 11—The continued cold weather of the past two days has formed a fair thickness of ice on the pond but not enough for skating. If the cold snap continues the ice will be thick enough for skaters tomorrow.

A New England dime sociable, under the auspices of Lakewood Council, will be held at the residence of R. L Pierce tomorrow evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. W. J. Davis is slowly recovering from her recent attack of illness.

Fred Nelson, of Watchung, was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

The G. E. Club will meet this evening with Miss Cora Dayton.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, December 11.—The woods along Johnston's Drive were set on fire yesterday by some careless hunters. Every fall or spring some one sets the undergrowth along the side of the drive on fire. The fire generally burns for several days, doing a great deal of damage, not only to the woods, but by burning down the fences along the edge of the mountain.

The entertainment committee of Fanwood Council met last evening to further their plans for an entertainment during the coming winter. If the committee are able to secure local talent enough it is proposed to give an old-time minstrel performance. Several of those who were members of the old Scotch Plains minstrel troupe have become interested in the plans of the committee and will take an active part in the work.

The members of Fanwood Council, R. A., will hold their annual election of officers at their meeting this evening. A full attendance of the members is desired.

Miss Mabel Palmer, who has been spending a pleasant visit of several days with her friend, Miss Reger, returned to her home in Bloomfield Monday.

Miss Nellie Hollingsworth led a large and interesting meeting of the Epworth League Society in the Methodist church last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John B Stiliger and child, of Roselle, have been visiting at the home of Mr. Stiliger's parents, Mr. and Mrs George Stiliger.

Rev G. M Shott, who is secretary of the Ministers Conference, attended a meeting of that body in New York Monday.

William Trayno, of Westfield, has been visiting at the home of his father, Wm. H. Trayno, of Bartle avenue.

Frederick Schmidt has returned from a pleasant visit with relatives in New York.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, December 11.—John Clark, of Plainfield, has brought suit before Justice Weaver, of this place, against D. N. Whitlock, of Lincoln. Clark's claim is that the money, $100, was paid as a guarantee that he would purchase the Post office building at Lincoln if Whitlock would get a saloon license for him. He also claims that Whitlock was to return the money if he could not get the license. Whitlock has refused to refund the amount in question.

During a recent trip made by the Black Diamond express it turned one of the curves at such a speed as to throw the dishes from the tables in the dining car. A cup of coffee flew upon a lady's gown and ruined it and the company had to pay the damages.

Yesterday the pockets at the coaling station were the cause of considerable trouble. The cold weather caused the coal in them to freeze, and steam had to be applied before they were again in working order.

The Foresters and Red Men will nominate officers for the ensuing term at their next meeting. The P. O. S. of A. will have their semi annual nomination of officers next Thursday.

Miss Gussie Clawson is spending a few days at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley.

Mrs. Manning Randolph has returned home after a few days' visit with relatives in New Brunswick.

Yesterday, through the generosity of his employers, John Dorgon secured a vacation from work.

Harry Potter made a short visit here yesterday on business.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

Stolen property is occasionally recovered in queer places. A few days ago a diamond ring was taken from the residence of a well-known citizen. After the thief had confessed his crime a search was instituted for the jewel. It surprised the searchers when they discovered the stolen ring hidden behind a frame containing the Lord's prayer. Verily, "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil" had no terrors for this youth.

The new thoroughfare via Duer street and Madison avenue has already come into favor with the citizens. Although the street has not yet been completely macadamized, it is being used extensively by those who drive. It is seen to be a great convenience. Everyone is asking the question: "Why wasn't the street opened several years ago?" When the sidewalk that is being constructed on the east side of the street is completed nearly all the boroughites will use this thoroughfare in preference to going up Somerset street when wishing to reach Front street.

The prevailing passion the average woman has for witnessing weddings was again brought prominently to notice Saturday afternoon. The crowd, about the Crescent Avenue church for an hour before the ceremony attending the Shepard-Bright nuptials, was composed of all classes of the female persuasion, who gathered in large numbers, anxious to obtain a glance at the bride, the bridemaids and to inspect the elegant gowns which they wore. There was a perfect fringe of well-dressed women surrounding the church on both Watchung and Crescent avenues. As the bride and groom made their appearance there was a rush to obtain a view of the bridal party. At one point it was necessary for the police to interfere to protect the guests from being crowded from their carriages. Exclamations of surprise were heard on all sides from the fair sex, whose admiration for the elegance and beauty of the dresses evoked general comment. But the women were by no means the only ones who were interested spectators of the scene. The writer also noticed a number of men in the crowd, who appeared as much interested as the women.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mellick, of LaGrande avenue, are spending the week in New York.

Rev. E. H. Bronson and wife, of Princeton, are visiting Mrs. Van-Duyn, of Craig place.

Phillip Bissell, of New York, spent Sunday at the home of Martin I. Cooley, of Rockview avenue.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.]

"The Village Postmaster" will be offered here at Music Hall tomorrow afternoon afternoon and night under the direction of J Wesley Rosenquest, manager of the 14th Street Theatre New York, the home of so many successes. The comments of some of the New York leading papers may prove of interest: "New York has never seen a better drama of rural life than 'The Village Postmaster.' The play throughout carried with it a smell of new mown hay, apple blossoms and pure country air. It will do a person good to witness it."—New York Herald.

"It's a better play than the 'Old Homestead,' because it is well balanced and true to life."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

"'The Village Postmaster' is like a vacation in the country. The play will be enjoyed by any one who lives in the country."—Brooklyn Eagle.

"'The Village Postmaster' is a play like 'Blue Jeans' and 'The Old Homestead,'"—New York Sun.

"Another 'Old Homestead.' No play of the same kind has been presented with such care, or with more scrupulous fidelity to the period shown. 'The Village Postmaster' is admirably played by every one concerned."—New York World.

"The Village Postmaster" will be presented by the original New York company, headed by Archie Boyd, when its beautiful scenes and sweet pathetic story will delight all attendants.

Reserved seats for the matinee tomorrow afteroon are on sale at box office which will remain open until 9 o'clock tonight.

The same management, Liebler & Co., will present "The Christian" here at Music Hall, Saturday night of this week, with identically the same complete elaborateness which characized its run of 175 nights in New York and 110 nights in Boston. That charming actress, Lilla Vane, will be seen as "Glory Quayle," in which she is accredited with the chief success of her career. Miss Vane has not appeared in several seasons. Her former annual visits were always the occasion of a gathering of old admirers, one might almost say old friends. This favorite actress with her sweet personality occupies a unique place in the affections of the play-loving public. Her art has always been wholesome. Her characters have always been lovable. Her plays have always taught good lessons. As a reward, Miss Vane has won the unceasing confidence of those who year in and year out go to see her and smile with her and sometimes shed a tear with her no matter whether her role be new or old.

Provinz Westfalen.

Hörde. Der Kreistag ehrte den bisherigen Landrath des Kreises, jetzigen Oberregierungsrath Spring in Trier, durch Errichtung einer Spring-Stiftung von 13,000 Mark. Die Zinsen von 10,000 Mark sollen alljährlich dem Vaterländischen Frauenverein, die von 3000 Mark der Kreisbibliothek, einem von Spring geschaffenen Institut, zugewandt werden.

Schwelm. Hierorts wurde das Denkmal des Kaisers Friedrich des Dritten enthüllt. Das von Bildhauer Gottlob Deihle in Düsseldorf gefertigte Standbild hat so sehr die Anerkennung des Stadtverordnetenkollegiums gefunden, daß dieses beschloß, dem Schöpfer eine besondere Zuwendung von 3000 Mark zu den vertragsmäßigen 27,000 Mark zu bewilligen.

Witten. Dahier wurde der Grundstein eines großen Gemeindehauses für die evangelische Gemeinde gelegt. Es wird rund 200,000 Mark kosten.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Der Exportverein für das Königreich Sachsen hat im verwichenen Jahre zehn Kollektivreisen nach den verschiedensten Welttheilen mit einem Kostenaufwand von 90,000 Mark unternehmen lassen. Auch auf der Pariser Weltausstellung war der Verein vertreten. Der Verein hat zur Zeit 503 Firmen als Mitglieder.—Der frühere Millionär und etwa 20fache Hausbesitzer Johannes Boden, welcher lange Jahre hier eine flottgehende Pilsener Schankwirthschaft inne hatte und dann unter Hinterlassung großer Schulden flüchtete, ist jüngsthin nach etwa einjähriger Abwesenheit von London eingetroffen und hat sich der Staatsanwaltschaft gestellt.

Chemnitz. Auf dem hiesigen Hauptbahnhofe wurde der 27jährige Wagenrücker Louis Löbel aus Fürth so unglücklich beim Rangiren überfahren, daß er bald an den erlittenen Verletzungen im Krankenhause verstarb.

Laubegast. Der achtjährige Sohn des Gemeindevorstands Leistner wurde in der Rössig'schen Gärtnerei von einem großen Steine, der von einem Steinhaufen herabfiel, so schwer am Kopfe verletzt, daß der Tod bald eintrat.

Rochlitz. Der Geschirrführer des Steinbruchsbesitzers Seidel gerieth auf der Fahrt vom Berge nach der Haltestelle Breitenborn unter den schwer beladenen Wagen und wurde zermalmt.

Schönefeld. Die verstorbene Baronesse v. Eberstein vermachte ihr ganzes, 10,000,000 Mark betragendes Vermögen zu wohlthätigen Stiftungen. Den größten Theil erhielt das Mariannenstift, nämlich das ganze Rittergut Schönefeld mit 600 Morgen Land.

Zwickau. Der nach schwerer Urkundenfälschung und Unterschlagung flüchtig gewordene Rathexpedient Bretschneider wurde im benachbarten Schedewitz festgenommen und der hiesigen Staatsanwaltschaft zugeführt.

Thüringische Staaten.

Altenburg. Der Nachtwächter Graichen in Jückelberg, welcher das dortige Gemeindehaus in Brand gesteckt hatte, wurde in einem Gehölz erhängt aufgefunden.

Gotha. Der Schuhfabrikant Hening, der, nachdem über sein Vermögen der Konkurs verhängt, entflohen war und steckbrieflich verfolgt wurde, hat in Braunschweig Selbstmord begangen.

Kamburg. Auf dem hiesigen Bahnhofe sind nicht weniger als 20,000 Centner Pflaumen diesjähriger Ernte verladen worden.

Pößneck. Die seit einiger Zeit vermißte 18 Jahre alte Tochter des Tischlermeisters Franke in Köstitz, Anna, wurde neulich als Leiche aus einem Teiche in der heimathlichen Flur gezogen. Nach der Aussage ihrer Angehörigen war das Mädchen durch Klatschereien in den Tod getrieben worden.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Die Einwohnerzahl im Hamburgischen Staat beträgt nach den neuesten Feststellungen des statistischen Bureaus der Steuerdeputation 751,-329.—Der nach Verübung zahlreicher Wechselfälschungen und Unterschlagung bedeutender Summen aus Hamburg flüchtig gewordene, steckbrieflich verfolgte Buchhalter Hugo Schneider wurde kürzlich in Czernowitz in Galizien verhaftet.

Bremen. Seine goldene Hochzeit feierte das Ehepaar Siemering. Siemering hat 1848 den schleswig-holsteinischen Feldzug mitgemacht und gehörte später lange Jahre dem Bremer Nachtwachwesen an, das mit Einführung der Schutzmannschaft aufgehoben wurde.

Bremerhaven. In einer von Seiten der Disziplinarkammer gegen den Lehrer Robert Meyer eingeleiteten Untersuchung wurde gegen Meyer auf Dienstentlassung ohne Pension erkannt. Die Untersuchung war die Folge einer von der Strafkammer gegen Meyer wegen Ueberschreitung des Züchtigungsrechts gegenüber Schülern erkannten Geldstrafe von 300 Mark.

Vegesack. Der verstorbene Einwohner Danziger hat der höheren Töchterschule 30,000 Mark und dem Hartmannsstift 15,000 Mark vermacht.

"I had been troubled with dyspepsia for over fifteen years and the last five years suffered intensely. I had tried quite a number of remedies, and though at times they relieved my suffering they never cured me. About four months ago I noticed the advertisement of Ripans Tabules and bought some, and by using them as directed they benefited me more than I expected. Soon I found that all signs of the disease had disappeared and that I was gaining in weight right along, and to-day I can say that I am thoroughly cured. I have gained in weight seventeen pounds, increasing from 128 to 145 pounds."

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

Watch Your Kidneys!
They are Filters For the Blood.
Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.
If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.
Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated
A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.
DR. HOLTIN'S KIDNEY TABLETS is the only remedy absolutely and unconditionally guaranteed to cure every form of Kidney or Bladder complaints. Price 25 and 50 cents.

FASHION NOTES.

Items Concerning Winter Styles and Materials.

Gloves of kid in very light shades are worn for calling and dress occasions. The tints are all very pale, but white has been abandoned. Dark tones of kid or dogskin are used for morning and general service.

Double skirts are still worn, but less than single ones, although for some thin materials they are attractive.

Cloth is the material of the winter and is shown in many varieties. It is not by any means a novelty, however. A newer style of material is thick wool goods of a coarse weave, bristling with hairy fibers.

Printed panne is immensely used for trimming and comes in all sorts of colors and designs. It is also employed for separate bodices elaborately trimmed with lace and spangles or jeweled effects and guipure.

The picture shows a wedding gown of satin moire. The skirt has a long train, and at either side of the tablier is a fan of plaited mousseline de soie held at the top by a tiny spray of orange blossoms. The bodice is of satin, veiled in plaited mousseline de soie, the plaits held down by two bands of guipure insertion which simulate a round bolero. The soft collar and belt are of satin moire, and clusters of orange blossoms are placed at the throat and left side of the belt. The three-quarter length sleeves are bordered with guipure, and below them are sleeves of plaited mousseline de soie over satin, with a puff at the wrist. JUDIC CHOLLET.

ELEGANT WRAPPERS.

Silk Gowns, Dressing Jackets and Long Petticoats.

Dressing gowns and dressing jackets were never more elaborate than now. The latter, of surah, foulard or broche silk, are lavishly trimmed with guipure and lace, plaitings, ruffles and ribbons, and the sleeves of many consist of bands of insertion, straight or forming a design, alternating with bands of ribbon. For the gowns silk crepon and crepe de chine are also employed, and the variety of forms and designs defies description. Applications, lace and gold effects in particular, are a favorite resource, and very charming gowns are the result.

Some of the newest silk petticoats have a deep flounce of gauze or mousseline de soie over other flounces of the silk. The gauze flounce is heavily embroidered with chenille, often in a contrasting color, and there is additional decoration of guipure and lace. A recent example in pink silk had a flounce of white mousseline de soie embroidered with black chenille.

A picture is given of a costume of soft, thin cloth. The skirt has a deep flounce, plaited for the upper half of its extent and headed by a band of oriental application. The bodice is arranged with clusters of plaits to form bretelles and is open in front to show a narrow plastron of velvet matching the cloth. The collar is also of velvet, and oriental bands outline the plastron. The tight sleeves have a cluster of plaits at the top and a small puff at the wrist, with an oriental band. The belt is of velvet. The felt hat is lifted at the side by a chou of panne and is trimmed with ostrich plumes.

WESTERN EPISODE.

Widow of Gen. Custer Describes How a Horse Killed an Ugly and Vicious Rattlesnake.

Few of us have ever seen a horse kill a snake, but Mrs. Custer describes the performance in her story of "The Kid" in St. Nicholas.

As they were pushing out of a jungle on foot one day the colonel said: "Samanthy is a little too attentive, Alf; he shoves himself alongside of me, and when I remonstrate he backs a little, but keeps so close he almost treads on my heels."

"Well, father, I suppose he thinks nothing can go on without him. He's been in everything I ever did yet."

As they came to a narrow defile, with the branches of the trees festooned with moss and the ground tangled with vines and thick underbrush, Samanthy forgot his manners and crowded to the front. The colonel, peering into the thicket for birds, heard what he took to be the whirr of pheasants' wings, and he lifted his gun to take aim. The Kid, pressing on, saw with his keen eyes that it was nothing so harmless as the rising of a covey of birds. A huge rattlesnake, overlooked by the colonel in his intense concentration on the thicket, lay coiled directly in front of him, the vicious mouth hissing, the eyes gleaming with fire. Alf was in agony. He could not fire, for his father or the pony would have received the shot as they were placed.

SAMANTHY KILLS THE SNAKE.

But a more vigilant pair of eyes than even the Kid's had discovered the reptile, and with a spring in front of the colonel, and with the nicest exactitude, down came the pony with a buck jump, his hoofs close together on the head of the snake, crushing in the deadly fangs and flattening the skull into the soft soil!

Still there was an ominous rattle of the tail, and the little nag gathered himself again, bowed his supple back and drove his hoofs into the mottled skin of the deadly foe of mankind.

PRANKS OF MONKEYS.

Little Simians of India Indulge in All Sorts of Sport in an Almost Human Way.

"When I was traveling in northern India," said a gentleman who had recently completed a journey around the world, "I was constantly impressed with the almost human ways of the monkeys there. You see, they are never molested, which is also true of the birds, and they are as tame and impudent as spoiled children.

"I remember that one morning while we were sitting at breakfast on the veranda of our hotel suddenly we heard the noisiest chattering, and down the main street of the town came a crowd of long-tailed monkeys, running a race, evidently. They shrieked and chattered at every leap, tripping each other up, pulling each other's tails, and seemed to be having a generally hilarious time. While we left the table to watch their antics some Indian crows that had been solemnly lined up on the veranda rail watching us eat made a dash for the food, and had quite a fight with the native servant before they were finally driven away.

"But the monkeys of India are surely the most irresponsible in the world," continued the traveler. "I can call them people, because they are such ludicrous counterfeits of human beings. In many of the old temples there are monkey settlements. I remember one in particular which was sacred to the simians. There seemed to be thousands of the creatures, and I was told that 5,000 had recently been taken to the woods to get rid of them. But in this temple I saw little simian mothers nestling and rocking their babies in their arms for all the world like Christian mothers. I ventured to pick up one of the infants that was running about, and instantly the baby gave a typical infantile squeal and the excited mother came to me, chattering angrily. I put the infant down and the mother, her eyes still blazing with anger, carried the little one to a corner and petted and rocked it, frequently turning to give me a scornful look.

"It is not uncommon for the monkeys in the trees to reach down and seize the traveler's hat as he passes.

"Perhaps the most remarkable sight in connection with the monkeys in India I witnessed early one morning. We were riding in the highway and by a vacant field. Suddenly from the neighboring forest a troop of monkeys entered the field and began a regular May dance, taking hold of hands and forming a large circle, then dancing round and round and chattering gleefully."

Tommy Was Philosophical.

"Teacher says that rubber trees grow wild in Florida," said a seven-year-old school girl. "Well, s'pose they do" rejoined her brother, aged five. "Nobody ever has any use for rubbers till it rains and then it's too wet to go out in the woods and gather them."

Mr. C. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, formerly of Canada, where he first heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much, especially if I took cold, for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, Mr. L. W. Randolph, and used them according to directions with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

Headache from Eye Strain.

In an article in the Medical News Dr. Casey Wood defines ocular headache as those aches and pains in and about the head that directly or indirectly result from organic disease in, or from impaired function of any part of the visual apparatus. He says that 40 per cent. of all headaches are caused by eye strain, and that 80 per cent. of all frontal headache after shopping excursion, or a ride in a train or street car with its interchanging views, is an almost sure sign of eye strain. Astigmatism is probably the most frequent cause of headaches from eye strain.

Composite Bird on a Hat.

Frank M. Chapman, assistant curator of the Museum of National History, is an observing ornithologist and is continually making interesting discoveries in the befeathered monstrosities with which some women adorn their hats. Of the many which have claimed his attention in none perhaps is the plumage of different birds so confusingly intermingled as in a hat he observed recently in a cable car of New York city. He discovered there a whippoorwill's wings, a black cock's tail, a grebe's breast, a bunch of aigrettes, paradise bird's plumes and a humming bird.

Snails Consumed in Paris.

One hundred thousand pounds of snails are sold daily in the Paris markets to be eaten by dwellers in Paris. They are carefully reared for the purpose in extensive snail farms in the provinces, and fed on aromatic herbs to make their flavor finer.

ERNEST MASON SATOW.

Great Britain's New Minister to China Is One of the Finest Diplomats in the Service.

Sir Ernest Mason Satow, K. C. M. G., the new British minister to Peking, has been in her majesty's diplomatic service since 1868. He was born on June 30, 1843. His first diplomatic work was as student interpreter in the Japan consular service. This was in 1861. In 1865 he was promoted to be interpreter, and three years later was chosen as Japanese secretary to the British legation in Tokio. In 1884 he was made agent and consul general at Bangkok, and in February of the year following he was raised to the office of minister-resident. After three years in this office he was transferred to Montevideo, where he remained as minister-resident until 1893, when he was appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary in Montevideo.

SIR ERNEST M. SATOW.

(Recently Appointed British Minister to Peking, China.)

He was given the post at Tokio in 1893, and for seven years held it with considerable distinction. Shortly before the trouble broke out in China, at the request of Sir Claude Macdonald, whose health in Peking was poor, the home government ordered Satow and Macdonald to exchange places. Before the order could be carried out, however, hostilities had begun in China, and it is only now that the transfer has become possible. Sir Ernest Satow was made a C. M. G. in August, 1883, and was raised to K. C. M. G. in 1895, the same year he was knighted.

Like most members of the British diplomatic corps who have reached the rank of minister, Sir Ernest has written several works on the countries in which he has served. His first book was a "Handbook on Japan," which he wrote in collaboration with A. G. S. Hawes; his second, an English-Japanese dictionary, which he prepared with the assistance of M. Ishibashi.

TINY CIGARETTE FIEND.

He Is a Little Fellow, Called Lasioderma Serricorne, But Does a Great Deal of Harm.

Tobacco is hateful to all living creatures but two—man and the cigarette beetle.

Doubtless, if you are a cigarette smoker, you have sometimes put between your lips a cigarette from a new package, applied a match and found that, while it would draw freely enough, you could not light it.

Examining it you have perceived that the paper wrapping was perforated with holes, mostly round, about the size of a pin's head; and it is ten to one that you have found every other cigarette in the package destroyed in the same way. Whereupon you have probably either thrown away the package or else taken it back to the tobacconist to "make a kick about it," and that in that case have been informed that the tobacconist has been the victim of his worst enemy—the cigarette beetle.

Not many cigarette fiends have such a fine name as the pestilential beetle. He is called lasioderma serricorne. He is very small, and the odds are that while he continues to chew tobacco he will never grow any larger. The New York World presents a portrait of him, from which it will be seen that he is no beauty at any stage of the game.

THE CIGARETTE BUG.

(How the Little Pest Appears Magnified 100 Diameters.)

He damages cigarettes by boring his way out of them—the only act in which he shows a glimmering of intelligence—after being hatched and coming to maturity in the heart of the tobacco.

Another source of damage peculiar to fine-cut tobacco is that when it is smoked the flavor of cremated beetles displeases many customers. One of the government entomologists who has been studying the cigarette beetle declares that he smokes that kind of tobacco by preference because he likes the beetle bouquet. He admits that it

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Daily Press Bowling League.

	Won.	Lost.
Westfield Club	2	1
Cranford Casino	2	1
Park Club	1	2
Roselle Casino	1	2

Judging from the two opening series of games in The Daily Press Bowling League, there is considerable uncertainty as to which team will come out in the lead at the end of the season. Last year there was no doubt but the Roselle Casino had the strongest team of the league, and while the Roselle bowlers were unusually lucky at times, they really did the best work of any club in the league. If Westfield should get back into last year's form, its team should have an excellent chance of winning. This season the Roselle Casino and the Park Club are unknown quantities as both teams have a number of new men on them. If they develop into crack bowlers, either of the two is likely to come to the front with a rush.

Of the new bowlers, who made their first appearance in The Daily Press League contests last week, William R. Faber put up by far the best game of any of them. Twice he started in for five frames rolling better than a 200 game, but failed to hold the pace. His scores were high, however. In his second game he fell down considerably. Ralph T. Willis has been rolling a particularly steady game in practice and his poor showing against Cranford was a surprise. It was evidently an off night with him, but he may be expected to get back into form when the Parks go to Roselle to roll three games there the 20th.

BASKET BALL.

There is every prospect that Fanwood will have one of the strongest amateur basket ball teams of the State before the winter is over. A meeting of the candidates for the team of the Fanwood Athletic Club's team was held at the Fanwood club house Saturday evening. The showing was an excellent one. Five of the young men of Plainfield who have been prominent in basket ball in this city in the past, are trying for the team while there are a number of the Fanwood and other Plainfield young men who are anxious to play. Of the local players, it is expected that Walter L Long, George P. Smith, Fred Bonney, Raymond Carroll and Max Morsller will be included among the candidates for the Fanwood team. Berry Egan, who did such excellent work at centre, is unable to play owing to lack of time. After a few nights of practice, the team will probably line up against a scrub team and play a match to which the public will be admitted.

GOLF

According to one of the members of the Elizabeth Town and Country Club the general condition of the course is exceedingly good for this time of the year. Cuppy lies through the fair green are scarce, but putting has been rendered difficult because it has to be done on temporary greens. Low scoring on this Elizabeth course is at all times difficult, as the line of play is so narrow that it is next to impossible to keep within bounds.

It is within the bounds of possibility that the Morris County Golf Club will shortly develop into a full fledged country club, with its accompanying conveniences and comforts. The increasing demand on the clubhouse as a place for dinners and entertainments has made the necessity for more room apparent and the members are discusing various plans, either for the enlargement of the present clubhouse or the erection of a new building.

WHIST

This notice has just been issued to all the clubs in the New Jersey Whist Association:

"The following contests have just been decided upon by the State Association for the coming season:

"A contest between the different clubs of eight or twelve men from each club. When the two clubs scheduled to play can furnish twelve men each, then that number will be used; otherwise eight men will be played.

"A contest known as the 'Metropolitan Trophy Contest' is to be played within a radius of fifty miles of New York, and is to be a challenge trophy contest—open to all clubs in the State Association. This trophy is to be furnished by private subscription and is to cost $150.

"A contest between fours upon the same lines as the contest just closed in the State."

Remains of Republican Banner.

All that remains of the McKinley & Roosevelt banner that was swung to the breeze on Somerset street just north of Somerset place, by the U. S. Grant Club, in the borough, is in a sad state of delapidation, being tattered and torn and wound around the ropes that suspends it. Some enterprising member of the Grant Club should have the unsightly affair removed.

In all stages of Nasal Catarrh there should be cleanliness. As experience proves, Ely's Cream Balm is a cleanser, soother and healer of the diseased membrane. It is not drying nor irritating, and does not produce sneezing. Price 50 cents at druggists or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Upon being placed into the nostrils it spreads over the membrane and relief is immediate. It is an agreeable cure.

Another Crap Shooter.

Another name was added to the long list of alleged Sunday crap shooters with the arrest of Albert Butler, a colored man, this morning. He was was arraigned before Justice Mosher, but unlike his predecessors, pleaded not guilty. He retained Student Sweeney as his counsel and trial was set down until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Operation Was Successful.

Patrick Connolly, of West Third street, re-entered the hospital Saturday evening for the purpose of having another operation performed upon his head. It took place Sunday under the direction of Dr. Hedges. The operation was successful and the patient is steadily improving.

Mrs David Snotwell, who has spent several months with northern friends has returned to her home in Florida.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL.

Miss Mary Mohan was a Great Favorite With All Who Knew Her.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 11.—The funeral services of Miss Mary Mohan, whose sudden death cast a gloom over a host of friends and playmates, took place in St. John's church this morning. Rev. Father Bogard was in charge, and though he paid the deceased many deserving tributes, his remarks could scarce convey the esteem in which the child was held by all who knew her. Combined with a pleasing personality, she possessed a disposition which made a friend of every one with whom she came in contact.

At school she not only led in studies but was looked up to and beloved by all her playmates, and her death has caused a vacancy among them which time alone can fill.

As an evidence of their esteem, the pupils of the Whittier school contributed a handsome floral piece. The palibearers were six young men, John and Thomas Loughlin, George Rhinehart, James Eganey, John and Frank Mohan. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield.

Returned Missionary Will Preach.

HOLIDAY FANCY WORK.

How to Make a Tobacco Pouch That Will Delight the Heart of the Average Man.

A handsome tobacco pouch may be made from the illustrations, which represent the two patterns used, each side being duplicated.

Four such pieces are cut out of crimson or scarlet cloth and worked in applique. In the first one the chain stitch border (not the outer edge) is worked with green silk. The knot from which the different articles are made is done with black silk; the cigar case is of yellow cloth; the cigars worked in satin-stitch with brown silk. The case has two bands of chain-stitch in blue silk, and is edged all around with buttonhole stitch in the same color. The pipes are of white cloth shaded with long stitches of gray silk, and edged with yellow. The upper part of the pouch is of blue cloth, with a white silk edging and yellow dots; the under part of brown cloth, with black edging and a pattern worked in chain-stitch with white; the three tassels are embroidered with black and yellow silk.

In the second pattern the outer border is yellow, the knots black; the small pattern at the top is of blue cloth edged with yellow; the pipes of white cloth edged with blue and shaded with gray. The bundle of cigars is of brown cloth, shaded with black stitches, and fastened on with double rows of chain stitch in yellow silk. The cigar case is of light green cloth, edged with white; the Grecian pattern and dots are embroidered over it with white silk also.

To make the pouch up, join the four pieces together by seams—which are concealed by gold braid; cut out also and join four similar pieces of white kid for the lining; fasten this to the outside at the top only. Sew small brass rings round the top, and run a double piece of crimson silk cord through them. Put silk tassels of various colors at the bottom of the pouch and each of its four corners.—Boston Globe.

THOROUGHLY TESTED.

Simple Method of Cleaning a Woolen Dress That No One Need Hesitate to Try.

The following simple method of cleaning a dress skirt has been so thoroughly tested that no one need hesitate about trying it. The rule was first learned from a cook who accidentally had a cup of melted butter spilled over her dress. It was thought to be beyond reclaiming, but the cook herself declared that she could take every bit of the grease out—and she did. Since then the rule has been applied to many less hopeless cases, and invariably with the most satisfactory of results.

Take three-fourths of a pail of cold soft water and add one teacupful of ammonia. Thoroughly brush and shake the dress skirt, then rinse it up and down repeatedly in this ammonia water. After thoroughly "sousing" it, let it lie in the water for an hour. Once more rinse it up and down, then take it out, squeezing the water from it, but not wringing it.

Put up two lines so that they shall cross each other and hang the skirt upon them, pinning the bottom to the corssed lines so that the skirt shall be well spread apart.

While the skirt is still quite damp iron it upon the wrong side, ironing till dry."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

FREE DELIVERY FOR WASHINGTON VALLEY

Will Be Started After July 1; When New Contract Goes Into Effect.

BIDS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED.

FOR CARRYING MAIL FROM PLAINFIELD TO WATCHUNG, ETC.

Residents Along the Route will be Able to Have Daily Free Delivery by Putting Up Mail Boxes at Roadside.

Beginning with July 1, 1901, a free postal delivery will be established in Washington Valley and along the road from Warrenville to Mt. Bethel. This is in accordance with the new ruling of the post office department concerning the new contracts for carrying the mail from this city to Watchung, Warrenville and Gallia, as the postoffice at Mt. Bethel is called. Bids for the contracts were advertised for some time ago and were sent to Washington last week. They will be opened February 1, and the lowest bidder will assume his duties July 1.

According to the new contracts which the bidders for the mail route between this city and Gallia have received, they are to carry the mail from Plainfield to three post offices mentioned six times a week, which means once every day except Sunday, and bring the return mail and deliver at all houses along the route.

No mail carrier is allowed to carry mail for delivery by any post office. It will therefore be necessary for the mail bag to be taken to Watchung and the carrier will have to wait while the postmaster there sorts the mail and give him such letters as are to be delivered between Watchung and Warrenville. He will not be compelled to drive up to any house when it is located any distance from the main road. The householder will have to put up a mail box if he wishes to take advantage of the delivery. This plan will practically give free delivery to all the residents of Washington valley, between Watchung and Warrenville. The same plan will work north of Warrenville on the way to Gallia.

At present, Emerson C. Howard, of this city, carries the mail between this city and Warrenville. He is the subcontractor. The contract for carrying the mail is held by James Petticord and Co., of Windsor, Mo. They have over a thousand routes which they have sublet. The yearly compensation to the contractor is $207 35, while the price of the sub-contract is $181 26.

In the new bidding, which is for the contract for the four years beginning July 1, 1901, the postoffice department has announced that all bidders must be from the places through which the mail route in question passes. Howard has announced that he is a bidder and it is understood that several others in Warrenville and Mt. Bethel are also bidding. It is expected that the price will be considerably higher than it is under the present contract.

NO SKATING AT HYDE'S POND.

Water Has Been Drawn Off the Mill Pond and There's No Place to Skate.

A "Skater" writes to The Daily Press to state that in the event of there being sufficient cold weather to make ice that lovers of this sport will be compelled to journey to New Market if they wish to enjoy their favorite pastime. For many years the young folks have been accustomed to use Hyde's mill pond beyond Front street. This year, however, the owner of the pond has seen fit to draw off the water, leaving nothing but the muddy bottom to stare the skaters in the face. Tier's pond is not generally available, because the owner wishes to cut the ice that accumulates. The only alternative, therefore is for the boys and girls to hie themselves of the New Market pond.

To Celebrate Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C Dobbins, of Elmwood place, will celebrate the third anniversary of their marriage Saturday. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends will be present to offer congratulations on the auspicious occasion. Mrs. Dobbins was Miss Bertha G. VanCleef of East Millstone, N. J.

Addition to Electric Light Station.

The brick addition, which is being constructed to the electric light station on Madison avenue, is nearly completed. The masonry is completed and the carpenters are working on the interior. When the building is completed it will give an increased amount of room for the power plant.

FINE CONCERT GIVEN.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT AT PARK AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Duncan Concert Company Was Composed of Artists of Much Ability —Generous Reception Given.

Those who had the pleasure of listening to the work of the artists at the concert given at the Park Avenue Baptist church last evening, were as much surprised at their skill as they were gratified with the excellence of the performance. Those composing the Duncan Concert Company consisted of Henry E. Duncan, organist at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York; Madame Edith Jones, harpist; Clarence de Vaux-Royar, violinist, and Alfred Brown, the boy soprano, also of the choir of the Church of the Heavenly Rest.

It was expected that George Loose, another boy singer, would be present, but he was detained by illness. The handling of the pipe organ by Prof Duncan was well done and showed him to be a master of that instrument. Madame Jones is truly an artist in her line and her almost faultless execution upon the harp, the most difficult of all string instruments to play, was well received. She was frequently and enthusiastically applauded for her skill. Prof. de Vaux Royer's skillful manipulation of the violin was one of the features of the concert that merited the generous applause which his accomplishment received.

Of the singing of Master Brown, only words of praise can be said. He has sometimes been called the "boy nightingale" He has a voice of marvelous sweetness, wonderful power and can reach the high notes without the least difficulty. His best effort of the evening, perhaps, was his singing of "Red, Red Rose," a selection that gave him an opportunity to exercise his remarkable voice to good advantage. It is noticeable, however, that Master Brown sings with greater ease when in the higher notes. There is just a slight touch of the approaching change in the voice that naturally comes to one of his age, about fourteen. The concert was well attended and gave general satisfaction.

RED MEN ACTIVE.

Wetumpkah Tribe Will Have the Honor of One of the District Meetings Next Month.

The Red Men of New Jersey have planned to hold a number of district meetings during January and February of next year In the plans now about completed Plainfield will be the place for holding one of the meetings and Wetumpkah Tribe, No. 229, the youngest tribe in the State, will have the honor of entertaining the notables from various points in New Jersey.

It is proposed to confer the Past Sachem degree, at these meetings, upon those who have passed through the offices of the local tribe. The plan for visitations has been completed by Great Sachem William Newcorn, and is as follows: January 8 Vineland, Muskee tribe; 8th, Atlantic City, Arasapha tribe; 11th, Keyport, Chingarora tribe; 15th, Camden, Massasoit tribe; 16th, Trenton, Moax tribe; 18th, Flemington, Wickcheoche tribe; 22d, Paterson, Wyanet tribe; 26th, Florence, Minnehaha tribe; 29th, Phillipsburg, Teedyuscung tribe; 30th, Bayonne, Pamrapaugh tribe; 31st, Long Branch, Takanassee tribe; February 3, Junction, Shabbekong tribe; 4th, Dover, Piute tribe; 7th, Plainfield, Wetumpkah tribe.

Old City Jail Should Go.

As yet it is not known what disposition the Central Railroad Company will make of their property extending from the new station on the south side of the track to Park avenue. The old police station, a disgrace and an eyesore to the community, should be removed. It is owned by Morgan Bird, and so far as known the company has made no attempt to secure it. The building is of little use to anyone, and its removal would enhance the value of the company's property, as well as its appearance.

Improvements at Grant Avenue Station.

For the past few weeks workmen have been engaged in making improvements about the Grant Avenue station, until now the residents in that vicinity scarcely recognize the place. The station has been repaired and painted, adding greatly to its appearance. A fine hedge has been placed entirely around the park while trees have been placed at various points. The park will soon be one of the prettiest along the line.

Monthly Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church will hold the regular social tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Truell, Central avenue. A fine musical programme will be presented.

KILLED THE CANINE.

BUT IT TOOK TWO POLICEMEN TO TO ACCOMPLISH THAT ACT.

Exciting Time For Geo. R. Rockafellow and Family on Account of Supposedly Mad Dog.

There was a lively time at the home of George R. Rockafellow on East Second street last night. It was all over the antics of Rockafellow's dog, which gave evidences of being mad. The cur snapped and snarled and so frightened the family that the neighbors were called in.

Some one suggested that the dog was mad and it was decided to send for a policeman and have the beast killed. It was about 9 o'clock when Mr. Rockafellow, who by the way is an ex-officer of the peace, rushed into the station house and said there was a mad dog at his house and he feared that his family would be bitten.

Patrolman Saunders was sent up to put an end to the dog's savage attacks. The officer took good aim and sent a bullet crashing into the mad canine's body. To make sure that the beast was beyond doing further mischief, Saunders fired a second time, the bullet finding its way into the beast's head. The officer pronounced the dog dead—positively dead—and the family of the Rockafellows breathed easier and went to bed.

This morning a surprise awaited them when they arose. The dog that Officer Saunders had been so good as to kill (?) was very much alive, but badly wounded. Word was at once sent to the police station and Patrolman McCarthy, who was a member of the Third New Jersey Regiment, and considers himself something of a shot, was sent to accomplish what Officer Saunders had failed to do—kill the dog. The veteran of the late war with Spain was equal to the emergency and the mad cur is no more.

It might incidentally be mentioned that Officer Saunders was attacked by the infuriated beast, and in his attempts to shoot the animal it bit him severely on the finger. Health Officer Addis has been notified to have the carcus of the dog removed from the neighborhood. Before the dog is removed, however, Officer Tom McCue will be sent up to hold an autopsy on the dog's body to make sure that it is really dead, and if possible determine whether it was afflicted with rabbies. It has been suggested by a friend at the writer's elbow that the $2 tax on the dog be remitted by the City Collector.

WILL HOUSE TRAMPS.

Somerset County is Trying to Solve Perplexing Question of Looking Out For Tramps.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 12 —The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders was held at the Court House yesterday. The much vexed tramp question came up again and was discussed at some length. Finally a motion was passed, by a vote of 7 to 3, that Sheriff Schoonmaker be allowed to lock up tramps at a cost of 25 cents each a night until next May, but to give no tramps two nights' lodging in succession. The Sheriff's bill for $64 75, for lodging tramps from November 9 was passed. It seemed to be the opinion of the majority of the members that this was the cheapest way out of the difficulty, for if the Sheriff did not take care of them when they applied, some officer would arrest them, take them before a Justice and have them committed, which was more expensive.

An application was made for a macadam road from Woods Tavern to Neshanic, and another one from Union avenue, Finderne, through Weston and Millstone to Blackwells Mills.

Mr. Cruser endeavored to get the Board to macadamize the road from Belle Mead to the Mercer county line at Stoutsburg next, but consideration was laid over until the next regular meeting.

The Board adjourned to meet at the Jefferson avenue bridge, Dunellen, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Repairing Grating.

Workmen are engaged in making some repairs to the grating about the sidewalk in front of the City National Bank. The crevices about the iron work that support the heavy glass are being thoroughly cemented and made impervious to water.

A Culvert Built.

The borough officials have gone to considerable expense to construct a culvert and relay the sidewalk at the east side of Craig place where it intersects with Duer street. The improvement will be much appreciated by the citizens.

WORK OF YEAR IN BEHALF OF NEEDY.

Public Annual Meeting of Organized Aid Association Held Last Night.

THE REPORTS WERE MADE.

SUMMARY OF YEAR'S EFFORT TO RELIEVE POVERTY.

Col. Mason W. Tyler, Who Has Been President Since Founding of Association, Resigns—Is Succeeded by Rev. Mr. Newell.

The public annual meeting of the Organized Aid Association was held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church last evening. It was both interesting and important inasmuch as the work of this worthy institution for the past year was thoroughly reviewed. Since its organization in 1892 the society has sought out and relieved hundreds of cases of distress, while scores of needy persons have been placed upon their feet and given a new start in life. While the work is done quietly it is none the less effective, and its influence is being felt more and more each year.

The meeting last evening was mainly taken up with hearing reports from the various officers and chairmen of committees. Aside from this and the election of officers, the most important matter brought up was the resignation of Col. Mason W. Tyler, as President of the Association. Col. Tyler stated that although he wished to be relieved of the office which he had held for eight years, he did not intend to leave the association, but would assist it in every way possible, and would keep its object always at heart.

The first report read was that of the secretary, J. K. Myers. During the past year the total receipts were $950.48, while the disbursements were $580.07, leaving a balance of $370 41, which is a little more than last year's surplus.

Rev. A. C. Nickerson, chairman of the district committee, rendered a brief report, in which he stated that while the year had not been an especially hard one, calls for relief had been continuous, especially in the harshest months. He referred to the large number of cases in which children figured, having been cruelly treated by those in whose care they were placed, and even by parents. Several boys of a tender age had been rescued from evil surroundings in time to prevent their following lives of crime and dissipation.

Brief reports were also given by H P. Reynolds for the finance, rooms and printing committees. The most lengthy report of the evening was that of Miss VanBoekerck, agent for the association. From her report, a clear idea was gained of the work done during during the year. There had been 452 application for assistance all of which had been investigated and relieved. 706 visits had been made by the agent while 558 had been made in return. She cited instances of some of the more prominent cases where children had been given homes, old and needy people made happy and deserving men and women given work. She stated that in the death of Christian P. Hansen, the association had lost a valuable assistant and a most earnest worker.

In conclusion, she said she hoped the day was not far distant when Plainfield would have a public bath and day nursery, two things most essential to the welfare of the poor.

Following Miss VanBoekerck, President Tyler gave a brief review of the association's work since the time of organization At first it was only an experiment, but it has done and is still doing a noble work, that is providing labor for those who desire it, thereby relieving their distress. He then appointed the following committee, with himself as chairman, to make a revision of the constitution and by-laws, H. P. Reynolds and Boardman Wright.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Rev. G. Kennedy Newell; vice-presidents, J Doull Miller, D. H. Rowland and Mrs. J. K Myers; secretary, William S. Tyler; treasurer, Boardman Wright. At the conclusion of the election, Mr Newell arose and expressed regret at President Tyler's resignation and asked that a committee be appointed later to draw up resolutions showing their appreciation of his work during the time he held the office and have them spead upon the minutes. His motion was carried after which the meeting adjourned.

GUESSED POPULAR BOOKS

SUCCESSFUL BOOK PARTY GIVEN AT PARK CLUB LAST EVENING.

Representations of Well-known Books Furnished Evening's Entertainment at Popular Borough Club.

There is much activity among the society people of Washington Park this winter and many very pleasant affairs have been held at the Park Club. Last evening one of these events was given by the entertainment committee and was attended by seventy well known society people of this city and the borough. The entertainment was in the nature of a book party. It was planned by Mrs. Charles A Reed, and she was assisted by Mrs. Northrup, Jan vanHerwerden and Charles S. Cook, the other members of the committee.

About eighty different representations the were arranged about room and each one suggested the name of some well-known book. The idea was to guess as many of the representations as possible, the one guessing the largest number to be presented with a prize. There was a prize for the men and one for the women.

There was a great deal of interest evidenced in guessing the various books and some of the most simple ones proved to be the most difficult to solve. A few of the best characterizations are the following: A worn out electric light bulb, "The Light That Failed;" December 11, 1901, "Ten Years Later;" alas, "Only a Word;" a picture of Dewey cut in two, "A Half a Hero;" a worn out baby shoe, "Lucille;" a small bunch of red peppers, "Redekins;" a picture of an Irishman beneath a pen, "Pendennis;" a picture of the Park Club beneath two flags, "Under Two Flags"

It was nearly 10:30 o'clock when the guessing match closed and the committee then awarded the prizes. Miss May Shreve, who guessed forty-two, was one winner and she was presented with a copy of "Eben Holden," by Irving Bacheller. A. E. Faber, Jr., guessed thirty-nine, and won the prize for the men, a copy of "Uncle Terry," by Charles Clark Munn.

After the awarding of prizes refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

LOST IN WOODS.

Franklin Park Farmer Found Nearly Frozen in Woods Near Clinton Avenue Yesterday Morning.

As Edward Schenck, a New Market milkman was driving toward this city early yesterday morning, he discovered the senseless form of a man wrapped in a blanket, lying near the road in the woods at Rock avenue and West Fourth street. Near the man was a farm wagon to which a team of horses were attached, trembling with cold.

Schenck's efforts to arouse the man were futile and he was obliged to go to a nearby house and sum non assistance. After considerable effort, he became conscious of his surroundings and described himself as being a Franklin Park farmer.

He said that he had been in Plainfield all day Monday trying to dispose of a load of apples. He met with poor success and started for home late in the evening, by the way of West Fourth street, intending to pass through New Market. Before reaching Clinton avenue he fell asleep. On awaking some time later found himself almost frozen and in the woods, whither the horses had wandered, and being numb with cold he was unable to get out of the wagon and find the road. Taking his blanket he managed to get to the ground and lie down. He knew nothing more until he awoke yesterday morning.

The man's escape from being frozen to death was a narrow one, as Monday night was bitterly cold. His timely discovery by Schenck was all that saved him. His apples were frozen but after completely recovering, he declared his intention of returning to Plainfield to dispose of them. The horses seemed to be little affected by their night's experience.

Amateur Dramatics at Park Club.

The entertainment committee of the Park Club has arranged for a dramatic entertainment to be given at the club the evening of Thursday, December 20. Fine talent has been secured for the occasion and a good time is promised the members and their friends.

STOLE STEAM LAUNCH.

CHAS. JAMES AND JAMES DONNELLY ARRESTED FOR THE CRIME.

Confessed That They Took Launch, Carried Off Engine and Dumped Boiler Into the Millstone River.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 12 —About a week ago a steam pleasure launch belonging to Charles VanNostrand, of East Millstone, and which he used in sailing up and down the Millstone River, was taken from its moorings at night. The following day, when it was missed, search was made and it was found about a mile down the river stripped of engine and boiler.

Yesterday Detective Totten arrested and brought to the Somerville jail Charles James, the youngest brother of the noted Jesse James, who terrorized the west some years ago, and James Donnelly, of South Bound Brook. They were committed by Squire Sutphen to the Somerville jail to await the action of the Grand Jury, on a charge of having stolen the engine and boiler.

They confessed to having done the deed, carting the engine away in a wagon, but the boiler was too heavy for them, and after getting it out of the boat and on the bank it got away from them and rolled down into the river, from which they were unable to recover it, the water being very deep at that point. Mr. VanNostrand will make an effort to get it out, however. About 5 o'clock last night they furnished bail in the sum of $2,000 each and were released.

James floated into Bound Brook some months ago, and has been doing nothing of any account, as far as the public could see.

Donnelly was a motorman in the employ of the Somerset and Middlesex Traction Company and was apparently led astray by his companion.

PRESS CARRIER'S SUCCESS.

Fred A. Martin Has Completed Course in Business College and Now Has Secured Lucrative Position.

A year and a half ago The Daily Press offered a free scholarship in the Plainfield Business College to The Press carrier that brought in the largest number of subscriptions to The Daily Press from January to May.

After faithful work on the part of all the carriers it was found that Fred A. Martin, son of Augustus Martin, of Jackson avenue, was the lucky one, and to him the scholarship was awarded. On Monday last Mr. Martin concluded his course, received his diploma and immediately secured a lucrative position in the office of a large manufacturing concern at Bound Brook.

During the long time that Mr. Martin carried a paper route, he was faithful, steady and always to be depended upon. The Daily Press is pleased that it was thus enabled to give a worthy young man a chance to secure the foundation for a successful business career.

GREAT BOWLING BY THE WESTFIELD CLUB.

Took Two Out of Three on Cranford Casino Alleys in Daily Press League.

EXCELLENT SCORES ROLLED.

HOME TEAM WAKED UP FOR THE THIRD GAME AND WON.

Third Game Was Very Close and Both Teams Rolled Considerably Over 800—Chauncey D. Smith Made Best Average Score.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, December 12.—With the flush of victory over the Park Club bowlers, of Plainfield, still visible on their faces the members of the Casino team lined up last evening for their series of games with the Westfield Club team in The Daily Press Bowling League. The end of the first game, which found them short 137 pins, caused the confident look to fade and the end of the second game, when the Westfielders rolled up a score of 773 to their 752, found them without a smile. The home team rolled the highest score since their organization in the third game and won from the visitors by nine pins.

The alleys were well lined with members of the Casino and of the Westfield Club, and had journeyed to the pretty clubhouse to witness the contest.

In the first game the visitors started right out at the beginning to roll up an eight hundred game and held a good average until the fifth frame when two splits and a break pulled them down and the end of the game was reached when they had but 791. The home team was not in it at any stage of the game.

The second game started off a little better on the part of the Cranfordites and for several frames they kept the Westfielders guessing. In the fifth frame they were but one pin behind but from then on they lost steadily until the ninth frame when a double by Bates and breaks on the part of the visitors pulled them up a little but not enough.

The best game of the evening was the last. There were a number of bad splits during the game which kept the score down, but as it was both teams reached and passed the 800 mark by good margins. In this game, Messick, of the Cranfords, started off with strikes, and Chauncey Smith, captain of the Westfields, got a double and from then on there was a fight between those crack bowlers. Good filling in on spares on the part of Messick won out, Smith making a bad break on the last frame. He was defeated by 13 pins. It was anyone's game from the start up to the ninth frame when a single break on the part of Barry, of the home team, gave the visitors a chance, but both W. M. Townley and Smith broke and the game went to Cranford by 11 pins. R I. Townley rolled the highest score of the Westfielders, making 204 in the third game, but Captain Smith had the highest average, making a total in the three games of 565, an average of over 188.

For the Cranfords, Bates, of baseball fame, did the best work during the whole three games. Messick made the highest score, rolling 207 in the third. The scores:

Tea in Honor of Miss Keys.

A delightful affair was that of yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Samuel St. John McCutchen, of 85 Myrtle avenue, gave a tea in honor of Miss Keys, of Elizabeth, who is the fiance of her son, William M. McCutchen. The affair was attended by forty prominent young society women of the borough and city, and was very informal. There were many pleasing features that added to the enjoyment of the occasion and all were delighted to meet Miss Keys, who is very popular among her many friends.

Dramatic Entertainment at Casino.

Arrangements are now being perfected for a dramatic entertainment and dance to be given at the Casino New Year's Eve. As a plan of reorganization has taken place at the Casino this affair will be in the nature of an opening of the social season.

H-O

ORIGIN OF PANCAKES ON SHROVE TUESDAY.

When the Danes conquered England and reached the villages around Sherwood Forest, all the Saxon men ran off into the forest and the Danes took the Saxon women to keep house for them.

This happened just before Lent and the Saxon women encouraged by their fugitive lords, resolved to massacre their Danish masters on Ash Wednesday.

Every woman who agreed to do this, was to bake pancakes for their meal on Shrove Tuesday. This was done as sort of a pledge, and that the massacre of the Danes did take place on Ash Wednesday is an historical fact. It was a much greater undertaking to fry pancakes in those days than it is now; for with the H-O Co.'s "ready to use" packages of Buckwheat and Pancake Flour at every grocery store it is as easy as boiling water. Pancakes were never liked so well until the introduction of the H-O Co.'s Pancake Flours.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exacty News but Just as Interesting.

These are busy times with those who annually observe the Chirstmas festival. In nearly every household secret movements are noticeable from the head of the house to the juvenile members. Mysterious packages find their way into the homes only to be concealed until either the "night 'fore Christmas" or the morning of the joyful holiday, when they are brought forth from their hiding place and presented to dear ones.

Frank James, of Sycamore avenue, grandson of Captain Franklin Hallett, commander of the sailing craft "Queen of the West," has been enjoying a trip as the guest of the captain and line plying between New York and Manchester, Eng. Although but twelve years old this is Frank's fifth voyage across the Atlantic. On previous trips Master Frank has been accompanied by his parents.

An amusing incident is told of Captain Hallett that may bear repeating: On one occasion an officer had taken in sail during the captain's watch of fifty-two hours on the bridge. Calling the officer by name the captain said:

"Who took in that fore to' gal'n' s'l?" The officer replied: "I ordered that taken in, sir."

"How dared you, sir?" the angry querry came. "Well, sir, if I hadn't God Almighty would have taken it out of the gaskets."

"Well, sir," the captain said, "if God Almighty wants my fore to' gal'n' s'l you let Him have it, but don't you ever shorten sail again without my orders."

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness

Alice E Ives and Jerome H. Eddy's picturesque New England play, "The Village Postmaster," which has had a long run of 227 nights at the 14th Street Theatre, New York, is the attraction at Music Hall this afternoon and tonight and comes direct here from its third big engagement at that theatre, possesses not only the quaintness and picturesqueness of coloring appropriate to that period, but furthermore has an atmosphere of simplicity, wholesomeness and truth which adapts it to all classes of theatre-goers. In this respect it particularly resembles "The Old Homestead" and has been classed with that play. Features of General Training Day, ending with a rain storm of real water conclude the first act. Second act is the minister's donation party; third act shows threshing day on the farm with an old fashioned threshing machine at work and the fourth act, a night wedding in the village church. All strikingly realistic and intensely true to nature and to life. In fact, we are told that "The Village Postmaster" is positively unlike any of the other rural plays that have been seen. It is unconventional, breezy and buoyant. The country and the country folk of a generation ago are transplanted in all their raw simplicity to the city stage to surprise and delight us theatre-goers who are mostly fed on plots and problems, evening dress, sword and buckler, and artificialities. Realism is rampant in "The Village Postmaster." We are promised the whole New York production identically as seen at the 14th Street Theatre. The finish that characterizes the production is materially contributed to by the excellent company of actors. Familiar faces are found in it. Archie Boyd, who will be remembered for his work in "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres," will be seen in the title part, and Miss Angela Russell appears as "Meranda," the Postmaster's daughter.

* * * * * * *

Few attractions announced here in a long time have attracted the same degree of attention attendant upon the forthcoming engagement of Hall Caine's much-discussed play, "The Christian," which Liebler & Co. will present. The enterprise of Manager Maze Edwards in securing this excellent attraction, is deserving of the most substantial patronage and from present indications it is evident his efforts will be rewarded far beyond most sanguine expectations for "The Christian's" engagement at Music Hall on Saturday night, is already town talk.

—When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

—A. Lusardi, the well-known fruit dealer of 211 West Front street, has just received a fresh stock of all kinds of fruit. Mr. Lusardi takes special pride and care in keeping the best stock to be found and anything purchased of him can be relied upon.

Tortured A Witness.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T. L. Martin, of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence: "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. King's New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for four years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for Coughs, Colds and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough, and not only prevents but absolutly cures Consumption. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—James R. Blair, of 126 Park avenue, has on sale a large stock of derbies, neckwear, gloves, shirts, hosiery and suspenders. No better stock in the city to select from.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50c. Guaranteed. For Sale by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

—At "Dave's" barber shop, 213 West Front street, now under new management, you can procure hot baths with shower.

—Hugh R. Monro, vice president of the Niagara Lithograph Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., will address the men's rally at the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon at 4:15. Special music will also be a feature.

SWINDLED BY AMERICANS.

Confidence Men Rob an Italian Priest of $50,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Two clever confidence men, believed to be Americans from descriptions furnished by a priest in Italy, whom they robbed of $50,000, it is thought may be on their way to this country, and the police of all the large cities have been notified to watch for them.

The story of the robbery, which reached this city yesterday, says they got from the safe of the Jesuit institute at Turin $50,000 of the funds of the institution. The Rev. Father M. Grosso of the Society of Jesus, the superior of the institution, was their victim.

Two well groomed men with polished manners, apparently Americans, called on Father Grosso a fortnight ago and told him they were trustees of a rich orphan boy whose father had recently been killed in the Boer war.

They said they wished to place the boy in the priest's care and have him educated in the institute. They explained they were custodians of $200,000 belonging to the boy which they desired to leave for safe keeping in Father Grosso's hands.

The priest consented to assume charge of the boy and to accept the custody of the funds. The men thereupon produced several bundles of what purported to be bank notes which they suggested should be placed in the safe. Father Grosso opened the safe, and the men placed therein the bundles.

They then departed, stating they were going to Milan, where they had left the boy, and would return with him shortly. Father Grosso waited several days and when neither the men nor the boy appeared became suspicious and went to the safe.

He found that bank notes aggregating $50,000 were gone and that the bundles of supposed bank notes left by the men were only waste paper.

The men, the police say, abstracted the funds from the institution under the eyes of the priest while placing their counterfeit bundles in the safe.

STRIKE STILL ON.

Striking Weavers Seem to Be Gaining Ground at New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 12.—The mill strike is still on, and efforts made by the state board of arbitration brought about no satisfactory result, for Treasurer Knowles refused to have a conference arranged.

The labor leaders, when they heard the result of the state board's call on Mr. Knowles, were agreed that it would only make the fight of the operatives more determined than ever.

It was stated upon the authority of the strikers that yesterday 50 per cent of the weavers employed in the Acushnet and Hathaway mills remained from their work.

In all probability this number will be added to before the week is out, for a labor leader was told by half a dozen weavers that they would leave the mills just as soon as they got the cloth they are now weaving off the looms. In some cases weavers have some $7 to $9 worth of cloth on the looms, and they will finish their cuts, so as to be able to know just what they are going to get.

Everything is very quiet and orderly about the mill gates, and there is no hooting or hissing or other insults to the weavers who choose to go to work.

The New York city board of education asked for a bond issue of $14,031,325 for the purchase of sites and erection of new schools.

Bold Bank Robbers.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 12.—Six men raided Seville, O., 30 miles from Cleveland, bound Marshal Frank Weaver and put him in a room over the bank run by John F. High. Two men then went to guard High's residence while the others blew up the vault with dynamite, wrecking the interior of the building. They secured $1,600 in notes and silver, but overlooked $500 in gold and $600 worth of jewelry. The robbers stole a handcar and went south over the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling railway.

Large Cargo on New Steel Ship.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The new steel screw steamer Rosetti, built to the order of Messrs. Lamport & Holt of Liverpool for their South American trade, has arrived in this port from Santos carrying the largest cargo of coffee ever shipped from a Brazilian port. The Rosetti was launched on July 30 from the yards of Messrs. David & William Henderson & Co. at Partick, on the Clyde.

Big War Loan Voted.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The house of commons yesterday voted £16,000,000 to carry on a war Lord Roberts has daily announced as "finished" at full scale cost for another three months in the listless manner characteristic of its proceedings when dealing with finance and with a careful avoidance of what might turn out to be unjustifiable hopefulness.

Accident at Liscum's Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—While on his way with his command to attend Colonel Liscum's funeral yesterday afternoon, Alfred Bader, an artilleryman, fell from his horse at the corner of Third and Pennsylvania avenues and was run over by an ammunition wagon. His back was so badly crushed that he died soon after his removal to the hospital.

Ship Subsidy Bill Before the Senate.

FIRST SPEECH IN OPPOSITION.

Payne of New York and Swanson of Virginia Discuss the Revenue Reduction Measure in the House. Booz Case to Be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The first speech in opposition to the ship subsidy bill in the senate was delivered yesterday by Mr. Clay of Georgia. He is one of the minority members of the committee on commerce which conducted the hearings on the measure and reported it to the senate. He is recognized as one of the most vigorous opponents of the bill in the senate, and during nearly two hours which his speech consumed he was accorded close attention by senators on both sides of the chamber. Mr. Hanna, who expects to reply to Mr. Clay's argument, gave him a particularly attentive hearing. In the early part of the session a lively colloquy was precipitated over the reference to committee of the Grout oleomargarine bill, just passed by the house of representatives. Finally it went to the committee on agriculture. This was a victory for the friends of the bill.

There also was a sharp debate over the Montana senatorial case, but no action was taken, the matter by consent going over temporarily. Today no business session of the senate was held, as the day was devoted to the celebration of the centennial of the establishment of the seat of government in Washington.

The debate on the war revenue reduction bill opened in the house, but was confined to two speeches, one by Mr. Payne of New York, chairman of the ways and means committee, on behalf of the majority, and one by Mr. Swanson of Virginia on behalf of the minority. The house adjourned early to permit the hall to be decorated for the exercises in connection with the centennial celebration today. Before the war revenue reduction bill was taken up a resolution was adopted for the appointment of a special committee of five members to investigate the death of Oscar L. Booz of Bristol, Pa., who died recently, it is alleged, as a result of hazing received while a cadet at West Point. This course was taken over the head of the military committee, which reported in favor of allowing the war department to conduct the inquiry.

Monument Commission Has Surplus.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—At a meeting of members of the Lafayette memorial commission at the office of Comptroller Dawes it appeared from the report of the secretary of the commission that a considerable surplus over the amount already expended and the liabilities to be incurred for the final completion of the monument would be held by the commission. The amount of funds in sight, counting the premium on the unsold Lafayette dollars, approximates $35,000, which by a small addition would enable the commission to erect in Washington a replica of the monument in all its details. The matter is to be presented to the full commission at an early date, and if approved by it congress will be asked for an enabling act in order to carry out the work.

Resolutions Disapproved by Milner.

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 12.—Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony, has received the deputation appointed by the recent Afrikander congress at Worcester to present to him for transmission to the British government the three resolutions adopted by the congress. In reply to the deputation's spokesman he said: "I shall forward these resolutions to the imperial government with my strong disapproval. They were framed by clever men now engineering the present agitation and encouraging those who are carrying on a hopeless resistance."

Germany Needs Large Loans.

BERLIN, Dec. 12.—The Berliner Tageblatt, basing its calculations upon the figures of Baron von Thielmann, secretary of the imperial treasury, estimates that the empire needs in the way of loans 400,000,000 marks. The recent official report of Mr. Frank H. Mason, United States consul general in Berlin, regarding Germany's present economical status and the chances for American coal and other American products here has been largely reprinted, the German press admitting its correctness.

The Antivice Crusade.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The committee of 100 appointed by the civic federation, of which the Rev. R. Heber Newton is a member, to fight vice has opened headquarters. A delegation of the committee headed by Harry White, secretary of the United Garment Workers, called on Bishop Potter to request him to use his influence to have a labor man appointed on the committee of 15. Bishop Potter said he would do all in his power to aid them.

Fright Caused Death.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 12.—Lewis P. Richard is dead from valvular disease of the heart caused by fright two years ago. At that time the family lived in Cayuga. Lewis, who was 9 years old, went out on the lake in a rowboat with several other boys. They frightened him terribly by telling him that they would throw him in the lake. The fright caused heart trouble, from which he never recovered.

Newfoundland Snowbound.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Dec. 12.—Fierce snowstorms continue to beset the island, blocking the railroads and paralyzing the transport system generally. Mr. Reid, the contractor, has given up running the street railroad in St. John's until next spring owing to the heavy fall of snow. Several vessels are now overdue along the coast, and it is feared that they have foundered in the storm.

Further Aid for Galveston.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Washington auxiliary to the national Red Cross association yesterday sent $1,000 to Mr. John Sealy, chairman of the relief committee at Galveston, to be used in providing shelter for the homeless. Another thousand will be sent soon by the auxiliary, which is receiving contributions from all parts of the United States for this purpose.

Yellow Fever Subsiding.

HAVANA, Dec. 12.—The yellow fever situation here shows general improvement. Twenty-eight cases are now under treatment, including only one American.

TO NEGOTIATE SOON.

Ministers Will Not Await Chinese Credentials.

PROVISIONAL PEKING GOVERNMENT.

Li Hung Chang Pays a Visit to General Chaffee and to a Temple Interior Never Before Seen—Compliments For Our Troops.

PEKING, Dec. 12.—At a meeting of the ministers it was agreed that as soon as the protocol embracing the terms for the peace negotiations is signed it shall be presented to the Chinese commissioners, and the ministers shall then proceed with the negotiations without waiting for the arrival of sufficiently authentic credentials for the Chinese commissioners.

The ministers prepared a draft of the credentials to be demanded of the Chinese and submitted a copy to Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, together with a request that their credentials be secured without delay.

The British minister, Sir Ernest Satow, is still awaiting instructions from his government.

The ministers adjourned without fixing upon a date for their next meeting.

At a meeting of the military commanders for the purpose of arranging a provisional government for Peking it was decided to appoint Captain Dodds of the Ninth infantry, U. S. A.; Captain Selwin of the British army, Captain Sheba of the Japanese army, Captain von Braaen of the German army and Captain Ferigo of the Italian army as such government. Colonel von Gayl of the German army, who was second in command of the recent punitive expedition to Kalgan, was appointed chairman of the government. These officers will consult with the Chinese authorities regarding plans for the government of the city.

Li Hung Chang has paid a visit to General Chaffee, the American commander, at his headquarters at the Temple of Agriculture. This temple, together with the Temple of Heaven, near which is situated the race course established by the British military officers, where racing is held weekly, are the two most sacred edifices in China. The only person who worships in them is the emperor, and he only visits them annually.

Li Hung Chang and the members of his staff who accompanied him had never seen the interior of the temple before General Chaffee received them.

In the course of the conversation Li Hung Chang complimented General Chaffee upon his troops, particularly the cavalry. He said, "I think you and your cavalry could defeat me and mine."

Reference was made to lending American soldiers to repress the bands of robbers, Boxers and other disorderly characters, but during this part of the conversation General Chaffee was extremely diplomatic.

French Refuse, Russians Excluded.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The Morning Post publishes the following from its Peking correspondent, dated Dec. 10: "The French have refused to participate in the scheme of a police committee for Peking, formed under the direction of Colonel Baron Gayl, in which the American member is Captain Dodds. The Russians have been excluded because they no longer exercise control here."

The American University.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The board of trustees of the American university held its annual meeting here yesterday. In the absence of Mr. John E. Andrus of New York, president of the board, Mr. John F. Robinson of Illinois presided. Bishop Hurst reported that there was now between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 on hand and urged that every effort should be put forward to secure $1,000,000 during the coming year. The money would be used, he said, as a basis for opening the institution for actual work in instruction. Everything was reported to be in a prosperous condition. The report of the financial secretary showed that $75,000 will soon be added to the endowment fund.

Mrs. Acton Alone Gets Damages.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The jury in the supreme court at White Plains gave its verdict in the Acton damage suit against the New York Central and Hudson River railroad for injuries received in the wreck of the Montreal express near Garrisons in October, 1897. The verdict awards Mrs. Mary Acton $5,000, while her husband, Joseph E. Acton, is nonsuited. The Actons, who were on their wedding trip, were riding on a pass. The verdict gives Mrs. Acton damages and Mr. Acton none because he alone signed the pass.

A Head on Collision.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Four persons were injured and many passengers severely shaken up in a head on collision between a construction gravel train and the St. Louis express train on the Chicago and Alton road near Sagbridge, 30 miles out of Chicago. The failure of the flagman to carry out instructions caused the accident. But for the fact that the express train was headed by two locomotives, which tended to break the shock, the crowded coaches would have been completely demolished.

Fatal Rear End Collision.

TOPEKA, Dec. 12.—A rear end collision occurred between two Santa Fe freight trains near Olathe, Kan., wherein one life was lost and several persons injured. A north bound freight crashed into the rear end of a stock train, and both were wrecked. Noble Thomas of Emporia was burned to death in the caboose of the stock train, and his father was badly mangled. They were on their way to Kansas City with stock.

Crushed by Tons of Salt.

ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 12.—Elmer Terwilliger, an employee of the Ithaca salt works, was very seriously injured in a peculiar accident. He was digging under a large salt bin for the purpose of lowering its contents, when the structure gave way, and he was buried beneath two tons of salt. When dug out, he was unconscious, and it was found that nine of his ribs were broken. He is in a critical condition.

Another Landslide at Helgoland.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 12.—Another serious landslide has occurred in Helgoland. Thirty houses have been engulfed, and a considerable part of the island has been for three days under water. Thus far it has been impossible to send relief, and the losses have not yet been determined.

MINISTER WU EXPLAINS.

Says He Did Not Mean to Disparage the Christian Religion.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—Wu Ting Fang last night addressed the members of the Contemporary club on "The Chinese View." Instead of dealing with the relations between China and the Christian nations, as was generally supposed he would, he confined himself to the social status of the Chinese as compared with the people of the United States. Previous to speaking on the subject of the evening he referred to the criticisms that have been made on his address before the Ethical Culture society in New York last Sunday.

"It was not my intention," he said, "to condemn the teachings of Christ. Taking his philosophy as a standard should be considered as a compliment. I desired to explain how Confucianism was like and how different from Christianity. I did not condemn the teachings of Christ. I said they were very noble and very difficult for men to attain to—some of them. When I blamed Christians, I certainly did not condemn their religion. I have read part of the Bible and appreciate and respect it, and I never in my life have made an attack on Christianity. I praise the creed, but I repeat that some of its doctrines are too high, too grand for the mere mortal to follow."

Speaking on family relations in China, he said:

"With us the child is required to be respectful. If the parent comes into the room, the son rises and gives him the best seat. Here the son sits on the high seat with his legs crossed, and if his father enters he keeps the seat and leaves the parent to stand or find one for himself. In China the idea is that the child is under obligations to the parent for its existence. Here the child seems to think the parent owes him a living for bringing him into the world.

"The relations between husband and wife are different. Here the wife is on an equality openly with the husband. The husband in various ways defers to her, shows his respect, tells of and applauds his wife's virtues. In China one man asks another, 'How is your honorable wife?' He replies, using some rather slighting term in speaking of the wife, as, for instance, 'My mean wife or my lazy wife is well.' We love our wives possibly as well as you and probably defer as much to them, but we do not make a sham of it."

NOT IN CONTEMPT.

Standard Oil Wins In Celebrated Ohio Case.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12.—The supreme court has dismissed the proceedings brought by former Attorney General Monnett, charging that the company was in contempt of court for having failed to comply with an order issued in 1892 directing a dissolution of the Standard Oil trust. The six members of the court divided, Chief Justice Shauck and Justices Burkett and Davis favoring dismissal of the information in contempt and Justices Minshall, Spear and Williams dissenting. Under a rule of the court the failure of a majority to sustain the information in contempt is in effect a dismissal of the proceedings.

The litigation against the Standard Oil company, which is thus closed, dates back to May 8, 1890, when Attorney General D. K. Watson brought suit in the supreme court to have the Standard Oil trust dissolved. Nearly two years later, March 2, 1892, the allegations in the petition were sustained, and the company was "ousted." On March 21 following a meeting of stockholders was called and a liquidating board consisting of John D. Rockefeller, H. M. Flagler and others appointed to wind up the affairs of the company.

The company then set up the claim that it was impossible to close up the business of so great a concern in the time allotted. The judge of the supreme court declined to take action extending the time in which the company's affairs might be wound up, but informally addressed a letter to the attorney of the company which stated in effect that as long as the Standard Oil company continued its efforts to comply with the decree of the court and to wind up its affairs in Ohio the court would not be disposed to interfere.

Nov. 9, 1897, F. S. Monnett, then attorney general, filed information in the supreme court alleging that the Standard Oil company had not complied with the decree of the court and asking that its officers be cited for contempt. The testimony in this proceeding was taken by Allen Brinsmade of Cleveland as master commissioner and was submitted to the court some months ago.

Mr. Monnett, when asked his opinion of the decision, said that, while he felt that the evidence sustained the charge of contempt, he bowed to the decree of the court.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Massachusetts—Ringville, Reuben Drake; Tolland, A. A. Harrison; Van Deusen, Eugene Cuenin. New York—Big Moose, Albert Merrell; Grooms, Lewis Miller; Myrtle, E. J. Miller; Saquoit, John Green. Pennsylvania—Ariquippa, Maggie Brown; Verne, E. V. Sigler.

Cornerstone Laid at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 12.—The cornerstone of the administration building of the South Carolina interstate and West Indian exposition was laid in the presence of over 10,000 people yesterday afternoon. It was an ideal day, and the site of the exposition, the isthmus of the peninsula on which Charleston is built, was the scene of enthusiasm.

Sultan Presents Cigarettes.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 12.—The sultan sent a quantity of cigarettes Sunday to the crew of the United States battleship Kentucky, now at Smyrna. The Kentucky was electrically dressed. Captain Colby M. Chester, the commander of the Kentucky, will probably rejoin his vessel tomorrow.

De Wet May Have Escaped.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The prolonged silence regarding the operations of General De Wet, the Boer commander, is causing an uneasy suspicion that he has again escaped from his pursuers. Unofficial rumors, which cannot be confirmed, of continuous fighting over a large area do not allay the anxiety.

The Final Count.

ALBANY, Dec. 12.—The state board of canvassers is in session today at the capitol to canvass the vote cast at the fall election for president, vice president, governor, lieutenant governor and other state officers.

STRIKE A FAILURE.

Santa Fe Officials Claim to Have No Trouble In Operating Road.

TOPEKA, Dec. 12.—General Manager H. U. Mudge of the Santa Fe said that the telegraphers' strike is a complete failure and that the road is finding no difficulty in filling the places made vacant by the operators. He still retains his place at the key in the general telegraph office, however.

By order of the general manager the block system is in force again on the road between Kansas City and Chicago. This order was made yesterday morning after the claim was made by the company that all the operations of the road were in normal condition again. In an interview on the several features of the strike Mr. Mudge said:

"Our business is running normally again. We have kept trains moving steadily under the train order system. It has been satisfactory enough to run the trains in the same way that other western roads run them. The Santa Fe has block signals, as the others have not. We are using the block signals from Chicago to Newton again. I gave the order for resumption this morning. All the striking operators received notice that their services would no longer be required by the company. The superintendent claims there are only 150 vacancies yet to fill and that they will be filled in a short time.

No More Operators Wanted.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Third Vice President J. M. Barr, superintendent of the operating department of the Santa Fe railway, has notified all the agents of the company not to employ any more operators, as enough men had been engaged to fill the places vacated by the telegraphers who responded to the strike call. He said:

"At 15 other points on the system we have been hiring new operators since this trouble began. Today I notified our agents not to engage any more."

GUAM PICKING UP.

The Situation Has Considerably Improved Since the Typhoon.

MANILA, Dec. 12.—The United States hospital ship Solace has arrived at Cavite from San Francisco. Her officers say the condition of affairs at the island of Guam has considerably improved since a week ago. Dwellings are being restored, and the people are resuming their occupations, but the crops are practically all destroyed, though there is no immediate want.

The Solace left supplies there, and the Arethusa has taken a considerable quantity of supplies to Guam from Cavite. The reports as to the number of deaths are about unchanged.

The wives of Commander Seton Schroeder, the new governor of Guam, and other officers who went to the island on the Solace remained at Guam.

A detachment of the Fifth cavalry had a fight with 100 insurgents south of Santa Cruz Sunday. The insurgents were chased for four miles. Fourteen of them were found dead. There were no American casualties.

In addition to this engagement there have been several minor encounters between the troops and the insurgents.

CZAR DID NOT SAY IT.

Intimation That He Would Not See Kruger Denied.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 12.—The Transvaal legation says it is authorized to contradict the report that Emperor Nicholas has telegraphed to Mr. Kruger an intimation that he will not receive him.

The Dutch government has finally and definitely refused to take the initiative in behalf of arbitration between the Transvaal and Great Britain.

The decision of the government was communicated in an interview between Mr. Kruger and Dr. Leyds and the Dutch foreign minister and minister of finance, Mr. N. G. Pierson. Mr. Kruger explained that the object of his journey was to disseminate the idea of arbitration, and the Dutch minister replied that the role of the Netherlands must be passive. The initiative belonged to the great powers, he added. When they had reached a decision, the Dutch government might see what it could do.

The Yerkes Contracts In London.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Mr. D. H. Louderback, having closed up all the principal contracts for the Yerkes underground railroad, had a conference last evening with Mr. J. S. Forbes, chairman of the District Underground railroad, and Mr. R. W. Perks, M. P., counsel for Mr. Charles T. Yerkes, regarding electrifying the railroad. It is understood that Mr. Louderback was offered the managership of the District railroad under the proposed electrification, but the matter was not concluded. Mr. Howard Abel, president of the Chicago Northwestern Elevated railroad, will probably represent Mr. Yerkes in London. Mr. Louderback sails for New York today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

Yucatan Uprising Quickly Checked.

OAXACA, Mex., Dec. 12.—An armed uprising against the existing state government of Yucatan took place a few days ago at Solferino. The malcontents were quickly quelled, and about 70 of the leaders were arrested and have been taken to Merida for trial. They will probably all be shot.

FROM LAKE TO RIVER

Plan to Connect Chicago With St. Louis Discussed.

TO UTILIZE GREAT SANITARY CANAL.

Waterway Between Lakes and the Mississippi Would Develop Extensive Navigation and Enormous Power.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The merits of the project for connecting the Mississippi river and the great lakes by way of the Chicago sanitary canal was considered at a special meeting of the river and harbor committee held in the private lobby of the house of representatives last night. The main purpose of the meeting was to hear from a number of Chicago gentlemen, members of the Illinois Valley association, who have been identified with the sanitary canal project, including Lyman E. Cooley, the eminent engineer; Colonel Isaac Taylor of Peoria, Frank Wenter of the board of trustees of the sanitary canal and Henry Mayo of Ottawa, Ills. The Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis was represented by H. R. Whitemore. Senators Cullom and Mason of Illinois and the entire Illinois delegation in the house of representatives were also present, the senators and some of the members making addresses after the technical branches of the subject had been presented.

Colonel Taylor was the first speaker. He pointed out the magnitude of the work already done and explained in detail the nature of the project and the cost up to this time. He said it was not asked that at this time congress take up the work, developing the full national advantages of the waterway, but that a survey be made by government engineers to serve as an intelligent basis for considering the entire subject.

L. C. Cooley set forth the engineering features of the project. He said the waterway not only would serve for navigation, but also would develop horsepower worth $20,000,000 annually. He maintained that a waterway connecting Chicago and St. Louis would be justified even without the Mississippi river owing to the enormous commercial development it would bring about. He spoke also of the ultimate development of extensive navigation, chiefly by barges, between the lakes and the gulf of Mexico.

Senator Cullom spoke earnestly in favor of the survey. There was no purpose to commit congress to the expenditure of $25,000,000, he said, but only to secure an intelligent inquiry which would serve as a basis for future action by congress. Ever since he was a boy, the senator said, he had heard of this project, so that it could hardly be considered an afterthought of the drainage project.

Several of the Illinois members of the house were also heard from. Representative Cannon said a 14 foot channel from Chicago to St. Louis within five years would show a tonnage greater than that through Delaware bay to the sea. He urged the survey as of vital importance in definitely establishing the feasibility of the project.

Morrison Jury Still Out.

ELDORADO, Kan., Dec. 12.—At 10 o'clock last night Judge Shinn sent the Jessie Morrison jury to a hotel, directing them to resume their deliberations at 8:30 o'clock this morning. The jury was closeted for nearly 14 hours. One of the jurors, Gregory, is slightly ill and needs medical attention. The opinion generally obtains that the jury may take two or three days in reaching a verdict and that ultimately it will be unable to agree. Jessie Morrison was fatigued after the social labors of the day, there having been a constant stream of callers since early in the morning. Besides, she had grown a little restless and naturally impatient at the delay of the jury in reaching a verdict.

Composer Sullivan's Will.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The late Sir Arthur Sullivan left an estate of about £50,000, nearly all of which goes to his nephew, H. Sullivan. He made small bequests to his two other nephews and to Mrs. Stephens, a niece, who resides at Los Angeles, and bequeathed £1,000 each to his housekeeper and valet. The deceased also left a number of mementos from his silver and china to personal friends, men and women, among them being Mrs. Beach Grant, mother of Lady Essex; Mrs. Donalds, Mrs. D'Oyly Carte and Mrs. Crutchley, and also left a number of his original scores to musical institutions and friends, Mrs. Ronalds getting the score of "The Lost Chord."

Pay Day For Miners.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 12.—Within the next week a total of about $478,206 will be distributed in wages by the various companies of this region, making one of the biggest pay days in the history of Hazleton. The mines have been operated steadily since the recent strike, which, together with the 10 per cent increase granted by all the companies, will run the pay rolls away beyond what they have been for corresponding periods in previous years. The estimate is based on a careful canvass of all the coal companies' offices.

Federation of Labor.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 12.—The American Federation of Labor begins to see daylight through the mass of resolutions with which it has been struggling for the past five days. Yesterday was the last day for the submission of resolutions, and notwithstanding the short session great progress was made in disposing of those already before the convention. Final adjournment probably will come on Friday.

Boston and Albany Dividend.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—The directors of the Boston and Albany railroad have declared a regular quarterly dividend of $2.25 per share, an increase of 25 cents over the previous rate. The increase represents a portion of the interest from the $5,500,000 of New York Central 3½ per cent bonds recently received.

Water Plenty at the Collieries.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Dec. 12.—Owing to recent heavy rainfalls the reservoirs of water companies between here and Centralia are now full, doing away with danger of a water famine this winter. As a result none of the collieries will have to be closed down.

Contract Let For Cup Defender.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.—A contract has been entered into by Thomas W. Lawson with George Lawley of South Boston to build a cup defender. Crowninshield will design her.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., DEC. 12, 1900.

COMING EVENTS.

December 16—Hugh R. Munro, vice-president of the Niagara Lithograph Company, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting

Mr. Foote's Chances.

In the distribution of honors for the coming session of the New Jersey Legislature, Plainfield is most interested in the contest for the Republican leadership in the House. Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, of this city, is an aspirant for the place, and, if the political writer of the Trenton True American is to believed, Mr. Foote will land the coveted honor.

Concerning Mr. Foote and the leadership of the Republican Assemblymen, the True American this morning says: "The leadership on the floor of the House will probably be allotted to the serious and important Mr. Foote, of Union county, who is heralded as a sort of thirteen-inch oratorical gun. He only had one or two chances to talk on the floor last year, and the impression he then made was anything but favorable. But he has been picked as a winner by the men who name Legislative officers, and the House will have to abide by their orders."

Those in Plainfield, who know and have heard Mr. Foote speak, feel confident that he will be a strong man in the leading position. While Mr. Foote is not an orator of the "spread eagle" type, he is an earnest and interesting speaker and is, moreover, a careful legislator who doesn't talk unless he has something to say.

This fight for the leadership has been in progress for several weeks and Mr. Foote's colleague, Ellis B. Meeker, has marshalled the forces for the Union county man. His chief opponent has been J. Harry Bachellor, of Essex. There has during the last few days been some talk of Vivian M. Lewis, of Passaic, as a compromise candidate, in case the fight between Mr. Foote and Mr. Bachellor should threaten to be too close for the good of the party.

The great development of the mail order business during the past year, says the Philadelphia Record, has created necessity for newspaper advertising on the part of manufacturers, agents and large dealers who have heretofore sold their wares chiefly through rural merchants or salesmen. An increasing number of buyers prefer to order merchandise through the postoffice, and their trade can be obtained only by persistent advertising in the newspapers. This business will become vastly more important when Congress shall establish special postage rates and provide a better delivery service for mail order packages.

An incident worthy of note with reference to municipal affairs is the fact that the complexion of the new Common Council will not be changed on the first Monday in January when the newly-elected members assume office. The Councilmen whose terms of office expire on the last of this month are Ralph I. Tolles, George P. Mellick, B. Frank Coriell and Frank Randolph. All these gentlemen were re-elected, therefore the Council will remain the same as it is at present.

The injustice of charging 10 cents for the trip from Bound Brook to Somerville by trolley and only 5 cents from Dunellen to Bound Brook has long been recognized. If the ordinance presented to the Town Commissioners of Somerville does not grant too much to the traction company, the proposed agreement reducing the fare between Bound Brook and Somerville to 5 cents is an excellent thing.

The local merchants are better prepared this season than ever before to cater to the Christmas trade of the local shoppers. The fatiguing trip to New York can often be avoided by a visit to the Plainfield stores.

If Chief Kiely's campaign against the petty gamblers in this city is more than a spasmatic attempt, it will tend to show the wisdom of the Police Board in raising that official to the head of the police force.

Plainfield may now exhibit its police headquarters and city jail without being ashamed of it. The local police are now better quartered than they have been for years.

There isn't any doubt now but that winter is here but it has been a trifle late in arriving, however.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Middlesex, Mercer and Union counties all need new court houses. Mercer not long ago took a halting step toward obtaining one, but it seems to make little headway. Union is moving in the matter in a way that looks like business, but Middlesex is as yet only in the thinking stage.—New York Herald.

* * * * *

This is a country of great possibilities. Little did James Smith, Jr., know five years ago, when he got the postmastership of Somerville for Alvah A. Clark, that he was boosting along his own successor for the choice of the Democratic party for United States Senator.—Newark Daily Advertiser.

* * * * * * *

If Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, is nominated by Reform Democrats for United States Senator, a nice question of family etiquette and filial duty will arise for his son in-law, Charles A. Reed, to decide. The Senator is a Republican and fathers-in-law are sometimes exacting, but we guess Mr. Clark will have to go without the vote.—New Brunswick Home News.

* * * * * * * *

The fly in the ointment of the Democratic party at this writing is ex Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerset county. In presenting him as the candidate of the Democratic party for United States Senator before the joint meeting of the next Legislature, Robert Davis, the Hudson county Democratic leader, has stirred up all sorts of emotions in the breasts of the party statesmen from one end of New Jersey to the other. In fact, the opposition to Mr. Clark is of such a character as to indicate that some of the Democrats regard him as being about as poor a specimen of a Democrat as could be found in a Republican convention. The language of the opposition suggests a vocabulary which it would be agreeable to enlarge if it would look well in print.—New York Tribune.

A Pleasant Surprise to Miss Johnson.

Miss Launa Johnson, of East Third street, was tendered a pleasant surprise party by fifty of her friends last evening. Dancing was the feature of the occasion and to the music furnished by O'Reilly's orchestra, was kept up until a late hour. A cake-walk led by John Powers and Miss Annie Hart evoked great applause. The affair was gotten up by Miss Georgie Mettles.

Masonic Election.

Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., held a regular communication last evening and elected officers for the coming year as follows: Worshipful master, S. B. Joseph; senior warden, F. B. Wynkoop; junior warden, L. I. VanAlstyne; treasurer, J. E. Turrell; secretary, T. A. Rogers; senior deacon, J. Gaddis; junior deacon, F. Caldwell.

Private Funeral Service.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Rachel Neal were held yesterday afternoon from the house, on West Front street. Rev. Dr. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. The service was a private one. Interment took place in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery on Plainfield avenue.

Certainties.

Death and taxes are said to be the only certain things in life, but neither are more certain than that you will find satisfaction in making your Christmas selections if you go to Collier's, 103 Park avenue, where gifts the most serviceable as well as the most attractive await your inspection.

—Many persons have had the experience of Mr. Peter Sherman, of North Stratford, N. H., who says: "For years I suffered torture from chronic indigestion, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure made a well man of me." It digests what you eat and is a certain cure for dyspepsia and every form of stomach trouble. It gives relief at once even in the worst cases, and can't help but do you good. L W. Randolph.

Dear Sirs.—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

THEY SAY.

The Merchant Says:

Telephone service is a great promoter of business. It not only is an open door for new business, but increases the facility with which any business may be transacted.

The Railroad Man Says:

It keeps our many departments running in continuous harmony. It increases both our passenger and our freight service, and is a great convenience to our patrons.

The Broker Says:

It keeps me in touch with the market wherever I am; I buy and sell by wire, and by taking telephonic advantage of a turn in the market I have made thousands of dollars.

The Doctor Says:

Telephone service has increased my income to nearly double. Many persons will seek advice by telephone who would hesitate to ask a physician to make a call.

The Caterer Says:

Telephone service enables me to serve my patrons more speedily and with less effort. It minimizes possibility of loss from overstocking.

The Housekeeper Says:

Life without telephone service would be unbearable. It smooths all the rough places. How we ever got along without it, I do not know.

The Suburban Resident Says:

The knowledge that I can call up my house out of town from my office in the city, is a great comfort.

The College Man Says:

"I say, old chap, it's great. You can call up and get the latest news from the football game or the boat race, and every other old thing a fellow wants to know."

Everybody Says:

It is the greatest thing in the world—the greatest convenience of this or any other time. The greatest factor in business, social or domestic life; a service no one can afford to be without.

The Telephone Company Says:

We want your patronage on the basis of LOW RATES, PERFECT SERVICE.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Dec. 12.—Maxson Dunham, an old and respected resident of the borough died yesterday after a long illness from cancer of the stomach. The funeral services will be held from his late residence on Prospect avenue tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and from the New Market Seventh Day Baptist church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Seventh-Day cemetery at New Market. Mr. Dunham was seventy-six years old and lived on a farm on the outskirts of New Market nearly all his life. A few years ago he removed to the borough where he has since resided. The deceased is survived by a wife and three daughters. The latter are Mrs. Ambrose Ryno, of the borough; Mrs. A. H. Burdick, of New Market, and Mrs. John Ammerman, of Somerville. Two step children, Mrs. John VanDyke and John Hays, of Plainfield are also living. Mr. Dunham will be remembered as the victim of an atrocious assault committed upon him and his wife at his house by two negroes a few years ago while living at New Market. The negroes tortured both he and Mrs. Dunham in hopes of making them reveal the whereabouts of their valuables. Both of them resisted strenuously, baffling the desperadoes. The negroes escaped and were never captured although one of them is said to have been Parson Johnson, who was hung some time ago at Somerville, for murder.

The occasion of the fraternal visit of Central Council, of Westfield, drew out a large attendance last evening on the part of W. G. Holton Council's members. The visitors assisted the local lodge in initiations, after which Holton Council turned entertainers and the guests listened to a pleasing programme of vocal and instrumental selections.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a sociable after the regular business meeting last evening. A pleasant hour was passed in various ways, after which refreshments were served.

The ice in the pond at the clay pit is thick enough for skating and a crowd of skaters have been enjoying themselves since yesterday.

Harry Dunham, of Cuba, N. Y., who is visiting his grandfather. H. V. Dunham, has been taken with a light attack of pneumonia.

A large delegation from the borough attended the Suydam-Lane nuptials which were celebrated at Bound Brook this noon.

The Sunday-school board of the Methodist church met last evening and elected officers for the ensuing year.

A letter remains in the postoffice for, addressed to Franz Marky.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Dec. 12.—A rumor was current in town yesterday, that a man, supposed to have been the one shot by Grocer Davis last week, had applied Monday at Muhlenberg Hospital for treatment. His arm and shoulder were said to have been filled with shot and broken glass. The hospital authorities declared that no such man had been at the hospital and the rumor must have come from a stranger being brought in from Somerville with a broken arm.

After several foolhardy walks on the ice yesterday the small boys discovered that it was of sufficient thickness to permit skating, and a general rush for skates was the result. A large number were upon the pond all the evening, although a greater thickness of ice is to be desired.

The sale at John Holden's farm drew a large crowd yesterday, and nearly all the stock from the printers' farm was disposed of. The majority of the household and farming goods brought low prices while the live stock was disposed of at its real value.

The pupils of the school are busily preparing for their Christmas entertainment. It will be held next Wednesday evening in Friendship Hall.

Pauline Ward is detained at home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, Dec. 12.—Game does not seem to be as scarce through this section as some of our hunters in town would have their friends believe. They have returned from their hunting trips with nothing to show for their day's sport but a ferocious appetite. Henry Guerrier and W. H. Dorwell spent several hours at the sport Tuesday. Only one gun was carried by the hunters, but their trip netted ten gray squirrels, three rabbits and one partridge. This seems to be the record so far this season.

Miss Minnie Squiers entertained a number of her friends last evening at a pleasant social gathering at her home on East Front street. Those who enjoyed Miss Squiers' hospitality passed an evening of real pleasure. Games and music, both vocal and instrumental, made the time pass all too quickly for the happy gathering. During the evening refreshments were served. Friends were present from Rahway, Gleneide and the village.

Funeral services of the late Frederick Hetfield, who died at his home near Alton Saturday night, were held from the Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 2:30 Rev. G. M. Shott officiated at the service, which was well attended by a large number of friends and neighbors of the deceased. Interment was made in the family burial plot in the cemetery adjoining the church.

The Fanwood Township Exempt Firemen's Association held their regular quarterly meeting in their rooms in Excelsior's building Monday evening. Routine business and the election of three delegates to the Firemen's Relief Association was the business transacted. John Bornmann, Wm. R. Stanberry and Randolph Drake were the delegates elected.

Electric lights have been placed on Hunter and Farlee avenues, from Front street to the trolley. This is a convenience that will be thoroughly appreciated by those who live in that vicinity and take the trolley from these side streets.

Richard Hart, of New York, is spending a few days with his sister, Miss Kate Hart, of Washington Valley.

Onward Council, L. A. B. A., held their semi-monthly meeting in their rooms last evening.

John Thys was the guest of friends and relatives in Westfield last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, December 12.—A fire yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cormick McDonough, caused considerable damage. A carpet, several rugs and a sofa were destroyed before the flames could be subdued. It originated by some one stepping upon a match. The loss is fully covered by insurance taken out through the office of G. O. Stungrafe.

Yesterday afternoon a wreck below Samptown caused a congestion of traffic on the eastbound track. A journal on a freight car broke and threw the car across the track. After several hours work the wrecking crew straightened matters out.

A man living near the golf grounds has threatened to bring suit against certain parties who persist in catching his chickens. The means used is a line and baited hook.

Miss Sarah Giles took Miss Soper's position as teacher in the school yesterday. Miss Soper's absence is caused by the death of her mother, who resides in Metuchen.

Mrs. Johnson is drilling several of the Sunday-school children for a Christmas cantata, which will be part of the regular exercises held on Christmas Eve.

Last night a good number were present at the meeting in the Baptist church. The next meeting will be held Friday night in the lecture room.

Miss Coulter's condition is growing more precarious every day and her friends entertain but little hopes of her recovery.

Wm. Hamilton is kept busy and is working overtime making horseshoes, which he will need as soon as the roads become slippery.

For Benefit of High School Baseball.

The Board of Directors of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association have decided to hold over their proposed entertainment until February. In the meantime they will devote their energies to securing an excellent array of talent. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the purchase of suits for next season's baseball team.

Struck in Face by Swinging Door.

A swinging door in the washroom of the Pond Tool Works, struck David Doyle, of East Third street, a stinging blow in the face as he was about to pass through yesterday noon. His face was badly cut and bruised. His injuries were dressed by the shop physician.

MARY B. CORLIES, Secretary.

The garments this year were very suitable.

We regret that we have lost four of our Directors, two on account of leaving town, and two from inability to attend to the work.

It is to be hoped that some of our associates will feel inclined before another year to become Directors, as our call for garments increases each year.

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.

In the matter of the sale of lands of Helen J. Depew, deceased, for the payment of debts

By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of the County of Union, bearing date the 21st day of November, A. D. 1900, I will expose for sale at public vendue at The Park Avenue Hotel, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., on Saturday, the twelfth day of January, Nineteen Hundred and One, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all that certain piece or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey. Beginning at a point in the southerly line of Third place, being now or formerly Judson B. Bonnell's corner; thence with his line southerly one hundred (100) feet to line of Martin's land; thence with that line, easterly fifty (50) feet; thence northerly and parallel with Bonnell's line one hundred (100) feet to the southerly line of Third place; thence westerly along said line fifty (50) feet to the point or place of beginning. Being the same premises conveyed to the said Helen J. Depew by deed of John Hermann and wife, dated September 13th, 1897, and recorded in Book 327 of Deeds for said County of Union, pages 84, &c.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Oldenburg.

Jever. Der Postdirektor Ladewigs, welcher unter dem Verdacht der Unterschlagung amtlicher Gelder und der Urkundenfälschung gefänglich eingezogen worden war, hat sich im Untersuchungsgefängnisse erhängt.

Mecklenburg.

Rostock. Der älteste Musikmeister in der deutschen Armee gehört dem Mecklenburgischen Kontingente an; es ist der Musikdirektor im Mecklenburgischen Füsilier-Regiment Nr. 90, Heinrich Lenschow, der kürzlich das seltene Jubiläum des 50jährigen aktiven Militärdienstes feierte.

Braunschweig. Anhalt. Waldeck.

Braunschweig. Die Strafkammer verurtheilte den Apotheker Otto Haisler aus Breslau wegen hier verübter Schwindeleien und Hochstapeleien zu einem Jahre Gefängniß und zwei Jahren Ehrverlust. Haisler war wegen Betruges bereits mehrfach vorbestraft.

Dessau. In Roßdorf mußte beim dortigen Rittergutsbesitzer Ungewitter eine Kuh wegen Milzbrand vernichtet werden. Der 18jährige Maurer und Fleischer Berger aus Altjeßnitz war mit beim Abschlachten des Thieres beschäftigt, zog sich aber dabei eine Infektion von Milzbrand zu, so daß er bald darauf starb.

Arolsen. Vom Schwurgericht wurde der Kutscher Assauer aus Billingshausen zum Tode verurtheilt, weil er seine Geliebte im Walde erwürgt hatte, um eine andere, reichere heirathen zu können.

Großherzogthum Hessen.

Darmstadt. Ihren 94. Geburtstag feierte letzthin die Wittwe Elisabeth Dörmer. Die zu diesem seltenen Alter gelangte Greisin erfreut sich noch einer bemerkenswerthen geistigen und körperlichen Regsamkeit.

Mainz. Bei dem Abbruch eines Gasometers im alten städtischen Gaswerk wurden ein großer Ballen noch gut erhaltenen Tuches, französische Seitengewehre und Chassepotgewehre gefunden. Die Gegenstände rühren, wie die Untersuchung ergeben hat, von einem im Jahre 1870 verübten Eisenbahndiebstahl her.

Nieder-Saulheim. Wegen Beleidigung des Bürgermeisters Brückner und des Landwirths Thörle und Widerstands gegen die Staatsgewalt wurde der 78jährige Müller Thomas zu fünf Monaten, sein Sohn zu zwei Jahren vier Monaten Gefängniß verurtheilt.

Osthofen. Auf dem Bahnhofe wurden dem Bahnarbeiter Deibert beide Beine abgefahren. Der Verunglückte starb kurz nach der Einlieferung im Krankenhause.

Worms. Die organisirte Wormser Arbeiterschaft, die heute beinahe 1000 Gewerkschaftsmitglieder zählt, während es vor zwei Jahren kaum 200 waren, feierte unlängst das Fest der Einweihung ihres eigenen Heims.

Bayern.

München. Als Liebesgaben für die deutschen Truppen in China war bis vor Kurzem vom bayerischen Frauenverein, außer großen und reichhaltigen Gaben an Naturalien, der Baarbetrag von 37,000 Mark nach Bremen abgesandt worden.—In „Isarathen" ist der Konsum von Pferdefleisch bedeutend gestiegen. In den ersten neun Monaten d. J. sind etwa 2000 Pferde geschlachtet worden.—Die 51 Jahre alte Bäuerin Rosa Held von Gmain, die ihren 45 Jahre alten, unter dem Namen „Gmoapeter" bekannten Mann erdrosselt hatte, wurde in das Landgerichtsgefängniß München eingeliefert.

Aichach. Der Distriktsrath Aichach hat zu den Grunderwerbungskosten der Lokalbahn Aichach-Pöttmes einen Beitrag von 4000 Mark genehmigt.

Dachau. Das Reichsmarineamt ließ an die Privatierswittwe Therese Wolf die Mittheilung gelangen, daß ihrem Sohne, dem Seesoldaten Wolf I von Dachau, der die heldenmüthige Vertheidigung der Gesandtschaften in Peking während deren Einschließung mitmachte, das Militär-Ehrenzeichen 1. Klasse verliehen worden sei.

Garmisch. Die Korrektion der Loisach im Gebiete des Kochel- und Rohrsees wird im nächsten Frühjahr in Angriff genommen. Die Veraktordirung der Erd- und Baggerarbeiten ist mit 371,052 Mark und die der Uferversicherungen mit 42,156 Mark veranschlagt.

Nürnberg. Im vorigen Jahre stieg hier die Zahl der Elektromotoren von 258 auf 330 und der Gasmotoren von 424 auf 473.

Tittmoning. Das an die Generaldirektion der Posten und Telegraphen gerichtete Ersuchen des hiesigen Stadtmagistrates um Herstellung einer Telephonverbindung mit Freilassing wurde genehmigt und die Ausführung für das Frühjahr 1901 festgesetzt.

Waldsassen. Die „Fichtelgebirgs-Verkaufsgenossenschaft" verfügt gegenwärtig über acht Lagerhäuser. Die Genossenschaft hat in Meisesdorf und Konnersreuth Saatzuchtstationen für Fichtelgebirgshafer errichtet.

A literary man, used to the niceties of expression and fond also of the pleasures of the table, in speaking of says: "I couldn't recommend this remedy as heartily as I do if I didn't believe in it. I am not much of a medicine taker. I am opposed to medicine, on principle. There ought to be no need of medicine—just as there ought to be no poverty—but there is. If people lived right they would be well. Sunshine, air, exercise, fun, good food—plenty and not too much—are the best medicines, the natural ones; but men are tied to their desks, and women to their home cares, and both are tied to fashion. Civilized existence is artificial and needs artificial regulators. I recommend Ripans Tabules—and take them myself. I know they are both harmless and effective. (I know what they are made of.) They are the best remedy I know anything about for headaches, or indigestion, or biliousness, or any sort of sluggishness in the system. And they are in the handiest possible shape to carry in the pocket."

Notice as to Unmuzzled Dogs Running at Large.

By a city ordinance, it is provided that no dog shall be permitted to run at large within the city limits, unless a good and sufficient muzzle shall be placed over the mouth of said dog in such manner as to render biting impossible. If any person permits or suffers any dog owned or harbored by him and not so muzzled to run at large, the ordinance provides that he shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense.

Any person prepared to make complaint under oath of any violation of this ordinance may apply to the subscriber and have prosecution begun forthwith.

Olive Oil Industry Declining.

In a recent report Consul Skinner, of Marseilles, states that the impression prevails in his district that the olive crop of France will be a disappointment this year, as it was last. Meager reports from Spain, Italy, Tunis and Algeria point to much the same yield as last year. Consul Skinner adds: "French farmers are disposed to abandon the cultivation of olive groves, as in recent years the prices obtained for the oil have not been satisfactory. Spain and Italy, with cheaper land and cheaper labor, and more particularly Tunis and Algeria, are offering a competition too severe for southern France. It is doubtful if olive oil will ever recover its old-time place, as many vegetable oils, notably American cottonseed oil, are being produced in increased quantities from year to year, and are gaining in the estimation of the public."

An Oak's Appetite.

A single oak of good size is said to lift 123 tons of water during the months it is in leaf. This moisture is evaporated and rises to form rain clouds. All the trees are busy doing the same thing, and the rank ferns and mosses and deep mold of the forest depths, acting as reservoirs for the rain which falls upon them, in their turn feed the springs and brooks. From the estimate of the labor of a single oak we can gain some idea of the immense force which the forests exert in equalizing the evaporation and precipitation and preventing periods of inundation and drought.—Chicago Chronicle.

LONG ENGAGEMENTS.

WHAT A CATHOLIC PRIEST SAYS ON THE SUBJECT.

The Chief Reason Why There Are So Many Old Maids—Absence Does Not Make the Heart Grow Fonder—Ethics of Courtship.

"And will you wait for me, dear?" says the man.

"I will wait a hundred years if necessary, for I would rather die than marry another man," answers the girl.

Then they separate. The man goes to another city to make his fortune, and the girl stays at home and waits. All is as it was before she met him with this exception—that in her desire to remain true to him she shuns the society of other men, and thus she misses almost all the good times in her particular set and becomes more and more of a recluse. Time passes on, her old admirers console themselves with other girls, and her friends marry. And meanwhile what of her? What of the man to whom she is indefinitely engaged and for whom she is sacrificing all the best years of her youth?

He was a mere college graduate perhaps when she first met him and in the fullness of her love promised to wait and marry him when he had made his way. He goes out into the great world, and in a few months his horizon broadens wonderfully. His whole view of life undergoes a change. He shows this in his letters perhaps, and the girl wonders at it and attributes it to other causes. Then she notes that he has changed, and they have their first misunderstanding, a thing which would never have happened if they had been together.

Perhaps on the very day he receives her letter he meets another girl. In the soft light of the lamp on her tea table he confides to her that he is unhappy. She is so sympathetic! Her very presence rests him from his labor at the office. So he goes to see her oftener and oftener. At first he may talk of the girl at home to whom he is engaged, then after awhile they find other subjects of common interest. Then the inevitable happens—his letters become fewer and fewer. At first the girl at home reproaches him, then she cries her eyes out, and after a long time her pride comes to the rescue, and she tells him that perhaps their engagement was a mistake, and she releases him. By that time probably all her chances of marrying are gone, and she passes the rest of her life alone. Even if she has chances still it is ten to one that she refuses to avail herself of them because she cannot rid herself of the memory of the man she loved.

Has a man any right to tell a girl of his love when he cannot support her and consequently marry her? This is a subject which has been widely discussed. Some say he should at least give the girl that consolation that she may know that she does not love in vain. Why give her that consolation? For it is like a sweet sirup which contains poison. A woman is naturally hopeful, and, knowing that her love is returned, she will refuse to give him up. On the other hand, suppose he had not spoken. Of course her pride would have been hurt, but pride heals, and then she would have forgotten and would have grown to love some other man who could marry her and give her the sort of a home every woman should have and of which no man has a right to deprive her by substituting a love which can lead to nothing but misery and anxiety.

There is a priest in New York state who has been preaching this to his parishioners. Father Owens is a brilliant and sympathetic man, with a broad and thorough knowledge of human nature. After witnessing for some time the disasters among his parishioners caused by these long engagements this is what he has to say on the subject:

"I have established a rule in my church against long courtships and protracted engagements. They are responsible more than anything else for the increasing number of old maids to be found everywhere and in every class of society today. The girl who enters into a long matrimonial engagement jeopardizes every possible chance she has of marriage. Nine times out of ten, after she has spent the best years of her life waiting for her lover to come and claim her, she is left an old maid.

"There should be no excuse, and there is no excuse, for a long courtship or a long engagement. No young man has the right to pay marked attention to a young woman for any length of time unless his intentions are serious, and no young woman has a right to accept those attentions for a very long period unless she feels that she can say yes when the supreme moment comes. Then, too, that young man has no right to offer himself to that young woman unless he is in a position to ask her to name the day, and that some time within the following six months. Marriage is often called a lottery, but when a girl enters into a long engagement she does not invest her stock of happiness in anything even so sure as a lottery. It is more as if she were to stake her last dollar on a horse race.

"The best years of the young woman's life are being wasted; the years of her greatest physical attractiveness. Every woman has the God given right to look forward to some day becoming a happy wife and mother. I have a very poor opinion of the girl who does not indulge in day dreams of little arms twining about her neck, of soft baby hands nestling in her bosom. And it is entirely right and wholesome that she should dream such dreams. Marriage and maternity are her manifest destiny, and courtship and betrothal, as blazing the way to that destiny, cannot be too seriously considered."

GEN. LEO RASSIEUR.

New Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Was Born in Germany.

Judge Rassieur, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army, was born in Germany in 1844. He came to this country in 1851 with his parents, who settled in St. Louis. He was educated in the public schools and attended the high school. He did not complete the high school course, however, and at the age of 16 years took a position in a law office. He was thus engaged at the breaking out of the civil war, in the spring of 1861. When not quite 17 he was selected by the loyal Germans of South St. Louis as their spokesman at a meeting held for the purpose of deciding whether the citizens of the locality should express their intention of standing by the union or remaining neutral. At the call of young Rassieur, who had been ruled out of order by the chairman of the meeting, the loyal men in attendance repaired to another place and adopted a set of resolutions in favor of the union, which has become historic in the annals of Missouri. Rassieur enlisted in the First United States reserve corps, volunteers, May 7, 1861, and was made orderly sergeant of company B. He was mustered out of service August 20, 1865, with the rank of major, which commission he received at the age of 20 years. At the close of the war he studied law and was admitted to the bar in St. Louis April 1, 1867. He practiced law in St. Louis until 1894, when he was elected judge of the St. Louis probate court on the republican ticket. At the expiration of his term in 1898 he resumed the practice of law, in which he is still engaged. From 1874 until 1878 he was a member of the board of directors of the public schools of St. Louis, holding the office of vice president during the last year of his incumbency. In 1889 he was selected as attorney for the school board, and held the position for ten years. He is commander of Frank P. Blair post, No. 1, G. A. R., of St. Louis. He was judge advocate general of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1893, and department commander of Missouri in 1891.

GEN. LEO RASSIEUR.
(New Commander in Chief, Grand Army of the Republic.)

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS.

Relief Work for the Sufferers of the Terrible Storm in the Gulf Coast Is in His Charge.

Gov. Joseph D. Sayers of Texas, who has general supervision of the movements throughout the country for the relief of the sufferers in the big storm, is well known in Washington, where he was a representative from Texas for many years. He was a heroic figure in the house. Modest, brave, honest, sturdy, with rosy face and with locks which, before they were touched with gray, might have made Absalom envious, Mr. Sayers was popular with his fellow members if he was not with the jobbers who were after the money of Uncle Sam. The governor is a Mississippian who removed to Texas as a child. He was educated in that state, fought in the confederate army and was several times wounded, studied law, and in 1878 was elected lieutenant governor. He was first elected to congress in 1884, and was returned until his recent election as governor. He is 59 years old. In Lanman's biographical annals of congress Gov. Sayers is given an unusually long notice.

JOSEPH D. SAYERS
(Governor of Texas, in Charge of Gulf Relief Movement.)

In His Dotage at Twelve.

The most remarkable case of rapid growth is that recorded by the French academy in 1729. There was a boy of six years of age who was five feet six inches in height, had the voice of a full-grown man, possessed great physical strength, and had a very fine beard. Before he was eight years of age his hair and beard were gray; at ten he tottered in his walk, his teeth decayed and fell out, and his hands became palsied. Before his twelfth birthday he had died of old age.

Some People Who Make the WORLD GO ROUND

More than one person, and more than one nation, the United States included, have found his majesty, the sultan of Turkey, poor pay. In fact, it seems to be one of his unwritten laws to pay nothing that he can by any means get out of, and he has more ways of escaping his creditors than a cat has lives.

ALI FERROUGH BEY.
Turkish Minister to the U. S.

We sympathize with Uncle Sam because the sultan will not pay the amounts long since due, but our sympathies should be extended at the same time to the servants of the Ottoman ruler. They, like the rest of the world, rarely see the color of the sultan's gold.

But, while they cannot collect their salaries, neither can they resign with the ease that characterizes the quitting of office of an American officeholder, for there are no others waiting impatiently to take their places. Turkish ministers to the United States, to England, to France, to Germany, have at various times complained in a mild way of being unable either to draw their salaries or to resign, but none of them have ever taken the extreme methods to force payment that Gen. Izzet Fuad Pasha, Turkish minister at Madrid, recently used.

With starvation staring him and his companions of the embassy at Madrid in the face, and after repeated appeals for remittances had failed to bring a response, he addressed an open letter to the sultan, which he had printed in the newspapers of Europe. In it he says that though he had been in Madrid more than a year he had received nothing in the way of either salary or allowances, and that members of his staff had received nothing since last spring, and that they were not only destitute but actually starving, and that the embassy was literally besieged with creditors. At last accounts his remittances had not arrived, and it is safe to say that the head of Gen. Izzet Fuad Pasha is safer in Spain than in Turkey just at present.

Not to Be an Immortal.

Elias Howe, the inventor, or at least the patentee, of the first sewing machine, is not to be one of the immortals in the New York hall of fame. At the first count he was credited with 57 out of a possible 100 votes, and but 51 were needed; but a recount showed an error, and Howe had received but 47.

ELIAS HOWE.

It is hard to realize the revolution that Howe's invention has worked in the world within but little more than a century. But his reward did not come without effort. Even after he had secured his patent it was questioned by another inventor who had claimed to have built a machine along much the same lines some eight years before, but had failed to apply for a patent. Even with the validity of his patent assured, as it finally was, he still had many troubles to face. Labor in America in those days was as violently opposed to the introduction of machinery as the Chinese are to-day, and it was a long time before Howe could interest sufficient capital to put his invention on the market. He tried first in this country and failed; then he went to England and failed again; still he was not entirely discouraged, but came back to America, working his way back as a common sailor, and made another effort. When he reached America he found that others were manufacturing machines that infringed his patent, and he soon found capital enough to start the legal battle that was necessary for his protection. From that time on all was clear sailing for the one-time farmer's boy, and before his patents had expired he had realized a fortune of not less than $2,000,000 on sewing machines.

Elias Howe was born at Spencer, Mass., July 3, 1819, and died at Brooklyn October 3, 1867.

Want None of Weyler.

Gen. Weyler, by his "reconcentrado" order in Cuba in 1896, stirred up a fuss that cost Spain practically all her best colonies. Now his appointment as captain general of Madrid has stirred up another fuss that cost Spain the safest ministry she has had for years.

GEN. WEYLER.

In 1896 the Spanish people applauded the "reconcentrado" order that sent hundreds of women and children in Cuba to their death. That was a specimen of boasted Spanish chivalry, of which they were proud. But when war came, and Cuba and Porto Rico and the Philippines were lost to Spain, and Capt. Gen. Weyler had gone home with defeat written on his banner, he was far from being the hero the Spanish populace had voted him but a short time before.

The Silvela ministry carried Spain through some troubulous times, the statesmen composing the cabinet have stood for the uplifting of a broken nation, but they evidently would not stand Weyler, and resigned when his appointment as captain general of Madrid was confirmed by the queen regent.

Whatever favor Weyler may have enjoyed from the Spanish people three or four years ago, they want none of him now, and both European and American statesmen say they would not be greatly surprised if Spain was to overthrow the ruling house and declare either for Don Carlos or make another attempt at forming a republic, as they did when King Amadeus abdicated and a republic was proclaimed, on February 11, 1773. That republic was short-lived, lasting only until December 31, 1874, but a second attempt might prove more substantial.

American Genius in Ecuador.

Yankee genius and pluck are conquering the barriers of the Andes in Ecuador that have stood for centuries against the progress of South America.

JAMES P. McDONALD.

Foreign capitalists are backing a project to build a railroad to connect the cities of Guyaquil and Quito, and that will open to settlement the fertile fields of tropical Ecuador. They have entrusted the accomplishment of this project to James P. McDonald, a New York contractor, and he is steadily pushing the iron roadway across the great mountain chain at which so many have shuddered.

The road from Guyaquil to Quito, is to be 300 miles long, but the difficulties in the way make the task one requiring unusual perseverance and knowledge, and involving enormous expense. Fully $25,000,000 will be required to carry this great project to conclusion. Stone work and masonry that it is necessary to use to a great extent are largely responsible for this heavy outlay. At many points along the route the roadbed will reach an elevation of 13,000 to 14,000 feet above the sea level.

One can scarcely realize what the completion of this road will mean to the country through which it is passing. The people of Ecuador have for centuries used the forest trails and mountain passes as roads, and their means of transportation have been either their own backs or those of the sure-footed pack horses. Once Mr. McDonald has the road completed, it is expected that foreign capital will find the country through which it runs well worthy of its attention, and the vast resources of the country are expected to be rapidly developed.

New English Foreign Minister.

Lord Salisbury is to resign the direction of the foreign affairs of England, and the marquis of Lansdowne is to take that place in the English cabinet, at least that is what the press dispatches have been telling us.

MARQUIS OF LANSDOWNE.

England, as a whole, has seemingly not taken kindly to the promotion of Lansdowne. The English people have had a sample of him during his tenure of office as war minister, and while he has made many friends he has also made many enemies, some of whom have even gone so far as to demand that he be kept out of the reorganization of the ministry that is to follow the recent elections. The English common people, especially, are not admirers of Lansdowne, and say that his chief claim to greatness lies in his illustrious ancestors, who left him not only an old name but a great estate of 143,000 acres of England's best land as well.

Henry Charles Keith Petty-Fitzmaurice, marquis of Lansdowne, K. G., P. C., G. C. S. I., G. C. I. E., G. C. M. G., D. C. L., LL. D. Such is the name and titles of the new foreign minister of England. In addition to all this he is the twenty-sixth baron of Kerry and Lixnaw, the title having been in his family since 1181. His is certainly an illustrious name.

In English politics Lansdowne has served in a number of capacities. He has been lord of the treasury, under secretary for war, under secretary for India, governor general of Canada and also of India, and since 1895 secretary for war in the Salisbury cabinet. He was born in 1845.

An Odorless Disinfectant.

If one objects to the odor of carbolic acid there may be used for the plumbing an odorless disinfectant prepared as follows: Dissolve half a pound of permanganate of potash in four gallons of water and pour this carefully down the pipes. This solution if allowed to stand in bowls or basins will stain them purple. The stains may be removed with a weak solution of oxalic acid. The acid must be rinsed off immediately after it has been used.

A Sure Sign.

When a man insists on "explaining" a thing, it is a confession that it worries him.—Atchicon Globe.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

The football game next Saturday between the Association Club and the True Blues of Arlington, promises to be as exciting as last Saturday's game, when the Arlingtons defeated the local team. The True Blues were defeated by the Arlingtons recently by a score of 4 to 0 while the Plainfielders scored one goal against the champions. From this it seems as if the honors will be about even.

Christmas at Children's Home.

An epidemic of mild scarlet fever is in the Home. Six of our children are quarantined in the infirmary on the third story. This has changed all our plans, and obliged us to decline the kind offer of a friend to give the children a "Tree" at her home. We shall hope on Christmas morning to send to the infirmary such fruit as our good doctor can allow the children, and simple toys and books that must be burned before the children leave the room. For the loss, we know that the friends who have always so kindly remembered us will not fail us in this crisis. Sixteen boys and girls, to whom Christmas means so much, are to be made happy. Christmas checks, and they are specially needed now, may be sent to the treasurer, Miss Ella Serrell, 122 Plainfield avenue, or to the president, Mrs. Horace Kimball, 829 Park avenue.

A HAPPY OCCASION.

Miss Nellie Danridge and Joseph Carter Were Wedded Last Evening.

In the presence of a number of intimate friends and relatives Miss Nellie Danridge and Joseph Carter, both of this city, were married last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Betts, of Somerset street. Rev. Scott Wallace, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the parlor, which had been profusely decorated for the occasion.

The bridemaid was Miss Lizzie Johnson, while James Carter acted as best man. The ushers were Tipton Goldston and Spencer Conway. Both bride and bridemaid were gowned in white silk and carried white carnations. At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests sat down to an excellent supper after which a reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Carter received a large number of presents. They will take up their residence on Somerset street.

Collected His Pay From Huff's Customers.

The case of Thomas Moore, charged by John Huff with obtaining money under false pretenses, was dismissed in Justice Mosher's court this morning, the complaint having been withdrawn. Huff, who is propritor of the Park avenue laundry, claimed that Moore had collected money from customers after he had left his employ. Moore admitted collecting money but said he did so because Huff owed him back pay, and he took this means of getting them. The trouble was settled between them, hence the withdrawal of the complaint.

Funeral of Mrs. Craft.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Flora W. Porteous, wife of Allen H. Craft, whose death occurred suddenly last Sunday, were held last evening at 8 o'clock from the home on Norwood avenue. Rev. Dr. Rodman, pastor of Grace P. E. church, conducted the services. This morning the remains were taken to Poughkeepsie, where a service will be held at the home of the mother of the deceased. The interment will take place there.

Fell and Cut His Arm.

Robert Jacobson, a machinist living on West Third street, went to Newark yesterday, and while walking along Broad street he slipped on some ice and fell. A laceration of the arm three inches long resulted. He went to St. Michael's Hospital and had the injury dressed temporarily. This morning he went to Muhlenberg Hospital for further treatment. He will be detained from work for some time.

A Woman's Club in Hawaii.

Mention may be made of the Hawaiian Woman's club, successfully launched in Honolulu five years ago. It was started by an American schoolteacher who was wont to invite young girls to her home once a week for informal conversation on some topic. The outgrowth was a full-fledged club of 34 members, most of them being Hawaiians, with a mixture, however, of Chinese and Portuguese. The president this year is a Chinese girl, who wears her quaint national costume when she fills the official chair. —Bertha Damaris Knobe, in Woman's Home Companion.

Prominent Resident of Dunellen Passed Away This Morning—Heart Trouble Cause of Death.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, December 12 — William R. Larkin, Assessor of Dunellen, died at his home this morning at 4 o'clock. He has been failing in health for nearly a year. He spent three months in Chicago, being treated by his brother who is a specialtist in heart troubles, and only returned to Plainfield a month ago. He was well known in Dunellen where he has lived for many years. He formerly worked at the Potter Press Works in Plainfield, but gave that up on account of his health.

For the past year he has conducted a bicycle agency. He was about thirty-five years of age and leaves a wife and several children. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

IMPORTANT RENTALS.

Elston M. French Has Effected a Number of Rentals in City and Borough.

Some of the more important rentals effected through the agency of Elston M. French are as follows: The house, formerly occupied by F. E. Warman, located at 104 Grove street, to Frank Rowley for a term of five years; the three-story business building, located at 23 Somerset street, to the the Morey & LaRue Laundry Co. for a term of five years; the house, 900 Central avenue, to R. V. Waldo for three years; dwelling house, 90 Grove street, belonging to Mr. Barkalew, to Baldwin F. Strauss for a term of three years. Mr. French has also arranged with the Cadmus Estate to erect a dwelling on Myrtle avenue which will cost over $6,000, and woen it is completed it will be occupied by Warren W. Brooks, who has taken the same under a three-year lease.

Although it is late in the renting season, Mr. French has been quite successful in this line.

CREDITABLE SHOWING.

Excellent Report Made by Secretary of Local Branch of Needlework Club.

Mrs. J. E. Corlies, secretary and treasurer of the local branch of the Needlework Club of America, has given out her annual report for publication, which is published in the Press today. It shows a large number of garments collected and distributed during the year and in other ways reflects credit on the directors. The treasurer's report makes a creditable showing as the society will start the new year with a neat money balance in addition to the garments held in reserve. Besides Mrs. Corlies the officers of the branch are Mrs. J. Parker Mason, president and Mrs. C E. Ryder, vice-president.

Passed Pleasant Evening.

In response to invitations issued by the Misses Honan, of West Fourth street, about fifty young people assembled at the home of Mrs. Robert Jackson, of Monroe avenue last evening. Their purpose was to pass the evening in a pleasant manner and they succeeded admirably. Games and dancing made the hours pass swiftly and it was after midnight before the guests partook of an excellent supper and then left for their respective homes.

FELL AMONG THIEVES AND LOST HIS MONEY

Given Knockout Drops in Jersey City Saloon and Over $1,100 Taken From Him.

SALOON KEEPER ARRESTED.

SORROWFUL EXPERIENCE OF DR. MORRISON, WHO WAS STOPPING HERE.

Came From Scotland to Learn Gold Cure and Was Going After His Diploma When He Was Drugged and Robbed.

Dr. Andrew Morrison, the proprietor of a large pharmacy in Glascow, Scotland, has been stopping at the home of his old friend, William Brown, of 418 East Second street, this city, while he studied the "gold cure" with a view of introducing it in his native city. He went after his diploma Monday and fell among thieves in Jersey City, losing $1,100. Carmino Balbo, an Italian saloonkeeper at Marion, N. J. has been arrested on the charge of robbing him.

Morrison came to this city seven weeks ago immediately after reaching this country and has been making his home with the Browns while he went to New York to study the workings of the "gold cure." His studies completed, he prepared to return to his native land Saturday on one of the Cunard Line steamers.

A diploma from the institute which gives the "gold cure" costs $1,000. Monday, Morrison went to the First National Bank and drew $700. He already had a considerable amount of cash on hand. When he left Plainfield Monday afternoon on the 2:12 train, he had over $1,200 in his possession. He purchased a passage on the Cunarder which sails Saturday and then started for Deckerstown, N. J., to get the diploma.

Deckertown is reached by the New York and New Jersey Railroad, which starts from the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal at Jersey City. By mistake he got in the wrong train and took a Pennsylvania local. The conductor advised him to get off at Marion, a suburb of Jersey City, and take the next train back to the terminal. While he was waiting at Marion he stepped into Balbo's saloon and bought a glass of Scotch whiskey.

Thomas Ryan, of 814 Newark avenue, Jersey City, was in the saloon at the time. He says that Dr. Morrison displayed a large roll of bills which Balbo took from him after the doctor had taken the drink. Then Ryan says that he and Balbo put Morrison on a passing trolley car. Ryan has been held as a witness.

Dr. Morrison says that he remembers nothing from the time he took the drink until Tuesday morning when he woke up in police headquarters. The police found him walking about the streets in a dazed condition. It is supposed that he was given "knockout drops." All his money except some change was gone. The Jersey City police investigated the case and arrested Balbo who claims that he never saw Morrison.

Brown was notified of Morrison's troubles Tuesday morning and went to Jersey City accompanied by Charles Lauterette. They remained there over night. Brown claims that his pocket was picked while he was in Jersey City.

Mrs. Brown became worried at his non-appearance and went to Jersey City yesterday morning to see what had become of him. The Browns and Dr. Morristown returned to Plainfield last night. Dr. Morrison went back to Jersey City this morning to press the case against Balbo.

A CHRISTMAS TREE.

Plainfield Relief Association Will Give One Christmas Week to Children Who Have no Other Christmas.

The Plainfield Relief Association will have a Christmas tree for children of the beneficiaries and others who will have no Christmas Thursday afternoon, December 27. Donations of cast off toys in good condition or of money to buy candy will be very acceptable and may be sent to the Relief rooms, 544 West Front street, at any time prior to the event. This association is constantly doing excellent work and there are many Plainfielders who continually contribute to it, thereby making it possible for a great many poor people to enjoy some of the comforts of life.

Watch Night Service.

The customary watch-night services will be held in the various churches the last day of this year.

CITY OFFICIALS SWORN IN.

JUDGE RUNYON ADMINISTERED OATH TO MAYOR-ELECT AND COUNCIL.

Swearing In Took Place Last Night—In an Informal Manner—The Only Democrat to Appear Later.

Without any formality Mayor-elect Olin L. Jenkins, Councilmen Ralph I. Tolles, George P. Mellick, B. Frank Coriell and Frank Randolph, School Commissioner Charles F. Abbott, Amos Moffett and W R. Mattox took the oath of office last evening before City Judge Runyon. Messrs. Moffet and Mattox are the newly elected constables.

The first man to take the oath was Constable Moffett, who has been sworn in thirty-five consecutive times. In fact "Uncle Amos," as he is familiarly called, has been elected a sufficient number of terms to ensure his holding office for the balance of his life. Justice of the Peace Fred J. Huff and Hezekiah Hand will be sworn in later.

The newly elected officers will not assume office until January 1. The oath of office was administered to the mayor and councilmen in the private office of the mayor in the Coward building. There was no ceremony about the matter and there were no persons present except the newspaper reporters. Collector Frank H. Smith took the oath of office earlier in the day.

BOROUGH ELECTION.

Terms of Borough Councilmen C. T. Rogers and John Valiant Expire March 1st, Next Year.

The terms of G. T. Rogers and John Valiant, Councilmen of the borough, will expire this spring. It is not probable that Mr. Rogers will accept a renomination at the hands of his friends. It is possible, however, that Mr. Valiant may consent to again accept office if his friends desire. These men have made excellent members of the Council, giving their constituents much of their valuable time and the borough faithful service. The borough election takes place in March.

Work on the New Station.

William Classen, who has the contract for the asphalt pavement about the new railroad station has completed a very satisfactory job. The piers for the iron fence posts are now being set. The new concrete sidewalk which has been constructed from Park avenue to the station has been completed. The incline is so abrupt that it will probably be slippery in the winter months. A hand rail is needed to prevent people from falling.

Clothes Line Thieves at Work.

For the past few nights clothes line thieves have been operating in the West End much to the annoyance of several households. Tuesday evening the lines of two families living on West Third street were completely stripped of every garment. The victims have their suspicions and warrants will probably be issued.

At the Public Library.

This month the Public Library bulletin board is devoted to the display of reproductions of some of the more famous Madonnas. Below these hangs a long list of books and articles about Christmas, poems and prose readings for Christmas entertainments, etc., to assist teachers and pupils.

To Have Operation Performed.

Abram Holder, of Westervelt avenue, left for New York this morning where he will enter Roosevelt Hospital for an operation. The trouble has been growing upon him for some time and he finally decided to have the operation performed as soon as possible.

Hawks are Gone.

The two large hawks that have been on exhibition in the show window at Power's drug store on Somerset street have been removed. One of the birds will be sent to New York for exhibition purposes and the other returned to its former owner, Louis Wyckoff.

Borough is Very Good Now.

Chief Marshal Campbell, of the borough, is doing night duty this week and the peace and welfare of the place is being looked after by Marshal Emmons. Business is very quiet in police circles, not an arrest having been made in several days.

Working for the Metropolitan Now.

Mr. McGonigal, formerly employed in the construction of the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway line, has been in Plainfield for a few days calling on friends. He is now employed by the Metropolitan Street Railway in New York.

Mustn't Loiter at Headquarters.

Two signs at police headquarters stare visitors in the face. One reads: "No Smoking." The other says: "No person or persons will be permitted to loiter in the police station. By order of the police board."

Local News on Page 2.

PASSED FORGED CHECK.

Police are Looking for Robert Lyons, for Whom Hubbard and Jones Cashed a Check Saturday.

Messrs. Hibbard & Jones, proprietors of the Imperial hotel, have in their possession a check on the City National bank that they will gladly sell for a small sum of money. The check is for $47.50 and it was cashed by them last Saturday. The check purported to have the signature of Woodhull & Martin, the well known dry goods firm. The signature, however, is declared to be a forgery. It was presented to the hotel men by a man calling himself "Robert Lyons," a guest of the house, who claimed to hail from Buffalo.

When the check was presented at the City National bank it was pronounced a forgery. The whereabouts of the man registered as "Robert Lyons" cannot be ascertained. It was learned that he was seen in Newark. Yesterday a warrant was procured of Justice Nash and armed with this Chief Kiely and Mr. Hibbard went to Newark in search of their man. The fellow passed as a traveling salesman when in this city.

HOSPITAL FOR SOMERVILLE.

Lord Residence Purchased by Board of Managers and Will Be Enlarged to Suit Requirements.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Dec. 13—Somerville is at last to have a hospital. Efforts in this direction have been made for a couple of years past, and about a year ago an organization was formed to carry out the project. "The Democrat" started to raise the money and collected about $1,300. The ladies then took hold and raised about $700. Yesterday the board of managers purchased the residence of the late John H. Lord, on Main street, in East Somerville, for $5,500, of Chas. J. Fury, who, after the sale, presented the hospital with $250. The lot is 200 feet square and the house is well adapted for a hospital. It will only be used as an emergency hospital until enough funds are in hand to make a general hospital of it. James Brown, Jr., is president of the hospital board; W. W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, vice-president; James Q. TenEyck, treasurer, and Charles Schwed, secretary.

SAVINGS BANK FOR CRANFORD.

Movement Started to Give That Place a Banking Institution by February.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, Dec. 13.—A movement has been started to incorporate a savings bank at Cranford, to begin business on or about Feb. 1, 1901.

At the present time the merchants and residents are compelled to bank at either Elizabeth or Plainfield.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Trenton, and in case the banks of the surrounding places do not object to the establishment of such a bank here, the incorporators feel assured the savings bank will be a reality in February.

The incorporators of the Cranford Savings Bank are Collector Theodore A. Crane, Edward W. Hale, Freeholder E. K. Adams, Charles Baker, Alfred V. Hart, L. S. Gove, Albert J. Beckley, Edwin G. Woodling, Walter B. Brewer, John D. Kane, Robert C. Plume, Harry S. Sanderson and I. V. Hillier.

Mr. Baxter on Advisory Board.

State Superintendent of Schools Charles J. Baxter, of Sandford avenue, has been chosen one of the Advisory Board of the State Congress of Mothers recently formed in New Jersey. The aim of the society is to raise the standard of home life, to bring into closer relation the home and the school and to develop wiser, better trained parenthood.

Christmas Trees Are Arriving.

Christmas trees have come to town and already preparations are under way by sundry families to observe the festival and delight the hearts of the little ones with the annual Christmas tree, resplendent with wax tapers, stringed popcorn and other ornaments.

SNOW STORM IS COMING.

WEATHER BUREAU MEN SAY ONE MAY BE EXPECTED TOMORROW.

Recent Period of Fine Weather is Likely to End Soon—But the Snow Seldom Stays Long.

The remarkably fine weather which has prevailed in this vicinity for several weeks is so gratifying to all that information that a snow storm is about to put in an appearance will not be received with pleasure by the general public. It is true, nevertheless.

The indications sent out by the man who makes the weather at Washington, D. C., gives warning of an approaching snow storm, followed by colder weather. High winds will prevail along the coast towns and the temperature will probably take a drop to around the zero point.

If the snow would only stay, it might be welcome to many people who enjoy it. If the snow comes it will spoil the excellent skating that is being enjoyed by the young folks; but it will be the means of improving business, which the local merchants have anxiously hope for.

Then, too, the old saw about "a green Christmas a fat grave-yard" still holds good. It always seems more lik Christmas if there is snow upon the ground. Things liven up and everyone feels an inspiration not possible where the bare ground stares one in the face.

CAUSE OF DISEASE.

Health Inspector Pangborn Reports What He Believes is Responsible for Illness at Children's Home.

An investigation of the cause which has led to the prevalence of scarlet fever at the Children's Home has been made at the suggestion of Matron Hendrickson by Health Inspector William N. Pangborn. Inspector Pangborn's report has been made to Rev. W. E. Honeyman, secretary of the Health Board, and who is also registar of vital statistics for North Plainfield.

The inspector's report is to the effect that he found three cesspools filled above the overflow pipes. He was unable to test the cesspools because of the quantities of sewer gas which appeared to come from the connection in the cellar. There is no ventilation for the stone covering and naturally the gas penetrated the building.

Inspector Pangborn recommends that the cesspools should be thoroughly cleaned and openings made in each stone cover. He is of the opinion that the sickness at the Home is due directly to the condition of the cesspools. The attention of the Board of Health has been called to the matter and the managers of the Children's Home will be asked to have the cesspools cleaned at once. The other cases of scarlet fever in the borough are convalescing.

MARRIED SECRETLY.

Benj. Schenck and Miss Mabel Wraight Were Wedded September 15 Last In Local Parsonage.

Considerable surprise has been occasioned by the announcement that Benjamin Schenck and Miss Mabel Wraight, both of this city, have been man and wife for some time. They were married September 15 last in the parsonage of a local church. The only witnesses to the ceremony were the groom's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Butler, of Sandford avenue.
